MOVE TO TAKE LEGAL ACTION AGAINST HEALTH MINISTER

The Maternity Unit attached to St. Vincent's (District) Hospital, Dungarvan, which, in recent months, has been the centre of a storm motivated by a specially established pressure group called the Dungarvan Maternity Unit Action Group in an effort to keep it open, finally closed a couple of weeks ago.

The closure followed the controversial decision of the South-Eastern Health Board to do so despite the protests of the Action Group, the Local Health Committee and Dungarvan Urban Council.

The matter was even raised in the Dail (by the Constituency Deputies Ormonde and Fahey and by Workers' Party Deputy de Kossa) when the Minister for Health was asked during a Question Time session on Tuesday, May 10 whether he was aware of the serious hardship likely to be caused to the people of West Waterford by the decision to close the maternity unit and if he would ask the Health Board to reconsider its decision.

The Minister, Mr. Barry Desmond, in his reply said that he was aware that the Health Board had passed a resolution to close the small 4-bed unit in Dungarvan but that it was, in the first instance, a matter for the Board.

"Expert medical opinion," the Minister stated, "is that it is safer to have babies delivered in a consultant staffed unit with support facilities such as specialist paediatric, gynaecological, medical, surgical, pathological and radiological services close at hand, and that this is essential for the well-being of mothers and babies. There is no Obstetrician/Gynaecologist attached to St. Vincent's Hospital."

The Minister then went on to point out that the number of births delivered in Dungarvan was very low and had declined from 148 in 1975 to 65 in 1982. It was, he added, the intention of the Health Board that future deliveries should take place in consultant staffed units in the areas such as Waterford.

"The Board," the Minister then stated, "intends to provide a consultant staffed outpatient clinic in Dungarvan which would be a valuable service for mothers in the area. The South-Eastern Health Board has decided that no further bookings for admission for delivery in St. Vincent's Hospital will be accepted after the 30th April."

And so indeed the position now stands as the last two patients to have their babies born in the Unit were discharged from the Unit with their newly born infants on Saturday, May 7 and the Unit was then officially closed.

However, I understand, the Action Group has not, as yet, thrown in the towel and last week-end during a brief interval with newly co-opted Dungarvan Urban Councillor, Michael O'Riordan, I was informed that the Group, of which he is an active supporter, is about to seek legal advice on the possibility of taking proceedings against the Health Minister to force him to provide medical assistance for any couple in the area who may seek to have their child born at home.

And so the saga continues.

HOW TO START OR DEVELOP YOUR BUSINESS

A note from Frank Burke, Regional Manager, Industrial Development Authority, Waterford, tells me that they are organising a series of Seminars/Workshops on "How to Start or Develop Your Business," throughout the

Prison Sentence Increased But Suspended

He would increase the prison sentence to 6 months but would put a stay on the warrant and adjourn the case for 12 months.

In the meantime the appellant to pay the fines and costs involved. This was stated by Judge D. P. Sheridan at Dungarvan Circuit Court when William Fraher, 35 year old unemployed labourer, married with 4 children of 45 Cathal Brugha Place, appealed against the severity of sentence imposed on him at Dungarvan District Court on February 15.

Fraher was convicted at the District Court on 4 charges of illegal fishing for salmon and using a strokehaul at the Colligan river on Sunday, November 29, 1981 and was sentenced to 2 months in prison and ordered to pay fines and costs totalling £105. He was also disqualified from holding a fishing licence for 3 years.

Mr. F. Power, Solr. for the Southern Region Fisheries Board said that the appellant had 10 previous convictions for illegal fishing and he described Fraher as "a strokehaul expert."

Mr. E. P. King, Solr. who had been assigned under the Legal Aid scheme said that while the offences might be considered serious they were not big offences. The last fishery offence had been 18 months ago and he said Fraher had not been in trouble since. He was unemployed with a family of 4 with ages ranging from 4 to 12 years and had unemployment assistance of £52 a week.

Fraher in evidence said that on November 29 it was not his fault that the offences were committed as it was the fellow who was with him who took him to the river and had the rod and strokehaul. "When he took a fish out of the river all I did was to catch it by the tail," he said.

"When the judge asked him, 'When are you going to obey the law, Mr. Fraher?' the appellant replied 'well now I'm in the timber with my brother and I have given up fishing.'" He added that he made about £40 a week selling timber.

Judge Sheridan varied the sentence as stated at the outset and warned Fraher "you have a year to pay the money but if you fail in that or go anywhere near the river you will go straight to jail."

Mr. A. V. Maher, State Solicitor was for the Director of Public Prosecutions.

The other Dungarvan Institution referred to in the Review is Dunabney House and in reference to this the report merely states that a communications link to the Fire Station was being arranged.

It would appear from the report that moves in the right direction are being made to ensure the safety of patients in all these hospitals in the event of a fire. This news will undoubtedly be most welcome as it will tend to ease the anxiety and worries created last year when the original Fire Safety Report highlighted the hazards and dangers which existed because of the lack of total absence in many cases of adequate fire safety precautions.

PROVE YOURSELF A MAN

Our choice for the ballad of the week has been submitted by an old, staunch and loyal supporter of the "Leader" and a personal friend of mine. It is Don Downey, formerly of Crushee, Ardmore but now in St. Joseph's Hospital, Dungarvan, where he will celebrate his 93rd birthday (D.V.) on Saturday of next week, May 28.

I am not sure whether we published the poem before but Con tells me that he learned it at school about 80 years ago! It is called "Prove Yourself A Man" and goes as follows:

Boy you are come of gentle blood
Thought now of a poor degree,
Where'er you go may God the Good
Smile on your destiny, What'er your future, dark or bright,
Since first life's morn began
In danger's hour or darkest
Go, prove yourself a man.

While climbing up life's mountain paths insecure,
A loving bond of brotherhood
Should bind you to the poor
Whom e'er you see misfortune
Go, prove yourself a man.

Ah, wealth it is a faithless friend,
And false are pride and fame,
For death may snap the fatal
cord
When loudest throats proclaim
So ne'er let fame nor wealth
nor pride
Your youthful heart repress,
Let Christian honour be your guide
And prove yourself a man.

Con, who still, despite his more than 4 score and 10 years, writes a very good hand, asks me in the note he has sent me to extend his best wishes to his many friends in the Dungarvan and Ardmore areas.
I am sure that I am but voicing the sentiments of all of these and many more besides when I send hearty congratulations to Con on his 93rd and go maritally as 'til an' a' cheer!

KNOCKANORE, GLENDINE AND KILWATERMOY NOTES

At a special meeting of the Community Council held in Glendine on Monday, May 9, it was decided to postpone the date of the second Sunday in July, which we understand, cannot be changed.

As the second Sunday in July is our traditional day for the Fete and as the activities include sports for the school children, we are disappointed that this clash should occur, and for the sake of the children we have decided that it is best to postpone to the third Sunday.

However we have decided that in future years we will pick a date and stick to it as a lot of advertising and printing has to be done in advance if it is to be effective, and we trust that fixture bodies such as Munster Councils will in future keep a better watch on dates of local events.

We wish our neighbours well with their Open Sports Day and look forward to seeing all our friends on the 17th.

Chemicals are just becoming an integral part of modern cereal and sugar beet production. It is vital that the herbicide applied will control the weed flora present in your crop; likewise the correct minimum cost fungicide must be used to control the disease present. It is very evident that expensive fungicides are being sold when less expensive cocktails would do an equally good job.

BALLYAGGART NOTES

IN HOSPITAL We wish a speedy recovery to Bill Devine, Cool, who is in hospital at the moment. We hope Bill will be up and about again soon.

FIANNA FAH A.G.M. The annual general meeting of Ballyaggart Fianna Fail Cumann will take place immediately after Mass on Sunday, May 29.

LATE PATRICK (PA) NEILL It was with deep regret the people of Ballyaggart learned of the sudden death of Pa Neill, Rannacoola recently. The respect and affection he was held in by the people was demonstrated by the large numbers who attended the removal of the remains to St. Mary's Church, Ballyaggart, and the burial in the local cemetery.

THE LATE MARY HICKEY The quiet and gentle passing of Mary Hickey, Grange Ardmore, in St. Odair's Hospital, Waterford, has marked the passing of one of nature's ladies who bore her long illness with such understanding. She was always a helpful and friendly neighbour.

GRANGE FIANNA FAIL Grange Fianna Fail Cumann will hold their annual general meeting on this Thursday night, May 19 at 8.30 p.m. in Grange Hall. Public representatives will attend.

DEATH OF JIMMY CASHMAN Sympathy is expressed to the wife and family of the late Jimmy Cashman, Rockfield House, Cappagh, from their many friends in this area who know Jimmy well from his association with the West Waterford Hunt and the Dungarvan Hunt.

Abbeyside Scout Notes

THANKS A few weeks ago I told you we would be holding our biggest fund-raiser of the year on Sunday, May 22, at the school and grand draw. Well, Sunday last was the big day and thanks to all the tickets you - the public - bought, we had one of our best ever days. Cakes were sold, supplies and all stalls reported success.

Over the next few weeks we called around selling our tickets, your response was very good and again you supplied food for our refreshment on the big day. It felt you had then turned out in force to buy our goods, you'll begin to see you are entitled to our mission.

We do want to say thanks to all who made this fund raise such a success.

CUB NEWS Last Saturday at 9 a.m. we travelled by bus to Dublin to our day out. As bus dished out the travel sickness pills and they seemed to do the trick, we had a stop at Caian on the way and spratly was glad when we set sail again for Dublin. Doing lunch in the Phoenix Park some of the lads found a insect which was not to the liking of our female cub leaders.

At 4.30 p.m. we left for Dublin Airport where all entered our dinner. We spent a good time here and both cubs and leaders managed to get lost for a while. This did not matter as we had plenty of leaders and Geraldine managed to keep all in good humour on the long journey home. At 11.15 p.m. we arrived home to find most of the parents waiting to drive us to our final destination.

GENERAL Due to the bad weather last week-end our camping in the Ennis had to be postponed. Some of the lads were very disappointed, but not to worry, we hope to travel this weekend. This did not matter as we had a fall alarm last Friday night. B. will have arranged an emergency catering crew for Mollera on the 5th instructions. Anyway, it seems that the situation is someone wearing a night dress. A certain house was full capacity on Saturday last with some of the Gowlies sort books and making posters.

It seems that some of the scouts are getting old very fast. They were all being shy by Fran and Denis last Saturday night. It now seems that they will be wearing a night dress again with a note from their mother's they had washed their hair and teeth.

Preparations are now in full swing to move into our De Bura Shield competition held next month. We now picked the bones of a certain house was full capacity on Saturday last with some of the Gowlies sort books and making posters.

LISMORE MAN'S APPEAL AGAINST PRISON SENTENCE DISMISSED

A 25-years old unemployed Lismore man unsuccessfully appealed to Dungarvan Circuit Court against a 3 months prison sentence imposed on him at Lismore Court when he was convicted on a charge of assaulting a peace officer in the execution of his duty. He was James (Jimmy) J. Connor, Parks Road and the offence was committed at West Street, Lismore on July 6, 1982 when he assaulted Garda Joe O'Sullivan. Mr. A. V. Maher, State Solicitor for the Director of Public Prosecutions told the Court that on July 6, 1982 Garda O'Sullivan was leaving the Garda Station in Lismore when he saw a man passing in a drunken condition. He asked the man his name and address and he refused. The man then attacked Garda O'Sullivan and the man's brother the appellant came along and joined in the attack. Garda O'Sullivan had to summons assistance to deal with the situation. Garda O'Sullivan in evidence corroborated what Mr. Maher said and added that during the attack he had sustained a number of bruises on his body and arms. It was obvious, he said that both men had a lot of drink taken on the occasion. Garda O'Sullivan added that O'Connor had a previous conviction for an assault on a Garda in 1977. O'Connor in evidence said that at the time his brother was home from England and he had too much to drink. He was also under medical treatment for a nervous condition and was taking tablets. He apologized to

DUNGARVAN YOUTH CLUB

On Friday the 16th we had our annual week-end trip to Muckross. It was a very exciting weekend and everyone enjoyed themselves. On Friday night last we held our sports league between 8 and 9 p.m. We will hold the finals on now, Friday night at 8 p.m. sharp, so all members involved should be on time. SUNDAY LAST WAS SPORTS DAY On Sunday last, at 11.15 a.m. we left the Square to travel to Waterford for the annual Regional Sports Day. It was a great day for the members. Some of our members came home with trophies. In the U/14 girls 100 metres race, Madeline Hanberry came first. In the boys 100 sack race, Peter Hayes came first. ANOTHER DOUBLE FOR JOHN QUEALY AT BARTLEMY

John Quealy, the well-known Dungarvan rider, scored another double at Bartlemy Point-to-Point races last Sunday in what otherwise will be remembered as a disastrous fixture for punters. With a sustained challenge he rode Padders Only (3/1) to a lengths win in the second division of the 4 1/2 years old maiden and completed the double on Evra's Charm (6/1) which cruised to an easy win in the Winners of Three for mares.

CAPPOQUIN MAN FINED AND BOUND TO PEACE

"It is time this young man was brought to his senses," District Justice W. F. O'Connell commented at Lismore Court when he imposed a fine of £200 with £5.50 expenses, on Joe O'Reilly, Cook Street, Cappoquin and also bound him to the peace for two years.

O'Reilly, who did not appear and was not professionally represented, was convicted of assaulting Billy Devine, Oole, Ballysaggart, at Chapel Street, Lismore on November 26. The court was told that Devine had words in the local hotel with the defendant during the course of a dance, and they were both sent from the hall. Outside, O'Reilly approached the injured party, knocked him to the ground and kicked him in the head. He then drove off as a garda came on the scene.

Supt. M. English said O'Reilly had one previous conviction for assault last December.

BALLINAMULT TO GO AUTOMATIC NEXT YEAR

During Question Time in the Dail Mr. J. Fahy, T.D. asked the Minister for Posts and Telecommunications if the telephone service will be provided for the Ballinamult area, Co. Waterford.

Mr. J. Donnellan (Minister of State) — Early next year.

Mr. J. Fahy — Could the Minister give the reason why there was such a long delay?

There was no undue delay. Like every other place, service will be provided as soon as possible.

Surely the Minister is not serious when he gives that type of reply. There has been a long delay in this case and a commitment was given a long time ago.

An Ceann Comhairle — A question please, Deputy.

Mr. Fahy — Which has not been until next year for a service which was ready last year? What difficulties arose in the provision of this service?

Mr. Donnellan — I am giving the Deputy a commitment that the service will be provided next year.

Mr. J. Fahy — Is the Minister saying no difficulties were encountered as regards the provision of this service?

Mr. Donnellan — Considerable difficulties have been experienced in providing the Ballinamult building. Completion was expected in 1979 but the contractors did not hand over the building until January, 1981.

Mr. J. Fahy — First the Minister said there was no delay involved in the provision of this service but he has now admitted there was. Perhaps now he will answer my supplementary.

What caused the delay and what length of time was involved?

Mr. Donnellan — Completion of the building was expected in 1979 but it was not completed until January 1981.

Mr. Fahy — Why was the building not finished by the given date? What happened?

Mr. Kelly — These were golden years when Deputy Fahy's party were in power.

Mr. Donnellan — I have no explanation.

Mr. Kelly — These were the good times and we are supposed to be on our knees praying to get back to them.

CIRCUIT COURT

Lismore Men's Appeals Against Prison Sentences For Illegal Fishing

When officers of the Southern Fisheries Board apprehended two Lismore men illegally fishing on the river Blackwater in the early hours of July 27 last one of them, wearing balacava headgear and a green jacket, and armed with a 22 semi-automatic rifle, fired a shot from the gun within feet of one of the officers. Dungarvan Circuit Court was told.

Before the court were John Whelan, 14 Parks Road, Lismore, and Michael Nugent, Ballygullane, Lismore, and both were appealing against the severity of the fines and prison sentences imposed on them in the District Court arising from the incident.

Nugent had been fined a total of £290 with £100 costs on charges relating to illegal fishing and was also sentenced to four months imprisonment for assaulting Fishery Board waterkeepers on the occasion.

Whelan's appeal was against the four concurrent two-month prison sentences imposed on him on charges related to unlawful fishing.

Mr. John Waters, Solr., representing the Southern Fisheries Board, and the court heard how a team of officers from the Board, including Inspector Michael Fanning, Assistant Inspector Michael Fawc, and waterkeepers David O'Donovan, Patrick Fraher, Thomas Roche and Seamus Fanning, "descended" on the river Blackwater in the early hours of July 27 last year.

Judge D. P. Sheridan was told that the two appellants were shouted on to "halt" and the "team" of Fishery Board officers broke up into two groups. One of the two men, Nugent, wearing a balacava headgear and green jacket, and armed with a 22 semi-automatic rifle, pointed it at waterkeeper O'Donovan after Nugent had been ordered to put it down. Nugent then fired a shot in the air from the gun before he was overpowered.

TAKEN INTO CUSTODY Mr. Waters, Solr., told the Court that the two men were taken in custody by car to Lismore Garda station and on the way Nugent tried to escape from the vehicle. Whelan, he said, had been previously apprehended illegally fishing on the river Blackwater, and the Southern Fisheries Board took the most serious possible view of this latest case when in fact the lives of some of its officers were put at risk.

Both appellants — tendered apologies in open court to all the officers of the Southern Fisheries Board and pledged not to become involved in similar type criminal activity again.

Nugent said he had brought the rifle with him for the express purpose of shooting mink which in the past had killed some of his fowl and which had become very numerous in the Cappoquin-Lismore area at the time.

Witness accepted that he was wearing the balacava headgear so that if the battiffs came on him they might not recognise him. He said he saw the battiffs hitting his companion Whelan, and when he saw three of them approaching him wildly and equipped with batons or sticks he thought they were going to use them on him. "I fired one shot from the gun up in the air but not at them," Nugent went on. "I then handed the gun over to them and was taken into custody."

The appellant denied issuing a threat to Assistant Inspector Fawc on the journey to the Garda station in Lismore but did admit trying to escape.

Garda Joseph O'Sullivan, Lismore, called as a witness on behalf of the appellants, said neither of them had ever previously caused a garda problem in the town. The incident with the gun was out of character for Nugent.

Judge Sheridan said he wanted to make it perfectly clear to the appellants, and to anyone else engaged in illegal fishing, that as far as it lay within the ambit of his court, officers of the Fishery Boards would enjoy its protection.

A LONELY JOB

Judge Sheridan said these officers had to be very dedicated men who were out at night protecting our rivers. "This is a lonely and not very pleasant job," he said.

"This is one of the worst cases I have ever come across," the Judge went on, "and the conduct of the appellants was nothing else but shameful. While accepting that the shot fired by Nugent was fired over the heads of the Board officials they must nonetheless have feared for their safety."

"It is the mercy of God that no injury was done to any member of the Board," Judge Sheridan said, who added that he had taken into account the evidence of Garda O'Sullivan, "a garda I have great respect for."

Judge Sheridan said the two appellants were now as near to going to jail as made no difference. He increased the two months to six months in the case of Whelan and increased from four to six months the sentence imposed on Nugent.

However, he suspended the signing of the warrants for one year, but in the interim neither appellant can go within the vicinity of the river Blackwater or any of its tributaries or canals for fishing of any sort.

Judge Sheridan said he was also cancelling Nugent's Firearms Certificate and ordered that the 22 rifle be forfeited. Additionally, he said, Waterkeepers Fanning and O'Donovan had suffered great fright because of the discharging of a shot by Nugent and he ordered that appellant to pay £125 to each waterkeeper within the year. All the fines against both appellants, he ruled, would stand.

CAMPAIGN AGAINST TV LICENCE EVASION

In the first three weeks of the television licence campaign organised by the Department of Posts and Telegraphs 859 unlicensed or incorrectly licensed sets were detected in the Waterford area.

The campaign is scheduled to continue for four weeks and is where it is known that unlicensed sets are held. The duration of the campaign will be extended in districts where it is considered that this would be worthwhile.

NO EXTRA ROAD GRANT FOR COUNTY COUNCIL

Mr. Eddie Collins, T.D. Minister of State at the Department of Industry & Energy, has been informed as follows by Mr. Dick Spring, Taoiseach and Minister for the Environment: Dear Eddie, I wish to refer further to your representation on behalf of Waterford County Council regarding their road grants for 1983.

Road Grants totalling £2,976,000 were allocated in 1982 to Waterford County Council and this represents an increase of 9.3% over the 1982 road grant allocation and 53.5% over the 1981 figure. However, I regret that it was not possible to include an allocation for regional roads strengthening in the 1983 programme as on-going schemes and schemes in the Road Development Plan took precedence over the regional roads schemes.

Messrs. M. Fawcitt, B.L. (instructed by Farrell & Morrissey, Solrs.) was for the appellants and Mr. W. Hally, Solr., was for the County Council.

REQUIEM FOR A NEW CHAMPIONSHIP

PREMIER COMPETITION DIED BEFORE IT WAS BORN

COIS OLDIGH 1-12; GOIS MOIRE 0-4

The result of this Premier (sic) football championship game played at Fraher Field, Dungarvan on Sunday last is purely academic. What is of vital importance now is that the County Board take this "new competition" by the "scruff of its neck" and give it the fate it richly deserves - burial for all time.

It would be the decent thing to do following what could only be described as the "debauch" which heralded the inauguration of the competition at the Fraher Field, Dungarvan last Sunday.

The whole concept of the new championship "died" before it was born and the death bell tolled even before a ball was kicked. As one ardent supporter put it: "The death took place at Dungarvan on Sunday, May 15 of the new premier football championship..."

There was only a handful of spectators present for the two first programme at the Dungarvan venue - which showed that the public had no interest whatsoever in the competition. And it was just as well that there was just a few.

The second game between Na Comaragh and Cois Suire was called off because Cois Suire comprising the SEVEN city clubs could not field a team. It is certainly a unique situation when seven clubs between them could not muster 17 or 18 players for a game.

The first game between Cois Clodigh (Kilmac), Rathgormack, Mitchels, Clonea, Ballyduff and Portlaoise and Cois Moire (Alfane, Shanrock, Ballysgaggart, Lismore, Tallow, Tourin and Ballyduff) was nothing short of a farce as only two clubs, Alfane and Shanrock, turned up to do duty for the Western side who had to field with only thirteen players at the start.

Veteran Jimmy McGrath (selector) lined out at full forward after the game had started to bring the number of players to 14 and Pat Moore's arrival later gave them a full complement. But with the game twenty minutes late in starting the whole thing from a spectator point of view and from the Board's point of view was thoroughly unsatisfactory.

Cois Clodigh won the game by 1-12 to 0-4. They led by 1-9 to 0-1 at the interval having played with the strong breeze and it was not until late in the game that the Western side

Lismore Family Problem Settled During Circuit Court Hearing

Was it a gift or an ordinary transaction between brother and sister? That was the question asked by Judge D. P. Sheridan at Dungarvan Circuit Court last week at the close of the Lismore family problem case in which a son sought an order for possession of the house at 48, New Street, Lismore which was purchased originally in 1967 for a son of his.

In the action John Landers, formerly of Lismore and now living in Jersey, Channel Islands sought possession of the house at 48, New Street, Lismore in a proceeding which was heard by Judge D. P. Sheridan at Dungarvan Circuit Court last week.

The defence and counter-claim lodged by the defendant, John Landers, was that the house at 48, New Street, Lismore was purchased in 1967 for a son of his, and that the house was to be held in trust for the benefit of the plaintiff's mother, Mrs. Ryan, and her son, William, who was then living in Jersey, Channel Islands.

The plaintiff, John Landers, claimed that the house was purchased in 1967 for a son of his, and that the house was to be held in trust for the benefit of the plaintiff's mother, Mrs. Ryan, and her son, William, who was then living in Jersey, Channel Islands.

mother. He was very upset by this and on short notice returned to Jersey. He did not say anything to his mother before leaving as he did not want to upset the Christmas festivities.

Counsel went on to say that an extension was then granted on the house by the parents for which the plaintiff's consent was never given. The plaintiff's permission got from the County Council. At this stage the plaintiff tried to track down the use of the house to get them back and wrote to the bank in Talow. The bank replied that the frasers were paying off the loan and that the house would be sold when the matter had been disposed of. But when Mrs. Ryan, the bank, was asked what was the matter, she said that there was a problem with the house and that the plaintiff's claim was now being dealt with.

ther Willie to pay for the house and that he would settle up later with Willie himself. It was not true, either to say that at no time had his mother or Willie suggested that the house was to be a wedding present.

It was concluded that the plaintiff's case.

MOTHER'S EVIDENCE

Mrs. Mary Landers who had to be assisted to the witness box by her daughter, next gave evidence in the course of which she stated that she had lived with her husband and family for many years in a Co. Cork cottage at Talow Road, Lismore. Her son John went away in 1967 and he returned in 1968 with many presents for them a wedding present of towels. She said that in 1967 the plaintiff wrote to her asking for the house and she gave the house for him and her son Willie and herself found that one owned by Mr. Whelan, New Street, Talow.

Witness said that she then informed plaintiff that the house was available and that the price including fees was £2,500. She said that the money was to be paid by Willie who had money from an account and that John would retain the money to him later. The house was not a bequeathed house and there was never any question of that.

Mrs. Landers then said that when plaintiff's first marriage broke up he then said that he did not want the house and that she should sell it in Ireland. She said the cottage at Talow Road as she could not afford to pay for 2 houses and they then moved into New Street. She told John about this but always understood that it was her son Willie who owned the house.

SETTLEMENT

At this stage the Court rose for the lunch recess and on resuming Mr. Ryan, S.C. for plaintiff announced that during the lunch adjournment a satisfactory settlement had been reached. The terms of which he did not publicly disclose.

Judge Sheridan said that he was absolutely delighted that agreement had been reached as the case was entirely a family matter and that the parties had been well advised as far as this entire matter goes.

A FAMILY MATTER

Following the Court's decision the plaintiff's solicitor, Mr. John Landers, said that the house was now being occupied by the plaintiff's mother, Mrs. Ryan, and her son, William, who was then living in Jersey, Channel Islands.

Mr. Ryan in the course of his opening statement said that the premises at 48, New Street, which were at the time of the action were legally belonging to the plaintiff's mother, Mrs. Ryan, and her son, William, who was then living in Jersey, Channel Islands.

He said that the plaintiff got married in Jersey in October 1968 and in 1967 during a visit home to Lismore, discussions took place between him and his mother as to whether he and his wife would come back to live there. This was followed by correspondence in which the mother told the plaintiff that the house at 48, New Street was available at a price of £2,000. It was agreed that the house would be bought by his mother, William, who was then living in Jersey, Channel Islands.

The intention was that William would give the house to the plaintiff as a belated wedding present. William then put up the money and the house was bought by Messrs. Carroll & Co., Solicitors, Fermoy, and sent on to the plaintiff who duly signed and endorsed them and returned them.

Mr. Ryan went on to say that work prospects did not turn out to be good in Lismore and the question of coming home was put on the long finger by the plaintiff's mother. The plaintiff's brothers went to visit him in Jersey and he learned from them that his parents had moved into 48, New Street, and he sold the house to the plaintiff's mother. Plaintiff was quite agreeable to that move and all he asked the house to pay for occupying the house were the rates which amounted then to £100 a year.

In 1976 the plaintiff was again on holidays in Lismore and his mother told him that his cousins, the Frasers, had asked to take a loan to set up a shop and she asked him if he would guarantee a loan for them in the AIB Bank in Talow. He went to the bank and assented to the deeds of the house being used as security and it was acknowledged at that stage that the house was his property.

Counsel said that the plaintiff made his next visit home at Christmas in 1980. In the meantime he had divorced his first wife in Jersey and had remarried after the 1976 visit. His second wife came home with him in 1980 and relations all round were very good and there were no problems between the parties at that stage. However as a result of something that was said by his sister during the course of that visit plaintiff was led to believe that 48, New Street had been left to his sister by a will made by his

PLAINTIFFS' EVIDENCE

Giving evidence, the plaintiff, John Landers, born of what his Counsel, Mr. Ryan had stated. He was now living in Jersey in the Channel Islands but was born and raised in Lismore. He first went to England when he was 17 and later went to the Channel Islands. In 1968 he got married and came home with his wife to his parents home at Talow Road. He next came to Lismore in 1967 when he was 21 and he and his wife got married and came home with his wife to his parents home at Talow Road. He next came to Lismore in 1967 when he was 21 and he and his wife got married and came home with his wife to his parents home at Talow Road.

Plaintiff then said that as a result of this the house at 48, New Street was bought for him as a belated wedding present. It was purchased out of money which his brother had received as compensation from the bank. The deeds of the house were sent to him from Messrs. Carroll, Soirs, Fermoy and he signed them and returned them back to Carroll's office.

Witness went on to say that he did not go back to Lismore until 1976 and he stayed on in Jersey. In 1976 he made a short visit alone to Lismore. He was in the process of getting a divorce at the time. His mother asked him to go guarantor for a loan for the Frasers and he agreed to hand over the deeds of the house to the bank as security. In 1980 he asked the bank to return the deeds and the bank replied that they had been given to his mother. The same year he came home with his mother and his sister Carmel told him that his mother had asked the bank to return the deeds to her and she was dumbfounded at this as the house belonged to him. He did not take it up with his mother then as it was Christmas time but he did cut short his visit and returned to Jersey.

Witness then said that he returned to Lismore in the following April and then his mother said to him "you have come for the deeds" he said yes he had, but she then said that he was too late as she had just posted them to him in Jersey the previous day. They never arrived there and he never got them. He said that all he wanted was to get the deeds back and he had no intention of putting his parents out of the house.

Cross-examined by Mr. Gordon, witness agreed that he could have asked his mother and his brother to be on the look out for a house for him in Lismore. He denied that he asked his mother to ask his brother

DUNGARVAN COMMUNITY INFORMATION CENTRE

Q—Who can become a voluntary contributor to Social Welfare and is it worth doing?

A—Conditions—In order to become a voluntary contributor you must have been employed in insurable employment for at least 156 weeks (i.e. years) not necessarily consecutive. You must be either self-employed or retired and you must be aged under 66. If you are unemployed, you could, in theory become a voluntary contributor. In practice, you would be getting credits if you are signing on as unemployed and it would be unnecessary. If you must apply to become a voluntary contributor you must apply to do so fairly soon after leaving compulsory education. In fact you must apply before the end of the following income tax year. So if you leave insurable employment in 1982, you must apply to become a voluntary contributor before April 1984.

There are two types of voluntary contributor for people who were previously insured at the full rate of PRSI and a reduced rate for people who previously paid the lower PRSI classes. The full rate gives cover for retirement, invalidity, old age pension, widows' and orphan's pensions, deserted wife's benefit, and death grant. It does not cover unemployment or disability benefit. In fact there is no way in which self-employed people can provide themselves with social insurance coverage for unemployment or disability benefit. The full rate at present costs 6.6% of income in the previous year up to a ceiling. This 6.6% does not include the Health Contribution 1% Income Levy or 1% Youth Employment Levy which would have been included if you were self-employed. The minimum voluntary contribution is 2.5%. The reduced rate applies to people who are orphans' contributory pensions and deserted wife's benefit. At present, it costs 2.5% of income in the last year up to a ceiling. The minimum reduced rate contribution is 2.5%. Again, the Health Contribution 1% Income Levy and the Youth Employment Levy would have been included if you were self-employed.

As a general rule, the older you are when you become self-employed the more important it is to become a voluntary contributor. You have to consider the amount you have already paid in PRSI contributions and the sort of private insurance arrangement you could get from an insurance company. If such a wife leaves employment she should seriously consider becoming a voluntary contributor at a relatively little cost. Since she would be insured for the year up to a ceiling, she would have to pay the minimum contribution of 2.5% if she used to work in the private sector. If she was a public sector employee, she would only have to pay 2.5%—either contribution would maintain her entitlement to a welfare benefit or who is starting on would be getting credits if such a wife leaves employment.

Anyone receiving a social welfare benefit or who is starting on would be getting credits if such a wife leaves employment.

YOUGHAL COURT

DRINK RAID ON RUGBY PAVILION PROVES COSTLY

Three men, who broke into the pavilion of Youghal Rugby Football Club in the early hours of the morning and stole drink to the value of £276 had consumed it all in a matter of days. District Justice W. F. O'Connell, sitting at Youghal Court when two of those involved appeared before him.

William O'Donoghue (25) of 17 Quinn's Terrace, Youghal, and William Daly (28) Quinn's Terrace, both unemployed labourers, pleaded guilty to entering the clubhouse at Frogmore on September 17, last year and stealing drink valued at £276. They also pleaded guilty to causing malicious damage to doors and windows of the clubhouse to the amount of £137.90. Sup. Maurice Mitty said that when gardai received a report of the break-in at the clubhouse they investigated and interviewed the defendants. They admitted their involvement. The defendants and a third party broke in at 2 a.m. using a "plush bar." They got away with 276 worth of drink which they consumed that night and over the next few days.

Mr. Patrick J. Lavan, solicitor for O'Donoghue and Mr. David Keane, solicitor for Daly, pleaded for leniency for their clients. Sentencing both to six months, the Justice suspended each sentence on condition that each defendant pay £200 contribution to Youghal RFC by July 21. He also fined them £10 in respect of each of the two charges.

SENATOR BULBULIA OPPOSES CONSTITUTIONAL AMENDMENT ON ABORTION

The Senate decided by a three-vote margin last week to reject the Bill which proposes to change the Constitution in relation to abortion.

The Independent voting with Labour were Messrs. John Ross, Brendan Ryan, Shane Ross and Mrs. Catherine McGuinness. Dr. Martin O'Donoghue, who was not in the House outside the Chamber when the vote was taken. He said he missed the vote because the door was closed.

Mr. Charles Kilman (the I.G.W.U. General Secretary), who lost the Labour whip when voting against the Social Welfare Bill, was in the House. Labour sources said repeated telephone calls had been made to his Liberty Hall office.

Mrs. Bulbulia explained her opposition to the Bill by attacking the methods used by pro-amendment supporters. After she apologised to Deán Victor Griffin for a Daily attack on him, she received letters of a sectarian and racist nature couched in foul language. One, which she read out, began "Dear Bul Bul Amer."

The public gallery was crowded by pro-teen schoolgirls as Mrs. Bulbulia argued that the wording of the Bill could prohibit I.D.B.s, low-dose contraceptive pills and the morning after pill which are currently acceptable.

If the amendment was passed, its zealous would hardly stop there but were likely to launch attacks on other matters they thought moral issues. A constant visitor to the public gallery during the two days of debate this week was Mr. Brendan Sheehy, who is in charge of public relations for the Pro-Life Amendment Campaign.

He was present when a nun ushered in more schoolgirls who appeared mostly to be nine-year-olds. While Mrs. Bulbulia described the amendment as "ill-defined and neo-sounding," the amendment, the Senator said, threatened ecumenism. She shuddered when she saw the pro-amendment campaign were not associated with truly pro-life works, she said. Their supporters used threatening, anonymous abusive letters. They disrupted meetings

CAPPOQUIN MAN'S APPEAL ADJOURNED BUT MUST PAY £100

Michael Flynn (22), Tourist Cappoquin, has his appeal against a 3 months prison sentence adjourned for 12 months by Judge D. P. Sheridan at Dungarvan Circuit Court. The sentence was imposed at Cappoquin District Court on December 16 last when he was convicted on a charge of stealing 20 bottles of spirits valued at £259 the property of Mrs. D. Flynn, Whitechurch House Hotel, Cappoquin on July 25, 1982.

Mr. A. V. Maher, State Solicitor, for the Director of Public Prosecutions, stated that on July 25 last year the appellant and two other men went to the Whitechurch House Hotel, Cappoquin, and stole 20 bottles of spirits from the bar. There were bottles of spirits there and the appellant took some and put them in the car. Some members of the hotel staff became suspicious and followed the appellant and found the bottles in the car.

Mr. Maher added that the appellant had one previous conviction when he was fined £10 at Cappoquin District Court for causing obstruction by driving a car wheel in the middle of the road.

Garda O'Reilly, Cappoquin in evidence stated that he had investigated the case, and on August 11, 1982 he took a statement from Flynn in which he admitted taking the bottles. The explanation he gave was that he was drinking a lot and that his mind was a blank at the time. He said that all the bottles had been recovered.

The defendant in evidence said that he lived at home and was employed by an agricultural contractor. He corroborated the statement given to Garda O'Reilly and said that he did not remember what happened when they went to Whitechurch. He said that after it had happened he had apologised to Mrs. Flynn and he apologised the Court that such a thing would not happen again.

Judge Sheridan said that he would adjourn the appeal for a year but in the meantime the appellant would have to save up £100 and to behave himself and next year when he dealt again with the matter they would put the £100 to some good use. "You had better do this as you won't get another chance," Judge Sheridan then told the appellant.

Mr. R. Potter Coran, Solicitor, J. P. Williams & Co. was for the appellant.

FROM THE CAMERA OF TOM TOBIN

With regard to the photo of William Norton, Tom McCarthy and Ed Fitzgerald at the Labour rally, recently published, further information reveals that the photo was taken in May, 1952.
