PENSMAN TAKES YOU behind the SPOTLIGHT

ALWAYS A PROBLEM

The continuing plight of the travelling people was again highlighted at last week's meeting of Waterford County Council when objections were voiced to the proposal to locate an itinerant halt close to Dungarvan Mart and a proposal was placed before the Council to designate trading areas under the Casual Trading Act for Cappoquin and Tramore to curtail the activities of casual traders in these towns.

The whole problem of travelling people and itinerants is a complex one and one which it appears will continue to exist. In the first instance the question must arise as to who are the genuine itinerants and who are the fly-by-night businessmen and traders on the run from the taxman who have generally opted out of the society they live off.

The genuine traveller today is in a small minority of people who travel to different parts of the country providing various services when they stop and usually moving on after a few weeks. The majority of those generally classified as "travelling people" are, however, the "business" types who travel in 30,000 (plus) caravans and 37,000 (plus) Transit vans moving from here to there doing tarmacadam jobs, selling furniture and carpets and dealing in other areas, while avoiding tax but claiming Social Welfare and seeking donations from charitable organisations and institutions.

There is a genuine need for certain services in our society for a better deal for our itinerants and the result of this, in part, has been the proposal that local authorities throughout the country should provide serviced itinerant camps. It was as a result of the efforts of the County Manager and the local Urban Council to secure a suitable site towards this end in Dungarvan that the latest objections from the County Council have arisen.

It is quite understandable that no one wants to have itinerants planked at their front or back doors, or indeed for that matter anywhere within an ass's roar of them. That this attitude is so general and widespread has resulted from the manner in which itinerants always reduce areas where they camp to absolute refuse dumps and leave a proliferation of litter, rags and latrines behind when they move off.

It was only on Thursday of last week that I saw such a "take-over" in full operation in the Dungarvan area. On the latest section of the new bypass road between Springmount and Kilrush to be opened, up to 40 caravans with cars and vans had moved in and were parked and camped along the road. Clothes lines were strung from the young trees which had been planted along the margins and all types of litter was profusely evident. It was quite clear that the group didn't give as much as a timber's curse for anyone outside their own group.

While this attitude prevails one cannot but be forgiven for wondering whether any concern at all should be shown to the travellers of this category. They will have to learn and must be made to see that if they claim, as a right, such facilities as serviced halts, they must, in turn, shoulder their responsibilities towards the settled community and must behave in a civilised, law-abiding manner.

JOINT TOURIST VENTURE

In a joint tourist venture which it is hoped will mutually benefit the participants, Waterford County Council, through its recently established tourism group, have joined with Kent County Council in

The Dungarvan Minor Football team who made history on Sunday last by completing the first ever minor County Championship double for the Club when they defeated eastern champions Clann na Gael in the County Final at the Fraher Field, Dungarvan. (Photo: Rory Wyley)

Jail Sentence For Dungarvan Man After Night Of Crime

A young Dungarvan man who went on a rampage of crime around Abbeyside and Dungarvan on the night of August 26 last was sentenced to ten months detention in St. Patrick's Institution, Dublin, when he was convicted on all charges brought against him at Dungarvan court by District Justice M. O'Reilly.

Derek Moroney (20), 22, Boranetra was charged that on August 26 he did damage amounting to £200 when he broke a stain glass window at the Parish Church, Dungarvan, and with stealing £50 the property of the Parish Priest, Very Rev. Dean Cassidy. He was also charged with taking a car aerial at New Line, Abbeyside, with unlawfully taking a car at St. Patrick's Terrace, Abbeyside, the property of Mr. John Feeney and with stealing a radio speaker from a car the property of Maurice Fraher at King Street, Dungarvan, on the same night. He was additionally charged with taking a car from South Terrace, Dungarvan on Friday night, October 7 without the consent of the owner, Mrs. Josephine Lynch and on Sunday night, October 10 with taking a car at Church Street, the property of Mr. Vincent Hayes.

Mr. E. P. King, Solicitor, who appeared for Moroney said that he was pleading guilty to all of the charges and not guilty to others.

STATEMENT CHALLENGED

Det. Garda C. Kiely gave evidence of arresting the defendant on October 26 and said that when charged with some of the charges the defendant replied that he had nothing to say.

Asked how he pleaded to the charges in respect of August 26, the defendant told District Justice O'Reilly that he was pleading not guilty to breaking and entering the Parish Church.

Det. Garda Kiely then stated that on September 1, at 4.30 p.m. at the Garda Station he invited Moroney to make a statement and he made a statement after caution.

At this stage Mr. King challenged the admissibility of the statement stating that although the defendant admitted to charges in it, it had been made by him as a result of a threat to "put him in jail."

Mr. King then cross-examined Det. Garda Kiely who denied that Moroney had been threatened in any way while in the Station. He admitted that Moroney had been locked in a cell for about ten minutes while a witness had to go out to make some enquiries. Moroney was not threatened that he would be kept there until he admitted the charges. He said that Moroney made the statement voluntarily to him when he returned.

Det. Garda McAuliffe gave evidence of being present in the Garda Station at the time Moroney was there. He said that Moroney did not appear to be in anyway upset. No threat was made to him and Moroney freely admitted breaking the window and taking the money.

Moroney was then called to the witness box and in evidence stated that Detective Kiely approached him on the street and asked him about the car aerial that had been taken. Witness said that he admitted this and he was then taken to the Garda Station. There he was questioned about the damage to the window at the church and the taking of the money and he denied this. One of the Garda's then came on into the cell and he was made take off his shoes. He said that he "hated cells." He locked the door and left him and after about five minutes witness said that he called them back and said "I done it." "But," witness then added, "I did not do it."

Replying to questions by Supr. M. English who prosecuted, witness agreed that he wouldn't call what had been said to him in the Station a threat but Det. Garda McAuliffe had said, "Ah, come on, if you don't tell us, we'll lock you up in a cell."

IS COMMITTEE OF AGRICULTURE NOW ONLY A "TALK SHOP?"

A letter from the General Council of Committees of Agriculture dealing with the present day role of Committees of Agriculture was read at a meeting of the Co. Waterford Committee held at the ACOT Offices in Dungarvan recently. In essence the letter pointed to the importance of Committees and said that they must play a more meaningful role for the future in developing agriculture at local level in conjunction with ACOT.

Mr. George T. Frost, C.A.O., said that briefly, as he saw it, the function of the Committee ideally was to see that the very best programme for educating and training farmers and the development of agriculture was drawn up and then to see that this was carried out.

Mr. J. Harty had other views and said that in essence the Committee was now only a talk shop as it no longer had any statutory function and had a budget of a mere £15,000 to distribute over 12 months.

The Chairman, Senator M. Queney said that a great deal of his service had been paid to agriculture but if anyone was serious about it they shouldn't be talking of cutting back on last year's budget as the Department had now done to the Committee. "With such a restricted amount of money at our disposal our hands are tied and we can't do very much now beyond just adding along," he said.

He added that as far as ACOT was concerned, the Committee was a laugh in regard to what they could do.

Mr. C. O. Riain said he would like to know what the real role of the Committee now was. "I don't know who were talking for now with the IFA, IGMSA, the ICA and all the others there," he said.

Mr. W. McDonnell, however, thought the Committee was more than a "talk shop" and believed that they had a major role to play in agriculture in the county.

Mr. J. A. Walsh expressed the view that constructive criticism would always assist the implementation of a programme and this was a thing that the members of the Committee could continue to do.

MORE PUBLIC LIGHTS NEEDED IN ARDMORE

Pointing out that it was a residential area which was involved and public lights were essential there and that he had been approached by the residents to raise the matter, Cllr. John O'Brien proposed a motion at a meeting of Waterford County Council in Dungarvan requesting the Council to provide public lighting in the townlands of Monea, Dysert, Ardcheasty and/or adjacent to the road from the Tower Hill, Rocky Road Junction to the New Line-Dawson's Road Junction at Rock House, Ardmore.

Mr. J. D. Hally, County Engineer said that he would look into the request and submit a report as to the cost to the next meeting of the Council.

DUNGARVAN NEIGHBOURS "RUNNING BATTLE" WINDS UP IN COURT

Deamond Delahunty, 61, Springfield, Dungarvan, pleaded guilty at Dungarvan Court to charges of assaulting John Mansfield at Castle Street, Dungarvan, on July 19 and with being drunk and disorderly on the occasion.

Supt. M. English who prosecuted stated that at 11.45 p.m. that night Garda Sweeney saw Delahunty push Mansfield against the tannery wall at Castle Street. Mansfield fell to the ground and Delahunty then kicked him. Garda Sweeney intervened and arrested the defendant and took him to the Garda Station.

Mr. J. P. Gordon, Solr. who appeared for the defendant said that Delahunty and Mansfield were next door neighbours who were involved in a running battle over trivial things for some time. On the morning of the assault they had a row over the cutting of a hedge and later that night they again met in a licensed premises in the town.

An argument again started and both then agreed to go to the Garda Station together to complain one another. "But," said Mr. Gordon, "they obviously didn't get there in time as Delahunty assaulted Mansfield." Mr. Gordon added that Delahunty had since apologised for the assault.

District Justice M. O'Reilly fined defendant £50 on the assault charge and £25 for being drunk and disorderly on the occasion.

I.F.A. CHIEF ECONOMIST CALLS FOR CLEAR COMMITMENT ON STRUCTURAL POLICY

"While the need for structural reform in Irish agriculture is widely accepted, it is very discouraging that the two main structural schemes, the farm modernisation scheme and the farm retirement scheme, have been suspended by the Government."

This was stated by Mr. Con Lucey, I.F.A. Chief Economist, in his Presidential address to the Annual Conference of the Agricultural Economics Society of Ireland.

Mr. Lucey said: "For well-known historical reasons, uneconomically small holdings predominate in Irish agriculture, particularly in the Western region, and this problem is further compounded by a very unfavourable age structure of farmers."

It is very much in the interests of the farming sector and the economy that a much greater proportion of Irish agriculture is put on a commercial footing for the future. Thus, much greater priority should be given to policies which would accelerate the pace of farm structural reform."

Referring to the type of structural reform measures necessary in the future, Mr. Lucey said: "The success of a structural reform package largely depends on the degree to which elderly farmers on low-output farms are encouraged to retire from farming, so that their land can be transferred through sale or lease to young modernising farmers. For a farm retirement scheme to be effective in the future, there must be improved economic incentives, and there must also be a greater element of selectivity in public policies aimed at this group of farmers."

The farm modernisation scheme should be revised so that development policies and incentives are aimed towards a much broader group of farmers than heretofore. This could be implemented through the implementation of a pre-development scheme which would enable low-income farmers to improve their farms and their incomes in steps, so that they can later present a development plan. The modernisation scheme should include special measures for the installation and establishment of young farmers. The level of investment aids should reflect actual investment costs."

He continued: "The implementation of the Commission's proposed quota/super levy system would have serious implications for farm modernisation and structural reform in Ireland. Given the structure of holdings and the soil and climatic conditions in much of Ireland, realistic alternatives to milk production are not available if income from farming is to be improved. In general, quotas favour farms and regions that are fully developed."

WEST WATERFORD NOTES
The AGM of Aglish Muinntir Na Tire was held in the Muinntir Na Tire Hall recently.

The election of officers was presided over by Mr. Kevin Higgins, Community Development Officer, Co. Wick, and consisted of: Chairman, Mr. Paul Beecher; Secretary, Mr. Paul Beecher; Treasurer, Mr. Paul Beecher; and Publicity Officer, Mr. Paul Beecher.

There was a good team effort, but particularly outstanding were Jim O'Donoghue, John Geary and Aidan O'Brien in the field. Phil Curry at centre forward and Pat Murphy at full forward.

Final score - Tallow 7-11 Ballyduff-Shamrocks 2-8.

On Waterford Hurling Team - Eddie Curley, Kieran Ryan and Michael Beecher were in the Waterford senior hurling team which was defeated by Limerick in their National League game last night at Limerick on Sunday.

Sympathy - Sincere sympathy is extended to the Ryan and Henley families on their recent sad bereavements.

Congrats. Ned - Congratulations to Ned Power in helping Kilsrossanty to win the senior football title on Sunday last. Ned is vastly experienced in preparing teams for county finals. We'll done Kilsrossanty on a memorable triumph. Also to Dungarvan on making it a minor double. (Well done lads).

TALLOW NOTES

MRS. JOSEPHINE RYAN, THE GRANGE, CURRAGLASS
The death has occurred of Mrs. Josephine (Becher) Ryan, The Grange, Curraglass, Co. Cork, widow of Frank Ryan the internationally famous tenor Mrs. Ryan in her 86th year was very much an individual in her own right. She came from an old farming community at Mountfair, Tallow with strong Republican and National connections.

A member of Cumann Na Mban in her younger days, she was very active running dispatches and giving shelter to republicans on the move through the country. Among those was Eamonn de Valera with whom she and her husband Frank had a life-long friendship.

She travelled America extensively with her husband on his concert tours and on different occasions met President Truman and President Eisenhower. In 1963 Josephine and Frank were guests at a garden party in Aras An Uachtairain given by President de Valera in honour of President John F. Kennedy.

The removal of the remains took place from "The Grange" to the Church of the Immaculate Conception, Tallow. Commemorative Mass took place after which the burial took place in the adjoining cemetery. Mass celebrated by the Rev. Fr. Paul Beecher (nephew).

She is survived by her sons Connie (Tallow), Frank (Mountfair) and Kevin ("The Grange"); daughter Mrs. Myra Roche, (Kilswaterbury), brother Mr. Frank Beecher (Australia), sisters, Mrs. Kathleen Thurler (Tallow) and Miss Anna Ryan (Tallow) and other relatives.

TALLOW G.A.A. NOTES
Tallow Quality For Under 21 Hurling Final - Tallow qualified very easily with an eighteen point win over Ballyduff-Shamrocks at Lismore on Sunday last. They led 3-4 to 0-7 at half time having played against the wind in a game that was a very entertaining affair. Tallow played in a very confident display and there was never any sign of a surprise result.

It was a surprise result to have Richie Ormonde did it well.

This was a good team effort, but particularly outstanding were Jim O'Donoghue, John Geary and Aidan O'Brien in the field. Phil Curry at centre forward and Pat Murphy at full forward.

Final score - Tallow 7-11 Ballyduff-Shamrocks 2-8.

On Waterford Hurling Team - Eddie Curley, Kieran Ryan and Michael Beecher were in the Waterford senior hurling team which was defeated by Limerick in their National League game last night at Limerick on Sunday.

Sympathy - Sincere sympathy is extended to the Ryan and Henley families on their recent sad bereavements.

Congrats. Ned - Congratulations to Ned Power in helping Kilsrossanty to win the senior football title on Sunday last. Ned is vastly experienced in preparing teams for county finals. We'll done Kilsrossanty on a memorable triumph. Also to Dungarvan on making it a minor double. (Well done lads).

MR. MICHAEL GALLAGHER
The death has occurred of Mr. Michael Gallagher who died on Tuesday, October 25 in the Mercy Hospital, Cork, after a very short illness. His death came as a severe shock to his family, the people of Curraglass and indeed the entire parishes of Conna, Ballynora and Tallow.
Full obituary in next week's issue.
MR. PATRICK HENLEY
The death took place during the week in the parish of England of Mr. Patrick Henley. Patrick, a native of Tallow, had been in England for nearly 40 years. He was in the past in close contact with his relatives and friends in the town and was home on holidays as late as summer.
Prior to emigrating Patrick was a keen hurler in his day and was also an avid cyclist. He worked for an insurance agent in the Tallow/Ballynora area for some years. The funeral took place on Monday, October 31.
He is survived by his wife Winifred, daughter Sharon and son-in-law, brothers Mr. Bill Henley, West Street, Tallow; Mrs. Margaret Street, West Street and Mrs. Newman, Australia, nephews, nieces, relatives and friends.
ST. CATHERINE'S JUNIOR SCOR
The Junior Scor will take place at the Community Hall, Ballynora on Friday night next at 8 p.m. A large number of entries are expected so it promises to be a great night's entertainment.
VALLEY RANGERS AFC
Valley Rangers went down to Filton on a 2-1 scoreline last Sunday. The score sheet with the play very scrappy and very little good football. After twenty minutes Filton broke the deadlock when they scored with a shot from just inside the penalty area. There was further scoring chances in this half.
On resumption the home team went further ahead when a corner was headed to the net. It took just a few minutes from time for Valley to get their first chance of the game when a Filton player was judged to have handled the ball inside the area and the Hartnett scored from the spot.
WE REGRET
That due to postal delays our usual news from Tallow and Roundabout and from Glasheen (West Waterford Notes) do not appear this week as they had not reached us up to the time of going to press on Wednesday evening.

ABBEYSIDE/BALLINACOURTY G.A.A. NOTES

CLUB'S ANNUAL GENERAL MEETING Our A.G.M. held at the Priory College, Duckpool on Friday week last was undoubtedly one of the best held for many years with the very large attendance participating to the full in the many lively debates as we reviewed the year past, and previewed the year ahead.

THE IRISH RED CROSS - A HISTORY OF CARING

The Irish Red Cross Society's forthcoming National Door Knock Appeal is not only one of the biggest fund-raising operations of its kind ever to be held in Ireland, it is also the biggest mobilisation of the Society's members since the Emergency.

CLUB DRAW

We would like to thank most sincerely those who have contributed to the club's six weeks draw. There are many more people interested in joining this draw. Also contact any promoter or club secretary for more details.

RELIEF FUNDS

Perhaps the area of activity for which the Society is best known here in Ireland is the regular emergency appeal for funds to provide relief supplies for the victims of disasters in many parts of the world.

ABBESIDE/BALLINACOURTY G.A.A. NOTES

Treasurer, Danny Lenihan, reported on our financial committee during the year. Danny sincerely thanked all who had helped in the organising of the many fund-raising events.

ABBESIDE/BALLINACOURTY G.A.A. NOTES

Chairperson Marie Burns, secretary Marita Collins and president Mrs. Feohan and Mrs. Cashin.

Mr. Tony Landers, Aghlish and Miss Yvonne Wright, "Fatima House," Clonca Road, Abbeyside, Dungarvan, whose marriage took place at St. Augustine's Parish Church, Abbeyside, recently.

ABBESIDE/BALLINACOURTY G.A.A. NOTES

Jack Kiely reported the success of our own club draw. The final score was 1-11 to 1-11. The draw was held on Monday night at the club.

DUNGARVAN T.A. I.C.A.

Dungarvan T.A. I.C.A. had a very busy time since resuming after the summer recess. We had a demonstration by Miss Paula Daly of McDonnell's Good Food Kitchen, which was an outstanding success.

LISMORE MAN JAILED FOR ASSAULTING WIDOW

It was a horrendous experience for the woman, said District Justice Carroll at Cobh District Court when he imposed two concurrent prison sentences of twelve months and two others of six months on Kenneth Gorey of Lismore, Co. Waterford.

DUNGARVAN T.A. I.C.A.

The highlight of the year was our silver jubilee in Dungarvan. We had a beautiful dinner at Lawlor's Hotel on Wednesday, October 10. Our President, Mrs. Maureen Casey, welcomed all the members and our guest, Moya Bean, U.D. Donnell, our Federation President.

SYMPATHY, BUT STILL NO RELIEF ON THE SUPER LEVY

While there is general acceptance within the European Commission that the imposition of the super levy in Ireland would present certain difficulties, the real reality is that there is no firm indication that the Commission is prepared to apply a derogation to Ireland.

DUNGARVAN T.A. I.C.A.

Some of our founder members and past presidents also spoke. We cut a lovely birthday cake made by a member - Mrs. Pat McCarthy.

DONAL CASHMAN ELECTED VICE-PRESIDENT OF C.O.P.A.

The Praesidium (Governing Body) of C.O.P.A. the EXC Farmers' Organisation, has formally ratified the election of IFA President, Donal Cashman, as Vice-President of C.O.P.A. at its meeting in Brussels.

DUNGARVAN T.A. I.C.A.

Not so well known here in Ireland is the Society's tracing work. Along with 125 other societies around the world the Irish Red Cross is linked to a central tracing agency in Geneva which carries some 30 million names on file.

DUNGARVAN T.A. I.C.A.

Mr. Cashman said: "Having had discussions with Commissioner Tugendhat, it is clear that the only means by which the Commission intend alleviating the severity of the super levy for Ireland is through supplementary aid under the regional, structural or social policies."

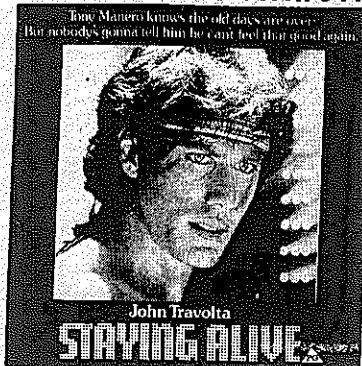

DUNGARVAN T.A. I.C.A.

The Director of Public Prosecutions, in his wisdom, chose to have the case tried before a district court, and I feel I most impose the maximum sentence. If it were tried in another court, it would be more severe, it would be a horrendous experience for the woman, and there could have been a holocaust."

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

The Editor, Dungarvan Leader. PROTECTION OF ANIMALS

Dear Sir, Up to the middle of the 18th century little, if any, attention had been given to the inhuman treatment of animals in these islands. It was then that men such as George Fox and the Methodists, John Wesley and the Quakers, as Honarath, and writers such as Blake and Cowper stirred the conscience of the general public.

It was left to a new champion, Richard Martin, to introduce in 1822 the first successful Bill in the British Parliament where he represented Galway as Member. A lifelong defender of animals, Martin was a prime mover in the formation of what is now known as the RSPCA, which became the model for other welfare societies all over the world. He was given the nickname of "Funnymy Dick" by King George IV.

In memory of Richard Martin and with the help and co-operation of Ellice and Garrett Barrett, who put aside acres of their land at Lisacarrill, Co. Cork for the purpose, the Richard Martin Restfield, for the care of neglected and ill-treated horses, ponies and donkeys was founded in May 1972. Following the sad death of Garrett Barrett during a day of actual field work, his wife Eileen agreed to continue their great work of caring for animals. Their son, Patrick, is now a full-time Inspector of the Irish SPCA.

via. If a transfer is made from one van to another the service becomes inoperable and its status will be further reduced if the smaller van is used as planned.

So for adult service it would appear that the aim is a return to showpiece buildings which can be neither financed nor stocked. Indeed if the condition of stock in branches is any criterion, the financial pressures are already upon us though we do hope that rumours circulating regarding the stockpiling of books for "State openings" are unfounded.

DERMOT O'LEARY, Asst. Librarian (Retd.), Mellary Road, Cappoquin, October 25, 1983.

SEMINAR A FIASCO?

Dear Sir, Through the medium of your paper may I draw the attention of the farmers of Co. Waterford to the Seminar on "The Economic Outlook on Farming with Special Emphasis on Dairying" held at the Hotel, Clonna Friday night, October 6. This seminar, as advertised, promised a great deal with speakers including Mr. A. Deane for Agriculture.

The Editor, Dungarvan Leader. CURTAILMENT OF LIBRARY SERVICE

Dear Sir, I would be grateful for the opportunity to comment on a report of a meeting of the Co. Libraries Committee in your issue of October 6. I regret to learn of the proposed curtailment of the mobile library service. Dunmore is not suitable for branch service. Neither of 2 previous branches also located in the vicinity of the Fisherman's Hall provided anything like the effective personal service given by the mobile. I note from a more recent newspaper report that a branch has been approved for inclusion in a community hall to be erected in Passage East. Go in the not too distant future mobile service will be withdrawn throughout the south-east from Brownstown, Cobally, Ballymarty, Co. Wick, Dunmore, Killea, Passage and Dunmore.

Sligo Will Prove Too Good

NEXT SUNDAY The third round of the National Football League in which Waterford play Sligo at Dungarvan, the replay of the exciting junior football semi-final between Stradbally and Geraldines, also at Dungarvan; the intermediate hurling county final involving St. Mary's and Ballygunner at Walsh Park and the under 21 football western semi-final between Kilrossanty and Tallow at Cappoquin...

With such a disappointing record in the league and championship the game against Sligo is unlikely to arouse any great excitement and even though we took the points from our last meeting with the Connachtmen in Sligo last year very few people expect that we will beat them again now.

Reading recently about Sligo's efforts to raise their standards by including in a more serious training programme, took an interest in their progress in this league and found that their new interest is being well reflected by their performance on the field. Their very good display against Tipperary two weeks ago in which they defeated our neighbours by the points (4-7 to 2-7) was but one example of the kind of progress that they are making. They have four points and we have none.

Our poor displays against Leitrim and Limerick were examples of how poor our standards are at the moment. It may be encouraging news that players from Kilrossanty, Ferrybank and Stradbally will be available for next Sunday and perhaps an improved display, but the improvement is unlikely to be good enough to overcome the challenge from Sligo.

KILROSSANTY v. TALLOW This reboxed under 21 football semi-final at Cappoquin should be a cracker and the expectations are that Kilrossanty, now with their tails up after last Sunday's great county final victory, will qualify for a western final meeting with neighbours and rivals Stradbally.

Kilrossanty will have no less than seven of last Sunday's team including Jim Maher, P. White, Pat Quinn, Nicky and Pat Hayes and John Mulhearn in their line-out and they are expected to backbone a side that will be good enough to take Tallow if the 'steam' hasn't been knocked out of them in the week long celebrations. Tallow, of course can never be discouraged and many of their players have already played against Kilrossanty in the semi-final, may have reason to feel differently about their prospects.

STRADBALLY v. GERALDINES Another draw results at the end of this exciting replay, extra time must be played, hence the very early start at 12.45.

Both sides claim to have missed the bus in the first game and both are very determined not to repeat their mistakes again. For the first meeting, Stradbally were the favourites because of their record in this grade and also because of the size and quality of their panel of players.

year running, have come out the undisputed leaders in their grade in the East. They forced them to a draw some weeks ago, the replay however showed who were the real masters and the Abbeyside before taking on Tallow in the Western final, showed very clearly that it would take a strong side to beat them. In the final here, they beat Tallow by double scores (4-10 to 3-0) in a splendid exhibition of hurling.

I don't know if all this will be good enough to beat Ballygunner, whom I would rate to be one of the best ever intermediate hurling sides. Playing to their very best form, Ned, Tom and Eamon Power, John Dalton, Declan and John Fitzpatrick, Albert Burke, David Killy, Jimmy Fraher, Declan White, Tom Condon, Tom Butler, John McGrath, P. Whelan, Lar Whelan, Jimmy Hayden and company might just about get there and win their second title in the grade. It should be said though that going down to Walsh Park, they are outsiders and victory for the Western champions will surprise a big number of Eastern people.

COUNTY BOARD MEETING A report from the County Disciplinary Committee on matters relating to the county team including a list of twelve items listed for discussion at next Monday night's meeting of the County Board. The appointment of a selection committee, senior and minor football as well as both under 21, are also listed as a report to be made to the board. The board will be informed of the dates and venues for the concluding games of the remaining championships and of dates for the Annual Convention.

WESTERN BOARD MEETING The Western Board will meet on Friday night and they will also hear a report from their Disciplinary Committee concerning incidents following the Western minor football final last month.

Recently a section of the county team passed on to this committee for investigation and this has now been done. The meeting will be informed of the dates and venues for the concluding games of the remaining championships and of dates for the Annual Convention.

LAST SUNDAY After nineteen years in the wilderness of Waterford football, Kilrossanty—a name that has become synonymous with the most exciting years of the game over the best part of the century, look their eleven-year county senior title at the Fraher field on Sunday last, when they beat the hot favourites, Ferrybank. The scenes of jubilation and tremendous excitement followed the game were almost indescribable and gave a clear idea of what winning after such a long lapse meant to the great people of the club who had persevered in spite of adversity and many setbacks that might have put a less dedicated club out of existence altogether.

It was a big disappointment for Ferrybank who had well earned the tag of favourites by a superb display against the reigning champions, Stradbally, in the semi-final on the same day that Kilrossanty had increased the odds against their chances of becoming the new champions when they played rather shakily against Tallow in the other semi-final.

Before the game, one of Kilrossanty's former greats, Jimmy White, told me that Kilrossanty had learned a lot from a study of Ferrybank's display against Stradbally and that he was satisfied that they were beatable and would be beaten if Kilrossanty played as well as they were able. They certainly did play very well and better, much better than they have played in a championship game for a very long time. This was the new Kilrossanty on view, a team setting out to emulate the feats of the great Comaragh side who took four titles in a row back in the 1949-52 era.

Feature of the game were the big number of free kicks awarded over the hour and the unusually small number of times the ball was sent wide. In a total of 44 frees (including 45 metre kicks), Kilrossanty got 25 and Ferrybank 19. Kilrossanty had eight wides and there were six for Ferrybank. What was also unusual was the fact that only three of the 19 scores came from the goalposts—two for Ferrybank and one for Kilrossanty.

The one disappointing feature of the game was the very ugly incident which happened in the dying minutes when, what can only be described as a vicious fist fight, between the sides, marred what was otherwise a very fine game. Play was held up for about three minutes until referee Noel Sullivan sorted things out.

Many people who saw Ned Power and Ned Hayes in the introduction here didn't know that he was involved with Kilrossanty and people in the club told me of the tremendous help he gave in the training of the team.

Board no longer produced an excellent programme for the final at the Dungarvan Brass & Reed Band contributed a lot to the occasion and the grounds prepared by the board were in excellent condition.

Amid scenes of very wild excitement, Co. Board chairman, John Murphy presented the cup to the winning captain, P. White.

DUNGARVAN ARE CHAMPIONS AGAIN The gap in standards was very much in evidence before this game was very old and it became obvious that Dungarvan, who some weeks earlier won the minor hurling county final in most decisive fashion, were going to beat the scoreboard. From a Ferrybank point of view they kicked themselves out of contention during this period of total dominance as they tried to walk the ball through for goals when points were there for the taking. Their tactics proved suicidal in the end as the Kilrossanty defence weathered the storm.

Ferrybank did goal when their best forward Frank Hayden was put through by Shane Ahearne four minutes from time to leave just two points in it. But Kilrossanty who had been struggling to find their rhythm during this spell of Ferrybank dominance suddenly burst into defence and Ger Walsh found Tom Keating who had the final score of the game, a point three minutes from time.

eastern champions Clann na Gael with far greater ease than they had anticipated. In fact were it not for the absolute brilliance of the opposition goalkeeper, Dermot Delaney, their winning margin would have been far greater.

For the first few minutes of the game, the Butterstown/Dunhill group looked as if they would make a game of it but when Dungarvan settled in the challengers had no answer to a splendid Dungarvan combination.

Their excellent display was a tribute to their coach and trainer, Tom Cunningham and Pa Keenan and the others on the management committee who had brought them to their peak at the right time.

This was the fourteenth time that Dungarvan had contested that county minor football county final and it was their fifth time winning the title. It was the first time on which they completed the minor county double, so it was a real historic year for the club. Hopefully this wonderful progress will continue and will herald the return of Dungarvan as a very strong force in the adult grades in the years to come.

Dungarvan previously won the minor football title in 1928, 1932, 1933 and 1961. The Dungarvan minor football team which beat St. Reb's in the county final in 1933, fifty years ago on Sunday last, was...

Two weeks later Mount Sion beat the same team in the minor hurling final at Waterford. Ref. P. Whelan.

In the hurling, Tom McCarthy and Paddy McGrath, who did not play hurling, were replaced by Billie Lee and P. Morrissey.

The county hurling team were badly beaten by Limerick on Sunday when they were defeated by a heavy margin in the National League for as long as I can remember.

Historic Double For Dungarvan

DUNGARVAN 1-9; CLANN NA GAEL 0-3

For the first time in their illustrious history Dungarvan brought off the minor double when they scored a comprehensive 1-9 to 0-3 win over Clann na Gael in the semi-final, but so great was their dominance over a poor opposition that one could forgive them for not displaying their best talents last Sunday.

They led by 1-3 to 0-2 at the interval and while their goal was soft, two miracle saves by the losers' keeper Dermot Delaney denied them two other goals from great efforts from Tom McGrath and Morrie Ferencombe.

Four minutes into the second half Delaney again denied Morrie Ferencombe a goal. But Dungarvan took a complete stranglehold on the game after this and for long periods play resembled a practice session of backs and forwards as Dungarvan laid almost continuous siege on the Clann na Gael goal.

During this period their forwards missed a bagful of chances, but they could well afford the luxury of so many misses in a game in which they were the complete masters.

It was truly a magnificent achievement by Dungarvan and they can feel justifiably proud of their history-making double. Every player on the team played his part on Sunday but special mention must go to Moran, Chris Meehan, Tomas Curran, Seamus Mansfield, Dermot Callaghan, Morrie Ferencombe and Tomas McGrath.

Congratulations however to all concerned, the players, mentors and all connected with this title win.

Clann na Gael had outstanding players in keeper Dermot Delaney, Greg Power, Ray O'Brien, Paul Murray and Michael McGrath, but overall they were completely outclassed and outplayed.

Scorers: Dungarvan—M. Ferencombe 0-6; T. McGrath 1-0; T. Hamilton, F. O'Donnell and D. Lyons 0-1 each. Clann na Gael—G. Power 0-2; M. McGrath 0-1.

The games failed to live up to pre-match expectations but they could not be blamed on the Old Borro' side. True, they did not play as well as they did against Stradbally in the semi-final, but so great was their dominance over a poor opposition that one could forgive them for not displaying their best talents last Sunday.

They led by 1-3 to 0-2 at the interval and while their goal was soft, two miracle saves by the losers' keeper Dermot Delaney denied them two other goals from great efforts from Tom McGrath and Morrie Ferencombe.

HEAVY DEFEAT FOR HURLERS

Limerick 6-13; Waterford 0-6 Waterford suffered their second defeat in the National Hurling League when they crashed heavily to Limerick by 6-13 to 0-6 at the Ennis Road grounds on Sunday last.

Both sides were short a number of regulars and while a Limerick win was expected, few anticipated such a rout. Limerick in fact, could have won by more than they had three other goals disallowed and wasted some other great chances against a Waterford side who were never in the game with a chance.

The winners were 3-4 to nil ahead at the end of the first quarter and the game was over as a contest when they led 4-7 to nil at the half way stage.

Within five minutes of the restart they had increased their lead to 6-9 to nil and continued to dominate right to the finish.

It certainly was an indictment of the Waterford attack that they failed to register a single score in a long period. Pat McGrath scored five of their total, the other coming from defender Liam Power.

Waterford—E. Curley; K. Ryan, E. Kehoe, M. Beecher; L. Power, P. Hally, E. Rockett; E. Power, C. Heffernan; N. Crowley, P. Ryan, K. Delahunty, J. Doolan, P. McGrath, T. Whelan, Subs., J. Harnedy for Hally, P. Bennett for Power; J. Hennebery for Heffernan.

Referee: W. Horgan (Cork).

Eleventh Title For Kilrossanty

KILROSSANTY 1-10; FERRYBANK 1-7

Once famed and once feared Kilrossanty bridged a nineteen year gap at Fraher Field, Dungarvan on Sunday last when they took the coveted senior football title with a three points win over Ferrybank in a county final which did much to boost the county's sagging football morale.

It was by no means a purrless affair, but it was tremendously exciting and close throughout with some fine individual displays adding to the enjoyment for the good sized attendance.

The winning of their eleventh title was the realisation of a great dream for this great footballing club. They won their last title in 1964 and in the intervening years, although confined to the wilderness, they continued to work relentlessly, building a superb rebuilding.

DUNGARVAN ATHLETIC CLUB NOTES

GLORY FOR TONY RYAN IN DUBLIN CITY MARATHON

The big news of the week is the superb performance of our senior athlete Tony Ryan in the Dublin City Marathon. What a joy it was when he was on RTE's coverage of the event on television to see Tony pass last year's winner, Jerry Kiernan, and come to the line to take eighth position. Well done Tony—you did your town and county proud, being the first Waterford man to finish.

Another of our athletes, Michael Roche, finished very well up the field but at the time of going to press we have no details of Michael's finishing position or the performance of other Dungarvan athletes.

On Sunday we hosted the underage county championships at the Priory. In the boys u-11 a newcomer, Kieran Maher proved to be the find of the year so far when he was an easy winner of his race. Also in that race Fergal Colbert had a fine run, finishing in 5th position with John Power 24th.

In the girls u-11 Michelle Delaney ran well to finish 2nd with Jacqueline Mansfield 8th and Carol Power 24th. Michelle Mulcahy finished 3rd in the girls u-13; Mairead Foley was 13th, Christine Tobin was 24th and Denise Clancy was 26th.

Imagine a portable heater that's attractive and clean, and burns at over 99 per cent efficiency and costs 40 per cent less to run than bottled gas. WE WILL HAVE A PARA-GLO DEMONSTRATOR IN THE SHOP ON FRIDAY, NOVEMBER 11

They invited their fathers to their Halloween party and many of them wore fancy dress. Everyone had a great time playing in the games and having a very busy time.

ACTION NEEDED TO RAISE HEIFER PRICES

The downgrading of prime heifer prices to 80 per cent of steer prices due to lack of effective controls in the beef and veterinary restrictions has led to a sharp fall in heifer prices. The Minister of State for Agriculture, Mr. Paul Connaughton, TD, has been asked by representatives of the I.F.A. National Livestock Committee to immediately restore buoyancy in heifer prices by increasing the steer intervention quota by 50 per cent of the weight of heifers slaughtered in our meat factories.

CONTRASTING VIEWS ON SUPER LEVY

Mr. Boland said: "It is regrettable that one of our greatest national assets, the beef cow herd, has been allowed to dwindle by over 300,000 head. Farmers will expand the beef cow herd if it is profitable to do so by improving the prices for prime beef, utilising the E.E.C. production schemes to the full and securing the variable support for all quality prime steers and heifers produced in Ireland."

EASY WIN FOR TALLOW

Tallow consolidated their position as favourites to take the under 21 hurling title when they scored an eighteen points victory over the Ballyduff/Shamrocks combination in a very one-sided semi-final played at Lismore on Sunday last.

LEVY BES FOR US

Professor Seamus Sheehy pointed out that the alternative to a super levy, or quota system, is continuing increased production - which would expose milk to the market forces of supply and demand, leading to a drop in prices. Some form of quota system was in the best interests of the Irish farmer.

OPPOSITE VIEW

Dr. Tom O'Dwyer, Head of the Animal Products Division in the EEC Commission, stated that the super levy, as proposed, would go ahead. There is no market for the extra milk, and the Community will not subsidise an increased supply.

ABBEYSIDE PATTERN NOTES

Yes, we have surfaced again after a short break. We want to tell you about a great night's entertainment in Minnies on November 13. We have given you a variety night, an anti-grant night, and now for the first time in this area a Mr. and Mrs. Night.

You have seen it on TV, so come along to Minnies on November 13. Entry to this competition is free and easy, the one stipulation is that both husband and wife must be there on the night. Two beautiful prizes have been sponsored by Dungarvan Crystal.

RED HOUSE LEAGUE

Five series of games were played on Sunday last in the sixth round of the above league, with the game involving the Dungarvan and the Ballyduff. Unfortunately as we go to press the result of that game is not yet known.

DUNGARVAN SCOUT NOTES

Last week-end all sections celebrated Halloween in the traditional manner with a party and everyone in fancy dress. The Cubs had a great time on Thursday night. They invited their fathers to their Halloween party and many of them wore fancy dress. Everyone had a great time playing in the games and having a very busy time.

ACTION NEEDED TO RAISE HEIFER PRICES

The downgrading of prime heifer prices to 80 per cent of steer prices due to lack of effective controls in the beef and veterinary restrictions has led to a sharp fall in heifer prices. The Minister of State for Agriculture, Mr. Paul Connaughton, TD, has been asked by representatives of the I.F.A. National Livestock Committee to immediately restore buoyancy in heifer prices by increasing the steer intervention quota by 50 per cent of the weight of heifers slaughtered in our meat factories.

CONTRASTING VIEWS ON SUPER LEVY

Mr. Boland said: "It is regrettable that one of our greatest national assets, the beef cow herd, has been allowed to dwindle by over 300,000 head. Farmers will expand the beef cow herd if it is profitable to do so by improving the prices for prime beef, utilising the E.E.C. production schemes to the full and securing the variable support for all quality prime steers and heifers produced in Ireland."

EASY WIN FOR TALLOW

Tallow consolidated their position as favourites to take the under 21 hurling title when they scored an eighteen points victory over the Ballyduff/Shamrocks combination in a very one-sided semi-final played at Lismore on Sunday last.

LEVY BES FOR US

Professor Seamus Sheehy pointed out that the alternative to a super levy, or quota system, is continuing increased production - which would expose milk to the market forces of supply and demand, leading to a drop in prices. Some form of quota system was in the best interests of the Irish farmer.

LISMORE AND DISTRICT NOTES

LISMORE F.C. NOTES

Last Sunday we travelled to Affane and came away with a point in a 1-1 draw in the Red House League. We fell a goal and with just three minutes remaining Johnny Dunne got an important equaliser. Bert very impressive in the defence. Our midfielders held their own as well as our defence was never under much pressure.

OPPOSITE VIEW

Dr. Tom O'Dwyer, Head of the Animal Products Division in the EEC Commission, stated that the super levy, as proposed, would go ahead. There is no market for the extra milk, and the Community will not subsidise an increased supply.
