Kyne added that they should protect their small court centres and they had a duty to do so.

Clir. P. Cahill, Kilmeaden, in-torjected to say that in his view it was the duty of the De-partment of Justice to provide the necessary funds to provide paid to wigs, gowns and proper accommodation as far as the Courts were concerned. "I think," he said, "the day is into the politics as to whether which should be selected he thought it only right to provide one good centre instead of having, as they had, three sub-standard centres. "The most important aspect of this," said the Co. Manager, "is to ask the Department of Justice for a de-cision on the proposal and see how they will re-act."

Cllr. Cahill then proposed and Cllr. Coffey seconded that they refer the proposal to the Dept. of Justice for a decision and this was passed unanimously.

This was then passed.

CLLR. GOODE'S REPLY

Clir. Wright initiated his at-tacks under the first item on the agenda, "Minutes," and con-tinued them under item two, "Manager's Orders" and item three, "Any Other Business." He expressed his dissatisfaction with the manner in which re-eart house latings had been Cllr. Goode then referred to the letter written by Cllr. trouble many in the higher grade. The score was a little unkind to Cappoquin B. They were at sea in the first half in the high wind when Shamrocks kept the ball in the air to advantage, but the second half was a vast improvement.

The side has shown dedica-ion in staying together tion throughout a season in which the results have not been kind. On Sunday, Gerry O'Brien, Mike Foley, Stephen Mason, Conor O'Leary, Paul Walsh and Pat Cullen did well. The experi-ment of a B' team has been a success for reasons not always reflected in the table.

Referee was Mick Walsh of Valley Rangers.

Big sporting news of the Easter week-end is, as usual this year, the Rothman's Cir-cuit of Ireland Rally which will again have an overnight stop-off in Waterford City on Saturday night, with many special stages through the county on Sunday. Austin McHale in his new Opel Manta 400 will lead the Shell/Dealer Opel team in what he expects to be the toughest rally for years but he has stated: "the new Opel should be there at the end and that's what counts."

However, all the news from the Dealer Opel Team Ireland last week was not so cheerful. Dungarvan's Maria Moloney, the reigning Irish Lady Rally Champion was in tears when she announced that she was withdrawing her Circuit of Ire-land entry. The planned new Opel Corsa for Maria missed the shipment from the Conti-nent and there was then not time to prepare for the rally. Maria has driven under the Dealer Opel Team Ireland ban-ner since its inception and has competed and finished on the Circuit for the past six years. She has won the Irish Ladies Rally title three times driving Opel cars.

This being the Easter Week-end when commemorations of those who, in every generation, gave their lives in the fight for Irish independence, are held at various centres throughout the country, the picture we have chosen for our "Remember-Other Days" series is most appropriate. Taken in the 1950's by Tom Tobin on the occasion of the Easter Commemoration held then in Stradbally, it shows the late Paddy Lynch of O'Connell Street, Dungarvan who, for years, was the popular caretaker at Dungarvan Technical School leaning on the headstone erected to the memory of the late Volunteer John Cummins who was killed in action in the Ballyvoile ambush on June 5, 1921, as he listened to the oration being delivered. Lismore with the advantage of the wind seemed to be in a good position facing the final thirty minutes. Although they won a lot of possession their forwards were making little progress. K. Whelan eventually broke through for a goal but once again Youghal fought back to equalise. With fifteen minutes to go, K. O'Comman scored a point and O'Gorman scored a point and this was to separate the sides for the next ten minutes. G. Hickey then broke the deadlock with an opportunist goal and the C.B.S. boys added a brace of goals and points to finish with a rather flattering score-

LISMORE F.C. NOTES

Last Sunday morning we played at home to Youghal in the Red House League and suffered defeat once again, when we were unable to find the net over the 90 minutes. We did however put through our own goal to register a score for Youghal

Overall Youghal deserved to win. They had only ten players commencing and before half-time two of their players were injured, but stayed on the field. The Youghal defence worked the offside to perfection and it was amazing to see our ext was amazing to see our ex-perienced players continually "falling" into offside positions.
