PROVISIONAL ESTIMATE.
DRASTIC REDUCTIONS.
RATEPAYERS CANNOT MAINTAIN MAIN ROADS.

A provisional estimate of 18/2 in the £ on buildings and 14/6 in the £ on land was submitted by the Secretary to a special meeting of the County Council on Tuesday in Dungarvan at which Mr. John Kiersy, chairman, presided. There were also present—Sir John Keane, Messrs. N. Fitzgerald, D. Coghlan, M. Walsh, R. F. Delaney, W. C. Coghlan, M. Galgey, J. McAuliffe, John O'Donnell, G. Duke, W. O'Donnell, D. Conway, J. Butler, T. D. R. Tobin, J. Goulding, T. E. O'Shea, W. Stack, T. Hartly and J. Kirwan.

The principal business of the meeting was consideration of the work to be done on the roads of the county for the year ending 31st March, 1927, in accordance with the provisional road works scheme of the county surveyor. Mr. Tobin—The tarred roads are very dangerous to horses and agriculture is the mainstay of the country, and yet horses cannot travel at all. To tar the centre of the road should be sufficient.

Mr. Conway—The road from the urban district boundary by Klossera for 2 miles was tarred a few months ago and the money went for nothing as there is no sign of the tar now.

Mr. Galgey—Could not we reduce the estimate for these roads by something?

Secretary—You cannot touch them for the next five years.

Mr. Stack—As the tar is a failure it is better to do away with it.

Mr. Walsh thought only the centre of the road should be tarred and leave the sides available for horse traffic.

Mr. Galgey referred to a mile of road at Dunmore that cost £1,000 and said in five years Dunmore people could not get for it as there was no traffic on it.

Mr. Bowen said his estimate for the main roads was £27,377 and for the county roads £37,771. There were in the county 254 miles 5 furlongs of main roads, and in the urban area of Dungarvan, which was transferred to the County Council, 5 miles 1 furlong and 16 perches of main roads, making a total of 259 miles 6 furlongs and 16 perches of main roads, and of county roads they had 1,146 miles 4 furlongs 3 perches, giving a total mileage of 1,406 miles 2 furlongs 19 perches.

Mr. Goulding said the ratepayers thought too much attention was given to the main roads, while a vast proportion of the ratepayers' traffic was on the other roads. They hold if the main roads were reduced they would suffer no inconvenience. The argument is that the main roads are kept in a super-perfect condition for the motorists. If the expenditure could be reduced on the main roads it would meet the approval of the ratepayers.

Sir John Keane—I don't see how you can examine this expenditure in regard to the total rate you are asked to pay. The roads made only one ingredient of our total rate.

Mr. Goulding—But it is a very expensive one.

Sir John Keane—We must look at this from the business point of view and have all the facts before us and see how our total rate will be made out and what grants in aid we are likely to get, and then we can arrive at the net figure we must ask the ratepayers to pay. We should get that figure as soon as we can and then look round and see where we can make a reduction. I think we must make a heavy reduction on the roads. We must have the best roads possible, but that is subject to our capacity to pay. We must have all the demands from the asylum, etc., before us so that we may know where we are.

Mr. Goulding—That information is essential in considering the whole question. We have only the roads estimate before us and if we can reduce it it would be very important.

Mr. Conway agreed with the views of Sir John, and said they were paying too much attention to the main roads, while the majority of the ratepayers had no motor lorries and are not responsible for their destruction.

It was the motorists and the merchants with big lorries who were breaking up the roads as fast as they were made, while if the roads were left to the ordinary ratepayers they would last for 10 years.

Mr. Butler asked what relief they might expect from grants in the expenditure of the £27,000?

Mr. Bowen—That is for the secretary. Secretary—Nil.

Mr. Goulding—The main roads on which the large expenditure is are very little used by the ratepayers while they are torn to pieces by those who pay very little.

Mr. O'Donnell—How are you to prevent it?

Mr. Goulding—How are you to ask people to pay for this awful damage?

Provisional Estimate. The Secretary submitted his provisional estimate for the coming year as follows:—Construction and maintenance of main roads, £27,377; for county roads, £35,929. Total, £63,306 8s. 7d.—equal to a rate of 6s. 2d. in the £. County urban, £25,100; county rural, £10,829, to which has to be added £50,000 debit balance at end of current year. Total, £91,000—equal to a rate of 6s. 10d. in the £. Demand of Co. Board of Public Assistance, £39,558—equal to a rate of 2s. 11d. in the £; demand of County Board of Public Health, £3,411—equal to a rate of 3d. in the £. This makes a total general rate of 16s. 2d. on buildings and 12s. 6d. on land, to which has to be added 6d. in the £ under the Damage to Property Act, 6d. in the £ for malicious injury decrees, and 1s. in the £ for various sundries, making a total of 18s. 2d. in the £ for buildings and 14s. 6d. in the £ for land.

Sir John Keane—According to these figures of the secretary we are to have a rate of 14s. 6d. in the £ on land and 18s. 2d. on buildings. I submit that is an impossible burden for the ratepayers to bear. The question now is what is the figure we can reasonably ask the ratepayers for. It was no use to go to the ratepayers and ask them to pay a rate of 14s. 6d. on land and 18s. 2d. on buildings. We cannot ask them to bear such a burden. You must cut your rates drastically and refuse to pass these demands for the county services. You cannot ask the ratepayers to bear a burden like that outlined. You must ask the Asylum, Board of Public Assistance and Board of Public Health to reduce their demands.

Mr. Conway said a few months ago a special committee was appointed to go into the estimates. Secretary—Nothing was done.

Sir John—A request in respect of that was sent twice to the Mental Hospital to do something about salaries, but nothing was done.

Chairman—The question is pending.

Mr. Tobin—Unless there is a reasonable rate it will be a case with the ratepayers of down tools.

Mr. Goulding said it was not fair to ask the local ratepayers to pay for the roads smashed by motors and lorries.

Mr. Conway—It is up to the council to take drastic action. The ordinary ratepayer is not responsible for the destruction of the main roads. They should sit tight until the people in Dublin took action about them.

Mr. McAuliffe said the motorists paid a heavy tax. It was the heavy lorries did the harm. You may as well try and keep down the water in the well as keep down the motors.

Mr. Galgey said the Government should make the main roads. The townist who had breakfast in Dublin and dinner in Cork was no benefit to them. It was for the Government to make the main roads.

Mr. Goulding—A vast amount of money is sunk in an undertaking the success of which is problematical, and if that five millions was spent on the roads to put them into better condition it would relieve the burden on the ratepayers.

Mr. Fitzgerald said apart from the roads estimate the general estimate was very much over those of previous years. The total demand outside the roads is 10s. in the £, and last year the whole rate was less than 10s.

In reply to Sir John Keane, the Secretary said last year the main roads estimate was for £28,436. At that time the council took credit for a credit balance of £15,000, and this year there was a debit balance of £50,000. Even if all the outstanding rates were paid up the council at the end of March would be £30,000 to the bad.

Mr. Fitzgerald—At that rate you under-estimated last year by £45,000.

Secretary—The county surveyor's estimate this year is for £83,000. Last year his road estimate was £48,000, and over £60,000 will be spent by March.

In the past the council estimated to have a working balance of £30,000, and last year they estimated as low as possible.

Mr. Bowen said he only estimated once for all work, and where work cannot be done in one year it is done the next.

Sir John—If some other service is under-estimated the balance is swallowed up.

Mr. Bowen—If I don't spend what is estimated in any one year I take it that it is available the next year.

Mr. Bowen said last year they expected a grant of £30,000 to £40,000, and they only got £12,000. That would be for work outside what you would ordinarily do.

Secretary—For the last year or two we estimated for credit balances that were not really there.

Sir John—You are asking for £50,000 to clear up arrears. That was money over-spent in the past. This year the county surveyor asks £83,000, and last year he only wanted £48,000. That is an increase of £35,000. We can't do it.

Mr. Butler said it was a bad policy to allow the main roads to go out of repair. If they did that it would take a larger rate in a year or two to make up the loss. It would be better business to keep them in proper repair.

Mr. Tobin—You cannot expect to keep the roads at the present standard.

Mr. Galgey—It is very hard to see the ratepayers leaving the country through bankruptcy.

Mr. Fitzgerald—Leaving over the £50,000, which equals 4s. in the £, will still leave a bigger rate than last year, so there must be something wrong somewhere.

The Chairman said the only thing they had to consider was that a certain beam could only carry a certain weight, and they could put no further load on it. They could not put any more weight on the ratepayers than was at present on them, and their services should carry on with the money that would be available. He would like to see every road in the county as good as the main roads. It was the heavy motor traffic was doing all the damage, and until they could bring it to a head with the Government and allow the roads to get into disrepair they could do no good. They should agitate on the matter. If a petrol tax or a tax to make the lorries pay for the damage they did was enforced it would supplement their road funds and help them to make the roads. He referred to the road from Waterford to Tramore recently rolled and which was now again in a bad way.

Mr. Goulding—The danger of under-estimating is that we would be only deferring the evil day.

Chairman—Cut your cloth according to your measure.

Mr. Fitzgerald—I propose that we reduce the main roads estimate by £20,377 and take £27,771 off the county roads.

Sir John—Has the county surveyor any unexpected money to work with next year?

Mr. Bowen—On March 31st there will be very little.

Sir John Keane seconded the resolution.

Mr. Fitzgerald—I don't see where you can get 10s. extra in the £ from the people this year.

Mr. Butler said if that was passed the estimates in the coming year would be greatly increased. He proposed that the county surveyor's estimate be adopted.

Mr. Fitzgerald—We will leave £28,000 for the roads of the county.

Mr. Bowen said £832 was his estimate for the Dungarvan urban main roads.

Mr. Fitzgerald said it was ridiculous to be patch-rolling bye-roads that are never used.

Mr. Conway did not approve of curtailing the work on the bye-roads. They should take drastic steps to bring matters on the main roads to a head.

Mr. Bowen—Certain works on county roads can be done without.

Mr. Galgey—Then we are not taking a drastic step.

Mr. Goulding said some people could not afford to pay the rates to keep up that expenditure on the highways.

Mr. Conway proposed, and Mr. Tobin seconded, that the whole reduction be confined to the main roads.

Chairman—That would leave nothing at all for the main roads.

County Surveyor—You cannot do that as there are certain imperative charges you must meet.

Sir John Keane said that amendment would be out of order. It was withdrawn.

Mr. Fitzgerald said motorists from other places say they had the best roads in the country. They were doing work that in the next few years would have to be done by the Government.

Mr. Conway—My object in my amendment was to bring matters to a head and not to victimise innocent ratepayers.

Mr. Fitzgerald's motion was put and carried, Mr. Butler alone voting against it.

Sir John—Are we going to send an instruction to our committees to reduce their estimates. Something must be done.

The Secretary said the estimates of the Boards of Public Health and Public Assistance had been approved.

Sir John suggested they be returned and asked to make a 20 per cent. reduction.

Chairman—We could reduce them by 50 per cent., but we should pay the following year. We thought it better not to be in the position we are to-day—at the wrong side of the book.

Sir John—I suggest they should be real economies. Taking a bit off one year and putting it on the net would be all wrong. The debit balance for this year must be met and a strenuous effort made to curtail services for the next year. In certain counties they have reduced the salaries in the Mental Hospital and no effort is made in the county to do the same. Everyone knows these salaries were fixed at a high figure, and in some counties reductions have been made, and we should ask our people to do the same. We should protest against these services not being reduced to meet the altered conditions and the ability of the ratepayers to pay. We have made a drastic reduction on the roads and the other services should do their part.

Chairman—We are having a Conference to-morrow between the Asylum Committee and the attendants on the question of salaries.

A committee composed of Sir John Keane, Messrs. N. Fitzgerald and D. Conway with the County Surveyor, then went through the roads estimate and made the reductions in the several roads equivalent to the reduction in the estimate.

On returning to the Council Chamber, Mr. Bowen said they were doing all the damage by £28,216 and the county roads had been reduced by £7,884, making a total reduction of £36,100.

Mr. Conway said the estimate had been turned down. The estimate for that was £500, and he suggested that in place of rejecting it they reduce the amount and build a temporary structure for the people there at a cost of £200. It was very badly needed.

Mr. Bowen said his estimate was £500 for a permanent bridge, but a temporary bridge to last 10 or 20 or perhaps 50 years will repair now and then could be done for £200.

Mr. Hartly supported the building of the bridge.

Mr. Conway proposed, and Mr. Hartly seconded, that the work be done at £200.

Mr. Stack supported the motion. At one election he was canvassing out there and they were very poor people, and he thought they should have their holdings rent free and that the rates should be paid for them to help them to live.

Tour Bridge was then approved of at a cost of £200, and on the motion of Sir John Keane, seconded by Mr. Fitzgerald, the estimate for roads as amended was approved of.

Tenders for Roads. For the purpose of taking tenders for the works of the council in each area are to be a committee to accept the tenders in the several rural districts.

Dungarvan Urban Council

A meeting of the above was held on Friday night. Mr. W. O'Donnell, vice-chairman, presided. Also present were—Messrs. J. Curran, M. J. Keane, Michl. Clancy, P. J. McGrath, Mce. Griffin, R. Craig, T. McCarthy, J. Moore, J. Hackett and J. Butler, T.D.

Expenditure. The expenditure for the week was—General account, £18 4s. 7d.; waterworks grant account, £28 10s. 6d. Payments on account passed.

Mr. Craig—What does the general account comprise? Clerk—Sanitary, street work, etc.

Mr. Craig—What streets were they working on this week? Borough Surveyor—They were cleaning up after the fair.

Mr. Craig—Strandside is in a shocking condition. It is even worse than Main street, which is a disgrace, and the lower and upper portions of the quay didn't get any attention with years. The new berth is useless at present with big stones, etc., down in it. Merchants are expecting big ships in any day now and they can't go in there.

Borough Surveyor—The lower portion of the quay was rolled.

Mr. Craig—It was two years ago.

Chairman—I must say all the urban streets are bad at present.

Filter Beds. A report from the Borough Surveyor on the filter beds was read stating that with Mr. Bowen, county surveyor, he made an inspection of same.

Mr. Clancy—What position is it in? Borough Surveyor—The composition of cement is very inferior. Mr. Bowen recommended to remove all defective portions and then lay on a floor and side wall on each of the three beds.

Mr. Griffin—Won't you want a clerk of works there? Borough Surveyor—We have a very competent man there already.

Mr. Craig—How often do you go there, Mr. McGrath? Borough Surveyor—A few times a week.

Mr. Griffin—The last clerk of works was not very competent as results have proved. It would pay the council to have a competent man there at £4 a week.

Chairman—And a man at £2 would not pay at all?

Mr. Griffin—But is he competent? Mr. McCarthy—The Borough Surveyor says he is.

Mr. Butler—Who is the man in charge at present? Borough Surveyor—J. McEvoy, Abbeyside.

Mr. McCarthy—The best man you could have. Mr. Griffin is always talking about Abbeyside being refused work from the council, and now he wants to get an Abbeyside man sacked.

Mr. Griffin—No, I don't. I did not know who was there even.

Mr. McCarthy—That is surprising.

Mr. Clancy—I would ask the Borough Surveyor to speed up the work on the water pipes at Mitchell street as the residents there are inconvenienced.

Mr. Craig—What about the residents of Sexton street, Abbeyside? Will anything be done to give them a proper supply? Borough Surveyor—They all got notice before the steam-rolling was started there.

Mr. Craig—But it is since the rolling was done the complaints arose.

Mr. Clancy—If any money is left it can be done.

Mr. Craig—Yes, we will get the crumbs.

Applications for Town Hall. Mr. W. Miller, on behalf of the Dungarvan Badminton Club, was granted the use of the Hall for Thursday, 28th, for a Badminton Tournament.

Mr. M. J. Keane was granted the use of the Hall on behalf of the Priory Schools for February 7th.

The Band Committee were, on the application of Mr. Dunne, granted the Hall for Friday, 29th January.

Hall for Wednesday, 27th. Mr. P. J. McGrath—We would want to build a new Hall.

Mr. Clancy—Are the charges being paid up? Clerk—Except in one or two cases.

Abbeyside Houses Again. The following letter was read from Miss B. Mulcahy, Abbeyside—I beg to draw the attention of the council to the cesspool at my house at Abbeyside. It is only a short distance from house and is in a most putrid condition. When the wind blows from a certain point this throws back the sewer gas which comes up the kitchen sink and is felt through the house. We are compelled to keep bedroom window closed. Hoping the council will kindly have the matter attended to at once as it is very unhealthy.

Mr. Curran—Refer it to the S.S.O. Mr. Craig—Nonsense.

Clerk—There is another letter here from Capt. Donoghue on the matter, which was—I wish to draw your attention to the fact that in a portion of the field owned by me at Abbeyside a cesspool is being formed by the overflow from the cesspool connected with your houses in Sheares street. I am sure you will agree with me that such a condition cannot continue, and I would therefore ask you to take the necessary steps to have same remedied.

Mr. P. J. McGrath—If the cesspool was closed?

Borough Surveyor—Then it will flow over Mr. Donoghue's plot.

Mr. Craig—It is doing it already.

Mr. Clancy—The only remedy is the sewer.

Borough Surveyor—If the council write to Mr. Donoghue for permission to bring the sewer through his place?

Mr. Craig—He certainly won't allow the present state of things to exist.

Mr. Clancy—Can we proceed with the sewerage outside of the houses?

Borough Surveyor—I think we can.

Mr. Clancy—There is no doubt but it is bad and should be done.

Mr. P. J. McGrath—If the clerk wrote to the L.G.B. on the matter would we have a reply back for this night week?

Clerk—I think you would.

It was finally agreed to adjourn the matter until next Friday night pending a reply from the L.G.B.

Football on Streets. Supl. Murray, Civic Guards, wrote in connection with above practice, and said in view of the fact that cautioning had not the desired effect, he would deal more severely with anyone found playing games on the streets in future.

Insurance. A letter was read from the Insurance Co. stating that they were prepared to pay James Davis, an employee of the council, £20 in full settlement of his claim.

Mr. Butler—I understand he will not be fit for work for a long time yet.

Clerk—The doctor's report in December stated he would be fit for work in a few months.

Mr. Clancy—But is it not a matter between the man himself and the Insurance Co.? Clerk—Yes.

Development of Harbours. Mr. Griffin called attention to the list of harbours which appeared in the Press which were proposed to be developed, and thought the council should apply to have Dungarvan Harbour included.

Chairman—Put that in the form of a resolution.

Mr. Butler—in connection with that matter I understand there is opposition from some harbour authorities who are on the list.

On the suggestion of Mr. Keane, Mr. Butler was asked by the council to inquire into the matter.

Fire Engine. On the proposition of Mr. Keane, seconded by Mr. P. J. McGrath, the clerk was directed to make application to the Civic Guards for permission to store the above in the barracks.

Gravel on Footpaths. Mr. McCarthy called attention to the necessity of having several footpaths gravelled, and the borough surveyor promised to have the matter attended to during the week.

Acknowledgment. Mr. L. Curran, Klossera, wrote thanking the council for resolution of sympathy passed by them on the occasion of the death of his daughter.

Sympathy. Mr. Hackett proposed, and Mr. Butler seconded, a resolution of sympathy with the family and relatives of the late Miss Katie Morrissey, O'Connell street.

Mr. McGrath proposed, and Mr. Craig seconded, a vote of sympathy to Mr. R. Knowles, Abbeyside, on the death of his wife.

Entertainment at Lismore in Aid of Hockey Club.—Although it was generally anticipated, still even the most sanguine supporters of the Lismore Hockey Club did not expect such a bumper house as that which entered the programme provided at the entertainment held in the New Hall, Park's Road, Lismore, in aid of the funds of the above-mentioned club, and the committee now apologise to those who were unable to gain admission on that occasion. The versatility of the members of the popular Lismore Hockey Club was amply demonstrated when they staged the well-known Abbey Theatre Comedy, "The Eloquent Dempsey" before a crowded house. Every member of the caste did their part nobly and well, and round after round of applause could be heard from all parts as the characters made their appearance on the stage.

This endorsement on the part of the large assembly was a well-merited and glowing tribute to Mrs. Violet McCarthy (late of Abbey Theatre) under whose tuition and guidance the comedy was produced. The comedy was preceded by a concert in which talented artistes from Dublin, Middleton, Tallow and Lismore took part, and altogether the event must be voted one of the most successful from every standpoint held in this neighbourhood for years. The orchestral selections between the acts and prior to same were a treat much admired. Where one and all gave of their best it would be out of place to individualise, but the committee in charge have every reason to be proud of the high-class concert and entertainment provided, and are to be heartily congratulated on the success which attended their efforts.

New P.C.—Mr. M. F. Walsh, M.I.A.A., Cappoquin, has been appointed a Peace Commissioner. His appointment is a very popular one.

Wallpapers.—Immense stocks of wallpapers have just arrived at Moloney's. Over 1,000 patterns can be had from stock, avoiding the long and vexatious delays of ordering. See our new pattern books—Moloney's Stores, Bridge Street and Square, Dungarvan.

Wedding Bells.—On Sunday at Abbeyside Parish Church, Miss Alice T. Power was united in wedlock to Mr. Patrick O'Connor, Clogheen, Co. Tipperary. The bride, who was given away by her father, is a charming young lady and has won the esteem of all. Miss Nellie Power (sister) acted as bridesmaid, and Mr. Wm. Ryan, Ardinnan, cousin of the bridegroom, was best man.

Larceny of Cattle.—In connection with the larceny of six head of cattle from ma farm at Dromore, Cappoquin, the property of Mr. Michael McGrath, victualler, Lismore, for which two farm labourers named Flynn and Sullivan had been already arrested and remanded, the Cappoquin Civic Guards made a further arrest on last Friday night when they took into custody a man named Pat. Moriarity, caretaker of Mr. McGrath's farm at Dromore, on a charge of aiding and abetting the other accused in the stealing of the cattle. Moriarity was brought before Mr. M. F. Walsh, P.C., at the local barracks on Saturday, and after Sergeant Navin (who arrested him) had made a short deposition, accused was remanded to the Cappoquin District Court and will be tried with the other two men this week.

COUNTY WATERFORD COMMITTEE OF AGRICULTURE.

NOMINATIONS OF MARES.

The County Committee have decided to offer Nominations to Farmers Mares to be served by Thoroughbred Irish Draught or Half-bred Stallions on the Register or Selected List of the Department of Agriculture under the conditions set forth in the Department's Scheme for encouraging improvement in the Breeds of Horses, in 1926.

The following table shows the Centres and the days and hours at which Mares will be judged in each district:

Dungarvan—Shandon, Tuesday, 9th February, 10 o'clock a.m. Youghal No. 2—Clashmore, Tuesday, 9th February, 2 o'clock p.m.

Clonmel No. 2—Ballymacartry, Wednesday, 10th February, 11 o'clock p.m.

Lismore—Lismore Show Field, Wednesday, 10th February, 2 o'clock p.m.

Carrick-on-Suir No. 2—Clonm Power, Thursday, 11th February, 11 o'clock a.m.

Kilmacthomas—Kilmacthomas, Thursday, 11th February, 2 o'clock p.m.

Waterford No. 1—Ballybriekan, Friday, 12th February, 11 o'clock a.m.

The value of Nominations to Thoroughbred and Irish Draught Stallions shall be £2; to Half-bred Stallions, £1 10s.

Preference will be given to the Best Young Mares under Six Years of age.

Each Mare must be the property of a Farmer, the Tenement Valuation of whose Holding or Holdings, wherever situated, and for which he is rated, does not exceed £200.

As far as possible two-thirds of the Nominations shall be reserved for Farmers valued at £20 or under. The term "Farmer" is to be understood to mean a person who derives his means of living mainly from farming.

1.—Only such Farmers as are rated for Holdings within the County are eligible to exhibit Mares. N.B.—(This Regulation does not apply to herds).

2.—Each qualified Rated Farmer is entitled to compete for a Nomination for One Mare only, but the Committee may award a Second Nomination to Owners of Mares on the reserved List.

3.—Special Notice—Any person found (a) exhibiting a Mare not his bona fide property, (b) attempting to obtain more than One Nomination through any misrepresentation as to the ownership of his Mares, or (c) owning for service a Mare other than the one in respect of which the Nomination was awarded, is guilty of a Criminal Offence, and will be prosecuted.

4.—For particulars regarding these Awards, Copies of the Department's Live Stock Schemes, 1926, and Entry Forms, which must be filled and returned not later than Tuesday, 2nd February, may be had from JOHN O'DWYER, Secretary Co. Waterford Committee of Agriculture, Courthouse, Dungarvan, 1st January, 1926.

N.B.—No Entries will be received on days of Shows, nor will Mares be allowed to compete for Nominations whose Entries do not reach me at latest on Tuesday, February 2nd.

Youghal District Court

Before Mr. G. P. Farrell, B.L. Serjt. O'Sullivan charged Mr. M. H. Walsh, as clerk of Youghal Urban Council, with using an unlicensed vehicle at 7.12 a.m. on the 21st December.

Mr. Wm. R. Hodnett, solicitor, appeared for the council. Complainant having proved that he found a scavenging cart with no light on the occasion in question.

Mr. Hodnett said for a period of time, so long that, to use a well-worn legal phrase, the memory of man ran not to the contrary, the defendants and their predecessors-in-office had been mindful of the necessity for cleaning the streets of Youghal. That case was so novel, and to his mind, so interesting, that he had been delving into the records of the town, and the result had not been altogether unprofitable.

He had found that 316 years ago, in 1680, long before Cromwell and his Ironsides had come through the North Gate and down what was then the High Street a Court of D'Oyer Hundred was held by which it was duly enacted: "That for cleansing the streets and for the more sweet and safe keeping of the town from annoyance and infection, it is ordered that there shall be a scavenger appointed by the Mayor, who shall twice every week take away all dirt and dung as groweth and riseth in the street, being swept in heaps before every door, and for his pains he shall be paid yearly out of every smook, 4d. at Michaelmas and Easter, besides his Christmas offering at every man's pleasure. And if any refuse, the Mayor shall deliver said scavenger a sufficient distress, etc."

Neither were the old Corporators unmindful of the necessity for the keeping order, for in the year 1673 it was ordered by the same Court—"That Mr. Mayor be desired to take special care that a watch of 12 sufficient men at the least be appointed every night till further order, and that an able man be every night appointed captain of the watch; that all the inhabitants of the town watch by turns, and in course, or find men in their room, or on their failure that Mr. Mayor appoint sufficient men in their place, and levy what shall be due by way of distress on the delinquent's goods."

Again, in the year 1715, when apparently the activities of the followers of the House of Stuart were causing some anxiety to the good Hanoverians, who then presided over the destinies of that municipality, they found it enacted "that 20 men of this town and liberties watch every night, and that Mr. Mayor appoint the Captain, and that every person refusing in his turn or sending a man in his stead shall forfeit 6d., etc., and if the Captain refuse he shall forfeit 2s. 6d. The said watch to mount guard at 7 in the evening and remain until 6 in the morning."

It required no far stretch of imagination to picture those good men and true of the watch passing the time of night with the men of the broom, nor did it appear from those records that the former chided the latter for not having their lamps trimmed. Coming to more modern times, they found the picturesque figure of the watchman replaced by the dapper member of the force with which the name of Sir Robert Peel had been always associated. But the scavenger remained, and his relations with the "peeler" were marked by that spirit of camaraderie, which seemed to exist among all those whose duty it was to be out and doing in the silent watches of the night. Sir, the old order changeth, and it had remained for the complainant there to put an end to the kindly and historic relations between watcher and sweeper which had existed for centuries. Many brooms during that long course of years have been worn out in the service, sweeping our streets, but none of them, sir, had swept half so cleanly as now swept the new broom of Serjt. O'Sullivan (laughter).

Justice—What is the legal position? Mr. Hodnett—I have no more to say. I am in your hands. Serjt. O'Sullivan said that a number of farmers had been summoned and fined for a similar offence on the same morning.

Justice—I think the sergeant was quite right in challenging all vehicles without lights that morning no matter whose they were.

Mr. Hodnett—Of course we can all have our opinion about that. After some arguments regarding the use of the Town Clerk's name as defendant, a fine of 2/6 and costs was imposed.

Guard Downes charged Martin Stokes with being guilty of disorderly conduct while drunk and assaulting him while on duty.

Complainant deposed defendant used obscene and filthy language in the hearing of many people, and indecently exposed himself. He resisted arrest violently and butted witness badly in the stomach. He was sentenced to one month's imprisonment with hard labour in each case, to run concurrently.

Youghal Notes.

The Pictures.—Pretty lively scenes were witnessed on Sunday night at the entrances to the Picture Halls in Friar street. Evidently only a very small minority of the people were aware of the changing of the hour of opening from 7.30 to 8.20 p.m. The result was that there was a big assemblage of picture goes both in Friar street and Strand street at 7.30, and there they had to wait in the rain for nearly an hour. The Guards tried to preserve some semblance of order by endeavouring to form up the people in queues, but their well-meant efforts were to a great extent futile. In the end the crowds crushed in the two entrances in Friar street and in Messrs. Horan's Picture Palace in Strand street. The Guards did everything possible to prevent it, but they might as well have been trying to keep the tide out, like King Canute or some other old regal bloke of the early Anglo-Saxon of the Danish era in England. There was a big picture on show in Messrs. Horan's, entitled "Koenigsmark," in 12 reels, and the result was that the entertainment did not conclude till about 11.40, so that it must have been midnight before many of the audience reached home. In some cases it must have been considerably later, for quite a number of people come in from the surrounding districts by bicycle and otherwise. It must have been some time in the small hours when they laid down to rest. The prevailing opinion amongst the general public is that the new arrangement is most unsatisfactory and suits nobody.

Building.—At long last there is a bit of a stir in the building line, but only a bit. It will not involve the employment of many workmen, skilled or unskilled. However, it is a beginning in the right direction, and once the ice is broken, nobody can tell the extent of the result. There may, and who doesn't hope that there will be, something infectious in the outbreak. It would indeed be a welcome form of epidemic. At the usual weekly meeting of the Urban Council on Thursday night Mr. Patk. Kenneally applied for permission to tap water main at Knockaverry in connection with the proposed building of a number of dwelling-houses at Knockaverry. There is plenty of room and the best of sites available for building in that vicinity. There are many amongst us who remember Knockaverry to be almost a bare hillside. Now it is pretty well covered with hotels, villas and houses of every description. It is an ideal spot for building sites, for here the sun shines when it shines at all—on all the place, from its rising almost to its setting. Again, the prospect right in front consists of the beautiful waters of Youghal Bay, with the Waterford cliffs on the one side and the promontory of Knockodon, with Capel Island, on the other. When things all round get into the normal swing, and business becomes busier than just now, there is bound to be a big development in the line of building in this vicinity. Probably it will ultimately end in their being two Youghals—the Old on the harbour and New on the shore stretching up from Youghal Strand.

The Chairmanship.—The election of Chairmen of the Urban Council takes place on Saturday, 30th inst. So far there has been no stir in connection with the event. Indeed, if any commotion can be drawn from a discussion which took place at last meeting, there will be nothing like the commotion that prevailed at the last election of chairman after the last Urban Elections, and everything will pass off peacefully and the re-election of the present occupiers of the chair and vice-chair. There was a motion brought on the meeting on Thursday night last to limit the tenure of the posts to two years. Several members of the council expressed the opinion that matters should go on as before, leaving it to the council for the time being to do as they pleased. As was said by some councillors, it was not in the power of the council to bind their successors to any definite line of policy. Of course an understanding might be arrived at defining their action in the matter during their own municipal existence, but how could they go beyond that?

When trees are procured from the nursery, and if owing to frost, excessive moisture, etc., planting cannot be carried on, the roots should be placed in a trench 18 inches square, and from 15 to 18 inches deep. All large stones should be picked out, and the sides and bottom of the trench broken up thoroughly. Some of the soil taken up should be returned to the pit until it reaches the required height, then place the tree in the centre of the pit, spread out all its roots carefully and cover over with fine soil, and press down firmly all round with the foot. Fill in with the remaining soil until it rises a few inches above the surface level. All trees when planted should stand about an inch deeper in new soil than the original soil mark indicates.

Proper attention to fencing and protecting of trees from trespass and the utmost importance, and should be attended to previous to planting. On wet land, drainage is absolutely essential. Open drains, with lands from 15 to 20 feet wide between, will meet with the requirements of most wet land.

Shelter Trees.—The most suitable trees for this purpose are the Austrian Pine, Corsican Pine, Insignis Pine, Scotch Fir, Silver Fir, White American Spruce, Thuja Gigantea, Cupressus Macrocarpa and Cupressus Sawsoniae. If the situation is very exposed, it may be necessary to include some of the hard woods, such as Sycamore, Oak, Ash, Beech, Elm, Poplar, Alder and Birch. All the above trees should be planted 5 feet apart each way with the exception of the Austrian Pine, Insignis Pine and Cupressus Macrocarpa, which should stand at least 10 feet apart. The spaces between may be planted with such hardy shrubs as Escallonia, Common Laurel, Griselinia, Gittoralis, Evergreen Privet, etc. Where a deep belt of trees is required, and where the land is found suitable, other varieties such as Larch, Douglas Fir, Norway and Sitka Spruce may be planted in the centre and most sheltered parts of the plantation. The Larch may be planted 4 feet apart, but the Douglas Fir requires much more room, as it is a very rapid grower, and would smother out most of the other trees in a few years.

For shelter and ornament combined, the following trees are very suitable, and may be planted in single or double rows, in clumps or as single specimens—Cupressus Macrocarpa, Cupressus Lawsonia, Thuja Gigantea, Austrian and Insignis Pine, Wellingtonia Picea Nobilis. These are all hardy specimens, and with the exception of the two last-named are admirable for roadside planting. With a fair start, all will resist the most severe weather.

Most of the above-mentioned trees and shrubs, and other different varieties, are available at a cheap sale through the County Committee contract scheme, and as the best of the season for planting is still ahead, it is to be hoped that intending planters will avail of the opportunity at once.

Tree Planting.

The question of re-afforestation is a pressing national need, and should get more consideration and active support from public bodies. Recently the Government acquired about 30,000 acres of land, and are about to acquire 15,000 more. Therefore the Waterford Farmers' Union and County Council should endeavour to get as much as possible of this planting scheme assigned to the county.

Apart from the innumerable benefits gained in years to come, it would tend to give much-needed employment. As in other counties the County Council might stimulate private enterprise in planting by granting, say, £100 to defray part cost of trees. A co-operative nursery, or one owned and financially controlled by the County Council, should prove a great stimulant. Under proper management, such a nursery would not only clear its expenses, but would allow the trees to be sold at half the present cost. The Government gives a grant towards starting such nurseries.

While the above-mentioned are problems for older heads to work out, it would be well to remind the youth of the part they can play. We see, for example, the German child, who is taught to plant at an early age by gathering the chips of their woods. These little sticks find their way into big factories in Germany, and at a later date help to illuminate the windows of our loyshops. The children of rural districts here have a more profitable and interesting hobby than stick-picking. There is no reason why any little boy or girl could not pick hedges and sow some of the millions of cones which decay annually in our woods, and like the German children act as cogs in the wheel of our largest factory—the land.

County Waterford Technical Instruction Committee. The monthly meeting of the above was held in the Technical Schools, Mary street, on Monday, Rev. L. Egan, C.C., chairman, presided. Also present were: Rev. Fr. Conlon, G.S.A.; J. Butler, T.D.; T. J. Power and Mee. Griffin.

Public Bodies Order, 1925. A letter was received from the Department forwarding a copy of the above.

Mr. Butler—Every member should be supplied with one. After discussion the Secretary was directed to apply for 10 copies of the Order for members who had not secured one already through other committees.

Woodwork Class at Clashmore. Mr. J. O'Halloran, Clashmore, wrote asking the committee to extend the woodwork class at Clashmore.

Secretary—When does it end? Chairman—The end of this month. Secretary—Can it be granted? Secretary—Yes. The members decided to grant extension.

Father Conlon—How many students are attending? Secretary—We are limited to 14 as the bench accommodation is limited.

Cookery and Needlework Class at Ballinella. An application from Mr. Cronin, N.T., on behalf of the above class for an extension of the class was read.

Chairman—When does that class end? Secretary—On next Friday. Chairman—I think the instructor has enough of it. Secretary—She told me the needlework turned out there would not be equalled anywhere.

Mr. Power—But you will be depriving other centres of instruction. Chairman—Could it not be arranged for the summer? Wasn't there an application for a class from Kilmacthomas? Secretary—There was, but the cost of removing the equipment would be £8 to Kilmacthomas and back.

Chairman—Owing to the difficulty of getting there it should be put off until the summer. Secretary—She has a motor car now to take her out and back. Chairman—But why not accede to the Kilmacthomas application? Ballinella has got the ordinary course.

Mr. Butler—Kilmacthomas should get it as they are anxious for a class. Mr. Power—Everyone should get a chance. It was decided to arrange for a class at Kilmacthomas.

Lamps. Mr. Halpin, instructor, applied for two lamps for the woodwork classes at Clashmore and Villiers-town. Mr. Butler—They must be supplied. Secretary—I have quotations here for them from some hard-ware merchants—Mr. P. Walsh, Capouquin, 2 lamps (100 candle

MR. M. MOLONEY, SOLICITOR, YOUGHAL.

At Youghal District Court, District Justice Farrell said as that was probably Mr. Moloney's last appearance there as a member of the profession, he would like to offer his congratulations on his (Mr. Moloney's) appointment as assistant solicitor to the Provincial Bank, and to wish him many long years of success and happiness in his new sphere. During the three years he had presided on that bench he had always been struck by the assiduity Mr. Moloney had devoted to his work, his keenness of argument and his unflinching courtesy on all occasions. Although still a very young man, he had attained many successes, now crowned by his promotion to so important a position in Dublin. He would carry with him all their good wishes.

Mr. J. L. Keane, as senior member of the profession present, said he cordially endorsed all that had been said by the District Justice. In doing so he felt he voiced the feelings of all the local Bar. They had often conflicting views as to what the course of justice ought to be, but on no occasion did he find Mr. Moloney acting but with the utmost courtesy and in strict accordance with the best traditions of the profession. It had the good wishes of all, and he (Mr. Keane) predicted a very brilliant future for him. He assured Mr. Moloney that any success he might meet would not be anything beyond what they all wished him.

Mr. Wm. R. Hodnett, solr., associated himself with all that had been said by the bench and Mr. Keane. Personally his relations with Mr. Moloney had always been of the most cordial and friendly character. He joined with his Worship and Mr. Keane in wishing Mr. Moloney the best of luck in his new sphere.

Mr. C. Weakham, clerk of the court, begged to be associated with all the remarks made by the bench and the Bar. He had found Mr. Moloney ever ready to give him (the clerk) the benefit of his service and experience whenever required. He wished him every success.

Serjt. O'Sullivan said that Mr. Moloney had always displayed the greatest courtesy and given assistance to the Guards in the discharge of their often onerous duties, and they wished him many happy years in his new sphere.

Mr. Moloney thanked them all for their exceedingly kind remarks about him and for their sincere expressions of goodwill for the future. He had looked upon Youghal as his home, for he had been invariably treated with the greatest courtesy by its people. He took that opportunity of thanking them for all their kindness towards him. He felt sure he was only expressing his colleagues' views as well as his own when he said that Mr. Farrell's appointment had greatly facilitated their work. It had been a great pleasure to him to work with Messrs. Keane and Hodnett. He could not adequately say how highly he appreciated their expressions of goodwill for which he again thanked them.

Suplt. Dreen, who arrived meanwhile, begged to join in that well-deserved compliment to Mr. Moloney. In his capacity as Superintendent of the Civic Guards he had frequent occasion to meet him in that and other courts, and he had always found him to be a thorough gentleman whom it was a pleasure to deal with. Speaking for all the Guards of the district he wished Mr. Moloney every good that life could give.

IS IT A MESSAGE FROM THE SEA? On Sunday evening Mr. Mielch, Madden, Carrickbeg, Carrick-on-Suir, while shooting on the river bank at Tinahallow, about a mile below Carrick-on-Suir, found at the river's edge a small tin box tightly closed in which was a piece of paper five inches by three (a leaf from a passbook). On one side was written in pencil: "Good-bye, all is lost. We are just sinking.—The Cedric, 2nd/11/20.—E. O'Connor, Bristol." On the other side was written "John Markley Peter street."

Mr. Power—Accept the lowest? Mr. Butler—Are they the same quality lamps? Secretary—Yes, the same order they all got. Chairman—There is a big difference in price. The lowest tender was accepted.

Youghal Urban Council.

Present—Messrs. M. Whelan, chairman; W. Coughlan, P. Kennedy, J. Forrest, T. Harrington, Jas. Bennett, vice-chairman; T. Curran, R. C. Farrell, A. W. D. Murphy, P. J. McMahon, P. C. J. R. Smyth, P. G. M. D. Broderick, J. Forrest, P. J. O'Gorman, P. C. J. Kennedy, J. Troy, A. J. Fowkes, W. J. Broderick.

The Cinemas. The Very Rev. Canon O'Donoghue, P.P., waited on the council and asked them to insert a clause in the Cinema Licenses to the effect that they should not open on Sunday evenings until after the Church devotions at 8.20. He had called beforehand on the proprietors and informed them that he intended putting the matter before the council, and they expressed themselves quite willing to fall in with his wishes in the matter. One of them said it would be a great boon, as it would enable them to clean and ventilate the hall after the matinee performance, which was often impossible under present conditions. Apart from his point of view that was a serious matter for the health of the people. He would therefore be grateful if the council inserted a clause fixing the hour of opening at 8.20.

The Chairman asked what about admitting children to the night performances? The Canon said it was very desirable. He didn't intend smoking about it, but children should not be allowed up so late. The Chairman said it was not right to see young children trooping home at 11 or 11.30 at night. How were they to get up in the morning in time for school? The matinee was a different matter. He was sure the council would accede to the Canon's wishes. It would also apply to the Mall House and the Strand Palace. And what about the week nights when there would be missions or retreats?

Mr. O'Gorman said the Canon's application was concerned with Sundays only. Mr. M. Broderick said starting the pictures at 8.30 would mean that the people would be on the streets at 11.30 or later. On week nights workmen could not attend devotions earlier than 7.30, but on Sundays, being free, they could have their tea at 6 o'clock. He thought if it were possible to have the devotions at 10 o'clock it might get over the difficulty. In Fermoy, Mitchelstown and other places the devotions were at 7 o'clock and the churches were always crowded.

The Canon said it was the duty of the clergy to arrange the hours of devotions to suit the people's wishes and not their own convenience. His predecessor, the late Dean Kelly, was there 37 years, and it had not been the wish of the people to have the devotions at 7.30 he would not have fixed that hour. It would look queer on his part if he were to change the hour merely because of the pictures.

Mr. M. Broderick said he would be sorry to interfere in any way with Church matters. He merely threw out the suggestion owing to the late hour at which the pictures would be over. Personally he would do anything possible as a member of the council to back up the Church. He only threw out the suggestion as it came to his mind, and he would not think one thing and say another.

The Chairman said that could be met by cutting off some of the reels of the longer pictures, and he thought they should fix the latest hour for being open at 10.45. The Canon said one of the proprietors said he could get pictures to suit the hours sanctioned.

Mr. Kennedy—If the halls opened at 8.15 and started at 8.20 would that suit you, Canon? The Canon said if the pictures were open while devotions were on in the church there would be no chance of getting certain members of the community to attend? Chairman—Doors open at 8.20, performance to end at 10.45. The Canon said he didn't like to ask anything unreasonable. Candidly he would prefer to have no pictures on Sunday, and he hoped he would see the time when they would not be opened at all. They had seen that Clonmel had refused to have any pictures opened on Sunday.

Chairman—Let us hope that will come to Youghal. Canon—When they are open in other towns I don't ask them to be closed here. Chairman—We'll carry out your wishes, Canon. The Canon having thanked the council for the manner in which they had received him, withdrew.

Replying to Mr. McMahon, who arrived a moment while the Town Clerk stated the Canon's wishes and said the suggestion was that the halls should be open from 8.20 to 10.45. Mr. Kennedy—The Canon didn't specify the closing hour.

Chairman—It is late enough. Mr. McMahon—That is a matter for the council.

Mr. Harrington said the closing hour would not suit at all.

Chairman—They could cut out some of the reels.

Mr. Kennedy said that might spoil the picture.

Chairman—No harm.

Mr. McMahon proposed the hours be from 8.20 to 11, and Mr. Harrington seconded.

Mr. Farrell suggested that they consult the proprietors before making a hard and fast rule.

Clerk—One told the Canon that he would get a programme to suit.

Mr. McMahon—But that might not suit the people. We'll have to pay the same price.

Mr. Troy—They are making money enough.

Chairman—We are not here in the interest of the picture proprietors.

Mr. McMahon—No, we are here in the interest of the public.

Mr. Broderick said let them agree with the P.P. about the opening hour. They could deal with the question of closing afterwards if necessary.

Mr. O'Gorman said that was a sensible suggestion. If the closing hours were abused they had a remedy.

Chairman—They have abused them in the past.

Mr. O'Gorman—I don't know. Chairman—I do.

Mr. O'Gorman said he attended the pictures pretty regularly and he had never seen the hours abused. Occasionally a masterpiece might last till 11 o'clock, but that could not be avoided.

The Canon only asked to have the halls opened at 8.20, and they would stand by him in that.

Mr. W. Broderick proposed that they fix the time for opening as suggested by the Canon and leave the other questions to the future.

This was seconded by Messrs. Farrell and Kennedy and passed unanimously. Mr. McMahon withdrawing his proposition.

Chairman—This will apply to the Mall House and Strand Palace.

Mr. Harrington—And what about the "Coons"? Chairman—You can't differentiate.

Mr. Farrell said the Strand Palace was frequently availed of by visitors for shelter during the season.

Chairman—How can you differentiate? Mr. O'Gorman said there were no pictures in the Strand Palace for some years.

Chairman—Dancing goes on there.

Mr. Kennedy—It is a question of pictures, not dancing.

Chairman—You will have to include the Strand Palace if there are pictures.

Mr. McMahon—In the summer you can't stop the people from dancing.

Sea Coast Erosion. The following letter was read from Mr. M. J. Hennessy, T.D.—

"Baile Atha Cliath, 19th January, 1926. Dear Mr. Walsh—The reply of the Minister in the matter of the protection against sea erosion at Redbarn will, I feel, be of interest to the members of your council. I am also going into the matter more fully with the Land Commission—Yours very faithfully—M. J. Hennessy."

The Chairman said he hoped that the work would be taken in hand without delay. The best thanks were due to Mr. Hennessy, their T.D.

Mr. O'Gorman said the Minister was under the impression that the council were going to put up half the cost.

Mr. Broderick—The answer was that there was no provision to deal with such a matter.

Chairman—They said they had under consideration the advancing of a loan at a reasonable interest to carry out the work.

Mr. O'Gorman—After the waterworks we have loans enough to meet for years to come. A cordial vote of thanks was passed to Mr. Hennessy for his action.

New Buildings. Mr. Kennedy applied for permission to tap the water main at Knockaverry, in connection with the proposed erection of a number of houses.

Chairman—We haven't the plans before us. Mr. Kennedy—You will have them in a week or so.

The application was granted unanimously.

Mental Hospital Water Rate. Mr. Commissioner Monahan was stating that he thought the increase proposed in the water charge to the Mental Hospital was unreasonably large. He was prepared to pay £200 per annum though he thought that amount big.

Mr. M. Broderick said they asked for only the same increase as the other consumers. The pre-war rate was 8d.; now it was 1s. 4d.

Mr. Kennedy—It is a half-way house.

Mr. M. Broderick said the original charge was too low.

Mr. W. Broderick said it was agreed to by the entire council. He was in favour of accepting the offer. The cost of upkeep had about doubled.

Mr. O'Gorman thought they ought accept the offer.

The Chairman suggested £225.

Mr. Kennedy proposed they accept Mr. Monahan's offer.

Mr. Smyth seconded. It might be argued that a blunder had been made in accepting £100 originally, but they were not responsible for all their fathers' sins. The council had gone to considerable outlay in putting in an improved water service—a capital outlay of about £7,500.

Mr. McMahon suggested that they be unanimous on £225, and he proposed that amount.

There being no seconder, Mr. Kennedy's proposition was passed.

The Chairmanship. In accordance with notice, Mr. W. J. Broderick proposed that no chairman occupy the position for more than two years.

After considerable discussion the proposition was withdrawn, the proposer saying: "If this question of personality arises again I will bring it forward with double force."

Cork Joint Hospital. On the proposition of Mr. Smyth, seconded by Mr. Kennedy, Mr. McMahon was appointed representative on the Cork Joint Hospital Board.

Pacific Hotel. Mr. H. Spreadborough, C.M., Town Surveyor, submitted plans of proposed extensions at the Pacific Hotel. The proposed bay windows on the upper floor would project over the roadway.

The matter was referred to the Improvements Committee and the Surveyor.

New Garage. Plans of Mr. T. J. Donovan's proposed garage, at the junction of North Main street and Green's Quay, were also submitted.

The Town Surveyor said that some of the details were not in accordance with the requirements of the bye-laws.

Chairman—We can't waive the bye-laws. The plans were referred back.

Main Roads. On the proposition of Mr. McMahon, seconded by Mr. Kennedy, Messrs. J. R. Smyth, P. J. O'Gorman and the Town Clerk were appointed as a deputation to go to Dublin in connection with the main roads question.

Mr. Smyth said he feared he could not go, and suggested that the council should appoint a substitute in his stead.

CARRICK-ONSUIR MAN'S DEATH. WOMAN CHARGED WITH MURDER.

At a special court at Carrick-on-Suir on Saturday, before Mr. M. Hickey, P.C., Alice Harty, aged about 40, was charged with the murder of Patk. Cullen with whom she stated she had lived for six years in Carrick-on-Suir. Deceased used to hawk small articles for sale through the country. He died in Clonmel Hospital on January 21st from an abscess on the brain. At the inquest it was stated he told a person in the hospital that on Xmas Eve he got a blow of a bottle in Carrick-on-Suir.

Evidence of arrest of accused was given by Sgt. Riordan. When arrested accused stated: "I never struck him and never had occasion to. I am being hanged in the wrong."

The accused woman was remanded to Carrick District Court on the 5th February. She stated her husband lives in Waterford and that deceased (Cullen) was the father of a boy three years old she had with her in court.

ST. VINCENT'S HOME, CARRICKBEG, CARRICK-ONSUIR.

A generous Carrick-on-Suir man has built and furnished at a cost of £2,000 a Home for respectable elderly women at Carrickbeg and has endowed it with a sum of £10,000. The Home is known as St. Vincent's. It was formally opened last week when five women were admitted to it. The Catholic Bishop of Waterford and Lismore and the parish priests of Carrick, Carrickbeg, Mithel and Ballyneale are Trustees for the Home.

INFANT'S BODY FOUND IN THE RIVER AT CARRICK-ONSUIR.

On Monday two men who were fishing in a cot about half a mile below Carrick-on-Suir found in the river the body of a male infant greatly decomposed. The infant had been newly born before it was drowned. An open verdict was returned at the inquest. The local Civic Guards are investigating the matter.

Dungarvan Town Tenants' League.

The annual meeting of the branch was held in the Town Hall on Tuesday week. Mr. W. Stack, Co.C., president, in the chair, and there was a full attendance of members.

Annual Report. Mr. Power, hon. sec., having read the statement of finance for the year ended, said: "I take the liberty of looking back over that year and recall the labours and activities of the branch for the period. Although the branch is launching out on its fifth year, I regret to say that we had a great many of the usual grievances before us, but owing to the influences and activities of the branch since its inception, both owners and tenants have come to a better understanding, and are now easily reconciled to the present law. At the beginning of the year we were confronted with an incident which, thank God, is of very rare occurrence nowadays—an eviction. A happy homestead was pitilessly broken up, and the occupants ruthlessly thrown on the streets homeless. Your committee left no stone unturned to bring about a peaceful settlement, and made several unsuccessful attempts to interview the owner, and the long, stern arm of a cruel law held sway, and one of your members was cruelly injured in the fight and fell a victim to landlordism. After the unhappy and appalling event a happy meeting was called and resolutions were passed at that meeting denouncing evictions and house-grabbing, and calling on the Government to institute inquiries into the conditions of the tenancies held in our cities and towns with a view to having legislation of a remedial nature passed without further delay. Copies of these resolutions were forwarded to the members of the Government, to Mr. Briscoe, and to over 100 branches throughout Ireland. In August at your request I attended an All-Ireland Delegate Conference in Dublin. That Conference lasted for two days, and there were representatives from practically every branch. All phases of the town tenants' movement were discussed and important decisions arrived at. The Conference also decided to promote another Town Tenants' Bill, and the delegates expressed themselves entirely in favour of the three fundamental essentials necessary to bring about amicable relations between owners and tenants, namely, fair rent, security of tenure and fixing responsibility for repairs. The draft of the Bill is being prepared at the moment, and we hope that soon it will be presented in the Dail for enactment. Needless to say, a Bill containing these provisions is long overdue, and I do not see how a democratic measure such as that Bill can be turned down lightly by a democratic legislature. On the whole the year has added to the progress of the movement, the membership increased at the year advanced, and the loyalty and enthusiasm given by the members have helped greatly in placing the cause a step nearer to the goal which all town tenants are eagerly and anxiously striving to gain. It would be a matter of seeming indifference and serious neglect on my part if I were to close this report without referring to the sad and irreparable loss sustained by the town tenants generally, and this branch particularly, through the lamented death of our late estimable president, Mr. Murphy (R.I.P.). The absence of his genial personality has created a void that we sorely feel, and the loss of his practical experience and well-balanced wisdom has long since become apparent, and has affected the welfare and progress of the branch in no small measure. Twelve months ago we had the privilege of listening to him deliver the annual report, in which he reviewed the working of the branch for the previous year in his well-remembered fluent and capable manner, and wound up by assuring us that "the organisation was getting more and more solid; it would realise its great strength and influence and assert itself." He told us that "our demands for redress were still crying out, and if we were turned down ruthlessly, we would rise again with greater driving force and nothing would satisfy us, but the full realisation of our aspirations." Do not these words read a parting message to us who are to live on and carry on? They should be an incentive to stimulate all our energies and fire us with the enthusiasm that he always felt was necessary to carry out the work usefully and successfully. His co-operation with the tenants for peace and contentment in their homes can be repaid now by our co-operation with him in seeing him safely to the shores of peace and happiness in his permanent home (hear, hear).

The Chairman, in proposing the adoption of the annual report,

MARRIAGE. O'CONNOR AND POWER—On January 24th, 1926, at the Parish Church, Abbeyside, by the Rev. W. Walsh, P.P., Palk, O'Connor, Cloughan, Co. Tipperary, to Alice Teresa, fourth daughter of John and Mrs. Power, Ballinrood, Dungarvan.

LOCAL HAPPENINGS.

Local Will.—The late Fr. Byrne, P.P., Abbeyside, left by his will £10,000, which is to be given to whatever charitable purposes his executors recommend.

Ratepayers in the Co. Waterford are to be asked to foot an extraordinary bill this year. A provisional demand was for 19/2 on buildings and 14/6 on land, but the County Council rightly holding that the people could not pay that, reduced the road estimate by £36,000, equal to a rate reduction of 3s. in the £.

Mr. O'Shea said the clerk's office in Lismore was in part of the old courthouse and the courts were held in the Carnegie Library, which was heated. Previously the courts were held in the boardroom, and he did not know why they left there.

Chairman—He accepted the lower award not to have the rebuilding clause put in. The Chairman having stated the Duke of Devonshire was arranging to heat the clerk's office, the matter ended.

As to Cappoquin Courthouse, Sir John Keane said he was the Managing Director of a company that owned it, and he thought the company should negotiate with the County Council on the matter.

In the case of Tallow Courthouse, Mr. McCoy, solicitor, said the landlord—the Duke of Devonshire—agreed to look after the lighting, heating, cleaning and caretaking of the courthouse.

Mr. Conway—These courts do not sit very often. We often meet here without heat or light. I propose we go on with the business.

Technical Committee.—Mr. Mce Walsh having resigned his seat on the Technical Committee, Mr. Slack proposed that Very Rev. Canon Furlong, P.P., be appointed in his place.

Mr. Galgey—I object to have any clergyman on them. They have enough to do. Mr. J. O'Donnell proposed, and Mr. Galgey seconded, that Mr. D. Coghlan be appointed. This was passed.

Mr. Slack—Sure he will never come there. Bovine Tuberculosis Suspend—Mr. Fitzgerald moved his motion to suspend the operation of the Bovine Tuberculosis Order in the Co. Waterford as from 31st March next. He said on the last occasion he was led to believe by the Chief V.S. of the Department that a scheme was to be drawn up on the matter, but since then he heard nothing. This Order was only in force in 8 counties out of the 26, and there was nothing to prevent cattle from the adjoining counties coming into Co. Waterford for slaughter. The amount paid to a few veterinary surgeons was very large, and if the same amount was paid to the other vets they would require an extra 1s. in the £ on the rates.

Mr. W. O'Donnell seconded, and the motion was passed. It was also ordered to notify each veterinary surgeon that his services under that Act will terminate on March 31st.

No. Pound.—The Ministry for Justice wrote the want of a Pound for Dungarvan and asked the County Council to provide one.

Mr. Galgey—We have no money for the like of that. Mr. Butler—You can't get money without a Pound. The matter was referred to the Finance Committee.

£20 Job.—For the position of Clerk to the Diseases of Animals Committee at £20 a year, two applications were read, viz., Mr. Michael Parks, Ballyduff, and Mr. John Ryan, Ballintaylor. The L.G.B. suggested that a member of the County Council staff should get the job. The Chairman said Mr. Parks had a very good knowledge of the work.

Mr. O'Donnell proposed, and Mr. Galgey seconded, that Mr. Parks be appointed. Mr. Slack proposed Mr. Ryan. Mr. Conway seconded. Mr. Parks was on a show of hands elected by 11 to 3.

Literature in the Air.—The Co. Surveyor said he had received a letter stating that the Minister of Finance would give a grant of £300 for the erection of signboards at the several crossroads in the county in the Irish and English languages. All the sign-boards recently erected were in English only. He (Mr. Bowen) did not think it was very wise to put up the names in two languages. Where there would be 5 or 6 signboards when the names were put in Irish and in English the place would be like a hoarding with a lot of literature up in the air. Sir John Keane—Have you any opinion? Mr. Bowen—No. Sir John Keane—It is an awful waste of money.

Developing Dungarvan.—A public meeting was held in the Town Hall, Dungarvan, on Thursday evening for the purpose of developing the town as a seaside resort. Very Rev. Canon Furlong, P.P., presided, and there was a large attendance. Mr. Barry, of the Tourist Development Association, attended and explained how they should proceed with the work and attract tourists. He said they had permission to strike a rate of 3d. for the purpose of advertising, etc. He also advocated having hotels and garages up-to-date so that visitors who come once would return. Full report held over to next issue.

Nominations to Mares.—All interested are requested to note that the last day for receiving nominations for mares by Mr. O'Dwyer, Secretary, is Tuesday next, February 2nd.

£26,000 Up.—The estimate for the County Board of Public Assistance is £26,000 up.

G.A.A.—The Annual Convention of the Waterford G.A.A. will be held in the Town Hall, Dungarvan, on Sunday next at 1 p.m.

Firearms.—At Dungarvan District Court on Wednesday, before Mr. Troy, a charge against Mr. P. Spratt for having a shotgun without a license was adjourned. For a similar offence John Murray was fined 5s. and cases against David Landers and Thos. Walsh dismissed.

Possession.—A decree for possession was granted at the suit of Mrs. McGrath, Lanch. against a man named Maher in respect of a house he occupied.

Eggs and How to Make Hens Pay.—A very interesting lecture on Eggs and Poultry will be given in the Ganagh Hall on Sunday next at 2 o'clock to which all who possibly can are requested to attend, and in view of the importance of the subject no one should be absent. A meeting of the shareholders of the Finisk Co-operative Store will first be held.

Basic Slag.—Big shipment due to arrive on Monday or Tuesday next. Special terms ex-ship. Terms Cash.—Reps. Mce Flynn, Main street, Dungarvan.

Reduction of Wages.—At a Conference on Wednesday between the Asylum Committee and attendants at Waterford, it was mutually agreed that a reduction of 5 per cent. in the wages of the employees operate as from 1st April and a further 5 per cent. reduction on the 1st July next. The Conference was the result of a motion by Mr. J. Kiersey, Chairman County Council, at the last meeting.

Evicted Tenants' Meeting.—A meeting of the above was held in the Town Hall on Sunday. There were present—Messrs. T. Casey, T. Morrissey (secretary), P. Guiry, P. Bluet, W. Navin, T. Hickey, M. Moloney, W. Gamble, M. Power, M. Donnelly and Mrs. Donnelly. After an interesting discussion Mr. M. Power proposed, and Mr. Hickey seconded, a resolution demanding from the Government the long overdue reward conferred by the Irish leaders on the evicted tenants as soldiers of the Land War from whose disinterested sacrifices the tenantry of Ireland were permanently rooted in the soil as peasant proprietors.

CAPPOQUIN ROWING CLUB. The Dancing Season will terminate with a GRAND ALL-NIGHT DANCE AT THE BOATHOUSE, On Sunday Night, 14th February. Music by the Nightingale Orchestra. Tickets—Gents, 2/6; Ladies, 1/6. Refreshments at Moderate Prices. T. O'Keefe, P. Mason, M.C's.

NOTICE.—Any person found trespassing on my land will be prosecuted owing to fences being broken down.—Mrs. M. J. O'Brien, Knockenpower, Ring.

CAMPBELL, LISMORE, 5th Aug., '24. Dear Sir, I beg to inform you that I have been a first-class prize winner in Yeast Cakes at the two recent Shows held in Dungarvan and Lismore. In these Cakes I used your Flour "Snow Queen" bought by me from Mrs. A. C. Walsh, High-Class Bakery, Lismore. The manufacturers of "Snow Queen" may be pleased to know the good quality of this flour. It is splendid. As their Agent you can use my opinion and results. I am, Dear Sir, Yours faithfully, (Signed) BRIDGET GEARY.

We congratulate Miss Geary on her success, and on her foresight in using "SNOW QUEEN" the Flour that can be relied upon to produce the best results.

Quality Always tells.
