Chorus

Can anybody tell me where the Blarney Roses grow?
It may be down in Limerick town or over in Mayo.
It s somewhere in the famerald Isle, but this I want to know Can anybody tell me where the Blarney Roses grow?

Her cheeks were like the roses, her hair a raven hue. sefore that she was done with me, she had me raying, She left me sorely strangled not a coin she left you And she told me she belonged

They've roses in Killarney, and the same in County But 'pon my word those roses; boys, I can't see anywhere.
She blarney'd me, for hy fire powers, she left me broke, l

IRISH FARMERS WILL NOT PAY FOR FOOD SUBSIDIES

The proposal by the Government that additional food sub-sidies to the consumer should be financed by Irish farmers because of the Green Pound adjustment, while UK farmers will obtain the full benefits of the similar change in the U.K. Green Pound, is totally unacceptable to Irish farmers
This was declared by T J
Maher, the IFA President, in a 00-The News.

statement
He said that Irish farmers joined the EEC in the expectation of fair and open access to the markets of the other mem ber states of the community However, this basic principle of marketing unity with a common organisation of the market and with common prices through the Community has come under severe strain because of the manner in which the monetary compensatory system has in fact operated to distort the conditions of access to export markets in particular for Irish

CANON'S WARNING AT OPENING OF LISMORE FESTIVAL

A warning that the organising committee should look be-fore they leap was voiced by Very Rev D Canon McGrath, PP, VF, when he spoke at the opening of the annual Festival in Lismore last Sunday. Referring to the fact that the proceeds from the festival go towards the funds to provide a local community centre, Canon McGrath asked "Is it not possible that in thinking in terms of a large building we are thinking beyond the capacity of our pockets?"

Canon McGrath went on to say that perhaps an outdoor centre which would be easier to lay out and less expensive to run might suit their purpose "In other words," he said, what I am suggesting to you is that you have a good look be-fore you leap"
Wishing everyone who attend-ment and of happiness he said that it was a great pleasure for him to see so many enjoying themselves and to see so many families reunited for the occasthomas and £30 to Gaultier ion He knew, he said, that all Prizes were also presented to the celebrations would be conducted with proper Christian moderation and with due re-(For other festival news see

TALLOW AND ROUNDABOUT NOTES

The Murder of the Miami. of disgust and shock was, felt in Tallow and surrounding areas on Thursday last when the news of the murder of three members of the Miami Show band and the serious wounding another member became

The Miami was well known in Tallow where with Dickie Rock fronting the band they per-formed the opening of Tallow Horse Fair Festival on more than one occasion Though some and Mary Murphy, Ballyhamiet, half-time of the members who were so Tallow too they were held in high his own set of bagpipes

It is indeed sad to think that boys who brought such happiness to many were laid low by words of ours can convey to the stricken mothers, fathers, wives, brothers, sisters and relatives of the murdered men the sor row that this horrible crime has that they have the sympathy of the entire country may in some way help to lighten their grief and sorrow It only remains for us to pra-

their souls and also on the souls of those who died whilst perpetrating the foul deed

The Late Tom Dunchy -Tom Dunphy of the Big 8 Show band and formerly of the Roya Showband who met his death another frequent visitor to the Arch Ballroom some years ago Tom must be one of the most beloved showband members in the country No pen of ours could describe the esteem and respect in which he was held not alone in his beloved Ireland but also in the United State and other countries which the band visited from time to time On behalf of the people of Tallow and roundabout we tender the sympathy of all to his widow, family, parents and

"DUNGARYA

BY-PASS ROAD IDEA NOT DROPPED

Reliable information that came my way during the week indicates, contrary to what the Dungarvan Town Engineer stated recently at a meeting of the local Urban Council that the proposed by-pass road for Dungarvan is far from being a dead letter. However because of present financial difficulties. the proposal, originally estimated to cost something in the region of £350,000, has to be shelved but I have been assured that as soon as the crisis passes and money again becomes available plans for the construction of the by pass will be implemented Personally I see no other solution than this if the Dungarvan town centre is not to become completely strangled. not to mention the danger in which houses and shop premises in such streets as Mary Street stand from the constant heavy vibrations set up by the huge "artics" and container trucks which pass through the town in everincreasing numbers

school leavers and university graduates all over Ireland have found themselves in difficulty because of the chronic unemployment position in the country For vast numbers it) has been a case of from the classrooms to the

Starting a coreer is always difficult, but for this year's crop of would-be career entrants, the prospects are grim The trouble is that there are just too many for too few oos or careers and with the removal of the marriage bar in so many of the public services there seems very little St hope that the position will ok improve; the probability is that it will get worse But the position is not one peculiar to this country The figures now available show that the problem is an mmense one and one that is not likely to disappear overmight One in three of all jobless people in the nine member countries of the European Community is under twenty-five years of age In the post year unemployment as a whole has been on the increase but young people and young workers seeking their first job seem to be par- rem ticularly badly hit average increase in unemployment in the Community countries last year was 32% However, the average for the youth sector was nearer 50%

Some countries fared worse than others. In Denmark, for example, there was an get astounding 405% (yes four full hundred and five per cent) in unemployment among the young last year in Germany and Ireland the figures were 210% and 1,21% respectively Young people in Britain were perhaps the most fortunate for there the increase was only 13%

It can only be poor consolation for the thousands of eyer jobless young in this country light ta know that they share a similar plight with the young people in Britain and Europe BUT AT THE OTHER END OF THE SCALE

While the foregoing reveals and the difficulties of the young, the following shows that there is still plenty of gravy around Under a caption, "Holidays With Pay £1000 A Week," the "Irish Medical Times" of wrote last week carries the following last v Story .s
