

FARMERS AND THE HEAVY BURDEN.

That was a reasonable thing. He appreciated Mr. Walsh's view, but he could not have officials if they pay them a living wage. The workers were being paid a living wage and he thought the council should consider the position of the council employees who had not a living wage.

Mr. M. Walsh—I quite agree with you. I am sure the council officials of the County Council have to keep up an appearance in the amendment that they get two-third bonus for the next three months.

Mr. Kirwan seconded.

On a show of hands 4 voted Goulding's amendment and 5 against it.

Mr. Conway's motion was then the meeting and declared passed.

Workhouse Amalgamation in Co. Waterford.

At the meeting of the Waterford County Council on Tuesday Mr. P. W. Kenny, chairman, presiding, the question of the amalgamation of the workhouses within the County and City of Waterford was considered. The scheme for O'Leary had been circulated amongst the members as a basis for amalgamation. Messrs. T. E. O'Shea (chairman), P. McGrath, J. O'Brien and A. Heskin, clerk, were present representing Lismore Union.

The Chairman said that the Lismore Union had decided that the present poor law system should be put on foot as soon as possible. They all knew pretty well the origin of this poor law system—it originated in England through the suppression of monasteries many centuries ago. Those monasteries were in the habit of taking in wayfarers and casuals that came by the way. When the monasteries had been suppressed those who had been in the habit of receiving hospitality and charity in the monasteries were thrown out on the hillsides, and the result of that was that they formed a nuisance to the public and the people very seriously affected. An Act was passed in the early part of the sixteenth century and this Act prevented the begging for alms under a very heavy penalty. There were other Acts later on which provided for the giving of employment and not charity, and in the early days of 1834 the poor law system was brought into being. The Act provided that every person requiring relief should be relieved only in the workhouses of England. Prior to that there was no system of relief in England; it was open to a great many abuses, and therefore they decided that every person requiring relief would not be relieved except in the workhouses. That was the commencement of pauperism in England. It branded the people as degraded as paupers the moment they entered the workhouse seeking relief. That Act was extended to Ireland in 1838, four years later. There was an inquiry set up in 1863 by a Royal Commission of the L.G.B. and it found that this poor law system at that time in England cost about £4,500,000 and over 50 per cent. of that was paid in management expenses. That was to say for every 4100 poor rate only £20 was actually expended on food and clothes; the rest went in salaries, etc. The same applied to Ireland in 1905 when the total amount expended under the system was £641,000 and 50 per cent. of that was absorbed in management expenses. In Ireland the poor law system received support from some sources, and a very great amount of opposition from others. O'Connell and the "Catholic Bishops of Ireland" were opposed to it, but Bishop Doyle favoured the system, his argument being that it should be sufficient because there was a great section of the people that times requiring relief and there was no other refuge for those evicted tenants except the workhouse, otherwise they would be thrown out on the hillsides. That was the beginning of pauperism in this country. It had bred nothing but degradation and no good results that had accrued from the scheme. On the other hand it was breeding crime and immorality amongst a certain section of the Irish people. The determination of the Lismore Union was to put an end to the poor law system in this country and set up in its place some institution which shall be more in keeping with self-respect and would foster something to meet the needs of the poor. Parties were going into the workhouse that should not go in. All these weaknesses have been time and again brought under the notice of the British Parliament, who authorised a Commission of Inquiry. It was the intention of the Lismore Union to hasten the death of the workhouses in the country. He thought it was a matter that required more detailed consideration and the collection of statistics. They had not the necessary information before them that day to take any definite steps in the matter, and he suggested that a sub-committee be appointed to consider and report on a scheme for adoption in conjunction with the Waterford Corporation with whom they would have to make in harmony, because there were institutions in the city and county that would possibly have to survive and others which may have to be entirely done away with.

Mr. Goughing—We cannot go on with the scheme today.

Chairman—I don't see anything that we can work on except a general backbone or skeleton scheme like the O'Leary one.

Mr. Conway—There were two or three conferences before in connection with this matter and isn't that evidence available?

Chairman—It will be a great help to us. With regard to that we are not to assume that the present union areas would be areas affected. Dail Eireann has advocated that the county areas in each case would be the unit. The chairman added that they would like to have delegates from each Board of Guardians appointed on the sub-committee.

Mr. Goughing—It is not intended to deal with the city as a separate area?

Chairman—We want to have their co-operation in hammering out a scheme.

Mr. Conway said if the city was made the centre of the county it would be very inconvenient.

Mr. Goughing—Are the district hospitals to be retained?

Chairman—Yes, and in many cases have already been retained. They should see that in this county they are retained.

Mr. Goughing—The general feeling is that they should be retained in Lismore and Kilmacshomus.

Mr. O'Shea, Chairman of the Lismore Guardians, said he would not favour the abolition of the district hospitals. In fact the O'Leary scheme of amalgamation was not suitable for Waterford, but he thought the Kerry scheme (a copy of which he submitted) would be most suitable.

Mr. Heskin, Clerk of Lismore Union, said as a poor law official he did not like to offer any suggestions that day, but he

FOX HUNTING IN WEST WATERFORD.

Dear Sir—I have read a letter from Mr. R. H. Keane in your issue of 6th inst. re above. Perhaps a few lines from an outsider won't be out of place.

Being an old hunting man and Hon. Sec. of the Tipperary Hunt for nearly 20 years, and who in days gone by enjoyed many pleasant days when the late Mr. Robert Humble hunted that country, of whom no finer horseman both between the flags and over a country and a keen ideal huntsman could be found.

Hunting is a sport open to all and in which everyone is equal, and the man or woman, boy or girl, on his or her young horse if he leads the field is as good as the richest and best mounted man going out (provided he or she does not over-ride the hounds). Then even for health sake it is fine.

"Better to hunt for health in fields un-bought Than fee a doctor for a nervous draught."

Of course everyone knows that hunting can only be carried on with the goodwill of the farmers, who can help a good deal, and on the other hand it is a market for the farmer's young horse. What can equal a fox hunt?

And the sound of the horn on a fine hunting morn. It makes the old become young and the weak become strong. So we'll all go a-hunting to-day.

Now that your show has been a success, nothing can help to improve the breed of horses like hunting. I have sent a small subscription to the master wishing him the best of good health—Yours faithfully, was just as keenly interested in the amalgamation of workhouses as anyone else, and he would be only too happy to give any assistance he could in the formation of a scheme which would improve the present poor law system.

It was then unanimously decided to appoint a sub-committee consisting of the Finance Committee of the County Council and one delegate from each Board of Guardians to consider a suitable scheme of amalgamation, the meeting to take place at the second next finance meeting, the recommendations to be submitted to the County Council for ratification.

It was decided not to have the Waterford Corporation represented on the committee for the present.

COUNTY EXECUTIVE MEETING.

A meeting of the County Executive of the Association was held in the Court House, Dungarvan, on Thursday last, Mr. John Keane (chairman) presiding over a good attendance of delegates.

A considerable amount of correspondence was dealt with, including a letter from the hon. Secretary of the Waterford branch of the Town Tenants' League, asking for the material and moral support of the association.

The Secretary was instructed to reply stating that their rules forbade them from voting money for any purpose other than matters directly concerned with the association. It was suggested, however, that farmers individually might be approached by the Town Tenants' League. The Chairman took no part in this discussion.

Salesmen and Factors. A letter was read from the National Executive in reference to salesmen and factors.

The Secretary was directed to reply that there was so little business in this respect in the Co. Waterford the Executive did not feel justified to express an opinion on the subject.

Proceedings at the National Executive. The following is a summary of the proceedings of the National Executive held in Dublin on the 21st July.

Speaking to a resolution from the County Waterford, Sir J. Keane said that the circumstances were one of common knowledge. He thought it indicated to them the necessity for educating public opinion and taking an active interest in the election of members of the public bodies.

Mr. McDonagh stated that they were confronted with a similar situation in County Dublin, and recently a deputation from the Ratepayers' Association had waited upon the County Council in connection with the matter. They had great difficulty in securing a hearing at all from the County Council, and were practically thrown out of the Council Chamber for daring to approach the council on the matter. They were convinced that the County Dublin County Council had no statutory authority from either the British Government or the Irish Government for striking a rate, as had been done, and he suggested that they take joint action on the matter.

Mr. Gorey thought that there was little use in attacking public bodies. A hundred thousand pounds was lost in certain ways while they were thinking of a few thousands in others. The greatest contributors to the high rates and expenditure were the ratepayers.

Mr. Wilson explained that they had been forced to investigate matters in Co. Wicklow, and had come to the conclusion that the County Council was justified in striking what seemed an unduly high rate. The difficulty lay in the fact that the District Councils and Poor Law Boards administered the money, while the County Councils had only power to find the funds required.

Mr. Doyle agreed, and said it was other bodies and not the Co. Councils that required watching. As a member of the Wexford Co. Council himself, which was half Labour in composition, he could say that in a long experience of public boards he never saw greater desire for economy.

Mr. O'Loughlin (Louth) felt that the matter was really one for the consideration of individual counties. If those in a county could not watch their local expenditure the National Executive could hardly do it for them.

Following some further discussion, this view was unanimously adopted, and the matter ended. Regarding a claim for veterinary expenses incurred in connection with the investigation of foot and mouth disease in New Ross area, it was decided to refer the matter to the Co. Wexford Executive for a report.

Importation of Store Cattle. Speaking as to the Royal Commission on the importation of store cattle, Col. O.C. Westropp stated that he was glad to say that great discretion was being observed regarding the report of the Commission, and he did not desire to lead the National Executive into speculation as to its nature. He bore testimony to the impartiality of the Commission, and said that the Chairman and members of it had left everybody in complete doubt as to their individual attitude. Mr. Carrigan, K.C., counsel for the Department of Agriculture, had delivered a fine and temperate speech at the close of the Commission. Mr. Aspinall, K.C., had also addressed the Commission on behalf of the Irish Farmers' Union, and he brought out a number of points which would not otherwise have been covered. That was a fact, he said, which should be given publicity. One point which Mr. Aspinall employed to great effect was that there were roughly 450,000 small farmers in Ireland, and if each of these reared one calf less as the result of the importation of Canadian stores the resulting decline in native herds would more than counter-balance any possible number which might be imported from Canada.

One point which he himself had made had never been challenged by the other side, and it was to the effect that in times of war it would be extremely foolish to commit an additional source of food supplies to the perils of the high seas.

Continuing, the speaker detailed other points against importation which had been brought before the Commission.

The Chairman expressed the opinion that whatever the result of the Commission's inquiries the I.F.U. had done everything possible to defeat the policy of importation. The issue was still in grave doubt, but they had done all that was possible to safeguard the interests of Irish farmers.

Mr. Joseph O'Loughlin (Louth) introduced discussion on the question of barley prices for the coming season. Attention was called to the false statement being made throughout the country to the effect that Messrs. Guinness had not been approached last year by the National Executive with a view to arranging a remunerative price for barley; and it was decided that the same should be refuted by individual members of the Executive wherever possible.

Mr. Maher moved that they approach Messrs. Guinness this year, and Mr. Drought seconded.

Mr. Cobbe moved a direct negative, saying that last year Messrs. Guinness had refused to receive them.

Mr. Maher contended that it was no use giving their enemies a chance of saying that they did not use every means of securing a fair price, and on a vote his proposition was carried.

Messrs. Maher, McLoughlin and Telford were appointed to act on the deputation.

On the motion of Mr. Lenihan, a resolution from the Standing Committee, Co. Cork Executive, urging on the Government, the urgency of the Milk Distribution Bill, since it could only have the effect of increasing prices to the consumer and wasting public money, was unanimously adopted, and copies were ordered to be sent to the Prime Minister and Minister of Labour.

It was decided to postpone for a few months the question of taking action, urged by the County Dublin Executive, to secure representation for farmers on the Markets Committee, Dublin Corporation, and other public bodies.

Consideration was given to various means for relieving slackness on the wool market.

Malicious Injury Claims.

The next item on the agenda was to decide as to the advisability of opposing claims for malicious damage. This had been referred to the different branches for their opinion, and the Executive decided to postpone taking any action in the matter for six months.

Prize Farm Scheme. The following report was read: Cloughduv, Crookstown.

Co. Cork, 4th August, 1921.

To the Chairman, Co. Waterford Farmers' Association of the Irish Farmers' Union.

Sir—I have inspected the farms entered in Class I of above scheme on July 23rd and 24th for farms not to exceed £50 valuation, of which you had seven competing. It is to be regretted that you had to abandon Class II. for holding over £50 valuation owing to insufficient entries.

This being the first year of your Farm Prize Scheme in Co. Waterford accounts for not receiving more entries but if you continue the scheme I would expect a great increase in competitors next year.

I am pleased to report that most of the competitors showed good care in the management of their holdings. Dairy cows were the principal stock by all the competitors, and in all cases had no other food but grass, which, in most cases, had been dried up from the great heat and no moisture practically for some months. I think it would well repay the owners of above herds to grow vetch and some other green foods such as cabbage, to help on the grass in warm weather for their dairy cows.

Poultry were kept by all the competitors of a mixed breed, but no accounts were kept of receipts and expenditure of same. None were keeping records of the milk yield of their dairy cows, but I trust it will not be the case next year, as I believe it would be a great benefit to dairy farmers to have records of milk yield of the dairy cows.

I beg to offer my best thanks to Mr. R. A. Kelly, your secretary, for the admirable arrangements he made for inspecting the different farms—Yours faithfully, Timothy Sullivan.

The awards made by Mr. Sullivan were—1st prize, £20; to Mr. Michael Guiry, Ballythomas, Rathgormack; 2nd prize, £10; to Mr. John Lynch, Kilis, Nicholas, Waterford; 3rd prize, £5 to Mr. P. F. Power, South Kilbride, Tramore; highly commended, Mr. Edward Nugent, Lisfagh, Ballinacall, who did not qualify for a prize owing to not having the required amount of tillage.

The Chairman proposed a vote of thanks to Mr. O'Sullivan for the care and ability which he had displayed in carrying out his duties as judge.

The Future Parliament. The following resolution was proposed by Mr. Daniel Dempsey and seconded by Mr. Nicholas Morrissey: "That we call upon the National Executive of the Irish Farmers' Union to take such steps as it considers fit to safeguard the interests of the farmers of Ireland in the forthcoming Irish Parliament." A copy was ordered to be forwarded to the National Executive.

The Labour Agreement.

The next business was to consider and act on reports from several branches re breaches of agreement entered into between the Association and the Transport Workers' Union on the 6th July. The County Secretary submitted a poster forwarded from the Ballinacall Branch which was displayed on the church gates there. A Notice—Hiring of Machinery for 1921. The following are the list: Reapers and binders, £1; mowing machines, £2; steam threshers, £3; horse-power, £1; potato diggers, £1. Anyone who goes out with any of the above-mentioned and not a member of his organisation is not to be employed, or else a fee of £3. Anyone applying for a permit can have same from secretary or committee—W. Ryan, Sec. I.T.W. and G.W.U." He (secretary) had reported this matter to Mr. Seumas O'Brien, County Organiser of the Transport Workers' Union, and pointed out that this was a distinct breach of the agreement arrived at. The Rathgormack Branch of the Association had written to the effect that the transport workers in that district were interfering with farmers giving and returning help to one another. Mr. O'Brien and himself visited Rathgormack on Monday night, 1st August, and met representatives of the Farmers' Association and Transport Workers' Union. It was then pointed out that Clause 3 of the agreement states "there will be no local interference with farmers giving or returning help to each other during busy periods." After considerable discussion a Rathgormack representative of the Transport Workers' Union wished the County Executive of the Farmers' Union to define the term "busy periods." Since that meeting he had received a letter from the Rathgormack branch, dated August 4th, stating that in the matter of helping there had been no improvement since, and that a member requiring extra help failed to obtain it, all being employed. She received help from her neighbours, and now her employees were prohibited from returning this help.

The Executive went very fully into this matter, and decided that both the Ballinacall and Rathgormack complaints were distinct breaches of the agreement ratified and published last month. The County Secretary was directed to write to the County Organiser of the Transport Workers' Union intimating that unless the notice published on the church gates at Ballinacall is withdrawn, and unless farmers are allowed to give and return help, as in Clause 3, without let or hindrance, a special meeting of the Executive will be called on the 20th of August to consider the cancellation of the agreement.

HEIRESS FOUND AFTER 30 YEARS' SEARCH.

After a 30 years' search Mr. Horace Allison, a retired American railway contractor, found his daughter, who was heiress to a fortune of £20,000. He last saw his daughter when she was 6 months old, and advertised for her every week since 1890.

REWARD FOR ARREST OF SINN FEINNERS.

Police Constables Charles Hall and Jack Lewis, P. Division, Dundalk, were at today's sitting of the Circuit at Dundalk, and were asked to reward £20 each for the arrest of a Sinn Feinner in a white coat, Green Park, Dundalk, about midnight on July 17th.

Wedding Interrupted by Death.—While officiating at a wedding, the Rev. D. J. O'Malley (78), Dromahaire, dropped dead, and a neighbouring clergyman had to complete the ceremony.

Inquest at Youghal.

Coroner R. Rice, Fermoy, held an inquest on Thursday afternoon in the Court House into the circumstances attending the death of an illegitimate child named Samuel Meagher in the workhouse hospital on the 8th inst.

A jury of 14, with Mr. C. Talbot as foreman, was sworn.

D. I. Gibson, R.I.C., represented the authorities.

Mr. Thomas Fitzgerald, master of the workhouse, deposed that a girl named Meagher from Co. Waterford was admitted to the house about 9 p.m. on August 2nd. She was put into the hospital and the midwife sent for immediately. She gave birth to the child about 11.15 that night. The girl was brought in by her mother. The child died on the 8th about 5 p.m. He saw the child shortly before it died. It was the arms of a female hospital attendant in the kitchen in front of the fire. The child appeared dark in the face. The attendant said it got suddenly bad. Dr. T. Kennedy was then summoned.

Mrs. Margaret Fitzgerald deposed that she was midwife to the Youghal Union. "She" was called to attend the girl at 10 p.m. on the 2nd. She was in labour she said all day. It was a normal case. It was a full-grown child, but frail and very weak. Witness didn't expect it to live. She attended the mother and child up to the 7th. The baby was then in fair condition. The mother nursed the child from the 7th. The mother appeared to attend to the child carefully. The child was illegitimate. It was baptised in the name of Samuel Meagher. Witness next heard of the child's death. She went and saw the mother, who said they took the baby from her because it got bad. The attendant then came in and said the baby was dead. The mother said nothing.

To the D.I.—She washed the mother every night putting per-chloride in the water. It was kept in a press in the same ward and under lock and key.

To the Coroner.—The key was kept by Helena Fitzgerald, waitress, and having stated the objects of the meeting, he introduced Mr. D. A. Murphy, rep. general organiser of the League.

In the course of a short lecture Mr. Murphy outlined the progress made by the League since its inception last September. 30,000 members having been enrolled. Branches had started all over Ireland, and the League was now in a position to impinge on the Irish economy. Several manufacturers were a few months ago were threatening their own, were now present to cope with the demand. In one instance orders had increased 75 per cent. due to the work of the League. Then outlined the necessity of feeding, and appealing to the audience to insist that they applied with home-made goods to banks and insurances, which would re-invest that money in Ireland. They should refuse to deal with shops which kept their goods under the counter and who did not give preference of place to them on their shelves and windows, and they should demand that their parcels should be wrapped in Irish-made paper and tied up with Irish twine. Having thanked the Chairman and his audience for the cordial reception extended to him, he said he hoped Youghal would follow the lead Cork had given to do its part in driving out foreign goods. Any suggestions or complaints they had to make should be sent to the League Offices at University College, Cork.

On the proposition of the Chairman a cordial vote of thanks was passed to the lecturer. Practically all present then became members of the League. Arrangements were made to organise the town and surrounding districts, after which the proceedings terminated.

ARDMORE.

A branch of the League was also formed at Ardmore Irish College, following a short lecture delivered by Mr. Murphy. All the students present joined the League and promised to do their part in spreading the organisation which has been mainly responsible for the great demand for Irish-made goods existing at present. The speaker was introduced by Rev. Father Walsh, President of the College. The League was constituted by the students, and all the other Irish boys in the school, and that they were following suit, and that they were in reducing the unemployment existing at present, thereby saving a step to emigration and other evils.

GIRL, 11.

An 11-year-old girl from Ardmore was taken to the hospital on Thursday last, suffering from a severe attack of convulsions. The girl was brought in by her mother. The child died on the 8th about 5 p.m. He saw the child shortly before it died. It was the arms of a female hospital attendant in the kitchen in front of the fire. The child appeared dark in the face. The attendant said it got suddenly bad. Dr. T. Kennedy was then summoned.

Deepcar Catholic Church.

Tuesday this week was a red-letter day in the annals of Catholic Church life in Stockbridge and Deepcar. The occasion was the opening of the new extension of St. Ann's R.C. Church. Perched as it is on the hillside of Deepcar, a pleasing sight it presented when Solemn High Mass was sung. The celebrant was the Rev. Father Wilson (St. Vincent's), assisted by Father Mulcahy (deacon), Father T. Byrne (sub-deacon), and Father Dunford (master of ceremonies). An appropriate sermon was given by Father Kitty, Superior of St. Vincent's, Sheffield, who gave a short summary of the history of St. Ann's, Deepcar, and portrayed the difficulties, financial and otherwise, of the people of Deepcar, in 1859, when the foundation stone was laid. Notwithstanding great difficulties, however, the edifice was completed in October, 1881. The priests of that time, at St. Vincent's, Sheffield, and prominent among them being Father Burke, were instrumental in first founding the R.C. Church in Deepcar, and in the building of which the clergy came from far and near to participate in.

The following reverend Fathers and others were present on Friday—Canon Dolan (St. Mary's, Sheffield); the Rev. Fathers T. Byrne (Sheffield), H. Vos (Malby), J. Gredon (Chaplain to Little Sisters, Sheffield), M. F. Beasley (St. Charles, Aldercliffe), W. Ward (Thybergh), W. Heys (Valley Road), H. Busch (Haltwhistle), R. J. Dunford (Hillsboro), Kay (Hillsboro), T. Morris (Sheff), E. Ellis (Dewsbury), E. Blessing (Bradford), Sweeney (Normanton), Sweeney (Oratory, Birmingham), McKivoy (Barnford), McCarthy (Huddersfield), other residents of the locality present were—Mrs. Wake, Mr. and Misses Suray, Mrs. Walsh, Mrs. and Miss Storey, Mr. and Mrs. Kenworthy, Miss Brown, Miss Addy, Miss Butcher, Mr. and Mrs. H. Oliver, Mrs. Jackson, Mrs. Thomas, Sheffield, Mr. and Mrs. McDonald, Misses Fraey and Moran, Mr. Hemsley, Mrs. McNulty, Mrs. Riley, Mr. Bourke, Mr. Kenney, Mrs. and Miss Rowland, Mr. and Mrs. Kelly, Mrs. Cawley, etc., etc.

It was also pleasant to see Mrs. Doyle, of Stockbridge, one of the oldest members of the church, who quite distinctly remembers the laying of the foundation stone in 1859.

St. John the Baptist's Mass was beautifully rendered by a very young choir of girls and boys. The solo of Master J. Hawley was sweetly rendered.

The Ave Maria was beautifully sung by Miss K. Jackson and Miss M. Green. The congregation were greatly impressed. Miss F. Jackson, Stockbridge, officiated, with great credit at the organ.

Great credit is due to the parish priest, the Rev. Father O'Shea, for his untiring efforts on behalf of the church during his incumbency to St. Ann's, Deepcar, was one of the first Catholic Churches to be erected in this locality in the days when the spirit of the penal laws against Catholics was still in force. Indeed, it was erected with difficulty that land for the church was obtained. In those days a wicked thing was considered, the building of a Catholic Church by selling land for the purpose, and it was only after much trouble and expense that the land was obtained. The church was built in the midst of opposition and was opened on the 20th of October, 1881. The church was really a Victorian building, and it was a great credit to the parish priest, the Rev. Father O'Shea, who was really a Victorian priest whose work at St. Vincent's is still remembered by a few, a dwindling few, of the old Sheffield Catholics who remember the great period of Catholic activity in Sheffield, the years surrounding the opening of St. Ann's and St. Vincent's Churches—was the first to realise the possibilities of Deepcar as a mission, and it was he who was responsible not merely for the launching of the idea, but also for the actual building of the church. Later, however, the Vincentian Fathers handed the church over to the diocesan clergy.

The present parish priest, Father J. J. O'Shea, has done many things since he took charge of St. Ann's in 1919. The most important development is the enlargement of the church to meet the growing needs of the population.

To mark the opening, and also the church's jubilee, Father O'Shea has published a small pamphlet, which sets forth in an interesting, if brief, form the history of Catholicism in and around the present districts known as Deepcar and Stockbridge.

Father O'Shea is brother of Mrs. M. F. Walsh, Cappoquin, Tipperary. He received his ecclesiastical education at St. John's College, Waterford, being ordained by the late Bishop Gordon at Leeds on November 30th, 1890.

Youghal No. 2 Council.

Present—Messrs. J. Broderick, Co. Co. chairman, M. Connors and W. Foley. Mr. H. Spreadborough, C.E., was also in attendance.

Dr. T. Foley, Ardmore, wrote impressing on the council the necessity of examining the water pipes in Ardmore as they were laid for about 40 years and may be extensively corroded and, thereby leading to contamination.

It was decided to have the water first analysed.

The following letter was read from Dail Eireann Department L.G.—

A Chair—With reference to the minutes of proceedings of the Youghal No. 2 Rural District Council on the 8th ult., the Ministry for L.G. wish to state that the council should take prompt measures to secure payment of rents by tenants of labourers' cottages, and should institute legal proceedings in the local Republican courts against tenants who persistently refuse to pay—Miss le mess.

L. T. MacCormac, Minister for L.G.

The collector said there were no objections to pay the rents on the ground that repairs had not been carried out.

Chairman—That knocks the arguments of Tomas on the head.

The collector said there was one tenant in very poor circumstances, but if she was inclined to pay the rent she need not have left so much arrears accrue. She practically said: "Tell them to do what they like."

Mr. Connors said he came to the conclusion that in some cases it was a matter of defying the council.

A long report was received from the engineer regarding his inspection of cottages in the districts referred to. None of the tenants complained about the repairs, and there was no justification for the non-payment of the rents. It was incorrect for anyone to state that those cottages had been referred to him for inspection and repairs three months ago, as prior to the last meeting he had never heard of arrears of payment.

Chairman—I am sorry Tomas is not here today. We were told at the last meeting that the whole reference was the repairs had been done.

The collector said if they reported anything of the kind to him he would have brought it before the council.

Chairman—if they made an effort to pay he would not be too hard on them.

Mr. Connors said none of those cottages were in such poor circumstances that they could not pay the small rent demanded. Of course if they allowed themselves get into arrears they would find it difficult sometimes to pay up.

Collector—Why didn't they make an effort to pay when they were employed?

Mr. Connors said a house and an acre of land was certainly worth 1s. per week. He could not see any better value for the money. Of course there might be occasional periods when they could not pay, but he believed in some cases they were only defying the council.

Collector—They are not all bad, but there are some.

The Chairman said it was not fair to the council. Those people had no real reason for refusing to pay. What action would they take?

The Collector said in one case the reason given was that the cat was poor.

Chairman—It is poor everywhere this year. I don't like to have prosecutions if we can avoid them.

Mr. Foley—There is no other way out of it. Some of them are only laughing at us.

Chairman—Send them a copy of Dail Eireann's letter, which will show them we are bound to take action.

Mr. Connors—I don't think it will have any effect. They were written to before and they ignored us in fact.

Chairman—if they knew we were compelled by Dail Eireann to take action they might pay up. This order from Dail Eireann clears up in the eyes of the public.

Mr. Connors—Some of the tenants in the No. 1 district took up a defiant attitude also, but it was quickly put a stop to. If a man spends more on enjoyment than he can afford and won't endeavour to exercise some thrift then he won't have any money to pay his rent. Give some an inch and they will take an ell.

Mr. Foley—That is a fact.

Mr. Connors said that those ignoring the council were encouraged to take that attitude by the action of certain great humanitarians.

The Clerk said the collector was bound to lodge the full amount of the rent, whether he collected it or not. At the end of the half year there was sometimes as much as £10 due to him.

Chairman—These people may think Dail Eireann has nothing to do with this business. I would like to let them see that there was a higher authority than the council.

The collector said that some three months ago there was a notice put up at Ardmore calling on the people not to pay rent until fairs and markets were reopened. Some of the cottages tenants took it and acted upon it, although it was not meant for them.

Mr. Connors—Some of them have gone so far as to say: "Let them evict us. They are very heroic."

It was finally decided to have a copy of Dail Eireann's letter sent to all the rent defaulters.

Chairman—I have a complaint to make about the way the true is observed in the Clashmore and Piltown districts. At our last meeting I had to complain regarding the postal delivery, but I am glad to say the grievance has been since remedied. Now the poor old pensioners waiting for their money have to go all the way to Youghal to get it, some of them from very long distances. A great many of those poor people had no means of conveyance to enable them to cover the journey, and therefore it was a real hardship on them, especially now that times were practically normal.

Furthermore, I think that the districts concerned were entitled to the benefit of the circulation of the money. I would therefore suggest that we make a complaint to Liaison Office, Barry, and ask him to use his influence to get the pensions paid in the local

Dungarvan Urban Council.

At the monthly meeting of the above on Friday night Mr. Michael Mahony, vice-chairman, presided. Also present—Messrs. P. Power, John Moore and Maurice Griffin. Messrs. Wm. O'Meara, acting town clerk; J. McGrath, town surveyor; J. Walsh, S.S.O.; and J. Curran, harbour master, were in attendance.

The Pay Sheet.

The pay sheet for the week totalling £20 19s. 3d., of which £15 10s. 10d. was expended on streets, £2 5s. 5d. on town's improvement and £3 3s. on artisans' dwellings.

The Stones.

The Chairman asked if Mrs. Kelly was written to about the stones.

Mr. McGrath—Mr. Ryan promised to write. I met Mr. Daniel Dempsey since last meeting and he is giving us permission to quarry on part of his land. I must look up Mr. Ryan again to get Mrs. Kelly's permission to quarry on her land. Mr. Dempsey will only charge what the county surveyor is paying. We hope to be able to get granite in a few weeks' time if there is a hope of an Irish settlement.

Electric Light for Kilrush.

Messrs. Patrick Sheridan, Pat. Quarry, Wm. O'Donnell and Thomas Mahony, Kilrush, wrote asking the council to give them a supply of electric light.

Mr. McGrath said those people had approached him about the matter, but he told them as far as he was concerned he could do nothing for them. They said if they had only one lamp lit at the town side of Wm. O'Donnell's it would do.

Chairman—How many poles would it take?

Mr. McGrath—Three or four. I understand some of them were speaking to Mr. Dunphy and he said he would have to take the wires down from the workhouse through the fields and that would be within the mile radius.

Chairman—Would you inquire the cost of it?

Mr. McGrath—I don't know if the company will charge you for putting the poles where you want them.

Mr. Power—Isn't there some agreement with the company?

Mr. McGrath—The agreement was to charge you 44s. per lamp.

Mr. Power—Regardless of the distance.

Mr. McGrath—Up to this they didn't raise the question of charging for any extension. You can give these people the light provided the company doesn't charge extra. If they do charge extra for extending the light to Kilrush you can drop it.

This was agreed to.

Westford Pioneers.

Mr. John Phelan, Hon. Secretary of the Westford Pioneer Association wrote asking the council for the use of the Town Hall for a few hours on Monday, 15th August, for the purpose of catering for about 100 members of their association who were visiting the town on their annual excursion.

Mr. Power—Are those the totals?

Acting Clerk—It appears so. It was decided to grant them the use of the Town Hall.

New House for Ballyduff.

Mr. Thomas Power, O'Connell street, wrote applying for the necessary certificates in connection with the building of a house at Ballyduff.

Mr. McGrath produced the plan of the house, which he said was already in course of construction—the walls were erected and it had already cost Mr. Power a few hundred pounds. The money under the Housing (Additional Powers) Acts was available, and it was in the council's power to grant the certificate and the only thing they had to do was to approve of the plans and give the necessary certificate. He (Mr. McGrath) filled in the certificate in anticipation of the council granting it.

It was decided to grant the certificate, the plan as submitted being approved of.

The Dredger.

The Department of Agriculture (Fishery Department) writing in reference to the hire by the council of the dredger "Faughan-Bealach" for working on the banks in the channel at Dungarvan, stated that they would be glad to consider the matter if the council would kindly undertake to point out where the dredger was required. If, however, the material to be dredged is a local mud it was probable that a hopper suction dredger would not be suitable for the purpose.

Mr. Curran said he was speaking to the captain of the dredger on the previous Tuesday. The sub-offices as before.

Mr. Connors—It is only fair they should get them out where they were getting them before.

Mr. Foley—The same remarks apply also to Ardmore and Grange.

The Chairman's suggestion was adopted.

dredger was working at Helvic at present. The captain advised him to write a letter to the Department pointing out that the harbour was very much frequented by fishing boats and Arklow motor boats, and that in addition to local Ballinagout boats which cannot enter the harbour except two hours before high tide owing to banks at the quay and esplanade. Consequently they were often late for markets. The captain suggested asking the Department to have their dredger "Faughan-Bealach" make an experimental trip to ascertain nature of bottom. They could also get a petition from Ballinagout fishermen.

Mr. Power—Low water would be the best time to survey the place. You could have the captain present then.

Mr. Curran—He would not like to be present unless he gets instructions from the Department.

Mr. Power suggested writing to the Department asking them for the services of the captain of the dredger. They would like to have all particulars as to the bottom, and the attendance of the captain would be most necessary.

The Chairman said they could refer the Department back to the result of the experiment 10 years ago.

Mr. Curran—You cannot do anything without the authority of the Fishery Department.

Mr. Power—He could give us some idea of the expense and help in ascertaining the bottom.

Mr. Curran—That would be a good idea.

The Chairman said all the merchants were anxious to have the dredger.

Mr. Power—I would not touch it until we hear the cost.

Mr. Curran—The fishermen are very anxious about it.

It was decided to write to the Department in the terms suggested by the captain of the dredger, Mr. Curran to interview the latter in the meantime as to obtaining his assistance.

Welcome Home.

The Chairman proposed—"That we, the members of the Dungarvan Urban Council, tender our heartiest congratulations to Eamonn Deo, T.D., on his release from internment at Ballykinal, and we hope in the near future that all our local political prisoners will be amongst us and be greeted with a hearty welcome."

Mr. Power seconded the resolution, which was passed.

Malignant Injury Claim.

Miss Margaret Meagher, recently employed as barmaid in Miss Minnie Fitzgerald's licensed premises, Strand Hotel, forwarded through her solicitor (Mr. A. Carroll, Fermoy) a claim for £25 for the destruction of clothes, boots, jewellery, furs, and other personal property on the occasion of the burning of Miss Fitzgerald's premises.

The Housing Scheme.

The L.G.B. wrote stating that only in cases where commitments had been entered into by the 14th July last and where the houses were actually in course of construction on the 25th August would application for grants under the Housing Scheme (Additional Powers Act) be considered.

The superannuation of Dr. J. J. Curran, late M.O., Killeagh, was fixed at £155 11s. 4d.

A letter was read from the Surveyor Post Office in reply to the board's letter stating that arrangements were being made for the resumption of the normal postal facilities in the Youghal area.

Dr. M. F. O'Brien wrote stating that he was taking up duty at Killeagh on the 18th.

A letter was read from the Irish County Councils General Council stating that the council was informed that Messrs. Whelan and French, 50 Patrick street, Cork, were prepared to supply medicines at a discount of 20 per cent. off current list.

The Clerk stated that a contract had already been entered into. Dail Eireann wrote regarding the proposed to transfer Mr. Flavin from the position of assistant clerk to that of clerk of the union and the continued employment of Miss Fitzgerald in the clerk's office. The Ministry wish to state that in view of the possibility of extensive reforms in the public law service in the immediate future they do not approve of the permanent appointment of union officials at present, but they would not raise any objection to the employment of these officers in a temporary capacity at the salaries fixed for their respective posts.

The meeting was unanimously in the opinion that both appointments should be permanent, and it was resolved to ask Dail Eireann to reconsider.

PRESENTATION OF ILLUMINATED ADDRESS.

INTERESTING FUNCTION AT DUNGARVAN.

On Thursday evening an interesting function took place at Dungarvan when the Rev. J. P. Thompson, O.S.A., was presented with an illuminated address recording the congratulations of the people of the town on his celebration of the Golden Jubilee of his ordination to the priesthood.

Mr. Thomas Power, chairman of the committee organising the presentation, occupied the chair on the occasion, the other members present being Messrs. D. O'Connell, Wm. Hickey, John Walsh, J. M. Murphy, Ed. Keogh, Michael Keane and Michael Flynn. Rev. Father Thompson was also present.

The Chairman said—Gentlemen, I am very pleased indeed to be the medium of presenting this beautifully illuminated address to our very dear friend, the Rev. Father Thompson. It marks, dear Father Thompson, in a small way, the respect and affection in which you are held by the people of Dungarvan and surrounding country, with whom you have been for so many years associated and who have received from you so many spiritual benefits. You have been the trusted friend of many, who have received consolation and comfort at your hands, and I cordially congratulate you on this happy occasion.

Mr. Keane—It is only too happy to respond to your request, Mr. Chairman, especially in consideration of the very laudatory and congenial work in which we are engaged this evening. I feel very much pleased indeed, as I am sure you all do, in the presentation of this address from the people of Dungarvan to the Rev. Father Thompson. It is most proper and fitting that they should present him with an address of this kind in recognition of his services while ministering amongst the people here. Well, when first we determined upon making this little effort as a means of showing our esteem and veneration for the Rev. Father Thompson there were obstacles in the way which prevented us from doing all we would wish to do in the matter. We could not have held a meeting earlier in the evening, and we were not sure of the time. Therefore it was that we were more or less obliged to work in haste, but later on a little freedom came and, gentlemen, you were kind enough to attend a meeting in which you were called for the purpose of showing your appreciation of and glad your support to the effort we were making to do honour to the Rev. Father Thompson, the Golden Jubilee of whose ordination occurred amongst us. It seems to me the right thing that Father Thompson's Golden Jubilee should have occurred while he was with the people of Dungarvan, because it was here in Dungarvan that he came on his first mission. Filled with that enthusiasm and zeal of the sacred and glorious calling upon which he had then entered. After remaining here for many years he went to other districts and at length came back to us again, when now, after 12 years of his continued presence amongst us he has embraced himself to us more and more, and we are only too willing and happy on an occasion such as this to show to him our esteem.

Just Retired.—A career of splendid service, both civil and military, has been the lot of Mr. J. P. Thompson, who has just retired from the service of the State. He has been a member of the House of Commons for many years, and has held various offices of importance. He is now residing in Dungarvan, and is highly respected by the people of the town.

Death of Mr. W. J. O'Connell, Cappoquin.—A most respected inhabitant, who just passed away in the person of Mr. O'Connell. For over 25 years he was prominently identified with the business of the town, and he was held in the highest esteem by all. Therefore it was that we were more or less obliged to work in haste, but later on a little freedom came and, gentlemen, you were kind enough to attend a meeting in which you were called for the purpose of showing your appreciation of and glad your support to the effort we were making to do honour to the Rev. Father Thompson, the Golden Jubilee of whose ordination occurred amongst us. It seems to me the right thing that Father Thompson's Golden Jubilee should have occurred while he was with the people of Dungarvan, because it was here in Dungarvan that he came on his first mission. Filled with that enthusiasm and zeal of the sacred and glorious calling upon which he had then entered. After remaining here for many years he went to other districts and at length came back to us again, when now, after 12 years of his continued presence amongst us he has embraced himself to us more and more, and we are only too willing and happy on an occasion such as this to show to him our esteem.

Death of Mr. W. J. O'Connell, Cappoquin.—A most respected inhabitant, who just passed away in the person of Mr. O'Connell. For over 25 years he was prominently identified with the business of the town, and he was held in the highest esteem by all. On Thursday week the remains were removed for interment to Glanworth, the funeral being large and representative and testifying to the esteem in which he was held.

The Trees is most carefully observed in the County Waterford, and no branch of it has occurred of late on any side.

Killey's Cross Sports will be held at an early date.

Youghal Notes

For the past week or more there has been a big fish in the shape of a shark in the harbour, providing a splendid sport for the anglers and other kinds of amateur fishermen, and as a secondary result, some of the fish were caught in the harbour, and were sent to the market, and it is reported that the fish were of good quality.

There would be many well-known fish of the harbour, and the fish were of good quality, and it is reported that the fish were of good quality.
