ALL ABOUT SHAWS AT DUNGARVAN AND WEXFORD

It takes time to implement a successful retailing policy and even more time to expand it over a wide spectrum of areas The Shaw Department Store Group however have been for-tunate in that the policy they started out with about a century ago had the kind of universal appeal which guaranteed success in any age The policy was simple—buy quality goods with strong basic appeal in bulk to get maximum discounts, and sell at a low profit margin to as many people as possible Simple yes but mutually rewarding customer and store owner alike so rewarding in fact that the original Shaw Department Store based in Mountmellick has today become a group of eleven-th latest members of the group being at Dungarvan and Wex-ford where two superb new stores opened on 20th February And these new Shaw stores are applying the same policy of comprehensively stocked with up to the minute cothes for him her and the children The Fashion Departments are the minute cotnes for thim her and the children Teens are particularly well catered for too with genuine value in Mod Gear attracting a
