KILKENNY 5-13, CORK 2 19 Dungarvan's famed Fraher to describe the splendour of the when the splendour of Kilkenny's hurling again brought them through against a less skilled but still highly competent Cork side in the under 21 All-Ireland hurling final This was a game that was an-

this was a game mat was anticipated with relish It not alone lived up to, but surpassed all expectations providing a feast of hurling in a clash which brimmed over with incidents, brilliant individual displays and a tension packed fin-ish in which the issue hung ir the balance right to the end For the large crowd it provided a never-to-be forgotten encounter and was one of the finest games seen at this venue or any other venue in m a long day

Kilkenny, the reigning champions made history on Sunda by completing the last leg of the hurling treble minor under 21 and senior, for the first time ever And again it was the skill and hurling power which is ex clusive, it seems to Kilkenny teams, which in the end saw them through

share to a memorable game and although rank outsiders they came within an ace of carryir, the day Many will consider th they were unlucky not to have at least earned a replay Few would in fact begrudge them another chance But all things considered Kilkenny just about deserved their victory because over all, they had the better balanced side with fewer weak-

SOFT GOALS

It was a game of fluctuating in fortunes with both sides enjoying their moments of supremacy Kilkenny dominated the opening quarter thanks to the brilliance of centre back. Brian Cody and although their two goals in this period one from a seventy by Cody and the ner other from a Michael Tierney Br penalty were rather soft and pat could be blamed directly on Cork Gre keeper Frank OSuliivan Kukenny were still worth every bit of their 2-3 to 0-5 lead going into the second quarter

The advent of Jimmy Barry-Murphy to the forty brought about a dramatic change as the Cork man blunted Cody's effectiveness Cork now found the urge to drive forward and a string of points eight in all saw them turn a five points deficit into a three points lead by the 27th minute Kilkenny how-ever struck back and three points from John Lyng and a fourth from Michael Tierney

A crowd of about eleven thousand paid approximately £4,000 to see the All-Ireland under 21 hurling final between Kilkenny and Cork at the Fraher field on Sunday last. It was estimated that the number of cars which parked in the town area during the game numbered about three thousand So it really was a great da yfor Dungarvan It was a great day for the game too, as the standard of hurling was first class and the huge crowd enjoyed every minute of this thriller which saw Kilkenny retain their title by a goal after a hetic finish

TIDY TOWNS ADJUDICATORS REPORT ON TALLOW

Tallow scored 99 out of a cossible 150 in this year's Tidy Towns Competition and the following is the adjudicators

Effort (35)-25 - Effort has been continued at a reasonable level throughout, but many of the problems of last year remain, a corner on the Lismore entry is a particular one and derelict buildings are often unsightly consider improving the letter buildings. he latter by whitewashing There are many good tradi-tional shopfronts which it is hoped will be maintained and where necessary redecorated without destroying the original

Tidiness (20)—12 — Litter control is reasonably good but the effort must be maintained if a really tidy town is to be achieved Occasional corrugated iron roofs need painting and the two derelict petrol pumps are still eyesores Abandoned vehicles should be removed from the lane off the main street The temporary improvement for fairly derelict buildings could be used — whitewashing can be very effec-

Presentation of buildings (20)—13 — Alms houses are really very fine but their doors and windows need some paint Parking around the fire station Parking around the fire station seemed to prohibit access in emergency stuations. The grey and white storage building opposite the lane on the main street is very effectively whitewashed. The old Church of Ireland is badly neglected. The post office is well presented. The Devonshire Arms is very good and its advertising very good and its advertising is marvellously restrained The Parochial school is yet another attractive stone building which is neglected The Garda Station is alright There are a lot of good traditional shop fronts which it is hoped will be rewhich it is hoped will be re-tained, example, the two Walshes Ryans, McCarthys Ahearn's Garage is well pre-sented Keniry's is good The dispensary was quite good in attractive gardens The space around Baylor Motors was un-

Presentation of natural amemities (25)—16 — The Grotto is badly m need of paint and requires a lot of weeding The picnic area at the Bride Valley Stores is a good way of presenting the space here Grass needs more regular triming needs more regular trimming, however and whitewashing should be renewed Roadside planting and trees on the main street are again attractive The river area could be much bet-roads (20)—13 — Dumping of road materials in verges was occasionally unsightly It is presumed that these are in preparation for roadworks and it is hoped that they will be promptly removed when work is completed The Curraglass approach was reasonable and the Liamers approach was the Lismore approach was quite good, but the corner im-mediately after the name sign is a mess as are the ACE Gar-age and Creamery The South of Ireland depot is tidy but it would help if planting was established along the roadside to_screen it

Presentation and appearance of residential areas (15)—10 — There are some attractive col-our schemes on the cottages on our schemes on the cottages on the minor road beside the Grotto Near Sheehans an undertakers several of the houses are particularly well presented. The terrace of houses beyond the bridge on the Curraglass road are very attractively decorated though some derelict ones were noted on the main street Unusual chimners here were noteworchimneys here were notewor-chimneys here were noteworthy Another terrace opposite the garage on the main street was also very well presented. The cottages beside Baylor's Motors were attractive.

Presentation of Street furniture on roads (15)—10.— The Jana sign should be renewed or removed. Seats along the street are well maintained. The telephone klosk needs painting. The disused Texaco post should be removed.

It is high time that we should see ourselves as others see us and start doing something about it The Minister for Transport and Power, Mr. Barry, speaking on the RTE programme 'Feach" on Monday night referred to the fact that in the past, Americans saw reason to complain about our lack of hygiene and our apparent carelessness where the practice of clean habits

TALLY HO! HARK AWAY Ballads about hunting have ilways been popular and our this week is one which finds favour wherever gather for a little celebration. The places and names referred to in the ballad can be changed to suit the local topography but I give them here as they are in the original version

It was on the first of March m the year of thirty-three, There was fun and recreation in our own country
The King's County sportsmen o er hills, dales and rocks Most nobly set out in the search of a fox

Tally-ho! hark away—Tally ho hark away boys away—hark away vhen they started poer, reynard he faced to Talla Through Wicklow and Arklow along the sea-shore, They kept him in view the whole length of the way, And closely pursued him

When reynard was started he faced down the hollow Where none but the huntsmen and hounds they could follow The gentlemen cried watch him' saying what shall we do here

If the hills and dales don't's stop them he will cross to Kildare There were 120 sportsmen went down to Ballyland, From that to Blyhoyne and Ballycumminsland

But reynard, sly reynard arrived on that night
And said they would watch him until the daylight It was early next morning the hills they did resound, With the echoes of the horn and the cry of the hounds But in spite of his action his le was taken by young Donahoe going down Moran's Hill

When reynard was taken his He called for pen ink and paper to write his last will, of you'll find it is no blank For he gave them a cheque on the National Bank

Here is to you Mr Jackson of Curraghmore Estate, And to you Mr Gambler my money and my plate
And to you Sir Joe Power, my whip spurs and cap, Who crossed walls and ditches and ne er looked for a gap

SHAMROCKS G.A.A. NOTES

UNDER 21 FOOTBALL On Sunday next at Dunngar-van our under 21 footballers play Stradbally in the quarter final of the Divisional cham-pionship This will be a hard one for us to win as Stradbally are last years champions and can field most of that side which makes them a very strong combination.

We handed out a beating to Dungarvan in the first round and in doing so played some very fine football and if we show the same form our lads could upset the form on Sunday The match is timed for 2 pm All players are requested to be at the venue not later than 130 pm SYMPATHY

The club wishes to extend their deepest sympathy to the wife and family of the late Michael Landers Knockanore, whose death occurred over the week-end May he rest in peace Under 21 football v Stradbally at Dungarvan on October 19 Under 21 hurling v Tallow at Lismore on October 26th. FIXTURES

MORE THAN WE CAN AFFORD

The government wish to make it clear that they intend to secure, preferably by valuntary means, such moderation the menace of inflation can at long last be brought under control So sord Minister for Finance Mr Richie Ryan when he gave what was described as a major address on the economy at the annual dinner of the Dublin Chamber of Commerce last Thursday night It was all reported in the papers last Friday

But side by side with the report of the Minister's speech in the same papers was the announcement that Dail Deputies are to get increases totalling over £700 before the end of the year while Senators will get rises of more than £400 The details of the increases were given in a draft Order made by the Minister for Finance which was laid before the Orreachtas last Thursday

Not many months ago the at country was told by the Taoiseach that we were all playing ourselves too much for pr what we were doing and that if we were to survive the pre- th sent recession we would have br to tighten our belts, look for less money and do more work! The red lights have been flashing for a long time and the warnings have been going! out that times are bad, that inflation is rampant and that the unless positive steps are is taken without delay to remedy the position the entire m economy will collapse I believe these warnings were necessary as the times brid line lines of the unemployed are lengthening dar and the total number on the the unemployed register for the and week ending October 17 was pas 104,343 By the end of the to year forecasts say that this nor number will reach 120,000 or und more! How can this colossal which ormy of men and women at the present out of work be pres

reduced? Wrthout doubt some people betw have been making an effort ther in an attempt to cope with diff the situation but they are four finding it increasingly diffi- tens cult to survive Now we find is s Finance Minister Ryan wear- stack ing two caps last week and time speaking with two tongues, wor on the one hand telling workers that they would have to moderate their income expectations and on the other passing out huge increases to the TDs and Senators It certainly appears that in the eyes of the government some people are more equal than others With the new increases a Dail Deputy's salary Will jump from £4,661 a year to £5,403 while a Senator will move from £2,650 to £3 087 And though it has been Ass claimed in mitigation that these public representatives are engaged full-time in the Scot job of legislation one cannot forget the long vacations away from the House" which they have in the sum-l mer, at Christmas and at wor Easter. Perhaps "half time" med would be nearer the mark and And one must not forget whole matter, the timing of woo these new increases was dis-astrous as it shows that the example at belt tightening is not coming from where it should come—from the top And on top of all this the ratepayers of the county have the unhappy news coming to them this week of a backtreaking rate increase of £2 from £6 48 to £8 48) Main reasons for this colossal jump Were given as inflation in-Greased salaries and reduced grants The County Councillors were helpless to do anything about the huge bill Which was placed before them at the Estimates meeting in Dungarvan last Monday and the best they could do was to gran maintain the "status quo"!

Which go with the jobs
