Dear Sir,
In relation to a letter you so kindly published in your excellent paper, I would like to clarify the position relating to vested cottages as I have had an enormous amount of correspondence since publication of the Annuity of a vested cottage the position is that following the delivery of judgment on a case in the Supreme Court the revised conditions affecting redemption were notified to all Local Authorities on the 13th of November, 1974

However, the decision as to whether or not to allow an Annuity to be redeemed is, under the Housing Act 1966 a matter for the Local Authority and Waterford County Council indicated that it is not their policy to allow vested owners to redeem annuities except in expect to see them beaten as, at ther poner they are not gear.

NEW DAIRY RATIO BY WATERFOR

Present milk prices justify a new assessment of feeding concentrates to dairy cows while they are on grass

The advantages are that they farr in circumstances where it is better economics to go for Aug higher yields rather than more thev are on grass yields rather than more cows they help bridge a gap a at silage time when there's a ano tendency to restrict grazing in prio favour of providing feed for next winter they keep flesh on or cows that may have been at cows that may have been at t marked for culling from the that

In view of the changed cir-cumstances Waterford Co-op ha now launched a new dairs ration Shandon Summer Dairy The cubes have now gone on sale in the Waterford price cop area and already they than show signs of getting reception Farmers will have to decide what quality of meals to feed and how effective this feeding will be in achieving positive results. It is a fact that a cow will return up to one third of the protein she receives in the form of milk This not alone gives a high yield but also er-sures a better quality of milk Nutrition of dairy cows is far from good enough Many farmers underfeed their cows especially at a time of maximum response which is from calving to early Summer This response can be maintained by feeding concentrates We tend to take our grass quality for granted and as a result Jur cow. suffer, especially the heavy vielders and other cows who REQUIREMENT Cows giving over four gal lons daily or heifers giving over three gallons have a very high energy requirement. Up to that they can get all they need from good grass (not from glass) but over that potential of production they require and deserve extra feeding pay for it with the extra milk The usual recommendation is that they should be fed b .b of concentrates per gallon for each gallon in excess of four in the case of cows and about 4 lb per gallon in excess of three gallons in the case of herrers The economics are easy enough. Shandon Summer Dairy Cube cost approximately 3p per 1b In effect then, the extra feed ing costs less than half the price of the extra milk It helps to remember this at all stages summer production, but especially in May and early June when spring calvers are giving their best response to

DUNGARVAN SOCCER CLUB NOTES

TRAMORE 1: DUNGARYAN Last Tuesday night week our B' team travelled to Tramore to play the home side in the league There was nothing a stake here but it gave our "A' team players a useful run-out This was a game controlled by both defences but Dungarvan should have been three up at half time only for some poor finishing by the forwards As it was there was no score On the turn-around method of play was the same only Dungarvan were pressing more and this pressure finally paid off midway through the half when Sheridan was taken down in the area Sheridan took the penalty himself and he

coolly converted it However five minutes later Tramore grabbed the equaliser and this was the final score in the game Best for Dungaryan were— Foley M O'Connor, Domnelly and Sheridan

Dungarvan got off to a dream start in this game with a goal after a minute's play by Anselm Hayes Twelve, minutes later with Dungarvan rampant they went further ahead with a goal by Michael Lehane

After these two setbacks Tramore started to put some useful moves together but no matter how hard they tried they could how hard they tried they could not get through a Dungarvan defence where Billy Walsh and Liam Foley were very commanding and half time arrived with Dungarvan still two goals clear On resumption of play Tramore immediately went on the offensive and put Dungarvan under severe pressure but the defence was equal to their best efforts. In fact, keeper Houlihan efforts In fact keeper Houlihan only had to make about four saves during the entire game Midway through the second Midway through the second half Dungarvan brought in 12th man Donnelly for the injured Lehane Donnelly was only on fixe minutes when he headed on a low clearance to Hayes who coolly added his second and Dungarvan's third for the final score of the game

A TRIBUTE TO ANN As the Angelus tolled out that evening in May, Jesus told Ann "I want you You'll have no time to say good-bye, But the twins will join you as the dawn draws 'nigh, New many a silent tear will be shed When the word goes roundthat Ann is dead But oh! what joy there is going to be,

On that promised day when we all will see Her standing there with arms outstreatched, Saying "My waiting is over the time has been long," And Kealin and Finia will join in her song, Jesus promised us three on that fifth day of May, That we'd all be united again one day

Our choice for the ballad corner this week is yet another which recalls the days of emigration and the dreams of those exiled from their native shores .-

My barque on the billow dashed gloriously on, And glad were the notes of the sailor boy's song Yet sad was my bosom and bursting with woe,
For my heart's in old Ireland wherever I go Oh, my heart's in old Ireland wherever I go

More dear than the flowers that Italy yields Are the red-breasted daisies that spangle the fields, The shamrocks, the hawthorn, the white blossom's glow, for my heart's in old Ireland wherever I go
Oh, my heart's in old Ireland

The shores they look lovely. yet cheerless and vain.

Bloom the lilies of France and the olives of Spain, When I think of the fields where the wild daisies

Then my hearts in old Ire land wherever I go Oh my hearts in old Ireland wherever I go

I sigh and I vow if ever I get home No more from my dear native cottage I'll roam, The harp shall resound and the gobiet shall flow For my heart's in old Ireland wherever I go Oh, my heart's in old Ireland

wherever I go
