An Overlicensed Town.—At the Dun-garvan Circuit Court on Thursday, before Mr. Justice Sealy, Mr. Peter Walsh Mr. Justice Sealy, Mr. Peter Walsh O'Connell street, applied for a new license for his house. Mr. Williams, solr., for Mr. Walsh, explained that the license was allowed to lapse two years ago. Some time ago £1.700 was offered for the premises, and recently negotiations were opened for the purchase of the house if Mr. Walsh could get the license.

His Lordship asked if the Guards had any objection, and Supt. Murray said no. His Lordship said his impression was that the Guards were to oppose all such applications.

In answer to his Lordship, Supt. Marray said there were 86 public-houses in the town and the population was 5,500.

His Lordship—That is one public-house for every 60 inhabitants. The proper proportion is one for every 400 inhabitants.

It is one of the most over-licensed towns Mr. Peter Walsh, applicant, said he was lapse as his son died. This would not increase the number of licensed houses as it was one of those in the list mentioned.

If licensed he could get a gold price for

His Lordship said the apparant wanted a license because a Bill was introduced under which compensation was to be given when licenses were done away with, and this man wanted to make £1,000 or £2,000 by getting him to grant a license. They had 86 licensed houses for 5,500 people. and it was one of the most over-license towns in the country. He could not allow
