PENSMAN TAKES YOU behind the SPOTLIGHT

TIME TO CLEAR THE AIR

The controversy surrounding a necklace of diamonds reputed to be worth £250,000 which was given by the Crown Prince of Saudi Arabia to Mrs. Maureen Haughey, wife of the Taoiseach, Mr. Charles J. Haughey, when he paid a state visit to this country last June has proceeded with varying degrees of intensity on and off since. Much of the criticism voiced has been of a begrudging and rather petty nature, but there can be no doubt but that the affair has placed Mr. and Mrs. Haughey in a very awkward situation.

Throughout the storms that have blown up around the affair over the past couple of months there has been no official statement or comment as to the position that applies to the gift—whether it is being regarded as a private personal gift from the royal Arab to the Taoiseach's wife or as a gift to the State represented in this instance on the occasion by Mrs. Haughey.

The matter was referred to at local level last Monday when Fine Gael Councillor Garry O'Halloran made an attempt to raise it at the monthly meeting of Waterford County Council. He had just referred to "the priceless jewels that had been handed over to the Taoiseach's wife" when the Chairman Cllr. B. Kyne, ruled the matter out on the grounds that he would not tolerate any personal criticism of the Taoiseach to be made at Council level. Fianna Fáil Councillor Ollie Wilkinson was at once on his feet expressing surprise that Cllr. O'Halloran would stoop so low or was allowed to use such guff.

It is this type of eruption, even when quenched at source as this was, that shows that it is time to clear the air where the jewels of the Saudi Crown Prince are concerned. It is time for an official statement to be made from some authentic source.

It can only be accepted that the jewels were given to Mrs. Haughey by sole virtue of the fact that she is the wife of the Taoiseach, the head of the Irish Government. Certainly Mrs. Haughey should continue to wear them so long as her husband remains head of the government. But they should remain the property of the State as indeed should any such similarly valuable gifts received by members of the Cabinet in their role as Government Ministers and the sooner that this is declared to be public policy the better.

SIX DAYS TO LIMERICK

An Post has claimed several times that 95 per cent of items posted in Ireland are now delivered next day. Dungarvan must be the exception. It usually takes 2-3 days for letters to come from Dublin. The most recent "speedy" delivery concerned a Limerick subscriber to the "Leader." Posted in Dungarvan on Thursday, July 28 last the weekly copy of the "Leader" was delivered to the subscriber in Limerick on August 3—taking 6 days to reach the Treaty City!

MORE THAN A JOKE

A morning female DJ on RTE Radio 1 has been giving us all headaches in recent weeks by regularly giving out wrong time checks. But she really went over the top last week—actually on Wednesday morning August 3—when she referred to an item in one of the Dublin morning papers concerning the return to the London West End stage at the age of 80 of actor Rex Harrison. Reading from the news item she said that the play in which Harrison was to appear was the "Ad-ad-myrr-able Kristian." That's what the lady said and while apologies came quite often when the faulty time-checks were left out there was not a titter after she literally staggered through what we later found out to be "The Admirable Crichton!" This kind of thing cannot be an acceptable standard for the national radio service under any circumstances.

A COMPENDIOUS HISTORY OF THE DIOCESE

We express our gratitude to Mr. Donal Power who was attached to the clerical staff at Dungarvan P.O. for years prior to his transfer to Dublin who, during a visit home last weekend, let us have a quick peep through a copy of a tome titled "Waterford and Lismore—A Compendious History of the United Dioceses" compiled by Dr. Patrick Power, Professor Emeritus of Archaeology, University College, Cork and published in 1937 by Cork University Press.

It is quite an interesting history of the Diocese according to which the Sees of Waterford and Lismore were formally united in 1363 but continued to have separate cathedrals and chapters down to the 16th century. It relates that from the union to the Reformation there is a list of 13 bishops who occupied the dual see but of these only one, Nicholas O'Hennessy, bears a distinctly Irish name.

The author then asserts that "we may assume that the others, like the Bishops of Waterford before the union were all, or almost all, of English origin." Dr. Power goes on to state: "usage of centuries has made us all but forget that Waterford and Lismore were for hundreds of years, in reality as in name, independent dioceses with separate bishops, deans, chapters and cathedrals. Indeed, although united since the 14th century, the two dioceses are still, occasionally in the Catholic practice and more frequently in Protestant usage, regarded as distinct. So perfect, however, has the amalgamation, 500 years old, become that today it has obliterated all popular memory of the ancient co-terminous boundary."

THE PARISH OF CAPPOQUIN

The various parishes in the Diocese are then listed in alphabetical order with the outline history of each. At random, we chose the entry for

Restoration Plans For West Waterford Libraries

Waterford Co. Council at their monthly meeting in Dungarvan last Monday unanimously agreed that the approval of the Minister for the Environment, be sought for the preparation of plans and the funding of the necessary work entailed in the restoration and refurbishment of the West Waterford Library branches at Lismore, Cappoquin and Tallow.

In a report, the County Manager, Mr. Dan Hurley said that the essential works to be carried out were similar in all cases and included structural repairs, installation of heating systems, replacement of electrical systems, fixtures and fittings, and redecoration. The preliminary cost estimate (excluding fees) was stated to be of the order of £200,000.

The report pointed out that they would then complete the scheduled building programme for the Library Service in County Waterford as enunciated in the Library Development Plan of 1983. The provision of libraries in Dungarvan, Tramore and Portlaw had already provided the centre and east of the county with modern library facilities.

Cllr. J. A. Walsh said that this was a most courageous and positive step and the fact that the plan has been spread over a number of years showed the commonsense approach taken to the problem. Stating that they could feel proud of the work done by the County Engineer in the other areas, he added that no county had such beautiful buildings as they had in Waterford. "We can equally be proud of what is to be done in the future," he said.

Cllr. M. O'Riordan said that the libraries in Cappoquin, Lismore and Tallow needed to be upgraded as had already been done in Dungarvan, Tramore and Portlaw and he hoped that the County Manager would be successful in his efforts to raise the necessary funds.

Cllr. J. Quirke welcomed the

Speeding Main Cause Of Ring Road Accidents

The traffic problems at the Kilrush junction on the new Dungarvan Ring Road were again raised by Cllr. B. Kyne, Chairman, at the monthly meeting of Waterford Co. Council held in Dungarvan. He said that the junction continued to be far from safe and referred to the fact that a young boy had been knocked down there recently and had got a broken leg. He said that he would like a more obvious junction situation there with something like hazard lights to warn motorists who may not be aware of the danger there.

Cllr. Kyne then referred to the frequency with which the traffic lights at the junction failed and asked whether anything could be done to warn when this happened. "I am not happy with the junction as it is and I cannot live in the town unless the Co. Council can bring in a scheme that when these lights fail they will have a warning within an hour," he said.

Cllr. C. O'Riain agreed and again made the point that the Kilrush junction was a ridiculous place to locate a filling station. He added that there should be signs at either side of the junction to warn motorists.

Cllr. P. Kenneally thought that the only solution to the problem there was a roundabout.

Cllr. M. O'Riordan said that motorists who were not aware of the junction were speeding on the road as the road was laid out for speeding. He agreed that traffic lights had not proved a success there and thought a roundabout might be the solution. "But," he added, "the filling station being placed there makes that all the more dangerous."

Cllr. O. Wilkinson said that the junction was deadly dangerous especially when the lights there failed.

Cllr. P. Cahill suggested the laying of rumble strips on the road to slow down traffic. The County Engineer, Mr. John O'Flynn then stated that between July 3, 1986 and May 28, 1988 there had been eight reported accidents on the road but no set pattern, as to what was wrong could be indicated from them but it appeared that drivers getting a green light on their approach assumed they had the right to turn right at the junction and this could be the cause of some of the difficulties. Since the matter was last discussed he said that a number of remedial works had been carried out and it now seemed that the principal cause of the accidents was excess speeding followed by an ignoring of the normal rules of the road and cyclists breaking the red lights which seemed to be a common fault all over the town.

FLASHERS

The Co. Engineer said that it was now proposed to install separate light turn phases in the traffic lights on the Waterford-Cork road at the junction and they were also considering the introduction of flashers there to warn drivers to reduce speed. He added that he did not know what could be done as regards an instant warning when the lights failed but would be getting in touch with the manufacturers, and would ask them about it.

The Chairman, Cllr. Kyne, urged that the situation at the junction be kept under constant review and he agreed that advance warning to reduce speed would be a big help.

Mr. Dan Hurley, Co. Manager said that they were all concerned about the junction and they would continue to monitor the position there on a regular basis.

proposals but said that the people of Ballyduff were very disappointed at the way the Carnegie Library in Ballyduff was being run. It was open for only a few hours each week and people felt that if nothing better than that could be done it would be better to close it altogether. He said that it was in a bad state of repair and asked, "will it be allowed to deteriorate further to become a derelict site?"

Mr. Hurley, Co. Manager, assured Cllr. Quirke that it would not become a derelict site. He said that it would be maintained in good order for the people who used it.

Cllr. C. O'Riain said that the Co. Manager was to be complimented on the great and wonderful work he had done all in a short few years in upgrading the library services of the county.

On the proposal of Cllr. W. McDonnell seconded by Cllr. O'Riordan it was unanimously agreed to seek the approval of the Minister for the plans and the funding required.

THOUSANDS FLOCK TO MELLERAY GROTTO AT CAPPOQUIN

To commemorate the third anniversary of the apparitions and messages of Our Blessed Lady at Melleray Grotto a Novena of Public Prayer will take place at the Grotto from August 16th to the 24th.

During that period upwards of 10,000 are expected to visit the Grotto where there will be public prayers daily between 2-6 p.m. and 8-10 p.m. A number of guest choirs will also attend.

Since the reported apparitions at the Grotto in August, 1985, there has been a constant stream of pilgrims there from all over the country and especially from Belfast and the North of Ireland generally.

Prayer Vigils are held at the Grotto every Saturday with many hundreds of the faithful attending. Coach loads of pilgrims from the North are regular on such occasions, as are coaches from such places as Dublin, Cork, Limerick, Waterford, Wexford and many other centres.

There have been many reported cures from visitations to the Grotto, and details of several of these cures have been put on record and are held by the Grotto Committee. The water beneath the Grotto has been blessed and few, if any, pilgrims leave without taking away bottles of it with them.

ANNIVERSARY CELEBRATIONS
No stone is being left unturned to ensure a memorable week of anniversary celebrations between August 16th and 24th. The nightly prayers will have a special theme and these are as follows:—
Tuesday 16th — "My Message Is Peace And Prayer"; Wednesday 17th — "Vocations To The Religious Life"; Thursday 18th — "Youth Of The World"; Friday 19th — "Justice In The World"; Saturday 20th — "Conversion Of Sinners"; Sunday 21st — "Preserve Sunday For Prayer"; Monday 22nd — "The Holy Souls"; Tuesday 23rd — "The Sick And The Suffering"; Wednesday 24th — "Thanksgiving".

On Saturday, August 20th, there will also be an all-night prayer vigil at which there will be hymn singing. It commences at midnight until 6.30 a.m. and will undoubtedly be one of the highlights of the week-long celebrations. There will also be Mass in Mount Melleray Abbey at 7 a.m. for those taking part in the vigil.

The proximity of the Cistercian Monastery to the Grotto adds still further to the appeal and the devotion of it.

Since the momentous events of 1985, in the region of 100,000 people have come to pray at the Grotto. During that time, also, the local Grotto Committee has done marvellous work in carrying out extensive improvements and refurbishments, and translating the whole area into a true and beautiful place of pilgrimage.

Official Opening Of Playing Field And Clubhouse At The Burgery

This week-end marks a very special occasion in the club with the official opening of our spacious playing facilities and clubhouse at our new club home at the Burgery. The event, which begins on Friday evening, 12th August, will run over a three day period, ending on Sunday, 14th August. It will bring to fruition the plans and aspirations of the dedicated club members who have worked so enormously hard over the past decade to ensure that the club is adequately equipped to cater for the needs of our entire membership.

The provision of facilities such as those at the Burgery represents a major step in our club development plans and is one that will, if properly utilised, ensure a vibrant and healthy future for Dun na Mainstreach/Balle na Cuirte. The events of this week-end mark the final step in a long and indeed colourful trek which has taken us through many fields and meeting places of the village and country as the men and women, boys and girls, in their various roles, proceeded to build and firmly establish the very strong and proud tradition we now have. That tradition is destined to grow greater in strength and significance as we set our roots in our permanent home.

Club chairman, Greg Fives, together with the excellent committee members who have worked on the development programme over recent months and years will feel proud and honoured to be the ones to lead the club on this occasion. In essence they are finalising the work of this year's active committees and complimenting and enriching the work of all who have given so much to the club. Appropriately, our new grounds will be named Pádraic Naomh Abhustáin which was also the name of our previous grounds.

The occasion will be marked by the following arrangements: Friday 6.30 p.m. Ladies Football at club grounds. Friday Evening August 12th 6.30 p.m. Intermediate Hurling Tournament, Abbeyside v. Dungarvan. Referee J. M. Kelly. 8.00 p.m. Mass will be celebrated at the grounds.

CLUBMAN OF THE YEAR PRESENTATION John Jackson, Ballyduff, the Ciba Geigy Waterford Clubman of the Year, was presented with his award at a function in the Burlington Hotel in Dublin on Saturday night last. Present were all the top GAA officials and leading sports personalities. The awards are presented on a county, provincial and national basis and the overall winner was the Clare representative. John's award was just recognition for years of hard work in GAA affairs.

At a young age he was involved in the administrative side of the Ballyduff club. His abilities got more widespread recognition when he was elected representative to the GAA Board. John's forte however was juvenile affairs and he was instrumental in setting up a juvenile club in Ballyduff, the rich benefits of which are being reaped at present.

Three years ago he was elected secretary of the Western Bord na nOg and it was then that his organising ability was shown. At present he acts as secretary to County Bord na nOg, Western Bord na nOg and the Ballyduff Juvenile G.A.A. Club. The award therefore is richly deserved and the Ballyduff G.A.A. Club are delighted that John has been singled out for such an honour. We wish him many years of enjoyment in his dedicated work for the G.A.A. in Ballyduff and in Waterford.

BALLYDUFF/BALLINVELLA/BALLYAGGART/COMHALTAS NOTES Plans are being made for the next term of the music class which will start in September. Those who intend taking part for this term please give names to Anne Mangan, Pat Berry or Thomas Hyland as soon as possible. - PRO.

came to Tallow in the late 'twenties to teach at the Carmelite Convent, School which was then a separate entity, but later came under Departmental regulations and Mrs. Walsh continued teaching there until her retirement a good many years ago. An ardent educationalist with a most pleasant disposition she was very popular in the locality. On her marriage to the late Paddy Walsh draper she became acquainted with many people from a wide area who occasionally assisting at the business in the Barrack Street shop. A fluent Irish speaker, too, having spent a considerable time at Ring College, she also taught the local Gaelic League class in the forties and her great fervour regarding Irish culture in general was often a great inspiration to people with whom she came in contact.

While her demise is to be regretted memories of this lady will linger on in our minds. Our deepest sympathy is extended to her sons, Pat, Tim and Sean, sister, nephew, nieces, relatives and friends. She was interred in Tallow cemetery. Go mbeld a h-anam dílis imeasg na naomh agus imeasg na nGaol go leir ar neamh.

MRS. MAIRIN ROSE, BALLYNOE Our condolence is expressed to Malcolm Rose, brothers, sisters and family relatives, Ballynoe, on the recent and unexpected death of his wife Maire. The Rose family, who came to reside at Ballynoe some years ago, integrated themselves very well into the community and were most obliging neighbours always. Service was held at St. Luke's Church, Douglas and also at Durrus (Bantry), where interment took place in the adjoining cemetery afterwards. Solas na bhfiathas da h-anam uasal.

MISS MAIRIN GALVIN, DUBLIN AND TALLOW The death took place recently at St. Vincent's Hospital, Dublin of Mairin Galvin, Glenacroughera, Tallow. Mairin entered the Civil Service after completing her schooling and was assigned to the Department of Agriculture in the capital. She always maintained a deep affection for her native homeland and travelled regularly to it over the years. A girl with wide interests and always good humoured, she was a great favourite with young and old and her great popularity was to be seen in the large cortege that accompanied her remains from Dublin to Glenacroughera Church and again on Sunday from the church to Tallow cemetery for interment.

We wish to sympathise with her brothers Paudie and Eddie, sisters Brenda and Nan, nephews, nieces, grand-nephews, grand-nieces, relatives and friends. Guimíd beannacht De is Muire ar a h-anam dílis.

Ballynoe last Saturday evening. Both sides fielded without a couple of regular players, but this did not deter them from serving up a good hour's hurling to a rather sparse attendance. Iniscarra, unlucky to lose their championship tie by one point to semi-finalists Douglas and Catherine's now opposing Youghal in that realm soon, played a brisk and spectacular game from start to finish and the Catherine's were leading well. Iniscarra scored those valuable last minute scores to finish all square and divide the spoils.

Catherine's lined out as follows - W. Murphy, John G. Barry, S. O'Connell, M. Hartnett, B. Neville, P. Sullivan, S. Neville, C. Casey, P. Clancy, M. McElrick, P. Donoghue, C. Clancy (capt.), J. Hartnett, M. Walsh, S. Buckley. Sub. - J. Lonergan. P. Spillane, Carrig H.C. referee.

U-14 County Football Semi-Final - At Macroom last Sunday evening our u-14 footballers made a valiant effort to win this penultimate round of the above competition. A couple of early scores against them minus one was not in their favour and despite a great display they had to concede victory on the score - 2-3 to 0-7.

ABBEYSIDE SCOUT NOTES

All who think that activity has ceased at the den while the lads are away on Euro '88 are quite wrong. Already we are preparing for our camp in Mellera which promises to be very exciting — more details next week.

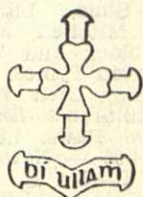

and we wish them the very best of luck. The last three meetings saw our young scouts becoming proficient in the use of the compass and some of our younger scouts have surprised our more experienced ones as Robert Curran's demonstration of the "square lashing" showed.

HOLIDAYS

With most of the Unit away in Europe on holidays and the remainder at Mellera for a few days the holiday season is in full swing. It is also the time when a large number of former members of the troop are to be seen around "the village," with their families.

A few weeks ago I met Jimmy Griffin and he told me many stories of the infant days of the 4th Waterford. Jimmy was one of the first patrol leaders in the troop — back at its foundation in 1930. He surprised me by telling me he still has his membership card from those distant days! We look forward to seeing him hale and hearty again when he next visits the village. John Clancy, a more frequent visitor, was home recently and left us a nice present for which we are thankful.

I had a very short word with Anthony Duggan before he left to return to the big smoke. But we had no time for a tune on the guitar!

Gerry Phelan is back at Murphy Place and we look forward to seeing more of him in the future. Finally, I know that this is only the "tip of the iceberg," but we send best wishes to all former members of the Unit and their families on holidays in the locality. — ("Sub-Subscribe Plus").

CONTEMPLATIONS

There are times when I think "Is it worth it?" Running a Scout Troop for boys. Is the time and the money spent, wasted? Is the Bedlam, the uproar and noise. I think of the times when I know what to do. To make Troop Meetings go with a shout. Of the projects and challenges ripe to enthuse... then the lads take the easy way out.

There's frustration in trusting a lad with a job. When you've trained him to do it alone. Then finding out that he's not seen it through. Or his efforts have not been his own. And it hurts when some parents just don't want to know. Who don't care what my Scouting's about. And I wonder sometimes if the Leaders feel they enjoy Troop nights far more than the Scouts.

BUT... there are times when I know that it's worth it. When the effort has not been in vain. When the lads say, "Thanks Skip, it was smashing— Now when can we do it again?" I remember the laughter of weekends away. Different characters etched in my mind. Creating the brotherhood and spirit of youth— Scouting's magic, that's hard to define.

And I think of the memories of camp fires at dusk. As we sit round the embers so bright. Of the hopes and the fears of my lads who trust me. As we talk far into the night. I recall all the Scouts who have passed through my Troop. All the years that their friendship has spanned. And I know with a quiet satisfaction. That I've helped mould the boy into man. — J. HOLLOWAY

ALLOWANCES FOR COST OF LAND AND MILK QUOTA

The cost of the basic source of production for all farming enterprises, land, is not presently allowable as a deduction against profits earned from the land. For developing farmers, in particular farmers with limited acreage, this places an enormous burden on their cashflow. The capital cost of the land must be repaid out of after tax income, without an allowance for that cost. Continuous structural improvement is a prerequisite for an efficient and competitive agriculture, with the attendant benefits accruing to the whole economy. To facilitate and promote this desirable and necessary rationalisation, I.F.A. propose that a capital allowance should be provided for the purchase of land. This allowance would apply to the cost of establishing farms up to 85 acres of productive land.

I.F.A. also propose that a capital allowance be granted for the purchase of Milk Quotas up to 30,000 gallons. This is essential for those farmers who are attempting to reach a viable quota size.

I.F.A. propose that the capital allowance for land and quotas should be made available by extending the allowance for "Farm Buildings," which already includes roadways, holding yards, drains and land reclamation. This type of allowance would ensure that the capital nature of Milk Quotas is retained and that no clawback of the allowance granted would occur on sale of the quota. [More next week].

IFA PROPOSALS FOR TAX REFORM

[This is the first in a series of five articles setting out IFA's proposals on tax reforms.] Last week, IFA published a major policy document on taxation reform. Martin Good, Secretary, IFA Farm Business Committee sets out, in the first of a series of articles, the main IFA proposals.

IFA demands the reduction in income tax levels in order to provide the necessary incentives for investment and growth; in particular lower tax rates and wider tax bands. IFA's overall policy in relation to taxation is that (1) the level of disincentive caused by taxation should be minimised and positive incentives to encourage production investment should be provided, (2) family circumstances, including family labour, must be adequately recognised and rewarded, and (3) the system of taxation must be equitable between individual tax payers.

10% TAX RATE FOR FARMING

The most closely related industry to agriculture is the manufacturing industry. IFA proposes that a system based on the taxation system for manufacturing industry be introduced for farming with due allowances for circumstances peculiar to the business for

OUR LITTLE FLOWER

Oh! Little Flower of Jesus, So little and so rare, How lovingly He cherished it And watched it grow with care.

A life made up of little things No complications there, Her little way that won His heart, No selfish love could ever share.

The heart aches and the headaches, The childish doubt and tears, Sometimes she wondered if He loved her, loved her, But He allayed her fears.

How much she longed for Heaven, Her name was written in the sky, Some thought it couldn't happen, She was too young to die.

The great decider beckoned, 'Twas time to do His will, Her little heart was silenced, And she lay quiet and still.

She told us how she'd spend her Heaven, Showering roses from above, And with each rose a favour, And a message full of love.

Her statue stands within our Church, Pray we may love her more, Oh Little Flower shower down your roses, On our "Sweet Knockanore." —MARY KEANE.

Wettest July In Over Thirty Years

According to the official report of the Irish Meteorological Service the Atlantic weather systems determined our July weather. Between 1st and 6th a complex deep, low-pressure area centred near or over Ireland gave cool, showery conditions and while the centre moved away to the northeast, it remained the dominant feature on 7th and 8th. Active rainbands moved eastwards across the country during 9th and in the early hours of 10th; there followed a westerly airflow with a few showers. On 12th there was widespread rain as the new Atlantic depression moved towards us; it crossed the country moving down southwards early on 13th. Between 14th and 18th most areas had essentially dry weather. On Saturday the 16th, fronts which crossed most of the country as a weak feature became active over parts of the north and northeast and gave the steady rain which caused cancellation of play in the British Open at Lytham St. Annes. Between 18th and 23rd amounts of rain remained fairly small in most areas but the weather pattern became increasingly disturbed-looking with a slack low pressure area over Ireland on 21st-22nd and a wave depression passing close by the south coast late on 22nd and early on 23rd. Early on 24th a depression moved north-eastwards across Connacht and Ulster leaving us in a blustery westerly. The next depression was unusually intense and caused the strongest July winds on record as it moved quickly northwards near the northwest coast on 25th.

On 26th and 27th we had sun and showers. A depression crossed the south coast early on 28th and moved north-eastwards giving heavy rain particularly in Munster and Leinster. For the rest of the month the weather remained unsettled with some heavy showers but a ridge to the northwest was edging slowly towards us.

90 hours at Claremorris. Percentages of normal were between 66% and 88% at most stations but Clones and Malin Head had more than 90% of normal sunshine. Indeed, Malin Head had its sunniest July for 5 years, but it recorded some 51 of its 135 hour total in just four days.

RECORD WINDS ON 25th

Late on 24th and on 25th an unusually vigorous depression passed close by the northwest of Ireland on a northeasterly track. At eleven of our fifteen stations the record gusts for July were exceeded as winds gusted 45 to 60 knots (1 kt = 1.15 mph) generally but gusted 60 to 74 knots over north Connacht and west Ulster where mean winds were strong gale to storm force for a time. At Malin Head the gust of 74 knots exceeded the previous record by a full 20 knots. The only other day with strong winds over much of the country was the 10th when winds gusted 35 to 47 knots.

PHENOMENA

Besides the period 1st to 6th thunder was reported on 12th and on 27th. Patchy fog was reported from a few places between 5th and 9th, 16th and 19th and rather more widely between 21st and 23rd.

Many stations recorded their lowest ever July MSL pressures. At Belmullet and Malin Head the lowest pressures occurred in association with the depression which passed close by on 25th but at most stations the lowest pressure was recorded early on 3rd as a depression slipped southwards across the country from Mayo towards Waterford.

SUMMARY

It was a very wet, cool July and rather dull except for the northwest.

PRESSURE RECORDS OF 3rd AND 25th JULY

From the 1st we were under the influence of a deep low pressure area which initially was centred to the northwest of Ireland but slipped south-east across the country from Belmullet towards Land's End during the early half of the 3rd. No strong winds were associated with this low but record low pressures were recorded at quite a number of our stations.

However the lowest pressures of the month were recorded at Belmullet and Malin Head on 25th as a deep depression passed close by. The intense pressure gradient about this low was reflected in the strong gale to storm force winds. While Belmullet recorded 977.8 hPa (the lowest ever July pressure recorded at any of our stations) the lowest pressure recorded at nearby Claremorris on 25th was 986.3 hPa. The previous all-station record was the 979.7 hPa which was recorded at Cahirciveen in 1948. For latest forecast telephone South Munster 021/964600.

KNOW YOUR RIGHTS

Q. — I started work last March. How soon will I qualify for Dental Benefit?

A. — The speed with which you qualify for dental, optical and aural (hearing) benefits depends upon your age and the number of social insurance contributions you have. Permanent and pensionable public and civil servants and part-time workers pay social insurance at a rate that does not cover them for these benefits. Assuming that you are not in these categories you qualify for dental benefit as follows:

(a) If you are under 21 years you will qualify after 39 weeks of insurable employment. (b) If you are between 21 and 23 years you need to have 39 weeks of insurable employment. If you claim in 1988 you will also need to have 39 social insurance contributions registered.

Since October 1987 cover for dental, optical and aural services has been extended to the dependent wives of insured workers provided the above conditions are satisfied on the husband's insurance. However, because of a dispute between the dentists and the Department of Social Welfare many dentists are not operating the new scheme.

YOUTH FROM BROKEN HOME SENT TO DETENTION

A 16-year-old youth, who is the product of a broken home, was sentenced to a total of 8 months' detention in St. Patrick's Institution by District Justice W. F. O'Connell at Tipperary Court.

The youth, with an address at Sexton Street, Abbeyside, Dungarvan, pleaded guilty to a total of 25 charges, including 5 of taking unlawful possession of motor cars, 3 of uttering forged cheques, and the remainder of burglary.

The court heard that a total of £2,400 of stolen property and cash was involved, only £300 of which had been recovered. Almost £500 worth of malicious damage had also been caused.

Garda Inspector Eamonn Keating told the Court that the youth's mother would have been in a state of mind to do nothing to do with him. He had been in a number of institutions during his childhood years.

REMANDED ON GARDA ASSAULT CHARGE

A 20-year-old unemployed labourer, Anthony Riordan, 40, Cathal Brugha Place, Dungarvan, was remanded on bail until September 14 when he appeared in custody before District Justice W. F. O'Connell at Tipperary Court.

Riordan is charged with (1) taking a car without the consent of the owner at Caseville, Dungarvan, on July 23; (2) assaulting Garda Ray Dunne on the same occasion, and (3) getting into a car at Emmett Street, Dungarvan, on March 2 without consent.

Garda Inspector Eamonn Keating prosecuted and Mr. Niall King, Solr., appeared for the accused.

DUNGARVAN SEA ANGLING CLUB NOTES

Irwin. Hopefully the good weather will return and if not we'll still go (rain or shine).

The Yoplait Two Day Gold Medal international event went off very well indeed. The weather was very fine and we had a great turn out nationally and internationally and this is reflected in the results.

Tony (the wily) Crowe gave a great display of consistency over the two days to take top prize. Tony Elstead and John Molloy followed that lead and we kept a lot of big prizes at home. Bernie Twomey pulled in a conger at 39½ lbs. and just missed specimen size by ½ lb. That was tough but it didn't seem to bother Bernie who was way ahead on poundage to take the Conger King Cup. No doubt there will be discussion about the title of that trophy.

Yoost Spreen, Bepi Van Leeuwen and Uwe Keller, three regular anglers and holiday-makers here, got themselves into some of the prizes and can probably see an improvement here in the angling techniques and skills. Ritchie O'Donovan, brother of Pat, and Gerry had hand luck too, he brought in a garfish which was just a mere two ounces off the requirement for specimen size.

Yoost Spreen, Bepi Van Leeuwen and Uwe Keller, three regular anglers and holiday-makers here, got themselves into some of the prizes and can probably see an improvement here in the angling techniques and skills. Ritchie O'Donovan, brother of Pat, and Gerry had hand luck too, he brought in a garfish which was just a mere two ounces off the requirement for specimen size.

The variety of fish caught was very encouraging but the flat fish were conspicuous by their absence. I think that this is the second year in a row that we had no 'flatties'. No doubt this will be noted next year and don't be surprised to see some practice for this category in the next outings.

The next competition is the juveniles on Friday, August 12 and I understand that crisps and lemonade will be courtesy of L&N and Jim Sheehan. The adults, by the way, were treated to cans of Fosters during the Yoplait and in the hot weather were down a treat.

On Sunday, August 14, we have the Megavision competition sponsored by Michael lands during the Great War. Captain Hardt, a German submarine commander, is ordered to become a spy, to proceed to the Orkney Islands, and there to make contact with a German agent posing as the village schoolmistress. Starring: Conrad Veidt, and Sebastian Shaw. We Love Lucy — 8.35-10.20 p.m.

CAUSEWAY TENNIS CLUB NOTES

Big news this week was the Abbeyside pattern Mixed Doubles. An open draw brought about many an interesting combination and an interesting result in two sections, culminating in finals on Sunday at 3 p.m. Playing in the brilliant sunshine mistakenly associated with the game of tennis, Ger Cusack and Helene Lenihan beat Liam Crotty and Aileen Stacy to take the A title. In the B section, Tom Lenders and Anne Dunphy met Robert Byrne and Rita Moore and were victorious on the day.

TEMPORARY LULL BEFORE CLUB WEEK

Something of a change in the Causeway this week—a bit of a rest for everyone—but normal activities still continue as we prepare for our Annual

BALLYSAGGART NOTES

GALA DAY

Proceedings get under way at 1.30 with children's and adult fancy dress and activities in the field include inter pub tug-o-war, open juvenile sports plus open men's and women's 100 metres and half-mile, open air dancing, traditional music and song, butter making, pottery making, spinner, home produce stall and much, much more.

On Sunday evening at 7.45, Lismore junior hurlers play Skeheenarinky in a tournament final, preceded by a local juvenile tournament.

See advertisement in this issue for full details.

G.A.A. NOTES

Ballywillin 1-7, Ballysaggart 1-6

Our junior footballers came within an ace of pulling off a shock win over warm favourites Ballywillin in Tallow on Saturday evening last. We trailed by a point at half time, 0-5 to 0-4, and the second half was nip and tuck with the lead changing hands on numerous occasions.

We had our chances, but couldn't take enough of them to win the title. We also had a strong claim for a penalty turned down midway through the half. Still, we can take consolation in the fact that we played our part in a fine, open, sporting game of football.

Our congratulations to Ballywillin—old adversaries and good friends.

G.A.A. RESULTS

1st/2nd, Dave Walsh / Robert O'Brien, Joe Lineen / Joan Burns; 3rd, John and Joan Bennett; Last 5: Dan Howard / Sean Griffin; Lucky Tables: James Hyland, John Kennefick, Raffle: Kathleen O'Gorman, Dan Lenihan, Dick Mulcahy, Jimmy Geoghegan.

FOCUS ON BALLINROAD

St. Laurences Open Week is now in progress, so good luck to all our juniors who are competing. A wet beginning will hopefully change for the better so don't forget to turn up for the finals for some good tennis.

MICHAEL CARROLL DAY CUP

Teams now being organised for this event which takes place at 1 p.m. on Sunday next, August 14.

WHAT'S NEW ON THE CIRCUIT?

Our juniors did well in St. Annes but failed to carry off the titles. However, on finals day we were proud to be represented in 3 finals. Ann Brennan met a very strong opponent in Gina Reynolds (Kilkenny), but played very well. Kieran Higgins and Richard McDonald (Tramore) were beaten in the Handicap Doubles by strong duo James Bolger (Clonmel) and Michael Curran (Tramore). Elizabeth Burke with partner Aine White (Bishopstown) were beaten by Kilkenny pair Kim Reynolds and Heidi Richardson.

Satisfying success for Gavin Keane and James Brennan as their win in the 1st round of the Handicap Doubles over Conor MacMahon and Colum O'Mahoney. Emily Higgins did well to reach the semi-finals in the u-12 singles where she was put out by Gina Reynolds.

Dungarvan senior players did well in Tranore Open with Ruth Byrne and Margaret Cusack (St. Laurences) taking the ladies B title in the doubles and Jim Byrne and John Ryan (St. Laurences) doing likewise in the mens.

TRISH O'BRIEN AT 'THE CATS'

"Heatwave" is the title of the "new" single release from Trish O'Brien & Paradise, who are hoping for weather to match the title for the rest of the summer. If "Heatwave" sounds vaguely familiar to you, it's because the single is a re-release from late last year.

"Heatwave" is Trish's follow up to her recent airplay hit "Searchin'" — with which she won the 1987 Ballinacolla Song Contest. The band recently returned from successful US and British tours, which have seen them spending three of the last four months abroad, where they play to the many young emigrants who followed the band back home in Ireland in the recent past.

Trish O'Brien & Paradise will be spending the months of July and August on the Irish circuit before returning to the States for a month. Dates in Spain and the United Arab Emirates are also on the cards for the busy young Cork lady and her band.

So, catch them while you can on tour to promote "Heatwave" at The Cats Lounge, Melleray on Saturday, August 13.

Opening Of Abbeyside New Grounds And Club House

ABBEYSIDE/BALLINACOURTY OFFICIAL OPENING

An interesting game between Ballinacourty and Stradbally will entertain guests and others present at Abbeyside grounds, following the official opening by County Board chairman, James Tobin on Sunday evening next at 6.30 p.m. The blessing of the grounds and club rooms will take place during evening at approximately 7.45 p.m. following the hurling tournament game between Abbeyside and Dungarvan, Saturday will see Kilrossanty junior footballers and Ballinacourty in action and on Sunday morning the minors of St. Patrick's and Abbeyside will meet in hurling in the forenoon. Throughout Saturday, juvenile matches will be played at the venue.

The club are hopeful that a very big gathering of past and present members will turn up for the historic event on Sunday evening and also on the other days.

NEXT WEEK-END

Because the adult championships are coming to a close, the number of games that it is possible to play is limited, hence the small fixture programme for the coming week-end in the division.

STRADBALLY v. BALLINAMEELA

If playing to their best form, Stradbally should win this match very decisively as Ballinameela have fallen back a good bit in hurling and have yet to win a game in the current championship. Not that the game matters as Stradbally are already through to the semi-final and Ballinameela, being pointless are well out of contention.

KILGOBINET v. FOURMILEWATER

This is a much different situation with a lot at stake, especially for Kilgobinet, who must win if they are going to be involved in the knock-out stages. The loss of Owen Phelan has proved costly to them in football and it is feared that his absence from this game can be equally disastrous. He has played well in several of their games and the team would feel more confident if he was available to play here. Without him they will have to rely on players like James Walsh, Pat Power, Brian O'Connor, Lar Curran, John Moore, Marty Kieley, Pat Lynch, Michael Walsh, Matty Fahy, John Morgan, etc., to get the win that would get them back into the championship with a chance.

Fourmile will need this win to clinch a place in the top three and on form they seem set to do so. With so many fine players now reaching their best form, including Michael, Richard and Sean Guiry, Gerard Walsh, Phil Harte, Tom Moore, Michael and Pat Hally, Michael Ryan and company, they will be strongly fancied and it will come as a big surprise if they are beaten here.

ARDMORE v. SLIABH gCUA

There is very little between these teams as seen when they played an exciting draw at the Abbeyside venue two weeks ago. The winners will be the second qualifiers with Shamrocks and which side it will be is anyone's guess. Ardmore pulled out of the junior hurling championship and will now be concentrating on football, while St. Mary's/Sliabh gCua are still confident of being involved in the knock-out stages in both. Sliabh gCua were the slight favourites to win the drawn match, but somehow failed to hit their best form. They may succeed on this occasion.

EIRE OG v. GERALDINES

The result of this will put the winners through to the semi-final and if we are to judge by the form of both when they met recently, then Geraldines will surely qualify. They beat Eire Og on the score 3-9 to 1-5 on a rainy evening recently, but I doubt if the weather made a ten point difference in the scoring. The Geraldines will be strongly fancied here.

SHAMROCKS v. LISMORE

This junior hurling tie at Tallow will be a mere formality as Lismore are already qualified.

DUNGARVAN v. CAPPOQUIN

This senior hurling relegation match will be played at Lismore on Sunday instead of Saturday and the losers will meet Shamrocks, probably on the following Sunday. When they met two weeks ago, Dungarvan survived by a couple of points in a very mediocre game. Both were understrength because of the annual holidays. Here both will be at full strength and both will be very much under pressure to win. On the previous occasion, Cappoquin, who had two points going into the game, were under far less pressure than Dungarvan who had no point. I would rate Dungarvan, at full strength, to have the better chance.

HANDBALL NEWS: MUNSTER FINALS AT BALLYPREEN AND CASHEL

The first week of August, has certainly been a busy and an historic week for the Kilgobinet Handball Club, who won a record number of three Munster titles. In the silver Masters Doubles at Cashel, M. Butler and J. Wall beat Tipperary's M. Tyrrell and P. M. Meagher by two games to one. Our men lost the first game 21-10, came back to level the second 21-16 and then took the third with a very impressive 21-7 win. They now take on Dublin in Croke Park in the All-Ireland semi-final. This was great stuff and if the lads can maintain this good form, they can take the All-Ireland.

M. Butler won the singles in this grade when he beat Tipperary's P. M. Meagher by two games to nil — 21-6 and 21-12 at Ballyporeen. Congratulations again. His semi-final will be played at Clonmel on a date to be announced.

The Golden Masters championship which was a contest between Waterford's D. Mulcahy (who won the Silver Masters last year) and Kerry's multi-All-Ireland winner of 29 titles in all was played at Ballyporeen and was judged to be the best seen in the grade for many a long day. The Kerry star, B. Kerins led all the way in the first game and reached gameball with Mulcahy at 12, but ace by ace, the Waterford representative pegged him back all the way to 14, when Kerry's ace again took the lead to 19-14. At this stage, Mulcahy, showing tremendous determination fought back to win 21-19. Congratulations then to him and all the new champions of Munster who wore our colours in these finals. Mulcahy's semi-final is also fixed for Croke Park. It was a great week for Kilgobinet club and hopefully there will be more like it.

WESTERN BOARD MEETING

When the officer board meet to make fixtures on to-morrow (Thursday) evening, they expect to be in a position to programme the championships out as far as the final stages (except the under-21 football which has not yet begun). This is excellent progress by any standards and unless some unexpected problems arise, they should be on target for the scheduled county final dates.

COUNTY BOARD MEETING

James Tobin, chairman presided at Monday night's meeting of the County Board who named county selectors in three grades.

SENIOR FOOTBALL

Three new members were appointed to this committee which will operate for a two-year term. Greg Fives takes over as manager from Aio Curran who retired and he will work with the following—Mick White (Dunhill), Jimmy Power (Kilrossanty), Joe Curran (Stradbally) and Noel Kirwan (Rathgormack).

UNDER 21 FOOTBALL

Michael Brophy (manager), Michael O'Donoghue (St. Molierans), Paddy Fitzgerald (Dungarvan), Eddy O'Grady (Geraldines), Michael Coffey (Stradbally).

The nomination of a minor football committee was deferred at the request of Clisde na Peil as two of the proposed members are currently out of the country.

COISDE NA PEIL

The football committee for the coming year was due to be appointed at this meeting, but on the proposition of Tom Cunningham, which was seconded by Tommy Hennessy, their term was extended until the new year and the new committee will be elected at the first meeting of the 1989 county board.

UNDER 21 HURLING

James Tobin (Shamrocks), Pat Flynn (Ballygunner), Noel Costello and Paddy Walsh (Colligan), were all appointed as under 21 hurling selectors for the coming year. The fifth member of the committee was not named as he is presently away. He will be named and appointed at the September meeting.

MINOR HURLING

The new minor hurling selection committee who were appointed at the July meeting, submitted their first report and informed the county board that a county trial will take place on Saturday, October 1st. After this trial, in which 40 players will be involved, a panel of 25 will be selected to go into training for the 1989 Munster championships. The committee asked for approval for the appointment of John Jackson as secretary to the committee. This was agreed.

MUNSTER FINAL

The discussion which took place and the criticisms made about the recent Munster hurling final arrangements, etc. was again referred to when John Lyons asked if there were any further developments in the matter.

Seamus Power (Munster Council), said there was very little that could be done about it at this stage. He said our allocation of tickets was comparable with what other counties received. He agreed that the quality of the sideline tickets was poor.

John Lyons said that some action should be taken against the people who pulled down the national flag on the occasion. These were identified as Cork supporters.

FR. P. FITZGERALD, P.P.

On the proposition of Tom Cunningham, congratulations were extended to Very Rev. Fr. P. Fitzgerald on his recent appointment and promotion to Parish Priest of Carrickbeg, Fr. Fitzgerald has been county hurling officer for a good number of years and his interest in under-age hurling is well known. He is also a member of Coisde Ioluna na Mumhan.

CHAMPIONSHIP STRUCTURES

The Chairman said he would allow a 15 minute discussion on a matter raised by Nicolas Mac Craith, concerning championship structures. Nicolas expressed the view that this was a subject that should be discussed when the championships were drawing to a close as against convention-time when delegates were inclined to become emotive about such matters. He congratulated the county fixtures committee on being able to complete the league section of the senior championships on schedule. The Chairman pointed out that championship structures will in future be determined by the county board and not by convention. Following a brief discussion, it was decided that an open debate on the subject will take place at the November meeting of the county board.

COACHING

Tom Cunningham informed the meeting that an appointment would not be made to complete the unexpired portion of Eoin Liston's two-year term as Munster football coach, but the matter of a new appointment would be discussed by the council sometime later this year.

Nicolas Mac Craith thought that such an appointment was not money well spent and the appointment of a coach on a part-time basis and who would devote all his time to the county, would be a much better idea. Many other members were critical of the Eamon Young/Eoin Liston style of operation as it was considered to be too haphazard. There was nothing wrong with the quality of the coaching, but in the end of the day, the benefits were not there to be seen. (This was, more or less, the agreed opinion of the meeting.)

THANKS

John Lyons expressed the thanks of the Henley brothers of Tallow for the generous manner in which they were treated during the recent trip to Scotland for the Shinty international. They thanked the county board and praised the organis-

Successful Claim Against House Developer

There was a lengthy hearing before Judge D. P. Sheridan at the Trinity Sittings of the Circuit Court, in Dungarvan, of a case in which Joseph Foley, 8 Park Terrace, Dungarvan, sought damages and an order restraining John McGrath, Killyrush, Dungarvan from carrying out any further work on a wall down housing development being carried out by him at Jacknell Street (Park Terrace), Dungarvan. The case was opened on the first evening of the sittings on Tuesday and after an hour was adjourned until Friday morning when the hearing was again resumed and continued for almost three hours before Judge Sheridan announced his decision.

Mr. T. Slattery, B.L. (instructed by J. P. Gordon & Co.) was for the plaintiff and Mr. T. Teehan, B.L. (instructed by J. F. Williams & Co.) was for the defendant.

Opening the case for the plaintiff, Mr. Slattery stated that Mr. Foley was the owner and occupier of a house and premises at 8 Park Terrace and the defendant was a developer who owned the property adjoining which he purchased about ten years ago and in respect of which he obtained planning permission to develop.

In the course of the development which concerned the building of a number of houses, the defendant asked the plaintiff for permission to knock down a wall to facilitate the development. Mr. Foley agreed to the request in the interests of good relations but when the wall was rebuilt, Mr. Foley found that the defendant had encroached some 7 inches into his property with the gable end of one of the houses in his development. Mr. Foley then sought an injunction against the defendant to remove the wall and to build it on his own property and an interim injunction, granted at Tipperary had been continued at Waterford Circuit Court, pending the full hearing of the case.

The defence was a denial of the plaintiff's claim that there was any encroachment on his property.

Joseph Foley stated in evidence that he was an insurance representative and he and his family owned the house which he occupied at Park Terrace for many years. In 1956 he had an extension to it built and he produced a number of coloured photographs tracing the changes which had taken place. He said that when the defendant approached him about knocking down the wall between their properties he agreed but understood that the wall was to be replaced in the same position. When this wall was being demolished another thicker wall at the rear of his house was damaged. However what plaintiff understood did not happen and the replacement was the gable end of one of the houses being built by the defendant. As this was going up plaintiff said that he realised that it was going to clip the eave of his house at the back. He spoke to the workmen on the site about his objection and then contacted his solicitor who in turn contacted the defendant.

At this point Judge Sheridan remarked that they were dealing only with a matter of inches and asked whether some modus vivendi could be worked out between the parties instead of going ahead with the case. "The parties were amicable to the extent of agreeing to the knocking of the wall and I feel they should talk this matter out," he said.

Such agreement did not, however, prove possible and the hearing continued.

In the course of cross-examination the plaintiff said that he had a conversation with Mr. McGrath about the way the wall was proceeding and McGrath said it would not clip the roof of witness's house. He said that he disagreed with the suggestion by the defendant to join the wall on to his roof by means of lead flashing and said that all he wanted was the 4-foot space laid down in the planning permission to enable him to maintain his own house.

Witness further stated that the defendant had told him that he only wanted to knock the wall to allow them to plaster the gable end but not to replace it with the gable end itself. As a result there was now only 2 1/2 inches at some points between the gable end and witness's house. He agreed that he with other local residents had been an objector to Mr. McGrath's application for planning permission. His principal complaint was that the wall was built on his property and not that it was built too near his property.

Mr. Teehan in the course of the cross-examination produced a number of maps relating to the disputed wall and pointed out that in those the wall was shown to be the property of Mr. McGrath's predecessors in ownership. He submitted that it was not a party wall and alleged that there was continuing trespass by the plaintiff since he built the extension to his house in 1956.

Bernard Harte, Consulting Engineer, Waterford, submitted maps and gave evidence of measurements he had taken. He said that on the drawings submitted by defendant, in relation to his planning application the frontage to the houses he was building was 79 ft. 3 ins. He measured the frontage on site and found it to be 79 ft. 11 ins. while the 4 ft. gap allowed on the plans submitted for the planning was now 3 ft. 5 ins.

During the course of this evidence the Judge remarked that no planning authority would allow any development which would impinge on the property of a neighbour.

CLAIM DENIED

The defence was a denial of the plaintiff's claim that there was any encroachment on his property.

Giving evidence on behalf of the defendant, Mr. P. Walsh, Consulting Engineer, Dungarvan said that he had measured the frontage of Mr. Foley's property and found it to be 35 ft. 9 1/2 ins. while according to the map it should only be 35 ft. 3 ins. This meant that Mr. McGrath's development was 6 ins. inside the boundary line between the two properties on his own side in Jacknell Street.

Damien Dillon, Architect, Dungarvan also gave technical evidence on behalf of the defendant as to measurements and drawings of the site.

In the course of his evidence the defendant stated that he was a carpenter and builder with over 30 years experience. He purchased the derelict property in Jacknell St., and in 1979 planned to develop it but due to objections he was unable to proceed. In 1986 he decided to again seek planning permission to develop the site with a modified plan for three houses as against four as originally planned. The application was granted by the Urban Council but the plaintiff and a number of other local residents who had objected appealed the decision to An Bord Pleanála who then confirmed the planning permission as granted by the Urban Council. Work on the site then started in April 1988. There was a boundary wall dividing the two properties and it was clear that this would fall when the digging of foundations started.

Mr. McGrath went on to say that he then spoke to the plaintiff and explained the position to him. He asked for permission to knock the wall and the plaintiff agreed and there were no bad feelings. During the discussion which they had witness said that there was no talk about rebuilding the wall. When the rising walls of the houses were going up the plaintiff at no time made any objection until May 31. Plaintiff then spoke to workmen on the site and witness said that he approached the plaintiff who then told him that he was objecting to the newly constructed gable end wall on the basis that it was trespassing on his property and that it continued to have bad feelings. He then pointed out to the plaintiff that his gutter was projecting over witness's property and was in fact trespassing on his property. Finally, I would like to thank you for publishing this letter.

Francis Hackett, Secretary, Villierstown Past Pupils Re-Union Committee.

National Tribunal on Women's Poverty. October 1 is the day that has been set for the National Tribunal on Women's Poverty in Ireland. It is aimed at bringing women together to give evidence on the existence, extent, nature, causes and consequences for women of growing poverty in Ireland today.

The Irish Tribunal is only one of many events which will be happening in every EEC country in preparation for a European Tribunal on Women's Poverty, due to be held this coming November in Brussels. The European Tribunal is being organised by the European Network of Women, the branch of which is the Council for the Status of Women, the organisation promoting the idea of the Tribunal in Ireland. It is essential to the idea of the Tribunal that women who are directly affected by poverty are the ones who participate in the event, so that it is their voices and not the voices of those who claim to speak on their behalf, which are heard on the day.

On behalf of the Organising Group, I would like to invite all interested women to take part in the Tribunal in whatever way they would like. They are welcome to contribute ideas, time, resources, money, to interview women they may know; to write or speak on to tape or on video; to give evidence as evidence at the Tribunal, or to attend the Tribunal themselves and to give evidence based on their own personal experience. It is important to say that names and addresses can be kept secret, if this is wanted.

Any woman or group who would like to be involved should contact the Coordinator as soon as possible at the address below. The power of this Tribunal really depends on the participation of every woman who has something to say about her experience of poverty. Everybody's contribution is needed if we are to succeed in making this event as significant and as influential as it can be.

CRIS MULVEY, Coordinator, c/o 8, Charlmont Street, Dublin 2. Tel. 01-783355.

COURT DUTY. Catherine Watson takes duty on Thursday, August 11.

All-Ireland Fleadh To Attract 100,000

The Kilkenny region is expected to reap a financial bonanza in excess of £5m. when the city hosts the All-Ireland Fleadh Cheoil on the 26-29 August. Up to 100,000 are expected from all over the world for this huge cultural festival of Irish traditional music, song and dance. Last year it was estimated that 130,000 attended the event in Listowel, Co. Kerry.

This will be Kilkenny's third time hosting the Fleadh. Over 2,000 qualifiers from 20,000 competitors at earlier heats will vie for All-Ireland honours. 18 venues will be operating throughout the week-end and impromptu street sessions will also be a feature of the event. Kilkenny provided 15,000 beds on the last occasion the Fleadh was in the city but the indications are that the demand will be even greater on this occasion.

In addition to the many Continental visitors expected for the festival, there are huge organised contingents coming from North America and Britain. Mr. Bill McEvoy, Comhataas Ceoiltrí Eireann, Co-ordinator in New York, predicts that one of the biggest groups ever will travel from the United States and Canada on this occasion. Britain and the United States are noted for their successes at the Fleadh.

On the home front, virtually every one of the 32 counties will have qualifiers in Kilkenny. Winning an "All-Ireland" is a much sought-after accolade by traditional musicians. Since the Fleadh was first held 37 years ago thousands of champions have received the unique distinction.

Many towns are now queuing up to host what is considered to be one of the premier cultural festivals of the world. In the running for the 1989 event are Sligo, Kilkenny and possibly Waterford, Wexford, Derry and Liverpool have also expressed an interest in the event.

The Fleadh in Kilkenny will be preceded by the week-long Scoil Eige — the Summer College of traditional music — at which promising young musicians are helped by the masters of the Scoil Eige will also include streams on set dancing and Irish language. Comhataas Ceoiltrí Eireann, the organisers of the festival, have 44 Fleadhanna Cheoil each year. Two of these are held in the United States — Chicago and New York — and five are held in Britain. Comhaltas now has 400 branches worldwide; 600 classes teaching the music; and over 1,000,000 people attend their functions annually. One of the highlights of their programme this year was the return of the country-wide Séstán series which are held in cottages, castles and hotels.

IFA CALL FOR PROTECTIVE LEGISLATION

Farmers supplying livestock to factories are once again being forced to pay debts owed by factories to banks through the confiscation of their produce, said Mr. John Boylan, Chairman IFA's Farm Business Committee. Mr. Boylan was commenting on the appointment of a Receiver to Byrnes meat processors in Ballinaclogh, Co. Cork, where at least £100,000 is owed to pig producers.

The Minister for Industry & Commerce recently opposed amendments to the Companies Bill which would have afforded some degree of protection to primary producers. It is clear that the Minister has been protecting the vested interests of the banks to the detriment of farmers, said Mr. Boylan. How many more farmers must suffer the financial effects of company collapses such as Clover Meats, Collins Bros., The Bacon and Lamb Company and now Byrnes of Ballinaclogh, before action is taken by the government to protect individual primary producers? IFA will be pressing for the introduction of legislation as soon as possible to protect farmers whose livelihoods are endangered by company collapses precipitated by the banks and lending institutions, said Mr. Boylan.

I am writing to inform you that having reviewed the capital available for the local authority housing programme, I have now approved, subject to compliance with normal technical and tendering procedures, the provision of the following housing schemes in your area: Local Authority — Dungarvan U.D.C. Scheme — Rices Street, 5 houses.

I trust that this information will be of interest to you.

BALLINAMEELA N.S. Deputy Fahy has also received the following letter dated July 29 from Mrs. Mary O'Rourke, T.D., Minister for Education:

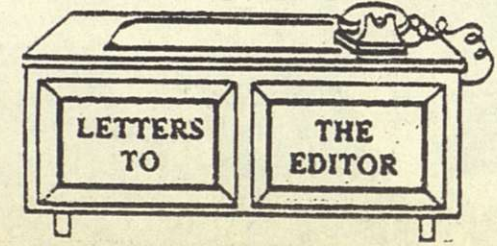

I wish to bring you up-to-date regarding the building project at Ballinameela National school, Co. Waterford. I know that conditions at the school are not satisfactory but I know you will also appreciate it has not been possible for the major extension which was proposed to proceed because of financial constraints. However, I have considered the case in detail and I have agreed that essential permanent classroom accommodation be provided to replace the existing pre-fabs. I have arranged for my Department's Senior Architect to complete planning of the project on this basis at the earliest possible date.

I am also pleased to let you know that I have agreed to improvements of the existing building and that these should be proceeded with at an early date.

I know you will be pleased with this information.

My Department will contact the school authorities regarding the formalities for the invitation of tenders.

I hope that you have been of assistance to you in this matter.

The Editor, Dungarvan Leader.

DUBLIN HORSE SHOW

CAPT. JOHN LEDINGHAM AND KILCOLTRIM LEAP TO GLORY

The huge crowd around the jumping arena at the Dublin Horse Show at the R.D.S. Grounds, Ballsbridge, on Wednesday last held their breath as the young Co. Waterford Army Captain, John Ledingham riding Kilcoltrim faced the huge wall standing at a record height of 7 ft. 5 ins. in the Shell Puisseance.

Then as the 10-year-old chestnut rose and cleared the massive leap, the entire crowd burst into a sustained round of applause and Capt. Ledingham found himself in the records of Irish Showjumping.

It was a scintillating performance by rider and horse and the young Army Captain who hails from Ticknock, Kinsalebeg at once became the toast of Irish showjumping fans.

Four horses went into the jump-off, one for Ireland—Kilcoltrim, one for England, one from France and one from Germany. In the final result the English and German horses also cleared the 7 ft. 5 ins. wall and a 3-way divide of the first prize fund of over £6,000 was declared.

CAUSEWAY TENNIS CLUB NOTES

DAY 1: Fished in Ballyvolle from 6 p.m. to 10 p.m. and with the entire length of the strand pegged from 1 to 60, the beach was well covered with anglers. It wasn't long before the fish were being landed. All anglers returned fish for the weigh-in and as a result a very close weigh-in followed.

DAY 2: Ballinacourty being the venue for Day 2, and with all the anglers on their pegs by 2 p.m., competition for the medals was hotting up with dog-fish and conger being landed. Our leader from Day 1, Michael Power, fished well for the two hours but alas could not sustain his form and with the rising tide forcing him back further on the rocks, lost his way over the last two hours. Michael Cowling took up the challenge but unknown to them all Brian Mansfield of Ardmore was landing dogs galore, from an old favourite haunt No. 36, but now 22 in the new numbers.

The weigh-in was busy with 135 dog-fish and 3 conger, with Mark Dunford (Jnr.) returning a conger of 61 lbs.

Results of Day 2 — 1st. Brian Mansfield; 2nd. Michael Cowling; 3rd. Tony Crowe; 4th. Michael Roche; 5th. Jim Dunford; 6th. Kevin Curran; 7th. John Cronin; 8th. Michael Donnelly; 1st lady, Alice Roche; 2nd. Cait Mulcahy; 3rd. Nancy Cashman; 1st juvenile, Alan Roche; 2nd. Mark Dunford; 3rd. Michael Young. Overseas prize, Jose Randal (Spain).

CAILIN RIALTA WINS AT TIPPERARY "Cailín Rialta" had a facile win in the Parkinson Cup Handicap Hurdle at a very well attended Tipperary meeting last Thursday. Owned by Mr. John Morrisson, Ballymote, Tallow, Cailín Rialta was a 4/6 favourite.

ABBEYSIDE SHORE ANGLING CLUB NOTES

All anglers returned to Clonea Hotel for the eagerly awaited results of the medals and team prize. Our chairman, George Young, who due to a nasty hand injury was unable to fish, nevertheless, thanked all the anglers who turned out over the two days; also our main sponsors, John and Anne McGrath, Clonea Hotel, for their very generous sponsorship of a holiday and the gold, silver and bronze medals. He also thanked our other sponsors — P. & I.D. Ltd., Waterford Co-op., Dear Born, Grafflan, Eng., Quick Fil, Brian O'Keefe, Haulage, Honeywell and our team prize sponsors, James Kirwan (Electrical Contractors).

John McGrath in reply praised the committee for the wonderful organisation they had put into the two days, also the anglers for their participation in the event and what all the anglers and committee wanted to hear, he pledged his continued support to the club in the future. John then proceeded to present the numerous prizes. Winner of the gold medal plus the holiday — Brian Mansfield, Ardmore; silver medal — Michael Cowling, bronze medal — Tony Crowe, Dungarvan.

Mrs. Kirwan on behalf of her husband, James, presented the team prize to Brian Mansfield, Jer Mansfield and John Cronin. Each of these received a silver tankard. — (P.R.O.)

CHILDREN PLAYING NEAR WATER

The Waterford Safety Section, National Safety Council, urges parents and persons in charge of small children to ensure that they are constantly supervised while playing in or near water. The back garden play pool or ornamental pond; the nearby river or stream; the uncovered rain barrel, well, water tank or slurry pit; holes or drains left after building operations, are all hazards for the very young and for elderly, feeble persons. Private swimming pools should be locked or otherwise fenced off to prevent use when the pool is not under constant supervision.

It is our sad duty to record with much regret the passing of Mr. Jim Cullinan, 8 Emmet Street, Dungarvan, which occurred on Saturday, July 30, at the District Hospital, Dungarvan. Jim was known to be ill for some time, nevertheless his death greatly saddened his family and legion of friends. Jim was a big man in physique but he also possessed a big heart and his charitable nature knew no bounds. He was a lovable and popular inhabitant of our town and was held in the highest esteem by all who enjoyed his acquaintance. Jim was a native of Ballymacarby and many years ago he took the emigrant trail to the United States. For 15 years he was the chief porter at Chicago's Hilton Hotel — the world's biggest hotel. Later he joined the Windy City's police force. He was a personal friend of the late Richard Daley, Mayor of Chicago.

Jim was a great story teller and often entertained his friends with tales from far and near. He possessed a great sense of humour and in hard-pressed times people like Jim Cullinan were an uplift for us all.

His remains were removed from the Kiely Funeral Home on Sunday, July 31 where they were blessed and received by Rev. Fr. W. Carey, C.C., assisted by Rev. Fr. J. Griffin, C.C., Rev. M. Cullinan, C.C. and Very Rev. Canon M. Farrell, P.P., Abbeyside.

Following consecrated Mass on Monday, Jim's remains were interred in Abbeyside, Rev. Fr. W. Carey, C.C. was chief celebrant and Fr. McNamara, Ard- finnan and Fr. Rd. Cullinan, St. John's College, Waterford, were co-celebrants. In the presence of a huge gathering, prayers at the graveside, assisted by Very Rev. Canon M. Farrell, Rev. Fr. J. Griffin, Very Rev. Fr. M. Brennock, OSA, Prior, Rev. Fr. Hooper, OSA and Rev. Fr. Pat Dineen, American Mission.

The numbers present at both the removal and burial spoke volumes of the high esteem in which Jim was held by everyone in the district.

Chief mourners: Nellie (wife); Mary Jo New York (daughter); Mrs. Catherine Fitzgerald (sister-in-law); Patrick Fitzgerald (brother-in-law) and his wife Mary, and a large circle of relatives and friends. (Funeral arrangements by J. Kiely & Sons, Dungarvan.)

BRO. T. A. MURPHY O.S.A.

It is with regret that we record the death of Rev. Bro. Thomas Aidan Murphy, O.S.A., which occurred at St. Joseph's Hospital, Dungarvan, after a protracted illness on Thursday, August 4.

Brother Aidan who was 76 was a native of New Ross, Co. Wexford and having been professed as a Brother in the Augustinian Order at Orleigh he served in Limerick, Cork and Dublin before going on to Clare Priory, Suffolk where he spent the next 23 years of his life. In 1981 he retired to the Augustinian College in Dungarvan and became a most popular member of the community. Possessed of a most jovial and humorous nature he enjoyed nothing better than to attend the local old people's parties in which he loved to contribute his own party piece and became a firm favourite with all who came to know him. Two years ago he suffered a stroke and since then he was cared for by the nursing staff at St. Joseph's Hospital.

Very Rev. Fr. Cooney, O.S.A. Provincial was present at the Friary Church, Dungarvan on last Friday evening to receive and bless the remains when they were removed from the hospital. Rev. Fr. W. Prendiville, O.S.A. was the principal celebrant of the Concelebrated Mass which followed. On Saturday morning the Provincial, Very Rev. Fr. Cooney, was the principal celebrant of the Concelebrated Requiem Mass in which 52 priests of the Augustinian Order representing all the Augustinian Communities in Ireland, England, Scotland, Nigeria and Australia took part, following which Bro. Aidan was laid in his final resting place in the adjoining church cemetery.

Chief mourners included Bro. Aidan's brother Paddy and sister Peggy. (Funeral arrangements were by Tom Drohan, Dungarvan.)

MR. JIM CULLINAN

News of the death of Rebecca Louise McCarthy, 41, St. Herblain Park, Waterford, whose family had long associations with Dungarvan in the past was received in the area with feelings of sorrow and regret. Just having reached 18 years, Rebecca tragically lost her life in an accident on the main Waterford-Tramore road in the early hours of Saturday, 30th July. Here was a most popular girl who possessed an engaging personality and a great sense of humour. She was particularly keen in the world of art. To her family we offer our sincerest sympathy on their heart-breaking loss.

Her remains were removed from Ardkeen Hospital on Sunday July 31st to St. Mary's Parish Church, Dungarvan. Rev. Fr. W. Carey, C.C. was present to bless and receive them. Very Rev. Fr. T. Nugent, P.P., Sacred Heart, Waterford, was also in attendance.

Following Requiem Mass on Tuesday, celebrated by Rev. Fr. W. Carey, C.C., Rebecca was laid to rest. Fr. Carey read graveside prayers, assisted by Rev. Fr. J. Griffin, C.C., Fr. M. Cullinan, C.C., Very Rev. Fr. T. Nugent, P.P., Sacred Heart, Waterford and Rev. Fr. Hooper, O.S.A.

There was a huge gathering present to pay their last respects to Rebecca. Many beautiful wreaths were placed on her resting place.

Chief mourners — Michael P. McCarthy (father); Sean and James (brothers); Margaret McCarthy, Mary T. Avery (aunts); Mary and Christy Keohan, Rory and Stella Waters and family cousins; and a large circle of relatives and friends. (Funeral arrangements were by James Kiely & Sons).

MR. JOHN WALL

On August 3rd at St. Joseph's Hospital, Dungarvan, John Wall, Knocknafra, Nire Valley, passed to his eternal reward. Although not enjoying the best of health for some time, nevertheless his passing saddened a great many people who knew John so well. He was one of nature's gentlemen and was held in high esteem by all who knew him. He was member of one of the best, known and widely respected families in the Nire area.

His remains were removed last Thursday from the Hospital Mortuary to the Nire Church where they were received by Rev. Fr. Lloyd, C.C., assisted by Rev. Fr. J. Kiely, O.S.A., Hammersmith. Following Requiem Mass on Friday he was laid to rest. Rev. Fr. Lloyd, C.C. read the funeral service at the graveside.

To his brothers and sisters, relatives and friends we tender our sympathy.

MRS. KATHLEEN HICKEY

On Monday, August 1 at the District Hospital, Dungarvan, Kathleen of Congress Villas, Dungarvan, answered the great call to come home to her eternal reward. She was a native of Curradarra, Clashmore and came from an industrious farming background. Her family are well known in the area and she was greatly respected for her kindness and sincerity. She was a good neighbour who was ever ready to lend a helping hand to those in need.

She had been in failing health for some time but she carried her burden with resignation and courage. To her sons, daughters, relatives and friends we offer our condolences on their great loss. May she rest in ease.

Her remains were blessed and received at St. Mary's Parish Church on Tuesday last by Rev. Fr. W. Carey, C.C., assisted by Rev. Fr. M. Cullinan, C.C. Following Requiem Mass on Wednesday, celebrated by Rev. Fr. W. Carey, C.C., she was laid to rest in the adjoining cemetery. Rev. Fr. J. Griffin, C.C., Rev. Fr. M. Cullinan, C.C. and Rev. J. Hooper, O.S.A. were present to assist in the funeral liturgy.

The bestman was Mr. P. J. Cullinane, cousin of the bridegroom, and the matron of honour was the bride's sister, Mrs. Brid Duggan.

CAPPOQUIN AND DISTRICT NOTES

SPORTS WEEKEND A BIG SUCCESS

Cappoquin's first Sports Weekend closed on Sunday evening and Sunday's continual sunshine certainly helped to bring a most successful sports programme to a splendid close. Full marks to the organisers for the high standard of organisation of all events and the whole promotion was a clear instance of the good results that can be achieved when, as was here, there is a whole hearted community effort. Sponsors, clubs and countless individuals gave of their best and let us hope we are seeing the forerunner of even bigger things in the future. It was a very full programme compressed in a short period of time and it was almost impossible to keep up with results at the various venues, but we do hope to rectify this situation in next week's issue. Crowds were excellent at all events, though truly much of the evening weather was not conducive to outdoor activity. Still the weekend was clearly a social and economic winner.

A BOUQUET AND A BRICKBAT

On a fleeting visit to the Dunes Field, the home of Railway Athletic F.C. where the 5-a-side soccer blitz was played on Saturday, one could only express astonishment at the improvements which have been carried out, and also appreciate the hard work that has been clearly put in by the committee and others, who have clearly used their funds very wisely indeed. The pitch, which we understand was being abused by indiscriminate trespass is now enclosed by a solid wire fence. Goalposts and nets are like new and the improvement in the playing surface with its fine coating of grass is quite extraordinary. Well done to all.

On a less pleasant note we have to comment on the bad litter situation which existed during the Festival time — which, we hasten to add, could not be the responsibility of the organisers to deal with. It is saddening that in this country we cannot get together for an outdoor function without leaving the site looking like a casual rubbish dump. It simply is not good enough.

WEDDING: CULLINANE-COFFEY

The marriage has taken place at St. Mary's Church, Cappoquin of Mr. John and Mrs. Nora Cullinane, Moonamoon, Lismore and Miss Mairead Coffey, daughter of Mr. John and Mrs. Margaret Coffey, Knockboy, Mount Melleray, Cappoquin.

TOURIN-BALLINWILLIN G.A.A. NOTES

Ballinwillin 1-7 Ballysaggart 1-6

On Saturday last our junior footballers captured a county title in a closely contested game with old rivals Ballysaggart. Ballinwillin emerged victorious by the narrowest of margins, bringing a much needed victory to the club.

From the outset Ballinwillin had the upper hand but were unable to apply the finishing touch with some shots hitting the post, leaving the half-time score at 5 points to 4.

On the restart, Ballysaggart equalised with Ballinwillin going two points up shortly afterwards. Ballysaggart got a goal, taking the lead for the first time in the match — 1-5 to 0-7. M. Barry and C. Barry then combined for the latter to score a Ballinwillin goal. Ballysaggart responded with a point and intense pressure, but it was Ballinwillin's will to win and great heart, that helped them to hold out, with lady luck playing a small part.

Scorers — W. Leahy 0-3, C. Barry 1-3, T. Flives 0-1. Bringing the final result — Ballinwillin 1-7; Ballysaggart 1-6.

Best for Ballinwillin were — P. O'Keefe, J. McGrath, D. Moore, W. Leahy, T. Flives and C. Barry with our keeper Liam Morrissey bringing off some fine saves.

The team was — L. Morrissey, P. Leahy, J. Morrissey, E. Scanlon, B. O'Sullivan, P. O'Keefe, J. McGrath, T. Flives, D. Moore, C. Barry, W. Leahy, J. D. Leahy, B. O'Shea, M. Barry and our captain, M. Looby. Subs. — K. Wilkinson, for B. O'Shea; P. Scanlon for E. O'Sullivan; K. O'Donnell, W. O'Keefe and J. Dalton.

The game is timed for 6.30 and all members of the panel are asked to be at the venue not later than 6 o'clock.

CHAMPIONSHIP FIXTURE
Our all important senior hurling championship relegation game against Cappoquin takes place on Sunday at Lismore (3 o'clock) and it's one we simply must win.

Our victory over the same opposition a few weeks ago will count for nothing on Sunday and victory will only be attained through 100% effort and commitment from every player.

Morale in the camp is sky high after our successful bid to retain senior football status and we are quietly confident the hurlers will emulate that feat on Sunday.

UNDER 16 DEFEAT
Although our under 16 hurlers were defeated by Lismore on a scoreline of 6-7 to 2-6 in last week's Western final there is no way they deserved to go under by so wide a margin.

A hesitant and uncertain start cost us dearly because in the second half we more than held our own with the opposition. In the end of course it's the result that counts but in this group of players we have every reason to look forward with confidence to the future.

We still have the Mealdon

CLUP final against St. Patrick's to look forward to while the Under 16 football championship is another prize goal.

The panel for the game against Lismore was — J. Ronayne, T. Morrissey, M. Butler, L. McDonnell, B. Lyons, C. Gough, J. Tuohy, F. Cunningham, A. Queally, D. Sheehan, D. Donnelly, J. Morrissey, O. Gorman, M. Desmond, M. McGrath, D. O'Flynn, K. Wright, E. Cunningham, D. Fleming.

MINORS WELL BEATEN
Our minor hurlers were no match for a skilful Lismore side in the divisional championship last week and we ended up on the wrong side of a rather lop-sided scoreline.

Still we are not out of title contention and if Lismore account for Tallow then ourselves and the Bridesiders will be involved in a play-off for the right to meet Lismore in the final.

Defensive errors cost us dearly in last week's game, and while we remain the rank outsiders we can make things much more difficult for Lismore next time round if we can sort out those defensive problems.

The panel for last week's game was — A. Simms, B. Lyons, M. Butler, J. Hayes, C. Gough, C. Mansfield, D. Donnelly, J. Ferncombe, J. Walsh, J. Leahy, B. Dillon, M. McGrath, M. Desmond, S. Killigrew, S. O'Shea, C. Dempsey, A. Queally.

EXCELLENT REFEREEING
Congratulations to our own John Moore on his excellent handling of last Sunday's Galway-Offaly All-Ireland senior hurling semi-final.

It was a top class exhibition by a top class referee and drew favourable reaction from both Galway and Offaly.

Wouldn't it be deserved recognition were he now appointed to take charge of the Galway-Tipp All-Ireland final.

LISMORE CRICKET CLUB NOTES

Last Sunday, Lismore played hosts to the newly reformed Youghal Cricket Club. Youghal came with a quite impressive record, having won five of six games in the Taverners League last year, and looked to be living up to their reputation when Lismore lost 4 wickets for just 16 runs. This was a disastrous start but it brought together the old hands of Pollard and Hickey and they literally took the Youghal bowling to the cleaners as their partnership yielded 86 runs before Hickey was dismissed having scored 51 runs. Pollard eventually left the crease scoring 67 runs. Mark Willoughby had 7. Dermot Edwards 9. William Edwards 6 and Tony Bones 7. Lismore were finally dismissed with a total of 164.

Youghal lost their first wicket without a run scored but finally made 87 with Lismore winning by 77 runs.

Fred Bryan had 3 wickets. Tony Bones, Bobby Edwards and M. Hickey were the bowlers for Lismore.

Team — G. Kennedy, W. Edwards, M. Hickey, A. Bryan, B. Edwards, P. Pollard (capt.), M. Willoughby, D. Edwards, F. Bryan, T. Bones J. Edwards.

Next Sunday, Lismore play at home to Waterford Regional College, while on Saturday the U-15 team have Cork County as visitors.

Finally we came across a score book which showed Lismore playing Youghal on the 7th August, 1893, just a mere 95 years ago! The cricket pitch at the time was where the present G.A.A. pitch is now. For the record, Lismore also won that day.

Next week we will publish the Lismore team of the 7th August, 1893.

LISMORE GOLF CLUB NOTES
A quiet weekend on the golf front after a rather hectic Open Fortnight, which proved to be more successful than even the highest expectations.

The 18 H v Par competition was won comfortably by P. McCarthy with 4 up. Highlight of the weekend was the eagle at the 4th by T. W. Murphy with a driver and "half a wedge".

Next weekend promises to be another very busy one commencing on Friday, August 12th with the mixed. This is a 9 Hole better ball with all scores to count at the par 3 for teams of 2 gents and 1 lady. This is followed by a Barbeque, so whether you play or not be there and enjoy a great night.

On Saturday 13th the Minor Scratch Cup (handicap 19-28) takes place followed on Sunday 14th by the Intermediate Scratch Cup (handicap 10-18).

Results: Friday, 5th August. 9 H Mixed Foursomes — 1. F. Corcoran and P. Howard 30; 2. F. Geary and A. Allen 30; 3. Gross, T. W. Murphy and D. Cahill 37.

Sat. 6th Sun. 7th, 18 H v Par — 1. F. McCarthy (20) + 4; 2. J. Power (18) + 3; 3. R. Cullio (16) + 2.

Fixtures: Friday 12th—Mixed. Sat. 13th — Minor Scratch Cup (19-28). Sun. 14th — Intermediate Scratch Cup (10-18).

LADIES GOLF NOTES
The mixed 3 Ball Better Ball (2 men and 1 woman) takes place all day on Friday next, 12th, ending in a barbeque that night. We look forward to good support from the ladies and a good night of food and crack-weather permitting.

The winner of the 9 Hole Competition on Wed. 3rd was Mrs. S. Norris (33) 30½ nett. There will be an 18 Hole Stroke competition on Wed. 17th August, sponsored by F.D.I. Ltd. — ("Divot").

RED CROSS

Ballynacourty had a problem in fielding, but nevertheless were at full strength for the start of the second half of this one-sided intermediate hurling championship tie at Fraher Field. Abbeyside were in much better form than on the previous Saturday against Fournilwater and from the start, took control which they never surrendered, although Ballynacourty tried courageously all the way. The final score illustrates the difference between the teams — at the final, but both played better hurling at the start of this championship.

KILGOBINET v. MODELIGO
It is a pity that Kilgobinet are gone from the championship, they having contributed more than their share to the excitement of the competition this year. Their display against Modeligo saw them earn a share of the points, but they needed a win to stay in the race. Kilgobinet, like a few others, are not big enough or strong enough to win two championships and should try one at a time.

Modeligo remain in the final shake-up and it will be interesting to see how they fare against Faha or Lismore.

FORRESTAL TOURNAMENT
A tournament which continues to grow in stature with each passing year, will take place this year on August 27/28 and all sixteen hurling counties have entered teams. This under 14 hurling festival is sponsored by Waterford Glass and the final will take place on the last Sunday of the month. It will be run in two divisions and we have been accepted in division 2 and will play Kerry, Meath and Down in our group. Should we survive here we will be matched against the winners of a group which include Armagh, Laois, Wicklow and Carlow.

Junior Hurling — The junior hurlers scored a very convincing win over Cappoquin in Cappoquin on Saturday evening (8-12 to 1-2).

Team — C. Barry, J. Barry, J. Flynn, P. Morrissey, J. Tobin, D. Barry, J. Hickey, E. Power, P. Kearne, P. J. Coughlan, E. Fenton, B. O'Gorman, D. Geoghegan, E. Cusack, M. Barry, Sub. — D. Coughlan.

LISMORE G.A.A. NOTES
JUVENILE SECTION
Things were busy over the past week on the juvenile front with both our U-16 and minor hurlers in action in important championship games and in both cases success came our way.

First into action were our minor hurlers who took on Dungarvan at the Cappoquin venue. Last year Lismore defeated Mt. Sion after a replay in the county final and as the majority of that panel were available again this year great things were expected. Dungarvan had, however, drawn with Tallow in an earlier round of the championship so Lismore had to be on their guard.

In the first half Dungarvan started the better and seemed to have the measure of Lismore but as the half progressed, Lismore began to get on top and by half time they had built up a good lead.

The second half continued in the same fashion with Lismore dominating the play. Unfortunately the exchanges became very hard with Dungarvan's frustration showing. Sadly the inevitable happened with a player being sent off from both sides. When the final whistle blew Lismore had recorded a very good win and they now meet Tallow in the next round and like all Lismore v. Tallow games this year it should be worth going to see!

Our U-16 hurlers had qualified for the Western Final by virtue of a very hard-earned victory over Ballinacorney in Buffin on the 11th. They now face a Dungarvan side in the Western Final who had also defeated Tallow by a very narrow margin so these results gave the impression that the final would be a very close affair indeed. The match was played at the Cappoquin venue. The exchanges were even enough out the field but Lismore had the sharper forward line and they picked off some excellent scores. By half time Lismore's lead was impressive and they looked well in control. Dungarvan, however, fought their way back into the match and when they cut Lismore's lead to only four points a very close contest seemed on. But, as with the first half, Lismore's forwards took their chances well and at the full time whistle it was Lismore who celebrated a very fine win over a gallant Dungarvan who never stopped trying.

Their next match is the county final at Fraher Field, so here's hoping they can bring the county title back to Lismore. — (P.R.O. Lismore G.A.A. Juvenile Section).

HOTROD RACING
Waterford Hot Rod Club had an exciting weekend lined up in Lismore this coming Sunday, August 14th where they will hold their Inter-County

Race Meeting on the land of Jackie Houlihan at Ballynacorney. Drivers are expected from Kerry, Limerick, Cork, Tipperary and all parts of Waterford, from Portlaoise to Dunmore East, to Dunmore, Tallow, where local hero Johnny Houlihan will be the man to beat in his very fast VW/Ford.

First race will start at 2.30 where the Class I cars up to 1,000 c.c. will be called to the line. Men to watch will be Gerry Tobin from Dungarvan, Pat Smiddy, Clashmore, Sean O'Mahoney, Glanmire, Willie O'Sullivan, Limerick, Ger Long, Frank Whelan, Ger Walsh etc.

Class 2 1,300 c.c. VW. Cars to watch — Tim Barry, Glanmire, Gerry Lynch, Limerick, Martin Dunne, Tramore, James O'Shea, Cappagh, Jim Carey, George O'Dowd and David Kelly, etc.

Class 3 1,300 c.c. An exciting race in prospect here with John Darcy, Stradbally, Paul Fitzgerald, Piltown, Limerick, Deady, East Cork, not forgetting Billy Power, Martin Browne, etc.

Class 4 1,600 c.c. Class Four sees Federation Official, Doney Buckley in action against Michael Murray, The Pike, Eddie O'Donovan, East Cork, Michael Murray, Dunmore, East, James Darcy, Carlow, etc.

Class 5, up to 3,500 c.c. — Surely the most exciting duel of the day will be between Ray Darcy, Stradbally in his extremely fast Fiat 127, and the flying Johnny Houlihan in his VW. They will have to keep the pedal to the metal to stay ahead of each other in the brilliant John Moloney in another fast VW, also Michael O'Riordan, Fermoy, Mick O'Shea and Eugene Anglim, Glanmire.

The Waterford club would like to thank all their sponsors for their generous support and also Jackie Houlihan for the use of his land.

Waterford clubman-of-the-year John Jackson was presented with his award at a function at the Burlington Hotel, Dublin, on Saturday night last. John's distinguished trophy was presented to him by the Association President John Dowling.

ers at the Scotland end and said that all who had taken part were hopeful that this under 21 tournament would be an annual event.

COMPLAINT
Frankie Cullinane (Portlaoise), complained on behalf of his club about the admission arrangements, during the recent senior hurling double-header at Walsh Park. He said that people who had been refused admission to the match were able to gain entry while many who should have been inside failed to get in.

Pat Sullivan said he was the gateman involved on the occasion and he was unable to get members from the clubs concerned to accept responsibility for the admission tickets which he had offered them. The Chairman said the matter would be further discussed by Coisde Gnotha.

GATE RECEIPTS
County treasurer, Garry Cunningham gave an up-to-date account of gate receipts for the senior championships. These were described as very satisfactory and the Chairman thanked the clubs who were helping out in this field.

MOUNT SION v. GLEN ROVERS
This very attractive senior hurling match will attract a large number of supporters to Fraher Field on this Thursday evening. Mount Sion are due to play Tallow here in the county semi-final on Sunday week.

RESULTS
The final of the 'B' junior football championship at Tallow on Saturday evening between Ballinwillin and Ballysaggart, turned out to be a real thriller with a quite satisfactory standard of football. Only a point separated the sides at half-time and this was also the margin between them at the finish. Splendid goalkeeping by Morrissey in the Ballinwillin goal kept the Tourin side from what might have been certain defeat.

Perhaps it was only fitting that the very nice trophy (a shield) should go to the Ballinwillin club for this first championship in the new grade, as it was they who had pressed for the new competition at convention. Only four clubs took part and although it was designated as a county championship, all the teams were from Western clubs.

Western Board chairman, Denis McGrath presented the trophy after the exciting final.

ABBEYSIDE WIN
Ballinacorney had a problem in fielding, but nevertheless were at full strength for the start of the second half of this one-sided intermediate hurling championship tie at Fraher Field. Having field without Owen Phelan, Kilgobinet were set a mammoth task in attempting to beat Modeligo in this vital junior football tie at Fraher Field on Sunday evening. In order to stay in contention, Kilgobinet had to win, as a defeat, even a draw, would have put them out of the running for a place in the play-off stages. The result shows that they almost got there in a game that provided more excitement than many of the senior games we have seen so far.

Another entry for the Parish of Cappoquin concerns Patrick Denn.

This states as follows: "Sometime in the first decade of the last century a school was opened in Cappoquin by Patrick Denn, well-known in his day and remembered ever since as a writer of religious verse. A future bishop of Waterford, Dr. John Power, was a pupil of Denn's, at Cappoquin. Denn's school was situated in the Main Street, near the present Protestant Church, and it was attended by a large number of grown boys and a few girls. Our devoted schoolmaster, who was also a poet, acted as parish clerk, and taught Christian Doctrine in the church on Sundays. He is the author of several small Irish devotional and catechetical books, published through the good offices of a Tallow man, Daniel Mulcahy, who had established himself as a bookseller in Cork.

"Denn's best known productions are 'Aighneas an Ireach leis an mBas' and an Irish translation of Bishop Challoner's 'Think Well on It.'" Denn ended a good and useful life by a holy death at the age of seventy-two, and

Behind the SPOTLIGHT

Cappoquin and this is what it had to say:
"This, like Abbeyside, Ballyporeen and Ballyduff is a parish of comparatively late origin. Unlike Abbeyside and the others however, it represents no ecclesiastical division of pre-Reformation times; formerly it was part of Lismore parish from which it appears to have been detached during the episcopacy of Dr. Creagh—about 1750.

"Geographically the parish is very long and narrow, stretching from summit of the Knockmealdown range to the River Bride, or about sixteen miles. It has but a single public church, which is situated centrally; this dates from first quarter of the last century. Lease of the site is made out (June 13th, 1819) from Sir John Keane to John Hely, Esq., and Michael Kerissey, at one shilling per year, for ever, if demanded.

"Erection of the present church—a plain but neat and substantial edifice—was completed in 1882, when the sacred building was dedicated under patronage of Our Lady's Nativity. Previously the parish church was a humble thatched chapel, furnished with three wooden galleries which stood at a place called Glenwheelan, about a mile to west of Cappoquin, on the Lismore road.

"The present church has been repaired and renovated several times—notably by Rev. Michael Spratt in 1856, when the surrounding wall, topped by iron railings, was erected.

"Again in 1872 the church floor was tiled and seating accommodation provided. Present day readers require to be reminded that in former times in Ireland—and even up to half a century since—the church had few, if any, seats and that the worshipper knelt, without support, often on a clay or concrete floor. Under such circumstances and in those times arose the unseemly fashion which still persists of kneeling on one knee only, like a sharpshooter.

"At Mount Mellerey Abbey is a semi-public chapel wherein a considerable proportion of the parishioners fulfil the obligation of Sunday Mass. As part of the parish is adjacent to Lismore and correspondingly distant from Cappoquin, another large section of the flock worships regularly in the former place.

"The new cemetery of Cappoquin was solemnly blessed on October 6th, 1910 by Ven. Archdeacon McGrath as the delegate of the Bishop. Previous to acquisition of this cemetery there was not a place for Catholic burial within the parish if the few square perches of ground attached to the parish church be excepted."

Then follows a "succession of Pastors" in the parish beginning with Rev. Michael Keating who was stated to probably be the first formal Pastor of Cappoquin. A grand-nephew of the famous Dr. Geoffrey Keating, the poet and historian, he became Parish Priest of Cappoquin in 1750 and remained there until he was translated to Cahir in 1791. The list continues in chronological order up to 1934 with the appointment of Rev. Thomas Fitzgerald which was just three years prior to the publication of Dr. Power's history.

As I went down through Dublin city At the hour of twelve of the night Who did I see but a Spanish lady Washing her feet by candle light First she washed them Then she dried them All by the fire of amber coals In all my life I never did see A maid so neat above the soles.

I asked her would she come a-walking And we went on where the small bats flew A coach I called then to instate her And on we went till the grey cocks crew Combs of amber In her hair were, And her eyes had every spell In all my life I never did see A maid whom I could love so well.

But when I came to where I found her And set her down from the halted coach Who was there waiting, his arms folded, But that fatal swordsman, Tiger Roche. Then blades were out, And twas truss and cut, And never writs gave me fore a fright, Till I lay low upon the floor Where she stood holding the candlelight.

But O ye bucks of Dublin city If I should see at twelve of the night, In any chamber such a lovely lady Washing her feet by candle light And drying o'er Soles neat as hers, All by a fire of amber coal— Your blades be dimmed! I'd whisper her And take her for a midnight stroll!

was interred in the churchyard at Cappoquin close to the north boundary wall, where an inset tablet marks his grave. The tablet bears the following eulogistic inscription: Of your charity pray for the soul of PATRICK DENN, whose remains repose beneath this slab. The religious works written by him in the Irish language met with general approval and are proofs of his learning as an Irish Scholar and his zeal and piety as a sincere Christian. His holy life was closed by a happy death on the 5th July, 1828. Aged 72. Erected by Rev. P. Power."

The entry concludes by noting that "the pious guardian of the poet's memory was the Rev. Patrick Power who was Parish Priest of Cappoquin from 1870 to 1881. In the latter year he was appointed P.P. of Dungarvan but he died before taking up his new appointment and was buried within the church in Cappoquin."

THE SPANISH LADY
We came across a version of that grand old ballad "The Spanish Lady," which we had not seen before as we browsed through a collection of ballads in Book 4 of "The Tara Brooch" series last week. The first verse is the only one which appears to be the same in both versions but in the one which we now give as our choice for the ballad corner this week, all the other verses are different while there is no mention of the rousing chorus which we have come to associate with the more common version. Our choice for this week is attributed to Padraic Colum and whether it is the original version or not we are unable to say.

But O ye bucks of Dublin city If I should see at twelve of the night, In any chamber such a lovely lady Washing her feet by candle light And drying o'er Soles neat as hers, All by a fire of amber coal— Your blades be dimmed! I'd whisper her And take her for a midnight stroll!

Having field without Owen Phelan, Kilgobinet were set a mammoth task in attempting to beat Modeligo in this vital junior football tie at Fraher Field on Sunday evening. In order to stay in contention, Kilgobinet had to win, as a defeat, even a draw, would have put them out of the running for a place in the play-off stages. The result shows that they almost got there in a game that provided more excitement than many of the senior games we have seen so far.

Another entry for the Parish of Cappoquin concerns Patrick Denn.

This states as follows: "Sometime in the first decade of the last century a school was opened in Cappoquin by Patrick Denn, well-known in his day and remembered ever since as a writer of religious verse. A future bishop of Waterford, Dr. John Power, was a pupil of Denn's, at Cappoquin. Denn's school was situated in the Main Street, near the present Protestant Church, and it was attended by a large number of grown boys and a few girls. Our devoted schoolmaster, who was also a poet, acted as parish clerk, and taught Christian Doctrine in the church on Sundays. He is the author of several small Irish devotional and catechetical books, published through the good offices of a Tallow man, Daniel Mulcahy, who had established himself as a bookseller in Cork.

"Denn's best known productions are 'Aighneas an Ireach leis an mBas' and an Irish translation of Bishop Challoner's 'Think Well on It.'" Denn ended a good and useful life by a holy death at the age of seventy-two, and

Tom Whelan was referee.
