OLD LINKS WITH THE AREA

C Coy of the 13th Bn as it is today evolved from the old L D F force that gave such sterling service to the country during the days of the emergency. Over the years volunteers from all walks of life have given their spare time to help mould the unit into the force which it is today.

The continuation of the military tradition in the area has been due to the unselfish service of men like Comdt Richard Keating, Comdt Glanville and Capt Seamus OBrien (now Secretary of the West Waterford GAA Board) Other familiar names spring to mind like those of Charlie Curran of Clashmore (now Chairman of Waterford County Council), Tom McGrath of Ballymacarbry, Dick Brennan of Lismore John Hayes from Piltown Jim Wyse, who was a bank manager here the Dunfords of Kilbrien and Dungarvan the Grants and the Cashmans

There are countless others who have written their names into the annals of the unit and departed quietly over the years, but their service to their country and their unit will always be remembered

Of course there are veterans like Coy Sgt Paddy Delany, Joe Kelly Tom Waishe Mick Keating and John Crowley who are serving since the 1940's and who are a link with that great era and who continue to guide and administer the unit as it moves towards 1979

MUCH TO OFFER YOUNG MEN

To continue the high standard and great military tradition that the unit has built up over the years a steady stream of suitable young men is continually required to replace those who retire from the unit. The force has much to offer to the keen young man—training in modern army weapons and firing them on army ranges radio/signal training—tactical training—adventure training—orienteering etc. In addition there are week-end camps summer and winter camps during which members attending are paid at Army rates of pay and also receive a substantial gratuity. Physical Training and athietics are also well catered for with particular emphasis on cross-country running. Vol'ey Bail and Basket Ball and members are permitted to particular ate an All-Atmy Championships.

A STEPPING STON

Service in the FCA has proved a stepping stone to many young men in their selection of careers. In the past decade nine young members of the Unit won Commissions in the Permanent Defence Forces while numerous others launched themselves on successful careers by gaining training in the Army and Air Corps Apprentice Schools. Service in the FCA merits con sideration for applicants for Government Local Government and semi-State appointments.

ATTRACTIONS

Vacancies now exist in C Coy 13 Bn Dungarvan for suitable young men Demands on a member s time are not excessive — a weekly parade a field day or two, (usually on a Sunday) each month for outdoor training and range practises. There will also be an occasional week-end camp. The unit has three annual camps each year with two being held in July and one in December. Each camp runs for fourteen days and combines interesting training in pleasant surroundings with congenial company and good pay.

The Unit being infantry is particularly suited to young men of school leaving age as the intricacies of radio training junior tactical leadership are both absorbing and educational. All these different facets of training induce a sense of responsibility which will be of great benefit to the young man in shaping his own career. So if you are over 17 years of age interested in making new friends and prepared to devote a little of your spare time to training to serve your country why not drop into F.C.A. Headquarters. Dungarvan or any F.C.A. Parade Centre for further details

REGULAR ARMY

FCA Headquarters Dungarvan is also a Recruiting Centre for the permanent Defence Force and young men interested in a career in the Army Air Corps or Naval Service should enquire there for details on pay and service conditions. However if you have decided to join the FCA the Dungarvan and Lismore Centres are open on Tuesday nights from 8 pm to 930 pm. Ba lymacarbry opens on a Wednesday night and Vilherstown on a Thursday night. It is intended that a new Centre be opened in Tailow shortly.
