WINDING DOWN TO A STANDSTILL
 For the past month production at the Quigley Magnesite Plant at Ballinacourty, Dungarvan has been winding down and will eventually come to a standstill at the end of the week when all work at the factory will cease. The plant will be put in "moth balls" and the workforce will join the ranks of the unemployed.

This is in accordance with the announcement made some months ago by the Chief Executive of the Quigley Company which at the time shocked the people of Dungarvan by its sudden and unexpected nature. Speaking at a special press conference in Dungarvan on Wednesday, April 25, Mr. James C. O'Donoghue, the Company's chief executive, made the stunning announcement that it had been decided to shut down the Ballinacourty Plant because the magnesite manufactured there had become completely uncompetitive in a depressed market.

In all, 140 jobs were involved in the Ballinacourty operation and the closure will in time hit the Dungarvan area very hard economically as the wages and salaries paid to the workers at the plant has been stated to average £11 million a year while Company purchasers and contractors in the area were estimated at a further £500,000.

And so this week marks the end of an era which commenced twelve years ago when the plant was opened with a great flourish by the Minister for Finance, Mr. George Colley on Thursday, September 17, 1970 in the presence of a large gathering of V.I.P.s representing Church and State. There was a new railway then and a plant which looked set to last a lifetime and a promise of great things for the economic future of the town and district.

But in the short span of twelve years the plant has overtaken this promise. In fact the railroad being used as mining operations at Bennetsbridge, Co. Kilkenny where the dolomite used in the manufacture of the magnesite at Ballinacourty was quarried has already ceased and this week the huge kilns at the Quigley plant will cool down for the last time and the white steam plume from the factory's chimney stack will disappear. The trucks and vans with the familiar Pfizer logo will also disappear from around the streets of Dungarvan and indeed more's the pity.

Hope is that production would start again at some future date in Ballinacourty would appear to be ill-founded and this idea was scotched by Mr. O'Donoghue on the day he released the closure announcement when in reply to a Press query he said that he could not see any hope at this point of the foreseeable future that production would start again at Ballinacourty.

It is said to see the end of an operation which has meant so much to Dungarvan for over a decade of years. It can only be with sorrow and great regret that we record this week the cessation of production at the plant and the discharge of the workforce.

Circuit Court Appeals Against Jail Sentences After 'Mini-Riot' In Dungarvan

Jail sentences imposed on a number of defendants following what was described as a "mini-riot" at T. F. Meagher Street, Dungarvan in the early hours of Easter Sunday morning, April 23, were the subject of appeals by three of the defendants involved at Dungarvan Circuit Court last Tuesday. Frank Wright (25), The Buttery, Dungarvan who was sentenced to concurrent terms of 12 months in prison for assaulting Garda O'Sullivan and Jim Hurley, Jr., 108, Childers Estate who was sentenced to 8 months in prison for assaulting Garda O'Sullivan and Jim Hurley, Jr. were the appellants. The appeal was heard by Judge Sheridan. The appellants were represented by Mr. J. P. Gordon, B.L. (Instructed by Mr. J. P. Gordon, B.L.) for Power said that his client was employed in a good job at Dungarvan Crystal and came from a very respectable background.

Mr. P. McCarthy, B.L. (Instructed by Mr. J. P. Gordon, B.L.) for Power said that his client was employed in a good job at Dungarvan Crystal and came from a very respectable background. Mr. J. Sherry, B.L. was for Wright and Mr. J. Gordon, B.L. was for Hurley (both also instructed by Mr. J. P. Gordon, B.L.). Judge D. P. Sheridan said that it was a frightful state of affairs that these young men should jump on a police officer who was doing his duty and as a result he winds up with a broken leg.

Mr. A. V. Maher, State Solicitor who appeared for the Director of Public Prosecutions told the Court that on the night of April 23, the Garda had cleared the two hotels at T. F. Meagher Street. Afterwards when the patrol car came along the street, the appellants were in front of it and was arrested. He resisted arrest but the Garda succeeded in getting him into the car. Others then came along and tried to rescue him and the Garda were attacked and Del. Garda, B.L. kept a very close eye on the fair, than "The Dingle Puck Goat" for one baited corner.

I am a young jobber both football and rabby. The green hills of Kerry I came for to see. In the year sixty-one he came to buy some cattle. And I want you to listen to what happened to me. As I entered the fair on a Saturday morning. The first thing I saw was a long-legged goat.

"Judge," I said, "for to commence our dealing I think this would be worth a pound note."

This darling old fellow I stood for to stare him. As I entered the fair on a Saturday morning. He wore a long "meaghal" as that would reach from Dingle to Cahirciveen. With a pair of long horns like any two hayforks. And just like two needles were pointed on top. I was very much taken by a week laughing.

If only he happened to hit you a rap. I made my approach to the owner that held him. A bargain we struck without any two shaylons. He said, "if you pay me down twenty-two shillings I will give you before going away."

This darling young hero was reared on the mountains. In the year sixty-one he first used to drill. And some of his comrades were hung and transported. And since he's determined some blood for to spill.

The old man departed and I was for starting. These words that he told me put me in despair. The first jump he gave me near broke my left arm. I jumped on his back and got hold of his hair. Says I, "my bold hero on your back I'm landed. And unless I fall you may go where you will."

He ran through the streets like something distracted. And soon made his way towards Connor Hill. I sent for the police and got him to jail. And the funder all shouted the faster my goat ran. And over the Basin he gave them leg-bail.

But off on crossing the Basin I fell on the footway. And away went the goat and I saw him no more. Sure if he's in Ireland he's in Camp or in Brandon. Or away in the mountains somewhere remote. But while I am living I've a story worth telling. Of my rambles through Kerry on the Dingle Puck goat.

THE DINGLE PUCK GOAT
 Puck Fair which is due to be held in Kiltorret next week is said to have originated from the fact that on the first occasion that ever it was held, the only animal that turned up was a Puck goat from Dingle. Hence it is a Puck from Dingle which ever since has landed it as king over the 3-day fair and what

Funeral Of Sister M. Gertrude
 St. Mary's Parish Church, Dungarvan, was crowded with mourning relatives and friends on Monday morning for the Requiem Mass for Sister M. Gertrude, (Kieley), Convent of Mercy, Dungarvan, whose regretted death at the early age of 56 took place at the Bon Secours Hospital, Cork on Saturday last.
 Most Rev. Dr. M. Russell Bishop of Waterford presided at the Mass which was celebrated by Sister Gertrude's brother, Rev. Fr. James Kieley, O.S.A., Drogheda, and at which a choir of clergy of upwards of 200 was present. The huge congregation represented every walk of life in the community not only from Dungarvan and many parts of the county but from many outside areas as well.
 Sister Gertrude was member of a family which gave no fewer than five members to the religious life for in addition to herself and her brother she had three sisters nuns, Sister M. Anselm, Mercy Convent, Dungarvan; Sister M. Marie, F.M.D.M., Quilford and Sister M. Anne, F.M.D.M., Australia.
 The late Sister Gertrude only recently celebrated the Silver Jubilee of her profession in the Mercy Order and up to the time of her untimely death she was noted for her promotion of family prayers.

Manager Unable To Make Categorical Statement On Rates Position
 Asked at a meeting of Waterford County Council in Dungarvan last Monday as to the immediate effects of the High Court decision in Dublin last week declaring the 140-year-old Valuation Acts unconstitutional, the County Manager, Mr. Dan Hurley said that so far they only had the newspaper reports of the Court findings to go on and as a result he was not in a position to make a categorical statement on the matter. He added that he did not know whether the Government would appeal the decision to the Supreme Court and until the position generally was clarified he was unable to comment further.
 Mr. Hurley went on to say that unless someone came up with a plan to keep Local Authorities going financially they would be in an extraordinarily difficult situation. He told the Council members that he would keep them informed as the position evolved.
 The Chairman, Mr. P. Coffey said that there was no doubt but some new way of funding County Councils would be found.
 Mr. N. Quenly said that the Westford farmers who had taken the last case against the Government on the issue were to be congratulated.

COURT GRANTS LEAVE FOR LATE DEFENCE TO ACTION BY T.D.
 At Dungarvan Circuit Court on Tuesday last, Judge D. P. Sheridan granted an application made by Mr. P. McCarthy, B.L. for permission to enter a late defence on behalf of Mr. P. McCarthy, M.C.C., Curraghmore, in an action for alleged assault and abusive language at Whiteschurch on last Monday. Mr. McCarthy brought the action against Mr. Jackie Fahy, T.D., Lyreacarla, Clonmel.
 Mr. McCarthy told the Court that he was instructed in the matter on behalf of Mr. Kennedy by Mr. Michael J. Harahan, Solr.
 Judge Sheridan granted the application and having allowed three weeks to enter the defence, adjourned the case to next sessions.

MERITED JAIL SENTENCES
 Giving judgment Judge Sheridan said that this was one of the most serious matters ever to come before him in District Court Appeal. As a member of the Bar before he was appointed to the Bench he had been coming to Dungarvan for many years and he knew it as well as any town in the Circuit. He said that he was always very much taken by the Garda. He could not now sit in the Court and see the Garda would not receive protection from him. He had heard very strong pleas for the young men involved all of whom had good jobs. What they had done merited jail sentences and he felt that if he sent them to jail they would lose their jobs.
 In the case of Frank Wright he then said that he would adjourn the appeal for one year and in the meantime he would save £25 per week which he would hand over to his solicitor so that there would be £1,000 to be paid by him in compensation to Gda. O'Sullivan at the end of the time in addition he would save £2 per week for the same period which would go to the Garda Benevolent Fund "as I believe that this attack was an attack on the Garda Force as a whole".
 In the case of John Power he made a similar order.
 Dealing with Hurley Judge Sheridan said that while he had not been in trouble before he had assaulted 2 Garda's and he ordered that he provide £15 per week over the next year to make up £750 to be paid to Gda. O'Sullivan together with a further £100 to be paid to Gda. Behan plus £2 per week for the next year to be paid to the Garda Benevolent Fund.
 These cases, said Judge Sheridan, will come up before me again this time next year and if any of the three gets into any difficulty through misconduct in the meantime, he will suffer dearly for it. It's the last time I will show leniency in such a situation and will adjourn all three cases on that basis."

THIS WEEK ACOT COUNTY WATERFORD SAYS

LIVESTOCK

In your grass quality good enough to sustain satisfactory growth rate in calves? It not, meal feeding is advisable. Low quality pasture is the weak link in calf rearing on many farms at this time of year. Watch out for Summer Mastitis in heifers.

CEREALS

Pre-harvest spraying is very successful for Stutch control and desiccation of green material in weedy crops. Spray when crop has reached approximately 30% moisture, 10-12 days before harvest. This treatment is not recommended where crops are grown for certified seed.

GRAIN STORAGE

Barley can be safely stored without drying by treatment with propionic acid.

MACHINERY

Air filters and radiators on tractors and combine engines should be cleaned daily when working in very dusty conditions. Do not forget to change oil and filter at the recommended intervals.

HORTICULTURE

A top dressing for lawns and roses would be beneficial now. Transplant your winter cauliflower (Broccoli) and winter cabbage now.

FARM MANAGEMENT SURVEY 1981 SHOWS NO IMPROVEMENT IN FAMILY FARM INCOMES

While farm incomes in 1981 showed increases over the previous year their real value was still about 40 per cent below the 1978 level, according to the report of the Farm Management Survey published last Wednesday by the Agricultural Institute. There were two other distinctive elements in farm incomes last year. Their overall level was still quite low, and the increases show that big fluctuations in farm incomes from year to year can be fairly common.

In 1981 there still remained a solid, intractable block of 50 per cent of all farms, part-time included, with a family farm income per farm of less than £2,000. For full-time farms, 24 per cent had a family farm income of less than £2,000, while 37 per cent had incomes above that level.

The Institute stresses that family farm income is a farm management concept of income. It is the surplus to the farm business after meeting all production costs. It is not the disposable income of the farmer and must provide for future investment as well as contributing to the general standard of the farm family. Since no deduction is made in the costs for the value of family labour it is essentially the reward to all members of the family working on the farm, for their labour, management and investment.

NEWS FLASH

The report states that it is a measure of the severity of the financial crisis in farming in recent years that even with this year's increase last year's incomes did not quite reach their 1978 level, and that is without making an allowance for the falling value of money in the meantime.

It is indicative too of the transformation which has occurred since 1978 that a 30 per cent increase in the value of production per farm was needed to achieve the same income as in 1978. Furthermore, the report points out that the major decline in incomes in the meantime will restrict the pace at which farming will recover from the present recession. While incomes are increasing, the pace is still very much in recession since the overall returns in farming are not yet at the level below the level needed to encourage investment and a more rapid rate of development.

PROVINCIAL ASPECT

Against a national situation where 24 per cent of full-time farms are on incomes below £2,000, the corresponding figures for the provinces were 17 per cent in Munster, 19 per cent in Leinster, 31 per cent in Connaught and 43 per cent in Ulster.

FARM UNITY

VITAL: T. J. MAHER, M.E.P.

The failure of the farm bodies to utilize and the present lack of solidarity between them has allowed the Government to overlook the critical problem of Irish farmers and agricultural industry, the detriment of the economy and employment. European Deputy Mr. T. J. Maher said in a statement.

Mr. Maher said the farm leaders would be unwise to disregard the reasons behind the inactivity of two Taoiseachs and three Ministers for Agriculture on their demands to have the real problems crippling Irish agriculture tackled over the last three years. "The inexcusable failure of three Governments to act over that period to protect the agricultural industry, which provides over 50 per cent of the jobs of those at work in the State from the evil of inflation created by their disastrous handling of the economy was and still is, a major contributing factor to the decline in farm incomes and the loss of thousands of jobs in agriculture and related industries," he said.

CANNOT AFFORD TO WAIT

Mr. Maher said Irish farmers needed immediate Government action on their problems and could not afford to wait for a promised economic plan. That might take up to three years to show any positive results. "The required unity of purpose between the farm bodies, essential to achieve positive results from any Government is not visible now between IFA and ICMSA. The patience of many farmers is being severely tested by the failure of the farm bodies to procure more positive results from talks with the Government."

I.F.A. I.C.M.S.A. MEET TAOISEACH AND MINISTER FOR AGRICULTURE

A meeting to review the farm income situation in light of the outcome of the 1982/83 BPC Farm Price decisions took place in Dublin between the IFA, ICMSA Co-ordinating Group (led by President of IFA, Mr. Donal Cashman and ICMSA President, Mr. Sean Kelly) and the Taoiseach, Charles Haughey and Minister for Agriculture, Mr. Brian Lohan.

The ICMSA delegation informed the Minister that the shortfalls between the price requirements and the actual price increase obtained was greater for Irish farmers than for farmers in any other BPC country. Ireland, Belgium and Denmark all received price increases substantially in excess of what was needed to cover inflation. However, in the case of Irish farmers, the price increase received was only 10 per cent. The need to devalue the Irish pound was a point on which the Taoiseach and the Taoiseach was requested to consider the arguments put forward in the two IFA papers on devaluation presented at the recent IFA Conference, and to provide a written reply to the arguments.

On the question of seeking compensation from Brussels for the loss of value of farm prices, particularly through suspension of the co-responsibility levy, the delegation expressed its dissatisfaction that the Minister for Agriculture had not raised this matter at the relevant meeting of the BPC Council of Farm Ministers.

The urgent need to update the devaluation compensation levels and farm development grants was put forward by the Taoiseach while the Taoiseach did not give a firm commitment on these matters, he indicated that he would raise them with the Minister for Finance.

On the question of the immediate public service bill, the ICMSA delegation informed the Minister that they would be making submissions on this issue to the Joint Taxation Committee when the results of the 1981 Farm Management Survey are published.

The Taoiseach committed the Government to implement fully the agricultural development plan currently in the course of preparation and to provide the finances which the plan will require to pay.

In relation to the general economic situation the Taoiseach said that the Government is committed to reducing public expenditure and mentioned in particular the magnitude of the public service bill. He said he would discuss the Government's economic and financial plan with the Farm Ministers when they meet in August.

NOTHING - BUT NOTHING AVAILABLE TO FARMERS SINCE OCTOBER 1981

The Government ministers repeatedly boast about "attractive incentives" being available to farmers who engage in drainage work in the West. This is not true - but nothing - is available to farmers since October 1981. Applications from farmers for such work are lying in offices of the Department of Agriculture throughout the country unprocessed for months and in some cases for years.

This was stated by Mr. John McGettrick, Chairman IFA's Western Development Committee, in a statement issued. "The Taoiseach and Minister for Finance's remarks recently about the extensive area of land in need of drainage in the West and its effect in depressing farm incomes cannot be stated too often. The same goes for his statement that 'the improvement of land through drainage and reclamation is the most immediate means of achieving this'.

The pity is that Mr. MacSharry has not put money (and he is the one with the money in this State) and his considerable weight in Government where his mouth is. It is also grossly unfair that Mr. MacSharry is to imply that farmers somehow are not taking up the "attractive incentives" he referred to recently in Dromahaire.

The simple fact of the matter is that the Government's commitment to drainage work in the West is open to question; the performance of the Office of Public Works to date has been deplorable; while the Department of Agriculture must also share in the blame for the present sorry state of the whole Western Drainage programme.

The only bright spot was the reaction of farmers to the scheme when it was first introduced. They reacted quickly and positively. Their enthusiasm and interest have suffered severely, however, because of Ministerial and Departmental intransigence and lack of will to get on with the job."

He added: "A quarter of a million acres of land in the West are in need of arable drainage. One-and-a-half million acres require field drainage. Were this land brought into full production through drainage, fertilisation and better management it would mean an increase in output from the land of anything from £100m. to £400m. per annum.

"What this does to improve farm incomes, the incomes of others in rural areas and in the creation of new jobs places is hardly credible. In this case nobody can blame farmers because they are 'rarin' to go'. It is the double meaning statement of Ministers and the absence of official action that is applying brakes to development."

Farm families who missed out contributing to the Garda charity run from Cork to Dublin in aid of Children's Cancer Research and Development Fund for Our Lady's Hospital, Crumlin, Dublin, can do so by sending their contributions to Garda Press Office, Phoenix Park, Dublin 8.

NEWS FROM CAPPOQUIN AND DISTRICT

GREAT SPORTSMAN PASSES

The town and district were deeply shocked on Sunday afternoon by the news of the unexpected death of Mr. Paddy Walsh at his home in Tivoli. He was one of the truly great men and his genial personality will be missed.

The remains were removed on Sunday evening to St. Mary's Church and the funeral took place on Tuesday at Old Affane.

RETIREMENT

Mr. Dermot O'Leary, Melleray Head, Cappoquin, has retired from his position as Assistant Secretary, County Kerry Council. He joined the service in 1959 and in recent years was in charge of Mobile Library Service.

POOR FARE

Last week's games at the sports hall provided the entirely predictable results and the fare produced did little to entertain.

The one outlier game to be played here this season—indeed the only one in any Western—was the football match. It proved nothing out of the ordinary. Playing standards were a point which can fairly be made in this case. It was the general indifference among playing panels and members both on the fields and in the stands. Poul and fella language is now the norm rather than the exception.

One knows there are no prizes about in these desperate times but for all these generate must be voiced in the manner in which club officials obstruct the way to the opposition. One official on Sunday totally ignored a request from spectators to sit down.

RAILWAY ATHLETIC SOCCER NOTES

A committee meeting will be held in the Parish Hall this Friday evening. It is hoped that all committee members must attend as a number of important matters are due for discussion. Notices will be distributed during this week.

FIVE ASIDE LEAGUE

We had a completely inactive week-end in the League so the table positions remain unchanged with a point separating Ballynamona and Ballynamona. There are two more series to be played as well as five arranged fixtures. It is hoped that some of these games will be played during the week.

Pat Kiely's team have opted out of the League because of unavailability so the points will be awarded to the opposition in each of the last four games.

WEDDING POWER-STREET

The marriage has taken place at St. Mary's Parish Church, Dungarvan, of Mr. David Power, son of Mr. John Power, to Miss Brenda Keck, daughter of Mrs. Catherine Street, Children's Estate, Dungarvan.

The ceremony with Nuptial Mass was performed by Rev. Fr. Columba C. St. Mary's. The best man was Mr. Jeremy Power, brother of the groom. The bridesmaids were Misses Catherine and Shirley Street and the flower girls were read by Anthony Power and Patrick Collins.

The bride wore a Georgian lace wedding gown with a train of roses with maid-of-honour dress in white and wore pale blue dresses and carried bouquets of white flowers.

The reception was held at the Omond Hotel, Dungarvan, and the honeymoon is being spent at the Omond Hotel. Man Going with the bride wore a navy and white suit.

WATERFORD COMMUNITY GAMES ATHLETIC FINALS

The annual athletic final of the County Waterford Community Games presented a colorful spectacle at the Gaelic Ground, Lismore when several hundred young athletes from throughout the county participated. The Lismore area committee was responsible for the splendidly presented event.

The Games were officially opened by Mr. Peter Dowd, Chairman, Lismore Town Commissioners. The Flannery was by Brian O'Connell, Lismore and the Competitors' Pledge was read by Sharon O'Connell, also of Lismore.

Bishop Opens Ballinacorney Sports Complex

It is somewhat unfair that the Bishop's visit comes at the end of such projects, when all the work has been done but I congratulate those who had a hand in providing all these wonderful amenities. He stated that the Bishop of Waterford and Lismore, who on Thursday night last, local residents holiday makers and guests gathered at St. Laurence's Community Complex in Ballinacorney to take part in the opening of the new sports centre which had just been completed at a cost of £25,000.

TALLOW G.A.A. NOTES

DISAPPOINTING EXIT Ring 9-9; Tallow 6-4

Tallow senior footballers fought their hurling counterparts in making their debut in the current county championship at Dungarvan on Sunday last. Tallow were awarded a 6-4 lead in a game which never rose above the mediocre. Tallow had plenty of possession, but the tempo came between Tallow and the major score so badly sought.

If this game was lost then it was lost in the first half when Tallow had a greater work rate. Besides they were a better ball team and with 10 minutes to go it was Lismore clinging on to the slimmest of leads, 2-7 to 2-6. Lismore's hurling caused Tallow credit. Herbie Lismore's defenders particularly Pat Ryan and Brendan Crowley. They were powerless to do anything.

A great game, the best possible advertisement for hurling in the county. Tallow and our neighbours to whom we extend our good wishes for further progress.

LISMORE ON TOP Lismore 2-5; Tallow 2-0

The under 16 championship meeting of Lismore and Tallow hurlers at Cappoquin on Monday night produced the best of the game. In the first half Tallow had a lead of 1-4 in a game which any one of the 22 players participating could lead. Lismore were lucky to win in one sense and which Tallow might well have stolen if Gerry had not knocked point off the crossbar before rebounding to safety. A goal at that stage after Tallow had bravely clawed their way back into the game, would have revived tired limbs and set the seal on a victory which in all honesty we scarcely deserved. But justice was done and it was Lismore, defying a grandstand Tallow finished, who had the last say when Billy Lee pointed a 20th minute free.

Lismore's half-time lead, 1-4 to 0-3, might have been much greater had their shooting matched their outland superiority because from the throw-in Tallow struggled to achieve equally with a 10, determined and very purposeful Lismore 15. We were level after 16 minutes when Paul Curly scoring his second point equalised scores from Bally. Brendan Lawson, Tomas O'Hanrahan's goal gave two minutes later and Lismore finally secured one minute later and the Black and Amber were not flattered by their half-time 1-4 to 0-3 advantage.

Two more points in the 4th and 8th minutes of the second half set Lismore supporters cheering and Tomas McCarthy's pointed 65 was followed by another point to Lismore. The lively first half pace increased considerably as Tallow pressure was rewarded by Aidan O'Brien's goal in the 16th minute. Now Tallow trailed 1-7 to 0-3. Just as we walked the Tallow charge Lismore struck again in the 6th.

DEPUTY COLLINS AGAIN QUESTIONS DELAYS AT CO. WATERFORD ACCIDENT

Deputy Eddie Collins has given permission in the Dail on Thursday 8, to raise on the Adjournment the question of the delay in the arrival of medical attention at the scene of an accident at Cappoquin on Sunday night, June 27.

ADJOURNMENT DEBATE COUNTY WATERFORD ACCIDENT

Mr. E. Collins: I wish to thank the Chairman for allowing me to raise this matter on the Adjournment. I wish also to thank the Minister for Health for coming to the House to discuss a number of problems which have arisen from this accident. It is a pity that it grew into better citizens by spending their leisure time in a profitable manner. He was glad to look around the premises in which young people could spend their time profitably.

The Chairman of Dungarvan U.D.C. Mr. Jimmy Byrne, speaking on his own behalf and that of the Chairman of Waterford County Council, Mr. Pat Coffey (who was unavailable absent) congratulated all concerned with the project and expressed the wish that the facilities would be used extensively.

BORD NA nOG NOTES

DUNGARVAN, LIS MORA AND CLASH MOR WIN LOCAL DERBYS

At the Frater Field last Monday evening Dungarvan had a runaway win over Clonane. With no fewer than seven of the 16 divisional players on their team they were never really tested.
