OME ONCE MORE

Christmas and New Year s are the time when the its of those in lands across cas and oceans mostly o home and the folks who here. Our choice for the corner this week, while lew Year is still young, is "Home Once More," refore quite appropriate:

in thinking now of home nd the cottage by the hill, cottage where my poor id mother died; the dear old village school here I learned the golden ale.

nere i realization of secondale, cold Dobbin on whose ack I used to ride; I when I recall the scene scenis to be a dream, app. dream, that is long ast and o'er, I a tear comes in my eye and I cannot help a sigh, see that dear and good la home once more.

is:
ne once more, home once
tore,
ill-1 ever see my home
mee more?
, those pleasant hours Eve
slay'd in those happy
hildhowd days,
ill-1 ever see my home
mee more?

all I ever see the church where I often used to go? all I ever see that dear old hourch again? all I ever see my play-nates with whom in child-toed days I've played? must I in a foreign land emain?

ill I eyer see my failing har poor old grey-bated nan. he sat in his arm-chair by he door? have wealth, or I'd give them all for walth.

realth. that I might see that good old home once more.

REMEMBERING OTHER DAYS

For the photo in our 'Remembering Other Days" feature for this week, reproduced above, we do not have any details. We know that it was taken by Press Photographer Tom Tobin and appears to have been taken at the Boathouse, Cappoquin, headquarters of the Cappoquin Rowing Club for deeades. We look to some of the rowing enthusiasts in the Cornerstone to put us in the picture, so to speak, if they can, and if this information is forthcoming we will then pass it on to our readers.

FOR ANIMAL FEEDS

Wheat is the cereal that is in biggest supply and is best value, not only in the European Community, but all over the world shis year. The matze world shis year. The matze world shis year. The matze will be the problem of the problem of the reduction in some other areas as well, while barley yields were down in Europe and North America. Indeed, there was such a reduction in the output of mailing barley that a lot of the reduction in the output of mailing barley that a lot of the reduction in the output of mailing barley that a lot of the reduction of the output of the problems for livestock producers.

In Ireland, there was a reduction of about 15 per cent in the amount of barley produced and a much higher proportion of it went for export for malling, so that there has been a real scarcity and prices went up by £15 to £20 a tone more than last year.

Maize is also very scarce and dear, and the oil seed meals which are important in the make-up of compound feeds are also scarce. And when the make-up of compound feeds are also scarce and when the second the producing countries and, since the draught broke in Australia, it is forcing the producing countries and, since the draught broke in Australia, it is forcing the producing the p

I sat 'midst a mighty throog Within a palace grand: In a city far beyond the sea In a distant forcign land, I listened to the grandes!

I looked on the singer fair, My heart was at her feet; She sang of love, the old, old theme In accents low and sweet.

sang a song-a song o

My fancy it may have been. But never had I heard. A song that thrilled me cer like this.

Like this so strangely stirrd. The mem'ries of that night of bliss,

Will never from me part.

She sang a song of Home
