A SERIOUS SITUATION

The increase in criminal activities and the gradual break-down of law and order in the West Waterford area was highlighted at a discussion which took place at a special meeting of Waterford County Council last Monday. Members who participated in the debate pulled no punches and many of the statements must surely give rise to alarm. It was obvious from these that robberies are widespread throughout the entire area and that in many instances, people in rural districts, especially those of the older generation, are living in fear.

When requests were made in the past for the restoration of the Garda strength to previous levels in places like Lismore, Tallow, Ballyduff and Ballymacarby, the usual reply from the Garda authorities was that they were satisfied that existing policing arrangements in these areas, with the assistance of the mobile unit from Dungarvan, were adequate.

The statements made by many County Councillors, who must be recognised as responsible members of the community, at last Monday's meeting leave no doubt whatever in indicating that this view is no longer correct and that a fresh assessment of the position will have to be made. The situation must now be recognised as serious and steps will have to be taken without further delay to combat this increase in lawlessness and to ensure that West Waterford does not continue to remain, as one member of the Council described it, "a paradise for criminals."

SIGNS OF WINTER'S APPROACH

The near approach of Winter and the probable onset of the Autumn equinoctial gales were indicated to me last Monday morning when I saw many yachts and motor launch owners in Dungarvan busy taking their craft from the water and removing them to the safety of dry land berths for the winter period.

The yachts and launches have been moored in the inner harbour and up the Western Bay throughout the summer. On Monday morning at high tide they were brought to the quayside and lifted holus bolus by a big crane specially engaged for the purpose. They were prepped on trailers and then removed to their various winter quarters.

DUNGARVAN SOLICITOR IN RAIL CRASH INQUIRY

One of the big stories of the week in the national media was the dramatic ending of the public inquiry into the Cherryville (Co. Kildare) rail crash in Dublin when an official from the State Solicitor's Office interrupted the proceedings to announce that the driver of the Galway train involved in the crash, Mr. Peter Brady, was to be arrested and charged with manslaughter. Mr. Brady was subsequently arrested and appeared on a manslaughter charge at Dublin District Court and was remanded on bail.

Mr. Hill who now has his own law practice in Dublin is son of Mrs. Fran Hill of Hill's Chemists, Dungarvan, and Clonea Road, Abbeyside and of the late David Hill, MP.

SAFER THAN CROSSING THE STREET

In the recent summer when holidays were in the air and many people were planning to fly to far-away places, I heard many of the would-be travellers express fears of varying degrees about their personal safety in a plane which it took off from terra firma until it landed at its destination.

But expert sources which I have been examining in recent weeks claim that flying in an aeroplane is safer than crossing the street or being in a car (especially when driven by some would-be rally drivers). Despite this, however, a lot of people suffer anxiety when they have to fly. It can range from a relatively straightforward simple anxiety to feelings of panic with the person concerned becoming fearful as long as weeks before a flight. According to one of the medical sources which I came across on the subject, there are said to be 25 million Americans afraid of flying!

A simple anxiety, especially if it is occurring in somebody who is making just an isolated return flight can, according to a recent article on the subject which I read, be dealt with by the prescription of a minor tranquilliser. Severe anxiety occurring in a businessman who has to fly to a lot as part of his job or, even worse, as a pilot himself, needs more radical desensitisation treatment.

That means, according to the article, people are taught to be able to cope by discussing their fear and by sifting a simulated aircraft with simulated engine noise, while relaxation tapes are played.

As to the safety of flying, compared with other means of transport, one doctor expert stated recently that car drivers were six times more likely to be killed than a passenger on a scheduled airliner!

One other aspect of flying which I came across in my research concerned jet lag and those for whom this is more important than thoughts of accidents or panic attacks. The insomnia and generally poor performance associated with jet lag is thought to be due to a disturbance in the body's rhythmical 24-hour functioning.

A hormone produced by part of the brain during the night may provide the answer to this problem and animal experiments on the resynchronisation of the particular bodily rhythm concerned are at present proceeding. In due course, as a result, it may become as routine to take this hormone before certain journeys as it now is to take a travel-sickness remedy.

SEEKING RELATIVES

Mrs. Mary D. Waters, 34 Main Street, Framingham, Mass. 01701, USA, has been corresponding with Cllr. R. A. Walsh, Chairman, Dungarvan Council, in an effort to contact some relatives of hers who formerly lived in the Dungarvan area. They have now asked us to come to their assistance by publishing the facts in our column in the hope that this would result in achieving the contact which they have, so far, failed to make.

Mrs. Waters is daughter of the late Margaret Dalton whose maiden name was Boyle, and Margaret Dalton was sister of the late Bridget Downey (nee Boyle) formerly of Woodhouse, Ballinacult. The latter was mother of Rev. Fr. Bobby Downey of the Salesian Order. (We hope this is not becoming too complicated as it is meant to put readers into the picture as to Mrs. Waters' background.)

In the course of her letters to Cllr. Walsh, Mrs. Waters states that she is publishing a book in memory of her father and she is adding to it the genealogy of the Dalton and Ahearn families, also part of the family tree. When the book is published she wishes to send a copy of it to second cousins of her in Ireland, but it is here that the snag arises. We let her tell about it herself as we quote from one of her letters: "We do not know the address as we haven't heard from them in many years. Their names are John J. Powers and Lily Powers. That could be Power in Ireland. I also think that Lily must have been a nickname or something like that. The last time anyone heard from them, John J. Powers was living in Dungarvan but we don't know whether he ever got married. We know that Lily Powers had moved to Co. Cork or it could be Tipperary. By this time they would be around 70 years old."

And that is the sum total of the information at the writer's disposal. If there should be anyone who reads these paragraphs who might have any clue as to the whereabouts, now or at any time in the recent past, of John J. Lily, they could contact Cllr. Walsh or indeed your truly who will only be too glad to pass on any information that might surface on the situation as a result of this publicity.

IVY DAY 1983

Sunday next, October 2, is Ivy Day, the 92nd anniversary of the death of Charles Stewart Parnell, the uncrowned King of Ireland.

At 12 (noon) on Sunday, a wreath will be laid and the memory of "The Chief" will be honoured at his grave in Glasnevin Cemetery, Dublin.

A short address on Parnell will be given by Mr. Joe Moore, Chairman of the PMPA Group, immediately after the wreath-laying ceremony at the graveside.

All who wish to assemble, and in this way pay silent tribute of honour to Parnell's memory, are welcome.

By arrangement with the Department of Fisheries and Forestry, the home of Parnell at Avondale House, Rathdrum, Co. Wicklow will be open to the public on the afternoon of Ivy Day from 2 p.m. to 5 p.m.

Charles Stewart Parnell (1846-1891), a young Protestant landowner was born in Avondale House, a comfortable country mansion. For a while partner of Michael Davitt, he was later President of the Land League, an elected member of the Westminster Parliament and statesman extraordinary. Involved in a situation which ruined his career, he died of a broken heart at the early age of 45 years.

What more appropriate choice then for the pallad corner this week than "Avondale" as our tribute to a man who, but for what happened, might have changed the history of this country in subsequent times?

Oh, have you been to Avondale, And lingering in its lovely vale. Where tall trees whisper and know the tale Of Avondale's proud eagle. Where pride and ancient glory fade. So was the land where he was laid. Like Christ was thirty pieces paid For Avondale's proud eagle. Long years that green and lovely vale Has nursed Parnell, her grandest Gael. And curse the land that has betrayed Fair Avondale's proud eagle.

COUNTY COUNCIL CO-OPTION DATE FIXED

At their special meeting in Dungarvan last Monday members of Waterford Co. Council unanimously agreed to a proposal made by Senator Katherine Bulbulia that the Council fix Monday, October 10, as the date for the co-option of a member to fill the vacancy on the Council and also on the County and City Intirmary caused by the recent resignation of Mr. Eddie Collins, T.D., Minister of State at the Department of Industry and Energy.

West Waterford Now A Paradise For Criminals Says Co. Councillor

There had been an alarming increase in the number of robberies throughout West Waterford in recent years, said Cllr. Willie McDonnell, Tallow, at a special meeting of Waterford Co. Council in Dungarvan last Monday when he proposed a motion that the Council request the Garda Superintendent to have Gardaí on duty for extra hours in the Tallow/Knockmore area throughout the year and to have members of the force on special duty for the duration of Tallow Festival week.

Describing his motion as an important one, Cllr. McDonnell said that he had had it down because cars were now being stolen, not for drink but for cash—and the latest thing was diesel oil was being stolen from farmers. All this was most frightening for old people who private property was no longer safe. "If any of these people call on you at night," said Cllr. McDonnell, "you have no way out but to give them what they want!"

He then went on to tell of what he described as a brutal robbery in the Tallow area on the night before the Tallow Fair. This was carried out by a gang believed to be from the Cork area. "They came in and stole a Mercedes car and drove around the town and broke into six local bars, and robbed some of them in the early morning while people were still walking around the streets," he said.

Cllr. McDonnell went on to say that subsequently the car was found in a field outside Ballynary in Co. Cork, undamaged, with two crowbars and other iron bars left in it by the gang.

The most disturbing fact about all this, he said, was that there was no Garda on duty in Tallow that night and a person who phoned the Dungarvan Garda barracks was told that the Squad car was out at the time and there was a delay before it eventually arrived.

"The situation is so serious now in this area and the other regions of West Waterford" he added, "that we must now ask the Superintendent and other senior Garda officers to attend a meeting of the Council to discuss this entire matter."

MUST BE STOPPED

Cllr. C. O. Rahn seconded, spoke of the increasing number of occasions on which robberies had taken place in his area of Ballymacarby and said that only on the previous Friday night an expensive car had been stolen in Glasha. "The entire of West Waterford is up and down for them," he said. "Garda is concerned," he said and added, "something drastic will now have to be done to put an end to this terrible position once and for all. We have read about this break-down in law and order in Dublin and other cities in the past but now it is happening here on our own doorstep. It must be stopped and we will have to shout out loud if we want someone in authority to take action."

Cllr. P. Kennedy blamed the District Justice for imposing only light sentences on these criminals when they were convicted. He said that the Continental type of justice where a person is presumed guilty until he is proved innocent should be adopted here as many of the crimes were committed by criminals while out on bail. Because of our legal system, law and order was breaking down all over the country, he said.

The Chairman, Cllr. Pat Coffey said there was no doubt but that lawlessness was spreading more widely all over and this was probably due to the fact that the Garda force was undermanned and because of this shortage the Superintendent's hands were tied.

VIGILANTE GROUPS

Cllr. James A. Walsh thought the Chairman had pinpointed the problem and he suggested that to overcome this position local residents in each area should come together to help the Gardaí.

Cllr. Jimmy Quirke said that with overtime payments for Gardaí ruled out, criminals knew exactly when and where to strike. "West Waterford is wide open for them," he said.

Cllr. Mrs. N. Armstrong said there were not enough Gardaí to police the huge area from Dungarvan to Knockmore and down to Youghal Bridge. "As a result," she said, "West Waterford is a paradise for criminals."

The Council then unanimously adopted Cllr. McDonnell's motion and further agreed to request the Garda Superintendent and other senior officers of the force to attend a meeting of the Council to discuss the entire problem of law enforcement in the West Waterford area.

MINISTER AT DUNGARVAN RAM SHOW AND SALE
The Minister for Agriculture and Senior Deputy for the Constitution, Mr. Austin Deasy, J.D., paid a visit to the annual show and sale of Bluefaced Mountain Rams held by the Co. Waterford Sheepbreeders Association at Dungarvan Mart on Wednesday of last week. Some 100 sheep were sold. Mr. Deasy, on his arrival at the mart, was given a rousing welcome by the big number of sheep farmers who were attending the show and sale.

Mr. Jimmy O'Grady, Chairman and Mr. Billy Wall, Vice-Chairman of the Association welcomed the Minister on behalf of their members and also present were members of the Mart board, Mr. Dan Byrne, Mr. Pat McHugh, Mr. Tommy Joe Hurty, Mr. Michael Kieley and Mr. Pat Harly.

Mr. Deasy told the farmers that he was delighted to have been able to reintroduce the ram premium scheme to an industry now worth £50 million a year to the country.

"By its introduction," he added, "it is able to help, at times, to help my own constituents."

The biggest ovation of the occasion however was reserved for a comment made by one of the Mart's most popular and best-known employees Mr. Martin Duggan. When the Minister reminded his sheep farming audience that it was not all that

Champions Stradbally Crash To Ferrybank

FERRYBANK 1-8; STRADBALLY 1-5

Senior football champions Stradbally were sent crashing to their pedestal at Frater Field, Dungarvan, on Sunday last by Ferrybank who scored a three-point win over the championship favourites in what proved to be a rather disappointing semi-final. The damp fog which enveloped the venue added to Stradbally's gloom as they tramped dejectedly from the field, their hopes of another senior crown crushed. But on the day they will have to admit that the better team won.

Standard was the game was a disappointment but it was fought out with true championship fervour, which compensated for the lack of the finer skills. It was a game in which both sides were on their feet for long periods, particularly in the first half when the sides scored only a brace of points each. Stradbally have been favoured by the strong breeze in this period and things looked really ominous for them as they faced the wind in the second half.

Linking out at full strength the champions failed to produce the power packed football which annihilated Clushmore in the quarter final, while Ferrybank had shown a rare appetite for the game up to this, fighting grimly for every ball. Stephen Breen at centre back for Ferrybank had had a storming first half, marshalling the defence and completely silencing Stradbally's danger man Eoin O'Brien.

Breen continued to be the dominant figure on the field in the second half — the first ten minutes of which were tense and close as each side probed to expose the others' weaknesses. Ferrybank were getting the better of the exchanges, marginally, and had edged into a

O'Brien, Pat Curran and Sean Ahearn. Scorers: Ferrybank — J. O'Meara 1-0, F. Hayden and L. Murphy 0-2 each, P. O'Meara, J. Hayden, T. O'Meara and D. Jacob 0-1 each, Stradbally — S. Ahearn 1-1, E. O'Brien 0-2, P. Curran and J. Keane 0-1 each.

Ferrybank — P. Forrester, J. Kelly, K. Heffernan, L. McEvoy, J. O'Meara, S. Breen, S. Ahearn, J. O'Neill, D. Jacob, P. Sean Ahearn. Ahearn blasted the ball past Paule Forrester in the Ferrybank goal to inch the champions ahead at a vital stage. Rather than being demoralised by this score, however, Ferrybank were stung into action and spurred on by Stephen Breen they launched a series of attacks on the Stradbally goal. It was ironic however, from Stradbally's viewpoint that the goal which they scored just two minutes after Stradbally's major should happen the way it did. It came from a long drive from Eoin O'Brien on the wing. The ball bounced over the heads of backs and forwards and keeper Kieran Heffernan, who had made some fine saves up to this, was completely deceived by the bounce and the ball ended up in the back of the net.

LOCAL WINNER AT LISTOWEL

Dungarvan cheers rang out at Listowel Race Festival on Wednesday last week when the young Killy trained Springs Approach owned by Dungarvan Vet. Mr. Nicky Connors and ridden by Paddy Killy showed a full appreciation for the soft going in the opening race on the card, the John McKenna Hurdle of £1,600, and raced away an eight lengths winner. Returned at 10/1 Springs Approach took the lead at the start from home and was never really troubled by rivals.

FOILED BY DOUBLE
The Killy stable was just foiled by a double when Mr. John Sheehar's Brickey Ranger (4/1) failed by only a head to master the gambled on by Gay Adam (from 4/1 to 2/1) favourite in the second division of the same race.

T. J. Talle on Gay Adam had to pull out all the stops in the closing stages to hold off the challenge of Brickey Ranger with Paddy Killy up which was a losing with every stride as they neared the line and just managed to stay in front by the narrowest of margins.

ANDY THE WINNER
Paddy Killy rode another winner on the closing day of the festival on Friday when he steered Cashla Bay (1/9) to a facile six lengths win in the second division of the maiden hurdle. Afterwards Paddy reported that Cashla Bay had jumped like a stag. "He jumped like a stag," he said.

OIL FLOW OFF WATERFORD COAST NEXT YEAR?

Gulf oil and its partners have speeded up their plans for the further appraisal of the oil field off the Waterford coast and are to drill through the winter, starting next month, with the aim of producing oil from the block next year.

The change of plans takes place against a background of recent discussions with the Government. Early commercial production of oil from the field is hoped for by the consortium as a result of the changes.

Reliable sources have confirmed that Gulf Oil is considering plans to produce oil from the block as early as next year. At present the company has a 15-strong team of petroleum engineers and geologists working on the Waterford project at its exploration headquarters in Houston, Texas, as well as a five-man technical team operating in Dublin.

TO SAVE MONEY
By drilling from the old location to a spot almost a mile away, Gulf aims to save money by drilling a well that will serve the dual purpose of proving the existence of additional reserves of oil as well as operating as a producer along with the hole completed in August. By next Spring the consortium could thus have two wells adjacent to each other capable of producing oil at a possible rate of over 20,000 gallons per day.

With an early production system, such a flow rate from the Waterford hole could satisfy more than 20 per cent of the country's daily oil requirements of about 60,000 barrels of oil per day.

No deal concerning production, taxation, royalty rates or the amount of Government equity in the field had been made with the State. Such a deal would require the drawing up of final production plans, which are only at a tentative stage at present.

DUNGARVAN G.A.A. NOTES

BIDDING FOR A SECOND COUNTY TITLE
With the minor hurling title already in safe keeping, we bid for a second county on this Friday afternoon when the Under-15 footballers meet De La Salle in the "A" final at the Frater Field 3.30.

Thanks to a superb victory over Abbeyside in the Western final we bid for further glory in this particular grade, but in De La Salle we meet very worthy opponents who will in fact enter the fray as firm favourites.

The role of outsiders is one that will suit Dermot Callaghan and his players however, and if every player displays the commitment and determination which saw us recover from a disastrous start in the Western final then there's a sporting chance of further championship glory coming our way on Saturday.

These boys have done us proud in winning out in the West against all the odds, so they are deserving of all the support we can now give them. Let their scores be heard in the Frater Field as the team leaves the West against all the odds, so they are deserving of all the support we can now give them.

UNDER-21 "LOCAL DERBY"
It's a busy championship weekend for us, and on Sunday it's back to the Frater Field for the Under 21 hurling "local derby" against Abbeyside.

To date this year we've had very much the better of championship matters with our old rivals, so the Vikings can expect to be pulled out of the stops here. Our selectors are in something of a dilemma, because while the Western final football final against Stradbally on Sunday week they will have to decide whether or not to risk a number of the Under 21s against Abbeyside.

There are two schools of thought as to what should be done, but if the minors are played it will raise the issue of the starting time is 2 p.m. and all members of the panel are asked to be at the venue at 1.30 p.m.

JUNIOR HURLERS BEATEN
An excellent championship run for the junior hurlers came to an abrupt end at Frater Field last Saturday evening when they were comprehensively beaten by the reigning divisional champions Colligan Rockies in the quarter final.

The concession of soft first half goals did not help our cause, but we cannot and do not use those as an alibi for our defeat. On the night the Rockies were the undoubted masters and they are the side all the remaining title contenders now have to beat.

IMPORTANT AGENDA
The agenda for the club committee meeting on this Thursday night (8 o'clock) is one of the most important for a long time, so it behoves every member to be present. Some crucial decisions are going to have to be made, so absenteeism is something we can do without at this particular meeting.

Kilrossanty Through To Senior Football Final

KILROSSANTY 0-12, TALLOW 1-3

Kilrossanty qualified for their first senior football county final since 1964 when they scored a decisive victory over Tallow in an entertaining semi-final clash at Frater Field, Dungarvan, on Sunday last.

Open, fluent football was a feature of the game and while Tallow were well beaten in the end their battling spirit kept one guessing whether or not they could sneak the elusive goal which would have thrown the game wide open. Consequently the interest of the huge attendance was held until it became obvious that the sides were beyond the bridesmaids' reach.

Kilrossanty looked awesome in the opening stages as they raced into an 0-4 to nil lead. At this stage they looked to be on the way to a runaway win and when they built on this lead to leave them seven points clear (0-8 to 0-1) with five minutes of the half remaining things looked really bleak for Tallow.

To their credit, however, they kept plugging away and Stephen Curley's goal following a blunder by Kilrossanty keeper, Noel Walsh, left the issue wide open at the interval with the Comeragh side 0-5 to 1-1 ahead. The sides swapped points twice in the third quarter but no further score was registered until the 50th minute when scored a decisive victory over Tallow in the game. In between, a lapse of concentration by Kilrossanty allowed a period of Tallow supremacy but for once their stars in attack failed to glow and quite a number of chances were missed.

Their forwards were goal hungry but, over elaboration in their play saw many a good move break down but the possibility of them getting a goal remained a live prospect. Time ran out for them, however, and Kilrossanty deservedly got through to their first final in nineteen years.

It was a good performance by Kilrossanty but something that must have been a cause for concern to their mentors was the manner in which they won and when they built on this lead to leave them seven points clear. This lack of concentration might have proved very costly had Tallow been in the same form as when they defeated Ring in the quarter final.

The best player on the day was full forward Tom Keating who scored six of their points. Others to play well were Jimmy Frater, Pa Walsh, Pat Keating, Pierre White, Michael Walsh, John Mulnearne and Nick Hayes.

ANDY HEARNE, LIAM O'BRIEN, PAUL DALY, KIERAN RYAN, JOHN FITZGERALD, TIMMY SHEEHAN AND CONNIE CURLEY all tried their luck but failed to find their rhythm.

An interesting statistic from the game was the fact that of the total of 1-15 scored, only one point came from a free, this was Kilrossanty's first point in the second half, scored by Pierre White after sixty seconds.

Scorers: Kilrossanty — T. Keating 0-6, P. White 0-2, J. Mulnearne 0-2, M. Walsh 0-2, Tallow — S. Curley 1-0, M. Curley 0-2, C. Curley 0-1.

Kilrossanty: N. Walsh; M. Frater, Pa Walsh, J. Foley, M. Tobin, P. Keating, P. Quinn, G. Walsh, P. White, J. Mulnearne, M. Walsh, N. Hayes, P. Hayes, M. Keating, J. Tobin, Subs. — P. Connors for J. Tobin; T. Prendergast for J. Foley.

SCOUT ACTIVITIES A number of scouts were down in the den during the week giving a helping hand with the field development programme. D. Slattery, J. Whelan and L. Organ worked extremely hard although there was lots of orange and crisps consumed. Saturday night as usual we had our troop meeting. A lot of time was spent on knots this week. The timber hitch caused problems for everyone. Saturday night as usual we had our troop meeting. A lot of time was spent on knots this week. The timber hitch caused problems for everyone. INTER PATROL COMPETITION Last Sunday we ran the above competition in Glencheilly. The first item on the agenda was a building. The Panther Patrol made a good portable pot stand, the Wolfhound also designed a small table. The other patrols made airing cabinets. Firelighting and axeman-ship were next to be examined. M. Gosgrave and D. Cliffe seemed to do well digging their heels. The Lion Patrol under P. McGovern were one of the best at chopping and cutting with their axe and saw.
