NO CHANGE IN SYSTEM
In case any confusion may have been caused by reports of the last meeting of the Waterford Local Health Committee concerning the ongoing controversy about the establishment of a casualty service in Dungarvan and in which a prominent member of the County Council is recorded as having declared that there was "a break through," I want to say that inquiries which I have made into the matter reveal that in fact there has been no change in the system.

The published account of the meeting at which an official report by an officer of the Health Board was discussed seemed to infer that something new had taken place and that the service was now to operate as originally planned. From my inquiries I understand that a room and a nurse were to be provided at the local District Hospital as part of the service first planned but that these conditions never materialised. It would also appear that neither the Health Board nor the Hospital want to accept any responsibility for the service so things are just going to go on as they have been.

This means that the local doctors will continue to work on a rota basis as they have been doing in the past and will deal with any casualties which may occur on a status quo basis. There has, in fact, been no break-through, the status quo obtains and the service will continue to operate the way as they have been doing.

SUB-POSTMASTERS SEEK A BETTER DEAL
The Irish Postmasters' Union is a recent Press Release about out that the incomes of sub Post Offices throughout the country are dropping dramatically. Stressing the fact that Sub Offices perform an essential public service in each area where one is located and that they handle millions of pounds each year dispensing the money to Old Age Pensioners, Widows, etc., it points to the fact that over half of all Postmasters of these Sub Offices earn a gross figure of less than £48 per week.

It is of interest for the public to note that when an applicant is seeking the position of Postmaster of a Sub Office there is one qualification which the applicant needs which is probably unique, that is, he or she must have a premises which is suitable and in the right place.

Each appointment is made on the basis of a sub-contract and the Postmaster is paid only on the number of transactions performed and if there are insufficient transactions to make a living wage, then the Postmaster is told that this is his or her hard luck. Of course the Department can reply to this by pointing out that these offices are invariably located in premises where other business is conducted but the fact remains that a Postmaster must keep the premises open for at least 5 1/2 days each week even though there may be times when no business is being done and no money is being earned.

The Postmasters' Union has now called on the Government to examine, as a matter of urgency, the system of remuneration of Sub Post Offices and to give them a fair and reasonable return for the responsible work which they carry out.

A STORM IN A TEA CUP?
The doctor at the centre of the T.B. scare in the south-east which has been highlighted by recent discussions of the Waterford local health committee report in under banner headlines in some papers has described the affair as a media created storm in a tea-cup and has prepared a detailed breakdown of the T.B. figures for

DISTINGUISHED FRENCH VISITORS ON TWINNING QUEST IN DUNGARVAN

For the past week two representatives of the French town of Tullins, which is located near Grenoble in the South-East of France near the Italian-Swiss border have been on a visit to Dungarvan investigating the desirability and feasibility of twinning their town, which has a population of 7,500 with Dungarvan. They were Monsieur Jean Paul Papet, a member of Tullins Town Council and Madame Nicole Allibe, a member of the Tullins Twinning Committee. The visitors flew into Dublin on last Friday night and then came on to Dungarvan where they were guests at a reception hosted by the Chairman, members and officials of Dungarvan Urban Council and sponsored by C.B. at Lawler's Hotel.

Over the week-end they toured the various beauty spots around Dungarvan and on Monday they paid visits to the town's principal industrial centres.

SPECIAL COUNCIL MEETING
On Monday night, Madame Allibe and Monsieur Papet attended a specially convened meeting of Dungarvan Urban Council where they were formally welcomed by the Chairman, Cllr. P. Wade on behalf of the people of Dungarvan. Addressing the visitors, Cllr. Wade stated that the meeting had been specially convened in their honour and he went on to say that he was sure that they would enjoy their stay here and that you will, on your return, take back to the Mayor, Council and people of Tullins the good wishes of the people of Dungarvan. It is our fervent wish that in the very near future some of your representatives will visit Dungarvan and that the twinning project will come to fruition.

Mr. Dan Hurley, County Manager, speaking as Goelien said that he was sure that the twinning project would be a most enjoyable and profitable one and that it would be good and everlasting.

Cllrs. Deasy, T.D., D. Goode, R. Walsh, B. Ryan, A. Creedon, M. Walsh, W. Cotter and J. Byrne joined in welcoming the visitors and in expressing the hope that the proposed twinning exchange which this town is to be a

MEMENTS OF VISIT
Presentations of Waterford Glass bowls donated for the twinning project by the Town Clerk, Mr. Michael Holton, Manager, Dungarvan Crystal, were then made to Madame Allibe and Monsieur Papet and a further memento of the twinning project was presented to the Town Clerk, Mr. White, who presented the memento to the visitors through their guides for the twinning project, Mr. White and Mr. Michael Holton. The twinning project is a successful one and the twinning project is a successful one and the twinning project is a successful one.

Although we have had "summer" since Sunday, March 29, the change in public closing time will not come into operation until Monday, April 13 when the "time gentlemen" call will go back from 11 p.m. to 11.30 p.m.

'I'LL FORGIVE BUT I'LL NEVER FORGET
Our choice for the ballad for this week "I'll Forgive But I'll Never Forget" is an old song that tells of an unrequited love.

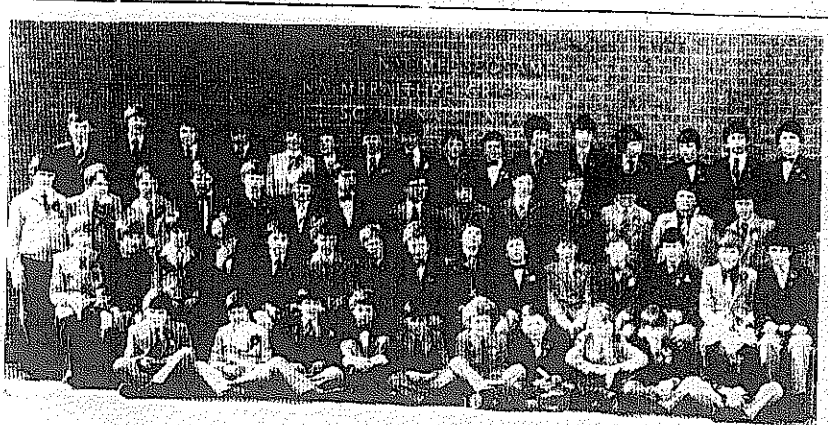

It's a year since you told me you loved me, but alas, you have broken your vow. My heart is bent down with sorrow and my heart is lonely just now.

Give me back every fond word once spoken, let it be as though we never had met. And I will return every token, I'll forgive but I'll never forget.

Oh, why did you try to deceive me, when you knew that my poor heart was true. As true as I'm now going to leave you, and forever I'm waiting for you.

It's well, I remember the evening, when the moon shone through the trees it did shine. When you gave me a ring as a token, and you promised that you would be mine.

Take back the last gift that you offered, I was a ring and a lock of your hair. A card with your photograph, your face is as pale as the

DUNGARVAN YOUTH CLUB

TRIP TO CARRICK
On last Friday night thirty members of the senior section travelled to Carrick, Co. Wick in Carrick, thanks to their kind invitation. We left at 7.30 p.m. and started the programme at 8.30 p.m. We had a "scavenger" hunt around Carrick which was very good and enjoyed by all concerned, despite the fact that many had all the wrong answers. Following the scavenger hunt we had refreshments and games and we left for home at 11.15 p.m. A word of thanks to St. Anthony's for some great fun.

Death Of Former Chief Agricultural Officer

Desecration At Dungarvan Church
On last Monday night thieves desecrated the Parish Church in Dungarvan when, after smashing a stained glass window to gain entry, they pilfered precious gems and stones comprising the crown in a picture of Our Lady of Good Counsel with a child.

On the same night, the Christian Brothers School was also broken into and the slide of a projector valued at £150 was stolen while an unsuccessful attempt was made to gain entry to Dargery Stores at Mary St., through a skylight window.

Gardai in Dungarvan are investigating all three incidents.

CANON CALCULATORS COME TO DUNGARVAN

Canon, world leaders in calculators, cameras and micro-computers, have established a new outlet in Dungarvan to serve the needs of industry, business and the general public throughout the vast West Waterford Post-Cork region.

The highly prestigious agency has been acquired by one of Dungarvan's best known businessmen, Mr. John O'Flynn, Grant Street, a member of a family closely identified with the business life of the county. Waterford capital for sale on six decades.

The name of Canon is a household one in the field of scientific equipment throughout the world. The decision by this world renowned company to establish an agency in Dungarvan is in itself a striking recognition of the importance of the field of industry and its continued growth and development as a major industrial centre.

A few years ago a calculator was something of a seven-day wonder. But now in the highly advanced 1980's not only is it a necessary piece of every office furniture but it is an invaluable asset in schools and even in the ordinary household. One might even describe it as a commodity that should be included in every housewife's shopping basket.

The distinction of producing the world's first ten-key calculator in 1964 belongs to Canon because that was then a Canon innovation has today become the industry standard.

Apart from the vital role the Canon equipment continues to play in the day to day business world it has also become a major frontrunner in the field of sport.

Its official recognition by FIFA and FIFA in the world of soccer has placed the Canon calculator on a platform all its own.

Throughout the 1980 European Cup finals the Canon calculator was selected from a host of competitors—as the official calculator for the entire championship.

Now the world soccer association—FIFA—has supplemented this outstanding recognition by also selecting the Canon calculator as the official one to operate throughout the 1982 World Cup Finals in Spain. Surely the ultimate in a world sporting recognition.

In selecting Mr. John O'Flynn, Canon agent, Canon recognises that it has acquired the services of a proven business, and equally importantly, has a base in a prime location in one of the county's leading business towns.

The Dungarvan agency will carry a comprehensive range of Canon calculators from the one that can be carried in a pocket wallet right up to a desktop print/display model.

The pocket calculator is a real gem. Not only does it permit to complete perfection the normal duties of any calculator but it also acts as an entertainer, time-keeper, and—would you believe it—an alarm clock.

Canon has produced a scientific and statistical function calculator that is an absolute "must" for present-day second and third level education. This calculator will be available in Dungarvan and can be confidently expected to become a major hit with students and teachers.

For the office the range will include a pocket-sized printer and of course, a wide variety of desktop machines, with or without print/display.

We guarantee Canon on choosing Dungarvan, and John O'Flynn on his selection as the company's agent. To them, we wish every success in providing what can only be regarded as a vitally important service to a town so liberally faced with industrial and educational facilities.

MINNIES SQUASH NOTES

The eagerly awaited final of the Bank of Ireland tournament is scheduled for tonight ("Thursday") and in fact this brings down the curtain on one of the busiest competitive seasons in the club's history.

The honour of going home in this final tournament of the 1981 season falls to the team captained by Mick Hussey and Paul McGovern, both of whom are through to the quarter-finals.

The final gets under way at 7 o'clock and a packed gallery is expected for what should be an enthralling night of squash.

BEGINNERS

The finals of the ladies and men's beginners tournaments will also be decided tonight. In the ladies event the issue rests between M. McCarthy and E. Joseph Deasy who played the final. The men's final is between T. Eustace and J. Murphy.

SEMI-FINALS

The Hussey team of Ireland semi-finals Mick Hussey's team defeated Shane Pender's (near neighbours and great rivals) by 15 points to 11. The losers took the opening two matches when Suzanne Dalton and Christina Pollock defeated Jacinta O'Mahony and Helen Croly 3-2 and 3-1 respectively.

The Hussey team however hit back with a real vengeance in the next two matches when Dominick O'Palatin and George Pollock beat Pat Nector and Teresa Reynolds respectively without dropping a single set between them.

In the second square however at 9-11 when Ollie Walsh had to concede a walkover to Mick Malone but then came the game of the night between the number twos, J. R. Moore and Billy Smith. Almost every ace was fiercely contested by this one. Moore took the first set but lost the second on the same scoreline. He took the third again on 11-9 but was the stronger and was an impressive winner of the fifth set for his hard-earned overall 3-2 victory.

Watching the younger crowd not but be impressed with the remarkably good and consistent squash which Billy Smith displayed throughout the entire tournament.

It all depended then on the outcome of the final matches, but Mick Hussey's victory at the top of his form was well in control and numbered 11-9.

SECOND SEMI-FINAL

The second semi-final was a much more clear cut affair and was in fact over after the first four matches. In the end it was a 12-4 victory for Paul McGovern's team over Jack Fitzgerald.

Jean Connolly gave the winners a great start with a 3-1 win over C. Murray. Pat Fitzgerald was a 3-0 winner against M. Maher, and it was virtually all over when P. Pat Moran beat J. R. however finished the match in a like result against M. Phipps.

The winning momentum continued when Francis Vincent beat Joe O'Connell and that gave the winners an unassailable 12-2 lead. Without anything depending on the match, M. Walsh beat Paddy Quinlan 3-0 for some small consolation for the losers. The number one and two's did not have to go on court. It was all that decisive.

DINNER

Tomorrow (Friday) night will be our super social night of the year when the annual dinner takes place at Lawlor's Hotel. There are still some tickets available and can be had at the club on this Thursday night.

The review of the year—the annual general meeting—will be held on Wednesday, April 22 in the upper lounge in Minnies.

BALLYSAGGART NOTES

G.A.A. Notes: Terrible Accident At Piltown — The tragic accident at Piltown on Saturday night which resulted in the deaths of two young hurlers and the team trainer overshadowed all else in G.A.A. circles at the week-end. It was with a sense of shock and disbelief that we learned of the tragic event on Sunday morning. To their clubs, their families and friends we extend our deepest sympathy.

On The Waterford Cup — Winning side — How long is it since Waterford won a first round in a Munster hurling final? This changed at Lismore on Saturday last when the present holders of the Waterford Cup continued as the Western under 16 side had 1 point to spare over East Cork in the first round of this Munster championship.

At the end of normal time the sides were level so the game went to extra time and West Waterford held out for a thrilling one point victory — 0-11 to 0-10.

Local boys Pat and Liam Ryan played vital parts in this crucial game and both should be included in the team which takes on East Limerick also in Lismore on Saturday next.

On The Waterford Cup — The club would like to pay tribute to James on representing us through a really wonderful campaign, commencing in Ballynacree in the first round and culminating in the Savoy, Lismore, on the way collecting Western and County honours.

Mrs. H. O'Farrell — The death of Mrs. H. O'Farrell, 26th of her residence, Ballyduff, Lismore, on Sunday, April 5th, is a great loss to her family, relatives and friends.

The remains were removed to St. Catherine's Church on Sunday where they were received by Very Rev. J. Canon Power, V.P. and Rev. M. O'Gorman, G.C. and the burial took place on Monday.

Chief mourners — James and John O'Farrell (sons); Mrs. Nora Shuker, Mrs. Peggy Davenport.
