The Public Servants Travel operates express coach services from Dublin to various parts of the country every week-end It is controlled by civil servants who instituted the first weekend service on an experimental basis back on Friday 13th June 1975 The first service operated between Dublin and Galway city—leaving Dublin on a Friday evening and returning to Dublin on a

Sunday evening The Galway service and the idea utself, were so successful other services were brought into operation as the years passed The Public Ser-Travel Club as operating seven such services as present and include—Dublin to Dungar-(via Graiguenamanagh New Ross Waterford) £5 re-turn, Dublin to Clonmel (via Castlecomer Kalkenny Callan Carrick-on-Suir) £5 return The success of the Public Servants Travel Club weekend coach services can be attributed to the following — a) Everybody is welcome to travel on these coach services, whether or not they are public servants

b) There is always a warm and friendly atmosphere on the coaches mainly because the services have been organised by country people and each coach service has a courier from their own particular area and there-a comfortable journey d) Bookings are made for seats on the coaches simply by making one telephone call paying for the seat as they board the coach on Friday evening e) Each coach service is very reasonably priced f) All the coaches leave Dublin on a Friday evening after work and return to Dublin on a Sunday evening — thereby operating at the times the trag) The coaches will drop any passenger and collect them anywhere along the route so it at Ardkeen Hospital of often happens that passsengers have a direct coach service lop and late of Lismore from Dublin to their own front As and from Friday 1st February the Public Servants Tra. vel Club has added an extra service to all the coach serwhen the coach returns from morning to St Michael's Cemethe country (instead of drop-ping all the passengers at O Connell Bridge as they used to do) the coaches will do a short runaround the principal areas in Dublin where most of the travellers have flats These at her residence at Waterpark include North Circular Phibsboro Dorset Street
