PRESSURE GROUPS AND OTHER THINGS

I was interested to hear Deputy Austin Deasy say at a recent meeting of Waterford Development "Community Planning and Development "Certainly no Deputy Austin Deasy say at a County Council that nowadays pressure groups got decisions attempting to do this made out of the priority they in the county to exert pressure on the South-East Health old people in Dungarvan would not be deferred because of more like school children on the like school children on cut-backs in the Health Board more like school children on budget "Unless we fight our corner on this we will be left in the lurch " he said

Of course Deputy Deasy was dead right when he referred to the results obtained by pressure groups Because of their very vocal and persistent attitude such groups, even though they may only represent a minority view, can very often "jump the gun" and succeed in forcing their way over the views of a larger but usually less aggressive section of the community

In recent weeks we have seen how well some pressure groups can work and by their very persistence succeed in swaying popular opinion to their way of thinking. The "Save Our Bridge" Committee in Dungarvan is an excellent example of how a small pressure group can do this They have claimed to represent a majority of the townspeople and have, in addition claimed to be expressing the views of the entire Uroan Council of Dungarvan in their hands of our bridge" attipeople believed them when and in the absence of any land Rector in Dungarvan

Chairman of the Bridge Com mittee attempted to suppress to justify it it is really a bit and continues to work in the of codalogy for the members of the County Council to decide on sending delegates three at a time—to conferenbe bette Councillors and more a recent meeting capable of dealing with the problems at "home

"Land Policy" at a cost of £810 per delegate or to send a similar number to Jerusalem at £1,050 per head to discuss one could be serious

Indeed it was evident too, white-washing exercise from the eve of holiday-break try ing to aecide where to go and what to do, than Councillors who as one member put it took their role as County Councillors very seriously

Anyway in reaching their decision the Councillors re jected the recommendation of the County Manager and de spite the information that a sum of only £2 500 was in cluded in this year's estimates to cover this kind of expense they opted to spend a total of £8.550 on the trips selected They were of course, again "being very serious," in doing

The Tech. Hit Isle Of Man

Last Friday week, seventy stu dents and their teachers left Dungarvan in the wee hours to sail to the Isle of Man for what turned out to be one of the most successful educational outings from the school in recent years Joining up with other school groups at the North Wall, the Dungarvan students rapidly got their sea legs and on arrival on the IOM were whisked away

One of the highlights of the tour was a visit to Castle Rushen which in medieval times was the capital of Mann The castle is huge and very exciting because it is possibly the best preserved castle in Europe Nothing is spared in re-creating in detail what life was really like in days gone by Of particular interest to some students was how similar the Manx language is to modern The club would like to thank Gaelic the Manx of course are

Poor Food Hygiene Damaging Our Reputation

The third annual Iri h Qual itr Control Association Nation al Hygiene Awards were pre-sented by Dr Harry Crawley Director of the Health Educa-tion Bureau at a luncheon in the Blarner Hotel Cork on Thursday 15th May The awards which were sponsored by the Health Education Bureau were presented to the winners of eight categories. The award Restaurants was won by Seanachie Ring Dangar

Speaking at the presentation Mr John A Murphy Chief Executive of the Irish Quality Control Association said Our reputation for hygiene is gradi ally improving although we have a long way to go He criticised the many food hand critacised the many food hand ling operators who were still not making a genuine effort. "These" he said, are damaging our regulation both a home and abroad." Mr Murphy expressed the opinion that the health boards were far too lement with those who continued to contravene the hylish. ned to contravene the hygien. regulations and urged that a more positive approach be adopted in the interests of our food and tourist indistries.
The average of one proseculation for every two counties in rural Ireland during the seventies is hardly a fair reflection on the standards of highest hardless and the standards of the standards.

To side-step the product of that prevented the prosecution of offending premises

Mr Murphy suggested the introduction of a firing squad

health inspectorate who would nealth inspectorate who wanted had be influenced by local atiations and personalities prospections he said thould receive much more publicity than they do at present Advarsage and at a present Advarsage and Advarsage a ther do at present Adv215° publicity is a far greater de of rent than the insignificant fines which currently exist Salmon ella food poisoning in Ireland is increasing annually he said as also are the number of h giene complaints in hotels and guesthouses

LONG TERM SOLUTION LIES IN EDUCATION

The long term solution to our hygrene image and attitudes lies and in education To this end hygiene civics should be on the curriculum of every primary and secondary school in Ireland's said Mr Murphy The foundations must be firmly laid in the primary schools. Hygiene is not inclinate and needs to is not instinctive and needs be instilled during the childs formative years. This would result in a sound basis on which to build the training of future

The Castle Farm grounds will be the venue for two very attractive junior ties when Tallow and Shamrocks meet in junior hurling and Araglin and Sliabh gCua clash in junior football

This I believe will be the third occasion in three years in which Tallow and Shamrocks have clashed and on each occasion the game has been good standard-wise and very exciting Im sure this will be no excep-

Sliabh gCua will be hotly fancied to beat Araglin in their first round junior football tie even though the favourites will be without the services of Dec lan Fitzpatrick

AT LEAMYBRIEN

Two quarter finals of the senior football league will attract a nice crowd to this popular venue In the opener county champions Ballinacourty play their county final opponents Ferryoank and in the second match Tramore who were very surprisingly beaten last Sundas will be on trial against either Ardmore or Clashmore who will have met to decide which team goes forward on last (Wednesda /) night

TALLOW G.A.A. NOTES

Cappoquin who took the initia- pionship tive and they had three points on the board within a couple of minutes Indeed if Eddie Curley hadn t made a few smart saves at this juncture who knows what might have happened subsequently Stung by Cappoquin's scores Tallow attacked and from the moment that Stephen Curley grabbed Llam Moroney's centre to crash home a goal we felt that there could be only one result Though many scoring opportunities were squandered Tallow allowed Cappoquin very little good ball to narrow the ever widening gap

Our defence was very sound all through and it was nice to notice how confidently Michael Geary and Tim Sheehan were dovetailed with the more estab-lished defenders Stephen Curley Pat Daly John Hartigan and Tom Doyle got some good scores but against stronger opposition Ballyduff for instance our striking would need to be much better and the points total

TALLOW TOO STRONG Tallow 9 8, Kilrossanty 3 2 Tallows under 14 footballers put in a very strong second half to convincingly defeat respected rivals Kilrossanty in the cham pionship on Saturday evening last at Abbeyside The winning margin may suggest an easy task for Tallow but this was very far from the truth

If was a case of "tosach maith leath na holbre' with Martin McCarthy getting a fist to an early cross of Tomas Hancock for a goal and a lead which the men of the west never after wards surrendered Despite a liberal supply of the ball Tallow's forwards wasted posses-sion and led at half time by 3-2 to 1-2 a far from reassuring lead Sure enough Kilrossanty even after conceding a point just after the resumption showed all of their renowned fighting qualities as they stormed upfield for a fine goal Now it was 3-3 to but the next five minutes
