JUNIOR FINAL

Although the Western junior hurling final between Stradbally and Dungarvan will be played at the Fraher field on Sunday afternoon, the game is to a great arrow. The following county fixtures were made at a meeting of the Fixtures Board on Monday Sunday afternoon, the game is to a great extent over-shadow-to a great extent over-shadowed by the intermediate hurling semi-final between Cappoquin and Tallow which takes place at Lismore at the same time Many people in the far West Many people in the far W Many people in the far West who would dearly love to see Intermeliate football County final—Rathgormac v Ring at Walsh Park, November 17th the junior final, will, I feel sure opt for the Lismore venue where two of our top hurling sides will battle it out for the right to meet Ballyduff in the Western final, which is fixed for November 3rd at Lismore

The absence of full-back John Lyons, who is still in bosnital It is a possibility that the in termediate hurling county final will be played at Dungarvan on November 17th with the junior final

TWO COUNTY FINALS Both Shamrocks and the Nire will travel to Portlaw on Sun day next to represent the West ern division in the jumor and minor football county finals respectively and if the judgement of the Eastern people who watched the Eastern representatives all through their championships are even recent the state of the state of the final f pionships are even reasonably accurate than both our cham pions will be beaten

It is not to Dungarvan's advantage that they are being forced to play within a week after their exhausting effort against Touring last Sunday as Stradbally.

Dunnill in the county decider

Years of fruitless endeavour were cast aside when the men of Affane and sister club Cappoquin fought off a strong second-hif challenge from Dunnill's time Paul O'Briens shot the energe deserving winners of a hird earned title

Both sides were going for their first ever win in a senior football final and it was understandable that the occasion should take its toll on 'nerves' The game suffered as a result in that the standard was below expectations but it engendered enough excitement to keep the of the farly good every good of the points set the seal on their first good in the proposal of Mr M Phelan, P Egan, S Brackett, B Arrigan L Denn J J Landers P McGrath D Flynn, S Denn M Phelan, P Egan, S Brackett, M Hackett J Troy D McCarbination over the paul O'Briens shot time Paul O'Briens shot time Paul O'Briens J Raher, T Moore, D Murray, W Moore, J Murphy, C Murphy, L Dowder appearing m their first final the title Affane became transformed after the let offs and swept mto attack and two further points set the seal on their the seal on their win and the point expensive the seal on their the seal on the seal of the s enough excitement to keep the win

RIGHT APPROACH A word of caution to Ring Their approach to the County final will be vital Last Sun-days test was something of a nonentity and there will be no the opposition they will face in the final round. It is hard to find fault in a side which wins by 4—7 to 0—1. Yet, perhaps a general tightening up in attack might not be amiss. track might not be amiss. There were some fine scoring opportunities wasted through poor finishing last Sunday These points would be vital against sterner opposition. Perhaps too their defence might try to concede less petty frees. They could spell disaster with good place kicker lurking around. Noel Murray kept a good goal on Sunday while Seamus Manahan Tom Curran and Tom Maher all stood out well in defence Padraig Toibin (in the first-half) and Donal Murtan and Month and those who did venture out were given little to enthuse about by a game which two a game which two a game which was well decided before the final whistle. As you probably know the rating "year" in 1974 is only 9 months long. Instead of running from April to March, it will stop short at the end of December

All rates, therefore, should be paid well before 31 December

This is to allow local authorities from next year on to make the financial year the same as the calendar year that is from January to December This is common practice throughout European countries

As usual rates have been split into two parts. The first part, which you will probably have already paid covered the period from April to September - six months But the second part has been calculated to cover three months requirements only (October to December) and you li notice it is only half as big as the first part If by any chance you haven t yet paid the first part the total amount should be paid as soon as possible We are asking ratepayers to pay especially promptly this year to help make the changeover to the new calendar rating year as smooth as possible. Your local authority will be using the money to pay for a very large range of services – and of course the people who run them So payment in time will save a lot of headaches

If you would like any help or advice, your local Rate Collector will be glad to give it to you

Abbeyfeale RFC 22 pts Dungarvan RFC 9 pts

Dungarvan RFC travelled Abbeyfeale on last Sun-y to take on the home side in the first round of the Manseragh Cup In the game that ensued Abbeyfeale emerged rather comfortable winners by the score of 22 pts to 9 pts for Dungaryan

Within 15 minutes of the opportunist try by their wing forward Ned Heffernan This September 26, after a long try was converted Late in the first half Abbeyfeale crossed again for another good try Dungarvan and was member which was not converted. Close Abbeyfeale 10 At this stage Dungarvan seemed as if they could still their forwards despite fine sonal performances by P Mor work as a unit in a rather poor service to their backs from both loose and set pieces and thus deprived the defenders of setting up scoring chances The lesson for Dun garvan from this game is the play as a unified pack All too often we saw individuals among the forwards gain good possession either from loose play or from lineout play to be dispossessed by the opposition for lack of support from his colleagues

This unity of purpose and important facet of forward play can only be achieved by greater dedication at coaching training sessions In addition to those mentioned above J Lynch J D Power F Lynch and G Fives turned in fine

TALLOW G.A.A. NOTES INTERMEDIATE HURLING

Sunday next October 20th is the date of the eagerly awaited clash or arch rivals Tallow and Cappoquin in the intermediate hurling semi-final at Lismore

Both sides have met on four occasions since 1970 Cappoquin have been victors on three occasions but the result apart both sides have served up hurling spectacles on each Sunday should be no excep-

should be treated to a feast of hurling On this occasion Tallow will be severely handscapped through the absence of John Lyons (our regular fullback out through an eye injury) and Tom Doyle who has yet to regain match fitness because of his long lay off through a knee injury Definitely too Cappoquin/Affane will have the extra boost of last Sunday's senior and Deck with the ever reliable Gerald McGrath on his right and the star of the Kilgobinet game Johnny Murphy on his left bill Dineen and Dick Foley should be at mid-field, John Foley will probably lead the attack, with minor player Mick Hogan on the right and Liam Ahearne fitting in at left-half forward Joe O'Neill should again find himself on the edge boost of last Sunday's senior football county championship of the square with Tom Dono-Cappoquin are certain to be pre-match favourites but if Tallow's fifteen can produce the hurling skill and determination that won them the Keaneland trophy early this year against Lismore then Cappoquin will certainly have a fight their hands.

Goulding will be ngnting narulation appared to a place on the team. This will be our hardest test to date and it will take every member of the team at their brilliant best for the full 60 members of the team at their brilliant best for the full 60 members. We have chosen another of what may be described as a dialogue ballad for our ballad corner this week It tells the story of a marriage proposal that went wrong

A rich man loved a maiden fair Whom he thought he'd win by love and care To marry, marry, marry him To marry marry him

I know I am a maiden fair And I don't want your love and care I'll not marry you you you No, I'll not marry you I'll buy for you a gown of red

All stitched around with gol den thread If you will marry, marry me, If you will marry me Oh I dont want your gown of red No, I dont want your gown of red. I'll not marry you you you No, I'll not marry you Ill give to you the keys of my heart That we may love and never

If you will marry marry me If you will marry me The maid refuses by replying Oh, I don t want the keys of your heart" and continues as in the other verses with 'I'll not part

The man then makes one And plenty of money at your request, you will marry marry me If you will marry me

Yes I will take the keys of your chest And plenty of money at my request And I will marry you you Yes, I will marry you

Ha-ha now I ve found out your plan
Tis the money you want and not the man I'll not marry, marry you No, I'll not marry you
