Mr. E. A. Ryan for plaintiff, and Mr. J. F

Plaintiff said on the 20th December he was drawing to the union from Fair lane manus which defendant sold hem. P. Huriey was with him. The defendant came along and compained that his stack of oats was nearly eaten. He called me a robber and said he would not let me do what 25 to Cursan did. He had a pike in his hand and said until the 7s. 6d, damage was paid he would let no one out of his yard. Hurley had a sprung in his hand to ward off the defendant.

Cross-examined by Mr. Williams—That morning I got the keys from defendant's daughter and I drew a load of manure out of the place. I gave the keys to Hurley. When done to the pats. There was no damage done to the oats. Witness had a mule and it stood near the oats, but it did no harm. Hurley could see no damage either. Witness drew four loads the previous day out of Condon's yard. Path. Hurley, van-driver union, said the master of the workhouse bought the manure from Mr. Condon. Witness employed Ly and his jennet to draw the manure.

Sinn Fein. LETTER FROM MR. HESKIN.

To the Editor of the "Dungaryan Observer."

Dear Sir—If Mr. P. C. O Mahony had appended his address as well as his name in trish to his letter of the 15th ult. he could have spared himself the hysterics he indulged in in the letter from him published by you on the 29th, for I can assure him that a knowledge of Irish is not exchasively confined to Sinn Feiners or the section of the Gaelio League that is driving the lenguage movement to destruction.

With reference to his letter of above date he has certainly amply made up for the want of condescension of the Rev. Chairman of the Coolnasmear meeting in the length and vehemence but evasion of the points he set out to reply to. He boldly asserts that instead of having benefitted by the agitation of the past 40 years the larmers of Ireland on account of the war taxation imposed on the country are under a worse form of land-past 40 years the larmers of freland on account of the war taxation imposed on the country are under a worse form of landiordism than they suffered under in black.

'47 and all, of course, owing to the treachery of Mr. Redmond and the Irish Party. I wonder would be point out a single farmer who would exchange his position to-day for that of his oredecessor of 1847 or for what his own position was 20, 15 or even 5 years ago notwithstanding was taxatlon and Redmond's petrayal, which he so loudly trumpets. He further says that he shall pass over the alusion to Parnell. Of course I anticipated that any allusion to Parnell's leadership of the Irish nation could not be relished by Sian Feiners, who, while professing admiration for what they term his great and worthy services to his country, try to deride, denounce and trample under foot the constitutional methods by which he advanced his country so far on the road to National Independence.

It was not by abstention from Parliament

National Independence.

It was not by abstention from Parliament or by advocating futite armed insurrection he achieved what he did for Ireland, but by winning over with the aid and assistance of Michael Davitt the physical force party in Ireland, England and America to constitutional methods, and the organisation of the Irish vote in Great Britain to enable him in the House of Commons to extort terms from the Party in power, whether Liberal or Tory. Yet for continuing the same policy, but with much better results—for there is now in England, Scotland and Wales a well-disciplined Labour Party largely composed of Irishmen—Mr. Redmond is glibly denounced as a traitor to Parnell and to Ireland.

Mr. De Valera in his latest change of front tries to impress on the irresponsible and misguided young men listening to him that he is following in Parnell's footsteps by uniting the constitutional and physical force parties, put I would point out that Parnell succeeded in particular and the survivors of the quarter million Irish train the constitutional addengant of the Irish Land and the survivors of the quarter million Irish train the constitutional addengant of the Irish Land

It was not by abstention from Parliament or by advocating futile armed insurrection he achieved what he did for Ireland, but by winning over with the aid and assistance of Michael Davit the physical force party in reland, England and America to constitutional methods, and the organisation of the Irish vote in Great Britain to enable him in the House of Commons to extort terms from the Party in power, whether Liberal or Tory.

Let for continuing the same policy, but with et for continuing the same policy, but with meh better results-for there is now in Engand, Scotland and Wales a well-disciplined Labour Party largely composed of Irishmen— Mr. Redmond is glibly denounced as a traitor to Parnell and to Ireland.

Mr. De Valera in his latest change of front tries to impress on the irresponsible and misguided young men listening to him that he is fellowing in Parnell's footsteps by uniting the constitutional and physical force parties, but I would point out that Parnell succeeded a uniting a real existing physical force party the Fenians in Treland and Great Britain and the survivors of the quarter million Irish trained soldiers of the American Civil War, ad the constitutional adherents of the Land sague movement, whereas De Valera is cinly endeavouring to galvanise a physical with his flog waving followers-not the old ing under which Owen Rie and Sarsfield might for Ireland or that led the Irish Brind 48. They are probably afraid of giving fence to their German musters, for the same ld flag borne by the Irish Brigade materilig helped in turning the tide of war against he Huns in the Battles of the Marne and time in 1914, and will in the coming months of the new year, side by side with the Stars and Stripes, help to casell for all time the spirit of military despotism both at home and abroad, and free from foreign desptoism

DEATH OF CONST. O'SULLIVAN, DUNGARVAN.

Last Friday the death occurred at the hospital, Dungarvan, of Constable John O'Sullivan, R.I.C., Dungarvan, after a brief illness. The deceased was a young man of powerful frame, and had about 16 years' service. He was stationed for the past three years in Dungarvan, and prior to that was in Cappoquin. He was a good, honest and conscientious officer, and always discharged his duties to the satisfaction of his Superiors and all concerned. About three months ago his health broke down with an attack of anæmia, and despite the best medical skill he passed peacefully away fortified by the rites of the Church. He leaves a widow and two young children to mourn his early demise. R.I.P. On Saturday morning the remains were removed from the hospital to the railway station en route for his native place.

Between the death occurred at the hospital Club. There was a big collection of dancers, an utter absence of cliques or corners, plenty of voluntary musicians, and last, but not least, Mr. J. J. Tobin was M.C.

JOKERS.

A notice was posted up in the C.Y.M.S. Rooms on Wednesday calling a monster meeting to protest against the increase in hairdressers' prices. In the past they were 2d. a shave and 4d. a hair cut; now they are 3d. and 6d. respectively. This is the first increase the local hairdressers have put on since the outbreak of war, although it has been done elsewhere long before. By this time we are pretty well accustomed to war breazly etc. Now we must get used to war shaves and hair cuts.

The cortege was followed by a guard of honour of the R.I.C., consisting of District Inspector O'Keeffe, Head-constable Delaney and about 20 police from the surrounding stations. A large number of the public also attended the funeral.

NEW PICTURE HALL.

Messrs. Horgan Bros' new picture palace in Friar street is now completed and has been open since Christmas. The artistic manner in which the interior has been fitted up and in which the Interior has been fitted up and decorated reflects the greatest credit on the firm. Practically everything that could contribute to the comfort of their patrons has been supplied, and the remarks passed at the Urban Council in regard to it were fully justified. The paintings on the walls, which were executed by the brothers, personally call for a special word of admiration. All who, have seen them agree that they are almost werks of genius.

Plague in Dungarvan.

The latest investigation into cases of HORRIFYING DISEASES arising from NEGLECT shows what far-reaching and terribly destructive power can be realised by actually DOING NOTHING. What is described as Plague is the result of an indifference to what appears immaterial and by a decided obstinacy to do nothing in the case of SETMARD DEE, a decided obstinacy to do nothing in the case of SEEMINGLY SLIGHT DEFECT OF THE Poultry, Egg, and Licensed General Dealer, SIGHT. People go on for ever neglecting what seems untroublesome and probably by so doing disastrously introducing a MALICIOUS DISEASE.

This state of affairs, found to exist also in this country, as well as in other parts, amounts to nothing less than a plague; and the sconer people wake up from the stupor his which they have seemingly been dragged the sconer will the suppression and recovery of DETERIORATING HEALTH be effected.

the sooner will the suppression and recvery of DETERIORATING HEALTH be effected. Remember you may think your sight quite perfect when it is undoubtedly it read of treatment, and it is only by configerent examination, that you can be certain as to its condition. If people only knew how DEADLY DISEASES may result from NEGLECTED EYESIGHT, we feet sure they would not waste a moment in seeking examination if they had at all any consideration for themselves and their family. Disbetes and Bright's Disease are refrected in symptoms of DEFECTIVE SIGHT, and many diseases of parts of the body far removed from the Seat of Vision may help to assert their existence by affecting the Sight. If only taken in time complaints could as a rule be easily averted. Neglect is the poison that is destroying these in their pring, and causing misery and suffering in our midst, and in a time like this when it is showing itself in unmistakable ferocity can we appreciate the HIGHLY VALUABLE AND GENEROUS SERVICES of such a DISTINGUISHED GENIUS as the Fangul's Eyesight Specialist, Mr. S. Clarke, of Dublin, who is giving to the people of Dungarvan his GREATLY SOUGHT FOR AND ESTEEMED ADVICE, together with a THÔRGUCH EXAMINATION ENTIRELY FREE OF CHARGE. He appeals to everybody to come without delay for free Examination, endorsing an appeal to those who consider their Eyesight perfect, not to depend upon their own DANGEROUSLY UNRELIGIBLE indigment, but to come at once with everybody else to any of the following branches. It where Mr. Clarke is in personal attendance:—

Sir Arthur Yapp strended a conference at Wesiminster on the food supply, under, the Labour Party and the War Smergency Wysicars National Committee. Mr. Robert smithe, President of the Miner's Federation, warned the Government that a crisis was pending and there might be at subjected any time unless the Government acted tarryly towards the people. He condemned quenes, from which only the poor suffered. He proposed a resolution, which was adopted, protesting significant the necessity of having known and children of the working esasses standing shivering an quenge outside shops while wealthy people were under no such disarrent with the artists with the average milk and the organised supply of milk.

Dr. Marton Phillius (Women's Labour Legitic Phillips) of milk wood distribution should be nationalised. The milk question was most average and ask the difference of the total heavy conditions that the average milk supply was 200 gallons lower than we spould be.

To the Charaphine Mr. O'Keeffe said a Cow Testing association should be nationalised. The milk question was most acute. If prount measures were not taken infant mortality would be lagher than ever before and hopes to be favoured with a continuance of the flattering patronage already bestewed on him since opening a branch of his business here. The fellowing brief statement of facts as regards his Professional Ability may be thoroughly relied on, as the numerous Testimonials he holds will show. The success which Mr. Lovitch has attained (though comparatively a young man) is due to the fact that he has made Dentistry the study of his life, and by not employing nor entrusting his work to any mechanic, his patient can therefore depend on the Perfect Fit and Natural Appearance of the Teeth he supplies because he takes the Menid of the mouth and knows where to give case and comfort in the weaving of the Teeth. He has already supplied some Beautiful Sets to Ladies and Gentlement in Dungarvan, and their friend's have been highly pleased, and which for price and quality could not be excelled by any Dantist in the City. In selecting Dungarvan and District as one of his principal Branches he intends to devote the most of his time and attention to his clients here—and if the Stream of Success he has attained continues to flow in his favour it will lead to his making Dungarvan Head Quarters. has attained continues to flow in his favour it will lead to his making Dungarvan Head Quarters.

Winter Troubles and Their Treatment.

A good practice is not to wait for Coughs, Colds, and Chest Affections to develop, but to ward them off by a well-timed source of strengthening Food. MALTED COD LIVER OIL is a certain preventative of these troubles.

In this preparation the benefit is derived from the fattening and lung tonic properties of the COD LIVER OIL tegether with the digestive assistance derived from FRESH MALIT.

After a severe cold Malted Cod Liver Cil acits as a rapid pick-met-up, is invaluable in wasting diseases and in cases of Nasal or Bronchial Catarrh Weakly children need help to take away the danger of winter colds. Give them this help in the form of Malled Cod Liver Oil.

It makes babies thrive, children grow, and adults strong. Is simple, pleasant to take. and effective. In I lb. and I lb. Jars, obtainable at
