CAPPOQUIN NOTES.

Death of Mr. Patrick English.—The death of Mr. Patrick English occurred at his residence, Tivoli Terrace, on Wednesday, 15th inst., after a long illness. Deceased, who had reached a fine age, was formerly a well-known and successful farmer at Cowhill, near Mollery, but retired from farming about 20 years ago, since when he had resided in Cappoquin, and had become one of the most popular and respected inhabitants in the town. Of a quiet and retiring disposition and a man whose honesty and uprightness of character were well known to all, deceased was held in the highest esteem by everyone, and his death in the fullness of years is much regretted. His wife and children have the deep sympathy of all classes in their sad affliction. The remains were removed to the Catholic Church on Thursday evening. On Friday the funeral took place at Ahascragh and was followed by a large gathering of the general public. The chief mourners were—Mrs. English (widow); Maggie English (daughter); Jack and Paddy English (sons). Wreaths were laid on the grave from his loving wife and children, James Russell and family, Ed. and Mrs. Brady and family, Mrs. Templeton and family, etc. R.I.P.

Death of Mrs. Williams.—The death took place recently of Mrs. M. Williams at a ripe age and has caused much local regret. Deceased was appointed by the Lismore Board of Guardians as maternity nurse for Cappoquin and district over 25 years ago, and during all that period she had proved most skilful and attentive. She was particularly kind and attentive to the poorer classes and enjoyed the respect and confidence of the public at large to a remarkable extent. Her funeral took place at Dungarvan. R.I.P.

Gene Back.—The Rev. E. Noonan, Oakland, California, who had been home on a three months' holiday with his mother and brothers at Turbelta, returned to America by the Cunard liner "Franconia" on last Sunday week.

A Great Day's Sport.—A most interesting and enjoyable day's sport is promised for all on next Sunday week, October 3rd, when Mr. Sam Doolan, Gaelic teacher, will hold a tournament in the Sportsfield, which has been kindly given for the purpose by the Directors. A special feature of the programme will be the performance of the talented Miss Maara O'Mara, Clonmel, the well-known Peis Ceoil and Orchestral prize-winner, who is bringing her clever young pupils with her to give a graceful exhibition of Irish step-dancing in all its phases. The Irish drama, "An Fhine," with which Mr. Doolan's Cappoquin pupils won first prize at the Waterford Fete some months ago, will also be staged by the same performers, and should prove a rare treat, while all the usual items of Irish singing and dancing will complete a programme of rare attractiveness and merit. In addition to the above Mr. Doolan is offering a valuable set of medals for an important senior football match between Dungarvan and Aghlish, and as both teams are undergoing a strict course of training for the event, a great game is sure to be witnessed on the occasion.

Motor Car Accident.—Some commotion was caused in the Main street on Thursday night week when a motor car, the property of Miss Dorothy Musgrave, daughter of Sir Richard J. Musgrave, Bart., Tourin, was seen to be partially on fire. Miss Musgrave had left the car standing outside Frater's newsagents when she went in, and it appears the wires held the electric lighting in the front of the car became fused and threatened to destroy the car only that the fire was discovered in time and quickly extinguished. The car was promptly taken to O'Keefe's motor garage for repair and Miss Musgrave was provided with another car with which she drove home without further incident.

Cinema News.—The Lismore Cinema Co., which has rented the fine Boathouse Hall for the purpose of running pictures in Cappoquin during the winter months, has been carrying out extensive alterations in the building during the past fortnight with a view to providing adequate and safe exits in case of emergency so as to guard against any form of accident taking place. In addition the projecting machine has been completely enclosed in a steel box, lined with asbestos, so as to render it absolutely fire proof, and nothing has been left undone to assure both the comfort and safety of the public and to comply strictly with the requirements of the Cinema Act. It is hoped to have the new cinema formally opened to the public in a week or so. We are asked to state that the Lismore Cinema, which was closed for one night recently owing to a misunderstanding, has since been re-opened, and is now working as usual, the building having been passed by Mr. J. Bowen, county surveyor, as being satisfactory in every way and complying with all the requirements of the Cinema Act.

Dungarvan District Court.

Held on Wednesday, before Mr. Troy, D.J.
TRANSFER OF LICENSES.
Mr. Maurice Flynn was granted a transfer of the license held by Mr. Michael Flynn, Square, Dungarvan.
Mr. Patrick Ryan was granted a transfer of the license held by the late J. J. Condon, Main street, Dungarvan.
Mr. Skinner, solicitor, Mitchelstown, on behalf of Mr. E. A. Ryan, solicitor, made the applications.

ASSAULT.

John Kiely, senior, Barrack street, Dungarvan, prosecuted Michael Moynan and Patrick Keohan for assault. John Kiely, junior, prosecuted Patrick Moynan for assault. Mary Kiely prosecuted Mary Moynan for abuse on August 21st. There was a cross-case against Mary Kiely by Mary Moynan.
Mary Moynan prosecuted Mary Kiely for abuse on August 22nd. There was a cross-case by Mary Kiely against Mary Moynan.
Mr. Skinner, solicitor, Mitchelstown, represented the Kielys.
Mr. Carroll, junior, solicitor, Fermoy, defended.

At a meeting of the Carranabane Branch of the Farmers' Union, the following resolution was proposed and passed unanimously—"That the scale fixed by this Branch for steam-threshing operations be again adopted, viz.—£3 10s. for 9 hours day, £2 for half-day, and 10s. per hour for short time."

KILMACHOS NEWS.

THE LATE MRS. KIERSEY, BALLYHUBBA.
At the Parish Church, Newtown, on the 17th inst., solemn Office and Requiem High Mass was celebrated for the repose of the soul of the above-named popular lady, whose untimely demise was reported in our previous issue. Rev. M. Dowley, C.C., Kill, was celebrant of the Mass; Rev. D. M. Sheehan, C.C., Kilmachosmas, deacon; Rev. J. Kenneally, C.C., Grange-moeller, sub-deacon. Very Rev. Canon Fremdergast, P.P., Ballybricken, presided. Chanters, Rev. T. Power, C.C., Fethard, and Rev. J. J. Keating, The College, Fermoy. Martin Dowley, Adm., St. John's, was master of ceremonies. In the choir were—Very Rev. J. O'Donnell, P.P., Newtown; Very Rev. T. O'Byrne, P.P., Ringend, Dublin (uncle of deceased); Rev. P. O'Neill, C.C., Tramore; Very Rev. P. Murphy, P.P., Dunhill; Very Rev. P. Cusack, P.P., Powerstown; Rev. L. Egan, C.C., Dungarvan; Rev. M. J. Murray, C.C., St. John's; Rev. L. Verrecker, C.C., Fethard; Rev. J. O'Donnell, do., and Rev. M. Barrow, C.C., Strathally. Immediately after the Divine Service all that was mortal of the late Mrs. Kiersey was reverently laid to rest in the adjoining cemetery in the presence of an enormous gathering of relatives and sympathisers. The clergyman already named officiated at the graveside. A large number of beautiful wreaths were laid on the grave. Numerous telegrams and messages of sympathy have been received.

CHILD ABANDONED AT CARROLL'S CROSS.

A lady passenger aboard the Cork to Waterford Express on Sunday last at 6.30 p.m. took out from her compartment a child of 4 years, who accompanied her, and having placed the youngster safely on the platform, returned to the carriage and proceeded with the train. Mr. Somers, stationmaster, took charge of the deserted one. The child—a boy—said his father would call for him, but as nobody turned up by noon on the following day, Mr. Somers became suspicious and reported the matter to Sergeant O'Donnell, Kilmachosmas, who proceeded searching inquiries as a result of which the little fellow's father was discovered at Annetstown. Dungarvan some time ago for the good of his health, and his upkeep paid for there by the father. The latter was not aware that the youngster was returning on Sunday. We understand that nothing further has been since learned of the lady who "dumped" the kiddie in so mean a manner. However, a sequel may be later on.

CONCERT AND DRAMA.

A grand concert and drama will be given soon at Durrus Hall by the members of the local Amateur Dramatic Club. Full particulars will be published in due course.

PROGRESS.

We respectfully direct our esteemed readers' attention to an interesting announcement appearing elsewhere on this issue from Mr. Hill, Kilmachosmas, who is one of the foremost traders in the county. He has now installed within his commodious premises an up-to-date machine baking plant with which he can turn out bread and confectionery of the cleanest and best quality. His motor vans deliver daily. Please read the advertisement.

Tallow District Court.

Before Mr. Redmond Naish, B.L.
Having disposed of the civil bills, Mr. J. W. O'Gorman, solicitor, Lismore, appeared for Mr. D. Casey, State Solicitor, Mitchelstown, in a number of cases for the Irish Land Commission against defaulting annuitants.
By Mr. Skinner—She only wanted peace.
By Mr. Troy—They follow her children around calling witness a prostitute.
Patrick Moynan deposed on the 21st August he was going down Friary lane, where Kiely, his father, and Patrick Kiely were standing there. It would be about 10 p.m. He was struck at the corner by John Kiely, who had a knife in his hand, but he did not know if he was stabbed. He was knocked down and kicked by P. Kiely and his father.
By Mr. Skinner—Mrs. Kiely said I was a robber. He never had a conversation with John Kiely about taking things. He only summoned Patrick Kiely. He did not summon John Kiely for stabbing him. Power could prove it if he was here. He had no witness about the assault as it was dark. He never saw O'Connor there that night. O'Connor must be telling lies. He met Patrick Kiely that evening, but did not knock him down or ask him down the lane.
Michael Moynan deposed he was standing at Moloney's corner about 9.30. John Kiely, senior, came along and caught him by the throat and hauled him down Moloney's lane. Every day since his daughter got married they are trying to persecute him. He was afraid to travel the street. Mrs. Kiely called witness's daughter a common—
By Mr. Skinner—Keohan was not there that evening. There was no one with either witness of John Kiely, senior, when the row came on. Witness never touched Kiely with his foot. He heard about his son being beaten, also John Kiely, but not Patrick Kiely.
Patrick Nagle deposed he was at Walsh's corner on that night. Patrick Moynan came down Friary lane. J. Kiely and Patrick Kiely were there. John Kiely struck him and he fell down. Patrick Kiely kicked him.
By Mr. Skinner—He was friendly with witness. He was never accused of anything—on Moynan's daughter. Moynan may have a few earlier in the evening with Kiely, but he did not see it.
Patrick Keohan deposed he was not present at the alleged assault as he was out playing at home. He knew nothing about it until the Garda came and read over a warrant to him charging him with assault. He was at the courthouse when Mrs. Kiely charged Moynan with being a robber.
By Mr. Skinner—He was playing cards. He did not know if the old man was raving when he swore he was there. He did not see him at all. He was not in Mich. Moynan's company that night. He lived a long way away from where the row started. He had no witness to prove it as they were there two days and it would not pay him to bring them any more.
Mary Moynan deposed on the day of the balls Mrs. Kiely said everything about her daughter, which she would not repeat in court. She was the mother of 16 children.
By Mr. Skinner—She knew the public-house Mrs. Kiely is supposed to go into. She never saw Mrs. Kiely with 30 years.
Mrs. K. Moran deposed she knew Patrick Keohan and saw him at 10 o'clock on the night of the row. Keohan was at home playing cards. She saw the row between Patrick Moynan and John Kiely. John Kiely started the row.
By Mr. Skinner—Her maiden name was Mary Murphy. She did not offer to withdraw the case if the other side withdrew.
The Justice fined Michael Moynan 10s. and costs and bound him to the peace himself in £5 and two sureties of £2 each.
Keohan was fined 10s. and costs and bound to the peace, and Patrick Moynan 5s. and costs and bound to the peace. The cases and cross-cases by the women were adjourned for two months. The Justice strongly advised both sides to keep to their own streets, saying that the town was big enough for them.

CRUELTY TO ANIMALS.

Guard Twomey, Cappagh, summoned M. Hodnett for working a donkey suffering from sores.
Defendant, who said he had only a lend of the donkey and did not know there was anything wrong, was fined 20s. and costs.
Same v. John Foley working a jennet suffering from sores. Fined 20s. and costs.
Same v. Thomas Scanlon working a donkey suffering from sores. Fined 5s. and costs.
Same v. Hugh Walsh working a donkey suffering from sores. The donkey was attached to a horse's cart with three chains of milk going to the creamery.
Defendants, who did not appear, was fined 20s. and costs with 5s. special costs.

OCASIONAL LICENSE.

Daniel Morrissey was granted an occasional license for the night of October 6th from 10 p.m. to 3 a.m. The application was from 10 p.m. to 3 a.m., but at the request of Superintendent Murray the Justice granted it from 10 p.m. to 3 p.m.

IRISH LAND COMMISSION.

McGRATH.
In this case Mr. O'Gorman applied for an adjournment as he hadn't received the necessary certificate.
Mr. Magner, solicitor, for the defence, said McGrath was not the tenant at all. It was apparent from the civil bill that it had been discovered by somebody that the tenant was dead and the name was altered to "Michael McGrath."
The Justice said he could not deal with the case in the circumstances.
Mr. Magner said there could not be a certificate as his client's name didn't appear in the Land Commission's books.
The case was ultimately adjourned.
Decees were granted in six cases and the remainder were adjourned.
Mr. Ryan said there were a number of rate cases to be heard.
Mr. A. Carroll, solicitor, said they were not civil bills.
Mr. Ryan—Are they not civil cases?
Mr. Carroll—They are not.
Mr. Ryan—They are not criminal cases surely.
Mr. Carroll—They are summonses for poor rates.
The court took up the hearing of the rates cases, Mr. A. Carroll for the County Council.
Mr. E. A. Ryan, solicitor, appeared for the defendant in the case against J. Coughlan, Tallow.
Mr. T. Barry, rate collector, having given evidence proving the amounts due for the years 1923-24 and 1924-25, Cross-examined by Mr. Ryan, witness said the defendant wasn't in occupation when the 1923-24 rate was struck. It was Cornelius Sugra. He could not say if there was a demand note issued to him as he was not collector at the time.
Mr. Ryan said he admitted liability for the 1924-25 rate, but not for the previous ones.
A decree was given for the later rate.
In other cases of a similar nature a like ruling was made.
In a case against D. Coughlan, Breda, Mr. Barry having given evidence.
Mr. J. L. Keane for the defence said that a house for which they were rated was uninhabitable. As regards the 1923 rate, defendant pleaded that he had paid the amount through the post to the defuncting rate collector.
Mr. Carroll defendant had made various statements in connection with the case—first that he had paid through a local trader, and secondly through the Knockanore Post Office. They had the defuncting rate collector present to give evidence.
After hearing the defendant the case was adjourned to next court.

BANK OF IRELAND v. CRONIN.

This was an order for examination as to means. Mr. J. L. Keane, solicitor, for the Bank, and Mr. E. A. Ryan, solicitor, for the defendant.
From the evidence it appeared that the defendant, J. Cronin, Carrigmore, Co. Kerry, in 1921 he secured his brother for £400 in the Bank of Ireland, Tallow. In 1922 he made a marriage settlement with his wife. The brother, failed to pay his bill and a judgment was got against defendant for £500.
The defendant was cross-examined at considerable length by Mr. Keane.
The Justice asked what would the complainants accept?
Mr. Keane said £10 monthly.
Mr. Ryan said his client was unable to make any offer.
The Justice said he would not dismiss the case. He would like to have some offer from defendant.
This was not forthcoming, and the case was finally adjourned to next court.
Mr. A. Carroll, solicitor, for an adjournment transfer of a license from Joseph O'Keefe, Tallow, to Bernard O'Keefe.
The latter having given evidence, the application was granted.
Mr. Wm. R. Hodnett, on behalf of John Murphy, Kilmacow, applied for the transfer of a license lately held by his deceased sister.
There being no objection, the application was granted.
Mr. Thomas Doherty, Inspector of Fisheries, Ballinacorney, applied for a license on the river Bride and his brother, Michael, with siding and abetting.
Mr. J. L. Keane prosecuted, and Mr. J. W. O'Gorman, solicitor, for the defendants.
The Justice said he would not dismiss the case, but he would defend the charge against anyone for siding and abetting.
Mr. Keane called attention to a statute not before him by Mr. O'Gorman, viz., Section 31 of the Act of 1925.
Mr. O'Gorman said under that Section the court had the option of fixing the fine. Mr. Keane said Mr. O'Gorman had met the case very fairly, but it was a most

NATIONAL ORGANISATION OF TOWN TENANTS.

MR. MORRISSEY, T.D., IN DUNGARVAN.
A very large and representative meeting of the tenants of Dungarvan was held in the Courthouse, Mr. T. J. Power, U.D.C., occupied the chair.
The Chairman said he was very pleased with the large attendance, which showed their interest in the movement was very enthusiastic. Some may have heavy grievances, others may have light ones, but all should realise that their main object was to have an energetic organisation backed up by the entire moral force of the town tenants, and through their activities bring the necessary pressure to bear on the Government and induce them to set about immediately to review in full the present legislation governing the relations between landlord and tenant that is causing all the grievances, great and small, and have it replaced by legislation that will be equitable and just.
He would not stand between them and Mr. Morrissey, whom he had great pleasure in introducing.
Mr. Morrissey, who was received with great cheer, said he was interested in the Town Tenants' Movement since he had seen enough to know the value of the Town Tenants' League, and he was thoroughly acquainted with the tenants' many grievances. The present Executives were entirely inactive, (or during the passing of the recent Rent Restrictions Act his experience was that all T.D.'s were bombarded with letters and telegrams from the house-owners, and not a line scarcely from anybody on behalf of the tenants, with the result that the landlords through their activities influenced the Government to adopt 14 amendments that made the Bents Act infinitely worse than its original draft. He and his party offered their entire opposition on behalf of the interests of the tenants, but owing to the spathy of the tenants and the usual Government majority.

majority, their assertions were almost entirely ineffective. Since the passing of the Bents Act he was approached by men of influence and means to take steps to organise a viable, true association of town tenants. With the little time at his disposal he consented to do so, but realised the great difficulty owing to the apathy of the tenants, and a great deal of harm had been done to the cause by a certain type of organiser. After explaining the various provisions of the Bents Act, he said the worst and most dangerous parts were those dealing with defaulting tenants. Rent restrictions would disappear by stages, and at the end of three years control would be regulated by supply and demand, and the landlord could charge any rent he wished. For instance, a man rented a house 30 years ago at £20 per year, and by his industry and energy had built up a prosperous business. In a couple of years the landlord can say: "I want £50 per year rent. If you do not pay someone else will." Let us take a labouring man who pays 5s. weekly. At the end of three years the landlord can say he wants 10s. weekly. Worse still, the expired leaseholder who built the house or paid a large sum for its goodwill can be evicted, and still have gentlemen writing to the Press talking of robbery and complicity. In face of the passing of this Act President Cosgrave was in Waterford recently and asked for an extension of time to do something for the tenants. Well, his (Mr. Morrissey's) answer was the President is in power still, and if he has the will he will be able to undo all the mischief he did to the tenants in the passing of the Bents Act. He was not coming down on the Government because they were the Free State Government, but he wanted to put before the town tenants that if they stood up and asserted themselves they could influence the Government to give what the farmers get. Many things were said to sting dust in the eyes of the people. A hot hearing was dragged across the track when the Bents Act was being passed that it was impeding house production. People would not build if rents were tied. The average man may not know that there are restrictions on rents in any house built since 1919. Those who have made an intelligent study of the matter will not be fooled, and the only protection for the tenants is to establish a strong viable organisation that will command the influence of the Dail. The objects of the National Organisation of town tenants are to organise all town tenants to secure fair, fixed, tenure, and compensation for improvements, and prepare and introduce legislative measures that will secure these reforms. These can be secured as an early date if the tenants show real earnestness. The rules are provisional until a Convention will be held in Dublin and all the branches will be asked to send representatives. At the Convention it is proposed to appoint Executive Officers and Committee, draft permanent rules for the guidance of the organisation, and to put the organisation on a permanent basis. He was not satisfied with the constitution and administration of the old Executives, and his desire was that the organisation must not be a one man show, and not be controlled by one man for one man's interests. The organisation will be on an individual membership basis; all members will be enrolled at Head Office; balance sheets fully certified and audited at the end of the year will be sent to all branches, so that every member will know the financial position of the organisation. All these questions will be set out in the rules. The Executive will not allow any branch to take up the case of a non-member. It is the bad tenant who causes the most trouble and the most money. If the tenants take sufficient interest they can control the whole movement, but if they are careless and happy-go-lucky then God help them, because the landlord will look for his leg of flesh. Organise in your own interests. Legislation was passed by the landlords for the landlords. In future legislation will be passed by the tenants for the tenants (apart).

Mr. James Johnson proposed.

Mr. James Johnson proposed, and Mr. Wm. Power seconded, that a branch of the organisation be started under the National Organisation.
Mr. Donaldson proposed a vote of thanks to Mr. Morrissey for his very able address and hoped every tenant in the town would take the address to heart and become enrolled under the new banner.
Mr. Flynn seconded, and Mr. Morrissey suitably replied.
The Chairman said a general meeting of the tenants of the town would be held in a few weeks' time, and he hoped all those present would attend and bring all their friends with them. There was work to be done, and it was for them to do it. Their loyal co-operation would speedily bring about the desired results.

MUNSTER HURLING FINAL.

DRAWN GAME AT THURLES.

In brilliant weather and before a large attendance Tipperary and Cork hurlers met at Thurles on Sunday to play the final which resulted in a draw at Cork the previous Sunday.

From the spectators' point of view it was a splendid hurling exhibition. Brilliant and thrilling passages were the order on each side from start to finish, in a very fast game.

There were a number of stoppages during the game as several players sustained injuries. In such a strenuous encounter, accidents were bound to be experienced, but very few of them were of a serious character.

THE GAME—FIRST HALF. It was ten minutes after the appointed time when the teams were set in motion by Mr. W. P. Clifford, President of the Gaelic Athletic Association.

Tipperary were the first to attack, their forwards, led by M. Darcy and Collison, breaking into the Cork territory, but M. Murphy secured relief.

ply stopped a few Tipperary attacks before Hurley transferred play to the Tipperary quarter. Cork, however, were penalised and play settled at midfield until Hurley raised the leather and drove it to J. Kennedy.

Preliminary Announcement OF A NEW TYPE HIGH SPEED LIGHT CAR. "The Overland Whippet," So named for its qualities of speed, agility, power and endurance, after the famous racing thoroughbred—

"THE WHIPPET." THE OVERLAND WHIPPET is a revolutionary low-wing modern car, radically different from the old-fashioned, high-in-the-air carriage type of car that it is designed to supplement or replace.

It is a complete new car, designed and built as a unit, not an old-fashioned chassis reconstructed. For over three years Willys-Overland engineers in Europe and America have been developing it. Its high torque, 31 horse-power engine of small bore and long stroke, embodies the same engineering principles used in the fastest racing cars of America and Europe, and 500,000 of road tests have proved its practical advantages beyond all doubt.

The 15 rated horse-power engine will actually develop more than 30 horse-power in use. Its wonderful activity, its flashing bursts of speed and quick acceleration have never been available in any car of equal size. Stop watch tests show that it can go up to 40 miles an hour, 10 per cent. faster than other high cars. It runs like a car, pulls with irresistible power, no average hill can stall it. In distinctive body lines, the WHIPPET frankly resembles the smartest built cars, complete symmetry of design has been achieved with compact, rational dimensions. Height and length are in time artistic proportions, and it is beautifully finished in a pleasing shade of rich Appennine blue, with durable triple-coated lacquer that will retain its lustrous beauty for many years.

From the standpoint of engineering, performance, comfort, economy, appearance and quality, the OVERLAND WHIPPET has established an entirely new criterion by which all other light cars must be judged. See for yourself. Demonstration cars will shortly be available, and a three-minute study of the many superlatives of the WHIPPET may save you from buying some obsolete car. PRICES—5-Seater Sedan, £235. 5-Seater Tourer, £210. DELIVERY CHARGES EXTRA. Daniel Crotty & Son, Overland Distributors, Dungarvan and Waterford.

Mr. N. Fitzgerald, Also present—Messrs. Sheridan, C. J. Curran, Sherbrook, John Green, Power, T. Harty, B. Black. Mr. M. Whelan, In presence of the following present.

LATE MRS. Mr. D. Coughlan has passed the following vote Mr. John Kersey, Chairman, on the death of his wife, Mrs. Kersey, who had been a member of the staff, begged to be allowed to convey to Mr. Kersey the resolution of condolence passed in silence.

COMING YEAR The meeting then proceeded to the business of the evening. Mr. Whelan, Inspector of the finances, reported on the position of the fund at the moment. They were spending over £100 per week, and they had some £1,000 in the bank. The balance was becoming only £441 as from 1st July, but that amount with the £1,000 in the bank is made up of £441 and £1,000 of a grant from the Government and class earnings of £441 available for the year, which expires on 31st March. The total allocation was £1,441, which is a very small amount for the year. On going through the accounts, it was found that the balance was £1,441 as from 1st July, but that amount with the £1,000 in the bank is made up of £441 and £1,000 of a grant from the Government and class earnings of £441 available for the year, which expires on 31st March. The total allocation was £1,441, which is a very small amount for the year.
