Trade. New Irish Cardinal.

ARCHBISHOP O'DONNELL OF ARMAGH. POPE HONOURS IRELAND.

It is announced that Dr. O'Donnell, Archbishop of Armagh, will be created a Cardinal at a Consistory which the Pope will probably hold on December 15th.

It is pointed out in Vatican circles that the Pope wishes to confer such a distinction on Dr. O'Donnell to show his paternal affection for Ireland and his appreciation of the loyalty of the faithful in that country.

It had been generally expected that his Grace's accession to the See of Armagh, as successor to the late Cardinal Logue, would be followed by his elevation to the Supreme Council of the Church.

Archbishop O'Donnell was born at Killybegs, near the Glenties in County Donegal, on 28th November, 1855.

He made his clerical debut in the Diocesan Seminary, Letterkenny, and afterwards spent two years attending the classes of the Faculty of Arts in the Catholic University.

In 1875 the young student of the University married Miss Mary Anne O'Donnell, a daughter of the Rev. Dr. O'Donnell, who was then a student in the College of Maynooth in which he read a distinguished course, and was appointed a student of the Dunboyo at its re-establishment in 1879.

Next year Dr. O'Donnell succeeded to the vacant Chair of Theology at the early age of twenty-five. From the Chair of Theology the young professor was promoted to the prefecture of the Dunboyo in succession to Dr. Henry O'Donnell, Bishop of Tuam, at the unprecedentedly early age of twenty-nine, and four years afterwards, at the age of thirty-three, was elevated by the Holy See to the Bishopric of Raphoe.

No student in the history of Maynooth has been more rapidly promoted through various offices to the episcopal bench than the former Bishop of Raphoe and prospective Cardinal Primate of Ireland.

His reign at Raphoe was singularly successful and progressive. In 1891, sixteen years after his elevation to the Bishopric, the ancient Cathedral Chapter was re-established by Leo XIII., and St. Eunan was declared joint Patron of the diocese with St. Columba; the reason for the creation of a joint patronage being that whilst St. Columba established the celebrated Abbey of Raphoe, it was St. Eunan who renovated and reconstituted it. These changes were the fruit of the active interest expended in the affairs of the diocese by the prospective Cardinal Primate of Ireland.

In that year also another worthy project of his was completed by the solemn dedication of the beautiful Cathedral at Raphoe. At that ceremony the late Cardinal Logue presided and spoke in Irish. It is of interest to note that the prospective successor to the late Cardinal Logue is also a fluent speaker of the native language. At the dedication in 1901 Mr. John Dillon, a close friend of Dr. O'Donnell, was also in attendance. Most Rev. Dr. O'Donnell, when elected, will be the third former Bishop of Raphoe in direct succession to be elevated to the Primacy. The late Cardinal Logue was a former native Bishop of Raphoe, and his immediate predecessor, Daniel Cardinal McGettigan (1870-87), a famous Irish scholar, enjoyed a similar distinction.

In 1923 Most Rev. Dr. O'Donnell was translated from Raphoe to the Cathedral-see of Armagh. In that capacity he supported the brethren of the Primacy owing to the falling health of the venerable Cardinal Logue on whose death in November, 1924, he succeeded to the Archbishopric. The expected appointment, following on Most Rev. Dr. O'Donnell's brilliant record in the professor's Chair, and the Bishop's benevolent and the Archbishop's throne has been generally anticipated throughout the country and will be received with rejoicing by the clergy and the people.

His Grace, who is now in his seventieth year, travelled to Lourdes last year with the Catholic Truth Society Pilgrimage, his brilliant oratory being heard in one of the special sermons given there, and he accompanied the Irish National Pilgrimage to Rome in Anno Santo and was twice received in private audience by the Supreme Pontiff.

The Justice having perused "O'Connor" as quoted by Mr. Ryan, and also the copy of the Finance Act relied on by Mr. Casey, held in favour of Mr. Ryan's legal point, and dismissed the appeal.

The Chairman said a good deal of oats was coming in for seed, whereas if they had selected oats themselves and kept it pure it would be far better than what they could get across.

Mr. Walsh—If you keep sowing the same oats too long it will deteriorate.

Mr. Butler—Is it a fact we are importing 3 barrels for every 4 exported?

Chairman—When the harvest is cut in this country they all rush and thrash it and sell it as the farmers have no means of storing it, and the store men clear it out when they get a fair profit.

Mr. C. J. Curran said the white oats grown here was sent to Belfast and made into oatmeal and then sent back again for sale.

The Chairman said the local mills had a bad reputation for "stealing." The last time he sent some to be made into meal nothing would eat it. He did not approve of a tariff on oats.

The proposal was rejected.

Oat Products. The Conference recommended a tariff of 3s. 6d. per cwt. on oat products entering the Free State.

Mr. Butler proposed that it be rejected and said flake meal was extensively used by the poor. The proposal was rejected.

Subsidies. It was recommended that the Government be requested to give the owner or occupier of land a subsidy of £2 per statute acre for five years commencing in 1926 for each acre of land ploughed and sown.

Cappoquin District Court.

Before Mr. G. P. Farrell, B.L. Unlicensed Motor Vehicle.

The Waterford County Council summoned Mr. Thomas Power, bottling merchant and confectioneer, Dungarvan, for using an unlicensed motor van on February 14th last under rather unusual circumstances.

It appears that Mr. Power had another vehicle—a Dodge motor van—in use last January for which the license had been duly paid up to the 31st March following.

During a big storm one night in January last while this van was being driven homewards from Tallow to Dungarvan, a large tree was blown down on the van near the Christian Brothers' Schools, Lismore, which wrecked it, the driver of which had a very narrow escape from being killed.

Mr. Power then purchased a Ford van to replace the damaged one, and in the meantime applied to the County Council to have the license for the Dodge transferred to the new vehicle for the remainder of the period for which such license had been paid.

This application was refused and no rebate was made to Mr. Power for the unexpired period during which the Dodge car was knocked out of action from January to the 31st March.

Mr. Casey, Registration Clerk, appeared to prosecute on behalf of the County Council, and Mr. E. A. Ryan, State Solicitor, defended.

At the outset Mr. Farrell asked Mr. Casey why the County Council was not represented by a solicitor.

Mr. Casey—We are not allowed to have a solicitor.

Mr. Ryan said he was not raising any objection to Mr. Casey appearing for the County Council as he had a good defence to the charge.

Mr. Casey was then sworn and said the prosecution was brought on a report made by a member of the Civic Guards that he found one of Mr. Power's drivers using the vehicle on February 14th without a license.

Guard Furlong, Villiersdown, was then examined by Mr. Casey and stated on the date in question he found Mr. Power's man using a Ford van in Aglish for which no license had been paid, and duly reported the matter to the proper quarter.

In reply to Mr. Ryan, Mr. Casey said a license was taken out on February 20th for the vehicle, which was found unlicensed on the 14th February.

Replying to further questions, he admitted that Mr. Power is a big trader in Dungarvan and has a number of vans and carries on the road regularly for which he always pays license duty.

His motor duties for this year amounted to over £137. Witness admitted that Mr. Power had taken out a license in the ordinary way for the Dodge car, and after the accident Mr. Power's manager had spoken to him (Mr. Casey) about getting that license transferred to the other car, but witness could not do that, nor could he grant any rebate in the license money when the Dodge car had not been totally destroyed.

Mr. Ryan then described the full circumstances of the case and said for the Ford van a few days after it had been found unlicensed, so that even if the Justice decided to condemn, it was a case in which only a nominal penalty should be imposed, as in some cases similar cases heard recently in Carrick, Mr. McCabe, D.J., had imposed only the small fine of 5s.

There was no question about Mr. Power trying to evade the license duty in any way, and they had it on Mr. Casey's own evidence that the license duties paid by him for this year exceed £137. Mr. Ryan then raised the legal point that according to "O'Connor" the informant in all such cases should have been made within six months from the date of the offence, but in this case such had not been done until September 14th, seven months afterwards, and in addition a written notification should have been served on the defendant within one week from the date of the information, and this had not been complied with either, so on these grounds alone he claimed he was entitled to a dismissal.

Mr. Casey, in reply, said that under Section 13 of the Finance Act he was empowered to bring a prosecution within 12 months from the date of the offence, and he had never heard Mr. Ryan's point raised before.

With regard to notifying Mr. Power within a week, he said he had told Mr. Power about the matter in his own office.

Mr. Power (interjecting)—That was in the course of a private conversation, Mr. Casey, but I received no written notification about the matter within the specified time.

The Justice having perused "O'Connor" as quoted by Mr. Ryan, and also the copy of the Finance Act relied on by Mr. Casey, held in favour of Mr. Ryan's legal point, and dismissed the appeal.

Youghal Urban Council.

Present—Messrs. M. Whelan, chairman; A. J. Powles, T. Harrington, J. Troy, M. J. Fleming, A. W. D. Murphy, P. J. McMahon, P. C. J. Bennett, vice-chairman; M. D. Broderick.

A letter was read from Dr. D. J. Murphy, M.O.H., with reference to the resolution on vaccination referred to him, stating that as the people of Youghal were particularly careful to have their children vaccinated, he suggested that the council should take no action on the resolution.

The council decided to adopt the M.O.H.'s suggestion.

A letter was read from the L.G. transmitting form of queries in relation to the appointment of a sanitary sub-officer, town superintendent and hackney car inspector, and asking for the names of persons who had been referred by the council to the Minister for the effect of making the appointment the advertised age limit, 24 to 45 years, was disregarded, and it was requested that the observations of the Urban Council on that point might be furnished.

The Chairman said the council were unanimous in the action they took in allowing all the candidates to come in. There was nothing further to add.

A letter was read from the L.G. enclosing a paying order for £3,000, being a further instalment of the relief vote grant towards the cost of the waterworks improvement scheme at present being carried out by the council.

The Chairman said the council were grateful to Mr. O'Dwyer for his kindly and prompt action.

A letter was read from Messrs. Hodnett and Sons, solicitors to the council, stating that the council had been sent to Messrs. Guest, Lane and Co., solicitors for Mr. Reynardson, for their approval. They had applied to the Minister for L.G. for sanction to the council's acquisition of the strip of land below high-water mark. If the council desired to seek to enforce payment of these costs, the course would be to send the writs of fieri facias to the Sheriff for execution against the goods of the defendants. These writs, Mr. Hodnett said, they awaited the council's instructions as to whether they were to forward them to the Sheriff for execution. They had brought that matter before the present council's meeting, but they did not come to any decision.

There was an unanimous decision to instruct Messrs. Hodnett to take the necessary steps to have the writs executed.

With reference to the reported interference with the new water main, it was stated by the Town Surveyor that he had made inquiries and was informed that the main had not been tapped.

Mr. Broderick said it was not generally known that before the main could be touched the Council Clerk said they had issued thousands of handbills giving the necessary notice from time to time.

The Chairman said the council would take drastic action against anybody interfering with the main without the permission of the council.

Mr. Broderick said it was most important that the council's official should be present on every occasion to see that the work would be done properly.

The Chairman said the practice complained of had caused endless trouble and confusion.

The Strand caretaker reported that he found the Slatery's and Harris's removing sand and gravel from the foreshore on several occasions during the past week (laughter).

A councillor said that he had just taken the proper steps to put an end to the long-continued defiance of the council by the parties mentioned.

The Town Surveyor reported that he had visited Messrs. Hurst's Picture Palace during the week and found that chairs were placed in the main passage. This would prove a very dangerous practice if a panic arose through any cause.

The Clerk was directed to inform Mr. Hurst that drastic action would be taken if the offence were repeated.

There are two sides to every argument, and occasionally someone knocks the bottom out.

If beauty were not in the world we would have to invent it to make life bearable.

The Chairman said a good deal of oats was coming in for seed, whereas if they had selected oats themselves and kept it pure it would be far better than what they could get across.

Mr. Walsh—If you keep sowing the same oats too long it will deteriorate.

Mr. Butler—Is it a fact we are importing 3 barrels for every 4 exported?

Chairman—When the harvest is cut in this country they all rush and thrash it and sell it as the farmers have no means of storing it, and the store men clear it out when they get a fair profit.

Mr. C. J. Curran said the white oats grown here was sent to Belfast and made into oatmeal and then sent back again for sale.

Subsidies. It was recommended that the Government be requested to give the owner or occupier of land a subsidy of £2 per statute acre for five years commencing in 1926 for each acre of land ploughed and sown.

TARIFF ON GRAIN.

At the meeting of the County Committee of Agriculture on Saturday in Dungarvan, Mr. N. Fitzgerald, chairman, presiding, the report of the Conference on prices by delegates of the County Committee of Agriculture was considered.

At this Conference the County Waterford delegates were—Messrs. N. Fitzgerald, J. Butler, T.D.; J. Flavin and J. Kiersey.

The conference recommended: That a tariff of 1s. 6d. per cwt. be imposed on foreign flour; that the free import of wheat be allowed; and that an export duty of 1s. per cwt. be imposed on wheat of all kinds.

With view to, in some future time, being able to grow in Ireland all the wheat needed for the requirements of the population, we request the Department of Agriculture to immediately embark on an experimental wheat growing scheme of not less than 300 acres distributed over the 26 counties.

Mr. C. J. Curran—The question is how will it affect the surplus we have for sale? We are selling our corn and how will the imposition of a tariff affect that?

Mr. M. Walsh said the tariff on flour would hit the poor man.

Mr. Butler said it would not put up the cost of living, and even if it did they would be compensated by the extra labour employed. Some effort should be made to get the mills going. If they allowed foreign flour in free the home mills would be idle.

Mr. M. Curran—in the absence of home-milled flour would not the price of bread be increased? Chairman—it would be very small. It is meant to encourage the milling of wheat in the country.

Mr. Curran said the proposed tariff would be 3s. 9d. on 20-sacks bag of flour.

Chairman—By milling at home the offals would be cheaper.

Mr. M. Walsh said when the tariff was put on shoes the price was raised at home as well as elsewhere.

Chairman—Mr. J. J. Walsh would not agree with you.

Mr. Walsh—He knows more about farming than we do.

Mr. Beresford—He does not know very much about his own Department.

Chairman—How many flour mills have we going on?

Mr. Butler—We should give a chance to the mills to get going, and this tariff is put on with a view to grow later on all the wheat we require at home, and if we are looking forward to that we must have the mills to grind the flour.

Mr. M. Walsh—You must change the climate of this country to bring down the price of the miller.

Mr. Walsh—You must change the climate altogether.

Mr. M. Curran—There is no mill in Ireland able to mill the flour up to the standard of the English flour.

Mr. Power—You must do something to give employment in the country.

Mr. Curran—It will take a long time before Irish flour can compete with the foreign flour.

The tariff was approved.

Barley. The Conference recommended that an import duty of 5s. per cwt. be placed on all malted barley and malt entering the Free State.

That the Government enacting the law will receive a minimum price of 25s. per barrel for any barley sold for use in brewing and distilling industries, and that the Excise duty of the standard barrel of Irish produced stout be reduced from 25s. to 23s. and that the Excise duty on Irish produced pot still whiskey be reduced from 7s. 6d. to 40s. per gallon.

Mr. C. J. Curran said Guinness's profits for the year were £3,000,000, and if they set aside one million for barley growing it would change the position.

Mr. Walsh—There is a danger of Guinness clearing out of the country as he has a place in Manchester.

The Chairman said the price of imported barley is 35s. on the London Market and the price for Irish milled barley is 38s. or 40s. per barrel. There must be something radically wrong or else a great difference in the barley.

Mr. Walsh—All the barley grown is not milled barley.

Mr. Butler said it was a mistake to say that Guinness were going to leave the country. That is only a cod.

Mr. O'Keefe—He can afford to pay a higher price for the barley. The recommendation was approved.

COUNTY COMMITTEE OF AGRICULTURE

IMPORTANT DEBATES.

Mr. N. Fitzgerald, chairman, presided. Also present—Messrs. M. Curran, C. J. Curran, P. J. Power, W. Stack, John O'Donnell, James Kirwan, John Greene, John Curran, E. Beresford, J. O'Keefe, D. Ward, J. G. Duke, Mathias Walsh, J. Butler, T.D.

The Department wrote approving of the Horse Breeding Scheme for the year 1925-26 under which two-thirds of the nominations are reserved for farmers under £50 valuation.

The Department also approved of the Cattle Breeding Scheme and the Swine Breeding Scheme for which £140 had been allocated.

Mr. M. Curran—Is a man supposed to keep a boar in proper condition? Secretary—Yes.

Chairman—If he does not keep him in good trim he loses his premium.

Mr. M. Curran—I sent a sow to a pig the other day and I think he is not in proper condition. What premium does he get for keeping the boar? Secretary—£5.

The Secretary explained that the premium went in part payment of the boar the first year, but the owner was bound to keep him the second year.

Mr. Greene said the pig industry was a very important one in the country.

Mr. M. Curran suggested that the Inspector be asked to pay a surprise visit and see were the boars properly treated.

Mr. Greene—After the first 12 months it is optional with a man to do what he likes with the boar?

Chairman—After the first two seasons he is his own property. The Secretary read the declaration which the owner signed on getting the pig.

Chairman—It is to the man's own advantage to keep the boar properly.

Live Stock Breeding Act. The Department wrote—Sir—I have to state for the information of your committee that, at the inspections recently carried out under the Live Stock Breeding Act in County Waterford a total of approximately 998 bulls were presented, of which 157 were rejected as unsuitable for licences.

Mr. Greene said nondescript Short-horns were all round the country.

Mr. Duke—Are licences refused to any pure-bred bulls? Chairman—Where a pure-bred is not up to the standard he is rejected. I rejected a pure-bred Kerry.

Mr. Curran asked was it on looks alone they went and the Chairman said yes.

Mr. Walsh—Would Kerry bulls in the County Kerry be disqualified? Chairman—Yes, unless up to the standard.

Mr. Walsh—The Kerry cows are the best milkers.

Mr. Greene—I would not say that. They are the best according to their size.

Mr. Walsh—They would beat the Short-horn as they are the worst milkers.

Mr. Greene—For their size the Kerries are the best milkers.

As to the centres for the Co. Waterford at which bulls are to be licensed, Kilmanahan was recommended by the committee as a new centre, and the Bonmahon centre was changed to Ballylancan.

Growing of Wheat. The Department of Agriculture wrote—Sir—I have to state for the information of your committee that the Department are arranging a series of trials throughout the country with a view to testing the possibility of considerably extending the area under wheat in An Saorstát. It is proposed to lay down this autumn, under the supervision of the Agricultural Instructors, about 300 plots, each of one statute acre in extent (in exceptional cases 1/2 acre plots have been allowed) of either Yeoman I. or Yeoman II. variety. 15 stone of seed will be supplied for the sowing of each one-acre plot, and the price to be charged to growers has been fixed at 2s. per stone, carriage paid to nearest railway station, which is equivalent to a rate of approximately 10s. per barrel of 20 stone under cost price.

The Agricultural Instructors have already been instructed for the sowing of 8 such plots in each of their districts with suitable ploughholders, who would be willing to take the seed on the terms mentioned, and the reports received from them to date indicate that the requisite number of farmers will be forthcoming to ensure the success of the scheme. In this connection I have to state that the Department will endeavour to enlist, if possible, co-operation of the Irish Millers' Association, or members of a member thereof, with a view to having the produce of some of the plots bulked for the purpose of a milling trial, and also, if feasible, of having baking tests carried out with the flour thus manufactured.

In view of the importance of these trials, the Department trust that your committee will agree to the proposal that the cultivation of the land, the sowing of the crop, and the harvesting and threshing of the produce, should be carried out under the supervision of the Agricultural Instructor.

As the Department, moreover, are at present taking steps to encourage the growing of wheat generally this autumn, I have to express the hope that your committee will see their way to co-operate in the matter by arranging to bring under the notice of farmers in the county the advisability and importance of the growing of this crop, where practicable, for home consumption.—F. J. Meyrick, Secretary.

Mr. Walsh—Are they afraid the farmers would not be able to thrash their corn properly that one of the Inspectors must be present?

Chairman—They want to test the yield.

Mr. O'Keefe—I think they would be late sowing wheat now.

Chairman—The plots are laid down at present.

Mr. Walsh—I don't know if it is any good to sow wheat with good results except on limestone land. When wheat was sown extensively before we used lime.

Mr. O'Keefe—To my mind what is against wheat growing is we have not enough sun to ripen it. The land is good enough.

Mr. O'Donnell—Let them go ahead and try it anyhow.

Price of Barley. The following resolution was received from the Kildare County Council for adoption—"That this council representing the interests of the farmers and the workers of the county protests in the strongest possible manner against the unfair and oppressive treatment which is being given to the barley growing industry by a monopoly, which has the power of fixing the price at which the crop must be sold and which makes use of that power to compel the producer to sell at a ruinous figure, which barely covers the cost of production. We assert that the activities of this monopoly has a most detrimental effect in the way of impoverishing the farmer restricting tillage, increasing unemployment, and adversely affecting the business community.

The resolution was unanimously adopted.

Rationing of Dairy Cattle. The following resolution was received from the Irish Dairy Short-horn Breeders' Society—"That from reliable information obtained through Cow-Testing Associations, we are convinced that enormous losses are sustained each year by dairy farmers through the improper and inadequate feeding of their cattle. We therefore respectfully and earnestly ask the various County Committees of Agriculture to introduce into their schemes for the year 1925-26 a system of feeding experiments for dairy cattle."

The resolution was approved of and referred to Mr. O'Keefe to make arrangements.

Dairy Short-horn Congress. At the 5th Annual Congress of the Irish Dairy Short-horn Society to be held at Mallow on the 29th December, Messrs. C. J. Curran, E. Beresford and J. Butler, T.D., were deputed to attend.

Chairman—A good many of the members here will be representing the Cow-Testing Associations.

Lectures Wanted. Application was made to have a course of lectures in Cappagh Hall by Mr. O'Keefe, Agricultural Instructor, in November and December, and the Rural Departments are at present frequently visiting and examining the foreshore, perhaps they would include this matter in their "terms of reference."

The Sick List.—Quite a number of our prominent local young men have been, and some are still, on the "sick list." One, it is a pleasure to note, is once again on his feet, apparently almost as well as ever. Another is reported to be on the high road to recovery, while some others are still fighting a hard battle. It is some time since so many were knocked out at the one time. That is what makes the matter so conspicuous. It is sincerely to be hoped that one and all will soon be themselves again, and with youth and other factors on their side, we may confidently look forward to seeing them all moving about as usual amongst us in the very near future.

More Unemployment.—It is reported that quite a considerable number of men have been discharged from a local manufacturing industry of importance during the past week owing to the slackness in the demand for the product in question. And more's the pity! As this product is well known for its excellence all over the country, the slackness in demand would appear to be the result in the general dullness of trade prevailing all round. Up to the present year barley was purchased largely by local buyers, giving employment to a good number of men. This year, for the first time, there is no local purchaser, and day by day processions of carts laden with barley pass through our streets on their way to the village of Killeagh, where it is being bought up. This is a nasty blow not only to the poor labouring men who would be occupied in handling the corn, but also to the traders of the town generally. Wonder what is the cause of this new departure? Blow after blow at the prosperity of the more cosmopolitan trade, for it is ridiculous to talk about prosperity in those times—at the trade of our country towns, with nothing to compensate for the losses involved directly and indirectly. In spite of all that is happening every day under our eyes, we are still told that the Free State has turned the corner and that we are on the high road to great times. Go bhfoiridh Dia orrair orrair!

A Straw Shows How the Wind Blows.—This is a very old and oft-quoted saying, the truth of which cannot be gainsaid. And its application is almost universal. A walk along the Strand after last Sunday morning's storm suggested another way of looking at the saying. "A cork shows how the wine flows." From the gap at the railway terminus out to the promenade there were hundreds or, perhaps, thousands of corks collected in the water table, supposed to have been washed over by the morning's high tide. An observant onlooker, with a knowing wink, called the attention of a local resident to the unusual flotsam and jetsam. The latter stoutly denied the "wet" imputations and positively argued and steadfastly held that they came in from the sea, and that in all probability they must have been thrown overboard from some passing ship. If he was right, and we're not saying he was wrong, then she must have been a very big ship and the passengers and crew must have been having a very big booze. There was an occasional cork apparently belonging to a pickle bottle, but the vast majority had evidently at one time blocked the necks of bottles of stout or porter. The last "corker" of summer having long since returned to the bosom of his family, it would be nothing less than Pelotous to insinuate that the afore-said assortment of corks emanated landwards rather than seawards. To clear the matter up in a proper and satisfactory manner would require the aid of a local public inquiry, if indeed it would not call for the establishment of a "Royal"—a thousand pardons—a "State" Commission. As officials and engineers from the Lami Commission and other Departments are at present frequently visiting and examining the foreshore, perhaps they would include this matter in their "terms of reference."

Correction.—In the report of Youghal District, held on the 23rd inst., and which appeared in our columns last week, a rather awkward error occurred. A farmer from the adjoining portion of West Waterford was charged with selling butter containing 166 cent excess water. The name of the defendant was given as "Roger" Hynes, but it should have been "Joseph." As the butter was pronounced otherwise "beautiful" by the Department Inspector and he naturally felt no reflection on the maker, it was as much an advertisement as anything else. But the trouble is that there was a farmer named "Roger" Hynes in the same locality, and he naturally felt aggrieved at the publicity he unwittingly and undeservedly got. Therefore we tender him a sincere apology for the mistake and hasten to correct it at first available opportunity.

Go bhfoiridh Dia orrair orrair!"

Several complaints have been made during the past few years owing to the unsatisfactory state of the town water supply, as some of the pumps in Barrack street and elsewhere have been constantly out of order, which caused great inconvenience to the people living near them. A good deal of "linking" has been carried on from time to time with the defective pumps, but still there was no water forthcoming, and we were, therefore, glad to learn that at the meeting of the County Board of Health in Dungarvan last week Mr. Walter Con-way, Cappoquin, was appointed plumbing contractor for all the pumps in Cappoquin, Lismore, Tallow, Ballynally, etc., and as he is an experienced and highly-qualified mechanic, there will be no cause for complaint in future.

As elsewhere, mistakes that, although perhaps not absolutely unavoidable, still, between the writer, the "reader" and the printer, creep in occasionally. In one report of the same case the defendant's solicitor is reported correctly as having "agreed." No matter whose fault it really is, the poor Pressman is generally put down for it, and very frequently gets into pretty hot water. In this case it would appear to have been due to a "mishearing." However, all's well that ends well.

Power, Dungarvan, was present. Prior to the meeting being held a meeting of the Licensed Vintners' Protective Association took place. Senator Kennedy, chairman, presided, and before entering on the business of the meeting he called attention to the meeting of the licensed traders at Dungarvan and congratulated them on having drawn from the Minister of Justice an important although not too hopeful a pronouncement as to the future outlook. He then called on Mr. Martin O'Byrne to read the full report of the meeting from the "Dungarvan Observer," which gave great satisfaction to the meeting.

INTERESTING LOCAL ACTION OVER BALLINAMULT LANDS.

At Dungarvan Circuit Court on Thursday afternoon, before Mr. Justice Sealy, an interesting local action was heard in which Miss Kate Ryan, aged 12 years, per Mr. P. M. J. Spars, solr., for the plaintiff, and Mr. Esmond, B.L. (instructed by Mr. O'Connor, solr., Waterford) for defendant. The agreement entered into by the defendant in 1924 defendant had a grazing agreement with the late Mrs. Ryan, Ballinamult, and residential rights in the house. There was a new agreement each year. The agreement expired in January, 1925. There was a Probable suit and defendant withdrew his action.

Mr. Spars opposed any adjournment and said a decree had to be executed before defendant would leave the place. Unless defendant lodged £200 in court he would not agree to an adjournment. To give Mr. Spars a cheque for the amount, but Mr. Spars would only accept cash, and as the bank was closed the cash could not be produced.

The case was then heard at length, and evidence having been given by Mr. P. O'Connor, Miss Ryan, T. Browne and E. Fleming for plaintiff, and by the defendant, his sister, J. Cleary and T. Morrissey for the defence. His Lordship said defendant owed for 1924 a balance of £30 and for 1925 he would fix the amount at £100. For the chattels alleged to be taken by the defendant from the house he would fix the sum at £25. Total £235. Out of that he would give credit for £30 paid as rates and £10 of the defendant would hand back the watch he had got from Mrs. Ryan. Defendant here handed the watch to the court, whereupon his Lordship gave a decree for £165 with £5 expenses. Full report next week.

Dungarvan Urban Council

A finance meeting of the above was held on Friday night. Mr. M. Brennan, chairman, presided. Also present—Messrs. M. Griffin, R. Craig, P. Foley, J. Hackett, J. Butler, T.D.; Thos. McCarthy, J. Moore, T. Mahony, T. Power, J. Curran, M. Clancy.

Expenditure.
The general account for the week was £9 11s. 10d.; harbour account, £35 10s. 10d.; trunk road account, £8 11s. 10d. Payments were passed.

Harbour Rates.
Mr. Craig—What decision have you come to as regards the harbour rates?
Clerk—Goal to be increased to 4d. per ton; flour, 7d.; salt, oats and manure, 7d.; timber 4d., and a flat rate of 9d. per ton on all other commodities, subject to sanction.

Quay.
Mr. Craig—Is the watchman included in the pay sheet? Clerk—Yes.
Mr. McGrath, B.S.—We have to clear away the quay.
Mr. Craig—When do you propose taking down the crane?
Mr. McGrath, B.S.—We have to clear away the berth.
Mr. Keane—How is the quay account made up?
The Clerk read out the different items.
Chairman—There is no further need for a watchman and foreman.
Mr. McGrath—I think the harbour account very high this week.
Chairman—What did the auction realise? Clerk—That will come up.
Chairman—The money in the harbour account is exhausted.
Clerk—What will pay the wages and outstanding debt?
Mr. Griffin—I understood the proceeds of the sale went to harbour account.
Chairman—No, the proceeds will go to make up what we borrowed.
Clerk—The bank refuses to honour any more cheques. The trunk road and harbour accounts are overdrawn.
Mr. Griffin—Where are you going to put the stuff off the quay? I suggest it be put in Abbeyside.
Mr. Curran—We should advertise for tenders to shift the stuff.
Mr. McCarthy—There are only a few loads there.
Mr. Griffin—I think it is only fair to dump it in Abbeyside.
Chairman—It is easier to bring it to Cats' Lough.
The Borough Surveyor was ordered to get carters to remove the stuff to Cats' Lough.

Emmett Street Footpath.
The residents of Emmett street wrote asking the council to do something to the footpath as it was in a very bad state at present.
Mr. Power—To what use is the town's improvement rate put? Clerk—Mainly lighting.
Mr. Power—The path is very bad. The curb stones should be attended to.
Mr. Keane—Would the footpath require as much cement as the Friary street path? Borough Surveyor—Yes.
Mr. Clancy—We only made provision for two footpaths in our estimate.
Mr. Curran—We struck an improvement rate of £500. Where did it go to? Clerk—Lighting costs £300.
Mr. Clancy—We would want to incur some more expenditure to put some seats in the Park.
Mr. Curran—No use placing one thing against another.
Mr. Craig—We have no money for the Emmett street footpath. The matter was adjourned.

Water Tables.
Chairman—I would call the attention of the council to the water tables of Main street and Square. It is a very important question.
Mr. McCarthy—And Mary street also.
Mr. Clancy—When doing any all should be done.
Mr. Hackett—Some time ago an order was made to carry out work in Fair lane and nothing has been done. It is a scandal at present.
Borough Surveyor—We are getting the stone for it.
Mr. Hackett—You promised to send a man to remove the grass, but he hasn't come yet.
Mr. Moore—There is also an order for repairs to Patrick street which is not carried out.
Mr. Griffin—The work at Abbeyside Pond is not done yet.
Borough Surveyor—I can't do it now with the spring tides.
Mr. Griffin—You ought to eliminate the boundary between Abbeyside and Dungarvan altogether.

Thanks.
Letters were read from Rev. L. Egan, C.C., Dungarvan, and Rev. M. Dowley, Toureaneen, thanking the council for the resolution of sympathy passed by them on the death of Archdeacon Power.
