Fancy bar shoes are very attractive and quite suitable for town wear in the nice dry weather, but how often are we favoured with such weather? Even in towns lace shoes protect the stockings from wet and mud far better than bar shoes, but for the country public feecht.

for the country nothing (except boots!) can be more serviceable.

These two 'Comac' lace shoes are designed mainly for service. Our customers ask for them again and again because they wear so well. We can fit any normal foot with 'Comac' classes in Irish, Commsrce, etc. had to be discontinued owing to the paucity of the attendance

Subsequently quite a number of students presented themselves for registration, but it was then too late. It is most extraordinary how little we appreciate benefits offered us practically for nothing beyond the taking. Many a young man has learned from sad experience, but too late, the folly of devoting all his leisure time to fun, to the utter neglect of practical preparation for the battle of life, such as is now offered by the evening Technical

"Gathering up Shells on the Sea Shore."—One fine day during the past week, when the lide was very low, a party of three or four quite a time with very satisfactory results. On making inquiry The C ubsequently it was ascertained that they were strangers belonging to a craft in the harbour. Considering the delicious dishes that can be got out of the shellfish to be found strewn along our shores it is strange that more use is not made of them. It is the same with the blackberries, etc., on the hedges and in the woods around. They are left ripen and drop off, while our people pay dearly for pots of jam, some of it of a very doubtful composition. And the same with the fish, which are so plentiful at different periods of the year. In former times, in the proper season, when mackerel and other fish were plentiful and cheap, large quantities used be salted and preserved, coming in handy later on when fish was scarce and dear.

Mr. P. McKany, extown superiods approach to the dendering the members of the council his most spincere thanks for their kind expression of appreciation on the manner in which he had performed his duties during the 22 years which he had given in their service as town superintendent. It was very gratifying to him to know that he had given satisfaction and to receive their good wishes for his future. He was be cured. Some few even now, dealt with his application for the later by the Insurance Company,

LISMORE NOTES.

The Fair .- Good prices in all partments were realised at the October fair, but young pigs par-ticularly fetched enhanced prices. When compared with recent fairs buyers and sellers were pleased at the transactions on Wednes-

Whist Drive.—As was expected the whist drive and dance or-ganised by the Lismore branch of the British Legion held in the Hartingdon Hall in aid of the WHEN YOU WANT ANY OF THOSE funds of Lismore District Nur-sing Association was a decided success, and as a result the committee in charge hope to hand over a nice little cheque for this deserving object. All things taken into consideration, the Lismore public and the poor of the district especially owe a deep debt of gratitude to the Nursing Drive the best thanks and congratulations are due for their gene-tended their efforts. Saw Mills.—There is a strong umour prevalent in Lismore that the Saw Mills have been purhased by the Shandon Dairy Co., Dungarvan. These saw mills had been closed for over five years, and the news that Mr. Dunne has purchased the premises was received in the locality with the utmost satisfaction, as it should tend to a great extent to relieve the unemployed list. Fat Pigs.—The price paid for fat pigs at Lismore market on Wednesday was 72s. per cwt. and a very large number were offered

An Improvement.-Mr. James Ahearne, wine and spirit merchant, has had carried out improvements to his premises in the Main street which immediately catch the eye of the visitor. This establishment standing out prominently as it is in the centre of the Main street has attracted a large clientele in the past, and through the vicissitudes of time we are pleased to notice that the popular proprietor has more than held his own, and to-day enjoys the same popularity and patron age as he did over quarter of a century ago. His premises are certainly an excellent structure and are well managed, and we wish Mr. Ahearne still further success. Opposite Mr. Ahearne is situated the business premises of Mr. Moore, which building was latterly raised a storey, and improvements of an elaborate nature carried out there. Mr. John O'Brien, Church street, was contractor in both instances, and the workmanship displayed is a credit to himself and his capable GATES!

Sympathy.-With Mr. and Sympathy. With Mr. Annual Street,
