

Dungarvan Urban Council

Mr. M. Brennock, P.C., chairman, presided. Also present—Messrs. Wm. O'Donnell, vice-chairman; J. Curran, M. J. Keane, Michl. Clancy, T. J. Power, P. J. McGrath, M. Griffin, R. Craig, T. McCarthy, J. Moore, J. Hackett and J. Butler, T.D.

Expenditure. The expenditure for the week was as follows:—General account, £19 6s. 5d.; waterworks grant account, £46 10s. 3d. Payments were passed.

Government Grants. A letter was received from the L.G.B. re the above stating that all men employed on grants, etc., should be employed through the local Labour Exchange.

Mr. Butler—That is extraordinary. Grants are given to relieve distress, and the people who are in the greatest distress are those who cannot draw the dole. That was the first time he heard of that condition.

Mr. Keane—Will they repudiate the £750 if you don't carry out instructions.

Mr. Butler—I would suggest that the clerk be directed to apply for the amount of money expended up to date on that grant.

Mr. Keane—Are we giving any consideration to ex-army men? Some cases came under my notice lately and they are in a sad state.

Borough Surveyor—We have some of them on.

Mr. Clancy—Any distinction should not be made. Give the work to the most needy.

Applications for Town Hall. Mr. M. Curran, on behalf of the Imperial Ex-Servicemen's Association, applied for the use of the Hall on Thursday, 21st inst., for the purpose of holding a meeting. Granted.

Mr. J. Monahan, on behalf of the Gaelic League, applied for the use of the Green Room on Tuesdays and Fridays until Easter.

Mr. P. J. McGrath—Did we not decide that they should get it at last meeting at 2/6 per week?

Chairman—Will that be contrary to the notice of motion?

Mr. Butler—The notice of motion only mentioned the large room.

Mr. Griffin—Why not go on with the plastering? You will never get a report down. Mr. Strahan gave the final certificate for those houses and he is not going to condemn himself.

Mr. Craig—We were halting out water all day on Sunday.

Mr. Butler—I propose that in view of the fact that no report was received we consider the tenders.

Chairman—But will this specification cover all the repairs?

Mr. Curran—Will the borough surveyor state that these repairs will perfect the scheme?

The Borough Surveyor read the specification at this point?

Mr. Griffin—Is the string course to remain on?

Borough Surveyor—Yes. Mr. Strahan recommended that.

Mr. Griffin—Then Mr. Strahan did report.

The two tenders received were then opened.

Thomas Butler tendered to do the work for the sum of £75 14s. Patrick Humble, Abbeyside, tendered at £120.

Mr. Clancy—Do the contractors understand what they have to do?

Borough Surveyor—I think so.

Mr. Clancy—There is a big difference. Does Mr. Butler understand all the materials are to be supplied by contractor? Borough Surveyor—I think so.

Mr. Keane—How is it there is always something very vague about our tenders?

Mr. Clancy—I hold every section of the community were entitled to the Hall. He would ask Mr. Keane to stand down.

Mr. Keane—I have no authority to do so.

Mr. McGrath—If we see Fr. Walsh to-night?

Mr. Keane—I would be the best way.

Mr. McGrath—We were asked to support the application of the Children's Health Committee.

We are in the same position as Mr. Keane.

Mr. Butler—The feeding of the poor children should be the first consideration of the council.

Chairman—We do not want to treat the Friars badly, but for one night for a worthy object they should not mind as I know they won't.

Mr. Curran—I think the council should not ignore any wish coming from the Church.

Mr. Butler—I hope the council will consider the position of the poor children.

Mr. P. J. McGrath—If we stand down and be granted the Hall on another Sunday night it might meet the case.

Mr. Butler—Put the resolution.

Mr. Clancy—I think Mr. Curran's remark is very unfair to the council. Any member would not like to go against the wishes of the clergy no more than Mr. Curran. The Children's Health Committee are only asking for one night.

On a poll being taken Mr. Butler's proposition was passed by 9 votes to 2. Mr. Craig and Mr. McGrath did not vote.

Mr. Keane—Will you soon be as bad as France.

Mr. Clancy—That remark is very unfair to the council. The matter then ended.

Newly Built Houses. Mr. Griffin—Leave the houses.

Mr. Craig—The clerk often got instructions to prosecute landlords for smaller offences from the council, and now they are as bad themselves.

Tourists. The following letter was read from the Secretary of the Tourist Association:—If you arrange to give me some days' notice of your proposed meeting I shall have pleasure in either attending personally or sending a representative to same. I am very glad that Dungarvan is taking action with a view to securing more prominence and extra patronage from tourists, and I hope the results will justify the efforts of your council.—J. B. O'Brien, Secretary.

The Clerk was directed to call a meeting of the townspeteers concerned on Thursday next at 4 p.m. and to invite the Secretary of the Association.

Report of M.O.H. The following was read:—The gentlemen—I wish to submit to you my annual report. The general health of the district during the past six months has been very good. Infantile mortality was low. Only 10 deaths occurred amongst children under 1 year. There has been no outbreak of infectious disease. The general sanitary conditions are good. Amongst the working classes there are very few sanitary houses. The water supply has been greatly improved and there appears to be no serious shortage. A School Children's Meals Committee has been formed, which is doing excellent work, and has been of the greatest help to benefit the physical conditions of the poorer children. I wish to suggest to you the advisability of establishing a Child Welfare League for Dungarvan in which poorer children would have the advantage of a skilled nurse for advice and treatment. This scheme is giving excellent results in all centres where it is working, and would, if established, I am sure, give very satisfactory results here.—Yours obediently—Daniel McCarthy.

Sergt. Navin, Cappoquin, who effected the arrest of both prisoners (in custody) made a formal deposition asking for a remand to Cappoquin District Court on 28th January. Sullivan said after arrest: "I know very well here for some purpose, but I don't know what."

In reply to Mr. Hickey, P.C., Sullivan replied: "Not guilty, sir."

Flynn replied to the P.C. as follows: "All I have to say is I know nothing at all about them."

Both prisoners were then remanded in custody to Cork Jail and left by motor for that destination on the same night.

Chairman, Power, Clancy, Curran and Keane.

The Quay. Mr. Craig called attention to the state of the quay where it was newly built and stated that boats refused to go into the berth there as there were big stones down in it, and the roadway was in a bad condition there also.

Mr. Clancy called attention to the door of the Town Hall and Mr. Keane to the roof of same and Mr. Curran to a few streets, including Strand street.

Borough Surveyor—I will attend to the lot on Monday.

Sympathy. Mr. O'Donnell proposed, and Mr. Clancy seconded, a resolution of sympathy on the death of the late Mrs. Healy, Cork, which was passed in silence. Copies of the resolution were ordered to be sent to Mr. Healy, Cork, and Mr. L. Curran, Kilsorera.

Football Playing, Etc., on Streets. The following letter was read: Gentlemen—I wish to bring to your notice the very dangerous practice of allowing boys and young men to make a football pitch of the streets of the town. On Sunday, 3rd inst., while we were at dinner a football came through the window of the house and the broken glass gave my sister a very serious injury to her eye, so much so that she had to be detained in hospital, having to get six stitches in the wound, and were it not for the surgical skill of Dr. Hackett she would have probably lost the sight of her eye. Mitchell street is a regular play field for the young men of the town, and between cataputs, hurling, football kicking and stone-throwing, people there are not safe in life or limb, even in their own homes, and I think the council should move in the matter if for no other reason than the protection of their own property. This is not the first occasion on which the windows have been broken, and it is a general complaint with everyone in the street. I reported the occurrence of 3rd inst. to the Civic Guards. Trusting you will give this matter your attention.—Yours faithfully—(Miss) Rebecca J. Devereux.

After a discussion in which several members spoke of other damage done, the Clerk was directed to call on Supt. Murray with a view to getting the practice ended.

CATTLE STEALING NEAR CAPPOQUIN. SPECIAL COURT AT LISMORE.

The mysterious disappearance of six bullocks, the property of Mr. Michael McGrath, victualler and cattle dealer, Lismore, from off his lands at Drumree, Cappoquin, and value for £87, was the subject of a special court held at the Guards Barracks, Lismore, at 7 p.m. on Wednesday, before Mr. Andrew Hickey, P.C.

From particulars to hand it appears that the cattle were sold at Youghal Fair on Monday last and re-sold on the same day to a well-known Co. Cork cattle dealer, Mr. McGrath on being informed of the disappearance of his cattle by one of his employees on the farm with great presence of mind proceeded to Cork, the nearest port for despatch ex Youghal fair, and identified his missing cattle.

As a result of exhaustive inquiries the Civic Guards at Cappoquin effected the arrest of two farm labourers from Kilsbree, Cappoquin, named Owen Sullivan and John Flynn, and at the special court mentioned Supt. Glennon, Cappoquin, charged the men named "that they did on the night of the 17th or morning of 18th January unlawfully and feloniously steal, take and carry away six bullocks valued £87, the property of Michael McGrath, Lismore.

Sergt. Navin, Cappoquin, who effected the arrest of both prisoners (in custody) made a formal deposition asking for a remand to Cappoquin District Court on 28th January. Sullivan said after arrest: "I know very well here for some purpose, but I don't know what."

Flynn replied to the P.C. as follows: "All I have to say is I know nothing at all about them."

Both prisoners were then remanded in custody to Cork Jail and left by motor for that destination on the same night.

"I'LL SHOOT IF YOU DON'T GIVE IT UP."

A BREWER'S AGENT'S EXPERIENCE AT BALLYDUFF.

At Lismore District Court, before Mr. Farrell, B.L., D.J., a man named Daniel Barnett, Waterpark, Ballyduff, was charged by Supt. Glennon, Cappoquin, that while masked and armed he was engaged in the hold up with intent to rob one John Collins (Beamish and Crawford's agent) at Ballyduff on 31st December, 1925.

Defendant was not professionally represented, and had been remanded on bail.

The first witness examined was John Collins, Fernville, Lismore, agent to Messrs. Beamish and Crawford, who deposed he remembered 31st December, 1925, when he was at Ballyduff collecting accounts and left the village about 4.30 p.m. and had about £40 in his possession collected. He was going to Ballyduff railway station, which was about 1 1/2 miles. He had got as far as Mr. Orpin's wood at the right-hand side of the road going on his way to the station. Witness looked over the wall at the river and saw a man coming along in the wood up behind witness and near the railway station end of this wood. When this man came within three feet of him (Mr. Collins) he said: "I'll have the money now. I'll have the money now." At the same time pulling a revolver out of his inside overcoat pocket. He repeated these words a few times, and witness replied: "I have no money for you, sir." In reply he said, "Give it up, give it up." Witness repeated what he had said again. The man then said: "I'll shoot if you don't give it up," and repeated it several times. Witness replied he could not give it up. The man took two or three steps then from where he was standing and put his back to a tree and presented the revolver at witness. When witness saw him pull the trigger he turned his face away and went on to the station. It ended there.

The man had a dark overcoat fitting very tightly. He should say that the coat was not made for him, and wore a bowler hat or hard hat.

Accused—A hat, sir (laughter). Witness—He had a handkerchief or white thing over his face. He was about 5ft. 10ins. The interview lasted a few minutes. The accused asked him (witness) to stand a drink a few times that day in the village while he (witness) was transacting business. The last time defendant spoke to him was before this incident. Witness was walking to the station and noticed the accent of the man who held him up as he thought he spoke a peculiar way. When witness was half way to the station he looked back and saw a man walking quickly after him on the road. Witness noticed a similarly he saw the accent of the man who asked him for the drink in the village and that of the man who held him up subsequently.

Cross-examined—If a child held you up would you say it was the man who asked you for a Christmas box in the village? Witness—I did not swear it was you?

Accused—You asked me to advocate for Beamish porter and I told you Guinness would break the cement floor (laughter). Continuing, accused admitted asking the witness for a Christmas box.

In reply to a query from the Justice, the accused replied that he had a number of witnesses to be examined.

Justice—Very well. I cannot remain here the whole night. I will adjourn this case until next court allowing the defendant out on bail, a fresh bail bond to be prepared.

Mr. R. Meagher, Ballinacorney, Ballyduff, came forward and said he would be thankful if the Justice finished the case that afternoon as he was one of the witnesses and it would mean losing another day coming in ten miles to the court.

Justice—When the County Council provides a courthouse here I am prepared to dispose of the business. We are here in this library all day depriving the people it's intended for of reading. It is very lax on the part of the County Council in not providing proper court facilities for CHILDREN'S HEALTH COMMITTEE.

A meeting of the above was held in the Town Hall on Monday evening. Mr. T. J. Power, chairman, presided. Also present—Misses Forde, McCarthy, Anthony, Keohan, Keefe, Foley, Dr. McCarthy; Messrs. J. Butler, T.D.; P. J. McGrath, W. O'Donnell, T. McCarthy, and Miss M. K. Casey, hon. sec.

The Hon. Sec. reported that 826 luncheons were served out to the necessitous boys and girls attending the Convent Schools, Christian Brothers and Abbey-side Schools during the past week. There was a slight increase on the previous week.

Dr. McCarthy—The scheme is working very satisfactory, and I am glad to state that there is an improvement in the condition of the children who are getting the free luncheons. It is really wonderful what a lot of good can be effected on a small outlay when administered with care and economy.

Mr. Butler agreed and said he would be in Dublin soon and would report the satisfactory working of the scheme to the Minister and ask him to consent to make a grant towards the upkeep of the scheme.

Chairman—Mr. Butler is wonderfully active in obtaining for the town an equitable share of Government grants, and if there is any fund available for relief in this way we can rest assured that Mr. Butler will soon find out all about it and we will not be forgotten.

Mr. McCarthy—At the last meeting of the Urban Council we were granted the use of the large room to hold a Whist Drive on Sunday, January 31st. Would it not be well to start making arrangements so as to make the Whist Drive a success?

Mr. Butler—Yes, we should offer good prizes and have it advertised well.

At this stage several members promised to contribute to the prize list, and so generous were these contributions that it was decided to give a special prize of two guineas to the lady who scores the highest, and a special prize of two guineas to the gentleman who scores the highest, and in addition the usual prizes.

The arrangements were taken charge of by a Sub-Committee, who will spare no pains to make the Whist Drive most enjoyable and successful.

Kilmacthomas News

At the Local Temperance Hall on the evening of the 14th inst. Mr. O'Duffy, Inspector of the and Agriculture, delivered a Ministerial Department of Lands highly eloquent, instructive and interesting lecture on the management and feeding of dairy cows. A big gathering of farmers from the immediate neighbourhood and surrounding districts were in attendance.

The Currahaha School Debt.—A further Whist Drive in aid of the above will be brought off on this (Friday) evening at Mr. E. Hill's Cinema. With capital prizes, comfortable seating, etc., a bumper gathering is anticipated.

East Waterford Hounds met at Guineag Cross on Tuesday when an excellent day's sport was immensely enjoyed by a record muster of enthusiastic riders.

Important Decision re Watered Milk.—Mr. McCabe, D.J., at Carrick-on-Suir District Court dismissed a charge against Patrick Smyth of selling milk containing 9 per cent. of added water when it was admitted by Guard Bennett that he was in the shop when the milk was placed upon the counter by the woman who sold the milk to the shop and the milk was not touched by the defendant before the sample for analysis was taken. The Justice said if the woman who sold the milk to the shop was in court he would fine her heavily.

Such an important town as this. Very important business is down for disposal here in this, which was a Quarter Sessions district. The accommodation in this place is insufficient and the air poisonous, and he hoped the County Council would take immediate action before he should take drastic action.

LISMORE LARCENY CASE.

At Lismore District Court, before Mr. Farrell, B.L., D.J., Supt. Glennon, Cappoquin, charged Kate Galvin, a domestic servant, who had been employed by Mr. Jas. G. Duke, Co.C., at Deeppark, Lismore, with the larceny of a leather purse which contained four £1 notes, the property of James O'Neill, another employee of Mr. Duke's, on the 12th December, 1925.

Depositions had already been made in the case before Mr. A. Hickey, P.C., and the defendant remanded on bail to this court. Defendant was not professionally represented.

Jas. O'Neill, farm labourer, employed at Mr. Duke's, Deeppark, deposed he remembered the 6th December, 1925. On that day he went to Ballysaggart for some money when he got a £5 note and returned to Mr. Duke's, where he slept on the same date. He had this money until 8th December when he changed it at Mr. Jas. Ahearne's. Witness spent some of the money and placed four single £1 notes and a half sovereign note in a purse in his trousers pocket. On the following Friday witness gave the 10s. note to a man in the yard at Mr. Duke's.

At the time witness was in his trousers pocket, and this trousers was hanging up in his room. On Saturday night he borrowed 10s. was returned and witness was about putting it into the purse, but he could not find the purse or anything (laughter) and his pocket was empty. Witness gave no one permission to take the purse, which he last saw about 12.30 p.m. after lending the money. The trousers were then hanging on a line in the room where another working man also slept. Kathleen Galvin (accused) also worked in the same house at Mr. Duke's and was employed there in December last as a domestic servant.

The accused declined to cross-examine.

Sergt. Daly, Lismore, stated he proceeded to Mr. Duke's at Deeppark, Lismore, on the 24th December, 1925, and was armed with a warrant to search for the stolen money—£4 single £1 notes and a leather purse, the property of James O'Neill, workman, alleged to be stolen on the 12th December. Witness questioned Kathleen Galvin, accused, and searched her room under the warrant. She was present, and in a poramanteau stated to be her property witness found the purse (produced) containing 3 single notes (produced). The purse is not the one described in the warrant. He arrested accused on this charge and gave her the usual caution and she made a voluntary statement which he read and she signed as follows:—I took the purse out of James O'Neill's trousers pocket on the evening of the 12th December, 1925. The purse contained 3 £1 notes, the same £3 notes as found by you in my poramanteau in my room. I lost the purse going to Lismore on the following Sunday evening. It contained four single shillings.

Accused declined to ask the witness any questions.

The Justice, having perused the depositions, said that under the Courts Justices Act, 1924—it being a minor offence—he had power to deal summarily with the case, and after having fully explained the matter to accused, the latter expressed a wish to have the case disposed of by the Justice.

The father of the accused made an appeal on behalf of his daughter, whom he said was young, and although he was a poor man he would pay O'Neill the missing £1 note.

Justice—Payment is not an answer to the crime. I hesitate to send a youngster to jail, which I could do, as she admits taking £3 of the notes. He, however, would give her the benefit of the Probation of Offenders Act, and ordered that she enter into bail of £10 herself and her father for a further £10 for 12 months.

The four £1 notes were ordered to be handed back to O'Neill, the father of the accused paying up the missing £1.

Dairy Shorthorn Society.
CO. WATERFORD BRANCH BULL SHOW AND SALE.

At a meeting of the above at the Courthouse, Dungarvan, on Saturday last, Lady Susan Davney, president, was in the chair. There were also present—Messrs. N. Fitzgerald, Co. C.; D. Dempsey, T. Flynn, Coolmagour; P. Morrissey, Ballycoo; J. Greene, John O'Keefe; Kilmacdon; T. Flynn, Tournaneua; J. Lynch; Ballybricken; W. Curran, Clashmore; J. Power and W. Ryan, Supervisors; T. J. Hickey, Inspector C.T.A.; P. O'Keefe, Agricultural Instructor; J. O'Dwyer, Secretary County Committee, etc.

Pay Up or Else—
With regard to the non-payment of many members of Cow-Testing Associations of 3d. per cow towards the Society, Mr. J. O'Keefe thought steps should be taken to have that small sum paid up, and pressure should be brought to bear on the parties in default in connection with the matter.

Mr. Fitzgerald—We should insist on the 3d. per cow being paid up before the entries were closed for the Show and Sale, and if it were not paid up then such members should be charged for entry fees on the basis of non-members.

Mr. Flynn said they had a rule fixing the entry fees for members and non-members, and they could enforce that in regard to those exhibitors who had not paid up.

Mr. Greene suggested that the several Supervisors should bring that under the notice of their members and impress upon them that unless they pay up the 3d. per cow they must pay the same entry fees for the Bull Show and Sale as non-members.

It was agreed that each Supervisor should send in a list to the Secretary of the Dairy Shorthorn Breeders' Association of the members of his Association who had not contributed the 3d. per cow, and in future no notice of meetings should be sent to Associations in default.

Appointment of Auctioneer.
In connection with the arrangements for the coming Bull Show and Sale on March 25th, Mr. Fitzgerald said the committee appointed at the last meeting interviewed Fitzgerald Bros., Ballybricken, and they were informed their yard was available any day except a fair day, so there was no trouble about that.

As to the appointment of an auctioneer, they had a big number of applications, and the committee after considering them reduced them to 3 viz.—Messrs. T. Walsh and Son, Waterford; J. D. Palmer, do., and Messrs. Shee and Have, Carrick.

After considering the terms put forward by each of the three firms mentioned, Mr. Dempsey proposed that Mr. Palmer be appointed auctioneer for the sale, and said he was sure he would give every satisfaction. Mr. Lynch seconded.

Mr. T. Flynn—What was the feeling of the committee on the question?
Mr. Fitzgerald—The feeling of the majority was that Mr. Palmer would get it.
Mr. Palmer was appointed auctioneer unanimously.

Lismore District Court

Before Mr. Farrell, B.L., D.J.

Jas. Greedy sued John Tobin and Andrew Coleman (junr.) for 13 1/2 tons and 2 loads of manure—13 1/2 tons and 2 loads of furze. Mr. E. Carroll, solr., Fermoy, asked leave to defend, which was granted.

The Justice expressed the opinion that he could not deal with the case.

Mr. Ryan, solr. for plaintiff, said he would amend the civil bill to £10, which would give the Justice power.

Mr. Carroll said there was a nice point of law involved, and held that if the Justice had not jurisdiction at the outset it was illegal now also for him to deal with it, and the case of Carellon and the Circuit Judge decided that.

Justice—I am not at liberty to deal with it.

By consent the civil bill was amended to £10 and the name Wm. Greedy substituted for Jas. Greedy.

Evidence was given by Wm. Greedy and the defendants, John Tobin and Andrew Coleman.

Decree for £1 was granted.

Jas. Prendergast, Bridane, summoned John Dunne, 20th December did unlawfully and through express malice by looks and conduct on the public road did put complainant in fear and terror.

Mr. E. Carroll, solr., for complainant, and Mr. Williams, solr., defended.

After having the evidence of complainant and his wife for the prosecution and that of the defendant, the Justice said he would dismiss the case.

The civil bill brought by John Campion against J. F. O'Donnell was adjourned to next court on the application of Mr. J. F. Williams.

Licensing Case.

The Attorney-General, at the suit of Supl. Glennon, Cappoquin, summoned Mrs. Alice Feeney for an alleged breach of the Licensing Act on December 17th, 1925. Mr. E. A. Rice, solr., Fermoy, defended.

Supl. Glennon proved the case and in evidence stated at 11 p.m. he saw light in the shop of defendant and knocked four times before being admitted by the publican, who asked first who was there, and he replied Superintendent of the Guards. "Wait until I get the key," the publican answered, and soon after opened the door. Witness found no one on the premises except five or six glasses on the counter, one of which contained half a bottle of stout. When going to listen to the door he heard men's voices. When he searched the yard he found a man who was not a bona fide traveller.

In cross-examination—the men could be on the premises without her consent. He was quite confident he heard men's voices on the premises when knocking. The back door was not locked.

To the Court—There was light in the shop. He would have been 8 to 10 minutes knocking. On his fourth knock there was a bit of confusion in the shop. There was talking upstairs and downstairs.

Mrs. Feeney, in evidence, stated that the only parties on the premises that night after 10 p.m. were Guards Allen and Rice, who searched the premises and left. At 10.30 p.m. she heard the knock, but gave it no heed, thinking it was the lady next door for milk. When she asked who was there the voice answered Inspector, and she wondered what Inspector could be there at that hour at night, and went upstairs and put her head out the window to see. The Superintendent passing through the shop took the bolt off the back door and went into the yard. The yard gate was locked and she did not see the man found in the yard until he was brought in by the Superintendent.

Cross-examined—She was not at the back of the door when the Superintendent knocked. It was only her two sons that were in the shop at the time.

To the Court—The man could have got into the yard either over McCarthy's or Croft's wall at the back. She heard the Superintendent swear the back door was not locked, but her recollection was he pulled back the bolt.

Supl. Glennon—My explanation of that is that the back door was not even closed. It was wide open on the occasion.

Hannah Murphy, barmaid, in evidence denied the presence of anyone on the premises after 10 p.m. that night except the two sons of Mrs. Feeney. At 10.15 p.m. two Guards visited the premises.

To the Court—They had cocoa in the kitchen and the washing up of the glasses was not done every night.

Mr. Rice, solr., said it was a case in which the publican ought to get the benefit of the doubt.

The Justice reviewed the evidence at length and said to his Youghal Notes.

The Harbour still presents a very empty and dreary appearance. The fond hopes of a friendly invasion by a substantial squadron of trawlers—"windjammers," "steamers" and "motors"—have been realised only to a very limited extent. For the first time for over a month the welcome hooting of a steamer was heard one evening last week, notifying the incoming of a part cargo of flour to Mr. J. Murphy.

This was followed later by the arrival of two fishing lads with a net full of fish, intended to be discharged at the "Bridges" Quay, but for some reason or other, the craft was berthed at Green's Quay. Here the coal was unloaded and filled into farmers' carts, at the instance of the Co-operative Society, hailing from the adjoining district of West Waterford.

Great disappointment was caused by the non-arrival of a number of sailing vessels, whose advent has been expected for some time past. It was thought that with the fair wind from the East prevailing for the past week they would have succeeded in making the trip. The small craft that did come in must have been sheltering in some adjoining harbour for its said that none of the others had left their ports across Channel. The last gale on Saturday night was followed by a further change in the wind. At present it is all westerly and therefore dead against them. In addition their must be very heavy weather at the other side. This means another delay, lengthened, perhaps, as long as it will come to be. It was thought that they would arrive they will be heartily welcome, giving employment to a good number of men who are now completely idle.

The vagaries of the weather were again illustrated on Monday. It was fair day locally and a large number of people came in from all the surrounding countryside. The morning was dry, but as long as it will come to be. This was rather awkward, but it could be put up with. It might not have been as thick as a London fog, but it was thick enough to be very inconvenient. But the lack of the weather was not content with that. Some time before noon the fog materialised into a thick, drenching drizzle, which lasted for a considerable time.

The Local Garda Síochána have been very active of late, giving practical display of their determination to see that the law is respected in all its ramifications as far as it comes within their jurisdiction, and to bring all offenders to book and to justice. If any of the "nerdo-wells" that infest the place think they can walk off with the sack of their evil deeds, they are, judging by recent events, living in fool's paradise, that might quickly be transformed into a "Rogue's March" to Cork or Waterford Jail. The new police force—if very long in being. It is therefore, working without the long and varied experience of its predecessor of the old regime. Nevertheless they have done and are doing remarkably well. As will be seen by a report in our columns of a Circuit Court (criminal cases) held in the City of Cork last week, one of the local Garda, Sgt. O'Sullivan, was highly praised by his Lordship Judge Kenny, the Proc. State solicitor and others, for the prompt and skilful manner in which he had handled an important case of larceny, involving hundreds of pounds worth of articles taken by a girl from her employer on the Strand at Youghal. Previous to that the sergeant had done work which had earned similar encomiums from the local bench. In fact, however, he has gone one better by the clever capture of an Englishman, charged with the embezzlement of some £7,000 from a metropolitan Borough Council, and who thought himself perfectly safe from detection under an assumed name at Youghal. As long as the Garda Síochána have in their ranks men like Sgt. O'Sullivan, of Youghal, and others "of that ilk" elsewhere all over the country, the common law-abiding people can rest assured that any attempts on their rights, liberties or property by evildoers will meet the justly and punishment they justly deserve.

The Salmon Fishing on the River Blackwater opens on the 1st inst. and a most important one at that. It employs hundreds of men along and adjoining the sea coast and up the river, nominally for six months each year, providing means of maintenance of a large number of families. In Youghal Urban Council.

Main Roads Question.

The following letters were read—"Oig Na Camhairt, Mainistir Fhearmuighé, 13th January, 1926. A Chair—In reply to your letter of the 9th inst. regarding the main roads in the urban district, I am directed to say that my council agree with your suggestion that a deputation should wait on the Minister for the subject. The council didn't appoint the members of the deputation pending the selection of the date—Miss Le mes—Wm. Sheehan, Town Clerk."

"Midleton, 13th January, 1926. Dear Sir—I am directed by the Midleton Urban District Council to acknowledge the receipt of your letter of the 9th inst. on the subject of the main roads, and to state that my council as regards the proposed transfer of the main roads to the County Council, I am to add that this council will support the other Urban Councils in the county in any action which they decide to take with a view to prevent the Order of the Department coming into operation—Yours faithfully—Jerome J. Ronayne."

Carnegie Free Libraries.

A letter was read from the Carnegie Free Library Trust inviting the council to send a deputation to a proposed Conference in Dublin.

Unemployment Grants.

Mr. McMahon said he had seen that the Midleton Urban Council had got £300 for the relief of unemployment.

The Clerk said they had already got a grant.

The Chairman said their claim was in and they were fairly safe.

Election of Chairmen.

The Clerk said that the election of Chairmen would take place on 30th January.

Mr. Troy—That is a Saturday.

Mr. McMahon—Business is so pressing we can't attend (laughter).

Concert.

Mr. Dan Hobbs, Cork, applied for the use of the Town Hall on the 26th to hold a concert.

Mr. Powkes said there was a local concert coming off and that might interfere with it.

Mr. McMahon—Let them all come.

On the proposition of Mr. O'Gorman, seconded by Mr. Broderick, the application was granted unanimously.

Sympathy.

The Chairman said they all regretted to learn that two sisters of the Presentation Convent had recently met bereavements. The town was under many obligations to the good Sisters of that community. They imparted a superior and practical education to the children, they cooked and served the meals for the necessitous school children and performed many other good acts. He therefore proposed that the council tender, through their Town Clerk, their sincere sympathy to Sister Martha on the death of her sister and to Sister Joachim on the death of her brother.

Mr. Broderick seconded the proposition, which was joined in by other councillors and the clerk and passed.

Improvements Committee.

The Clerk said the report of the Improvements Committee. Regarding the applications of Mr. J. L. Keane, solr., on behalf of Mr. D. Bonovan, they had visited the place and unanimously decided to recommend the council to grant the small plot applied for at a rent of 10s. yearly, the letting to be at the pleasure of the council.

On the proposition of Mr. Kenneally, seconded by Mr. Broderick, the council unanimously decided to grant the application.

The committee also reported in favour of filling up the dangerous channel way on the sea wall promenade opposite the railway terminus.

It was proposed by Mr. Farrell, seconded by Mr. Broderick, and passed unanimously, that the necessary work be done.

The Chairman said the work would come into the estimates for the next year.

The Clerk said that the Town Surveyor had stated that the work could be done by direct labour at less cost.

Chairman—Leave it in the hands of the surveyor.

This was agreed to.

Military and Water Rate.

Replying to a councillor, the Clerk said that the Military Authorities had not yet paid the water rate applied for. There were now two years' rates due for the local barracks.

Mr. McMahon proposed that

County Waterford Board of Public Health.

At the meeting of the Waterford County Board of Public Health last week, Mr. P. O'Gorman, chairman, presiding.

Insurance.

A circular was read from the Secretary General Council of the County Councils re the above, and asking the board for their support of the company.

Mr. Butler—Is this company registered?

Secretary—You approved of the change at the Board of Public Assistance.

Mr. Conway moved that they adopt the suggestion, and the Secretary was instructed to transfer the policies as they became due.

Loss on Cottages.

A list of cottages in the Lismore area requiring repairs was received from the engineer, the cost in only a few cases being below £20.

Chairman—The yearly loss in the Lismore district is £782. It repairs every year for some years back reach £500. The number of cottages in the area is 230.

Secretary—The yearly cost per cottage in the Dungarvan area is about 12s. per cottage.

Mr. Kiersey—I suggest if you have one man for Best and one man for West Waterford to look after the repairs.

Mr. McAuliffe—How would it be if you get two builders and disburse with engineers?

Mr. Conway—Then you must have an engineer's certificate for work done.

Chairman—I have turned the matter upside down and the only way to do it is to give the cottages something less and make the tenants responsible for the repairs.

Mr. Butler—This board would require the assistance of an engineer or two. The Board of Public Assistance have several dispensing, etc., while the Board of Public Health have cottages, water schemes, etc., to be looked after.

Chairman—We can employ as we go along.

Mr. Butler—Then if you have a cottage that will require, say, 45s., for repairs to send an engineer to see it would cost more than the job. If the matter was put on the agenda for next meeting.

It was decided to put the matter on the agenda for next meeting. In the meantime tenders were to be issued for contractors for the Lismore area.

New Public Bodies Order.

The Secretary stated he had received a copy of the above, which was very elaborate and prescribed a list of new forms, etc.

Mr. Butler proposed, and Mr. Daik seconded, that every member of a board should be supplied with a copy of the order.

The proposition was passed.

They instruct their solicitors, Messrs. Hodnett and Sons, to inform the authorities that they would have to cut off the water supply if the amount due was not paid without further delay.

Mr. Broderick—That is by no means drastic, seeing that the matter is going on for the past two years.

The Clerk said he had had a visit from a military officer, who was inquiring into the matter and who informed him that it was receiving attention (laughter).

The proposition was passed unanimously.

Same Clock—Different Times.

Mr. O'Gorman drew attention to the fact that the three sides of the town clock indicated different times.

The Chairman said it was stated that some of the spindles were worn out and would have to be replaced.

The Clerk said the clock was made in 1852.

Chairman—No, but in 1862 it was made at Cork, held by the Corporation, and subsequently purchased by the then Town Commissioners.

The Clerk was directed to call the attention of the contractor to the complaint.

COUNTY WATERFORD ASSOCIATION OF THE IRISH FARMERS' UNION.

MEETING OF THE COUNTY EXECUTIVE.

The monthly meeting of the County Executive Committee of the above Association was held in Egan's Hotel, Dungarvan, on Saturday, 9th inst., at 1 p.m. Mr. Alex Heskin presided in the early stages of the proceedings, the chair being subsequently taken by Mr. N. Wall, T.D. There was a representative attendance of delegates from the following branches—Ballinacorney, Lismore, Fews, Grange, Dungarvan, Kinsalebeg, Talow, Kibrien, Kilrossanly, Portlaw, Garranbane, Clashmore, Newtown, Kill and Bonmahon, Stradbally, etc.

The minutes of the previous meeting held in Waterford having been read were signed.

On the proposition of Mr. David Coghlan, Co. Co., seconded by Mr. Patrick Power, resolutions of sympathy were passed in silence to Mrs. R. Walsh, Ballinacorney, on the death of her husband, an esteemed and valued member of the Union; and to Mr. William Dowley, hon. secretary Carrickbeg branch, on the death of his father.

Arising out of the reports received from the branches throughout the county, the Executive unanimously adopted the following resolution:—"That the County Executive of the County Waterford Association of the Irish Farmers' Union, wish it to be generally known that a hearty welcome will be extended to fox-hunters from England who wish to spend the winter in a county where there is no foot and mouth disease, little hard weather, plenty of foxes, very little wire, and good horses obtainable."

All reasonable precautions to be taken against introduction of foot and mouth disease.

Re Game Acts.
A resolution in connection with the Game Acts was ordered to be placed on the agenda for the meeting of the Executive in Dungarvan in the month of March.

Hours of Fairs.
Arising out of a resolution received from a recent Conference of public bodies held in Cork, the Executive decided—"That no sale of live stock should be legally transacted before 8 a.m. on fair mornings." The Secretary was instructed to communicate the Executive's wishes to the Department of Lands and Agriculture. Mr. Nicholas Wall, T.D., to interview the Minister in connection with the matter. Resolutions received from the Butlerstown and Garranbane branches were adjourned to future meetings.

Sugar Beet Growing.
Mr. P. O'Keefe, County Inspector, addressed the meeting on the growing of sugar beet, and in the course of his address pointed out the suitability of Co. Waterford for the cultivation of sugar beet.

At the conclusion of Mr. O'Keefe's address Mr. Kelly of the Department of Agriculture addressed the meeting.

YOUGHAL FARMERS AND BANK.

ALLEGED OVERDRAFT.

JUDGMENT APPLICATION REFUSED.

Before Mr. Justice Hanna, in the case of the Munster and Leinster Bank, Ltd. v. Thomas Fitzgerald, Mr. Binchy (instructed by Mr. J. L. Keane) applied, on behalf of the plaintiffs, for final judgment in £1,131 17s. 6d., alleged to be due by the defendant, a farmer of Dysert, Youghal, Co. Cork, principal and interest on foot of his overdraft at the Youghal branch of the plaintiff's bank.

Mr. Wm. B. Black (instructed by Mr. Samuel Eastwood) opposed the application on behalf of the defendant, who denied that he owed the money alleged to be due by him. In an affidavit, the defendant stated that he always kept his account in the Bank of Ireland. The only transaction he had with the plaintiff's bank was as surety in connection with a loan of £1,000.

The defendant's brother, Patk. Fitzgerald, farmer, of Listigue, Ardmore, stated in an affidavit that the defendant opened a current account at the plaintiff's bank in Youghal on January 27th, 1921, and drew a cheque for £1,000 in his favour, which the defendant owed him. He (Patrick) lodged that £1,000 on deposit in his own name and signed a guarantee to the bank, guaranteeing the defendant's liabilities on foot of the account. About two years afterwards the defendant offered to secure him if he opened a current account instead of himself, and he refused to do so. It was also stated in the affidavit that the defendant had cleared off and sold 18 head of cattle he had on his Waterford farm, and that the only animal in the place now was a donkey. Mr. Justice Hanna refused the application for final judgment, costs to be costs in the cause.

Cork Circuit Court.

YOUGHAL CASES.

Postman Charged.
Thomas Barrett was charged with the larceny of postal packets the property of the Minister of Posts and Telegraphs.

Mr. J. Kavanagh, B.L. (instructed by Messrs. Hodnett, solrs., Youghal) represented the accused.

Mr. Casey explained that Barrett was a rural postman, who had been employed at Youghal since 1920, at 27s. 6d. per week. About the 12th October last a man named Hurley, living in Leeds, posted to his sister, Mrs. Coleman, living at Kippogoe, Youghal, a letter which contained £1, but which never reached her. On the 14th October, however, a letter was delivered at her house, franked with a J.D. stamp, and purporting to be from her brother. The writing on the envelope or in the letter was not the handwriting of Mrs. Coleman's brother, and she became suspicious. It was found that the letter was a copy of the letter sent by Mr. Hurley, except that the sentence "I enclose you £1" was omitted, and the £1 was not there. Mr. Justice, who came to investigate the matter, interviewed the accused, who admitted he had changed the letter, and taken the £1. When accused's house was searched there were some letters and a P.C. found.

Evidence in support of this statement was given by Mr. Colbert, P.M., Youghal; Thomas Hurley, Mrs. Coleman, and Mr. Justice, Detective Sergt. O'Neill and Sergt. Sullivan.

When arrested the accused, in a lengthy statement, said he made a false confession to the whole lot through sheer fright. Mr. Kavanagh contended that according to the case decided in 1905, of the King v. Knight and Thayer, the statement made by the accused to Mr. Justice was not admissible.

Judge Kenny said it should be remembered that he had recently made strong observations as to post office investigations, and statements made by post office clerks and others while questions were being asked them about alleged defalcations. Every case must stand on its own legs, and in the present instance, that where he was satisfied, as he was Inspector had conducted his negotiations properly, he would admit them.

The accused was then called, and in reply to Mr. Kavanagh, he said he served with the Munster Fusiliers during the war, and was twice wounded, one of those wounds being in the head. When he was discharged he went to the R.A.M.C. when he got the letter for Mrs. Coleman he pointed out to another man that it only bore J.D. stamp, and he delivered it as he got it. Mr. Justice actually persuaded him that it was his handwriting, though he denied it for nearly an hour and a half. When witness would not admit that it was his writing, he sent Sergt. O'Neill away to search the house. Mr. Justice kept at him until he got into a collapsed condition. Mr. Justice wrote out a statement of his own without asking witness a single word. He did not interfere in any way with the letter, and he did not know the contents of the letter at all.

Replying to Mr. Casey, the witness said one of the letters found in his house had been taken out of his bag by one of the children, when he called there to have his breakfast.

His Lordship—Why did you write yourself down a thief for any Inspector? I got excited. Why didn't you say: "How dare you charge me with stealing £1?" He threatened me with arrest.

His Lordship said the defence seemed to him to be one of the most improbable and ridiculous stories that could be put before a jury. He would hand up certain documents for the inspection of the jury, but, as to the testimony of handwriting experts, they were impostors, and in support of this he referred to the case of Adolf Beck, who, on the evidence of a man who made a living for many years as one of those experts, was sentenced to five years or seven years on what proved to be a false charge. Beck subsequently received a free pardon and £5,000 compensation.

The jury, after an absence of an hour, found the prisoner guilty of larceny and receiving, and the foreman, Mr. John Buckley, Cove, said the jurors asked him to strongly recommend the prisoner to mercy in consequence of his physical and mental debility and the circumstances in which he was placed at the time owing to family affairs.

His Lordship said if it were not for the recommendation of the jury he would impose a sentence to take effect at once, but as accused had been hitherto a man of good character what he would do was he would record a sentence of six months, and if he behaved himself for the next 12 months it would not be enforced. This announcement was received with an outburst of applause at the back of the court, which was promptly silenced.

Larceny.
Maria O'Donovan, a native of Ballinglanna, Clonakilly, pleaded guilty to the larceny of a quantity of jewellery and wearing apparel from Mrs. Murphy, Strand, Youghal, with whom she had been employed as a domestic servant.

Mr. Joseph McCarthy (instructed by Mr. J. L. Keane, solr.), who represented the accused, said she had been in service with Mrs. Dr. Whelpley for eight years, and that lady gave her a high character, while he also had testimonials from business people. All the articles had been returned and not one atom of the property of Mrs. Murphy had been lost owing to those depositions since August and her mother would undertake to let her out to service again if his Lordship would give her a chance. He would like to say that Sergt. Sullivan deserved the highest praise for the manner in which he had handled the case and recovered the property.

Mr. Casey—He has done his work splendidly in this case, as, indeed, he did with every case that came before him.
Judge Kenny said the accused had pleaded guilty to the larceny of articles, value about £223. She was very young and had been in custody for some months. The case was so serious that he could not avoid recording a sentence of one year, which would not be enforced provided she behaved herself for two years. She would not also have to find bail in two sureties of £20 each.

Kilmacothomas District Court.

Before Mr. McCabe, D.J.

Possession of a House.
Mr. Arthur Hunt, Rockmount, sought an ejection order against an ex-employee of his named Mee. Dee. Mr. Williams, solr., Dungarvan, appeared for applicant.

Mr. Hunt stated Dee had been in his employment until October last. He had the use of the house in question only while he remained in his service. He left Dee stayed on in his employment at the time. When Dee's services ended he told him he required the house, but would be prepared to leave him in occupation over the winter months provided the latter signed an agreement to that effect. Dee, however, declined to do this. As Dee became unwell he refused to take it. He had the house twice that day he never called him (Dee) out. Mr. Hunt brought him into the house as a labourer. He offered to work for him after his illness, but Mr. Hunt wouldn't take him on.

Justice—Did Mr. Hunt accept rent from you at any time? Dee—No, sir. I offered him rent, but he refused to take it.
Kilmacothomas—Two

Justice—It appears to me that Mr. Hunt dealt most leniently with you, while you were unreasonable with him. I have no option but to grant a decree, which would take effect immediately. I could grant a stay of execution provided Mr. Hunt is satisfied.
Mr. Hunt—I don't want to be unreasonable.
Mr. Williams then intimated that his client was willing to agree to a stay of two months, and the Justice decided accordingly.

Transfer of License.
Mr. E. A. Ryan, solr., Dungarvan, applied on behalf of Mrs. Crotty, Leamybrien, for a transfer of the license recently held by Mrs. Wharton. The necessary title deeds having been produced and no objection being offered on the part of the Guards, the application was granted.

Cruelty to a Pony.
Guard Twamley, Stradbally, prosecuted Patk. Hartly for working a pony while suffering from sores. Fined 10s. and costs.

Wandering Animals.
Guard Cummins, Kill, prosecuted Ed. Kearns, Ed. McCarthy and Jas. Corcoran for allowing animals, their property, to wander on the public road on recent dates.

Kearns and McCarthy were each fined 2s. and costs and Corcoran is. and costs.

Licensing Case.
Supt. Keenan v. Elizabeth De Lacy, Kilmacothomas. In the absence of Mr. O'Connor, solicitor, Waterford (who is appearing for the publican) the case was adjourned to next court.

A FARMER AND HIS MONEY.

ACCUSED RETURNED FOR TRIAL.

At Lismore District Court a young man named Michael Collins was charged in custody by Supt. Glennon, Cappoquin, with the larceny of £2 11s. and a handkerchief, the property of James Spillane, farmer, Shean, Ballyduff, on 31st December, 1925.

During the taking of depositions it was stated by Supt. Glennon and Sergt. Kelly that the defendant was a deserter from the National Army, and the authorities only asked to be informed the result of the court proceedings in this case.

The Justice said he was hearing the case just as if accused were an ordinary civilian, and the fact of it being mentioned that he was a deserter had no bearing on him.

The first witness examined was James Spillane, farmer, of Shean, Ballyduff, who deposed that on 30th December, 1925, the accused (Michael Collins) was stopping at witness's house. He came on that night about 10 p.m. and asked lodgings and remained until Thursday. He stopped with witness on a few occasions before. It was on 31st December he (defendant) went away. During the time he was with him he slept in a bed alongside witness in the same room where his brother, John Spillane, also slept. Witness had £2 11s. in a waistcoat pocket, which he hung over the bed on the wall. It was on the inside pocket. It was about 12.30 p.m. in the day he put it there. The money was £2, a 10s. note and 1s., which he saw his waistcoat pocket turned inside out, and would have never minded only for that. Michael Collins left at 7.30 p.m. that night, and he is coming since (laughter). He (accused) said he was going to see the "old doll" (more laughter), and that was all the witness knew. He did not return, he knew him since he was a child and he was in service around and used to stay at my place when out of work free of charge. The handkerchief (produced) was like witness's, and there could be another like it.

Cross-examined—How many slept in the room on Stephen's night? Four slept in the room. The fourth was Hennessy, the workman, who went home on Monday and did not return until Thursday night. Did Tom Stokes sleep in the room on Stephen's night and Sunday night? Witness—Yes, on these nights and also on Thursday night when the hubbub was up about the money, but he did not go to the room until after 11 p.m. Hennessy came back to the house about 10.30 p.m. After the supper at 6 p.m. accused went down to the bedroom and remained there half an hour, when he left and my money left, too, added witness. He did not swear the accused took the money, but accused left and his money left (laughter).

Sergt. Kelly, Ballyduff Station, stated that on the 2nd January he was making inquiries about a deserter from the National Army named Michl. Collins and received information from James Spillane about the larceny of money in consequence of which he ascertained accused had been staying at Kilmacothomas. On the 4th he arrested accused and gave him the usual legal caution and charged him with the larceny of the money and other articles. Did Spillane see me take the money? He has all accused said. Witness searched him and found two handkerchiefs on his person, one of which he now produced.

Accused declined to ask witness any questions, but said the handkerchief was his own property, which he could prove, as he brought it at the Curragh, Kildare.

The Justice having explained to the accused that it was a case that could be dealt with by himself (Justice) if prisoner desired or he had a right to go to a higher court for trial if he so desired.

Accused—I will go to a higher court. I am here in the wrong and I am not a deserter at all.

Justice—Very well. I will return you for trial on bail to the next Circuit Court.

Everybody alive knows there is a great shortage of money for some time past, and how to get enough of it to carry on was a big source of annoyance to most people. Now that is going to be settled once and for all. This week the Minister of Finance introduced a Bill in the Dail which will give power to the Government to mint money of our own, and for a beginning new silver, nickel and copper coins are to replace the old half-crowns, florins, shillings, sixpences, threepenny bits and coppers, which have got so scarce. As to the effect the new coins will have on the money market we don't know, but if everybody can get sufficient of the new stuff there should be no trouble for a time. Old people remember when Malcolmson's of Portlaoise had a leather coinage of their own to pay their staff. Why not again have the same? Given sufficient money from the local mint, life should be very happy for our people, as whenever they would be short they need only apply for more, but if the supply be limited, as we think it will, then we greatly fear that the last state will be worse than the first, and that the new coinage might give us more trouble than the old. Of course every free country has its own coinage, and it appears we are to follow suit. Under the Bill any person found minting coins on his own should be fined £100. There should be a great opening now for the Boamshan copper mines and the Deumalig lead mines.

Bull Show and Sale.—All arrangements have been completed for the Bull Show and Sale at Waterford on March 25th under the auspices of the local branch of the Dairy Shorthorn Breeders' Society. There will be classes for pedigree and non-pedigree registered dairy bulls and registered dairy heifers, and as there are a big number of breeders in the County Waterford, the Show and Sale should break all previous records, whilst for quality it has been proved already that our stock is second to none. This Show has been approved by the Department for granting premiums, and in addition bulls entered thereat will be inspected for licenses. In view of the importance attached to the development of the dairy herds of the county and the record of the Co. Waterford in its cow-testing activities, coupled with its great reputation as a breeding centre of high-class dairy bulls, buyers will attend at the Sale from far and near, and high prices are sure to be realised. Entry forms and all particulars can be had from Mr. M. J. Kennedy, Hon. Sec., Stonehouse, Kilmeeaden.

County Council.—A special meeting of the County Council will be held in Dungarvan on Tuesday next, the principal items on the agenda being the consideration of the work to be done on the roads in the financial year ending March, 1927, in accordance with the provisional road works scheme prepared by the county surveyor. There is no doubt that many roads require attention, and Mr. Bowen would quickly have them made perfect if he had the money to do so. It is all a question of money, and when the ratepayers cannot afford luxuries what is to be done? If it were not for lack of funds every ratepayer would buy a motor to take him about his business, but not having the money he has to travel by some cheaper means. So, too, with roads. If the public cannot afford to pay for steamrolling, trucking and tarring the county roads, they must only use the roads they have until times get better and more money is minted. And if any person doubts the capacity of the average ratepayer to pay up every time he is called upon, he has only to refer to last Wednesday's Dungarvan Fair and the prices which prevailed for cattle thereat. The wealth of this country is agricultural, and when that is suffering from depression, as at the moment, it is scarcely the time to indulge in expensive schemes of any sort.

Priest's Silver Jubilee.—The Very Rev. J. J. O'Shea, P.P., St. Thomas's Parish, Goolie, York-shire, has just celebrated his Silver Jubilee as a priest, and the auspicious occasion was celebrated with great rejoicings in the parish where the rev. gentleman is held in such high esteem by all classes. During his 25 years in the sacred ministry Fr. O'Shea has always proved a most saintly and zealous priest, ever anxious and unparing to forward the spiritual and temporal welfare of all those committed to his care. Before his translation to his present parish Father O'Shea had spent six years in St. Anne's Parish, Deepcar, Sheffield, and during that period he was instrumental in carrying out several important improvements and extensions to the Catholic Church there, for which the parishioners were deeply grateful. On his advent to Goolie he continued to display the same energetic and indefatigable spirit in promoting the interests of his new parishioners in every way, and soon won the affection and admiration of all to the same extent as he had enjoyed in Deepcar. The attainment of his Silver Jubilee was availed of by his faithful parishioners, the school children and many friends and admirers as a suitable occasion to make the rev. gentleman several valuable presentations to mark their great esteem and love for him. Father O'Shea, who is a native of Kilkash, is brother-in-law of Mr. M. F. Walsh, Cappoquin.

Slag and Super.—Crotty's, Hardware, Square, Dungarvan, wish to inform their Customers who have booked 42 per cent. slag or 35 per cent. super from them this season that the first steamer chartered for this cargo got damaged when going for same to Ghent. A much larger boat had to be then chartered, but we received a wire this morning that owing to abnormal weather at sea this steamer had to take shelter at Middlesboro' and is due to load at Ghent for Dungarvan on January 25th without fail. We trust our customers will appreciate that we have done everything possible to have this cargo here long before now, but all our efforts seemed doomed to disappointment owing to circumstances over which we have no control, and hope our customers will not be much inconvenienced owing to this delay.—Crotty's, Hardware Merchants, Square, Dungarvan.

Carrick-on-Suir Priest's Be- reavement.—The death has occurred in Carrick-on-Suir of Mrs. Margaret Meagher, Kickham st., mother of the Rev. John Meagher of the Diocese of Salford, England, who received his early education at Carrick-on-Suir Christian Brothers' Schools.

DEVELOPING DUNGARVAN.
A largely attended meeting was held in the Town Hall, Dungarvan, on Thursday evening for the purpose of forming a branch of the Tourist Development Association. The meeting was organised by the Urban Council. Very Rev. Canon Furlong, P.P., was moved to the chair, and in an eloquent address he elaborated upon the scenic beauty of the country and referred to the necessity of having everything at our seaside resorts up-to-date so as to attract visitors. To do so would be in the interests of all classes.

Mr. O'Meara said the Secretary of the Tourist Association would attend whenever he got notice and explain the whole programme to them. Mr. Keohan said the principal thing they had to do was to improve the natural attractions of the town and induce strangers to come amongst us. He referred to the bathing place and other important things requiring attention, and said he thought if the Urban Council struck a rate for the purpose no one would object.

Mr. McGrath said they had the best baths in Ireland, and in addition they had a perfect band, Golf Links, G.A.A., Hockey, etc. Mr. Clancy proposed they form a committee, and Mr. Daly seconded. This was passed. The following committee were appointed—Very Rev. T. F. Furlong, P.P.; Rev. L. Egan, C.C.; Rev. M. F. Hearn, C.C.; Very Rev. T. Conlon, O.S.A.; Rev. J. Going, Mrs. Egan, Hotel; Mrs. Griffin, Miss Forde, Mrs. C. Healy, Messrs. H. E. Hardwicke, C. Martin, J. O'Dwyer, D. Walsh, Jas. Daly, P. Sexton and E. Keohan.

It was decided to hold another meeting next Thursday evening at 4 o'clock, the Secretary of the Tourist Association to be invited to attend.
