CAN IT REALLY BE WORTH. THIS MUCH

The broadcasting of the Late Late Show from New York on Saturday, October 29 and a programme called "A Salue Robor to Irish Broadcasting" which will go out on the preceding it reliably stated, cost RTE between £20,000 and E250,000. The latter will consist of the presentation to the National Academy for felevision Arts (NATAS) of a compilation of RTE programmes by Gay Byrne Live mask will also be provided by both the Irish Youth Orchestra and the Chieftains who will be in the U.S. at the time.

A large part of the cost is understood to be due to the industrial way and indu will be set against advertising slots for the State airline on RTE. However, at a time of severe cutbacks at the station severe cutbacks at the station there is, it is reported, considerable resentment amongst staff it Donnybrook at what many regard as unnecessary and costentatious actraval gance. And of course viewers here, especially those in the areas where only RTE telecasts are received, will also feel aggrieved that so much of the money which they contribute in licence fees is spent in this in licence fees is spent in this fashion. By any standard a quarter of a million pounds is a great deal of money.

During the week the RTE Head of public relations, Mr. Louis McRedmond attempted to explain away the expenditure by saying that the occasion was an extremely important one from their point of view as they would be using it in an effort to sell a number of their own TV programmes to American stallons.

number of their own TV programmes to American stabilitions.

Perhaps so but is there a need for a coterie of big-wigs to travel out to New York for the occasion. The situation is so typically lirish and so like the foreign junkets which see hundreds of local representatives from Ireland fly out to seminars and conferences in such places as Boston, Lisbon or Tel Aviv when a handful would more than suffice. It seems that when the tab is being staken up-by Joe Soap everyone who can wants to get into the act!

It is a moot question whether the spending of up-to-a quarter of a million pounds on this New York project will bring a sales return to justify it.

THE LOWEST POINT

Lowest point in the Paddy Irish stant given in overseas publications to stories about the discovery of oil off Waterford was reached in a recent issue of "The Economist" a found for which should really know better.

The Economist commented "While the Irish sit in anticipation of news from Gulf, others are glaready joking about its. How many Irish does it take to drill an oil well? Answer, All of them, one to hold the derick and the rest to turn the country around."

Well if the latest forecasts come true, sources such as who laughs last laugh and he who laughs last laugh shale is a work and the rest to turn the country around."

Well if the latest forecasts come true, sources such as your proposed by the Minister following the latest raid on a Post-Office van at Carrighvo-hall last Friday in which any one to the last forecasts come true, sources such as a month of the last said and the way now as we may well have the last laugh and the who laughs last laughs best!

TOO MANY T.D.'s?

The list of Dail Deputies who made submissions to the Constituency Revision Commission which published the Report on its findings recently reads like a Who's Who of people who felt in danger of losing their seats if certain boundary changes were made.

plenty of ammunition for their arguments. It points out that under Article 16.2.2 of the Constitution, the total number of members of Dail Eireann shall not be fixed at less than one member for each 30,000 of the population or at more than one member for each 20,000.

The 1981 census showed the population to be 3.443,405. Dail membership could therefore be fixed at any number between 115 and 174. Under the Electoral Amendment Act of 1980 chairman of the RTE Authority. Mith Aer Lingus. Charges for air travel and accommodation will be set against advertising slots for the State airlier. RTE However severe

If the number had been fixed at the lower end of the scale, the saving to the country in Dail salaries alone would have been more than £700,000 a year (and expenses). And that's a sum not to be sneezed at!

THE COST OF ARMED

In the course of a Question Time session, in the Dail last July, the Minister for Justice was asked the total cost to the nation for the past tenyears of the armed secort service provided by the Garda Siochana for banks or other agencies requiring such services for the transport of cash consignments.

In his reply the Minister, Mr. Noonan, stated that the Garda Siochana provide armed protection both by way of escort and mobile patrol for a very considerable number of cash movements throughout the State on an almost daily basis. The cost of providing this particular service was not separately compiled and it would, he said, be extremely difficult and time-consuming to establish the cost of such escorts over the past ten years and it would be wasteful of scarce Garda resources to attempt to do so.

The Minister them went on

Litter Act Charge Against Fossett's Circus Fails

A decision which will be welcomed by Circus folk throughout the length and breadth of freland was handed down by District Justice W. F. O'Connell at Dungarvan Court last week when he upheld submissions made on behalf of and dismissed a charge under Section: for the Litter Act, 1882 brought by Waterford County Council against Fossett Brochers' Circus. St. Margaret Road. Malahide, Dublin. The charge concerned a poster displayed by the defendants on an ESB pole in a public place at Carrynageragh. Bailinroad on August 15. last advertising a performance by the Circus in Dungarvan on August 15. Mr. J. Curran, Solr., was for the Sounty Council and evidence for the complainants was given by Mr. Eamonn Mansfield a member of the Council's Engineering Staff.

Mr. Mansfield told the Court that on August 16, the day after the circus performance in Dungarvan. he saw the poster on the ESB pole at Garrynageragh.

geragh. Cross-examined by Mr. Barry St. John Bowman, Solr. Barry St. John Bowman, Solr. Barry Bowman and Co. Lucan. Co. Dublin: who appeared for the defendants, witness said that he believed that the poster was there for a couple of days after but he could not be certain of this.

Witness went on to say that shay had asked local Councils in the part of the posting facilities in providing facilities in the facilities

At this point. Mr. Bowman the added, "as it would go hard submitted that under Section 6, on me to impose a penalty on a 871 of the Act, the charge could not succeed as it concerned exempted development and as the posters concerned were within the required size, were selictaped and not glued and did not remain in position longer than 7 days as laid down.

VALID POINTS

Mr. Curcan then asked for a Price recess to enable him to On the question of expenses, WEXFORD S.A.C. Open shore, 23r cover all the outlay but it would go some of the way.

On the question of expenses, 2000 to 2400 hour cover all the outlay but it would go some of the way.

On the question of expenses,

Mr. Curran then asked for a brief recess to enable him to look into the points raised by Mr. Bowman and when the hearing resumed, Mr. Curran conceded the point as to the size of the posters but he maintained an offence had been committed as the defendants had no permission from the ESB takined an offence had been for country and it was more important than noney for them. The poles to use their poles.

District Justice O'Connell said that the points submitted by the defence were valid and on those grounds they were entitled to a dismiss. Tam glad to be able to dismiss this charge.

Mer'LL BE BACK

As he left the Court after the hearing, obviously in jubliant those grounds they were entitled to a dismiss. Tam glad to be able to dismiss this charge.

Plaintiff in evidence said that on the day in question he was turning into King Street from Sexton Street. He stopped his ear to allow an oncoming car to pass. He had his indicator on and looked into his wing mirror before making the turn and could see nothing behind him. He then noved across and was then struck from behind. His car got an awful bash into the back door on the driver's side. It was a motor eyells that struck him to got the struck him to be struck him to got the struck him to be struck him to got the struck him to be struck him to be struck him to be struck him to got the struck him to be struck him to got the struck him to dischipt to be to pick him up. He asked the motor-eyelist in he was hur; and whether he need ad a doctor.

Witness added that later, the defendant had come to him "10 fix it up" but he refused as the gardai had said that it was the defendant who was in the wrong on the occasion.

With Ryan and Beocher caught for speed the Water-ford goal had come under pressure on several occasions, and but for the skill and craft of McGrath's covering. Laois might have got through for some more majors during the half.

The gale force winds and heavy underfoot conditions did not help either side. But Waterford, who had beaten Wexford in worse conditions, failed totally to come to grips with the elements.

Tomas Maher and Barry Power had contributed much to Waterford's cause at midtield during the half and had

We had a good turnout to our parade last Friday night even though the weather was not too kind. The famous for infamous for infamous for infamous for though the stage" is no more—last week one of our workers installed a light there for the first time and in future there will be no more grooning in the dark and things should be much easier to find. Now that things can be seen it should be kept tidy.

Last Thursday night we had another parents meeting where many new ideas saw the light of day Again we say thanks to all for the excellent attendance. We have a very large collection of photos in our archives but recontly we had a request for any photos from Monaster-ton Camp. red on Sunday last, October 16, at St. Joseph's Hospital, Dungarvan.

Con celebrated his 33rd birthday only a few months ago and although within but seven years of his century he had the heart and spirit of a young man street and spirit of a young and spirit of a young and street and spirit of a young and spirit of a young and spirit of a young and spirit of an almost left indide he was active and most left indidents which occurred in his boyhood days around his native Ardmore more than four score of years ago.

He was a thorough Irishman who answered the call during the fight for Irish freedom as a member of the Wast Wowel and the traditions of the past and left arraditions of the past and loved nothing better than to take about all these aspects of Irish life. He could rectle full poeras without a falter and up to quite recent times until his cyceight beam to fall was able to write pages of script in a clear and most legible manner. In many ways Con Downey was an inique man possessed of the past poems that he rectled for us entitled "Prove Yourself A Man," perhaps says it all about him in its last four lines:

VALLEY RANGERS A.F.C.

Valley had a disappointing 3-1 defeat at the hands of Kiileagh in Corna on Sunday last.

Played in a gale force wind, the amazing thing about the game was the fact that all four goals were scored against the wind.

In the first half Valley had the advantage of the wind and despite keeping Killeugh in their own half for most of it they failed to make any clear their came forward were looked inpressive and the second after twenty minutes in a goalmouth scrambie. Pat Murphy having saved the ball but failing to hold on the second after thirty-five minutes and added the third on the stroke of half-time.

The visitors accord the second after the minutes against the wind. For the remainder of the game the visitors had most of the play but failed to score.
