TO ALL OUR CHURCH MEMBERS 選達 MT. MELLERAY

Death — It is with deep regret that we record the death of Mrs K. Connolly, Melleray, which occurred at her residence on Tuesday last December of the witch occurred at her residence on Tuesday last December 9th.

Nee Ryan, deceased was a native of Drombane, Thurles, where she was a most popular figure, before coming to live in Melleray some 50 years ago

An octogenarian, she had spent her long life as a deyout eatholic, and a kind and loving mother, possessing a kind and generous character which endeared her to a large circle of friends. Her death, which was preceded by a short illness has caused deep and genuine regret throughout the locality. There was a huge and representative cortege at the remains from her residence to Mount Melleray. ## A CHRISTMAS

Dear Friends,
We greet you warmly this Advent season in the name of Jesus Christ, the Lord of glory,

The community, tormented by fear, awaits the heartening words and practical loving acts of those who name the name of Christ and profess obedience to Him Let us then resolve to encourage one another this Christ-mas to cross sectarian barriers, dispel doubts and heal wounds
This- will demand courage because, in the despair of dark streets and fearful homes we are called not to curse the dark-ness but to light candles of hope and love For the sake of Christ for our own Christian integrity (now under a cloud around the world) and for the sake of the young generation we must not fail.

LICENSING REGISTRATION AND STRANGULATION

Are anglers lapsing into a state of coma? What have the clubs done or will they do about the decision unanimously agreed upon by the specia Government Commission. During the past 5 years, as the Commission is in existence since 1970, how many clubs were consuited or to put it in other words how many even knew the angling members were

Is it not true that an unanimous report was the result and that the IFSA who were represented, agreed to a Licence, in other words you will have to pay for a start £2 per annum to fish for a few Mackerel often of insurance in 1974 and 1975 a very elusive and as you know with fishing experience in your part of the country, maybe no fish but you have parted with fish but you have parted with £2 and how long would the licence stay at £2?

The quotations we received were generally beyond the means of this club We Remember that anglers pay were glad to have the IFSA enough already as for example a Deep Sea Angler must pay on If any of your readers are average from £3 to £4 boat fee aware of any other agency scribe to the money-spinner, mentioned here that angling open competitions are allocated time is from 1 p m. to 6 p m and and approved by the Provincial allow an hour each way to fishing grounds in a competition and so can be seen above the lect, any agency commission, including many Sisters of Mercy Mai Kenneally (daughter) Mrs angler's outlay for about 3 hours good luck to them They need and on arrival were fishing all the financial support they blessed and received by Rev Fr law). Michael Mansfield, Old Now for Shore Anglers There can get if they are to thrive—would be the Commission's £2 like the East Hastings SAA and an average entry fee of 60p quoted in the same article It

All the above would be grand if cheque books were issued in stead of Membership Cards and sufficient money in the bank to cover the increasing demands! Insurance is necessary but let the clubs do their own insurance and then a club would know they were covered Insurance as suggested is not suitable as a club would have to get an assurance that they were under cover before they started their members fishing and club events (shore or deep sea) would not be covered only the competitions allotted at the ixture meetings

For the second time in recent weeks a gang of raiders, ocitived to number five men, struck in West Waterford last week-end. This time their target was Ardmore and in the early hours of last Saturday morning they robbed a licensed premises and a supermarket there getting away with goods and cash to the value of nearly $\dlots$1,000 In the previous week, a gang struck at Lismore and Banyduff

The first target in Ardmore was the licensed premises of Mr James Rooney, where they gained entry by forcing a front window They got away with a quantity of spirits to the value of £800 and an undisclosed sum of money They next moved across the street and broke into the supermarket of Mr John Joe Carlton through a rear window and got away with be teen £70 and £80 in cash.

The raiders then stole a car, the property of a local man, Mr, James Moloney, in which they made their getaway This car was found abandoned at carleved.

There was also an attempt to for their responsible attitude manifest whenever they seem-All these cases again point to the need for more Garda protection in the West Waterford area, a matter concerning which much public agitation has taken place in recent months
