MY HOME IN LISMORE T understand that a request was made some weeks ago for the words of My Home In Lismore I am indebted to Mr John Parker the Tallow Correspondent of the LEADER who has passed them on to me having obtained them from a reader of the LEADER in Lismore This is, I understand, the full version of the poem which was composed by John Mangan of Lismore who was one of the Fenians who landed in Helvick from the Erm's Hope" in 1867

The ill-fated expedition which was to bring officers, men and arms from America to help in the Fenian Rising ended with the capture of most of those landed by the British John Mangan however evaded capture and succeeded in re turning safely to America

It's years since I left you, it's twenty or more, Since I took my departure from ancient Lismore, I will came back again from a far distant clime, . For to see you once more and perhaps the last time

There's the Green Road and Spout; and St Carthages Your castles and towers there

There's the Mall by Church Lane where I used to play When I went to school to old

The days of my boyhood they I imagine myself climbing a tall chestnut tree Whilst picking those chestnuts as I did of yore
When I was a boy in my home in Lismore

I swam the Blackwater which by you runs down, And I helped to save turf on your tall Knockmealdown
I have chased the wild herd from its green mountain side And many a time have I fished on the Bride

Farewell to you Dungarvan Likewise Helvick Head till I see you again, Since I paid you a visit it's a number of years And you'll welcome me home Erin's Hope volunteer

There's Botany too, Chapel Lane Gallows Hill There's the New Street Parks Road, I remember them still,

There's the Main Street beside them and the last place I'll The place I was born in was old Ferry Lane

I have crossed the Atlantic to fight for your cause To free you old Ireland from Englands cruel laws, The day is now dawning when Gladstone can tell Well have Home Rule Ireland, many thanks

Our green ffag is flying over mountain and vale And Ireland is crowned by her own Clann na Gael
The day will now come when I hope to see The home of my fathers long to set free

My mother and sisters they still do remain, and I am in hopes to see them again God bless them and guard them I'll ask nothing more, Good-bye mother and and to all in Lismore skillful footballers have the games directed and played through the medium of Irish better record in championships Leadog Boird teams have been over the past twenty years or so as during this period they established in Ceapach Chuinn puzzling reference to consultation by the committee with the planning authority

Parochial Hall Activities — tennis be introduced into the have won county titles in every grade of football — an achievement that has eluded every other club in the county six parishes of Cols Moire. Cois

By our standards of football Bride Another game that lends Tramore's speed and teamwork itself to the practice is 45 which are something to be wondered at and at anytime it is an enis still a very popular indoor game in rural areas

A meeting to set up a coordinating committee for the promotion of indoor games through Irish will be held in Lios Mor during October. It is to be hoped that those who are in a position to lend a helding hand in this aspect of our local game in rural areas

hand in this aspect of our local ing reached maturity will be included on their line-out for activities will come forward and give their advice and active Sunday support as had been the case in Having a nice blend of youth and experience they should give a dazzling performance in this final Their line-out will include Billy, Tom and M Fleming, Greg O Neill, Leo Murphy, all of whom have played football with the county John Walsh M Cowman B Cullen S Flavin

Tom Burns, Jim Walsh etc., all of whom are showing brilliant form just now Dunhill play a very contrasting style of football to their neighbours and what they might lack in the skills of the game they can well make up for in the matters of toughness and stamina Their best achievements to date were in reaching the county final last year a game they entered as favourites, only to be beaten by Affane and in reaching the Phelan Cun final transfer and the second s lane and in reaching the Phe-lan Cup final in which they went under to Ardmore on supporter for the day

Christmas eve In their three last matches of this season their victories in all cases were decisive and impressive. After hammering county champions Affane in a replay, they beat both Kilrossanty and Ballinacourty with something to spare For them it is an important factor that all these victories were won at the Fraher field Dunhill admit to playing their best football here and they now relish the thought of meeting Tramore on their favourite sod Their side will have such well known players as Tom Casey, Mick, White Tom and Willie Moore Joseph and Francis

Murphy Paul O Brien, Liam Dowdall, etc., men who will not snare themselves in the quest spare themselves in the quest for that elusive county title The outcome of this battle is by no means certain and while Dunhill have come this distance the hard way by beating Kill, Affane, Kilrossanty and Ballinacourty Tramore's superior skill may be the deciding factor if the game does not produce another draw Here's hoping that

JUVENILE REPLAY The attractive curtain raiser to the final will be the replay of the most extraordinary drawn under 16 county final between Tramore and Abbeyside Three weeks ago these sides finished level at 6 points

I expect Tramore to win the replay, as having a second chance, they will have the opportunity of utilising their height and strength to better advantage This is a game not winning to be missed.

WATERFORD v KILDARE

There are no surprises on the Waterford team selected to play Kildare in the opening round of the National Hurling League at Kildare on Sunday next and it is obvious from the line-out that the selectors intend to persevere with the men who served us in the league and championship in the early part of this year

TIPPERARY 1-13 WATERFORD 0-9 Although Waterford took on Supperary in a senior hurring shallenge at Cashel on Saturday night last in preparation for their forthcoming league games, the benefit derived from games, the benefit derived from the exercise was negligible.

Both sides, contrary to expectations, fielded without several of their regular intercounty players; so the information gleaned from the game about the prospective league strength of both counties was rather limited.

In Dublin last Sunday for the All-Ireland football final Competitions will also be held in which the Kerry "bobes" in Modeligo on Sunday, October faced the mighty "Dubs" I was very amazed by the wit displayed by some of the Dublin followers as we made our way to Croke Park There was no doubt but Sunday, October 12 Music by that they were out in force and that they were anticipating another victory and Dublin supporters (the genuine ones and not the gurriers) are great "crack" when their tails We saw dozens of placards and banners carried groups festooned in the white and sky-blue colours of Dublin as they marched to the Park They had "the Jacks are back," "Up the Dubbers" and many others in the same vein but the banner that tickled my fancy most was motley crowd wearing coloured top hats and carrying other Dublin favours which declared was sung at a 'session' in bold letters "The Kingdom Ballinagoul, Ring, by Mike by a young but progressive Ceili but thy will be "A bit blasphemous, comes done but how typically maybe,

Dublin Inside the Park, during the minor game the Dubs supporters were in full control in Hill 16 and behind the Canal goal and they waved flags and chanted their battle hymns preparing for the big fray and anticipating the victory which once again they thought would be theirs What a cheer went up as the Dublin team were first on to the pitch—it left Butler, Ladies 200m - 1st, Maeve the welcome of the Kerry supporters for their boys beind by a mile

The chants continued for about ten minutes after the start of the big game but then the Kerry boys started to show their paces and the men behind Dwyer began to annihilate Heffo's army with one of the most scintillating displays of football ever seen in Croke Park The rest of the story of the game is old news by now, but the manner in which the effervescent Dub supporters became deflated had to be seen to be believed By the end of the game you could "hear" the silence from Hill 16 as the terraces became The prospects of getting the proposed new sports complex in Dungarvan off the ground were discussed at length at the monthly meeting of Dungarvan Urban Council last Monday night and despite the most optimistic approach by most of the Councillors the future of the plan must remain very much in doubt.

The prospects of getting the that they did not have the necessary funds to meet such a exuberance evaporated and it became a graveyard with the remnants of the supporters of the one-time invincible Dubs of maintenance for the sports hali and they would not be prepared to do this nificence and the manner of the great Kerry win complete ly overwhelmed them and they trailed inarticulately from the Park in the end However the Kerry glory Leonard Russell Ladies Vice-Captain — Claire Morrissey, Schoolboy Vice-Captain—Declan Flynn, Hon Secretary—Michael Roche Hon Treasurer—Michael Roche Hon Treasurer—Michael Roche Gommittee members — Committee really turned sour later on After the Co Board Sports, special races were put on for the non-prize winners — C Murphy V a bhi i mbun na coda seo den Quinlan M Murphy J Buckley C Murphy D Barry and K Murphy

THE WONDERS OF THE WORLD

The first time I heard this very amusing ballad of fantasy The Wonders Of The World' Dwyer a well-known and beloved old local character of the time The words had eluded me since but I came across them recently and I am sure that they will amuse you now as much as they did me when first I heard them

You people draw near to what Im going to relate And you will be surprised at the wonders I saw of late I saw a small trout devouring up a large whale And the Royal Exchange corcealed in the shell of a snail

I saw a small wren at a banquet with a bird called the rock I saw a jackdaw in Mountrath and he making a clock I saw a sparrow-hawk in Dunand he mending old shoes And a skylark with spectacles and he reading the news

I saw Barrack hill in the bill of a small bantam hen And Waterford City going down to sit in Spillen I saw a buck flea sieving hav for the Lord of Tyrone And Kilkenny town going down to visit Athlone

I saw Mullingar in a car drawn by a jackass
And sweet Cashel town draw ing salt to Carrickmacross, saw Enniskillen distilling strong whiskey in Athy And the Empress of Greece plucking geese in a village

I saw an old ram beat a drum in the town of Tralee, And an overgrown pl a jig at the fair of Ardee I heard a blind piper play ninety-nine hundred fine And a goat standing by play ing Mattie Malone on the saw Dingle town flying Bantry Bay in a pan And the whole earthly globe turned round in an old water can I saw a cow had horns one hundred feet long And a goat making brogues and he hammenry his leather ding-dong, I saw the first man that ever stood upon earth And ninety-nine times I stood in the place of his birth And a lark in the air she sailed to the fair of

And I saw an old carpenter driving a nail in the moon.

Instead of pure water I saw whiskey flowing in the Lee And many strange things I am sure no other did see These wonders being great and all without telling a lie. Where is the man born saw so many wonders as I'

NEED FOR CASUALTY CENTRE AGAIN STRESSED

The tragic death of a young end child following immersion in the sea at Abbeyside last Friday evening compels us to star once more focus attention on the need for a properly equipped and adequately staffed casualty centre in Dungaryan It is a shocking state of affairs that in the case of an held emergency in the town the nearest hospital where treatment may now be obtained lies at a distance of thirty miles which takes the best part of an hour to cover

Efforts have been made several times in the last couple of years by the South Eastern Health Board to es-by tablish such a centre in the which town but despite all the ne- inqu actiations which took place these efforts all ended in failure because agreement could not be reached in regard to a medical panel from which a roster could be operated so noce that a doctor would be on call to deal with any casualty long which would require emergency treatment

In a town the size of Dunaarvan where a number of heavy industries are located, a casualty centre is an obsolute essential and no one should be permitted to stand in the way of its establishment for any reason whatever Life is the most precious thing and the provision of every means to see that it is preserved where humanly possible cannot be too strongly
