MINISTER HINTS AT MORE LOCAL TAXATION It would now seem that the introduction last year by local authorities of special charges for water and sewerage was only the thin edge of the wedge and that moves to impose more of these local charges are about to be made.

MIS-USE OF PUBLIC FUNDS It would not seem inappropriate that we should follow the foregoing comments with a couple of references to the Auditor General's report on State spending for 1982 which was discussed recently in Dublin by the All-Party Oireachtas Committee.

The appropriation accounts for 1982 cited numerous incidents of over-spending by Government Departments and mis-use of public funds. The report found that Ireland had over-contributed to the EEC budget by almost £18 million in 1982 and that a number of semi-State bodies had not paid their VAT and PRSI returns.

A SWIMMING MARE An unusual incident took place at Clonra Strand near Dungarvan last Saturday afternoon when a valuable horse which was being 'schooled' along the water's edge at the strand, stumbled, threw its rider and took off into the open sea.

DUNGARVAN HAD IRELAND'S OLDEST CYCLING CLUB An interesting bit of history about old Dungarvan came to light last week-end with a "find" made by Rev. Fr. C. O'Donnell, O.S.A. while engaged in tidying up a lumber room in the Friary House at Main Street.

It would now seem that the introduction last year by local authorities of special charges for water and sewerage was only the thin edge of the wedge and that moves to impose more of these local charges are about to be made.

It has been generally accepted that most of our Government Departments and State and semi-State organisations are over-staffed and the need for the significant degree of local financial independence.

Nephew's Bravery Saves Priest When Fire Guts Newcastle House

The heroism and bravery of his nephew who dramatically rescued him, saved the life of Fr. John Nugent (69) in a fire drama that took place shortly after midnight last Saturday night.

At the same time Mr. Nugent also alerted his mother who was sleeping in another upstairs bedroom and she too was taken out to safety as the flames spread and enveloped the entire 2-storey house.

A MINIMUM OF 3 YEARS BEFORE NEW DUNGARVAN BRIDGE IS BUILT

Contrary to a report in another local paper last week the new bridge to link the newly constructed Causeway across the main road between Cork and Waterford, should be borne by 100 per cent State Grants applicable to National Routes.

NEWLY APPOINTED COUNTY ENGINEER ATTENDS FIRST COUNTY COUNCIL MEETING

Mr. John Flynn, the newly appointed County Engineer was officially welcomed when he attended his first meeting of the County Council in Dungarvan last Thursday.

STABILITY TESTS

He said that tests on the stability of the causeway which had been laid had not so far been completed but it was expected that the results would be known in about 3 months and if they proved successful they would begin to presurface the road.

CO. COUNCIL BRIEFS

At the monthly meeting of Waterford County Council in Dungarvan Cllr. J. A. Walsh drew attention to the dangerous part of the roadway at Cook Street, Cappoquin...

When Cllr. P. Cahill proposed that the Council call on landowners to have all dangerous roadside trees removed, the Co. Engineer said that he was about to instruct the Overseers in all areas to report any trees which they thought might be dangerous...

Cllr. B. Kyne stated that both sets of traffic lights in Dungarvan had been on the blink several times in recent weeks and this was very dangerous. It was especially annoying in the case of the Square where the lights were out of order for 60 per cent of the time...

Cllr. O. Colley and T. Cunningham drew attention to the sewerage flooding occurring at Ballinroad and asked whether there was any hope of having a start made on the sewerage scheme there.

Mr. B. McNally, Acting Chairman, said that the latest technology introduced from Holland was used and when the controller ran out of order it had to be sent to Holland for repair. He had now arranged to alter the position regarding the controllers and this would bring about an improvement.

Mr. J. Cummins, Assistant Chairman, said that the Co. Council was now responsible for research, development and marketing of commercial products, including the Snowcream Ltd. general market research and overall corporate image.

DUNGARVAN'S DOUBLE AT NEW ROSS

The New Ross Marathon Head of River held in glorious Springlike weather on the twelve mile course from St. Mullin's, Co. Carlow to New Ross last Saturday saw all Dungarvan crews fulfilling pre-Christmas promise. The Senior Schools Junior 'A' crew gave a remarkable sustained display of power rowing in winning their event by a full minute from nearest rivals Clonmel...

Dungarvan's Novice mens four with one change from the victorious pre-Christmas team also won their pennant and showed great courage and fitness in holding off the vastly more experienced English crews who tried every trick in the book to breakdown and pass the unyielding Dungarvan lads.

Ger Wyley in a star studded elite sculling event turned in his best performance ever in this event. He fought a tremendous duel with Peter Cassidy of Neptunum in the early stages but was quickly enough to get boxed in with Cassidy on the wrong side of a slower coxless pair which left international sculler Barry Curran in an easy passage on the outside to get by. By the time Wyley had extracted himself Curran was a full minute ahead. However by the finish only 24 seconds separated the scullers.

Clare Morrissey and Nicole Ryan rowing under the Commercial colours finished 3 minutes ahead of the next ladies crew.
