THREE-IN-A-ROW

The year is passing fast and already we are, as a well-known Abbeyside businessman recently remarked to us, moving into the third winter in a row: the snow and ice winter of 1984/85, the mild winter that replaced the summer that never was this year and now the official winter of 1985/86 ahead. For everyone it has been most depressing and no one can be blamed for feeling that we have been cheated.

A change in the year was marked on Monday last when the pub closing time reverted to 11 p.m. and this will now continue until April 19 in 1986. The change will become more pronounced as from next Sunday fortnight, October 27, when "old time" officially returns, bringing with it the long, dreary evenings of winter.

In regard to the weather, it has been a disastrous year as indeed the farmers well know. In other ways the poor summer has also had its effects. The South Eastern Health Board at its usual monthly meeting this Thursday will be considering a financial report which reviews the Board's expenditure up to September 30 last. This shows an estimated excess expenditure of £2,028 million and the Chief Executive of the Board commenting in the report on Energy Conservation has this to say: "The Board is making strenuous efforts to reduce its large energy bill. Over £2 million is spent each year on energy. The unusually cold summer of this year meant increased energy costs as heating systems had to be operated during the summer months."

So, farmers were not alone in suffering losses because of the weather this year but we suppose that is only poor consolation!

NEW ROLE FOR CONTROVERSIAL BUILDING

Priory House, Dungarvan, around which storms of controversy have raged since it was first purchased by the local authority several decades ago is, at last, to be cast in a new role which should finally see it enter more placid times for the future.

At the September monthly meeting of the Community Care Committee of the South Eastern Health Board it was pointed out that the Waterford Local Health Committee had agreed with the proposal of County Manager, Mr. Dan Hurley to purchase the premises to give to the Augustinian Order for community work.

The Community Care Committee, on the proposition of Cllr. Billy Kyne seconded by Dr. C. A. Kelly then agreed to accept the offer of £15,000 which the Co. Manager has made for the building.

Incidentally we note that Cllr. Pat Coffey, Portlaw and Cllr. Paddy Cahill, Kilmadeen have been elected Chairman and Vice-Chairman respectively of the Waterford Local Health Committee for the coming year.

CYCLING ANTICS

The bright spotlight which has been focussed on cycling since the great Nissan Classic Tour of Ireland race of a few weeks ago seems to have continued to dazzle many of our young people. As the race progressed through all its stages it was watched nightly on television by practically everyone.

We saw the kings of professional and amateur cycling perform in ways that most of us thought impossible prior to that. We saw the cyclists push their machines to speeds of up to 40 m.p.h. and watched the winners throw their hands in the air in triumph whenever they flashed over a finishing line first.

Well some of these actions seem to have rubbed off on many young people. We have since seen young fellows with heads down over turned down handle-bars standing on their pedals with rear ends up as they wobbled into speed in the best Sean Kelly style; we have also seen young girls speeding through the town — even through the street junctions — with hands in the air.

Even for the professionals these are dangerous things to do; for youngsters they are far more dangerous and serious as they are being performed in dangerous surroundings.

Parents and indeed school teachers could do worse than spend a little time to impart a bit of sound advice to youngsters who may be inclined to practice these antics. And in addition, now that the dark mornings and evenings are in, they should ensure that all bicycles are properly lighted.

UNEMPLOYMENT — IT'S THE SAME EVERYWHERE

The problem of unemployment—the greatest bugbear of modern times—is one which is not peculiar to Ireland. According to a paragraph in a recent edition of "Eurofocus," an information sheet for the benefit of journalists issued by the European Commission, the problem is the same everywhere with the under 25s being especially hard hit.

The report states that throughout the States in the European Community roughly 4 out of 10 jobless persons are under 25. According to the statistics, some 4.6 million of them were jobless out of a total of 12.4 million unemployed in the Community (excluding Greece) at the end of July. Their numbers, in fact, rose by just over 4 per cent in July, but this was because of the large numbers of school leavers entering the labour market.

According to the report women also are hard hit by unemployment, especially younger women. Of the nearly 200,000 under 25s who joined the dole queues at the end of July, two-thirds were women. Their number has risen over the last 12 months, even while the number of unemployed men has fallen, however slightly.

Paradoxically, the number of vacancies which remain unfilled each month is rising in several member States. At the end of July there were some 120,000 unfilled vacancies in Germany and 183,000 in the U.K. Even in Belgium, with one of the highest unemployment rates in the EEC, nearly 20,000 jobs remained unfilled (there were no figures for Ireland mentioned in the report). All this clearly shows that there is a considerable mismatch between job hunters and unfilled vacancies.

ADVICE TO YOUNG EMIGRANTS

In the context of the foregoing paragraph and also that last Sunday was known as "Emigrant Sunday" when prayers were requested in most of the churches for the welfare of our emigrants, it is worthy of note that congregations at all Masses in the Archdiocese of Tuam were advised that job opportunities are extremely scarce overseas. Young people throughout the West of Ireland were warned to think twice before emigrating and were urged to give consideration to staying at home.

They heard that reports from Britain in particular high-lighted how people from this country were leaving home ill-prepared for life in exile. It was stated that despite repeated warnings, young people from Ireland were still arriving totally unprepared for the reality that faced them in

Minister's Plan For Dungarvan Forestry Problems

Farmers in the Dungarvan area who have lands adjoining State Forestry plantations and who have been agitating about fencing problems and the consequent problem of straying animals for a number of years back were represented in a deputation which met Mr. M. Darcy, Minister of State, Department of Fisheries and Forestry, at the ACOT Offices in Dungarvan last Monday to discuss the kernel of the matter, who should be responsible for the fencing of Forestry lands.

Subsequently Mr. Darcy made a brief appearance at the monthly meeting of the Co. Waterford Committee of Agriculture which was in session at the Office at the same time. He informed the members that he had come to Dungarvan especially to meet the deputation and had discussed their problems with them for the previous one-and-a-half hours.

Mr. Darcy then told the members that arising from the discussion an agreement had been reached under which he undertook to send the Senior Officer in charge of Forestry matters in his Department to Dungarvan for a full day in the immediate future where he and the local forestry officers would meet all the farmers concerned and discuss their individual problems. They would then make a progress report back to him.

The Minister said that he was asking that common-sense should prevail in an effort to resolve the various problems but he reminded the members that he, like everyone else, was tied by the legal regulations that applied to this situation. He said that he was arranging to have senior officials attend at Dungarvan because it was physically impossible for him to deal with them all individually.

Mr. P. J. O'Grady, Department of Forestry who, with Mr. J. McLoughlin, accompanied the Minister, pointed out that not only civil servants but the Minister as well must operate within the constraints of the law as it stood. Under this he said that it was a matter for any man who owned stock to fence them in and if they trespassed he would have to accept the consequences. They would all have to operate within the confines of this law which went back a very long time.

GOODWILL ESSENTIAL

Mr. O'Grady said that similar claims that the Forestry Department should keep forestry lands fenced had been made from all over the country but if they were to accede to them at the cost would run to £3 million. He said that where forestry problems were concerned goodwill was very essential and he felt that if this could prevail then the best way to solve local problems was to deal with them locally and that was what they hoped to do here.

The Minister of State then told the members that with Mr. Jim Hurley, Chairman of the Committee who was with the Minister when he met the deputation, he planned to inspect some of the lands which were the subject of complaints by members of the deputation and he then left the meeting to do so. Before departing, Mr. Hartly on behalf of his colleagues thanked the Minister, Mr. Darcy and his officials, Mr. O'Grady and Mr. McLoughlin for coming to Dungarvan to discuss these problems. "I feel," said Cllr. Hartly, "that the meeting we had with the deputation was a good one, and it will prove constructive. I also feel that the farmers concerned will be fairly treated as a result."

CLOVER CLOSURE

We Won't Bow To Intimidation Says Beef Packers Boss

Mr. Larry Goodman, Chairman and Managing Director, Anglo Irish Beef Packers Group Ltd., laid it out on the line to the members of the Co. Waterford Committee of Agriculture in a letter dated September 30 which was in reply to the Committee's request that the Clover Meats Factory in Waterford, which the group had taken over, might be re-opened as soon as possible. The plant has been picketed by former employees since the take-over and has remained closed.

Mr. Goodman's letter which was read at a meeting of the Committee held in Dungarvan last Monday stated that at this point he was not in a position to respond very positively in relation to a date for the opening of the Clover plant in Waterford.

"Our company," the letter went on to say, "has not in the past bowed to intimidation and has no intention of doing so in the future. It is not in the interest of farmers as it is imperative to have cost effective facilities if one is to succeed in the very competitive international markets."

The letter then informed the members of the Committee, "in relation to your concern about the development of cattle production in the county, I can only state that we have two plants in the area, one in Bagnalstown, Co. Carlow and the other in Cahir, Co. Tipperary, both of which are about 35 to 40 miles from Waterford city. The managers at both plants would be most interested in supplies from Waterford. Perhaps next time we are in contact we will have something more positive to say in relation to the 'Waterford plant.'"

DEPLORABLE ACTION

Commenting on the letter, Mr. Michael Kieley (IFA) said that it was a deplorable situation that a group of workers by their action were stopping the factory from being re-opened because farmers who had supplied cattle to the Clover plant prior to its closure were to be compensated. He said that these workers were claiming similar compensation but the fact of the matter was that they had already been compensated by the redundancy payments they had been made while they were also in receipt of social welfare payments since. "I think," said Mr. Kieley, "that the workers have been very well looked after where all this is concerned but the farmers were not and now these workers are jeopardising any prospects of the firm being re-opened. Their action is absolutely deplorable."

Cllr. W. McDonnell who presided said that he was sure that all the members would agree with Mr. Kieley's remarks. "From Mr. Goodman's letter it seems that it will be sometime yet before the problem will be resolved one way or the other," he said. The letter was noted.

County Waterford School Grants

Mr. Eddie Collins, T.D., Minister of State has been informed by Mr. Donal Creed, T.D., Minister of State at the Department of Education that in reply to his representations regarding the proposed extension to Whitechurch (Ballinacoola) National School the Department of Education had now sanctioned a grant for this work.

In regard to the proposed new Boys National School at Portlaw, Mr. Creed stated that he had now agreed to tenders being invited for this project.

DUNGARVAN BY-PASS

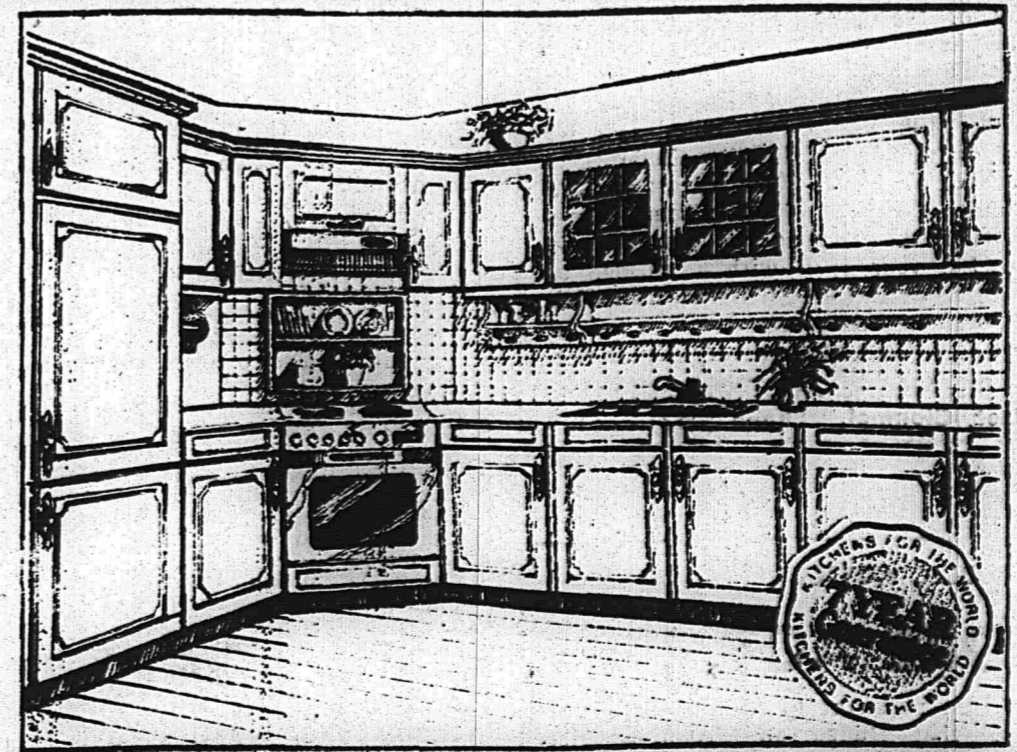

Mr. Collins has also been informed by the Minister for Finance, Mr. Dukes, that included in the £35.1 million allocated to Ireland from the European Regional Development Fund is a grant of £10,000 for further work on the Dungarvan By-Pass being carried out by Waterford Co. Council.

A WINNER AT THE JUNCTION

A record attendance of 8,500 people and a record day's aggregate of just under 800,000 was notched up at the Limerick Junction track last Sunday when the sixth and final experimental Sunday racing fixture of the season took place. There was a big contingent from Dungarvan and most parts of West Waterford at the meeting and all were heartened when Shull Liss in the colours of Mrs. Niall Flynn, Whitechurch House Hotel, ridden by A. J. O'Brien and trained by M. Hurley scored an easy win in the £2,000 Fort William Handicap Hurdle. Shull Liss started at 5/2 favourite.

UNUSED OFFICE BLOCKS

We must have an honest look at ourselves as a State and people. Mr. Maher said. The waste of public funds at any time is unjustifiable but in a time of economic difficulty and high unemployment it is not acceptable. The large sums of money spent on renting unused office blocks by the Government, making property de-

Ballysaggart Farmer Acquitted On Technicality

A Co. Waterford farmer was acquitted at Lismore Court through a legal technicality on what District Justice W. F. O'Connell said were "extremely serious charges" and for which convictions would have had very serious consequences.

Seamas Walsh, Ballysaggartmore, Lismore, was charged with (1) wilfully delaying and obstructing two officers of the Dept. of Social Welfare in the execution of their duty on January 10 last, and (2) on the same date refusing or neglecting to answer questions and furnishing information required by the Dept. officers. He pleaded not guilty.

Mr. Patrick Brosnan, an Inspector with the Dept. of Social Welfare, told of visiting Walsh's farm with another official on January 10 last where they met the defendant. Witness said they identified themselves and told Walsh they wanted to ascertain if he had anyone employed on the farm. The defendant said he had not but then witness saw a man driving a tractor into Walsh's farmyard.

He said Walsh refused to say whether the tractor driver was or was not employed by him, nor would Walsh allow them to interview the driver. Walsh then asked both officers to leave.

"These are extremely serious charges and conviction would bring very serious consequences for the farmer," the District Justice said. In the circumstances he added, the defence was entitled to rely on every possible legal technicality, and in the absence of actual evidence of Ministerial authorisation to proceed with the charges, as laid down in the relevant Act, he would dismiss both charges.

"MODEL" MAN CONVICTED AND BANNED AT LISMORE COURT

A motorist, described by the prosecuting Garda Inspector as "a model man," was fined and banned from driving for twelve months by District Justice W. F. O'Connell at Lismore Court.

Thirty year old Patrick Troy, a father of eight young children and unemployed, of Slough, Lismore, pleaded guilty to driving with excess alcohol in his urine at Ballysaggartmore, Lismore, in the early hours of April 21.

Inspector P. J. Hayes told the court that the defendant's alcohol concentration was 272 milligrammes. "He was very co-operative, he has had an impeccable record, and he is a model man," the Inspector added.

FINED £200 AT LISMORE COURT

An East Cork motorist, Liam Twomey, Baneshane, Middleton, who failed to appear at Lismore Court and was not professionally represented was fined £200 when convicted of driving an untaxed car at Ballylin, Lismore on March 18 last.

APARTHEID - CO. COUNCIL ADOPTS SUBSTITUTE MOTION

When Cllr. G. O'Halloran (F.C.) proposed what appeared on the surface as an innocently worded motion at a special meeting of Waterford Co. Council in Dungarvan it was expected that it would be adopted without much ado. The motion was that Waterford Co. Council affiliates itself to the Irish Anti-Apartheid Movement.

O'Halloran proposed the motion and it was seconded by one of the new Fianna Fail Councillors, Mr. W. Dunphy, who spoke at length on the racist policies adopted against blacks in South Africa.

Mr. Patrick Brosnan, an Inspector with the Dept. of Social Welfare, told of visiting Walsh's farm with another official on January 10 last where they met the defendant. Witness said they identified themselves and told Walsh they wanted to ascertain if he had anyone employed on the farm.

FOUR PINTS PUT MAN OFF THE ROAD

"Anyone taking even one drink must know he is at risk," District Justice W. F. O'Connell commented at Lismore Court when 37-year-old Michael O'Donnell, Monastarrive, Lismore, pleaded guilty to driving with excess alcohol in his urine (291 milligrammes) at Lismore on June 22 last.

Cllr. P. Cahill interjected "let us put our own house in order first!" Cllr. E. Kyne thought that the anti-apartheid people had gone too far especially where sport was concerned. He would be prepared to support the stand they make but with reservations.

District Justice O'Connell imposed a fine of £100 with an endorsement and banned O'Donnell from driving for the mandatory one year period.

SLOW DRIVER ATTRACTED GARDA ATTENTION

A motorist's slow driving attracted the attention of the gardai in the early hours of June and culminated in his disqualification from driving for one year at Lismore Court.

TALLOW MAN WITH APPALLING RECORD PUT BACK FOR PENALTY

District Justice W. F. O'Connell adjourned for one month the question of penalty he would impose on a motorist, who it was stated has "an appalling record."

THIS WEEK ACOT CO. WATERFORD SAYS

Recent silage analysis have shown that the amount of water in silage is high this year. This has a two-fold effect: (1) Preservation is affected.

The adjournment was decided on at Lismore Court last Wednesday in a case in which Bertie Henley of Tallow, was convicted of driving without insurance, tax and driving licence, at Ballyduff in the early hours of January 23 last.

Replacement heifers: Feed 4 lbs. meal per day, especially to early calving heifers. SOGIC-ECONOMIC: In order to obtain the Stamp Duty Exemption on agricultural property, the property must be transferred before the 16th July 1986.

After Henley's previous convictions had been read out to the court by Garda Inspector P. J. Hayes, the defence solicitor questioned a number of them. "My instructions are that that list read out by the Inspector is not entirely correct," Mr. J. P. Gordon said.

Turkey production: Watch out for 'feather pecking' at this time of year. It results from overcrowding. It is important to provide sufficient feeding space and to reduce light intensity. Debeak if necessary and also provide straw bales to relieve boredom.

District Justice O'Connell said that because the convictions had been questioned he would adjourn imposing penalties in the cases now before him to ascertain the "true position."

THE CREDIT UNION MOVEMENT OF IRELAND

The theme of International Credit Union Day, Tuesday next, October 17, 1985—is "Credit Union Youth: Our Next Generation." Nearly 40,000 Credit Unions around the world, with more than 55 million members will join in the celebrations.

This year, in particular, we are calling attention to the need to increase our concern and the involvement of the young people of Ireland in the Credit Union movement.

It is useful to recall that a Credit Union is a group of people who save together and lend to each other at a reasonable rate of interest.

In Ireland there has been a long tradition of co-operative self-help exemplified by 'neighbouring' and the 'meitheal'. The modern Credit Union movement shows that by working together people can achieve far more through co-operation than by individual effort.

Any group of people sharing a 'common bond' can form a Credit Union. Every eligible person has the right to join an existing Credit Union.

While the movement deserves the recognition of the people, pastor and politician, it is imperative that its leaders of today look ahead to the future.

The Credit Union Movement in Ireland was founded in 1958. At present there are now 473 Credit Unions; over 700,000 members; over 500 employees; over 8,000 voluntary officers.

FORMER CLOVER MEATS WORKERS HAVE WRONG PERCEPTION

The former Clover Meats workers who have been operating an irresponsible unofficial picket of the Waterford plant have the wrong perception of the agreement being negotiated on behalf of farmer creditors.

Mr. Slatery said: "The generally accepted principle that every person is entitled to be paid for their labour and since payment to a farmer for his cattle represents payment for his labour then 700 farmer/creditors were not paid for their labour while the 800 former Clover Meats workers were paid for their contribution in full."

DIRECTION SOUGHT

At the conclusion of the prosecution case, Mr. J. P. Gordon, Solr., defending asked for a direction on a number of grounds. Mr. Gordon went on to make several legal submissions in support of his application, among them one essential ingredient, he submitted — proof of Ministerial authorisation to proceed with the prosecution.

The State Solicitor, Mr. A. V. Maher, who prosecuted, however insisted that Walsh's silence on the occasion did not absolve him. The officers had clearly identified themselves, and in refusing to answer questions or identify the tractor driver he submitted the defendant was in clear contravention of the Act.

DUNGARVAN LIONS CLUB HALLOWE'EN CABARET

Earlier this week John Coade and his Cabaret Committee finalised details for this year's Cabaret which, as usual, will be held at St. Augustine's College, Duckspool on October 31, commencing at 8 p.m. sharp.

Topping this year's bill will be the irrepressible Joe Cuddy, the well-known singer, comedian and entertainer. Three years ago Joe topped the bill at Duckspool and proved to be the most successful artiste ever to appear at the annual Cabaret. The Cabaret Committee have had very many requests to bring Joe back to Dungarvan and now have decided to respond to public demand. On this occasion Joe will be backed by his own supporting group who are resident performers at the Royal Hotel, Howth.

This year it has been decided to have a slightly shorter first half to the Cabaret. This will feature Tony Coffey, Sean Murphy and the rest of the Happy Gang which form the Kilrossanty Comedy Group. Last year a "house trained" calf featured in their sketch and no doubt they have a few surprises up their sleeves for this year. The many musicians who feature from time to time in the Ballycoo Ceili Band are all coming together on the night and we can be assured of a lively round of reels and hornpipes and a lot of stomping feet.

Lena Walsh, our leading local soprano, who has always been a great favourite with our cabaret patrons will also be on stage. Finally the solo musician spot this year will feature fifteen-year-old Fiona Walsh from Ennls, Fiona is a multi-fleadh Ceoil winner and this will be her first appearance in Dungarvan.

As usual Bar facilities will be available during the course of the Cabaret. Tickets may be purchased at Matt Connolly, Main Street; Arch Fashions, Main Street; or from any Lions member.

NED O'CONNELL LTD., THE BRIDGE, DUNGARVAN FOR ALL YOUR HOUSEHOLD REQUIREMENTS

Ned O'Connell - A Trusted Name In Business

The name, Ned O'Connell is already a trusted household name in the area of Furniture, Carpets, Vinyls and secondhand furniture. He still has to keep up with the changing trend of modern designs. With this in mind he saw an opening for a Cane Centre which he has now opened with a beautiful display of Cane Furniture.

This Cane is made in Ireland and he is happy to support Irish made goods when possible. Being Irish made we are able to facilitate customers with their own design and specification if desired.

The Anniversary Sale presents the guaranteed promise of a fortnight of extraordinary offers of "value for money" and this is Ned's way of saying thanks to a supportive public which has patronised him so strongly over the past seven years.

People are always welcome to drop in at O'Connells and feel free to walk around the most spacious showroom and view the lavish display of carpets, vinyls, furniture, bedding and a beautiful range of prints.

As Ned and Brian have a background of carpet experience, they will only be too glad to give you expert advice and quotations free of charge.

With the new Carpet Showroom it allows Ned to carry a large selection of Axminster, Berbers, Shadow Prints, Looped Pile and Cut Pile Plains. Also a large selection of 2/3/4 metre vinyls. This must be seen to be believed.

The O'Connell Company also prides itself in the extent of its now famous trade-in service, plus full contents of houses and the ever availability of the widest possible choice of quality secondhand furniture.

In fact the Company is the only one in the general Dungarvan area providing this particular service.

Since the Company opened its doors for the first time in August 1978 it has provided a first class service to the public, six days a week.

Much more, of course by way of service is provided. Free delivery has been, and will continue to be, a feature—and promptly at that. That's the way O'Connells name has been built up over the last 7 years.

Easy term payments have always been another O'Connell feature. The Company has its own Finance Company—Coran Furniture Rentals Ltd.—and this ensures that trouble-free finance arrangements can be made at all times for our customers.

Friday next is a day to remember with the commencement of this fantastic sale.

G.A.A. Notes

NEXT SUNDAY

Because of a restructuring of the National Football League, Waterford have been brought into Division 3 South and they will play their first game on next Sunday when they meet Kilkenny at Portlaoise.

Those who remain in the West will have to travel to the upper part of the division and find their entertainment, either at Cappoquin or Lismore. No games are fixed for Fraher Field — in fact in my judgement is correct, we may have only one further divisional championship game at the Dungarvan venue this year.

Dungarvan, the divisional under 21 hurling champions will play Lismore in the final of that championship as a curtain-raiser to the Villierstown v. Modeligo junior hurling 'B' Western final at Cappoquin.

At Lismore, Affane will meet Ballyduff in the intermediate football semi-final in the only game listed for this venue.

County senior hurling champions Tallow will travel to the venue of the new Kerry champions to decide which side goes forward to the semi-final of the Munster club championships.

WATERFORD v. KILKENNY
It is confidently expected that on Sunday next we will have a satisfactory follow-up to last Sunday's hurling victory when our footballers meet Kilkenny in round one of the football league at Portlaoise.

The new management team are hopeful of getting off to a good start here and thus laying the foundation for a better than usual league run this season. They have met on a number of occasions but will not finalise their side until this Wednesday evening following a training session with the players. With two exceptions the players to do duty have been named and the team reads as follows:—

- Kieran Heffernan
- Davie Kirwan, A. N. O'Neil, Noel Gullen
- Peter O'Leary, Pat Keating, Pat Quinn
- Pierre White, Gerome O'Brien
- Eoin O'Brien, Pat Daniels, Jimmy Maher
- Sean Power, Garthach Mac Craith, A. N. O'Neil.

LISMORE v. DUNGARVAN
In normal circumstances the odds would favour Dungarvan winning this game, but the enforced absence through injury of Derek Lyons and Ray Dwyer, is certain to reduce their chances considerably. They are fortunate that Dermot Callaghan is back and that Seamus Mansfield is available again. With Peter Quailly, Tom Curran, Peter Ferncombe, David Burke, David Power, Fergal O'Donnell, John Fitzgerald, Ger Moran, Maurice Butler, Martin Houllihan, Michael Dwyer, Chris Meehan, these are the players who helped to bring so many under-age championship titles to the club over the past few years and these included victories over Lismore in both minor and under 21 grades. Dungarvan have been minor champions for two years but lost to Lismore in this year's final. Morrie Ferncombe, who is fit or bound will be a loss also as he has featured in many of the club's under-age victories in the past couple of years.

Lismore who are the present county minor champions will have benefitted a lot from their two recent meetings with Tallow and are likely to field the team which won a thrilling replay last Sunday. Their side will include Richard Ronayne, Martin O'Brien, Paul Prendergast,

Sean Prendergast, who will be at centre-back, Billy Lee, Liam Ryan, Bernard Crowley, Brendan Lawton, Brian O'Gorman and company, all of whom have come up through careful coaching at under 14, 16 and minor level.

From two very skilled teams we can expect a really great Western final and there will be very little between them at the end. If the reigning champions, Dungarvan, can overcome the loss of Lyons, Dwyer and Ferncombe (and achieving this is going to be very difficult) then their greater maturity in the grade may see them hold on to the title.

VILLIERSTOWN v. MODELIGO
Villierstown who took the junior football title in the West last year are within one hour of completing an unusual double by taking a junior hurling title this year.

Modeligo qualified by beating Glen Rovers in one of the most exciting games in the championship, the Villierstown team went into serious training and will field fit and slight favourites to beat Modeligo who have made a commendable impression in the competition for the first time this year.

Modeligo are in line for the hurling and football double and it would be a real upset for everyone if they achieved this since they haven't been very much in the running before. Because of the suspensions imposed recently on a number of their under 21 hurling team, they will not have all their players available and this would put an extra strain on their players who are not going to have things easy against the more experienced Johnnie O'Grady, Johnnie O'Brien, Billy O'Connell, Noel Landers, Eddie Glavin, P. Connery, Pat Hally, Eddie and Paul O'Grady, Michael O'Connell, Michael Kiely, Brendan O'Grady and company.

Modeligo will rely on such players as Ger and Nicky O'Donovan, the Troy brothers, the Kenneallys, Barron, Cashman and O'Neill and company to make this historic breakthrough. It's going to be a touch-and-go affair with very little between them in the end. What little difference there is it should favour Villierstown.

AFFANE v. BALLYDUFF
With a few splendid wins to their credit including victories over Dungarvan and An Rinn, Affane can well fancy their chances of beating Ballyduff in this intermediate semi-final at Lismore.

Ballyduff have been doing quite well at football this season but the loss of such players as Liam Power, Liam Drislane and Seamus Hannon is certain to lessen their chances here. There are rumours that Mossy Walsh is not keen on continuing to play club football, so if he decides to opt out, the task facing the club would be far more serious. I expect it to be an Affane win.

TALLOW v. KERRY CHAMPIONS

Tallow make the long journey to Lixnaw (twelve miles, beyond Trillick) on Sunday to play Lixnaw who are the new Kerry county champions in round one of the Munster club championships. Since their thrilling county final victory some weeks ago the team have been in serious training and the spirit has been seldom better. It is disappointing for them that Kieran Ryan, Connie Curley and Johnnie Geary will have to miss the game, but they are undaunted by their absence and will try all the harder to win this one and get to the Munster semi-final in which they will have the Tipperary champions at the Tallow venue.

The club are hopeful that as many supporters as possible will travel as the Kerry champions are certain to have a very big following — especially in territory where the game of hurling is booming. We wish our representatives the very best of luck.

OLLIVERS BEATEN

For the second successive year, western minor 'B' football champions, St. Oliver's were denied a county title when defeated by Mount Sion at Leamybrien in the county final on Saturday evening. It was an evenly contested game with just one score between them all the way up to the 50th minute. At the half-way stage the Eastern champions led by 1-2 to 0-2. In a closely contested second half Mount Sion had three points as against two for their inaccurate opponents. The full-time score was 1-5 to 0-4.

COLLIGAN ARE CHAMPIONS

Congratulations to Colligan on having achieved a unique double by taking the Western intermediate football championship just one year after they had won the junior championship. Winning it from the holders must be something of a bonus and particularly when Dungarvan were the slight favourites.

Dungarvan were unfortunate in having to field without Derek Lyons and Ray Dwyer who are injured and Colligan were unlucky to have lost Paude Flynn, who was forced to retire with an ankle injury in the first minute of the game. It was a tremendously exciting final and full credit to both teams who served up the best hurling in the grade in such bad conditions brought about by the overnight heavy rain.

Colligan ran away to a nine points lead at half time and Dungarvan's task of catching up looked ominous as the breeze which favoured Colligan in the first half, seemed to weaken a lot. The fight back was magnificent and when it was narrowed to two points it seemed as if the reigning champions would save the day. Showing heroic courage and fierce determination Colligan held out and were on the offensive when referee James Bennett blew the final whistle.

Whether one should commiserate with Dungarvan for their terrible hard luck, or praise Colligan for their tenacious defence on the occasion when Dungarvan scored narrowly missed in the second half, I don't know, but most of the big crowd present were agreed that their ten second half wides cost the holders the title. This was a most exciting final and a splendid finish to this championship.

HURLERS WIN

Although the winning margin was only four points, our win over Kildare was decisive, especially when the non-availability of some regular players is taken into account. This was a crucial game for the county since Kildare constitute the greatest threat to our advance on the road to promotion and the win will reduce some of the pressure. It was good to hear that the management team were pleased with the performance although concern was expressed with the 20 odd wides shot by the forwards.

When it was obvious that the game was flowing in our favour the selectors made substitutions in order to give some of the substitutes a 'run' and this highlighted the confidence behind the team. It was nice to see such good support too and followers expressed their appreciation of the efforts being made to get back out of this division. Hopefully our judgement of the poor records of the remaining six teams in our division won't result in over-confidence on the part of the players.

LISMORE WIN

This was a splendid under 21 hurling semi-final replay and for fifty minutes the result was in the balance. It was at this stage that Lismore hit their true form and pulled away to score a decisive and well-earned victory over Tallow.

OLIVERS BEATEN

For the second successive year, western minor 'B' football champions, St. Oliver's were denied a county title when defeated by Mount Sion at Leamybrien in the county final on Saturday evening. It was an evenly contested game with just one score between them all the way up to the 50th minute. At the half-way stage the Eastern champions led by 1-2 to 0-2. In a closely contested second half Mount Sion had three points as against two for their inaccurate opponents. The full-time score was 1-5 to 0-4.

AFFANE WIN

Another disappointing display by An Rinn gave Affane a rather easy passage to the Western semi-final of the intermediate football championship at Fraher Field on Saturday evening last. The losers had all their scores in the first half and were unable to get to grips with their livelier opponents in the second half.

SYMPATHY

Our sincere sympathy is extended to the Hanrahan family, Ballyclumper, Ballinacourty on the death of Dick Hanrahan, who was a life-long supporter of the Abbeyside/Ballinacourty teams. His sons, Michael and Richard were constant members of the clubs football and hurling teams, both having won county medals in football with Ballinacourty. Ar dhels De go raibh a nam.

REFEREES

It's good to see our top county referees on call by the games administration committee for National League duty.

On Sunday last John Moore was in charge of the Kilkenny v. Laois National Hurling tie at Nowlan Park and Jim Landers will again be the man-in-the-middle for the game between All-Ireland champions Kerry and Armagh at Trillick later this year.

COUNTY BOARD MEETING

Mr. James Tobin, chairman, presided at Monday night's monthly meeting of the County Board.

Having heard reports from both Divisional Boards, the chairman announced that it now seemed possible that all the county championships would be completed by the second Sunday in November. He said that this would be possible if there were no draws in the remaining games or if nothing unforeseen happens to interfere with the county fixtures committee plans.

CISDE NA PEIL

Following a long discussion on a report from Ciske na Peil it was decided to request that committee to select the junior football selectors for the coming season. It was pointed out that Waterford were entitled to play their second best team in the junior championship and this would leave available all players who had not played inter-county senior football in the past year.

S.H. REPORT

A written report, from the Manager, J. J. Landers, told of the win against Kildare on Sunday last and the management plans for winter training. This, the report stated, would be confined to one training session before each game (Wednesday).

Their next game will be against Derry on Sunday week and travelling arrangements had already been discussed with the Board officers and were satisfactory.

The chairman congratulated the team on having made a good start under unfavourable conditions.

TROPHIES

Nicolas Mac Craith raised the matter of the missing trophies and asked if there was any information about their whereabouts. When the chairman replied that no information seemed to be forthcoming on the matter he then asked if any member could help in tracing cups. It was announced that the following cups — Sheehan, Ryan, Russell and the Curran Shield are the trophies of which there is no record. A member was appointed to investigate the matter and try to have a report for the next meeting.

When John Lyons, Tallow, raised the matter of the request made by his club last year, for the replacement of the senior hurling trophy, by a cup to commemorate the late Ray O'Brien of Tallow, he was informed that the donors of the trophy in use at the present time were not agreeable to have it replaced and that under the circumstances nothing could be done.

SENIOR LEAGUE

The county secretary reported that the final stages of the league had been reached and that the final between Ballyduff and Dunhill would be played when a suitable date is found.

NOEL DALTON RETIRES

Many very fine tributes were paid to county referee Noel Dalton, who wrote informing the Board that he intended to retire as a referee this year. The chairman said that Noel had served the Board as a referee for 26 years and that everyone wished him well in his retirement from this aspect of the Board's activities. He had served the association in a most unselfish way and had been one of our outstanding referees over a quarter of a century.

ALL-TICKET GAMES

Nicolas Mac Craith was critical of Management's decision to make the All-Ireland football final an all-ticket affair. He said he denied the regular patrons of Croke Park a chance of getting to the game and it 'killed' the wonderful atmosphere that is part and parcel of the great occasion. He asked if this Board had any policy in this regard. Frankie Cullinane (Portlaoise) said that on the occasion of the recent final that thousands of people were seated on the passage-ways in the stands and it would be interesting to know how these people gained admission. Tommy Hennessey complained ed that ice-cream vendors were again in attendance, despite our recent protest.

The chairman agreed with most of the views expressed, but stated that in order to have it as Board policy (the all-ticket games), it would be necessary to have it discussed by way of motion.

Eamon Murphy (Dunhill) said that when certain counties were engaged in an All-Ireland, the management committee had to take certain steps in the interest of security.

CONGRATULATIONS

The chairman, on behalf of the Board, congratulated all the clubs who had won county championships since the last meeting.

EAMON YOUNG

Some delegates questioned the manner in which the arrangements for coaching by the Munster Council coach, Eamon Young, was being organised and that some clubs had difficulty about obtaining his services. Following a discussion it was decided that before he returns for his second five-weeks visit, that an itinerary would be drafted and all clubs would know in advance of the arrangements.
