The Review then stresses that the full and proper use of the nation's research and development facilities is essential to achieving national social and economic objectives. The recearch and development facilities is essential to achieving national social and economic objectives. The recearch and development facilities should provide, intervalla, bauc data required for planning identification and realitations of the opinions available, assistance in the effective 'implementation of plans, mornitoring, of progress of plans, and an indication of where adjustments might be necessary.

Now all this might sound somewhat far-fetched especifically to the ordinary person and indeed it does sound like something that can possibly necessary.

It pointed out what a great asset these will prove to night-time motorists, especially in the winter months ahead and minimal that in addition to the white reflectors there had also appeared a number of green ones. These occur only in the distant buture when we have all based on But the projections which have been mentioned above are forecast to become realities by the year 2000 and that in only 17 years away!

Minor Footballers Good Enough To Beat Tipp.

TICKETS

The minor football Munster semi-final between Waterford and Tipperary at Dungarvan on this Friday evening, takes pride of place on a rather crowded programmo arranged for the week-end in the West.

As will be seen from our fixtures list, the Western Board has about a dozen matches in championship and league and while all these will provide interest and excitement for the teams and supporters involved, it seems fairly safe to predict in the frahe on Sunday evening at the Fraher field, will provide the highlights of the week-end programme.

WATERFORD v. TIPPERARY

According to well informed sources close to the team, we TEACHERS COURSE

Bugha Place, and John Cumbiniss. 25 Cathal Brugha Places, are both charged with stealing the gatvanised iron the property of William Harty, and Cumbinis was additionally charged with receiving £70 worth of it knowing it to have been stolen. The court was told by William Harty and Brugha Places was charged with receiving £60 worth of the iron knowing it to know been stolen. The court was told by William Harty that he removed the galvanise from a roof on June 11 and jeft it.—in the yard of Mr. Jack Curran's house. One week later when he returned thirty-eight sheets of it were insisting, all of them specially was shown one of the sheets at Dungarden Garda Tady he was shown one of the sheets at Dungarden Garda Station which be identified as his.

Detective Garda Tady Mee Malife told of going to the load of going to the load of the property of the pass of the present of the provident of the provident of the form the section of Country and the arrangements have been working even working a prace in a second manufact of the past couple of years would be the provident to the past output for the past couple of years would be a possible to the team, we have some that the expense of the galvanise from a roof on June selectors in the grade trayelled with the provident of th oge.

On paper it looks a good side—
all the players have been well and truly tried and all have adult football experience. With everything going so well and home ground advantage, we should be good enough to beat Tipperary. We must, however, guard against overconfidence.

MOUNT SION WINNERS

Congratulations to Cnoe Sion on winning their division of reile Na Gael at Croke Park and keeping the county flag proudly flying in the under 14 hurling grade. Mount Sion won ait their preliminary games and were sortly disappointed when their opponents. St. Finans (Laois, were disqualified, because of their failure to trake part in the traditional Felic parade. It is one of the standard rules of the competition that finalists as well as the others must parade. Judging by their respective standards in the early rounds. Mount Sin were favourities, and so they were bilderly disappointed when they were awarded a walk-over or the final stage.

DUNGARVAN SEA ANGLING NOTES

A little piece of Irish sea ed to capture both these big angling history was made last Saturday when, for the very lifest time, a Waterford competitor, won the coveted Shalimar Cup for the All-Ireland Ladies Boat Angling Championship,
The history-maker was Ann Walsh of Waterford City, but a member of the Dungarvan short of the past time years.

I And a more emphatic winner there could not have been.
Ann's excellent fishing yield-de ther a points total of 87, this demension, also of our own club. And to complete a truly memorable clean sweep another Dungarvan SAC member, Donna Hackett, finished in third place on 71 points.

The best placed of the visiting anglers was Monkstown's Valerie O'Donovan, just one point behind Donna Hackett in fourth place.

The competition, overall, was Dungarvan — dominated, and "home" anglers with the exception of the club's own Flapper competition on Sunday. There was an entry of 40-plus and it exceeded our most optimistic expectations.

The presentation ecramony at the Goal Coast—the sponsoring company—was graced by the presence of the Minister for Agriculture, Austin Deasy, who was formally welcomed first by club P.R.O. fred Forsey, and subsequently by our Chairman Maurice Dee.

The honour of crowning the Outer Of The Sea," which was held in conjunction with the Shalimar Cup went to the Minister and he did the honours for the winner—Ann Walsh, for whom the day provided a notable double.

Matrice Dee spoke of the great honour it was for the did the honours are the winner—Ann Walsh, for whom the day provided a notable double.

Matrice Dee spoke of the great honour it was for the dubt to host two such outstanding competitions on the one day. He extended a particular warm welcome to all the competitors, and said they were very honoured to have the Minister for Agriculture at the presentation ecramony. He also thanked their generous sponsors. Gold Coast Holidays Ltd., and of Ann Walsh, said there could not have been a more popular winner.

The Minister also spoke and said the honour was his to be present. He lauded the tremendous work the Dungarvan SAC was doing in promoting the town as a fishing mecca, and stated that sea angling clubs, in Ireland, Long may sthey continue that work. Mr. Densy said, Ann Walsh, as the victor spoke, and said she was delight.

Germany always accepted the role of heavy not contributor to the budget because of the benefit gwhich it has gained through free trade for industrial goods, and the same could apply to Britain, but because Britain is a relatively poor country at the moment it has been agreed for the past three years that she should get a refund of part of the difference between what is collected from and what is spent on the UK.

Allied to the problem of Britain's refund was the question of increasing the Community's own resources, by raising the present celling on the VAT rate from I per cent to 1.4 per cent and propressively more as the need arises. The Community budget is running into difficulties which can only be solved by increasing revenue or outling expenditure. The latter course would lead to disruption of the CAP, and was not acceptable to those countries, including Ireland, with conomies heavily dependent on agriculture. THREAT TO C.A.P. STILL REMAINS SAYS I.C.M.S.A. PRESIDENT

Contrary to what the Taoiseach, Dr. Pitzgerald may try to imply there is no evidence in the reports following the Council of Europe meeting that the threat to the basic principles of the GAP has been removed. It would be an unforgivable mistake if we in Ireland were to underestimate the determination of some member States to dismantle the CAP and return to a situation of national agricultural policies financed dircultural policies hnancing.

It is hoped by member States like Ireiand, which depend heavily on agriculture, that these negotiations will lead to provision of regional and social behavior of the recession, rather than dustrial areas which are the high serious problems as a result of the recession, rather than cut-back in expenditure on the CAP at a time when agriculture is also facing severe problems.

dustry."

Mr. Kelly added that the Taoiseach should copy the firm stand of Mrs. Thatcher and so ensure that an unacceptable situation is not forced on the agricultural sector in this country. While no one can object to adoptions to the CAF Ireland should let it be known to all member States that it will use its veto to resist any undermining of the basic principles of the CAP.

A determined effort to bring some semblance of order to Irreland's horticultural sector has been taken by the Irish Farmers' Association. Up to now horticulture has been the poor cousin in the agricultural industry. The result has been chaos! KEEPING AN EYE ON THE COMMON AGRICULTURAL POLICY

Everyone in agriculture, agri-business, politics and for this country, the general economy, will be keeping a close cye on the future of the Common Agri-cultural Policy. The Common Agricultural Policy was the greatest enticecultural Policy.

The Common Agricultural Policy was the greatest enticement held out by the original EEC members to Ireland becoming a member.

Today, the entire working of the Common Agricultural Policy is under examination. It is of paramount Importance to Irish farmers. So it is only natural that Ireland's largest farmers' organisation, IPA, should have the re-examination and any remaination and any remaination are a constant when the Heads of EEC States met in Stattgart recenty, John Smith, IFA's man who covers not just the Brussels EEC scene, but also the operations of the European Parliament, was there.

The French have dominated the farm scene in Brussels for years. So it was a change to see too French livestock farmers—members of their farmers' union—make a special visit to IFFA Hendquarters in Dublin. There the properties of their farmers' union—make a special visit to IFFA Hendquarters in Dublin. There was a special visit to IFFA Hendquarters in Dublin. Scan O'Neill, Secretary of IFFA's National Livestock Committee reports that the French were astounded at the 48% decline in the Irish bed cow herd since 1974. We explained this was due to lack of effective production incentives and weak market support for helfer beef. In an effort to restore a better balance between milk and beef production in the EEC Community it was unanimously agreed that the EEC beef cow retendion premium be increased to the same levels at the increased to the same levels at the EEC community. One of the major achievements of the EBC's Disadvantaged Areas Scheme is that it gives farmers much needed cash for the country so far, have missed out on being classified as disadvantaged areas.

But they can now rectify that position. Sam Harper, Chairman of IFA's National Rural Development Committee has this advice for such areas: "Getyour applications in immediately to the Department of Agriculture."

GARAGE REPAIRS TO COST LESS From July 1st 1983

CARS REPAIRS TO COST LESS — BUT ONLY IN REGISTERED OUTLETS!

It is very rarely nowadays that we have the pleasure to bring you news of a large price reduction. But now, thanks to the persistent offorts of the Motor Trade on behalf of themselves and their clients, the Minister for Finance has seen fit to reduce the rate of VAT on repair work (both spare parts and labour) from the former punitive rate of 23% to a new low rate of 5%. This reduction, however, will only apply to work carried out by V.A.T. registered workshops. The person who buys parts over the counter for DIY % or for fitting by a nixer mechanic will still pay 23%. The effect of this is to put the legitimate trader at a positive financial advantage over his part-time computitors.

The objective of this reduction is to promote road safety and protect omployment in the Motor Industry by encouraging motorists to have their cars serviced properly and regularly by an established professional garage. We believe that most motorists would profer to get a professional job done but are often put off through fear of the cost. But by giving the registered trader an effective 18% advantage on the Spare Parts (generally the biggest slice of any repairs bill), you can now pay less and still have the security of knowing that the job is done right.

SPARF CHEAPER TOR!

SPARE PARTS ARE CHEAPER TOO!
In addition to the VAT reduction on spare parts fitted as part of a repair job, we are also happy to tell you that the third phase of the EEC reduction in excise duty on motor parts took place on June 1st. The duty now stands at 25% compared with 37½% twelve months ago.

Of the 38 matches played 17 were at home where we remainded unbeaten which in itself was a remarkable achievement. This added to the previous seasons two defeats in 15 matches, shows we have only been beaten twice in 32 matches over two seasons. Our home performances last season were a big factor in the wimning of the league champtonship.

As far as goals are concerned we secured a massive 122 goals, which is well over 3 per game. The season were a big factor in the winning of the league champtonship.
