NEWS FROM CAPPOQUIN

Death of Mr. William Hallahan.—There was widespread and sincere regret, not only in Villierstown and his native Ballysaggart, but throughout the entire West Waterford district at the news of the death of Mr. William Hallahan, Ballysaggart, which occurred on Monday, May 22, at St. Finbarr's Hospital, Cork, after an illness of some duration.

During his term as representative of the New Ireland Assurance Co. in the area he had made very many friends who will join with his family and relatives to mourn his death.

Rev. J. Keating, C.C., was celebrant of the Requiem Mass at the reception of the remains at Ballysaggart on Monday evening and the interment took place on Wednesday in the adjoining cemetery when Rev. P. Quail, C.C., and Rev. J. McGrath, C.C., officiated.

Very large corteges were present on both occasions. He is survived by his wife Mrs. Mary Hallahan; Jim and Nora (sons); Margaret, Joan and Nora (daughters); Mrs. Veale (sister); nephews, nieces and relatives.

Death of Mr. James Twomey.—The news was learned with regret of the death of Mr. James Twomey, Clonkerdon House, Cappagh, which occurred at Dungarvan District Hospital on Sunday, May 21.

He was an extensive and progressive farmer. Rev. Fr. B. O'Sullivan was the celebrant of the Requiem Mass when the remains were received at Ballinameela on Monday and the interment took place on Tuesday in the adjoining cemetery.

Rev. D. McGrath, P.P., officiated, assisted by Rev. P. Fitzgerald, C.C., and Rev. M. J. Ryan, C.C. He is survived by his wife Mrs. Margaret Twomey, sons, daughter, sister and other relatives, to whom sincere sympathy is extended.

(Funeral arrangements were by Aidan Walsh and Sons, Undertakers, Cappagh.)

Macra Notes.—Members of the local Branch have scored many successes at Field Evenings in the past few weeks. At Tallow, Miss Jennifer Murphy won first prize in the Mannequin Parade. Second prizes were won by Cora Donohue (Herald Management), Frances Mangan (Chemical Quartz) and Finbar Power (Trees and Shrubs).

Cappoquin won the gent's team prize and were second in the all round award.

At Killeagh, firsts were scored by Jennifer Murphy (Mannequin Parade) and Kathleen Hannon (Cocktail Savouries). At Ballymacarby Therese McGrath won the Mannequin Parade. At Mitchestown John Dunne took a first for his judging and Kathleen Hannon third for floral arrangements. Cappoquin won both the gent's and all round team awards.

Branch officers are now very busy preparing for their own annual Field Evening on June 18, at the farm of Mr. Tom Fives.

Gardens Damaged.—Cappoquin Tidy Town Committee members received a rude shock this week when it was found that plants in the garden at the square had been dug up and removed. It is saddening to find irresponsible acts of this nature being carried out and the good work of the Association members is being nullified by them.

The action was obviously the work of adults and it is equally certain that the perpetrators must be known to some persons. And finally and emphatically it must be said that persons aware of such actions have a moral and civic duty to prevent them by every proper means.

Rowing Club Reorganised.—Following five years inactivity, the club structure of the Cappoquin Rowing Club was reorganised at a general meeting held in the Boat-house. There was a good attendance of old and new members, among them Mr. James P. Daly, a club vice-president and one of the club's most loyal and steadfast supporters. The Chairman was Mr. G. Atkinson.

Steadily increasing costs were the feature of the treasurer's report presented by Mr. J. Wall, which showed a substantial debit balance. There was a lengthy and very constructive discussion on methods of improving the situation and a policy for future operation was hammered out. Monthly committee meetings will be held.

The following officers were elected: Patron, Sir Richard Keane; Hon. Life President, Mr. C. O. Stanley; President, Mr. D. O'Leary; Vice-Presidents, Messrs. J. P. Olden, J. P. Daly, J. McCarthy and P. English; Chairman, Mr. J. Mason; vice-chair, Mr. J. Murray; Captain, Mr. Michael Cahill; Vice-captains, Mr. J. J. Landers and Mr. W. McLoughlin; Hon. Secretary, Mr. F. Walsh; Hon. Treasurer, Mr. J. Wall; Committee, Messrs. W. O'Donoghue, M. Quann, Sean Brackert, Sean Morrissey and T. Meskill.

Pupils Entertain.—There was a packed audience at Our Lady's Hall on Friday night when the Primary Pupils of the Convent of Mercy entertained their parents and friends. A varied programme included singing, verse speaking, dancing and musical items and provided wonderful entertainment all through. The ability and self-possession of the young artistes was noticeable in all items and the overall excellence of this well-produced programme was a tribute to the interest and dedication of their teachers.

Rowing Success.—Last weekend was a busy and successful one for Boat Club members. A maiden eight and four competed with distinction at Waterford and Fermoy and the four scored a splendid success at the latter venue. And Monday night a well attended general meeting saw the club structure reorganised.

The successful four at Fermoy was Pat Murray (bow), Frank McLoughlin (2), Maurice Gambon (3) and Tom Meskill (stroke). Cox was Bill McLoughlin.

Both the four and eight had a busy afternoon at Fermoy and it was a tribute to their fitness that they could also finish a good second in the eighth final (stroke) to Tom Meskill. Cox was Bill McLoughlin.

Entry forms go out this week for the home fixture on the 25th and if the committee plans can be brought to fruition this should be one of the most successful fixtures ever.

Track Winners.—Local owners continue to do well and figuring in the honours list this week are Ned Brady, Michael Cahill, P. Kieley and Der O'Donnell, Peter Casey and Jack Treacy.

Charity Walk.—Walkers who have not yet made their return are reminded that they may do so at the Hall on Saturday night between 8 and 10 p.m., and on Sunday after last Mass.

NEWS FROM LISMORE AND DISTRICT

Second on 145 was Mr. Harold Cooke, East Main Street, while Mr. James Ahearne, Fermoy, was third with 144. The miniature was shared between Miss Babs Canning, and Mr. Michael Coleman, Paris Road and the bonus for a score of 44 or over in this competition now stands at £2.

Golf, Ladies Branch, May 24.—Mrs. D. Lee's prize won by Miss Mary Daly.

Death of Mr. M. V. O'Donoghue.—We regret to record the death of Mr. M. V. O'Donoghue, South Hill, Lismore, which occurred at his residence on Monday morning last. To his grieving widow and family we tender our deepest sympathy. Full obituary in next week's issue.

G.A.A.—In the double feature G.A.A. programme at the Lismore venue on Sunday last, both Tallow intermediate hurlers and Cappoquin had easy wins over Four-milewater and Ballysaggart respectively. The gale-force wind which blew down the field towards the town gave effect to both games, but in the second game the Cappoquin side played much better against the gale and had too much hurling craft for a earnest Ballysaggart side. "Veteran" Mick Fraher, Ger Mason and Eddie Fraher to a lesser extent, showed that they have lost none of their craft and were never subdued throughout the hour.

Soccer.—Lismore played hosts to Youghal on Sunday morning last in the under-16 league and were defeated by the odd goal and a seven goal thriller. This game had everything, with the lead alternating and plenty of goal-mouth thrills. The visitors finished with ten men, one of their players incurring the displeasure of the referee for retaliation. Indeed it was when they were reduced in numbers that they played their best football and actually came from two goals down to take what proved to be the one goal winning lead.

Lismore who led up to the final minutes, have only themselves to blame for this defeat. Not bothering to use the extra man in those last minutes they went back on defence and threw the game away.

John Walsh in goal had a busy time and brought off some wonderful saves. In front of him he got some excellent cover from Grotty, M. Walsh, Butler and O'Sullivan. At midfield Foley and Whelan gave a wonderful service to the forwards, but only Coleman availed of it in this mini forward line.

Norris, Whelan and Coleman scored and the locals who in this game displayed the potential for a winning run if they concentrate on displaying their undoubted football skills.

Lismore team: J. Walsh, P. Grotty, M. Walsh, M. Butler, M. O'Sullivan, C. Whelan, M. Foley (capt.); J. Walsh, K. Fenton, T. Norris, R. Lawton, Sub., Coleman for Walsh.

Dungarvan Out Lismore.—As expected, Dungarvan ousted Lismore from the junior hurling championship but by the unexpected margin of 21 points, the final scoreline reading, 6-8 to 1-2. It was a disappointing showing by Lismore, even granted that it was

I.F.A. WEEKLY BULLETIN

BEEF OUTPUT CAN BE DOUBLED
While our involvement in the enlarged EEC would open up tremendous new prospects for expansion in the livestock industry...

So stated Mr. T. J. Maher, President of the Irish Farmers Association at the annual dinner of Associated Livestock Marts in Athlone.

He said: "The fact that we have the capacity to double our present output of beef over the next six or seven years, is of itself no guarantee that this will actually happen. If we were to simply sit back and wait for it to happen, the end results could fall far short of present expectations."

"We must have positive thinking and action at all levels, from that of the Government right through to that of the individual farmer and involving especially the financial institution and also the transport, processing and marketing sectors of the livestock and meat industry."

"The years immediately ahead are bound to be a period of considerable change and adjustment. For instance, on the internal marketing side, efficient beef production will demand earlier finishing of our stock and fewer changes of ownership in the lifetime of a beast than has been the practice up to now."

"It is reckoned that under our present system, the average beast changes ownership about six times, from the calf stage to eventual slaughter or export. Four years ago, the Store Cattle Study Group reckoned that this adds up to approximately £9.50 in marketing and transport costs per beast."

"The age structure of our cattle population is a significant factor in this. A comparison with the situation in Britain is most revealing. With our cow population of 1.8 million, we have 1.1 million cattle over two years old, a ratio of 60 per cent. In England and Wales, the cow population is 3.5 million and the number of cattle over two years old is 550,000, a ratio of only 16 per cent."

"We must look to our carcase beef export trade to handle an increasing proportion of our expanding output, assuming that our live export trade continues at around its present level."

"These will undoubtedly be an increasing amount of direct movements of cattle from farm to meat factory."

"All of this has obvious implications for our livestock marts system. Caution must be exercised to ensure that this system, which has served us so well over the past fifteen or twenty years, is not undermined by further proliferation of new marts being established on the basis of false expectations of the available throughput of cattle."

"Turning to export marketing we in I.F.A. certainly welcome the recent revival of interest in bringing about centralised export marketing of our beef supplies. It is absolutely vital that this development should get off the ground even now but if our proposals in 1964 for a fully fledged Meat Marketing Board had been implemented then, we would now be in the much happier position of adapting a going concern to EEC requirements, as we are doing in relation to Bord Baine, for instance, rather than still struggling to set up something new at this eleventh hour."

"It is essential that our cattle expansion programme should be tailored to provide the type of animal required to satisfy the demands of the market. As I see it, the functions of market research, promotion and marketing of meat are so closely interdependent that they can best be carried out through one central body."

"An aspect of breeding to which I would like to see closer attention paid is the need for involvement of the A.I. stations much more deeply in the breeding programmes on individual farms. The A.I. bodies must look to providing an adequate service to ensure that fertility problems at individual herd level can be readily overcome.

"Now that the A.I. service covers close on 60 per cent of our breeding herd, it has an obvious responsibility to provide the best possible service."

"Much of what I have said in relation to cattle and beef applies in similar measure to sheep and lamb. This industry which is of such vital importance in many of our less well developed farming areas, must be geared up to take full advantage of access to European markets."

"An application on behalf of this country for development finance from the World Bank is at present being processed. While it included requests for finance for the cattle and pig sectors, it seems most extraordinary that our Government application contained no specific provision for money for sheep development."

"I now urge in the strongest possible terms that this omission be made good."

"It would be wrong of me on an occasion like this not to refer to two other things. These are (a) the pigmeat industry and (b) the interlocking relationship of all agricultural products in the sphere of marketing."

"Admittedly, there are very many technical difficulties to the joint marketing of all agricultural products. At the same time it is something we should all be working towards. It might take a long time to achieve but there is nothing to stop us making a mental commitment tonight to achieving this goal."

"The 'spin-off' effect of such a commitment would be advantageous to all of us."

"So far as the pigmeat industry itself is concerned, let me say that: (a) it is presently worth more than £42 million to farmers (exports run to over £16 million); (b) it could be worth half as much again at present prices; (c) being an intensive form of enterprise, it is of special significance to the situation of farmers on limited acreage; (d) it provides thousands of work places for those outside agriculture and could provide more; (e) it contributes handsomely to national product but more important still it helps solve many of the social as well as economic problems in farming and lastly (f) it has within it, experience of markets and expertise which can and should be tapped."

UNANIMOUS OPPOSITION TO SOLE CONTROL OF ADVISORY SERVICES

Unanimous opposition to sole control of the Advisory Services by the Department of Agriculture was expressed in a statement.

This followed a meeting requested by the General Council of Committees of Agriculture, and the organisations present at the meeting included the I.A.O.S., Macra na Feirme, Muinín na Tír, I.C.A. and the I.F.A., who acted as host subsequently at a lunch in the Irish Farm Centre.

The statement said that there was general agreement to the central co-ordination of the advisory and allied services involving all bodies concerned in the agricultural industry.

These bodies included the Department of Agriculture, Research and Marketing Organisations, Farm Business Co-operatives, rural organisations and the advisory service itself.

It was agreed that further meetings should be held between the General Council, the Rural Organisations and representatives of the advisory service to further discuss areas of agreement with regard to the future development of advisory and other farm services.

Apologies were received from the I.C.M.S.A. for inability to attend but agreeing to attend the next meeting.

I.F.A.'S ACHIEVEMENTS ON GRAIN

"The I.F.A.'s outstanding achievement on Grain during the period under review was the increase of 47½ per cent (9/6) secured by the Maltng Barley Committee in their negotiations with the Maltng and Brewing Industry in respect of the 1971 crop," said the Grain Section in its Report to the annual general meeting.

A feature of the 1971 negotiations was the direct involvement of contract Maltng Barley Growers who were consulted by their negotiators at all stages through very well attended area meetings. There is no doubt that this direct involvement of Growers greatly strengthened the hand of the negotiating Committee and exerted a significant influence on the eventual outcome of the negotiations.

The deal which ultimately emerged included an agreement that the new price of 72/6 per barrel (£3.57 per 100 kilos) would hold for a two year period. There was a further provision that in the event of a repetition of the buoyant international grain market which occurred in 1970, our contract price would follow the Mark Lane London average up to a maximum of 75/- per barrel. In the event, the British and International grain markets operated at a much more depressed level of prices in 1971 with the result that the Mark Lane clause in our agreement did not in fact operate.

Tallow and Round About Notes

1016 Veteran Dies—The death of Mr. Maurice Brennan, a native of Drogheda, Co. Cork, who took an active part in the 1916 Rising and after the Easter Rising he was interned in England. After his release on the General Amnesty in 1917, along with the late Tom Walsh, who also fought in the Rising and was a member of the Lyons-Carrigan. Tallow, they went into partnership in the drapery business in Dublin. Their drapery store, known as "The Republic Outfitters," was a meeting place for well-known leaders of the Republican Movement of that time and was frequently raided by British military. On his release from prison he returned to his native Drogheda for a short while and helped in a big way to organise a company of Volunteers in his native parish.

He was brother of Mr. Eugene Brennan of Drogheda, who was Company Captain of the local Volunteers during the Anglo-Irish War and Civil War.

To weld an already strong nationalist link, a daughter of deceased is married to a nephew of the late Sean Hogan, of the famed Knocking rescue, after the Solohed ambush, in which the late Dan Breen, Sean Treacy and Seamus Robinson figured prominently.

The late Mr. Brennan was a member of the National Executive of Fianna Fail up to the time of his death.

May his soul rest in peace.

Are Our Legislators Gone Mad—The recent move by our legislators in Dublin to increase their salaries from £2,500 to £4,000 per year poses the question—are they going stark staring mad? After all you could not call a Deputy's work a full-time job. Most of them are in other businesses—doctors, farmers, barbers, auctioneers, solicitors, shopkeepers, publicans, etc. Have they not learned a lesson from their previous increases which triggered off an all round demand for wage increases, which almost brought the nation to a stand still. Surely they do not want a repeat of this.

How often has there been a quorum in Dail Eireann, when many Deputies are absent from a session. Granted they may be entitled to some raise in their salaries, but not to the amount stated. The way they talk one would be led to believe that we are sitting on top of a gold mine. Compare this sum of £4,000 per year to the meagre social welfare benefits paid. If they care at all on £2,500 plus their other incomes, how can they expect an old age pensioner to live on a little over £5 per week.

We are sick and tired of being told by those in power that the country is living beyond its means. Why in Heaven's name do they not practice what they preach, and that applies to all parties. We bet there will not be one dissenting voice raised in Dail Eireann against the increase. But if a workman was seeking an increase in wages, or a farmer looking for an increase in milk prices they would be lucky if they were not jailed.

Well they can go ahead with the increase if they so choose but they will again be the headline for all-round news in wages with a consequent rise in the cost of living and so the rising spiral of wages and prices goes on.

Mission Ends—The two week mission conducted by Frs. Hanley, Breen and Condon, C.S.R., came to a close on Sunday evening last in the three churches of the United Parishes of Knockanore, Kiltwatermy and Glendine. Large numbers of the faithful attended the various exercises of the mission. The mission differed in many respects from the old type mission. The Missionary Fathers spent the first week of the mission in visiting the homes of the people, holding discussions and answering questions. After the close of the mission on Sunday evening, a very enjoyable social was held in the Community Hall, Kiltwatermy, which was attended

G.A.A. NOTES FROM TALLOW

Oh What A Week!—If anyone asks you how the weather was in Tallow last week draw a deep breath and bear in mind before answering that the full rigour of the law still applies to the uttering of obscenities in public. Which is a pity because there is only one way in which one might give vent to one's chagrin, disappointment, frustration and vexation at the misfortune which had our worst spell of weather coincided with Tallow's Hurling Festival.

All the painstaking preparation and elaborate arrangements were swept mercilessly aside or washed away in the bitter gales and lashing rains which characterized last week.

Despite it all we had plenty of good hurling and those lucky enough to have seen some of the games are sure to make a point of not missing the finals.

The two games on Monday and Tuesday—Lismore v. Tallow; Kiltwatermy v. Conna in juvenile hurling—were good ones with the issue in doubt right up to the end in each case.

Conna v. Tallow—There's a game not to be missed. Conna have a massive full back John Paul O'Leary, a strong half-back, five fine midfielders in Morgan and O'Neill and good forwards in Burns, Morgan and Hurley.

Tallow will have to be good, in fact very good, to improve the state of this ever-improving Conna team.

I wonder do Conna and Ballyne people appreciate fully the worth of Dick Morrison? All honor to the service of those young hurlers, often with little success and it must be particularly gratifying for Dick to find Conna so successful this year. He deserves a little change of scenery and nobody in Tallow begrudge him Conna's recent victories.

The Strength Of Cork Hurling—The Blackrock v. Lismore game and the St. Finbarr's v. Youghal game in the Gaelic Medal Tournament showed us the huge gap between the standard of club hurling in Cork and Waterford.

All honor to Lismore, who without stars Jimmy Geoghegan and Michael McGrath tried their utmost to keep pace with this fine Blackrock team, but their best efforts could not be expected to measure up to the sharpness of speed, the skill and highly-developed understanding of the All-Ireland champions.

Blackrock's depth of reserve talent was best shown by the performance of such as Egan, Falvey, Kearney, O'Keefe, who would be big additions to any club team in the land. In fact Kearney scored 1-2 in the semi-finals of the Gaelic Medal, Kilkenny on Sunday evening last—more than Donal Collins or Brendan Connolly could manage, and proves that the Blackrock player has a professional right to any position on their team.

Hurling Treat—Those who witnessed the clash of Tallow and St. Finbarr's Tallow on Friday evening last were the lucky ones. These two teams defied the wintery conditions and showed why hurling, properly played, is the most exciting field game of all. It took two good teams to give us this spectacular match. If St. Finbarr's had the edge on their rivals in skill and teamwork (and not everyone would agree on this) there was no denying the heart, courage and spirit of Youghal.

Pat Hegarty was a masterful hurler who dominated his side for Ireland in place practicing. What things Irish meant to him can be illustrated well by one fact. "On the run" during the Civil War he twice found himself in the Donegal Gaol which was to cover with people in Irish. Though then an adult, he resolved to learn the language and persevered to the extent that for most of his life Irish was his normal language. Those who think that the blowing up of people and factories proves one's patriotism might find something to meditate upon here.

This writer feels it an honour to have had cordial relations for a number of years with such a man and looks forward to more tributes to him from able pens.

In his widow and family goes the sympathy of his club. At the De go to the game practicing.

(From Lismore G.A.A. Club Press Officer.)

Thanks—The Lismore Committee of Parents and Friends of Handicapped Children wish to thank most sincerely all the very kind people, clergy and laity, who so generously contributed to the success of this year's collections in aid of St. John's School, Dungarvan.

The collections were held last Sunday at Lismore Churches and totaled £1,619.00.

FOURMILEWATER 3-7

There was no doubting the merit of this Winter League (in the present weather how apposite) hurling victory by Tallow, which confirmed the championship status of 1971. A bit more fitness and general sharpness and Tallow can face all-comers.

Tallow — D. Cunningham; P. Mulcahy, J. Lyons, L. Tobin; T. McCreaney, B. Ryan, M. Curley, J. Healey, L. O'Brien, J. Hartigan, B. Sheehan, S. Tracy, N. Sheehan, P. O'Brien, T. Doyle.

Campio: Tallow 10-10; St. Patrick's 4-1—Tallow's comprehensive defeat of St. Patrick's in the current league placed Tallow on Monday evening was most impressive and confirmed the good form they showed in their recent matches.

St. Patrick's did not provide the strongest of opposition but the huge total of scores shows that the scoring power is there and if Touraneena were short, so were Tallow.

SOCCER

BALLINROD BOW OUT OF LEAGUE

Ballinrod 0; Red Star 2

Ballinrod's dream of reaching the Division 3 League final was shattered on Wednesday evening, May 24, when they went under 2-0 to Red Star at their home ground.

This game, watched by a large crowd produced some fine football from two superbly fit teams.

With the wind at their backs in the first half Ballinrod set up continual attacks but poor finishing and brilliant goalkeeping denied them the scores they badly needed.

Then in the 20th minute disaster struck when one of the backs put into his own goal, following a Red Star corner.

Some great chances were missed after when Ehsied and Vince Tobin missed golden chances.

The visitors attacked the issue with a second goal towards the end when their centre-forward pounced on a ball which should have been cleared.

Although falling almost at the final whistle this has been a memorable year for the club, a year of which every club member should feel proud.

While the team who did duty in the semi-final played their hearts out it is only right to mention the other ten who assisted throughout the year. Men like John and Michael Fraher, Willie Joe O'Connor, Jackie Tobin, Tony Butler and last but by no means least Raymond Cartwell, to whom the club extend wishes for an speedy recovery from injuries received following a recent road accident.

The P.R.O. of the club wishes to thank all who assisted him in getting his reports in on time for publication during the season.

MEDAL GAME

Ballinrod play Stradbally, Saturday evening next for a set of medals presented by the Stradbally Club. Kick-off 7.30.

Death of G.A.A. Club President

This week the Lismore G.A.A. Club mourns the death of its President, Vincent O'Donoghue. He was born in Co. Galway and reared in Cappoquin, but since he first attended Lismore C.B.S. in 1912 he has been a Lismore-man—in that sixty years probably Lismore's most widely known and respected personality.

The G.A.A. recognised his worth by electing him President of the Association.

Some disagreed with him on such issues as the "Ban," but none could doubt his sincerity, none could be mistaken as to his views on matters of principle, nor could anyone dealing with him fail to see a truer gentleman.

He qualified as an Engineer at U.C.C., but chose to take arms for Ireland in place practicing.

What things Irish meant to him can be illustrated well by one fact. "On the run" during the Civil War he twice found himself in the Donegal Gaol which was to cover with people in Irish.
