OGRAS - AN EXPLANATION OF THE MOVEMENT

Since the article in last week's: "Leader" about the "Olimpeatha Ogras," a great number of people have questioned me about the movement "Ogras" so I decided with permission from our "gasra" to write a short article in English to explain the movement to any to explain the movement to any body interested

Ogras is an Irish-speaking movement formed by Conradh na Gaelige in 1969 to promote Irish among the youth of Ire-land Ogras intends to promote Irish by showing the young people that Irish is a language which can be enjoyed and which can be used in sports and It can be learned easily when one has the choice and the will to speak it Ogras never forces anybody to speak Irish at its functions but in my experience of Ogras I have never found anybody who did not want to speak it and after speaking the little he or she knows, felt a satisfaction of at last getting the chance to use Irish under ordinary everyday conditions Some people feel that Irish is a classroom language, but we in

Ogras disagree
Ogras is for both boys and girls between the ages of 15 and 19 and in Dun Garbhan we meet on Saturday night from 7 to 930 pm in Fatima Hall As the Gasra (branch) here in Dun Garbhan is only 6 months old we have not yet equipped the hall in the way we would like For next winter we hope to have such games as table tennis drafts and records and we would like to be able to learn some Irish songs which we can some trish songs which we can use for sing songs and the camping week-end which we attend on a national basis Our latest project is a course in Orienteering to be given to Ogras by Denis Fahey of Abbeyside Orienteering or as we call it Treor Shuamhliocht, is a great game which we may and great game which we play and hold national competitions once a year, but as of yet Dun Gar-bhan has not taken any prizes in this event

As well as the "Olimpeacha Ogras" on a national basis we have a two weeks camp every year a week-end at the Oireach-tas a comhgail bliantiul (AGM)

It was a great disappointment for all concerned with team 1 when we were beaten on penalties in the semi-final of the above tournament.

After a very tough game and a late equalising goal through Jackie Sandford we bowed out by only scoring 3 goals out of
