THE DINGLE PUCK GOAT

Our ballad for this week is one which tells of one of the famous puck goats of the King am a bold jobber both youthful and airy, The green halls of Kerry I came for to see, I went down to Dingle to buy up some cattle And I wish you would listen to what happened to me As I came to the fair on Saturday morning The first thing I spied was a long-legged goat Bedad, and says I for a trifle of dealing,

This long nosey pucan is worth a pound note! twenty-two shillings,

In the year sixty four, he first started to drill
And some of his friends they of the century of the century The immortal lines of the ar In spite of the heavy conditions both teams served up a monability of the monability

Then he spoke and said he demand We have passed our head- baby?' quarters, The place where our ancestors always have been Then let me return and well

We squared our returns and we stayed there till morn-And during the night I lay stretched on his back As morning was dawning, he jumped from the corner And for Castlesland he made ın a crack To the town of Tralee we directed our rambles I felt he was stching to see some more sport Outside the town we met kilt ed Highlanders He upped with his horns and he tore all their clothes The Highlanders bellowed and roared mile murder Send quick for the polis' of But the louder they ranted the faster my goat ran And away helter-skelter he gave them leg-ball On crossing the river I fell on the footway

Then off scamped the rascal of that I took note If in Ireland he's roving, he must be in Brandon Scampring the mountain my Dingle puck goat !

PURCHASERS OF MURRAY KITCHEN UNITS

In recent years, a great many householders have purchased frish made self assembly kitchen units from the ESB These are now being superseded by a new range that will not match up - in height or depth - with those previously sold the change is necessary to bring our furniture units into line with the new international standard measurements (metric) of large appliances

Out of consideration for those who have already installed some self assembly units and who had planned to complete their kitchen layout at a later date the ESB and Murray Kitchens Ltd have extended the closing date to Jan 1st 1979 for the receipt of orders for the older style units at existing (1977) prices

Sisters Of Mercy Of The Diocese Celebrate

In a message of support and encouragement to the Sisters of Mercy of his diocese His Lord-ship Most Rev Michael Russell Bishop of Waterford and Lising of the above a sincere vote of sympathy was extended to week end that their task was the wife and family of the late now to carry forward into the 21st century with courage, initiative and enthusiasm the torch which imspired the idealism of their foundress Cather-ine McAuley
The occasion was a coming together of the Sisters of Mercy mational and international level, this was the tribute of the Sisters of the diocese of Waterford and Lismore to the woman Dungaryan Leader whose special charism was Mercy and who translated this gift into concrete reality amid the poverty and hardship of mid-naneteenth century Ireland The climax of the programme was the Mass of Peace concelebrated by His Lordship, Dr Russell and by Canon Shine President of St John's College, Waterford In his homily the Bishop expressed his apprecia-tion on his own behalf and on behalf of the diocese, of the

STRADBALLY Y FOURMILEWATER

There was no big difference between the same sides when they met in the Western final this month and a draw was a fair result. The big difference between them on Sunday is that Pat Clancy and Robin. Ahearne will be absent from the Stradbally side, and without them at is difficult to give them much of a chance Fourmilewater I have been told have no problems, whatso ever They have trained well since the drawn match and now they are confident of retaining the title even though it is no longer a thing of great consequence I expect to see Four milewater retain this title

Training—All players are asked to attend training sessions at the Friary Gym Duckspool every other Wednesday at 730 for the coming weeks

Through this column we wish second from a Sean Wall through ball to leave the score through ball to leave the score three one at the interval The second period was contested with enthusiasm by both sides and while Bolton cut the leeway to one goal Abbeyville held out for a well earned win For Abbeyville Pat McGrath handled the greasy hall well handled the greasy bah well John Melody and Bosco Mahony controlled the middle of the defence Sean Wall displayed his usual consistency in mid-field The front runners played better in the first half when Crow Riordan was on song Brian Sandford did well at centre-forward while Mark Rey nolds made some good runs on the right wing

This great win should give Abbeyville confidence for the games ahead especially their next one which will be against local rivals Dungarvan
