The Christmas issue of the agustinian Student Guild

The Christmas issue of the Augustinian Student Guild newsletter which has just been passed to us reuninds us of something that we intended to mention in this column many weeks ago—in fact shortly after the Los Angeles Olympics.

A photograph in the newsletter over the caption at the head of this paragraph shows two Augustinian priests and the little story that goes with it says: "Fathers Declan Treacy and James Hooper, both of our Dungarvan Community, were students together, were ordained in the same year, went to Australia together where they both worked for many years, and have the added distinction of being the uncles of two Olympic Maratthon runners in this year's Los Angeles Olympics.

"Fr. Treacy is uncle of John

"Fr. Treacy is uncle of John Treacy who got the silver and Fr. Hooper is the uncle of Dick Hooper who came 43rd from a field of more than 200."

This is indeed a truly unique coincidence, incidentally Dick in Marathon champion and he also finished second in the recent Radio 2 Dublin City International Marathon, Bail o Dhia ortha co leif is. ortha go leir! --

RADIO 2 — LIONS CLUBS CHRISTMAS FOOD APPEAL

Another major national food appeal to help the needy poor of this country over the Christmas period is at present in full swing, Organised by RTE Radio 2 in association with Lions International, the public are being asked to space some non-perishable foodstuffs for distribution to the needy at

Mr. Spring added that changes had also been agreed in relation to restaurants which would be granted full licenses under a separate decision. Vintures in general are opposed to this latter proposal and many even favour an 11 p.m. closing time all the year round. Sanday nights included.

STUDENTS UNDER PRESSURE

The Bishop of Kerry and Archbishop-elect of Dublin, Most Rev. Dr. Kevin Mc-The Bishop of Kerry and Archbishop-elect of Dublin, Most Rev. Dr. Kevin Mc-Namara recently warned that with academic pressures in modern schools, the real pur-pose of education may be lost.

modern schools, the real purpose of education may be lost. He said that schools were under tremendous pressure to achieve high academic performance for their pupils. The obvious danger was that other aspects of personality development would suffer and that schools would not have the freedom or leisure to provide an all-round education.

Bishop McNamara said that in the long run other things such as a sense of fair play, ability to get on with others, perseverance and self-discipline proved more important for success in life.

We hope that those in charge of our educational system will pay heed to these words of Dr. McNamara. From a recent experience were appalled at the work-load which young second-level students are now expected to dispose of each day. Following something life seven hours of conventional school class-work they are given a schedule of homework which can run into a further three or four hours. It is excessive and too much for both the mental and physical welfare of our young boys and girls.

Padraij Pearse in his time described the existing education.

The Appeal is expected to generate an even higher level of food donations this year. With the help of 55 Llons Clubs taking part, over 1,200 collection points have been arranged around the country. These are supervised locally by members of Lions international and the food collected is distributed locally by the Lions in co-operation with other local social workers.
