ACTION TIME IS NOW During the past twelve months we have heard a great deal about the various ways in which the environs of our country have become and are becoming more and more polluted. We again had a discussion on the matter at the County Council meeting in Dungarvan last Monday during which such uncomplimentary remarks as that we are a very dirty people and that because of our dirty habits we are turning the once green isle of Erin into one of the dirtiest countries in the world were voiced.

These are remarks which should shake us but in fact they do not and they appear to just wash off like water off a duck's back. That our reaction is so, shows how little we really appreciate the huge problem of pollution and how slow we are to see that already it is assuming proportions which call for urgent action.

Everyone is agreed about the sources and cause of pollution and the high incidence of litter but there are two schools of thought as to what should or should not be done. One holds that it should be controlled in a reasonable way but the other is prepared to sacrifice all especially if it means more jobs in the rural areas increase in the use of insecticides, toxic acids and the use of silage contribute merely to the pollution of rivers and lakes while in the urban areas, where there has been industrial development, factory effluents are the greatest source of danger, while in all areas the discharge of untreated sewage provides one of the most common pollutants that we have in this country.

At the County Council meeting, several members felt that one of the best ways to attack the problems of pollution and litter was through the schools and it was, in fact, agreed to appoint an official to visit the schools regularly to keep children aware of these problems and of the best methods to counteract them.

Timely then is the Adult Education Course being held under the auspices of University College, Cork, on "Natural Ecology and Conservation" which will commence at the Adult Education Centre at the Vocational School, Dungarvan on Tuesday, February 11. This course of talks and discussions for the ordinary man in the street is aimed at creating an understanding of our natural surroundings and of the relationship and balance between plants, animals and man and the environment in which we live. However, and this is more to the point in view of the present situation, the changes which are being brought about and the problems being posed in Ireland and elsewhere by the recent trends of town developments, industry, advancing technology and intensive farming will also be discussed while the challenge of how our natural resources and assets may best be used for the benefit of the people will also be explored.

This then is a course which should have a wide appeal and which should attract a full number to each of the eight lectures which will take place on consecutive Tuesday nights commencing on Tuesday, February 11. The course which runs for a total of over sixteen hours will be conducted by lecturers from University College, Cork and by other specialist lecturers. For those interested, registration for the course may be made as from Thursday, February 6, and full particulars in regard to this or any other aspects of the course may be had from Mr. Eamonn Feehan who has been appointed local secretary by the University for the purpose.

Mr B White, Acting Town Clerk replied that he had discussed the problem in regard to the County Council meeting in Dungarvan last Monday and the County Engineer and the County Engineer had informed him that he was investigating the cost of putting down a bitumen surface so as to withstand the heavy traffic there. He said that articulated trucks passing through were tearing up the existing surface there and not just driving over it.

The wedding took place at St. Nihilis Church on Friday, January 24, 1975. The bride, Miss Patricia Corcoran, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. B. Corcoran, Comeragh House, Dungarvan, and the late Miss Pauline Blythe-Tancock, daughter of Mrs. Joan Blythe-Tancock and the late Charles Blythe-Tancock, Isabella Road, London. The ceremony was officiated by Rev. Fr. P. O'Brien P.P., Touraneena. The best man was Mr. Seamus Corcoran and groomsmen were Mr. Sean Corcoran and Mr. Vincent Mountain. The bridesmaids were the bride's sister Susan, her cousins, Vivienne and Jill Ellis, and Miss Jones. The bride was given away by her uncle Mr. Fred Ellis. After the ceremony a reception was held at the Hotel Minella Clonmel. Pictured above are the bride and groom after the wedding.

Move to promote anti-litter drive in County

Methods to promote an anti-litter drive in the county were discussed at a special meeting of Waterford County Council in Dungarvan last Monday. Discussion arose from a circular from the Department of Local Government which stressed the role of local authorities in keeping areas under their administration clean and free from litter and pollution. Mr P. Crotty who said that he felt very strongly about the problem added that it was one on which there was not enough emphasis. Ireland was one of the most sparsely populated countries in the world but it was also one of the dirtiest. People threw litter and refuse everywhere in a most disgraceful manner. He said that the Council could help by providing litter bins and by taking steps to educate people to use them. He suggested that this education should be started in the schools with children who would then, in turn educate their parents.

Senator Deasy said that these anti-litter drives had been tried in most areas but had not been successful. Only last summer a most intensive campaign had been conducted by the local Junior Chamber but its effects lasted only a week and now the town was worse than ever again. In his opinion the only practical way was to have suitable accretions and tougher anti-litter laws. He said that in Belgium a person found guilty of dumping litter was liable to 3 months in jail and that by comparison our law in this regard was pathetic.

The Senator went on to say that in Biliberry, Waterford, which should be developed as a scenic park along the banks of the river was completely violated and raped by people who dumped car-loads of rubbish there. The place was infested with rats as a result and this was a downright disgrace. "There should be an all-out drive to stop this kind of dumping," he said.

Mr F King said that he understood there was also very serious dumping at the Engine House at Tankardstown in Bonmahon where commercial bulk tanks dumped all sorts of offal and other things which must cause all kinds of pollution in the area. He suggested that a Health Inspector should take a look at the place. Mr J Cahill said that he would have to agree that the position at Biliberry was now worse than ever. He pointed out that the indiscriminate dumping at this point several times in the past.

New G Waterford FORMER A PRESIDENT HE

Waterford County GAA Board has a new chairman. At the Annual Convention held at the C.B.S. Hall, Dungarvan on Sunday last, former Association President, Pat Fanning, was unanimously chosen to lead the county in the coming year following the retirement of the outgoing chairman Paddy Keane (Erin's Own) who was forced to vacate the chair for personal reasons. Pat Fanning held the position with distinction for many years prior to his election to the highest office in the Association. His election last Sunday was announced following two days of drawn-out discussions and the result was greeted with enthusiasm by the 230 or delegates present.

MOTIONS Of the 69 motions tabled 2 were given the approval of Convention, 6 were beaten 25 with 60 in favour. One out of order and 6 were referred to the County Board. The following motions dealing with the general playing rules were given the approval of the County Board. That Rule 137 be amended by substituting the following "the goalkeeper shall not be charged within the smaller rectangle in either hurling or football (Abbeyside, De La Salle Erin's Own) That Rule 138 be amended by substituting the following "It shall be an offence for an attacking player to be within the smaller rectangle before the ball enters it during play however when the ball passes over the crossbar beyond the reach of attack and defence the point shall be allowed if an attacking player fouls a defending player whose score be not allowed - (Abbeyside) That Rule 139 T.O. (1973) be amended to read as follows "Personal fouling. The referee shall take serious regard of persons who are fouling an opponent, tripping, pulling and after warning a player shall put him off the field after the next such offence - (Abbeyside) That Rule 144 (Paragraph 1) be amended by substituting the following "when a foul is committed by the defence within the larger rectangle, a penalty kick shall be given from the central point of the fourteen yards line. All players with the exception of the defending goalkeeper and the player taking the kick are to remain outside the 21 yards line until the kick has been taken - (Abbeyside) That Rule 149 (Paragraph 1) be amended by substituting the following "when a foul is committed by the defence within the larger rectangle the referee shall place the ball on the centre spot of the 21 yards line and only 12 players may stand on the goal-line all other players must remain outside the 21 yards line until the free is taken. When a foul is committed by the defence inside the 21 yards line a free shall be given on the 21 yards line opposite where the foul is committed - (Abbeyside) That Rule 123 sections (F) (1) T.O. '73 be amended so that the following be inserted after the word "forward" to the Committee in charge of the game within 7 days, with the names of the players of each team in the case of a player ordered off for striking an opponent with a hurley or for kicking an opponent, indicate whether the stroke was deliberate or otherwise - (Erin's Own)

Hot Water costs you too much

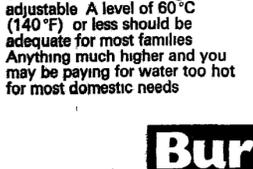

Here's how to cut down:

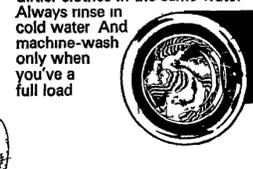

The Cylinder: Lag your hot water cylinder with an easy-to-fit jacket, 75 mm (3 ins) thick. The cost? About £4, an investment that starts paying dividends straight away...

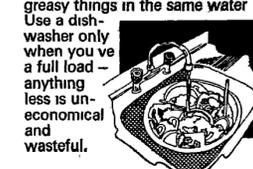

The Thermostat: With most immersion heaters, the thermostat is just beneath the cover - check the setting if it's adjustable. A level of 60°C (140°F) or less should be adequate for most families.

Washing Dishes: Never wash under a running tap, always use the stopper or fill a basin. And again, wash the less dirty things first then the pans and greasy things in the same water.

Washing Clothes: Save hot water by washing the slightly soiled things first, then the dirtier clothes in the same water. Always rinse in cold water. And machine-wash only when you've a full load.

In the Bathroom: Again, never wash under a running tap - use the stopper. And why not a shower instead of a bath? You'll save yourself five gallons of hot water every time.

Burn energy wisely we can't afford waste. Issued by the Department of Transport & Power.

Big drop in road fund grants

GOVERNMENT'S 'CUT BACK' POLICY STUPID SAYS COUNCILLOR

When members of Waterford County Council were informed at a special meeting in Dungarvan last Monday that there was a shortfall of £139,000 in the amount of Road Fund Grants for 1975 notified by the Department of Local Government compared with what had been anticipated at the Council's Estimates meeting, several expressed shock at the big drop. The total amount which the Council had estimated for expenditure on road works in the coming year was £1,039,550 towards which grants estimated at £281,400 had been anticipated. The amount of the grants to be allocated by the Department has turned out to be £342,400. While this is less than the amount anticipated, it is greater than that allocated for 1974 (a nine months period) when the figure was £291,360 and also for the last full year 1973/74 when the amount allocated was £323,370.

A report from the County Secretary, Mr B J McNally, stated that the Block Grant Department has been reduced to £281,400. This is a decrease of £42,000 on the amount allocated for 1974. The County Secretary said that the amount of the grants to be allocated by the Department has turned out to be £342,400. While this is less than the amount anticipated, it is greater than that allocated for 1974 (a nine months period) when the figure was £291,360 and also for the last full year 1973/74 when the amount allocated was £323,370.

Mr J D Hally, Co Engineer said that quite obviously the fact that there was a drop of £139,000 in the grants anticipated would have some effect on the employment content of the work to be undertaken. He said that he planned to discuss the position with the local authorities who dealt with road works when he had a chance of going into the figures. Mr Hally then told the Council that in his opinion it would be unwise to make too much out of the matter and it would be premature to sound any note of alarm. While he agreed that the cut in grants would have some effect on the employment content of the work to be undertaken, he said that he planned to discuss the position with the local authorities who dealt with road works when he had a chance of going into the figures.

Mr Hally then told the Council that in his opinion it would be unwise to make too much out of the matter and it would be premature to sound any note of alarm. While he agreed that the cut in grants would have some effect on the employment content of the work to be undertaken, he said that he planned to discuss the position with the local authorities who dealt with road works when he had a chance of going into the figures.

that amenity grants had been cut out. He said that this attitude of the government of cutting back and cutting back in the present circumstances could be described as nothing less than stupid. It showed a lack of confidence in the country and he said that they should write to the Minister for Local Government to protest against this latest decision of the government.

The Co Secretary said that it was entirely a matter of the amount of money which was available to the government to allocate.

Mr King said that if any unemployment would result from the cut in the road grants he would move a supplementary estimate to put the amount of the shortfall in the grants on the rates.

Mr O'Ryan said that this was a matter which could not be put over on the rates in this fashion.

Mr King - It's one of the things we can do to save jobs if necessary.

Finally it was agreed to refer further discussion until next meeting pending a full report on the implications of the grants cut to be submitted by the Co Engineer. It was further agreed on the proposal of Mr Hally seconded by Mr P Kennedy to send a protest to the Minister on the matter.

CLARE HURLERS HOLD OUT AGAINST WATERFORD

Clare 1-16, Waterford 3-9

Extra time was needed to decide the inter-county hurling game for the West County Cup at Newmarket-on-Fergus last Sunday. The home county retained the trophy defeating Waterford by one point.

In a lively game Clare led by a point at the interval but the scores were level 1-12 to 3-6 at full time. In an exciting extra period the home side held on to win by a point. C Loughane in the half back line, John Callinan at midfield and Eada O'Connor and P O'Connor in attack were the stars of the winning team. For Waterford P Coady was outstanding in defence while J Galvin at midfield and M Whealan and M Walsh in attack also impressed.

Scorers for Clare - J McNamara 1-3, O Woods 0-3, E O'Connor and E O'Connor J Callinan G Loughane and N Ryan 0-1 each. For Waterford D Ormond 1-4, M Geary 0-3, and M Whealan and T Doyle 1-1 each.

NEWS FROM BALLYDUFF

GAA - Pride of place in our news column this week goes to Shamie Hannon for his gaining a team spot on the Munster Railway Cup team, thus becoming the first Ballyduff player to gain such an honour.

This is only just reward for Shamie's wholehearted hurling throughout the past year. In fact he has made great strides on the inter-county scene as he was also on the panel from which the Carroll's All-Stars team was selected.

We take this opportunity of wishing Shamie all the best in the forthcoming Railway Cup. We note that Aráglan have decided against coming into the West Waterford championship and the writer was informed that it was the players' decision that they remain in North Cork.

The main problem with Aráglan appears to be a shortage of players, especially young players coming up, and taking part in West Waterford would not overcome this problem.

Being such admirers of Aráglan's type of hurling down through the years we wish them well in this year's North Cork championship.

Congratulations - To Mr and Mrs Jimmy Geary Ballinacorney congratulations on the birth of a son last week.

Darts - The West Waterford Darts League has come to a close, the final having been played last Thursday night. Unfortunately, our local heroes Lindsays, were defeated in this final, yet all credit is due to them for a wonderful performance. We congratulate Walshs (Tallow) on winning and wish our local pubs better luck in the forthcoming cup.

Religious Press Week - This week being the last week of January is set aside as religious press week, and it is hoped that during this week we will take a better look at religious reading material available to us and make greater use of it. We all look after our bodies well by eating plenty but we sometimes neglect our minds. This is an opportunity to adjust that situation.

Home From England - Mr and Mrs Jimmy Scanlon have returned from England to live in Ballyduff and have been allotted one of the new houses at the terrace. Mr Scanlon is in the building trade and we hope he finds no difficulty in obtaining employment in the new situation.

Dead Suddenly - The death occurred early last week of Mr Donal O'Flaherty, Watergrass-hill. The deceased was a officer in charge of the Fermoy Labour Exchange and worked right up to the time of his death.

The late Mr O'Flaherty was a most popular person with those who knew him either personally or through his work and it was a great shock to all his friends in Fermoy to learn of his untimely death. Deceased was only in his forties and has left a wife and young family behind him.

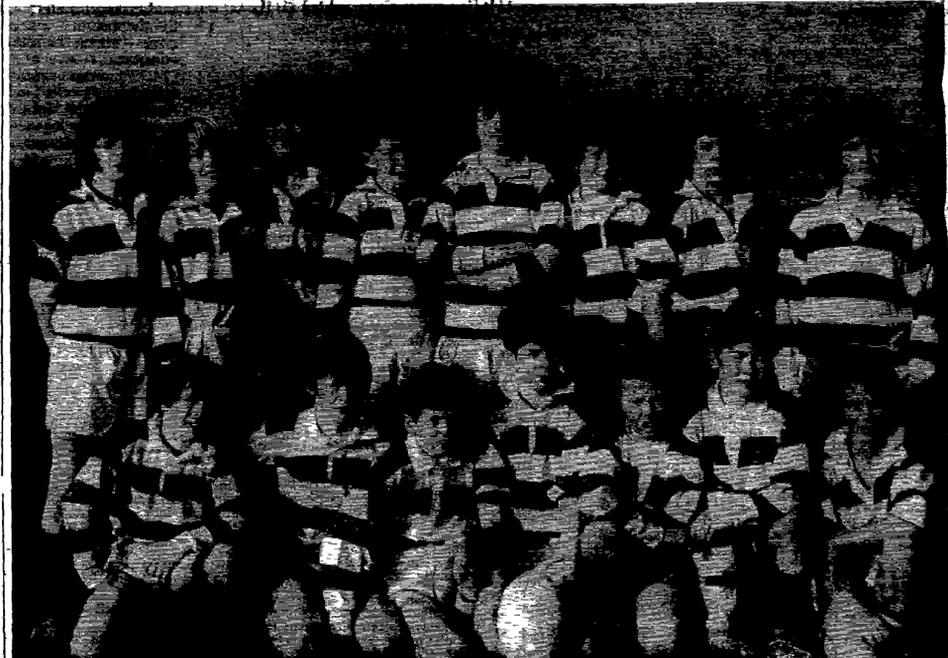

To his family, relatives and friends we extend our deep sympathy.

Music Group - Jimmy Gorman (Jnr) and Michael O'Callaghan, both from Ballyduff, together with L Hayes Garrymore, Fermoy, have formed a music group "The Rangers" and have played in several public sessions. It is the opinion of yours truly that the group are talented music-wise and only need the necessary bookings to create a good impression.

THE CONGER KING'S ANGLING NOTES

M.P.O. The Munster Provincial Council meeting will be held on Saturday, 15th February, at 3.30 p.m. in the Rob Roy, Cook Street, Cork.

THE "GAFF" Copies of the "Gaff" will be available in the last week of February and club secretaries are advised to place their orders. The "Gaff" is most useful to anglers supplying all information of the dates and venues of all the 1975 Club Competitions.

"THE CONGER KING" The club secretaries have been written to by His Majesty and their support has been asked for so that he can give the clubs not only in the South East Regional Tourism Area but also the neighbouring clubs who would desire his support in the angling notes each week. An early reply would be appreciated.

THE INLAND FISHERIES TRUST A female Tope that was tagged on July 20, 1973, four miles north west of Fenit Light-house in Tralee Bay as part of the Trust's investigation into the habits and movements of certain marine sport fishes, was recaptured 60 miles south west of the Sicily Isles on December 1, 1974. It was taken by a French commercial fishing vessel after being at liberty for 499 days. The fish measured 44 inches when tagged and had grown 4 inches and traveled a minimum distance of 260 miles during its period of liberty.

This is the eighth Tope which has been recaptured since the Trust's tagging programme commenced in 1970. Other Tope have been at liberty for periods of up to 984 days and had travelled distances of up to 1,200 miles before being recaptured.

ANGLING AND TOURISM The Minister for the Gaeltacht Mr O'Donnell, addressing the Belmullet Anglers at their annual dinner stated that Bord Fáilte estimated that the average sea angler visitor spends £574 during his stay. British anglers spend on average 15 days. The North American angler stays from 24 to 30 days. Continental anglers spend 30 days and other angling visitors spend up to 47 days. This revenue is increasing every year and in 1973 meant £15 million.

WIDER VARIETY OF FISH caught in Irish waters than in any other European waters. On one Sunday's outing under the auspices of Dunmore East SAC seventeen different species were landed. This beautiful fishing village is not given sufficient publicity.

SPECIES The Dunmore East SAC are again putting up two valuable trophies to encourage their anglers to go all out to fish for species and the trophies will be awarded both on the shore and deep sea. It proved very interesting last season.

A meeting of the Committee will be held on Friday, February 7 and this meeting will have under consideration reports of the prizes to be awarded during the season.

SHAMROCKS G.A.A. NOTES

An attendance of 243 were present at our eleventh annual dinner and 21st birthday party at the Hilltop Hotel, Youghnal, on Friday night last. Invited guests were Seamus O'Brien, Secretary of the Divisional Board and Mrs O'Brien, and the Curate of the parish Rev Fr Griffin. The local ICA made a birthday cake for the occasion decorated in the club colours. The cake was blessed by Father Griffin and cut by one of the founder members and now Vice-President of the club, Jim Tobin.

James Tobin, Chairman, welcomed all present and paid tribute to our loyal supporters who followed the club during the past 21 years, and also paid tribute to the footbailers who brought honour to the club last year. He also gave a detailed account of the club's happenings since its foundation in 1954.

Seamus O'Brien in his address thanked the club for inviting himself and Mrs O'Brien and said he was honoured to be associated with the club on such a special occasion. In their 21 years, he said the club had contributed well to the inter-county teams and more so last year as Liam Ahearn was a member of the Waterford Under 21 team which reached the All-Ireland final. He also apologised for the absence of the Chairman, John Murphy who was involved in a car accident during the week but who sent his best wishes to the club for 1975.

Fr Griffin spoke highly of the working of the club and hoped they would continue to progress in the years ahead.

The Chairman presented wedding gifts to John and Patricia Mick Goulding and Maurice Tobin, players who got married during last year, and wished them and their wives well for the future.

Fr Griffin presented the Western medals to the players and substitutes of the victorious football team.

After a magnificent meal a very enjoyable social evening was enjoyed by all. Music was supplied by the Atlantic Sound.

HEALTH BOARD REQUESTS SUGGESTIONS ABOUT MOUNT MELLERAY SCHOOL

Last October Waterford County Council passed a resolution proposed by Mr P Coffey, suggesting that the possibility of converting the school premises at Mount Mellerey College into a home for the old people of the county be considered.

At a special meeting of the Council held in Dungarvan last Monday the County Secretary Mr McNally read a letter dated December 11, 1974, from Mr P McQuillan, Chief Executive Officer South Eastern Health Board which stated that the Council's resolution had been considered by the Special Hospitals Committee of the Board and the recommendation of the Committee had been approved by the Board.

The O.E.O.'s letter then pointed out that in accordance with this recommendation, the Board had decided not to accept the Council's proposal for the following reasons: (1) The Board has its own plans for geriatric accommodation at Dungarvan and Lismore to serve the West Waterford area. (2) Irrespective of that reason the location at Mount Mellerey was unsuitable for the purpose and (3) The buildings at Mount Mellerey as described in the Architect's report were completely unsuitable for the care of old people.

The Board's letter was noted and Mr N Walsh suggested that the reply might be given the same publicity as the original suggestion.

BALLYDUFF G.A.A. NOTES

During the past week hurling history was created in Ballyduff when Shamie Hannon, a member of the club was selected to play on the Munster Hurling team which will contest the forthcoming Railway Cup competition. This is the first time ever a Ballyduff man has been chosen to play for his native Province.

It is indeed a great honour for the club and we are all proud of the fact that Shamie is one of the three Waterford men selected.

The County Convention was held last Sunday and the club was represented by the following members - Mossie McNamara, Jimmy Quirk, Liam Power, Gene Gully, Michael Leahy, Richie Walsh and Shamie Daly. Draws and fixtures for the coming year were made by the Western Board on Monday night last and we hope to give you full details of these at a later date.

A meeting of our club and the Shamrocks will take place in the near future to discuss the question of amalgamating our under-age teams.

The club wishes a speedy recovery to Western Board Chairman Johnny Murphy who is at present indisposed due to the result of an accident.

NEED TO RECAST LABOUR LAW TO PROTECT WORKERS

Dungarvan Trades Council Lecture

In the first of a series of lectures on various topics to be given under the auspices of the Dungarvan Trades Council, Mr Harold O'Sullivan, General Secretary, Local Government Officials Union, spoke on Workers' Participation in a New Industrial Policy at the Ormonde Hotel, Dungarvan last Friday night.

The wide ranging lecture dealt extensively with worker participation on the boards of management of companies and one of the aspects referred to was the framing of current labour law.

Apart from the problems arising from the quality of the relationships between workers and their employers' said Mr O'Sullivan 'other difficulties arise from the nature and organisation of the institutions which represent them including the institutions of the State and the legal framework which apply to them.

HOSTILE AGENCY

In this country' he went on to say, 'the trade union movement originated as a conspiracy outside the law and even today is regarded by many employers as a hostile agency to be resisted as much as possible. A major result of this alienation of the trade union movement has been to atrophy labour law in many important respects almost to what it was at the beginning of this century. Trade unionists have good reason to believe that the purpose and objective of current labour law is to protect and preserve the private enterprise capitalist system against encroachments including encroachments arising from workers' demands if labour law is to make any contribution to the development of industrial relations in this country. It will need to be completely recast with the emphasis being placed on the protection of the worker and the community in general from the excesses which can arise in the private property free enterprise society. Comparisons are made between this country and other European countries where forms of industrial democracy are well advanced, as for example, in Germany but very often they overlook the fact that in such countries labour law has followed a more progressive course and is accepted by the workers as making a positive contribution to the industrial relations situation.'

FEED VOUCHERS FOR YOUNG CATTLE

The Minister for Agriculture and Fisheries has announced that the latest date for receiving completed vouchers from small farmers with young cattle who are serious short of winter fodder has been extended to Friday, February 13. The extra monies provided in this connection under the recent Budget.

These extra monies will make possible (1) some increase in the number of vouchers to be issued to many of the small farmers with young cattle who lodged their completed application forms by the previous closing date of 13 December. The issue of vouchers to numbers of eligible small farms from whom completed application forms have been received since 13 December and (2) issue of vouchers to other eligible small farmers with young cattle who now take the opportunity to lodge completed application forms by Friday, February 13.

FORMS AVAILABLE

Application forms are available from all local offices of the Department of Agriculture, Fisheries and from the office of the Co Committees of Agriculture. The completed application forms should be lodged later than 7 February with the Department's local Farm Development (Land Project) Officers who have already lodged completed application forms should not apply again.

Farmers eligible to apply for cattle feed vouchers are those with a total land valuation not more than £50 who are living wholly or mainly from farming and who have calves, weaners or young store cattle for which they are seriously short of winter fodder. Only a very limited number of vouchers can be issued to any eligible farmer and the number will also be determined in relation to the heads of stock he is carrying and the amount of fodder already available to him.

Each voucher is valued at £7.50 and must be used in payment for the purchase of cwt. cattle feed (feed grade beet-pulp or compound feed).

The completed application forms should be lodged not later than 7 February with the Department's local Farm Development (Land Project) offices. Farmers who have already lodged completed application forms should not apply again.

Farmers eligible to apply for cattle feed vouchers are those with a total land valuation of not more than £50 who earn their living wholly or mainly from farming and who have calves or weanlings or young store cattle for which they are seriously short of winter fodder. Only a very limited number of vouchers can be issued to any eligible farmer and the number will also be determined in relation to the heads of stock he is carrying and the amount of fodder already available to him.

Each voucher is valued for £7.50 and must be used in part-payment for the purchase of 5 cwt of cattle feed (feed grain, best-pulp or compound feed).

VETS TO WITHDRAW FROM ALL STATE WORK

The Irish Veterinary Union decided last night (22nd January) to instruct its members to withdraw from all state work from the 3rd February next according to a press release on their behalf.

This action it is stated was taken as a direct result of the Minister for Agriculture's unilateral decision on the 26th November 1974 to have the Department employ lay technicians in the Brucellosis Eradication Scheme without prior consultation with the veterinary profession. The Minister, himself had undertaken in November 1973 to put proposals for discussion to the IVU on this matter. Subsequent requests for these proposals throughout 1974 to the Minister from the Union were ignored. On the 26th November, the Minister gave his decision that veterinary surgeons in private practice were no longer to be involved by the Department in its Brucellosis Eradication Scheme.

FURTHER MEETING

In an effort to avoid confrontation the IVU requested a further meeting with the Minister who agreed to have his officials meet the Union. This meeting took place on 13th January last.

The IVU requested that the Minister defer the implementation of his decision so that meaningful negotiations could take place to ensure that the veterinary profession could play its full part in brucellosis eradication.

Last night's decision of the IVU was taken as a result of the Minister's declaration that he was not prepared to enter into any further negotiation on his decision.

Private calls from farmers will continue to be fully serviced.

Caravan site at Helvick leads to divided opinions

While Mr C Curran, Chairman, declared at a special meeting of Waterford County Council in Dungarvan last Monday that there were divided opinions in the Helvick area concerning the matter of the caravan site it was evident that the members of the Council were also divided when discussion on the making of an order under Section 31 of the Local Government (Sanitary Services) Act 1948 to prohibit temporary dwellings in Helvick, deferred from the last meeting was again resumed.

Mr M Harty said that a deputation of local people had visited him the previous night and told him that they had been discussing ways and means of overcoming the problem. He said that the people of the district did not want to be involved in any trouble for those residents who lived near the caravan site and he asked the Council to receive this deputation at the next meeting and to hear their views.

Mr D Goode said that a decision had been taken at the Council's Estimates meeting to close this caravan site because it would prove uneconomic to spend money to bring it up to required standard. He said that the Council should now stand by that decision.

Mr S Whelan supported the points made by Mr Harty. He claimed that the local people should be given every facility and they should be given every opportunity to air their views.

Mr P Kenneally also supported these points.

Mr M Veale said that he knew there were several caravan sites around the county which were not up to standards and he thought it might be just as well for the Council to leave things as they were and in this way to help, as far as possible, the people who were coming to Helvick down through the years.

UNREASONABLE
Mr J D Hally Co Engineer said that the caravan site at Helvick was just a piece of ground owned by the Council which had been used for years by locals but then gradually more and more started coming in and now it appeared to him to be unreasonable that the Council should apply standards to other sites which they would not observe themselves.

Mr F King said that they could not allow anyone to use the site if it was not up to the standard required.

Mr T Kyne, T.D. said that no matter what any official said, as far as he was concerned the site was one of the most perfect sites that could be got for caravans. He suggested that the problem might be resolved if the Council either leased or sold the site to a local committee who could then bring it up to the required standard.

Mr Hally said that the position was that at present there was no access road to the site. It had no hard top there was no water point and no toilet facilities. These would be required to bring it up to standard.

Finally after further discussion it was agreed on the suggestion of Mr Hally that if a local group were interested in developing a site they could formulate their ideas and submit their proposals which the Council could then discuss.

MINNIES SQUASH CLUB NOTES

We have no weddings or engagements to report on this week but instead we extend congratulations to Michael and Mrs Merran on a recent happy occasion.

A certain little bird told me yesterday that gentleman known only to Seamie had "roast rabbit" recently for dinner. He has not been seen since. Surely a case for the "Hawaii Five-O" team don't you think?

Talking about "dinner" reminds me of the fact that we were "all aged" about an annual social or something along those lines before Christmas. I feel personally we should consider the possibility, as I would hope for better club spirit to be forthcoming from such a gathering of members.

Which brings me automatically to another point on which I have longed to comment on for some time. How is it that whenever visiting teams play at Minnies, the majority have a large following with them to cheer them on, while Minnies invariably travel with maybe three or four at the most and I feel the various teams suffer somewhat from the lack of moral support. Perhaps we can remedy the situation in the near future.

The Celtic and Clonmel Div 3 teams did battle in the final of that Division at Minnies on Monday night last, with victory deservedly going to the Citymen by three games to two.

They portrayed better fitness coupled with greater experience than the men from Tipp and if I were to single out the most entertaining game of the evening I would go for the Milo O'Byrne/Noel O'Neill game. The former opened well to win the first game 9-1. O'Neill doggedly took the second by a 9-4 margin to level, but in the third we had a rare old ball indeed, as Noel had to call on all his experience and very helpful edge out O'Byrne 10-8, to take a fortuitous two games to one lead. What a beautifully controlled "lob" to the back-wall Noel possessed. A very helpful and effective shot when one is in trouble up front. This he used to good advantage to win the fourth and final game.

Overall a great win for Celtic who would you believe were beaten by Minnies A earlier on. Goes to show how close we were to getting to the closing stages.

Match results (Celtic names first)—
Sean Twomey beat Mick Flannely 5-0 9-3
Noel O'Neill 9-7 4-9 8-10 4-9
Billy Redmond beat Maurice Walsh 9-5 9-7 9-6
John Moloney lost to Wally Walsh 7-9 9-8 10 John Wade lost to Noel Harte 9-1 9-9 9-7 3-9 7-9

Arrangements were made by Ned Harrney to send a Minnies selected team to Clonmel for the Festival Week on Monday next. Those selected are earnestly requested to avail of this opportunity to play away from home and gain valuable experience. More challenge games of this nature in particular between the middle and lower grade players would be very welcome indeed.

By the way what about Minnies entering an intermediate team for next season and the team would then avail of the talents of Mick Kelly now ineligible to play for his home club. Certainly it is food for thought!

On the local scene I am pleased to see that the courts are almost completely "booked out" every week of late. This is a good sign with an eye cast in the direction of the Harp Lager Tournament included on the list. We were the matches between Maurice and Vincent Ned and Maurice, Pat and Pearse and to "top the bill" we had a heavyweight contest between in-the-corner Paddy "Bugner" O'Brien and in the blue corner Paddy "Conteh" Hannigan. No further comment except to tell you that the referee is still "hid up" with multiple side effects to the game (I had better watch my step after this).

MR. J. D. HALLY OPENS ALL-IRELAND SCOUT CONFERENCE

Mr Bruton, Parliamentary Secretary to the Minister for Education, addressing over 280 adult leaders of the Scout Associations of Ireland at their annual conference in Limerick last week-end said that he found it interesting that the Scout movement in Ireland had currently the highest growth rate in Europe and he was particularly impressed by the combined Scout/Guide plans for the training of leaders-trainers. He commended the Association on the recent choice of Commodore Thomas McKenna as Chief Scout. He was glad that other kindred organisations were present and he was especially pleased to see such a large representation of the Northern Ireland Scout Council.

The conference was opened by Mr J. D. Hally Co Engineer, Dungarvan, a Vice-President of the Scout Association of Ireland who is also Chief Scout of the Catholic Boy Scouts of Ireland. He referred to the growing co-operation between the two Associations though he did not feel that they should eliminate the rivalry which, if kept within reasonable bounds, was a good thing keeping both Scout Associations on their toes.

The Conference was told that last year's 20 per cent growth had exceeded predictions and while this situation was very satisfactory it was creating problems. One of the questions which leaders would have to answer was whether they as voluntary workers, could continue to cope with and administer a continuation of this kind of growth. It seemed almost certain that ways and means of providing a back-up service by full-time professional leaders would have to be considered and the main problem here was finding the necessary finance.

CHEMISTS' PROPOSAL REJECTED BY BOARD

Chemists are opposed to putting expiry dates on prescriptions.

They feel it would encourage people to hoard drugs in their cupboards, Wexford chemist, Mr Tom Hasset told the January meeting of the South Eastern Health Board.

Consequently his organisation would oppose any such move.

As an alternative he suggested that a scheme be launched to educate people to take the quantity of drugs prescribed for them by their doctors.

Mr Hasset gave his views during a discussion on the Board's recommendations on the Report of the Consultative Council on General Medical Practice.

However, a recommendation that expiry dating be made compulsory for all chemists was carried on a vote.

Also put to a vote was a recommendation that the GMS be extended to persons of limited eligibility such as—
-Opposing any extension of the GMS, Dr P A Meehan, R.M.S. St. Luke's, Clonmel, said he thought it was far more important to upgrade hospitals first.

However, the recommendation was passed with a big majority.

Among the other recommendations of the Board are—
-Married couples should have the right to plan their families in accordance with the dictates of their consciences. Doctors, where requested, should advise their patients on family planning methods towards this end.

The Licensing Laws should be more strictly enforced and the Board should maintain a continuing Health Education Campaign aimed at the problems of alcoholism and drug addiction.

The formation of group practitioners should be encouraged where the doctors concerned are fully committed to the idea.

I.F.A. WEEKLY BULLETIN

NATIONAL FARM MANAGEMENT ACCOUNTS SERVICE LAUNCHED

Representatives of the IFA Farm Accounts Co-op and Officials of the Agricultural Institute have concluded a series of discussions on proposed working arrangements for the new national Farm Management Accounts Service. It is hoped to have early ratification of these proposals.

It is proposed that the Institute will provide a comprehensive range of data processing management services and technical training facilities to the Irish Farm Accounts Co-op. The Management Committee of the Co-op includes representation from Macra na Feirme, I.A.O.S., F.B.D., the Agricultural Institute and regional account-keeping groups as well as the Irish Farmers' Association's own representatives.

The Chairman of the new Co-op, Mr Donal Cashman, said in a statement that there would be a flexible approach in relation to local arrangements for the recording of data in the Institute's Farm Account Book.

As far as possible the intention was to work through any existing local account-keeping group, or other suitable organisation, for data collection purposes. Where such facilities were not available suitable arrangements would be made to establish the required service.

Promotional arrangements at county level would involve a joint operation by IFA and Macra, working in consultation with the CAO's and their staffs. Regional staff of IFA and Macra have been briefed on the details of the new Farm Accounts service and will be actively involved in promoting and establishing it.

Mr Cashman added that arrangements for the provision of a taxation accounts service as an additional service for farmers who require it, were proceeding.

MIS-INFORMED CRITICISM OF FARM MODERNISATION SCHEME

So much misinformed and downright misleading criticism of the Farm Modernisation Scheme, said Mr Joe Rea, Chairman of the Farm-Apprenticeship Board.

Mr Rea was speaking at a Macra na Feirme Symposium on the Farm Modernisation Programme at Mooncoin.

He said "The motives which are questionable the Farm Modernisation Programme is being represented by some as a kind of blight which is about to descend on thousands of Irish farmers, who do not have been prosperous, making a good living and generally enjoying life."

"But, of course, this has not been the position. Due to the quite inadequate return from farming the numbers engaged in agriculture over the last twenty years has been drastically cut."

Recent information from the Agriculture Institute clearly demonstrates the magnitude of this decline in pre Farm Modernisation times.

"Today only 16 per cent of all males aged 20-24 in the State are working on farms compared to 36 per cent for the same age group ten years ago. Obviously farming as it stands is not very attractive to a new generation."

"The Institute has even more alarmingly reported that the total losses from the farm labour force in the North West for example, due to death, retirement and changes to the farm jobs is now eight times the number of new people entering farming."

"Those are facts and it is against this background that the Farm Modernisation Scheme must be viewed."
