PARKING RESTRICTIONS ARE DAMAGING SAY TRADERS

It is a good thing that members of Dungarvan Urban Council have decided to seek a review of the latest parking schedules for the town which have recently seen most of the principal streets in the town centre break out in a rash of yellow lines.

From the beginning, many of the Council members objected to the new schedules, holding that most were too restrictive and that many were not at all necessary. However their objections were over-ruled by the Garda Chief Superintendent in Waterford who maintained that the new regulations were necessary for the free flow of traffic through the town.

Now the Dungarvan Town Traders Association have added their representative voice to the objections, claiming that the new schedules have gone completely overboard. They claim that they are killing the business life of the town as people from outside who ordinarily made Dungarvan their shopping centre are beginning to go elsewhere because they are now literally afraid to come into the town any longer.

While we accept that there may be an element of exaggeration in this we do know of a few cases where people have, in fact, actually stopped coming to Dungarvan for this reason. A farmer in the Ballyduff district of West Waterford told us that on a few recent visits to Dungarvan with his wife to do some shopping he picked up two parking tickets—just for a few minutes in each case—as he put it himself. He added that this made shopping in the town too expensive for him so they are now going elsewhere. While the exception does not prove a rule, one straw will usually show how the wind is blowing.

While we know that regulations and laws are necessary for the orderly running of things, we believe that the manner in which they are applied has everything to do with their successful operation. A flexible approach to the situation is a matter of top priority and the attitude where the parking regulations are concerned should not be to catch and penalise as much as to see that traffic can move through the streets without being blatantly or deliberately obstructed.

It is to be hoped that when the existing parking schedules come up for review that more consideration will be given to the recommendations of the town councillors than on the last occasion, always bearing in mind, of course, that we do not go from one extreme to the other and wind up with traffic chaos in the town. If a happy medium between the two extremes could be agreed it would be the ideal solution.

THE CONTROL OF DOGS ACT

The new Control of Dogs Act became law as from Monday last, February 2, and dog-owners, whether urban or rural, would, in their own interests, want to become aware of the measures it contains.

Under the new legislation a farmer can shoot a dog on sight simply if he believes it has been worrying livestock and he also has the power to kill a dog if he sees it in the vicinity where animals have been mauled. This will undoubtedly give farmers greater scope to protect their livestock and should reduce the number of animals killed or injured every year by marauding dogs.

Sheep farmers will particularly welcome these new tough measures as previously a farmer had to see a dog in the act of worrying sheep or other livestock before he could take any action.

According to the Act, dog-owners can be fined up to £500 or be sentenced to a month in jail if a dog is deemed to be out of control while failure to have a dog licence will involve a fine of £100. In addition, owners will be liable for damages caused in an attack by a dog and the person seeking damages does not have to prove the dog had a history of biting.

The legislation places a responsibility on each local authority (the Co. Council here) to set up a dog pound and to appoint at least one dog warden. Wardens will have the power to seize stray dogs and may request owners to produce their licences. The Waterford Co. Council with Waterford Corporation have already set up a dogs' home in the city and have appointed one warden who up to this has been coping with demands from both the city and county. It has been recommended that a second warden, to be located in the west of the county, be appointed to enable the new legislation to be adequately enforced.

Incidentally, dog licences at £5 per year will be available from the County Council from April 1. So if you don't want to have your dog seized be sure that he is licensed, not allowed to stray and that when out he is under control by lead or leash at all times.

A CENTENARY PUBLICATION

To mark the founding of the Ballyduff GAA Club in 1887 a special committee has been set up to compile and publish a history of this well-known West Waterford club later this year.

Members of the Committee are at present busy gathering material for the publication and anyone, at home or abroad, who may have any items of interest or old photographs pertaining to the club are asked to submit them. Any such items, which may be sent to Eamonn Bolger, Post Office, Ballyduff, S.O., will be carefully looked after and returned in due course.

More Cut-Backs For Agricultural Committee

A letter from the Department read at the monthly meeting of the Co. Waterford Committee of Agriculture in Dungarvan referred to further cut-backs in financial allocations to the Committee and directed the Committee not to enter into any financial commitments without the prior approval of the Dept.

Cllr. Jim Harty, Chairman, commented that it was a sad day when the Dept. directed further cut-backs like this. He said that the Committees of Agriculture had given excellent service but they were now at risk.

When the Acting C.A.O., Mr. Michael B. Byrne, said that the matter of holding the next meeting of the Committee was now in question, Mr. J. Harrington said that they should hold their monthly meeting anyway whether money was available or not. "If we don't," he said, "we're only hoisting the white flag to the Dept. and the powers that be."

On the proposal of Cllr. T. Cunningham, the Committee unanimously agreed to forward a strong resolution to protest about the directive.

SAFETY MEASURES AT CAPPOQUIN SCHOOL

On the proposal of Cllr. O. Wilkinson a motion was passed at a meeting of Waterford Co. Council in Dungarvan that better advance warning signs be erected on both approaches to Cappoquin schools. Cllr. Wilkinson said that the approach from the Mellery side which narrowed at the school gates was particularly dangerous.

Cllr. J. A. Walsh, Chairman supported the motion and the County Engineer, Mr. John O'Flynn said that he would have a large warning sign erected there.

A further motion was also proposed by Cllr. Wilkinson requesting the Council to provide road markings for parking of school buses outside the school gates at Cappoquin. This, he said, would prevent the bulk of the children from crossing the road.

The Co. Engineer agreed to the motion.

Council Faced With £60,000 Refuse Truck Replacement

When Cllr. B. Kyne asked at the January monthly meeting of the Dungarvan Urban Council what the position was in regard to the town refuse collection truck he was informed by the Town Clerk, Mr. B. White, that the Council could now be faced with an expenditure of £60,000 to purchase a new one.

Mr. White said that during the recent big freeze-up the truck had broken down. They got it going again but the engine then got badly damaged. Enquiries which they then made about hiring a truck showed that this was either impossible or too expensive. "The position now is that as a result we are faced with an expenditure of £60,000 to buy a new one," he said.

The Town Clerk added that they were looking at a June 1988 demonstration model which could be bought for around £60,000 but this would not be available for a while yet. From experience, he said, a truck lasts about four or five years in the town due to the continuous work on a 5-day a week schedule.

Padraig O Milleadha — Remembering The Past

The first instalment of an article on the life and times of writer, Padraig O Milleadha, the well-known Daise poet and written by his daughter Bean M. O Milleadha Uí Allobain, appears on page 6 of this issue. It will be continued in the next couple of issues over the coming weeks.

£1,996 for a 3-week AnCo industrial course. "Macra," he said, "wants a firm political commitment that the Certifications in Training Programme will not be hampered by lack of State funds and unless ACOT gets more resources for training, young farmers will lose out."

Cllr. Jim Harty, Chairman agreed that there was a need for more equality between the grants allocated for ACOT and those given to AnCo. The proposal put forward by Mr. Morrissey was supported unanimously.

Most Of Clover Debtors Now Paid

Reporting on the meeting of a deputation of members of the Committee with Mr. T. O'Loughlin, Sec. of the I.F.A. Creditors Group dealing with payments arising from the collapse of the Clover Meats factory at the monthly meeting of the Co. Waterford Committee of Agriculture, the Acting C.A.O., Mr. Michael B. Byrne said that in the course of a long and interesting discussion they had been told by Mr. O'Loughlin that 750 of the farmers involved had then been dealt with and only about 3 voiced their strong dissatisfaction at the way things had gone. Of the remaining 150, about 110 did not respond to the request that they apply for the money due, and their reasons for this include legal complications or loss of cheques which had been already issued.

Mr. Byrne said that he felt that the members of the deputation were reasonably satisfied with the outcome.

He said that he would be prepared to give the group sufficient breathing space to finish the job but in the event of an unsatisfactory outcome after a reasonable time he would again highlight the situation.

Cllr. T. Cunningham said that during the meeting they had been told that some farmers had some old cheques in their possession, some as old as 14 years without cashing them. He could not understand this at all.

Mr. M. Kiely (I.F.A.) said that he would not like it to get out that this was a common occurrence. It was only in a few cases but there were some who had cheques a few months old without having cashed them he said.

The discussion ended.

LICENCE RESTORED DESPITE GARDA OBJECTION

The application made by John Torrens, Knock, Clonea, for the restoration of his driving licence was granted by District Justice W. F. O'Connell at Dungarvan Court despite a strong objection voiced by Garda Inspector P. J. Hayes.

Mr. J. P. Gordon, Solr., who made the application told the Court that the applicant had been disqualified for 12 months in Feb. 1986 for driving with excess alcohol but the disqualification was postponed until May 1. However in October he had been convicted of driving without insurance within the period of suspension. Mr. Gordon said that the fines imposed had been paid and a period of 8 months of the disqualification had been served.

The applicant in evidence said that he was a garage proprietor and because of the "loading" that followed his conviction his insurance had gone up from £1,800 to £2,800. The car he had driven while under disqualification was his wife's and he was just testing it after repairs in the vicinity of his garage when he was stopped by the Garda.

Asked by Inspector Hayes whether this was the only occasion he had driven a car while under suspension, the applicant replied that it was. The Inspector then said that they were objecting to the application.

Stating that because of the business he was in and the need for him to be able to drive cars he was repairing, District Justice O'Connell agreed to restore the licence, "but," he added, "he knows what the consequences will be if he is caught on the wrong side again."

BLACKWATER BADLY POLLUTED

Arising from a report on the operation of the Water Pollution Act at a meeting of Waterford Co. Council in Dungarvan, Cllr. P. Kenneally said that pollution in the river Blackwater was very severe. Allegations which he could not substantiate were made that fishermen's nets were riddled with pollution in the river.

Mr. J. O'Flynn, Co. Engineer, said that all rivers in the county were tested on an on-going basis and by and large the condition of most rivers was found to be good. If there were any special complaints made about any particular river he would, he said, have them checked out.

Cllr. G. O'Halloran said that without doubt agricultural effluent seemed to be the greatest source of pollution in the rivers. To combat this something would need to be done on a national scale because of the enormous financial outlay it would involve.

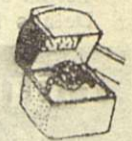

The Co. Engineer said that in some cases a slurry tank could solve such a problem and this would not cost a great deal. "If some scheme of grants to assist, where big amounts were involved was made available it would be a very welcome step," he said.

£110,000 FOR URBAN ROADS

Mr. Austin Deasy, Minister for Agriculture has been informed by the Minister for the Environment, Mr. John Boland that he has allocated £110,000 to Dungarvan Urban Council under the Road Grant Allocation for 1987. The amount, includes £10,000 for the car park and £80,000 for Friar's Walk, Abbeyside.

CAPPOQUIN AND DISTRICT NOTES

SOCCER PROGRAMME DISRUPTED What would normally be the showpiece of the soccer season, the eighth second round ties of the Dungarvan Tyre Centre Cup, billed for last Sunday, was turned into a total non-event by absolutely appalling weather, when torrential rain fell from very early morning. Only four games were played and we can confirm from personal uncomfortable experience, that two of these should never have begun in the conditions which prevailed. But first the results of those that did take place:— Shamrocks 0; Ardmore 5; Cappoquin 'B' 0; Bride View 2; Cappoquin 'A' 6; Piltown 0; Affane 4; Valley Rangers 0. Some surprisingly large winning margins for Ardmore, Cappoquin 'A' and if there was to be a minor shock it came at Affane where Ray Flynn scored three for the home side. On were Modeligo v. Inch — where fog was the problem; Grange v. Glenview; Killeagh v. Lismore — a disappointment for Lismore who were at full strength; and Youghal 'B' v. Ballyduff. All the postponed ties go on next Sunday. Times should be checked locally as these will not be confirmed until tonight's (Monday) league meeting and will not be available for inclusion. Our hopes of being able to bring reports on Cappoquin 'A' and 'B' home ties were not to be. Cappoquin and Bride View came to Salterbridge in the morning to find a glue-pot pitch with rain pouring down and periodic fog-banks shrouding the ground. As the appointed referee did not appear a postponement seemed logical but Cappoquin's Tommy O'Sullivan was asked as substitute and the game kicked off fifteen minutes behind schedule. For the record Bride View's two goals came in the second half — all we can tell you of a game which should never have started. After ten minutes, protective clothing and the 'brolly' began to lose out to the elements and retirement to the shelter of the car was the only solution. Afternoon conditions were, if anything, worse at the Danes Field but here the news was better from a Cappoquin point of view. SOCCER CUP DRAW The draw for the quarter-finals of the Dungarvan Tyre Centre Cup was made on Monday night and is — Affane v.

Bride View; Cappoquin A v. Grange or Glenview; Ardmore v. Modeligo or Inch; Youghal or Ballyduff v. Killeagh or Lismore. All games on Feb. 22nd. Cappoquin's second round games have been re-fixed for next Sunday. CAPPOQUIN/AFFANE G.A.A. NOTES Field Development — Great progress has been made with our Field Development. A drainage system has been installed which should take much of the surplus water from the pitch during flooding. A car park adjacent to the dressing rooms is almost completed, and will be of great benefit for club use, etc. Presently work is going ahead with the erection of nets behind the goals in the main pitch and the juvenile pitch. This is an essential and should speed up games, as a lot of time is often wasted retrieving balls and of course should stop the balls from getting lost. Referee — Jim Joe Landers takes charge of a very important N.F.L. match on Sunday next. SCOUT NOTES Two very impressive presentation ceremonies took place in Mellera's Scout Centre on Friday night. To Mr. J. A. Walsh, Chairman, Waterford County Council, first was a report on the state of the child in the world today which was presented by Alan Barry, Cub Scout, Cappoquin, and the second, a plaque which was presented by a scout from Tallow troop, which they received from the Mayor, Staley Bridgion in Lanchashire, when they were on summer camp last year. The following personnel were present — Jim Hailey, Director; Sean Moynihan, Chairman, Regional Council; Jim Clancy, P.R.O., Mellera's Scout Centre; Joe Carroll, National Headquarters; Willie Gallagher, John McKill, P. J. Kieley, Seamus McLoughlin, Anthony Reddy and Alan Barry, Cappoquin Unit; John O'Mahony, Michael Regan and fellow members, Tallow Troop. At last week's meeting in the Scout Den, the following were made P.L.'s — P. J. Veale, Roger McLoughlin, Anthony Reddy and Dan Wade. The order of the meeting was games and test work and a patrol hike which is organised for Saturday. Leaders: Cub Scouts and Venturers will be at the Scout Den on Friday night at 7 p.m. sharp, for our monthly Mass Parade. A meeting will be held after

DUNGARVAN G.A.A. CLUB NOTES

Our club meeting on Monday night confirmed what we had confidently believed in relation to our big £55,000 fundraising draw — it is getting a tremendous response from the general public. Never before have I known so many people to rally in support of a club effort and it now looks as though this biggest financial undertaking by us is going to be a marvellous success. A lot of foot slogging has been involved for several club members, while others are doing their selling in a quieter, but nonetheless highly effective way. All we are asking is a subscription of £5 per month (little over £1 a week) for the five months between March and July inclusive. There's a new car as the top prize for each month of the five plus many other truly fabulous prizes. What is particularly satisfying is the number of former club members and players now domiciled away from home who have been in touch to support the draw. If there are others in that category who haven't yet come forward we would appeal to them to do so as soon as possible. The first draw does not take place until March 28th, so meantime the promotional effort must continue. COUNTY CONVENTION As expected, Tom Cunningham and John A. Murphy were unanimously re-elected as Munster Council representative and County PRO at last Saturday night's county convention in Kilmacthomas. We had a full eight-member delegation headed by our chairman Mikeen Lyons, and it also comprised Brighidin Ni Cristoir, Maura Curran, Mary Fitzgerald, Margaret Cunningham, John Meehan, Pa Meehan and John Fennell. Once again John Fennell displayed club loyalty at its very best. He was at work until close to 7 o'clock but then made another quick dash to Kilmac, just as he had done for the Western convention the previous week. We are deeply appreciative of that kind of commitment. Disappointingly, Derek Lyons has had to cry off the panel. Derek has been an absolute revelation in the league games against Wicklow, Tipperary and Carlow, and in those games had stamped himself as one of the team's top forwards. However, there is still a niggling after-effect from an injury sustained during the 1986 intermediate hurling championship campaign and he has very wisely decided to rest until it has completely vanished. OUR PRESIDENT BEREAVED On behalf of everyone in the club I would like to extend sincere sympathy to our President, Brighidin Ni Cristoir on the death of her sister Kit last week-end. That sympathy is, of course, also extended to the entire Christopher and Croke families. Go ndeine Dia trocaire ar a h-anam d'ill. FROM LONDON That great London-domiciled gael, Mick Morrissey, who visits us every year to coincide with the All-Ireland senior hurling final, has been in touch with a request we are very glad to pass on. Mick lives in the Irish heartland of London — Kilburn, and is PRO of the Fr. Murphy Club in addition of course to being Vice-President of the London County Board. The Fr. Murphy Club is anxious to hear from any hurlers or footballers from this county living in London who might want to play with them this year. Or to hear also from any Waterford players who may be planning going to live in London. Fr. Murphy's compete in senior and intermediate hurling and junior and minor football. The man to contact for further details is: Jim Howlin, 38, Esmond Road, Kilburn, London N.W. Telephone 624-2755.

ELECTION '87

Profiles submitted on behalf of some of the candidates seeking election in this constituency are as follows: Martin Cullen (Progressive Democrats) was born in Waterford and lives with his wife and one son at Rockfield, Waterford. Aged 33, he was educated at Waterpark College, Waterford and Waterford Regional Technical College. He works as a sales manager with E. Dillon & Co., Auctioneers. He comes from a family with long associations with public life in Waterford. His father, Tom Cullen was Independent Mayor of Waterford in 1967-8 while his grandfather Martin Cullen served in the same position in 1922-3. In a statement following his selection as candidate the Progressive Democrats said that it was clear that their new party held the key to the future advancement of the country and that Martin Cullen believed that the people of Waterford would be to the forefront by turning a Progressive Democrat candidate to the 25th Dail. Dr. Donal Ormonde (Fianna Fail) was born in Kilmacthomas in 1943 and is the son of a Minister for Post and Telegraphs, the late Sean O'Riada. Educated at the local N.S. and the Augustinian College in Dungarvan, he graduated as a medical doctor from U.C.D. in 1969 and completed his internship in Ardara. He went on to specialise in radiology and joined Ardee Hospital in 1975 as consultant radiologist. Making a decision to represent the people of Waterford in the Dail, Donal Ormonde took unpaid leave of absence from his consultancy post at the hospital. He is the Fianna Fail deputy spokesman on Health and has completed four years in Dail Eireann. In a recent league table regarding pensioners backbenchers, Dr. Ormonde was rated the 5th most effective T.D. in the Dail Chamber. Brian O'Shea (Labour Party) was born in Slievekeale, Waterford. He is 42 years of age and married and lives with his wife and six children at Sweetbriar Lawn, Tramore. Educated at Mount Sion C.B.S. and St. Patrick's Training College, he is a teacher at St. Paul's School, Lisduffgan, Waterford. He joined the Labour Party in 1970 and in the Local Elections in 1985 he was elected to Waterford Corporation, Waterford Co. Council and Tramore Town Commissioners. He has been an active trade unionist all his working life and held the position of Chairman of the Waterford Branch of the INTO for three years up to 1985. He was President of the Waterford Council of Trade Unions in 1981/82. Tony Wright (Workers Party) lives in the town of Dungarvan. He is married with four children and is an employee of the Waterford Co-op. As a member of Dungarvan Urban Council, he is noted for his outspoken and hard-hitting comments on the rights of workers and the unemployed. He is actively involved in various voluntary community projects in the locality and with the trade union movement. TWELVE NOMINATED When nominations for Election '87 closed last Saturday a total of twelve candidates had been nominated to contest the 4 seats in the Waterford constituency as follows: Fianna Fail — D. Ormonde (outgoing), B. Swift; Fine Gael — E. Collins (outgoing); A. Deasy (outgoing); Labour — E. O'Shea; Progressive Democrat — C. Wright; Workers Party — T. Wright, P. Gallagher; Sinn Fein — N. Ryan; Independents — P. Sweeney, S. Lanigan. Polling day is Tuesday, February 17. STANDING AS INDEPENDENT Paddy Sweeney, Tramore Road, Waterford, President, Christian Social Party, is standing as an independent candidate and in the course of a statement issued during the week he said that he had been forced to stand as an independent because his party registration "has been blocked by the secularists who now control Leinster House." He states that his party has firmly held Catholic principles and the election represents a battle between the cosmic forces of organised atheism on the one hand and belief on the

NEW ARRIVAL Congratulations to Timmy and Bridie Murphy on their recent happy event, the birth of a son. COMMUNITY CENTRE COLLECTION Ballysaggart Community Council wish to thank all who contributed to last week-ended collection. The money collected is being spent on your Community Centre and those who have not already done so can give their donations to any member of the Community Council this week-end. GAA NOTES WORK ON FIELD We would like to thank all who helped out in the field on Saturday last. Despite the fact that most people were busy the response was outstanding and was much appreciated. JUVENILE NIGHT On Monday night last a get-together for all the juveniles in the area was held in the Community Centre. It was a night thoroughly enjoyed by all present, young and old, with the dancing of the local sets once again bringing the house down. Well done to the juvenile committee who do such a tremendous job throughout the year. Non Stop Draw — The first draw in the club's non stop draw took place on Monday night in the local Community Centre. Before the draw took place the Chairman and the promoters for all their efforts which made the draw such a success and especially all the people who contributed to the draw at a time when so much demands were being made on their finances. The results of the draw were as follows — 1st, £50, Mrs. Fenton, Kilmac, Tallow; 2nd, £25, Tommy Meagher, Ardinnan, Co. Tipperary; 3rd, £10, Dave Fennelly, Ballysaggart; 4th, £10, Michael Fitzgerald, Ballysaggart; 5th, £10, Mary Geoghegan, Chapel Street, Lismore; 6th, £10, Bill Kennefick, Ballysaggart; 7th, £10, Pat Veale, Ballinamuck, Dungarvan. The draw continues on the last Monday night of every month. So why not make sure you are included by contacting any club officer right away. —(Adv't.)

GERALDINES G.A.A. NOTES

SYMPATHY
The club wishes to express sincere sympathy to Maura Romayne on the death of her father Michael Purcell which sad event took place recently. He was father-in-law of our committee member Michael Romayne. May he rest in peace.

21st BIRTHDAY
Congratulations are extended to Billy O'Connell who celebrated his 21st birthday recently. He was the recipient of many nice presents and a party was held in the Village Inn, Aglish.

Billy is holder of a Munster under-16 hurling medal won with West Waterford in 1982.

He is a playing member of our club and an under 21 player with St. Oliver's.

SPEEDY RECOVERY
The club wish Roman Culloo, one of the teachers in Aglish School, a very speedy recovery to full fitness again after an operation in a Cork Hospital.

ST. OLIVERS CLUB
St. Oliver's under age club held a very successful annual general meeting in St. Mary's Hall recently. A big crowd of parents and young boys attended the meeting. St. Oliver's will field hurling and football championship teams in under 12, 14, 16, 18 and 21 this year.

Everyone was well pleased after the meeting. —(P.R.O.)

Another Good Win For Waterford

WATERFORD 4-6; CORK 1-9

The game was close and a result either way looked on the cards.

Cork looked to be in the driving seat at half time when the scores stood level at 2-3 to 1-6. Waterford had played with the aid of the strong breeze in this period and goals from Pat Ryan and Anthony Cooney kept them level with the champions whose goal came from Barry Harte.

Indeed in the early stages of the second half Cork looked to be pulling away when Harte (2) and Ger Hanley (1) pointed to put Cork into the lead at the three-quarter stage.

Waterford however stormed back in the final quarter in which they held Cork scoreless while they themselves had points from Pat Bennett and Kieran Delahunty to cut the deficit and then Damien Byrne found the Cork net in the 53rd minute to give them the lead.

Pat Bennett had Waterford's fourth goal three minutes later and Anthony Cooney added a point to leave the home side well clear at the finish.

Best for the home side were keeper Pat Curran, Frank Doherty, Liam O'Connor, Peter Walsh, Shane Ahearne, Jimmy Bressford, Anthony Cooney and Pat Bennett.

Scorers: Waterford—P Bennett 2; A Cooney 1-1; P Ryan 1-1; D Byrne 1-0; K Delahunty, M. Ronayne 0-1 each. Cork—B.

Harte 1-3; M. Mullins 0-2; C. Casey, S. McCarthy, C. Clancy and G. Hanley 0-1 each.

Waterford — P. Curran; P. Walsh, J. Dunford, F. Doherty; T. Sheehan, L. O'Connor, D. Foran; M. Ronayne, G. Fitzpatrick; J. Bressford, S. Ahearne, A. Cooney; P. Bennett, P. Ryan, K. Delahunty Subs.—D. Byrne for Ryan; S. Prendergast for O'Connor.

Cork—F. O'Sullivan; R. Coleman, S. O'Gorman, J. Crowley; F. Ramsey, J. O'Callaghan, P. Madigan; C. Casey, T. Barry, Murphy; M. Mullins, S. McCarthy, B. Harte; G. Hanley, J. Walsh, C. Clancy.

CYCLING

Stephen Spratt Returns To France

Stephen Spratt, the 20-year-old Dungarvan man who won last year's FBD Milk Ras in brilliant fashion will take steps to rehabilitate his promising professional cycling career when he returns to France next week to rejoin the ACBB amateur cycling club.

This will be Stephen's second stint with ACBB. He returned home to Dungarvan from France last year stating that he would never again return when what looked like a most promising start turned sour. He had some excellent results while there but was dogged by ill health and was involved in constant hassle over suitable accommodation which he blamed for much of his health problems.

He came home nursing what appeared to be a suspect knee injury and somewhat disillusioned. After a period at home with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Bill Spratt at Pinewood Lawn, Abbeyside, Stephen packed his bags again but this time he headed back for the sunshine of California where he had already spent two winters. He continued his training there, availing of the opportunity to acclimatise himself to conditions for the World Championships in Colorado Springs.

Then a war of words broke out between Stephen and Brendan Wadden, Director of the national cycling squad as a result of which he was left out of the team for the World Championship, the Nissan Classic and any subsequent national representation. That breach has yet to be healed fully and as Madden has commented, "we will have to wait and see how things turn out."

IRELAND'S BEST HOPE

It is to be hoped that the gap which has kept the young Dungarvan man out of the Irish squad for some time now will soon be bridged and that he will soon again be on his way to professional stardom. He must be Ireland's best hope of an Olympic cycling medal in Seoul in 20 months time and he admits that the Games hold a special attraction for him.

"It is something I have always dreamed about. I would like to test myself against the best in the world in the Olympics but I have to be pragmatic and say that if a good "pro" contract comes along this year, I would think very hard about accepting it. Ever since I started riding a bike at 13, I've been thinking about a professional career. What happened last

COMMUNITY INFORMATION BOOKLET

Every household in the community will receive a copy of a Community Information Booklet, which was compiled by the Community Council. Contents include information on Social Services, Housing Grants and Legal Aid, Protection Advice, Advice for the Elderly, and important phone numbers.

We thank everybody who co-operated with us. While every care has been taken to ensure the accuracy of the contents, the Council will not be held responsible for any errors or omissions.

MEETING

The monthly meeting of the Community Council was presided over by James Tobin, chairman, on Monday, Jan. 19th in Murphy's, Knockanore. Many items were discussed and acted upon including fund raising, which we hope to get under way shortly.

LATE WILLIAM McGRATH

It is with regret that we record the death of William (Willie) McGrath, formerly of Knockanore which occurred on December 29th, 1986 at St. Mary's Home, Montenotte, Cork. His remains were interred in Whitechurch Cemetery, Co. Cork. May his cheerful soul rest in peace.

To his relatives and friends we extend our sympathy.

year just made me even more determined to ride as a professional one day," he says.

This summer will be a vital one for young Spratt. He can take steps towards his aims, as his cycling talent will surely allow him, or he can take steps backwards with other things on his mind. For himself and the sport of cycling, we hope the former will be the one that wins.

FINED FOR POSSESSING CANNABIS

A fine of £10 was imposed on Maurice F. O'Mahony, Fitzgerald Terrace, Dungarvan, by District Justice W. F. O'Connell at Dungarvan Court when he pleaded guilty to a charge of possessing a quantity of cannabis resin at Lower Main Street, Dungarvan on December 3.

Garda Inspector P. J. Hayes who prosecuted stated that on December 13, Garda J. Martin stopped the defendant, and searched him. He found a substance on him which was sent for analysis to the Forensic Science Laboratory. The result showed that it was cannabis resin of average content, and capable of making 3 cigarettes.

Mr. Niall King, Solr. (J. F. Williams & Co.), for the defendant said that he had been abroad and had returned home. He did have the cannabis in his trousers pocket but it was for his own use only and not for distribution to anyone. He said that the defendant was to return to England but had stayed back in order to attend the Court, and answer the charge.

G.A.A. COACHING NEWS: SPRING 1987

The G.A.A. has published the Spring edition of COACHING NEWS, the third edition of a new coaching magazine for team coaches, trainers, managers, selectors, referees and people involved with hurling and football teams at all levels.

COACHING NEWS, edited by Eugene McGee, newspaper editor and well known sports journalist, and co-ordinated by Lorcán O'Ruairc at Paice an Chrocaigh is a quarterly publication dealing with a variety of aspects of coaching and coaching-related topics. It covers such areas as the role of the coach, the coaching of individual skills, the psychology of sport, the prevention of treatment of injuries in hurling and football, aspects of rules and refereeing and news and features on coaching generally.

The current edition includes—The Value of Positive Coaching by Liam O'Maolmichill, Ard Stiurthoir; Refereeing—Where do we go from here? by Fr. Seamus Gardiner, Chairman of Referees Work Group; Coaching a Club Team by Phil Benis; Good Physical Training is No Joke by Fr. Thomas McDonnell; The Basics of Good Goalkeeping by Noel Skehan; Preparing for the Big Day by Brendan Hackett; The Role of the Hurling Defender by Mick Jacob; Northern Ireland Institute of Coaching by Con O'Callaghan; Stress Factors in Team Sports by Dr. John A. Connolly; A Parish Coaching Plan in Blackrock / Ballinlough by Joe McGrath, Chairman, National Coaching Council; Things have changed or have they?; Kerry in Training by Pat Spillane; and Planning A Yearly Programme by Jim McKeever.

COACHING NEWS is attractively presented with many interesting photographs throughout and is available from Slopá Cumann Luthcheas Gael Paice an Chrocaigh, Baile Atha Cliath 3 at a cost of £1.00 per copy or £1.40 by post.

Mrs. A. Hallahan and Mrs. B. Keane told us of the very enjoyable time they spent at An Grianan in December. There were only 29 altogether in the house, so the atmosphere was particularly warm and friendly.

ARDMORE AND GRANGE I.C.A. NOTES

Our January guild meeting had to be postponed from the 2nd Tuesday to the 3rd one on account of the atrocious weather conditions.

We held it at 7.30 p.m. in order to give time to attend to guild business. There was a very big attendance, which is unusual for a January meeting. Votes of sympathy were passed to Mrs. N. Mansfield, Mrs. M. Conway and Mrs. Colender, all three of whom had suffered family bereavements during recent weeks.

Mrs. Wilson of Zanusso and her helper turned up at 8.30 p.m. and gave a most professional and highly interesting demonstration of the magic of microwave cooking. As Mrs. Hallahan (who proposed the vote of thanks) remarked, she was magic herself as she produced dishes after dishes for us from porridge, bacon, eggs, sausages to salmon cutlets, chocolate cake, hollandaise sauce, to mention but a few.

We had invited representatives from 3 guilds but only our friends from An Rinn came, as it was an exceptionally foggy night. Some of us had been rather worried to that our demonstrators might not make it and were really relieved when she arrived in good time.

When the cup of tea and chat were over, it was quite late, but nobody seemed to notice. Mrs. Wilson seemed to have enjoyed herself too. She had been demonstrating at Cash's, Cork, but says there's something specially intimate and friendly about a rural audience.

DUNGARVAN SCOUT NOTES

(11th 32nd Waterford - St. Mary's)

The meeting started at 7 p.m. with A/S/L Tom Power opening with the prayer and a few announcements. Again since the theme of the month was knots we went over knots such as the 'sheet lashing', 'diagonal lashing' and the 'square lashing'.

LOOKING BACK

Tonight was a night for looking back at the 11th as it was in 1968. A former S/L Jack Mc Carthy came down to show us slides of the troop as it was back in '69 and the years following after that. Jack was responsible for the formation of the 11th Waterford back in '68. He showed us pictures of the troop on their first hike which was out by Colligan and the Salmon Leap. We saw a lot of familiar faces (maybe not as young). Some of those faces were Tony Ryan, N.T. Michael Power and John Moore. From these archives we even saw our S/L Kevin Kieley in some pictures (but of course he denied it all (but we know better)). We also saw some photos of our annual camp to France and saw Fr. Cullinan doing the shopping. We learned of hikes and camps which the troop went on.

We would like to thank Jack for showing the slides and pictures.

WEDNESDAY NIGHT CUB SECTION

Prayers were said and dues were collected. The first game of the night was no ordinary game. What's out of the ordinary with 'chinese football'? John Lenthian's team came out as the victors with Conor's knuckles being quite sore.

We played a hectic game of soccer after testwork. With all the boys attention focussed on the winning goal-who won? Nobody knows! However, the meeting ended with the Cub Scout Prayer, and a few notices were read out.

Reminder: Parents are reminded to pay the £5 insurance fee as soon as possible.

THURSDAY NIGHT CUB NOTES

This week we started our programme by collecting dues and insurance, and with all formalities behind us we began our arts and crafts programme with each cub being assigned a different scene. Stephen Termy's Clan, 1. Cub Investiture; 2. Colin Walsh's Clan, Cub Uniform; 3. Derek Foley's Clan Scout Shop and contents; 4. Sean McCarthy's Clan, Camping Scene; 5. Mark Deegan's Clan, Mass Parade. We devoted thirty minutes to this part of our programme which was supervised by Catherine Ansell our C/S/L.

Later we played a very active game called obstacle relay which took a lot of skill and patience and it also went down very well. This game was supervised by John Street, A/C/S/L. We also played a relay to shore and later we answered questions and queries from the cubs.

We ended our meeting with a few gentle reminders and the cub scout prayer. At 8.15 p.m. we had a Parent Leader meeting and we would now like to thank the seven interested parents who attended for their co-operation. Also, we would like to thank the cubs for turning up for Mass on Sunday despite the weather conditions. It just goes to show that the interest is there!

OVERNIGHT STAY IN DEN

Last Saturday some of the lads stayed in the den under the supervision of ACSL John Street. They arrived at the Den at about 8 p.m. and straight away they headed for the darts and pool. This kept them going until 'Omen 11' started on tv. Of course this was the main reason why they stayed. Even 'Damien' Travers stayed for the night. The lads went to bed at about 1.30 a.m. and they all slept comfortably.

MASS

We attended Mass at 10.30 a.m. in the Parish last Sunday and despite the heavy rain we had a very big turnout. So well done lads.

IN GENERAL

Swimming as usual next Sunday. Bus leaving the Den at 2.20 p.m. Next week we will have a full report on a Photography Course in which three of our PL's took part.

CAUSEWAY TENNIS CLUB NOTES

1987 hit the Causeway Courts with a variety of weather - wind, rain and our all-time seasonal favourite - snow. Undeterred by these little unpleasanties, two of our hardy players, Betty and Eileen Brennan, were seen warming up in a game of singles, as were Ann Kelleher and Maureen Tracey - later in the month.

Our Winter League singles team tournament is well under way and players please remember that your matches must be played before the next scheduled match, or else your team forfeits 10 points, so keep that friendly competitive team spirit going and get those matches played on time. Any queries contact Josephine McCarthy of Sheila Veale.

Ladies, Christmas is over and the kiddies are back in school, so join us on Wednesdays for a morning of tennis and of course that ever-popular cup of coffee.

On behalf of the Causeway Tennis Club I would like to extend our sympathy to Margaret Foley, Strandside North, on the death of her mother. R.I.P.

G.A.A. Notes

Footballers Should Beat Clare In Vital League Tie

WATERFORD v. CLARE

The National Football League resumes on Sunday next and Waterford for their first game of the new year, will travel to Ennis to play Clare in round five. With the county retaining just a slim chance of qualifying for the final stages of the division 3 South, this is a vital game for us.

The tremendous improvement shown by the footballers since the appointment of the new management committee in September has aroused much interest and as a result, support has increased considerably. Many of their supporters will be with them in Ennis to cheer the team who have already achieved victories over Tipperary and Carlow and failed by the narrowest of margins to Limerick. Since training resumed three weeks ago the attendance has been almost one hundred per cent. Also during this time they have beaten Limerick and Tipperary's under 21 teams in challenge games.

When we played Clare in Ennis in the championship almost nine months ago, I recall having written that this was a game that we had thrown away. We should have beaten them, even with a poorly prepared selection. Unless they have improved considerably since we should have the beating of them now.

TEAM

Subs: D. Kirwan, T. Behan, M. Kavanagh, M. Ferncombe, P. Hayes, M. Collins, N. Cullen, G. O'Brien, P. Curran, G. Walsh.

COUNTY CONVENTION
It was quiet, orderly and well conducted, but it was a most unexciting meeting and most of the 250 delegates were home-bound before nine o'clock or less than two and a half hours after the business began. There was no one to let off steam, no hot air and no smoking was allowed in the hall. (Some one said that there could be no 'fire without smoke' and while he got the old idiom backwards, it was the 'crack' of the evening).

The full financial statement, excellently presented by treasurer, Garry Cunningham was disposed of in exactly ten minutes. Portlaoigh's delegate Frankie Cullinane asked about the Munster Council accident, scheme payments and Fr. Fitzgerald enquired about the breakdown of rents paid to Fraher field.

The County Secretary's report was disposed of in two minutes and attracted a comment, only from the county chairman, James Tobin who spoke about the very high quality of the document and a similar report which won the County Secretary the MacNamee Award two years ago.

By 6.25 p.m. all the outgoing officers had been re-elected unopposed and a couple of minutes later the Chairman spoke his very fine address which is published elsewhere.

Motions: By 7 p.m., Cappoquin/Afane delegate John Fraher was on his feet proposing his club's motion which requested that old-age pensioners be admitted free to all G.A.A. games, except Provincial and All-Ireland finals. Pat Fanning pointed out that this was Association policy and was in operation in most Provinces. The motion was agreed and will now go to Munster Council.

Motion 2: This was the only motion which aroused any real debate and it resulted in the senior football championship changing from a 'knock-out' to a league system. Patsy Flanagan (Tramore), moved the motion and gave all his reasons for having the football running on a system similar to the hurling. He was strongly supported by Tommy Hennessey, Liam Fardy and Stan Furlong of Butlerstown. Very strong in opposition were Eamon Martin, Greg Fives, Jimmy Maher (Kilrossanty) and a few others. The motion was given a two-thirds majority and passed.

Motion 3: Erin's Own club through their delegate, Michael Dowling and with strong support from James Walsh (Kilgobinet), tried to have the intermediate hurling championship run on a county-wide basis but failed on a vote.

Motion 4: Kilmachomas were given little support for their motion seeking to have an additional championship confined to junior football teams of senior and intermediate clubs. Michael Lawlor moved the motion that was strongly opposed by Eamon Martin and Frankie Cullinane. It was well beaten.

Motion 5: Melleray club had beginners luck with their first ever motion to a County Convention when they convinced the convention of the need of having a 'C' grade championship in under 16 hurling and football. Jimmy McCarthy moved and was supported by John Kiely, Bord na nOg and Fr. Fitzgerald.

Motion 6: A motion seeking to have the group structures in the under 21 championship improved, moved by Denis McCarthy. Cappoquin was passed without opposition after being supported by Phil Fanning, Nicolas Mac Craith and John Fraher.

Motion 7: A motion from Dungarvan dealing with the relegation clause in the senior hurling championship was moved by Tom Cunningham who referred to the many weaknesses in the system. He pointed out that under the present system, a strong hurling club could find themselves relegated. (Tallow for instance who were county champions in 1984 and 1985 and are now relegated to intermediate), and weakened sides allowed to stay up, etc. Phil Fanning and Noel Fleming spoke against and the motion was defeated.

Motion 8: Dunhill's motion asking that a period of two weeks be allowed between matches involving dual clubs, didn't meet with convention approval when moved by Liam Dowling, N. Fleming, P. Fanning and S. O'Brien spoke against.

Motions 9 and 10: Withdrawn.

Motion 11: This motion from Tramore asking for the publication of a full fixtures list was agreed without division.

Motions 12 & 15: Withdrawn.

Motion 13: Convention showed no appetite for the Lismore motion requesting that a standard meal be provided for both teams after the senior hurling and football county finals. Jimmy O'Gorman moved and made a 'teeth-watering' case but he was hammered on all sides.

Most of the speakers against felt that the County Board had enough on their plate already and that it was customary for winners of a county final to rush off to their own celebrations after a victory.

Final Motion: Michael O'Mahony, Clonea club, moved that the number of admission tickets for senior hurling and football clubs for admission to grounds, be increased to 35. Michael Burns, Afane/Cappoquin and others opposed and it was well defeated.

Registration: After County Development Officer, John Fraher had spoken on the subject of registration, the Chairman announced that all clubs would have to complete and submit their registration of players and members before the second meeting of the Divisional Boards.

The convention ended with the presentation of awards and trophies to the referees who had officiated at county finals.

CLUB OF THE YEAR
This announcement had been kept a top secret until the convention and when Lismore club were given the award, the announcement was greeted with great applause. It was known that after the claims of several clubs had been examined by the special committee, both Lismore and Mount Slion were shortlisted for further examination. Both clubs had outstanding claims on the title and following an in depth examination of the submissions, Lismore, who enjoyed their best season in practically all grades, were given the award for their very first time. Mount Slion were the first to congratulate the winners and we now offer them our congratulations on this well deserved recognition.

WATERFORD v. KERRY
Waterford hurlers will also be in action on Sunday next when they play Kerry in a challenge at Lismore. Kerry have requested this game as part of their preparation for their game against Laois and no doubt, Waterford will avail of the opportunity to try-out the majority of their panel of substitutes. I understand that it is the intention of the management to have Damien Byrne, Frank Doherty, Pat Curran, Michael Collins (who is listed on the panel for the football game in Ennis), Ger O'Brien, Seamus Prendergast, Kevin Ryan, Dermot Callaghan, Jimmy Beresford, Brendan Lawton, Jim O'Donoghue and sub, goalkeeper, Ray Sheridan, in action.

After the game the selectors will meet to name their side for the vital game against Tipperary on the following Sunday.

GAIN CHALLENGE CUP

Beating Cork in hurling has become a rarity for Waterford and whenever we do manage to beat the red jersey county regardless of the quality of their side, it is a very satisfying experience for the players. This is just how Waterford felt at Fraher Field following their well deserved victory in the Gain challenge. The day was atrocious and many would-be supporters remained home, believing that the game would be called off. Cork arrived with a team which bore little resemblance to the side which they notified to the County Board for the programme. Only Johnnie Crowley of their All-Ireland team was included on the team which played.

Yet, Waterford have good reason for feeling pleased as the majority of the Cork players were ambitious hurlers with their sights focused on 'making' the County team when they set out in defence of their All-Ireland crown.

Both sides tried all the way and despite the awful conditions the game was enjoyable for the small group of supporters who braved the weather.

The hectic last quarter saw Waterford's tremendous fighting spirit at its best and the attendance rose to it as we pulled back Cork's lead and went in front to win rather decisively in the end.

Beating Kilkenny and Cork teams on successive Sundays is likely to set off the alarm bells in other places and I can see it intensify the momentum of the Tipperary challenge to our position on the league table, when we meet in two weeks time. We have shown enormous improvement over the past few months, but it would be foolish for anyone to 'go up in the clouds' about our chances of beating Tipperary in the one game that really matters.

EON LISTON

The Munster Council coaching by Eoin Liston will commence in the County on Tuesday of next week and coaches from the following clubs will attend at St Augustine's College on the following nights:

Tuesday/Wednesday — Dungarvan, Old Parish, Kilrossanty, Kilgobinet, Clashmore and Brickies.

Thursday/Friday — Ballinacourty, Stradbally, Faha, Modeligo, Ballinameela, St. Oliver's.

The other centres which will be catered for during his five weeks visit are Cappoquin, Kilmachomas, City and Tramore and details of the clubs attending these centres will be announced later.

COLLIGAN/EMMETTS MEETING

Following their first year in senior hurling, the above clubs held their very successful AGM recently and with a splendid attendance there was some very interesting discussion on all matters relating to a very busy season.

In a lengthy and detailed report, secretary Anthony Walsh, who is now elevated to the position of Western Board Secretary, highlighted the events of the season as far as the club was concerned. His fine report was critical and complimentary where it though, it appropriate.

Officers For 1987—President, Very Rev. R. O'Doherty, P.P.; Vice-Presidents, Rev. Fr. P. SYMPATHY

Our sincere sympathy is extended to Miss Brid Ní Christeoir on her recent sad bereavement occasioned by the death of her sister, Miss Kit Christopher which occurred at Dungarvan hospital last week.

Brid, who was a recent winner of the Jack Furlong Award for her outstanding services to the county, is one of the best known personalities in the association in the county.

We also offer our deepest sympathy to the Tobin family, Ballymacmaigue, on the death of Paddy Tobin, who was one of Colligan Rockies best known players in the forties and fifties.

Dungarvan Traffic Rules "Gone Overboard" Say Town Traders

Dungarvan Retail Traders Association have joined in the attack on the proliferation of yellow lines which recently signalled an extension of the already tight parking regulations in the town.

At the adjourned December monthly meeting of Dungarvan Urban Council, Cllr. R. A. Walsh protested at the widespread painting of yellow lines and the erection of parking notices all over the Urban area and Cllr. A. Hallahan stated that as a result, the business people of the town were suffering a great loss because people were now afraid to come into Dungarvan to do their shopping.

At the January monthly meeting of the Council held last week, Cllr. Walsh referred to a letter from the Traders Association sent to the Council and to each member on the subject, and asked why it had not been included on the agenda for the meeting.

Mr. B. White, Town Clerk replied that the letter had been received only that morning.

Cllr. Walsh then read from his copy of the Traders' letter which expressed "deep concern" at the further parking restrictions in the town which they claimed would aggravate an already difficult parking situation and would be detrimental to many businesses in the town. "These further restrictions," the letter stated, "are completely overboard."

Cllr. Walsh said that when the lines first went down he had been abused by many traders who were very angry about the whole situation. Since then he had continued to receive more complaints "it's all very well to have a nice, clean, orderly and well-lined town," he said, "but what use is that if there are no people in it. At present you can hardly drive through other towns and villages around the county because they are cluttered with the cars of shoppers who would be otherwise coming into Dungarvan to shop where the main concern at the moment is keeping out of the clutches of the law."

Cllr. Walsh went on to say that the members of the Council had no real say in the making of these traffic regulations but they were now being blamed for something not directly of their own making. The letter from the Chief Superintendent about the regulations was an insult, to our intelligence," he added, "as we are the people who should know about the traffic requirements for the town and not him."

PONTIUS PILATE ACT

Cllr. B. Kyne said that it was not correct to say that the Council members did not know what was to happen as a big map showing the location of the parking restrictions had been submitted to them. In pretending now that we didn't know is only doing a Pontius Pilate act," he said.

Cllr. Kyne said that they should call in the Co. Engineer to again go over the whole situation and to identify the problem areas. There was no point in creating hysteria about the matter, he added.

Mr. White, Town Clerk, pointed out that in his letter the Chief Superintendent had said that the regulations could be reviewed at any stage.

Cllr. A. Hallahan then said there was no doubt but that the Council could only make recommendations. The making of the regulations was a matter for the Assistant Garda Commissioner. Cllr. Mary Dixon instanced a number of cases where shoppers had been given parking summonses. At the rate that tickets were now being issued it was far cheaper for them to travel to Clonmel or elsewhere to do their shopping, she said. Finally it was agreed to adopt Cllr. Kyne's recommendation to produce the map in order to identify problem areas and to discuss the matter at the next meeting with a view to making fresh recommendations to the garda authorities.

OVER RULED

Cllr. Hallahan went on to say that there was no point in members of the Council making recommendations which would be for the betterment of the town when they can be overruled by a person who is living outside the town. "Does the Council have any powers where these matters of traffic regulations are concerned?" he then asked.

The Town Clerk replied that the Council could only make

DRIVER FINED AND DISQUALIFIED

A professional driver with a courier service was fined a total of £160 and disqualified for two concurrent periods of 12 months when he was convicted of driving with excess alcohol and with no insurance or driving licence at Dungarvan Court.

Mr. J. P. Gordon, Solr., who appeared for the defendant, Pat Tobin, Inchindrisla, The Coole, Kilgobnet, stated that the facts were generally admitted.

Garda Inspector T. J. Hayes told the Court that at 2.40 a.m. on November 17, Garda Sheehan was operating a checkpoint at Strandside North, Abbeyside. He stopped the defendant and from his observations concluded that the defendant was under the influence. A breath-test proved positive and the defendant was arrested and taken to the Garda Station where a urine sample was taken. This was subsequently sent for analysis and the result showed a reading of 266.

The Inspector added that the defendant had no insurance and no driving licence on the occasion and there were two bad tyres on the car he was driving. The defendant had been co-operative with the garda but had a previous conviction for driving without insurance in 1981, he said.

Mr. Gordon stated that when he was stopped the defendant was on his way home and had only a short distance to go. He had the car he was driving only a few weeks and that was the reason he did not have insurance. Pointing out that the defendant was a professional driver who would now lose his job, Mr. Gordon asked that the disqualification be deferred to enable the defendant to get matters in order.

The defendant in evidence said that he was a driver by occupation and was employed driving for a courier service. He would now lose his job on being disqualified and asked that the disqualification be deferred until June 1 to allow him to make the necessary arrangements.

Convicting the defendant, District Justice O'Connell imposed a fine of £100 with a driving disqualification of 12 months on the drunk driving charge and a fine of £50 with a concurrent 12 months disqualification for driving without insurance. A further fine of £10 for having no driving licence was imposed and the defendant's charge was taken into account. The District Justice refused the request to defer the disqualification until June 1 but said he would allow it to be deferred until April 1.

SHEEP FARMER SUED FOR FORESTRY DAMAGE

The Minister for Fisheries and Forestry was plaintiff in an action seeking £502-38p damages from Anthony Harrington, Barracree, Killybrien, at Dungarvan Court.

Mr. A. V. Maher, State Solicitor who prosecuted said that the action arose from the trespass and damage caused by sheep, the property of the defendant, at a forestry plantation at Barracree Mountain.

Thomas Considine in evidence said that he was an Assistant Head Forester with the Department based in the Dungarvan area. This included the forestry plantation at Barracree Mountain Lower. The defendant had land surrounding the forestry on which he kept 200-300 sheep. On March 6, 1986 witness said he visited the plantation and found between 50 and 100 sheep there. Damage to the plantation was caused when sheep ate the tops of young trees.

Witness went on to say that he advised Mr. Harrington of the trespass and asked him to remove the sheep. The defendant promised to do so but failed to keep the promise. Witness then arranged with the forestry workers there that the sheep be removed. He again visited the plantation on March 11 and again found sheep trespassing and arranged to have them removed and when he went there again on March 15 he found there was further trespass by Mr. Harrington's sheep.

The total amount of the damage with the costs and expenses for time and travelling

BIG MOUNTAIN AREA

Anthony Harrington in evidence said that he was a sheep farmer at Barracree and he admitted that on March 6 only 30 sheep had trespassed on the forestry and these were removed. He was not aware that any of his sheep were there on the other two occasions. It was a big mountain area with sheep running all over it and the sheep found in the forestry at other times need not necessarily have been his.

Mr. Considine recalled, said that he was satisfied that on the three occasions the sheep involved were the defendant's property.

District Justice O'Connell said that the defendant must be responsible for the trespass and damage on March 6 and would have to pay a pro rata amount in respect of the time and travelling costs involved. On this basis he awarded a decree for a total of £182.88 to the plaintiff together with the costs of the action.

WINNERS AT TRAMORE

Winner of the Brownstown Novice Handicap at the Tramore Race meeting last Thursday was Dr. B. McCarthy's "Rose Serenade" (4/1). Trained in Dungarvan by Mr. John E. Kiely, he was ridden by Tony O'Brien who was completing a great double having also ridden the winner of the previous race "Sandymount" (7/2).

Mr. S. Lucey's "Shuil Ogue VI" (5/2), trained by Mr. Michael J. McGrath at Cappagh and ridden by Mr. David McGrath was a good winner of the Capouin Flat Race.

Padraig O Milleadha: Remembering The Past

BY M. O MILLEADHA UI ALLACHAIN

My father was the first of our family to leave Wales and come to Ireland. Not long after my mother, my two brothers and myself followed. He then went to Ardmore where there was an Irish College which was the charge of Michael O Foghlu. While my father was studying there we stayed in Deelish, Dungarvan, with my aunt Mrs. Cam Kiely. I remember driving into Dungarvan in a donkey and cart with my aunt; she was bringing milk to the creamery. She parked the cart near the present Bank of Ireland and remember standing at the cart and looking across the Square towards the corner where Morrissey's butcher shop stands. The Square looked like a very clean table with a few dark objects here and there.

When my father, the late Padraig O Milleadha started teaching with the VEC, the school was in Mary Street in a place known after as the CYMS Rooms. After a few years teaching there, a new Vocational School was built at the corner of Fair Lane. I never saw my father "high" until the day the new school was opened. In the evening when we thought the celebrations should be over we waited outside the school until he came out at last. I never saw him so jolly.

CIVIL WAR YEARS
Before settling home in the Nire Valley and still in Deelish, the Civil War was on. Pat, my eldest brother was about 16 years of age. The curfew was on at the time and he went into Dungarvan to a meeting which was held on the Square. I do not know who the speaker was but I know Pat was late coming home. As he was nearing a place called Cusheam, near Garranbane School, he heard a lorry coming against him from the Waterford direction. It was full of "Free State" soldiers and they were shouting and singing. Suddenly they shouted "stop the lorry, stop the lorry, there's somebody there, there's somebody there."

Pat got terrified and ran like a rabbit close to the fence. Some of the soldiers were following him but it was pitch dark and as luck would have it he was able to slip up an almost invisible pathway which was a short cut from the main road up to the Deelish road. When he was out of danger he heard them shouting "There's nobody there," "there's nobody there." Pat was nervous. It was a frightening experience.

When we settled down in the Nire, my father on one occasion started out on foot for his class at Newtown, Ballymacarthy. He was making a short cut from the townland called Gratinagour over-looking Ballymacarthy. When he reached the main Clonmel-Dungarvan road there were two lorries of "Free Staters" at the Cross. They asked him where he was going. When they were told about the Irish Class at Newtown School, they said "if we had seen you coming down the fields we would have shot you."

SHAWLS AND BOOTS
In those days most women wore shawls instead of hats and coats. They also wore heavy boots and most children never wore shoes summer or winter. At that time roads were very rough. There used to be one man or family in charge of the roads of certain townlands. They used horses and carts to carry loads of big stones and unload them on the side of the road. They would then sit on one load after another and hammer the stones until they were small enough to spread them on the road. The people were the steam rollers at that time as well as the horses and cars.

When I was a small girl I heard my father talking to my brother about how the world was going to change. I used to get terrified because I thought everything was going to be without trouble. Travelling at night at that time was like travelling in the dark ages. I remember being with my grandmother one night in Clonmel. She was shopping near Travest West Gate. We were travelling by donkey and trap. The lights we had were two holders with a candle in each. On our way to the Nire Valley my grandmother told me that we would meet the mail car before we reached Ballymacarthy. From the time we left Clonmel until we met the mail car we only met a few twinkles and of course we did meet the mail car which was a horse and trap. It seems the mail car travelled from Clonmel to Dungarvan and from Dungarvan to Clonmel and changed horses at a stable for the purpose at the Halfway near the public house owned by Mr. Billy Condon. I remember the stable before it was knocked down, which was near Ballinamull but on the main road.

I have many compliments to pay to my father. He was like a child, never bothered about anybody's business, never had money and never wanted it. He loved the Irish language and he loved music as well as his love for everybody.

God be with him. He seemed to be able to see into the future. He was also able to make and mend woodwork, etc. etc. The trouble is we never seemed to realise the genius we had so near us until after he had passed away.

DUNGARVAN RUGBY FOOTBALL CLUB

GREAT WIN FOR 1st TEAM IN JUNIOR CUP

Dungarvan 14; Tralee 10
At Tralee on last Sunday in heavy conditions the 1st team had a great win in the 1st round of the Munster Junior Cup. This was an excellent performance and coach Ned Hefferan is to be congratulated for having his charges in peak condition for this important occasion. Dungarvan led by 8 pts. to 3 at half-time through two tries by A. Hally and M. Hanrahan. The first of these came when, from a scrum, M. Hanrahan passed the ball to put A. Hally over in the corner and the second try was a push-over try touched down by M. Hanrahan after good work by the forwards.

In the second half a Tralee rally which resulted in 10 points and a penalty had us trailing by 10 pts. to 8 with just 15 minutes to go. Then Austin Curran kicked the ball upfield and with Michael O'Connor quickly following up to tackle the full back, John O'Connor was on hand to gather and score a good try in the corner. Andy Hally converted from the touch line and this proved to be the final score of the match.

Salmon, P. Maher, J. O'Connor, P. Coughlan, Michael O'Connor, Mark O'Connor, D. Dowey, S. Lee, E. Walsh, M. O'Halloran, P. Clarke, A. Curran, M. Hanrahan, T. O'Brien.
Congratulations to all concerned and to the many supporters who travelled to Tralee. The 2nd round will be played at home on Sunday week and our opponents will be Youghal.

On Sunday next it is the turn of the seconds who play their opening round of the Ballyrandle Cup at home versus Youghal. Kick-off will be at 3 o'clock and hopefully Tony Shalloe and his team will progress to the further stages of this competition.

Also at home next Sunday the 1st team have a friendly fixture with Old Crescent. Kick-off 3 o'clock.
The draw for tickets for the International match next Saturday takes place in the Clubhouse on Tuesday, 3rd Feb.

REMEMBERING OTHER DAYS

The photo for our "Remembering Other Days" series this week shows a happy group celebrating in the CSM Ballroom of Ocean View Hotel, Clonah about 30 years ago. How many will recognise themselves or be recognised by their friends? The occasion was the annual social of the Kilgobnet G.A.A. Club which took place in the late 1950's.

Rothmans Circuit Of Ireland Rally

Regulations now available for the 1987 Rothmans Circuit of Ireland show that despite radical changes dictated by the latest safety requirements, the rally, which runs from April 17 to 19 has lost none of its challenges and it still likely to provide top drivers with one of the hardest fought international events in these islands.

With the total of 196 stage miles packed into an 850 mile route spread over 3 days, the European Championship qualifier and 2nd round of the Shell Oils RCA MSA British Open Rally Championship, keeps its reputation as one of the most exciting rallies in Europe. As usual the event also counts for both the STP Tarmac Series and the RAC Triple Crown Championship.

DANGEROUS SPORT

Bill Martin, Clerk of the Course underlines the fact that overall rally safety is of great importance to the organisers. The Ulster Automobile Club "It is essential for spectators to realise just how dangerous the sport can be and how vital it is for them to listen to the advice of marshals and the other officials of the event."

INVESTITURE

Last Saturday night was a history making night at the Scout Den as we had a massive twenty scouts invested into the troop. This to our reckoning is one of the biggest if not THE biggest number to be invested into the troop in our very long history.

At 7 p.m. all the scouts assembled for a final practice run before the real thing. From 7.45 p.m. on the parents and families started arriving and before proceedings began there must have been a hundred people assembled.

Just after 8 p.m. the troop chaplain Fr. Ahearne began Mass into which the investiture was built.

After a few words from scout leader Joe Organ and the unit chairman Jim Shine, Fr. Ahearne blessed the neckerchiefs and the boys one by one made their promise. Those to be invested were: Tiger Patrol—Kieran Higgins, Anthony Hackett and Brendan Flynn; Wolf Patrol—Mark Shepherd and Raymond Crowley; Panther Patrol—Alan Mulcahy, Alan Beatty, Tomas Kiely, Barry Cliffe and Derek Kennelly; Eagle Patrol—John Paul Cosgrave, Aidan Mullarkey, Liam Moore and Mark Stearn; Wolfhound Patrol—Gerard Mullen, Enda Donnelly and Gavin Keane; Kestrel Patrol—Michael Sheehan, Michael Verling and Bryan Eisteard.

At this stage the senior scouts saluted the new scouts and vice-versa. Merit badges were then presented.

After Mass had finished and the S.L. said a few words, everyone enjoyed a cuppa, cakes and a good chat. This was organised by all the P.L.s and their members who deserve special praise for such an excellent array of goodies.

N.L.B. UPDATE

CONGRATULATIONS

We would like to extend our congratulations to Panther P.L. Sean James who last Sunday went to Waterford for trials with the Waterford soccer team. This was indeed an honour for Sean, one of our most experienced scouts. Last summer as part of his national people who will make the 1987 event possible: "Without Shell Lubricants UK; Tudor Publications; the Europa Hotel, Belfast; Wang Computers; The Royal Irish Automobile Club; Bord Fáilte; The Northern Ireland Tourist Board; the traders and people of the City of Waterford; the many other people and organisations, too numerous to mention individually; the rally officials and marshals.

On the subject of safety, the organisers have particular reason to thank the Ford Motor Company for their assistance. Ford of Britain are supplying 2 fully equipped Sierras as spectator control cars while Ford of Ireland are providing the Club with vehicles as course cars.

ABBEYSIDE SCOUT NOTES

scout project Sean had to keep a record of all the World Cup games as well as dig out old scores, pictures, etc. Who knows in a few years time some scout may be doing a project on the World Cup and Sean James might be one of the star players. Could Sean be the next Maradona?

FROM THE LOG

This week we have the second part of our patrol logs from Camp '86. Last week we had Damien French of the Bucks Patrol and this week we have Niall O'Connor of the Herts Patrol.

'A Day On The Site' — "After a night which drove me mad, I went to sleep in the store tent we woke to a cheerful morning — apart from one item — the dining shelter. When that was fixed we lined up for flag up which had its problems. When breakfast was finished we went into Chafont following a spot of free time John and Niall bought the food while the rest stayed behind in a software shop inside Budget, John and Niall filled a coupon for a T-shirt in a free draw, which every scout seemed to be doing. We put the food in Joe's boot (of the car) and walked back to the site. Next was swimming which for once we had 1 hour thanks to slack booking.

A treasure hunt from 3.30 p.m. to 4.30 p.m. took place with results yet to be given. 6 teams of three took part. After dinner for which we had Ray and Brian as guests free time once again. A sing song will take place later but for now I think I'll say goodbye." — Log by Niall O'Connor.

DUNGARVAN COUNCIL OF TRADE UNIONS SUPPORT ICTU POLICY ON SOCIAL WELFARE

The Dungarvan Council of Trade Unions, at its meeting held on 26th January, expressed its full support for the Irish Congress of Trade Unions policy of protecting those on Social Welfare.

All Trade Unionists are advised to question prospective General Election candidates as to where they stand on the issue of maintaining the living standards of the poorer sections of our society.

PROTECTING THOSE ON SOCIAL WELFARE

The Irish Congress of Trade Unions would be totally opposed to cut-backs in social welfare. Congress is demanding that, in the 1987 budget, the Government increase social welfare payments at the very minimum in line with the increase in the cost of living. Not to increase payments in line with the increase in prices would be a deliberate cut by the Government of the living standards of pensioners, the unemployed and others dependent on social welfare.

Congress is also calling on the Government to introduce a special supplement for the lowest levels of social welfare payments in line with the priority recommendations of the Commission on Social Welfare. In particular, the rates of payment to the long-term unemployed should be increased substantially.

The Government should improve child income support as recommended by the Commission on Social Welfare. In particular, the real value of children's allowances should be maintained and improved; an age supplement for all children aged 12 years or over and a special supplement for large families should be introduced in the children's allowance scheme; electricity and fuel allowances should be extended to families long-term dependent on social welfare and they should receive an additional payment on a quarterly basis. Child dependant allowances paid to those receiving social welfare payments should be rationalised.

Thousands of families have suffered a reduction in income as a result of the way in which the Government has implemented the EEC Directive on the elimination of discrimination in social welfare. The recent measure introduced by the Government to provide access for those families to Supplementary Welfare Allowance will not alleviate the problem for the majority of families. Congress is proposing, therefore, that additional resources be made available in the Budget to ensure that no family suffers a major reduction in income.

Congress is demanding that the self-employed make a direct contribution to the cost of social welfare.

Social Welfare non-contributory pensions which are paid mainly to self-employed persons, including farmers, cost the Exchequer over £300 million a year. No direct contribution is made by farmers and other self-employed persons during their working lives towards the cost of these pensions. By contrast PAYE workers and their employers pay a pay-related social insurance contribution of 17.7 per cent of earnings (5.5 per cent from the employee and 12.2 per cent from the employer).

The Government should, as a matter of urgency, introduce a compulsory social insurance scheme for the self-employed, including farmers. Such a scheme would raise over £105 million for the Social Insurance Fund.

BEHIND THE SPOTLIGHT

advantage over their opponents unlike the position that applied in the three general elections which took place between 1981 and 1982. As each Dail was dissolved in those years the outgoing deputies immediately lost all salary and allowances and were not entitled to any election expenses.

But that position was changed about two years ago when Minister for the Environment, John Boland, quietly altered the rules without letting the public know too much about it.

Now each of the outgoing deputies including those not seeking re-election will be paid a proportion of their annual salaries of £18,887 for the duration of the campaign. This works out at £1,049 per head. It looks just like another case of looking after ourselves! Who said anything about looking after the economy or the country? It really is time for a change and not for just more of the same again!

READY FOR THE RACE

A total of 464 candidates have entered for the 168 seats in the 25th Dail. In the major parties Fianna Fail are fielding 122 and Fine Gael 98 in all of the 41 constituencies. The Progressive Democrats have 51 candidates in 33 constituencies while Labour are putting up 37 in 32 of the constituencies. The Workers Party and Sinn Fein have 29 and 27 respectively while the total of independents and others comes to a staggering 100.

The latter must surely be an indication that many are becoming completely disillusioned with traditional party politics. About 2.5 million people will be entitled to vote in the election, an increase of 4.7 per cent on the last occasion in November 1982.

CAD E SIN?

Our par on Decies place names this week deals with the Barony of Ifa and Offa which occupies the south-east angle of Co. Tipperary adjoining Waterford on the south and Kilkenny on the east.

Ifa (Uí Fathadh) and Offa (Uí Fothadh) are anglicised forms of the ancient tribe name (Uí-Eathach) of southern Tipperary. Eathach is thought to be the name of a chieftain of Na Deise in the 7th century.

The history of the Barony since the invasion has been a record of plantations and confiscations.

cations and destruction on the ancient proprietors. The only elevation of note in the area is Slievnamon (Slabh na mBan Feimhin - Mountain of the women of Feimhin). Magh Feimhin were the original occupiers.

Carraig na Siuire (Carrick-On-Suir) = Rock in the (river) Suir. The name comes from a rock in mid-stream, uncovered only at lowest tides in a dry summer. Anne Boleyn (one of King Henry VIII's wives) is popularly supposed to have been born in the Castle of Carrick. In one of Shakespeare's plays, the chorus of a song is "caillin o chois tSiuire me".

Gill Chais (Kilcass) = Caise's Church. Is eol do gach dalta scoile an t-amhan "Gill Chais" ag tosnu le "cad a dheanfimid feasta gan aimad." Beside the ruin of the ancient church is the vault wherein rest the mortal remains of Lady Veagh, celebrated in southern story and song. In the same tomb reposes her illustrious kinsman by marriage, an t-Ard Easbag de Butleir, Caisil.

"S as leabhar na marbh do leatuar An n-Easbog is Lady 'Veagh'."

REQUESTS

A Tallow reader has sent us requests for the words of "Dangerous Dan McGrew" and for the poem the following two lines of which are all that she can remember—

The woman was old and feeble and grey And bent with the chill of the Winter's day. Perhaps some reader can oblige.

THE SALLY GARDENS Our choice for the ballad corner this week is "The Sally Gardens" which is a composition of W.B. Yeats:

Down by the sally gardens, my love and I did meet. She passed the sally gardens, with little snow-white feet. She bid me take love easy, as the leaves grow on the tree. But I, being young and foolish, with her did not agree.

In a field down by the river my love and I did stand. And on my leaning shoulder, she laid her snow-white hand. She bid me take life easy, as the grass grows on the weirs. But I was young and foolish, and now am full of tears.

Down by the sally gardens, my love and I did meet. She passed the sally gardens, with little snow-white feet. She bid me take love easy, as the leaves grow on the tree. But I, being young and foolish, with her did not agree.

TALLOW AND ROUNDABOUT NOTES

TALLOW SCOUT NOTES

The troop are just starting into activities after the Christmas break. The first regional competition of 1987 will be the National Scout Quiz in early March to be held in Cork this year. We hope to pick the team over the next few weeks.

On Friday last the troop travelled to Mount Mellery along with the other members of the region to present a report on a UNICEF study of children to James A. Walsh, chairman, Waterford Co. Council. Tallow Troop took the opportunity also of making a presentation of a plaque given to the troop by the Mayor of Thameside when the troop visited while on summer camp last year. Mr. Walsh thanked us and said he would hang the plaque in the Council chamber.

On Friday night next at 7.30 p.m. an investiture of venturers will take place in the Church of the Immaculate Conception, Tallow, during First Friday Mass. All are welcome to attend.

TALLOW G.A.A. NOTES

Annual Social - Just to remind you that our social takes place on tomorrow night, Friday, Feb 6th in Whitechurch House Hotel. A bus will leave the Square at 8 p.m. Tickets available from Pat Sheehan, Dinne Cunningham and Martin Sutherland. There will also be tickets available at the door on the night, so come along and have a great night out.

300 Club Draw - The first draw takes place on Saturday night, 14th Feb. Tickets available from any club member. Don't forget it has been reduced to a five week draw so it is £1 per week. For anyone who pays the £5 in advance they will be in for a special draw for £50. This draw also takes place on the 14th Feb.

Waterford Win - Well done to Timmy Sheehan and Jim O'Donoghue on helping Waterford to a welcome victory over Cork in Dungarvan last Sunday. Let's hope this is the start of better times for Waterford.

Staying Intermediate - Dungarvan's motion to change the structure of the senior hurling championship was defeated at the Convention on Saturday night, so we will be playing intermediate hurling next year.

Affiliation Fees - Just to show you the cost of running a GAA club in this day and age - we received our affiliation fees last week - the cost is £380, almost £200 up on last year. The cost of hurleys last year was almost £2,000 so you can understand why clubs enter combined and local draws to raise money to pay for these astronomical fees.

ANGLING CLUB

Now the fishing season is upon us it is time to start thinking about the competitions for the coming season. The A.G.M. of the above club will be held on Friday, 13th Feb. in St. Patrick's Hall at 7.30. All are welcome.

SHAMROCKS HURLING AND FOOTBALL NOTES

The club's A.G.M. was held in Knockmore on Monday 12th Jan. A large attendance was present. The following officers were elected for the coming season:

President - Very Rev. Fr. Mulcahy, P.P. Chairman - D. Ahern, Vice-Chairman - L. Casey, Secretary - P.R.O. A. Moloney, Ass. Sec. - J. Kelly, Treasurer - J. Baldwin.

At the A.G.M. it was decided to enter the following teams: Senior Hurling, D. Casey (capt.), F. Roche (vice-capt.), Intermediate Football, J. O'Neill (capt.), L. Dalton (vice-capt.), Junior Hurling, O. Farrell (capt.), W. Motherway (vice-capt.).

The hurling selectors for '87 are as follows - J. Tobin, G. Moloney, E. Murphy, J. Kelly, M. Murphy. The football selectors are as follows - B. O'Keefe, J. O'Callaghan, L. Casey, M. Neville, J. Tobin.

Six delegates attended the convention in Kilmac last Saturday.

All players please note that a players and selectors meeting will take place on Friday, February 13 at J.F.K. Park at 7.30 and training will also commence that evening. Finally the club would like to congratulate F. Roche on his engagement to Nora McCarthy.

ST. CATHERINES GAA

The AGM of St. Catherines football club took place at the Clubrooms last Saturday night. Even though the attendance was not all that could be desired it was otherwise a very successful one and a review of the past year's activities gave reason for satisfaction - the junior A team winning the first round of the championship and, of course, the great triumph at the end of the season was the winning of the u-21 East Cork football championship against some very tough opposition and we congratulate them again and hope for a still more successful season this year.

It is decided to affiliate junior A and B teams, under 21, minor and under 16.

The following officers were elected - President, Dick Morrison; Chairman, Pat Lane; Vice-Chairman, Pat Leahy; Treasurer, Matt Harpur; Secretary and P.R.O., Donal Buckley

BALLYNOE COMMUNITY COUNCIL

At the recent AGM of the above the following Council was elected - President, Rev. Fr. Buckley; Chairperson, Mrs. Betty Higgins; Vice-Chairman, R. Hegarty; Hon. Sec., Mrs. Ely Donovan; Hon. Treasurers, Mrs. Eileen O'Keefe and Mrs. Nora Sheehan; Asst. Secretary, Bernie Neville; P.R.O., J. Buckley; Committee - Assumpta Anern, S. Beecher, O. Casey, M. O'Keefe, B. Lynch, P. O'Keefe, J. McAuliffe, D. Hegarty, S. Cotter, E. Cotter, M. Mulcahy.

The additional rooms in the hall are proving a great advantage for the various meetings and the weekly musical and dancing classes.

The following are the results of the Council's £1,000 monthly draw - £300, Mrs. Nora Mulcahy, Shanakiel, Conna; £200, James O'Connell, Ballinacree, £100, Edmond Barry, Fernoy; £50, Joe McLaughlin, Clonnuit; £50, Bernie Neville, Ballyknock, Ballynoe; £50, Ballynoe Badminton Club; £50, Michael Joyce, Aghern, Conna; £25, Tom Galvin, Dungarvan; £25, Mrs. Fitzgerald, Garryheara; £25, Mary McAuliffe, Ballymaneen, Ballynoe; £25, John Casey, Killoon, Ballynoe; Seller of first prize, Mrs. Eileen O'Keefe, Ballynoe.

MR. PADDY HIGGINS

Profound regret was evoked in the whole district lately on hearing of the unexpected death of Mr. Paddy Higgins Pellick, Aghern. Even though well advanced in his seventies he was full of life and vigour and was a great patron of every sport. A well known hurler in his young days, he played regularly with the Conna team in the twenties and never lost interest in that game.

Music and dancing classes will be held as usual in the hall on Thursday and Friday nights.

Omitted from last week's notes was that our music quartet of Ethel Dempsey, Theresa Noonan, Padraig O'Bearra and Raymond Dempsey also qualified for the Munster final of Ceol an Gheimhridh in Adare on March 1st. PRO, Seamus Hyland.

COMMUNITY COUNCIL

A meeting of the Council will be held in St. Michael's Hall on Monday night next at 8 p.m. All members are requested to attend. The plans for the building of dressingrooms in the field will be available at the meeting.

The members of the fund-raising sub-committee met again on Wednesday night to discuss ideas of raising funds for the development work that will begin shortly.

G.A.A. NOTES

At a recent meeting of the juvenile club held in St. Michael's Hall it was decided to go ahead with the annual sporting cycle on Tuesday, March 17 (St. Patrick's Day). The following teams will be affiliated for the coming season in both hurling and football - u-12, u-14, u-16 and minor. It is expected to commence training on Sunday, February 15th, weather permitting. It was decided to purchase a stock of 32, 34 and 36" hurleys and these will be available shortly from Jimmy Scanlon. Also, membership fees of Adults £2 and players £1 are now payable to Jimmy.

Moosy Walsh, Michael Leamy, John Jackson and Michael Walsh attended the County Convention in Kilmacshomas on Saturday night last. The following adult teams will be entered in 1987: S.H., J.H. and I.F. and a decision on u-21 was to have been taken at a meeting with Shamrocks on Monday night in Knockmore.

The sub-committee set up to publish a club history met over the weekend and set plans in motion for same. Anyone with old photographs, paper cuttings and other relevant material or information should hand in same to Eamonn Bolger. All items will be returned.

Pat Flynn, Pat Berry and Jimmy Scanlon attended Tuesday night's Bord na nOg meeting in Dungarvan. Congratulations to Anthony Walsh on his election as Secretary of the Western Board and thanks to Vincent Mulligan for his help and co-operation during his term of office.

The presentation of the 1985 and 1986 Sargent Cup medals will take place on Saturday, February 21st. Next meeting on Wednesday February 18th in the school at 8 p.m.

COMHALTAS NOTES

The branch's first ever social will be held on this Saturday during his life. He came from a family of nationally minded people who were linked with the struggle for independence. A very likeable and friendly character, Paddy will be missed in the neighbourhood, and to his wife Mrs. Nora Higgins, Pellick, his son Tom, also of Pellick, his daughter, Mrs. Smith, Lombardstown, his sister Ely, England, brothers-in-law, relatives and friends we extend our deepest sympathy. He was interred in Conna Nua Cemetery, Go dughadh solas na bhfálteas da anam usail.

WEDDING AT BALLYNOE

A pretty wedding was solemnised at St. Catherine's Church, Ballynoe last Saturday when Philomena McCarthy, second youngest daughter of John and the late Hannah McCarthy, and the late Donal, second eldest son of Denis and the late Margaret Howard, Rathcoarmac, were united in holy matrimony.

The bride who was given away by her father John looked lovely in a dress of embroidered white satin. She was attended by her sister Catherine and Marie McAuliffe, who were dressed in cerise pink taffeta. John Hartly was page boy and his sister Siobhan Hartly was flower girl. Bridegroom Donal was attended by his brothers John and Cormac. The chief celebrant of the celebrated Mass which included Papal Blessing, was Fr. Hegarty, C.C. Conna.

Jerry Mellick, Conna, presided at the organ during the ceremony and Tom Murray of Cork was the soloist.

The large number of guests then repaired to Garryroe Hotel where the reception was held. The honeymoon is being spent in the Canary Islands.

TALLOW BADMINTON CLUB NOTES

Due to the bad weather the league got off to a bad start in January but all is going well again. The 3rd Div. team at home to Waterford 6 lost 5-3 but some great badminton was played. The 6th Div. team still remain unbeaten having won 5-3 against Old Parish. The best victory of the week fell to the novice team who travelled to Fermoy and won 7-1. The team is as follows - Mike Mangin, Sean Tobin, Richard Tobin, Johnny Hogan, Sharon Henley, Jacqueline Henley, Brid Faherty and Angela Curley, with subs., John William McCarthy and Mary O'Dwyer. Keep up the practice.

Cup Results: 3rd Div. away

BALLYDUFF AND DISTRICT NOTES

PIONEER NOTES

A meeting of the Council will be held in the library on Friday night after Mass at 8 p.m. All members are requested to attend.

Two teams took part in the Regional Quiz finals in Dungarvan on Tuesday night last. The members of the junior team were Mairéad Ahern, Pat Howard, Thomas Feeney and Patrick Murphy. The members of the senior team were Martina Kearney, Brenda Kenny, Michael Leamy and Maurice Kearney. Well done to both teams on fine performances.

night in Whitechurch House Hotel. The meal will be served at 9 o'clock music will be provided by the Jim Murray Ceilí Band. We are expecting a large crowd, and a great night is assured.

Music and dancing classes will be held as usual in the hall on Thursday and Friday nights.

Omitted from last week's notes was that our music quartet of Ethel Dempsey, Theresa Noonan, Padraig O'Bearra and Raymond Dempsey also qualified for the Munster final of Ceol an Gheimhridh in Adare on March 1st. PRO, Seamus Hyland.

BALLYDUFF MACRA NOTES

This past weekend has proved very busy for the club. On Friday night last, we found ourselves once again in Conna Sports Complex cheering on our gallant soccer team. The lads were up against a very tough team - "Barry Brothers," Conna.

Right from the start we could see that this was going to be a close match with neither team prepared to give an inch. At times tempers flared but ended in good spirits as Ballyduff dropped the better side winning the game 4-2. Congrats lads, keep up the good work and we hope that the bruises are healing nicely. The team will be meeting "Ballynoe Utd." on Tuesday, February 10th, so we wish them the best of luck then.

On Saturday night a large crowd attended our first meeting of the new year. We would like to thank our Development Officer for visiting us and on behalf of the Chairman we would like to extend a cordial welcome and hope that she will return soon again.

I would first of all like to welcome aboard some new members (or the return of the old), John and Mossy Casey and Gerard Geary. We hope they will enjoy a very long and happy stay with us this time, and bring some more friends along next time.

Some of the new members got straight into the thick of things by deciding to participate in a friendly debate within the club which will be held next Friday night in the hall. The team proposing the motion are namely, John Murphy, John and Mossy Casey. The motion is "That marriage, before the age of 25 is desirable." They will be competing against Elma and Maeve Kenny and Eugene Flynn who will be opposing the motion. (Maybe once this motion has been debated we'll be able to read between the lines). I wonder who proposed this motion.

The County Drama Final was held in St. Michael's Hall last Sunday night. We would like to thank all the female members (and male) for preparing such a lovely tea. We would also like to thank Liam O'Keefe for doing an excellent job on the lighting. And a big thank you goes to the adjudicator who had a very hard task on her hands, but congratulations to Kinsalebeg who now go on to represent the county in the next round.

The death occurred peacefully at Ardkreen Hospital, during the week of Mr. Joe Lynch, Newtown, Kinsalebeg. Joe was a quiet and gentle person, a good friend and helpful neighbour. He was predeceased to his eternal reward by his wife Agnes just a short year ago. His remains were taken to Piltown church and following Requiem Mass on Thursday burial took place in the adjoining cemetery.

Sincere sympathy is expressed to his daughter Mary, son Billy, family and friends.

ANNUAL DINNER

Clashmore-Kinsalebeg G.A.A. Club held their annual dinner at Whitechurch House Hotel on Saturday night last. A large crowd attended and music was provided by Paddy O'Brien and The Star.

The chairman, Roger Hynes, thanked all who helped the club in any way during the year and he gave full details of the club's new fund-raising venture for 1987. The calf rearing scheme should bring the necessary funds needed in about 18 months time. Many farmers in the area will take a calf and rear it for a year and a half. The animals will then be sold with the full payments going to the club.

VOICE OF CLASHMORE

The 'Voice of Clashmore' has now reached the semi-final stage and will be staged before the grand final which they hope to have completed by the end of February. The first semi-final will be held on this Saturday night at Healy's "The Old Mill," Kinsalebeg, with five singers taking part.

ST. VALENTINE'S NIGHT

Clashmore Comhaltas will hold their annual party night on St. Valentine's night with many special guests attending.

SYMPATHY

Sincere sympathy is extended to Mrs. Elma O'Rourke, Clashmore, on the death of her uncle Mr. Pat Looby, Cappagh.

"Clubs Not Geared To Meeting The Challenges Of Today Doing A Great Dis-Service"

-Says Co. Board Chairman

In his address to the annual County G.A.A. Convention held at Kilmacshomas on Saturday night last, County Board Chairman James Tobin told the delegates that while it was felt that the club was the basic unit of the Association, its very foundation stone really, he wondered just how many clubs in the county could rightly lay claim to such an honour.

Were they, he asked, genuinely honest when they announced that affiliations were on the up and up and that they had clubs in every parish in the county, or were they just simply deceiving themselves and the Association, or becoming indeed possessed with statistics and figures.

Club structures were, the Chairman said, certainly called into question and those who were not geared to meet the challenges of today were certainly doing a great dis-service to the founding fathers.

Criticising clubs who were not as organised as they should be the Chairman warned that clubs, likewise who would through the selfish attitude of senior members, deprive young people of important administrative roles within its framework were merely spelling out their own demise.

INTER-COUNTY FORTUNES

With reference to the county teams, Mr. Tobin told the delegates that the past year represented a dismal one on the playing fields of Munster with their teams failing to record a single outright victory. This must, he said, be very depressing for officials and supporters alike. However, he said, there was no ready made answer to the problem but one thing he was certain of was that constant sniping and criticism would not help.

Board officials and selectors were, the Chairman said, not sparing themselves in the task of improving intercounty standards and it was pleasing to note that in all grades they were getting the sort of response that must sooner, than later, bring about the desired results.

Referring to their present position in the hurling and football leagues, the Chairman said that pride in wearing the county jersey had been infinitely restored and said: "speed the day when championship honours will again find a resting place in the Decies county."

CONDUCT

With regard to conduct and discipline, the Chairman said that there was an unparadigmatic increase in the level of abuse levelled by club officials and supporters whose antics on the sideline left a lot to be desired.

"Why," he said, "sane, reasonable and professed intelligent men and indeed some women, see nothing wrong with running up and down sidelines during the course of play, shouting derogatory remarks and comments at officials and especially referees, beats me, and if anything borders on a lunatic fringe."

This conduct must, the Chairman warned, be stamped out and quickly.

SWILL - A POTENTIAL HEALTH RISK. Unprocessed swill (table scraps, kitchen waste, etc.) could be dangerous if fed to pigs or poultry. It could cause serious animal disease such as foot-and-mouth, swine fever or fowl pest. Feeders of swill to livestock or poultry or persons supplying swill direct to feeders are obliged by law to register their premises with the Department of Agriculture. Process swill by boiling at 100°C for at least one hour. Hotels, restaurants, institutions or persons must not supply waste food to unregistered feeders or processors of swill. Anyone who breaks the rules risks a fine of £1,000 and 12 months in gaol. Consult your local District Veterinary Office for further information if required.
