Under the Defeated On Monday evening last our under 21 hurlers were defeated by Tablow in the first round of the championship Throughout the hour Tallow were the superior team in all sectors and ran out convincing winners but the convincing winners but the lads lost no cast in defeat and played their part in making this a very enjoyable game. in the team and they never conceded defeat and fought gamely to the last puck. On Sunday next our inter-mediate hurlers take on Fourmilewater in Cappoquin in the final of the losers group and this time there is no back door as defeat will mean elimination from the championship This should make both teams even more determined and it promises to be a great game. On Sunday we will be forced to line out without forced to line out without Earnonn Brackett who is recovering in Ardkeen from injuries received in a recent tournament We wish Eamonn a speedy recovery and hope to see him back in the two blues soon again.

WANDERING ANIMALS The continuing problem o wandering horses straying or pale roads was once again of the County Council when members drew attention to the position as it at present exists at Kilmacomma on th outskirts of Clonmel on the Waterford side The on solution was to refer th matter to the Garda Author ities. in practically all case these animals are the propert of groups of itimerants and is only when any of thes groups move into a particula area that the problem occurs Referring the problem to th Gardai is really no solution fo while the Gardai can tak certain action and issue sun monses, the question of adi gugte proof to make to "stick" in court is charges very hard mut to crack An these horse blockers are r daws and know all that is ri quired to be known to enob them to side-step conviction

This difficulty was high lighted as a recent sitting Dungarvan Court when member of the local Gard force had three brothers sur moned in respect of a b number of horses which had found wandering. He to the Court that he was unab to prove total ownership the brothers admitted owner ship to only a few of th animals concerned The Gard referred to the fact that the was no Pound in Dungarya med said that had this no been so this difficulty proving ownership would r arise If there was a Pour the animals when four wandering, could be placed t and would remain the until the owners came alo claim them The District Justice agre that the question of owner ship was, under these circuit stances, something very dif cult to prove and it was this point that the questi of a conviction hinged spoke of the great dang which wandering animals all types present to traf especially at night and to sh what a serious view he to of this type of offence he pased fines totalling £40 one of the defendants had admitted ownership to few of the animals . It would appear then t the only real way of deal with this problem of wand ing horses is to provide found where the animals be impounded and held u the owners come along claim them In this way i will not only be admitt ownership but proving t well and from there on

Courts should have no di culty in dealing with them a proper manner PEACE PRAYERS AT MOUNTAIN MARIAN
