When he said that the pre-sent Minister was keeping a tight rein on the finances, he was booed and neckled by the impatient gathering

Senator Katharine Buibulia proposed that the Health Board draw up a list of its buildings and other properties which it might be able to sell off in order to supplement its budget. According to Dr. Greta Ormonde, that suggestion had already been made and it was not workable.

Senator Brian O'Shea said that Waterford had already seen the closures of both the County & City Infirmary and Lismore hospital. Now Dungarvan would have to close or Ardkeen would lose essential services. He believed that the Finance Bill which had been voted through the Dail could be ended and hopefully a solution could be found which would keep both hospitals fully opera-

Deputy Martin Cullen said that he too had approached the South Eastern Health Board and had been unable to find out how their budget was being spent. # INCOME AND INHERITANCE TAX SEMINAR FOR

DUNGARVAN

Waterford County Executive of the I.F.A. have organised in conjunction with the Bank of Ireland a Seminar to discuss aspects of Income Tax and Inheritance Tax.

Income Tax is becoming more and more a problem for farmers as they run out of Capital Allowances etc. Where no term lending is involved, it could be described as a nuisance but where term lending is involved, the implications for the borrowing farmer are very severe ing farmer are very severe when faced with high rates of tax. Mr. Peadar McCanna, Chief Agricultural Adviser of Bank of Ireland will discus a new approach to repaying loans tax effectively without running down the farm business.

Inheritance Tax is a once in generation tax, but nonetheless can be very severe. For far-mers in particular, it is avoidable with a proper approach to Wills and succession. Mr. Gerry Butler of the Bank of Ireland's Trustee Dept., who specialises in this area will discuss what steps farmers can take towards reducing the Capital Acquisireducing the Capital Acquisi-tions tax liability. A sensible approach by farmers to this aspect of their affairs will ensure

Of these two Portlaw showed the better form last, Sunday when beating Ballyduff than did Mount Sion when accounting for Shamrocks in the other semi-final. If this is a guide, then Portlaw will be fancied for the '87 title.

COUNTY BOARD MEETING

James Tobin, chairman, pre sided at last week's marathon meeting of the County Board. A thirteen week interval since the previous meeting meant that a was agreed that in order to UNDER 21 'B' avoid a repetition, county convention would in future take place in early January and thus allowing the Boards to do their early season business in Feb-

REQUESTS FOR CO. TEAM

Requests from several quarters for the services of the county senior hurling team against another county in a tournament to raise funds, were all referred to Coisde Gnotha who will discuss the applica-tions with the county selectors. I noted that practically all appli-cations named May 8th as the proposed date for the game. As this is the Sunday on which both the senior and junior footballers will be playing cham-pionship at Dungarvan, the date is unlikely to be given to any of the applicants.

APPEAL REFUSED

A letter of appeal against the decision of the Western Board in dividing the intermediate football championship into two games. groups was submitted by Brickey Rangers club. It was pointed out in the appeal that Western convention had voted overwhelmingly to have this championship played as one group and that subsequently the Officer Pears and the commended and that subsequently the Officer Board had recommended that this be done. The chairman said he was accepting the decision of the Divisional Board meeting at which he was present and he would not allow a discussion as the Board had voted by a majority of 24/22 to have the championship divided.

County Youth Officer, Jim Greene, reported that 40 members had turned up for the first session of coaching at Lismore on the previous Saturday and this was considered very satisfactory. A far greater number had notified the coaching committee of their intention to be present at Mount Sion grounds such an innovation was under consideration but as yet noth-ing definite had been decided

MINOR HURLING

Referring to what he described as the alarming state of minor hurling in the county, Phil Fanning voiced very severe criticism of the 'disaster' at Killarney on the previous Saturday when Kerry minors hammered Waterford in a Munster league game. He said it was a disastrous result for Waterford and from what he had been told there was a great lack of organisation about the whole affair and the 'buck' stopped with the County Board who must shoulder responsibility for what happened Several other speakers, including Tommy Hennessy and county hurling officer, Rev. P. Fitzgerald, also expressed concern about the stuation. The Chairman stated that only four selectors were acting as in had been found impossible to get a fifth person to act. He appealed to clubs to cooperate in this matter. It was eventually decided that if a fifth selector could not be got from the clubs present, that Lismore, who are county champions would supply two.

MINOR FOOTBALL

The detailed report from the minor football selectors told of huge amount of correspondence had to be dealt with before the ordinary business could be transacted.

Eastern Board chairman, Eamon Murphy commented on the long interval between meetings at this time of year and it was agreed that in order to in jours a bye.

The Chairman announced that Coisde Gnotha had decided that the under 21 'B' hurling championship this year, would be run on a county, rather than on a divisional basis. It will be confined to the weaker clubs.

CUP PRESENTED

At the Portlaw meeting of the County Board in December a trophy to commemorate the late Doctor James Walsh Brickey Rangers was presented by the Walsh family Ballyduff, Dungarvan. ### PHELAN CUP W/O

What is described as a most extraordinary development came to light over the week-end when it was learned that Ferrybank had conceded a walk-over to Kilrossanty in the Phelan Cup final which was scheduled to be played at Stradbally on Sunday last, Ferrybank's reason for not fielding was the unavailability of players, because of 'flu and other reasons. This is surely a unique occurrence.

free puck which resulted in a point score for Waterford has been the subject of much comment since the game and there has been newspaper reference to the feat also. When recently doing some research I read an article in a Wexford paper about the 1934 Junior All-Ireland hurling final in which Waterford's Mick Regan struck a ball from 110 yards towards his ball from 110 yards towards his opponents goal and the ball landed in the field beyond the goals. I don't know if a score resulted in this case. I recall seeing Percy Flynn, Ballygunner hit a ball from the country goal at Fraher field and sending it wide at the other end. There was a strong following wind on the day, about twenty

One of the very few remaining surviving members of the freedom fighters died during the week at Fermoy Hospital. He was Moss Spillane of Curra-glass. Conna. Well advanced in years, he was still a sprightly and active man up to recently and active man up to recently and the possessor of a fine singing voice — his rendering of the "Queen of Connemara" was delightful to hear. He worked in the metropolis in his younger days and being always fired with petrictism he emilisted in days and being always fired with patriotism he enlisted in the defence forces during the Emergency. His final years before being hospitalised were spent with his brothers Jack and Ned tending the family bar "God Speed The Plough" at Curraglass. A genial soul if ever there was one and a great raconteur. As a result, the Environment Minister Mr. Padraig Flynn issued a stern warning to farmers last Friday not to pour excess milk down the drain. He pointed out that milk is a greater pollution threat to our waterways than silage effluent and we have heard one source claim that it is as much as three-and-a-half times as potent. That should really prove how necessary it is that the Minister's warning should be heeded.
