O Paddy dear and did you hear the news that's going round? The shamrock is by law forbid to grow on Irish ground.

Thugs Rule As Gardai Not On Duty In Rural Areas

At the monthly meeting of Waterford County Council held in Dungarvan last Monday, Cllr. C. GARRY O'HALLORAN, CLASHMORE NEW MEMBER OF CO. COUNCIL

Mr. Garry O'Halloran, Clashmore, was unanimously co-opted to fill the Fine Gael vacancy on Waterford County Council created by the resignation of Mr. Austin Deasy following his appointment as Minister for Agriculture at the monthly meeting of the Council held in Dungarvan last Monday.

Actively involved with community affairs in Clashmore and district he should prove a very active Councillor and will surely serve the people of Clashmore very well.

was going on. He said that the position was that people in country areas, especially old people, were afraid to stay in their homes for fear of being broken into and beaten up. It was a dreadful state of affairs, said Cllr. O'Riain and it was something that they would have to keep referring to.

NEW PLANNING ACT FEES

Fees for Planning Applications introduced by the Department of the Environment and chargeable by Local Authorities as from March 7 were discussed at a special meeting of Waterford County Council in Dungarvan.

The system of fees which will apply to the vast bulk of planning applications are Dwellings - £30 per dwelling; Domestic extensions and other improvements £15 per dwelling; all the other buildings - £1.75 per square metre of gross floor space; submissions by persons other than an applicant - £10.

Cllr. C. O'Riain thought that the charges of such fees was a retrograde step. "I disagree with it totally," he said.

Cllr. P. Coffey Chairman said that they were directed by the Minister to apply the charges and they had no option but to do so.

Cllr. T. Cunningham referred to the charge of £1.75 per square metre for "all other buildings" said that in so far as this referred to farm buildings he felt that farmers would not apply for planning permission at all.

Cllr. W. Kennelly referred to paragraph 10 of the new regulations which stated: "As from April 11, 1983, a person making an appeal to An Bord Pleanála must pay a fee of £30 and any appeal not accompanied by this fee will be invalid. Persons who are not parties to an appeal must pay a fee of £10 if their submissions or observations are to be considered by the Board."

and said that they should object to this as it could mean that some people who might otherwise have good grounds for an objection could not lodge an appeal if they could not afford to do so.

FIRST PROSECUTION UNDER NEW LITTER ACT IN DUNGARVAN

What was described as the first prosecution under the new Litter Act which came into force last year was brought at Dungarvan Court last week when Dungarvan Urban Council summoned Martin Colbert, 4, St. Mary's Terrace, Waterford, under the Act with erecting unlawful advertisements at a number of places around Dungarvan and Abbeyside on November 26.

Mr. A. V. Maher, Solr. (Farrell & Morrissey) for the Urban Council said that the charges arose from the displaying of posters in and around Dungarvan concerning the appearance of a group called "Scullion".

Mr. P. Walsh, Town Engineer in evidence said that he saw the posters in November erected in various places around the town, most of them on the backs of sign posts. He produced a set of photographs showing details of the posters and their locations which declared "Scullion Returns" and giving the venue and the date.

Mr. Walsh went on to say that litter was a major problem in Dungarvan and the County Manager had now issued instructions that the laws relating to litter were to be rigidly enforced by the Urban Council in an effort to clean the town. He agreed that the posters had been removed immediately after the concert.

District Justice O'Connell remarked that this was not the worst form of litter and was not as bad as littering the streets with cartons and wrappers.

Mr. Frank Heffernan, Solr. for the defendant said that he was a young man employed as a clerk in a commercial firm in Waterford and was very involved with the activities of youth clubs and organisations. He had the posters removed immediately after the concert when he became aware through a newspaper report that action was to be taken by the Council over the posters.

Asked by the District Justice where people could now display posters in the town, the Town Engineer, Mr. Walsh replied that there was no public hearing in the town and the only place posters could now be displayed was in shop windows.

Commenting that this was the first prosecution he had come across since the Act had come into force, District Justice O'Connell said that he would have to record a conviction even though the practice followed by the defendant was one which had gone on from time immemorial. From now on however, he added it is an offence to do so. He imposed fines of £5 on each of two of the counts of displaying posters on a road sign and an ESB pole and marked the others proved and taken into consideration.

NO CASE

At this point Mr. E. P. King, Solr. said that he represented Mr. P. O'Brien who was also charged under the Act and at his request Mr. Heffernan told the Court that Mr. Colbert had booked the hall from Mr. O'Brien but that the latter had no hall or part in the promotion of the function.

Patrick O'Brien then gave evidence in which he stated that he was Manager of Minnies

Lounge Bar Abbeyside. Mr. Colbert approached him to book the hall at Minnies for a cabaret show and other than making the letting to him he had nothing more to do with the promotion. He said that he never placed posters around town for their own promotions.

Mr. King said that in view of this evidence there was no offence committed under the Act by Mr. O'Brien.

District Justice O'Connell said that in the circumstances he could not hold that Mr. O'Brien had arranged or promoted this particular function. He had only let the hall for the event and beyond that he had nothing to do with it. Accordingly he dismissed the charge against him.

FINED AND DISQUALIFIED AT DUNGARVAN COURT

A man who had a number of previous convictions under the Road Traffic Act against him was again summoned at Dungarvan Court last week on a number of counts for offences brought against him when he was stopped by Garda O'Reilly while driving an articulated vehicle at Youghal Road, Dungarvan on April 29, 1982.

He was Patrick Moorhouse, Ballyclough, Kilworth and admitting the offences. Mr. E. P. King, Solr., who appeared for him, said that he was a married man with a young family and who had since got rid of the lorry which he had used on continental runs and now had a van in which he travelled around selling vegetables to keep his family.

District Justice O'Connell imposed a fine of £50 with 6 months disqualification from driving and an endorsement for having no insurance; a further mitigated fine of £50 for having no tax; £5 for having no driving license; £5 for having no indicators and £5 for having no rear identification light.

DUNGARVAN COMMUNITY INFORMATION CENTRE

Q—We have a little boy of 3 years who is mentally handicapped. It is a full-time job looking after him and it's nearly impossible to get a person to look after him for a day or an evening if we want to go out. Can you suggest any help we might look for?

A—A couple of suggestions come to mind.

Firstly, have you applied for the Domiciliary Care Allowance from your Health Board? This is a special allowance of £55 per calendar month, payable to the parents of mentally or physically handicapped children living at home. The child must be between 2 and 16 years and the handicap must be such that he requires constant care and attention. (This is open to interpretation and can vary from case to case).

If your son has a personal income it will be taken into account when deciding eligibility but your income will not.

If you get this Allowance you may be in a better position to employ someone to look after your son occasionally.

There is a special tax allowance for a handicapped child: £500 instead of £100. If you have not been claiming this you can do so retrospectively.

I would suggest that you contact the National Association for the Mentally Handicapped of Ireland (N.A.M.I.) at 5, Fitzwilliam Place, Dublin 3. Tel. 766035. They have a very useful Directory of Services for the Mentally Handicapped.

COURT SEQUEL TO "SHEER BLACKGUARDING" AFTER BIRTHDAY PARTY

Ten young men who attended a birthday party on October 2 last week charged with stealing the wing mirrors of a car value £15 and causing malicious damage to the value of £10 to the car at Ballinacorney on the occasion. The defendants were Donald Kavanagh, Rathgormack and Patrick Reilly, Ballyknock, Carrigrohane and they pleaded guilty to the charges.

Inspector J. Harrington who prosecuted stated that Mr. William O'Keefe, Ballydun parked his car outside the premises at Ballinacorney and when he returned he found that 2 of the wing mirrors were missing. He saw a car moving off and followed it into Dumarvan where it stopped and when he looked into it saw the mirrors in it. He notified the gardai who investigated the incident. The compensation amounting to £25 was paid.

Mr. E. P. King, Solr., who defended said that the defendants had been at a birthday party and when they left they saw the wing mirrors which they seemed to fancy and took them through sheer blackguarding.

District Justice O'Connell said that he had no sympathy for anyone who carried on malicious damage to motor cars when they left they saw the wing mirrors which they seemed to fancy and took them through sheer blackguarding.

THE CONGER KING ANGLING NOTES

R.N.L.I.

Many thanks to the National Organisation of the R.N.L.I. who sent me, at my request, a full list of the angling clubs who remitted contributions to the R.N.L.I. funds for the 1982 season. The list is more than disappointing as it only lists less than 40 clubs who helped by running events in aid of the R.N.L.I. In 1981 a total of £2,768 was subscribed as compared with 1982 when £2,171 was subscribed. This response to the need for funds is poor when one considers there are hundreds of registered angling clubs. Here's hoping that these clubs will come forward in 1983. Wicklow subscribed £240, Kilmore Quay £403, Youghal £320.

KILMORE QUAY S.A.C.

Many thanks for this club's contribution towards the Conger King's expenses for this weekly column of notes on angling. This year has arranged the following fixtures for 1983—Open shore, 17th July, 18.00 to 22.00 hours, White Hole, Tomhaggard, 24th July, 18.00 to 22.00 hours, open shore, Rossdown, Thomas Walsh Memorial Trophy, 28th August, open shore, 18.00 to 22.00 hours, White Hole, Tomhaggard, McCains Motors (Waterford) Trophy.

Kilmore, open shore, 4th September, 14.00 to 18.00 hours, Cuff Bank, The Burrow, Kilmore, Guinness Trophy, Kilmore open shore, 6th September, 14.00 to 18.00 hours, Katts Strand, Finlan Sinnott Memorial Trophy.

Hon. Secretary of Kilmore S.A.C. is Edward O'Connell, Spencers Town, Cleariestown, Co. Wexford.

WATERFORD GLASS S.A.C.

Hon. Secretary, Edmond Lyons, 50, Congress Place, Waterford. This club are running off 15 shore and three trailer competitions during this season. The first competition was fished on 12th February and the final competition will be on the 12th November.

The big dates for the club this year are 27th and 28th August when the club will host the All-Ireland Shore Championships, which will be fished in the Dunmore East area, fishing time is 2.00 to 6.00 each day.

Tuesday, 22nd March, open shore, Clivepoint, 4.30 to 10.30 p.m. His Majesty would feel obliged for the results of the first three events, fished on 12th February, 21st February and 7th March.

THE NOTES

Clubs who have not replied to His Majesty's recent letter are asked to do so and send on their contributions to his expenses for stationery, postage, telephone calls, etc. The column is sent in every week and therefore your club's name should be needed publicly thanks to the Editor.

The Conger King has retired from angling but he has not retired from helping angling clubs and he claims that his column is the only one in the Irish Republic to go to you and register with His Majesty. The address is Desmond Kelly, The Lodge, Rookenham, Ferrybank, Waterford. Less than 50p per week is the suggested subscription—that is the minimum of £5 per year.

FINED FOR BREAKING SHOP DOOR GLASS PANEL

It is unlikely that you could break a plate glass window in a door by a mere stumble as this is a purely myth and, as the glass, said District Justice W. F. O'Connell at Dungarvan Court when he rejected a plea of not guilty and convicted Michael Duggan, 19, unemployed, 20, Caseyville, Dungarvan on charges of breaking a plate glass window and causing malicious damage valued at £24 to the door at Dolan's shop premises at O'Connell Street, Dungarvan on February 6.

A statement made to the gardai by Duggan after the incident was read by Inspector J. Harrington in which Duggan said that he had been out drinking all that day and was very drunk as he went up O'Connell Street on his way home that night. As he was passing Dolan's he said that he stumbled and his foot accidentally went through the glass panel of the door. When this happened he panicked and went home. He had no intention of causing the damage and when the gardai came to question him the following day he admitted the incident and said that he would pay for any damage he caused.

Inspector Harrington said that Duggan had, in fact, paid the £24 damage.

Duggan then gave evidence and swore out what was contained in his statement but to a question by the Inspector he admitted that he had not reported the incident to anyone until he was approached by the gardai the following day.

Making the comment quoted at the outset, District Justice O'Connell said that he did not accept that the damage had been caused accidentally and he convicted the defendant but said that as he had paid the £24 compensation he would impose only a nominal fine of £5.

TRAFFIC AND PARKING BYELAWS TO BE EXTENDED TO COUNTY TOWNS

The following report was submitted by the County Secretary, Mr. B. J. McNally, to the members of Waterford County Council at their monthly meeting in Dungarvan last Monday:

Some time ago the Commissioner of the Gardai indicated that they proposed to revoke existing Traffic and Parking Byelaws for Waterford City, Dungarvan and Tramore and to incorporate the separate byelaws into one set of Byelaws to cover both the City and County. The effect of this proposal would be to—

(a) Continue legal enforcement of all traffic and parking restrictions at present in force in Waterford City, Tramore and Dungarvan.

(b) Enable traffic and parking restrictions to be introduced if necessary in any of the towns in the county following consultation. Under the present system separate byelaws would be required.

This proposal will ensure that when byelaws are to be introduced into towns in the county the long initial delay that arises can be avoided and that by means of scheduling for the particular towns these areas can be readily brought within the scope of the byelaws. The main provision of the byelaws would contain all the types of traffic control measures, i.e. yellow lines—double and single, one-way streets, on-street parking control, clearways, loading bays, disc parking, etc. Within any particular area the appropriate controls only would be brought into effect.

Incorporated in the Byelaws will be a schedule of Business Hours which the byelaws would operate. The suggested hours are "9 a.m. to 6 p.m. on a weekday which is not a holiday" for the following towns—Portlaoine, Tallow, Cappoquin, Dunmore East, Passage East, Climachogue, Killybeggs, Annesborough, Fenor, Leamybrien, Ardmore, Ballymacarbery, Ring, Villierstown, Aglish, Clashmore and Woodstown.

The Council as a body to be consulted are asked to—

(1) Approve of the overall proposal to simplify Traffic and Parking Byelaws.

(2) Agree or otherwise regarding the definition of business hours.

FISHMAN FINED UNDER FOOD HYGIENE REGULATIONS

Robert Keane, Jr., of R. Keane Wholesale Fisheries, Western Terrace, Dungarvan, was summoned by the South Eastern Health Board at Dungarvan Court for carrying on a food business at Western Terrace but had never done so.

Mr. M. Burke, Solr. (Nolan, Farrell and Gough), Waterford, appeared for the Board and Mr. J. Quirke, Solr. (Kenny, Stephenson and Chapman), Waterford, was for the defendant.

Ann Deacon, Health Inspector under the SEHB in evidence said that the defendant was carrying on a food business at Western Terrace, mostly fish. She visited the premises on a number of occasions in March 1981, March 1982 and on October 18, 1982. She found fish at the premises which was not registered with the SEHB. The defendant had been notified on a number of occasions of the need to register the premises but had never done so. She understood that the fish was held on the premises until it was loaded on to container lorries to be exported. The fish included mackerel and she was sure of that.

Mr. Quirke said that the defendant was unable to attend the Court as he was in Castle-town on business while Mr. Robert Keane, senr., was in hospital.

Thomas McShane was then called and in evidence stated that he was the Financial Controller of the firm of R. Keane Fisheries. As far as he knew it was only herring that was boxed at Western Terrace which was used only as a transit site. The fish would be bought in Kinalee and then brought to Dungarvan where it was boxed and then sent off. At most it would be held for only a few hours at Western Terrace. It was used only during the herring season which lasted for only a 6 weeks period in 1982. It was used for no other fish as far as he knew.

Mr. Quirke submitted that on foot of this evidence the premises could only be described as an occasional food premises. Cross-examined by Mr. Burke, Mr. McShane stated that he usually worked at the firms offices at Springfield and he was only with the firm for the past 4 or 5 months.

District Justice O'Connell said that he would have to accept Miss Deacon's evidence and hold that the premises used by the defendant at Western Terrace was a food premises and as such should be registered as required under the regulation. He said that the defendant had not been taken by surprise in this matter as he had been notified several times about the need to register. He imposed a fine of £50 with £25 witness's expenses and £75 costs.

IFA PRESIDENT SHOULD EITHER WAKE UP OR GET OUT SAYS COUNTY COUNCILLOR

Mr. Donal Cashman, President IFA was criticised at a meeting of the Co. Waterford Committee of Agriculture in Dungarvan for his failure to speak out about the farmer taxation in the recent budget.

The members had been addressed by Mr. Cianan Dolan of the ICMSA on the Production Unit Accounting System and on the possible effects which the new taxation method under the recent budget would have on farmers.

Mr. Jim Harty said that while this was all very well it was a waste of time for the two farmer organisations (IFA and ICMSA) to be seeking to meet the Minister on this matter separately. It was time for them to come together and form one body and to stop messing as they were at present.

Stating that the two organisations seemed more concerned with a push for power he said that farmers who were members of these organisations should stop paying their contributions to them unless they agreed to come together. The only way the farmers could achieve anything was by having a single body to speak for them. "After all," he said, "unity is strength."

Mr. Tom Cunningham said that at the present time farmers were very uneasy about the future and did not know exactly where they stood. The President of the IFA Donal Cashman had so far said nothing about the farm taxation in the budget. "He should," said Mr. Cunningham, "either wake up where these matters are concerned or get out altogether."

Mr. Tom Murphy ICMSA representative agreed and said that it was the ambition and the wish of the ICMSA to have one concern to represent all farmers.

On the proposal of Mr. Harrington seconded by Mr. Jerry O'Brien the Committee unanimously agreed to accept the Accounting System recommended by Mr. Dolan for the purposes of taxation.

I.F.A. BULLETIN

URGENT MEETING WITH AGRICULTURAL CREDIT CORPORATION SOUGHT

The President of the Irish Farmers Association, Mr. Donal Cashman, has sought an urgent meeting with the Chairman of A.C.C. following a report from the I.F.A. National Credit Committee that the A.C.C. have broken procedures between A.C.C. and I.F.A. as to how credit problems should be handled.

Mr. Cashman said that I.F.A. had an obligation to protect the interests and livelihood of members being threatened by recent actions of the A.C.C. and would expect farmers to show solidarity with members who are being placed under pressure.

Mr. Cashman added that in the absence of agreed proceedings on credit problems being adhered to by A.C.C., the I.F.A. National Council would decide on stronger measures to defend the interests of farmers under financial pressure.

74% OF FARM FAMILIES SUBSISTING ON LESS THAN £4,000 PER YEAR

The Government's decision to include all farmers in the new tax is an ill-considered and unproductive exercise at a time when 74 per cent of all farm families are subsisting on less than £4,000 per year. Some 40 per cent of all farm families are subsisting on less than £2,000 per year.

This was stated by Mr. Donal Cashman, President of the I.F.A., speaking at a taxation seminar in Marney Co. Co. Co. Mr. Cashman said: "The very many farmers who are struggling to survive on a subsistence income must be protected from expense or harassment which could arise as a result of the Government's decision to extend the income tax net to all farmers."

Mr. Cashman said that the Government's decision to extend the income tax net to all farmers is a major step towards the exclusion of many farmers from the benefits of the Government's farm tax relief.

Mr. Cashman said that the Government's decision to extend the income tax net to all farmers is a major step towards the exclusion of many farmers from the benefits of the Government's farm tax relief.

Sow Only Certified Seed, Says ACOT

Sow only certified seed in 1983. That is the clear advice from ACOT to all cereal growers.

ACOT is very concerned at the recent trend among some growers to sow uncertified seed. While this may result in a small reduction in costs, it could cost growers dearly later in the year in much lower profits through reduced yields and higher costs of weed and disease control.

The extra cost of certified seed is a tiny proportion of overall costs of cereal production and sowing anything else is just not worth the risk says ACOT.

Every bag of certified seed sold in Ireland is produced, dried, assembled and treated under strict supervision of the Department of Agriculture. We have the most rigorous seed certification scheme in Europe and this guarantees advantages to the grower which cannot be got from any other form of seed.

GERMINATION
Certified seed has a guaranteed germination of 85 per cent. In practice, germination of certified seed is generally over 90 per cent.

PURITY
With certified seed you get the variety that you pay for, with no contamination from other varieties or other types of cereal. It is also free of noxious weeds, particularly wild oats which is one of the greatest scourges in cereal growing. Wild oat is difficult and very costly—sprays cost up to £30 per acre—to eradicate and is mainly spread through contaminated seed. Only crops which are free of wild oat are accepted for the production of certified seed.

DRESSING
Certified seed gives the security of correct treatment against seed borne disease and wireworm attack. The seed assembler has the equipment to ensure that no damage is done to the seed and there are no risks to the operator. All chemicals which are used for seed dressing should be handled with caution, particularly those containing mercury. Mercury is a cumulative poison and can build up to lethal levels over a number of years.

The use of home saved winter barley seed in recent years has been largely responsible for the spread of Loose Smut which reached serious levels in winter barley crops last year. The continued use of certified seed would reduce the level of this disease to insignificant proportions.

CALVES
Calves can be weaned off milk replacer at 40 days provided they are eating 2 lbs. of concentrate per day and they are over 130 lbs. weight. Fresh water should be available at all times. Check for lice. Avoid over-crowding of calves—if necessary move to empty cow or cattle sheds.

A HAPPY OCCASION AT ARDMORE NATIONAL SCHOOL

The tree-planting at Ardmore National School was brought to a successful and happy conclusion one Saturday evening recently when Mr. Austin Deasy, Minister for Agriculture, came to plant an Irish Oak on a plot on part of the school grounds which up to now had been a raised, unused stretch of matted grass and briars. The special tree planted on this occasion was presented by the school children. Very Rev. P. Wall, P.P. blessed it and also wished Mr. Deasy well in the arduous work he is undertaking as Minister for Agriculture.

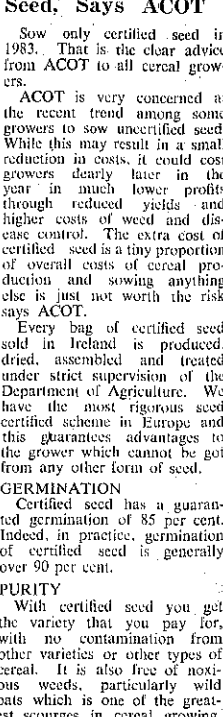

All repaired then to the schoolroom, where tea was served by the members of the Board of Management—Mrs. McCarthy, Mrs. Conery and Mrs. Huey.

Mr. M. McKenna of the Blackwater Garden Centre had given enormous help in formulating a plan for the school grounds and was, of course, helping in the planting. Mr. Paddy Foley of the School Management Board was very much involved in the preparation for the big day too and Mr. W. Mulcahy did a wonderful job of work outside.

The following day the school children undertook a sponsored walk to Whiting Bay and back by Ardo. On account of the inclement weather, this had to be postponed the previous Sunday but the 27th turned out a very nice walking day and even the rule-breakers insisted on doing the full course. Onstage and crips were provided in the school afterwards and everyone turned up for chess on Monday morning.

THIS WEEK ACOT SAYS

GRASSLAND
1. Grazing: For adequate grass supply spread 11 cwt. of Nitrogen per acre after first cutting.
2. First Cut Silage: Spread 80-120 units of Nitrogen per acre in March or early April.
3. Cutting field once — use 80 units per acre for first cut.
4. Cutting field twice — use 100 units per acre for first cut.
5. Cutting field 3 times — use 120 units per acre for first cut.
6. In newly-sown leys and Italian ryegrass use 140 units of Nitrogen per acre for first cut silage. Adequate phosphates and potash are necessary for top yields of silage.

CALVES
Calves can be weaned off milk replacer at 40 days provided they are eating 2 lbs. of concentrate per day and they are over 130 lbs. weight. Fresh water should be available at all times. Check for lice. Avoid over-crowding of calves—if necessary move to empty cow or cattle sheds.

Some Aspects Of The Times And Life Of Saint Patrick

(Thanks to the People of Co. Mayo for giving us our Patron Saint.)

Was St. Patrick a Scotsman, Welshman, Frenchman or a native of Brittany. There are various opinions as to the place of his birth. One thing is certain that St. Patrick was in various ways intimately connected with Gaul. His mother, Conchessa, is distinctly stated to be a native of Gaul being, according to some traditions, a sister or niece of St. Martin of Tours; and from Gaul, Patrick, when a youth of sixteen was carried away by pirates to Ireland, a slave, a captive to Ireland. His father was Calphurnius, a deacon, the son of Potitus, a priest. These men had entered the holy orders after the death of their wives, as it was the usual thing at that time. In the case of Calphurnius, the husband and wife separated voluntarily and entered religion. The saint received in baptism the name of Succath, which is said to signify "servant in love." The name Patrick or Patricius was conferred on him by St. Celestine as indicative of his rank.

There are various opinions as to the year of Patrick's birth, the most probable being the year 377, and that in 403 he was made captive and carried to Ireland, where the holy youth was sold as a slave in the part of Ireland called Dalriada, comprised in the County of Antrim, to four men, one of whom, named Milcho, bought the boy from the other three, and employed the boy in attending his sheep and his swine.

The Saint's sufferings were great as he was exposed to all the inclemency of the weather in the mountains; the saint tells us in his writings that it was this suffering that made him begin to love and know God.

A VISION
After six years spent in this bondage he was warned in a vision that the time had come for him to depart, and that a ship was ready in a certain port to take him to his own country. He left Milcho and travelled two hundred miles to a part of Ireland of which he knew nothing, and here he found the ship that had been indicated to him ready to sail.

He was at first ridely repulsed by the master of the vessel, but was at length taken on board and after a voyage of three days reached shore only to find himself on a barren land, where the whole party were in danger of dying with hunger but through the prayers of Patrick, food was obtained and after a journey of twenty-eight days further on he reached his native place. It is said that Patrick suffered a second captivity of which little is known, except that it lasted for sixty days. It was after this that he entered the famous monastery of St. Martin near Tours. Later he studied under the direction of St. Germain of Auxerre.

In or about this period the Saint had a remarkable dream or vision in which a man named Victoriolus, appeared to present him with a parcel of letters, one of which was inscribed "The Voice of the Irish." The letters were from Ulster, Munster and Connaught. He took one and opened it and as he read he thought he heard the cries of a multitude of people near the wood of Fochin, in the district of Tirawley, in Mayo saying "We entreat thee to come, holy youth, and walk still amongst us."

Patrick hated the idea of coming back to Ireland, the land of his captivity and shame. He wanted to stay at home with his people, and family, but how could he now refuse this plea from Mayo. God called him to convert the Irish people to Christianity.

In the year 432 A.D. Patrick, now a consecrated bishop, sailed for Britain on his way to Ireland where he arrived with his clerical companions at a place called Inver De at the mouth of the Bray river in Wicklow. Here he was repulsed by the natives, he returned to his ship and sailed for Holm-Patrick near Skerries off the Dublin coast to take on supplies. He then resumed his voyage for the coast of County Down, landing at Strangford Lough where he was taken for a pirate. Dicho, the lord of the district, arrived at the head of an army of natives, but the moment he perceived Patrick he knew he was no pirate, and he invited the saint and his companions to his house, where, on hearing the true religion announced, he and his family believed and were baptised. This was the first fruit of St. Patrick's mission to Ireland.

The apostle celebrated the Divine Mysteries in a barn belonging to Dicho, which was henceforth used as a church, and was called Sabhal Padraig. After a stay of a few days, Patrick set out for the habitation of his old master, Milcho, near Slieve Mags in the County Antrim, but rather than allow the saint to visit the house, the family, in a fit of passion, set fire to the dwelling and it is said a son and daughter, respectively, who were later converted by the saint.

PASCHAL FIRE
Patrick now travelled around the country converting the people. On reaching Slieve Mags, Patrick had a tent erected and the next day being 16th Saturday he lit the Paschal Fire at night-fall. King Laoghaire, seeing the blaze, became indignant and ordered the saint to appear before him. On Easter Sunday, Patrick, clothed in white robes with mitre and crozier, accompanied by eight priests, set out for Tara where the princes and nobles of the Meath were assembled for the holding of the pagan festival of Bal. He was received coldly by the King and Druids, but his doctrine of Christianity, which himself remained an obstinate pagan to the end but he allowed Patrick to preach wherever he chose.

For thirty years afterwards Patrick continued his labours founding many churches in the County of Armagh and the remaining years of his life were spent around that place, where he died in 463.

This was the faith planted in Ireland by Patrick, a faith whose divine mystery was explained by the humble shamrock plant. The faith that will remain to the end of time.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

STATEMENT DENIED
Sir—We senior member of Dungarvan Comhairle Ceannairde, Pádraig Fall, deny any knowledge of the statement which appeared in the "Dungarvan Leader" of Wednesday 23rd February under the heading "Mr. Jackie Haughey's Statement." Part of that article stated that a senior member of Dungarvan Comhairle Ceannairde said that Haughey's decision to pass over Waterford's two TDs, Mr. Jackie Haughey and Dr. Donal O'Rourke, for front bench representation was shortsighted, unprincipled and politically stupid. This statement has been signed by Maurice J. O'Connell, Chairman, William P. O'Connell, Secretary, John Loneragan, James McGrath, Joint Treasurers, John Moloney, Delegate to C.D.C., Thomas Abernethy, Delegate to C.D.C.

DANGERS TO STOCK FROM LOW-FLYING HELICOPTERS

Members of the Co. Waterford Committee of Agriculture at their meeting in Dungarvan unanimously agreed to renew their protest to the Minister for Agriculture about the damage caused by low flying helicopters over the ESB in carrying out surveys of their tension cables throughout the county.

Mr. C. O. Riain who again raised the matter, described the use of helicopters by the ESB for such surveys as a stupid exercise. He said that animals became so frightened and that many sustained such serious injuries that they had to be put down.

Mr. Jerry Harrington said that the ESB seemed to be a law unto themselves where these matters were concerned. The use of helicopters was very costly and he thought that the survey could be done from the ground as had been the case in the past and this would be far better now that so many were unemployed as it could create some jobs that were badly needed.

Mr. Jerry O'Brien said that these low flying helicopters created havoc among livestock and bloodstock and a great deal of serious damage had resulted to many valuable animals. He said that the kind of advance warning given to farmers by the ESB about the use of these helicopters was not adequate.

NEWS FROM CAPPOQUIN & DISTRICT

WEDDING

FLYNN-O'DOWD

The marriage has taken place at St. John the Baptist Church, Affane of Mr. Philip Flynn, son of Mr. and Mrs. Liam Flynn, St. Johns Park, Waterford and Miss Mary O'Dowd, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Gerard O'Dowd, Affane, Cappoquin.

The ceremony with Nuptial Mass and Papal blessing was performed by Rev. Fr. Kennedy, O.C. Affane. The best man was Mr. Tony Finn, brother of the groom and the groomsmen were Mr. Philip O'Dowd and Mr. Frank Flynn, brothers of the bride and groom.

The bride wore a gown of white with a long flowing veil. The bridesmaids wore long blue shower cap hats and matching head-dresses of blue flowers.

CAPPOQUIN/AFFANE FINE GAEL

The annual general meeting of Cappoquin and Affane Fine Gael was held at Walsh's Hotel, Cappoquin, on Sunday, 13th March.

The meeting was held in a very strong position following a successful year in 1982. Mr. Billy Walsh, County Organiser attended and the Chairman, Mr. James Wall, welcomed the members.

The meeting had its nostalgic moments. Mr. Wall after long service as Branch Chairman vacated the chair to take over the chairmanship of the County Executive of the party.

Our under 13 side had their first taste of cup football and turned the form books upside down beating first division side Bohemians to progress to the quarter-finals of the competition.

CREDIT UNION

Members are asked to note the collection at the Cappoquin Office will take place tonight, Wednesday the 16th and not tomorrow the 17th.

TOURIN BADMINTON CLUB

On this Thursday St. Patrick's Day, the 1st Railway Cup final will take place at St. Anne's Court, and promises to be a very exciting climax to what was a very exciting competition.

The pairing brings together many interesting facts. For instance three players on both teams finished on the losing side in the 2nd Railway Athletic Perpetual trophy final last year, whereas Pat Casey, John Cahill and Bernie O'Shea were runners-up in the 3rd Railway Athletic Perpetual trophy final last January.

There will be no peace in the Costin households on Thursday because brothers Liam and Sean will be in opposition and the same applies to the remaining households where brother and sister Mick and Jackie will be on opposite sides.

A special video of this 1st Railway Cup final will be made by Jim Joe Landers and we are very grateful to him for consenting to do this.
