

Appointment of Veterinary Surgeon.

YOUGHAL No 3 AREA WANTS A VET.
INTERESTING DEBATE.

MR. R. P. BYRNE, V.S., APPOINTED PRO TEM.

At the finance meeting of the County Council on Tuesday the question of the appointment of a temporary veterinary surgeon for the districts of Dungarvan and Youghal No. 3 was discussed through the death of Mr. M. F. Lynch, M.R.C.V.S., came up for consideration. Mr. M. Bennock, P.C., presided. There were also present Messrs. P. Mulvey, J. Butler, T.D.; W. Stack, M. McManis, J. Gooling, C. O'Shea, P. O'Gorman, M. Dunne, D. Healy, J. G. Doherty, John Kiersey, Maurice Walsh, D. Coughlan, Mathias Walsh, F. McAliffe, N. Fitzgerald, M. O'Regan, P. J. Power, M. Galgely, W. O'Donnell, J. Sheehan, L. Hallinan, D. Ward, E. Tobin, T. Harty, D. Conway, J. O'Halloran and James Kirwan.

On the 6th October Mr. T. Casey, Assistant Secretary County Council, wrote to the Department—I beg to report for the information of the Department that Mr. M. F. Lynch, M.R.C.V.S., for Dungarvan and Youghal districts, died on the 3rd inst. The Finance Committee of the County Council at its meeting to-day directed me to have consideration of the appointment of a temporary V.S. for these areas put on the agenda for the next meeting of the Finance Committee on the 19th inst. With regard to my telephone conversation with Mr. Flannery of the Department, I have informed Mr. Cunningham, who had been acting as deputy for Mr. M. F. Lynch, to carry on the business until the 19th inst., as it would be a serious matter not to have a V.S. operating in these areas, where Mr. Cunningham is at present dealing with reported cases of sheep and bovine tuberculosis. I would be glad to have Department's approval of this arrangement.

The Secretary of the Department of Agriculture replied on the 9th October as follows:—In reference to your communication on the 6th inst. by telephone with Mr. Flannery, Chief Veterinary Inspector of the Department, I have to state that so far as this Department is concerned there is no objection to an arrangement whereby Mr. Cunningham, V.S., will carry on the duties under the Diseases of Animals Committee of the late lamented Mr. M. F. Lynch, V.S., pending the appointment of the latter's successor in accordance with the Local Authorities Act, 1926.

Mr. O'Gorman—Mr. Lynch was first V.S. for Youghal No. 3 district and later Mr. N. Power, V.S. for Dungarvan, died and Mr. Lynch got the two appointments. The two areas were amalgamated a few years ago by making it all one job. That was a gross injustice to Youghal No. 3 district not to have a V.S. of their own. I propose that we divide it into two districts and appoint one V.S. for each area and so give facilities to the farmers about Ardara and Clahmore.

Chairman—How long have the positions been amalgamated?
Secretary—They were amalgamated a number of years ago.
Mr. O'Halloran said if there was a sudden call at night where were the people of Youghal No. 3 to get a vet? They should go all the way to Dungarvan. That was what they had to go through up to this and now they want to remedy matters, and in justice to the people of that area a man on the spot should be appointed.

Mr. Kiersey—I wish to point out how we are circumvented in Kilmacthomas. If we want a V.S. we have to go to Lismore. If you have a case of contagious disease it is with the Clerk of the Diseases of Animals Committee or with the sergeant of the local Guards or with the constable.

Chairman—I don't see that it is relevant at all. We are discussing the possibility of making a new position, which does not arise before us to-day.
Mr. O'Gorman—It is right to make a beginning and initiate the thing to-day, as if you make an appointment you cannot go back of it.
Chairman—Any appointment we make to-day is only temporary.
Mr. O'Halloran—Don't we make a suggestion? Chairman—Yes.
Mr. O'Gorman—If the V.S. for Kilmacthomas lives in Lismore it is a wrong thing, and two wrongs don't make a right. The V.S. should live in the district to which he is appointed.
Mr. Ward said a deputation was present from Youghal No. 3 to speak on this matter, and he would be glad if they would be heard.
Chairman—I have no objection to hear any deputation, but it is not on the agenda before us I don't see how it arises at all.
Mr. Ward—We can make a recommendation to-day.
Mr. Conway—Is this question going to be considered?
Chairman—No, it is not on the agenda. The appointment of a temporary V.S. is on the agenda, but not this thing.
Mr. Conway—The Finance Committee of the County Council left the whole matter over until to-day. The whole thing was left open for a fortnight. We are here to-day and we must go ahead.

Chairman—If anyone here chooses to hand in a notice of motion that a new appointment be made it is quite in order to do that, but you cannot discuss what does not arise.
In reply to Mr. O'Gorman, Mr. Butler said the Finance Committee had as much right to make an appointment as an official of the L.G.B.
Mr. O'Gorman—I would suggest that we recommend to the County Council that the districts of Dungarvan and Youghal be divided and that it is within our power.
Mr. Ward—You should hear the deputation.

Chairman—I have no objection to hear them, but I wish you that the question of making a new appointment does not arise to-day.
Mr. O'Halloran—The views of the deputation are expressed by the three men from the districts who have spoken.
It having been agreed to hear the deputation, the following gentlemen appeared before the Finance Committee from Youghal No. 3 Area—Messrs. M. O'Brien, Grange; W. J. Spratt, do.; James J. Curran, do.; Thomas Walsh, Ballyhenry; C. O'Connor, Clahmore; Messrs. John Flavin and Win. Curran, Kilmalebeg; Messrs. Michl. Kennedy, Joseph Hyman, W. Byrne and M. Cunningham, Ardara; Messrs. M. Fitzgerald, Ed. Cunningham and Michl. Keane.

Mr. M. O'Brien, Grange, who acted as spokesman, said the deputation considered the request he was about to make to the meeting as a most feasible and commendable one, and that they were not in any way opposed to it being put before any public body by a number of farmers. Owing to the death of Mr. Lynch a vacancy had arisen for a veterinary surgeon. Up to Mr. Lynch's appointment to Dungarvan and Youghal, Youghal No. 3 had always its own V.S. Mr. Lynch was first appointed for Youghal and later resided in Youghal, but after the death of Mr. Power, V.S., he was also appointed to Dungarvan, and through influence or something else the two districts were amalgamated, and he went to live in Dungarvan. Now the people wanted that changed back again, and Youghal No. 2 wanted to have its own veterinary surgeon, and they thought that was a reasonable request to make. They did not want a V.S. in their area every day, and the more seldom they had occasion for him the better they liked it. But, like the medical officers, vet. were a necessary evil. They all knew how to charge, and they kill as much as they care, but that is not the question. If they in Youghal No. 3 had a sudden case for a V.S. it was not fair to them to have to go to Dungarvan for a V.S., who at the time may be away at Touraneena or at the Halfway. They could see how representative the deputation was, and these men would not have come there that day if they were not keenly interested. They could reduce the present salary if they wished. They were not present on behalf of any V.S. They had a V.S. in Youghal for 16 years, and he retained their confidence still. If the committee decided to grant their request they could appoint a man to reside in Youghal and let him take his chance.

Mr. Flavin supported Mr. O'Brien's views and said it was very important for them to have a V.S. living in the district.
Mr. McAliffe—Would it compensate a professional man to live in the locality—what salary would he get?
Mr. O'Brien—The salary I understand Mr. Lynch had at the time of his death for the two districts was £275 or so. They could appoint, say, £200 of that for a V.S. for the Youghal area. The possibility was that the V.S. they had would leave at the first opportunity, and they would have no V.S. if a V.S. were appointed, say, at a salary of £200 with his private practice he could make some kind of living, and the man in Dungarvan would have something like £200 for his job. He thought there would be a living for the two of them.
Mr. O'Halloran—The three members for Youghal No. 2 voiced the sentiments of the deputation to-day, and no one understands better than the people of the locality as to what they want, and it is very unfair for the council of any other body to go against them.
Mr. Conway—So far as this council and the Finance Committee are concerned, no appointment can be made, and I move that two temporary vets be appointed for the rural districts of Dungarvan and Youghal No. 2.

Mr. O'Gorman—I move that we first divide the Dungarvan and Youghal district as at present into two.
Chairman—You cannot do that except at the County Council.
Mr. O'Gorman—I move that we request the County Council to divide the district into two.
Chairman—Change the word request to recommend. There seems to be a misunderstanding here between the Department's letter and Mr. Casey's action, and I think Mr. Casey should be allowed to explain it.
Mr. Casey (acting secretary at last meeting) said at the last Finance Committee meeting the meeting adjourned without making any appointment. I thought they would make a temporary appointment to carry on the business of Mr. Lynch, V.S., until a further arrangement would be made. As nothing was done I got into communication with Mr. Flannery, Chief Inspector of the Department, and I reported the fact that Mr. Lynch was dead and that at the Finance meeting owing to the bereavement in some members' families the meeting adjourned and no appointment was made. Mr. Flannery said that was very serious, and if an outbreak occurred in the meantime the council would be held responsible and it would be very awkward. I said "What ought I to do in the meantime?" and he said that I should ask Mr. Cunningham, V.S., to continue for the next fortnight. I said I had no authority, but Mr. Cunningham came in and said he would continue to do the work and would not ask no salary if I could arrange it. The Department wrote down and said they sanctioned the arrangement.

Mr. Conway—At the last meeting of the finance meeting, and in the meantime Mr. Casey, without any authority from the Finance Committee, went and communicated with the Department, and why?
Mr. Casey—I was at the time acting as Secretary and Executive Officer for the day I found it my duty to report to headquarters that Mr. Lynch died and that the two districts would be without a V.S. I did not want the responsibility on myself.
Mr. Fitzgerald—At that particular time a very big assignment of work was held up and they came out of this particular district, and it was very important to look after them.
Mr. Kiersey—Mr. Casey was quite justified in the action he took and his attitude was perfectly correct.
Mr. O'Shea—Are we acting under the L.G.B. or under the Department of Agriculture?

Chairman—Under the Department of Agriculture.
Mr. McAliffe—In case of doubt Mr. Casey was quite clear to get instructions from his department, and if they have given instructions they will carry them out no matter what you do.
Mr. Butler—I do not make a difference between Mr. Casey's action in this matter. The Finance Committee allowed the matter to remain open and the Inspector from the Department commented on that fact by saying it was a serious position to place the two districts in. We made no appointment at the last meeting, and it is our duty to appoint a person to-day regardless of anything else. We must do our own business in our own way and appoint a Veterinary Inspector or Inspector until such time as a permanent appointment is made.
Mr. O'Gorman—Has the Finance Committee no control over this?
Chairman—The Finance Committee is the whole County Council.
Mr. O'Gorman—The County Council has power to do things which the Finance Committee cannot do at all. I hold that this appointment does not come under the jurisdiction of the Finance Committee at all.
Chairman—I hold the Finance Committee have the right and the power to appoint an officer.
Mr. Fitzgerald—The Finance Committee can appoint him, but the appointment must be confirmed by the County Council.
Secretary (Mr. O'Sullivan)—The Finance Committee cannot make a temporary appointment under the Act.
Mr. Conway—Supposing any important official died in the morning and the Finance Committee met in a few days' time, would not they be in power to make a temporary provision as regards the office?
Secretary—No. A special meeting of the County Council should be called.
Mr. Kiersey—Even though we make a temporary appointment to-day, when it comes to the permanent appointment, the appointment will be made by the Commissioners and will be under the new Act.
Secretary—You must request the Commissioners to nominate certain men.
Mr. Gooling—And the actual appointment will be made by the County Council.
Mr. Fitzgerald—Have not the County Council the right to appoint a man from the existing officers? Secretary—Yes.
Mr. Kiersey—They may send you down two or three names who may not be those who are canvassing at all to-day for the position.
Mr. McAliffe—In a case of urgency can you pay a vet by results?
Chairman—Neither of the men seeking this position have ever been in your employments.
Mr. Galgely—I think we have no power to appoint a V.S. until the County Council meets.

Mr. Conway—I think the sooner the people stand up against this official attitude the better.
Mr. Conway then moved that two veterinary surgeons be appointed for the Dungarvan and Youghal districts. Mr. O'Halloran seconded.
Mr. O'Gorman proposed that they recommend the County Council to divide the present area into two separate districts—Dungarvan and Youghal—as formerly.
Mr. O'Halloran seconded.
The Chairman said he could not take Mr. Conway's resolution as it dealt with a matter not on the agenda.

Mr. Conway—I moved my resolution as I understand you are considering the making of a temporary arrangement.
Chairman—Mr. O'Gorman recommends that the area be divided. If the Finance Committee recommend that it must come up again before the meeting of the County Council. Mr. Conway moves that Inspectors be appointed for the rural districts of Dungarvan and Youghal. That means two appointments. I would remind the committee and the council that on many occasions there was a good deal of labour and trouble in arranging the duties and remuneration of the veterinary surgeons, and at one time we thought one V.S. was enough for the Co. Waterford. I don't think this is consistent at all.
Mr. Conway—The County Council were in a very serious position when the Department wrote down and said they sanctioned the arrangement.
Mr. O'Gorman—The County Council were in a very serious position when the Department wrote down and said they sanctioned the arrangement.

Water in Butter.
CASES AT LISMORE.

Prosecutions were brought at Lismore District Court, held before Mr. B. J. Nash, B.L. (acting D.J.), against Mary Murphy, Touraneena, Ballyhenry; Anne Ahern, Killybeg, Fermoy, and M. Phelan, Camphite, Cappoquin, charging these defendants with selling butter which contained a percentage of water above that allowed by the Food and Drugs Act.

Mr. McCoy, solicitor, represented the Waterford County Council, in whose name the prosecutions were brought.
Mr. O'Connor, solicitor, appeared for the first named defendants and Mr. E. O'Gorman, solicitor, Lismore, appeared for Mr. Phelan.

In the case of Mrs. Ahern there was alleged to be an excess of 2.69 per cent. of water; in Miss Murphy's case 3.13 per cent. was alleged, and in Mr. Phelan's case 4.30 per cent. over the allowed 16 per cent. of water.
Guard Dorman, Food and Drugs Inspector, deposed he purchased 1lb. of butter for 1s. from Miss Murphy at Ballyhenry on the 3rd September. On analysis the sample was found to contain an excess of 3.13 per cent. of water.
Mr. O'Connor admitted the analyst's certificate, and said he was going into the question of the sale. He asked the Guard if he was aware that this butter was in an unwhitened state and had to go through a process afterwards by the merchant who purchased it before going for sale to the public.

Mr. O'Connor—He was not. He bought the butter from the genuine analyst. Mary Murphy had the butter about to be sold to Mr. Beecher, agent for Mr. Daly, of Cork. He insisted on taking the sample from Mrs. Ahern.
Mr. O'Connor—She didn't offer it for sale to you?—I could demand it.
Mr. O'Connor—I want to get the position of these people cleared up. These are regarded as important cases by Cork butter merchants, who have instructed me to appear for them here. Did you insist on taking a sample from her?
Guard—I did, yes; I took the butter out of the car.
Mr. O'Connor—In other words you commanded the butter. What right had you to go to any person's cart?
Guard—With the consent of the owner I went to the cart.

Further questions regarding the actual transaction, Mr. O'Connor stated, he did not think it necessary to ask the defendant consent to his requirements being complied with. He would not be sure he could prosecute persons for refusing to sell him samples. He understood he was buying fresh butter, and had no idea what percentage of water it contained. He knew the weather was warm at the time, but he did not know it was impossible for the ordinary dairy farmer to make butter not containing excess water during very warm weather.
Do Mr. McCoy—The transaction took place in the store of Mr. Beecher. Miss Murphy had about 50lbs. of butter. The only thing Miss Murphy said was that we seemed to be watching all day. There were three samples taken that day, and of these two were found to contain excess water, and the third was genuine according to the requirements.
Sergt. Quinlan gave corroborative evidence, and said there was no question as to the propriety of taking the samples.
Mr. O'Connor said he could understand that such prosecutions being brought against shopkeepers in Cork who offered the butter for sale to the ordinary public for domestic consumption. In these cases there was no such intention, as the butter was being bought by agents of manufacturers who put it through special processes to get rid of excess water before placing it to retailers for sale. Mr. Daly of Cork was a man of this kind, who had fifty-five years' experience, and he would tell them it was impossible for the ordinary dairy farmer to turn out butter containing only 16 per cent. of water under certain weather conditions. In order to turn out butter of that kind the manufacturers had to install very expensive machinery. It was well that the farmers should know that they could get out of selling to the prejudice of the Guards if at the time of sale they said "The butter I am selling you contains more than 16 per cent. water."

Mr. James Daly, butter merchant, Cork, deposed he had fifty-three years' experience of the butter trade. He was born in that district, and was popularly known as the "Lord Mayor of Ballyhenry" (laughter). He had dealings in every part of the globe, even out to Jerusalem (laughter). In very hot, heavy and close weather he knew it was impossible for ordinary dairymen to produce butter in accordance with the Act unless they could bring the atmosphere of the dairy down so that the cream could ripen properly and remend the County Council to divide the area which the late Mr. Lynch, V.S., had under his control into two areas as formerly. This was carried without comment.

not absorb the moisture. The temperature of the dairy was the whole cause of the trouble, and that would continue until the Government assisted farmers to get proper dairies instead of prosecuting them for what they could not help. The Government should get up stashed dairies. They don't hope to improve the dairymen industry by prosecuting people and trying to make them do the impossible. As a certain portion of every year his experience was that the farmers could not ripen the cream unless the temperature was proper. Justice—Is it impossibility a good defence?
Mr. O'Connor said this butter was being sold to Mr. Beecher on behalf of Mr. Daly, and the latter would tell them the process it had to go through.
Mr. Daly then outlined the process whereby the butter was brought down to the 16 per cent. water standard. The Austrians originally got 18 per cent. of water as the percentage of water. Then the foreigners thought this too much, and got it down to 16 per cent. It took me like him with their special machinery to produce butter of that percentage here.
Mr. McCoy—Do you say it is impossible for the Irish farmer to produce butter with only 16 per cent. water?
Mr. Daly—Under certain circumstances, Mr. McCoy—Do you suggest 16 per cent. is a strong percentage?
Mr. Daly—It is a very low percentage certainly.
Mr. McCoy—The Act was passed in 1902, and how is it all the Government we have had since never changed it?
Mr. Daly—They are very slow to change anything.
Justice—It is not for me to decide whether the 16 per cent. is fair or unfair. I think myself it is unfair, but that is not my fault that such a percentage has been fixed, and I must be guided by the law. The case against Mr. Phelan was heard separately, Inspector Kenny of the Board of Agriculture prosecuting.
To Mr. O'Gorman the Inspector replied that he had nothing to say to whether the water, 4.3 per cent. over the allowed amount in this case, had been fraudulently put into the butter or not.
The defendant in evidence denied that there had been any interference with the butter in any way beyond the usual process of churning and squeezing out as much water as possible.
The Justice decided in finding each of the three defendants 1s. with 17s. 6d. special costs in each case.

COUNTY BOARD OF PUBLIC ASSISTANCE.
A meeting of the above was held on Wednesday at the Court House, Dungarvan. Mrs. White, vice-chairman, and Miss Conolly, Mr. D. Conway, chairman, presided. Also present—Messrs. Wm. Stack, J. O'Donnell, J. G. Duke, J. Butler, T.D.; T. D. Conolly, P. J. McAliffe, D. Ward and J. Cosgrave.
The total payments amounted to £470 12s. 10d.

TRAVELLING EXPENSES TO MEMBERS.
Mr. Conolly proposed the following resolution—"That we request the L.G.B. to sanction the payment of travelling expenses to members of the board who attend 75 per cent. of the ordinary monthly meetings of the board. We consider that the 75 per cent. calculation should not be based on the holding of special meetings. We also are of opinion that where members are ill and furnish a doctor's certificate that they should get credit for attending meetings held in the meantime."
The resolution was passed.

FINANCIAL STATEMENT.
The financial statement shows £65 6s. 8d. credit balance at the end of September.
LISMORE HOSPITAL.
Miss O'Keefe, nurse at the Fever Hospital, Lismore, applied for some additional furniture for the institution. Consideration was adjourned for inquiries by the Secretary.
Mr. Butler asked was the man Doherty who was ordered to be sent to a Dublin Hospital sent yet?
Secretary—No. There is a difficulty about a vacancy.
Mr. Butler—You should try and get the matter through quickly.
Mrs. O'Donnell, Lismore, wrote some time ago and asked for a coffin.
The Secretary said he wired her 100 coffins at Lismore Workhouse to procure a cheap one. She now writes enclosing a bill for £5, and explained that through the writing of the wire she made a mistake. Payment of the amount was made subject to sanction.

DR. JACKMAN'S RESIGNATION.
Mrs. White said in consideration of Dr. Jackman's long service with the board (40 years) she thought the board should pass a resolution of appreciation to him on his retirement.
The following resolution was then proposed by Mrs. White, seconded by Mr. McAliffe, and passed unanimously—"That we place on record our appreciation of the great services Dr. Jackman has rendered as medical officer of the County Hospital, more especially in the period of great distress during the troubled times in Waterford when he carried on all the medical services single-handed. We wish him many years of good health and happiness on his retirement."

Acting out of a report in the condition of the Fever Hospital from the Waterford Committee, Mr. Cosgrave suggested that Mr. Jephson be asked to inspect and report on the condition of the Fever Hospital at Waterford. It was waste of money at present—a state required to-day and a pane of glass to-morrow.
The matter was referred to Mr. Jephson.

LIGHT.
The board decided to light the apron-land yard of the hospital at Waterford at a cost of not more than £10.
Richard Power, M.A.O., wrote regarding the position of a second medical officer to the hospital in Waterford in succession to Dr. Jackman (retired), and stating that there was no need for a second medical officer, but that Dr. White could call in assistance in any special cases.
Arising out of a report by the unarranged in the County Home by unmarried mothers and their children.
Mrs. White spoke on the necessity of finding some way of dealing with the question again now that the home in New Ross had fallen through.
A report was read from the Board on the cost of stock at the County Home, Waterford, suggesting that the material be sent to the County Home. The report was marked: "Matter have been attended to."

REPAIRS TO BALLYDUFF DISPENSARY RESIDENCE.
Three tenders were received for repairing the above dispensary residence, but as the lowest (£206) was (£26) over the estimate, they were not considered.

LETTING OF FIELD AT TILLOW.
Mr. M. O'Brien, Barrack street, Tilow, was let the grazing of a field at Tilow for the sum of £4.

TO THE IRISH NATION.
THE IRISH NATIONAL LEAGUE.
APPEAL FOR FUNDS.
We appeal for subscriptions of money for the purpose of organising the provisional machinery and propaganda of the new Party pending the National Conference which we propose to convene immediately here, for the purpose of establishing the Irish National League upon democratic and representative lines, and of adopting a programme and appointing Trustees, Officers and a General Committee of control. The situation demands rapidity of organisation, as a General Election must take place inside ten months and may not improbably take place very much sooner. And rapidity of organisation involves considerable expense. We therefore request those who are in general sympathy with the object of our political effort to subscribe generously and promptly for its furtherance. All remittances should be sent to the Irish National League Office (temporary), at 92 Middle Abbey street, and they should be made payable to, and will be acknowledged by, the Trustees, consisting of Mr. John Fogarty and ourselves.
The new Party finds its inspiration in the ideals of traditional Irish patriotism and in its devotion to the Nationalist and its constitutional independence and its material welfare. Its methods will be constitutional, and it will stand for equal rights for all. Its main objects will be the reconstruction of the National Unity of our partitioned country and the restoration of its economic fortunes, which have been seriously undermined by imprudent, inconsistent and miscellaneous policies. It will advocate united effort to these ends in a spirit of mutual reconstruction, which, so far as possible, shall draw a veil of silence and forbearance over the memories of past troubles and differences.

A Unique Sentence.—A unique sentence was passed at the Quebec Police Court on two youths charged by a Jewish merchant with the theft of goods valued at £300 dols. At the request of the complainant, who said he did not want the boys sent to jail, the Judge sentenced them to attend Mass every morning for six months and to go to confession once a month.

DEATH OF MR. EDMOND MULCAHY, KILKEANY.

It is with feelings of the deepest regret that we record the death of Mr. Edmond Mulcahy, Kilkeany, which sad event took place at his residence, Kilkeany House, on the 12th inst. The deceased gentleman, who had reached the ripe old age of 84, was in good health and spirits up to a few days of his death, when he complained of feeling ill. It was soon evident that the end was approaching, and though everything possible was done for him, he passed away calmly and peacefully, fortified by the rites of Holy Church. The late Mr. Mulcahy was a member of a famous Irish family, which has held a prominent place in the history of our country for many centuries. He was a direct descendant of Thomas Mantach Mulcahy, who fought on the side of King James at the Boyne, and who owned the townlands of Kilbrien, Seart, Barra-ree and Kilkeany. He was the last survivor of six brothers, three of whom were distinguished priests. The Rev. D. B. Mulcahy, P.P., M.R.I.A., of Killelief, Co. Down, was a brilliant Irish scholar and antiquarian; the Very Rev. Patk. Canon Mulcahy, of Halifax, was a famous preacher and lecturer, and the youngest brother, the Rev. M. A. Mulcahy, also occupied a foremost place on the English Mission. His son, the Rev. J. P. Mulcahy, is P.P. of Sts. Michael and All Angels, Wombwell, Yorkshire.

In his younger days he was a sterling Nationalist, and took an active and leading part in the struggle against landlordism. To every movement for the improvement of the people's conditions he gave his whole-hearted support, and the independent attitude which he always showed the landlord and his flunkies won the respect and admiration of all who knew him. He represented Knockambran for many years on the old Board of Guardians and later on the District Council. In fact wherever anything could be done for those who needed assistance, "Neil" Mulcahy, Kilkeany, could be relied on to be there.

Like his brother, Father David, he was deeply interested in the National language, of which he was a fluent speaker. He would spend hours reciting Irish poetry and quoting extracts from the leading Irish authors. He was a true example of the Irish gentleman farmer on whom foreign importations of speech and customs had no effect. It is hardly necessary to say he was a most devoted and practical Catholic. His house has always been a special centre of Catholic devotion, and by his own sincerity and strict attention to religious duties he has shown an example which could not fail to have its effect on all who came in contact with him. He was an extensive farmer and a model employer, who treated the worker with the highest respect. Honest and upright in all his dealings, his word was his bond, and in the true Christian spirit he treated every man as a man, regardless of the sphere in which he moved. His kindness and charity to the poor were widely known and appreciated, and during his long life many a less fortunate fellow-man has been assisted by him over periods of depression. He was never appealed to in vain for his generosity was unbounded. It is no exaggeration to say that no man has passed away for years whose loss is more deeply and sincerely felt in the large area where he was so well known and so highly respected.

His relations are many and influential in the Counties of Waterford and Tipperary. It was to wonder to see the category which is attached to Kilkeany House and in which the remains were laid packed during the wake with relations, friends and neighbours, who came to show their sympathy and pay a last tribute to the Grand Old Man, whose place it is difficult to fill. The funeral to the family burial place in Nore Churchyard on Thursday was the largest seen in the locality for many years. It was attended by sympathisers from far and near.

The chief mourners at the graveside were—The Most Rev. Dr. Shino, Bishop of Middleborough, England; Rev. John Patrick, David, Nicholas and Joseph (sons); Mrs. Ives, London; Miss Bridie and Miss Angela Mulcahy (daughters); Mrs. Shine, New Inn; Mrs. Norris, Whitesfort, and Miss Beresford, Deelish (nieces); Mr. J. Mulcahy, Glasha, and Mr. W. Beresford, Deelish; Mr. W. Thbin, Croughmagna, (nephew); Messrs. Phil and Nicholas Beresford, Coolagore; Mr. and Mrs. Beresford, Kildangan, and Ed. and Thos. Beresford, Castleguard; Mrs. Devine, Kilgobnet; Mrs. Walsh, Comeragh, and Miss Walsh, Ballyduff; Nicholas and Miss Qually, Barracree. Amongst those present at the funeral were—Rev. Fr. Meekill, P.P., Courtona; Rev. Fr. Conway, C.C., do.; Rev. Fr. Murphy, P.P., Newcastle; Ed. Mulcahy, Ardpatrick; Mr. J. Mulcahy, Gladstone street, Clonmel; Mr. J. Mulcahy, O'Connell street, Clonmel; Mr. Michael Mulcahy, Castleguard, etc.

Fianna Fail.

MEETING IN DUNGARVAN.

ADDRESSES BY MESSRS. E. DE VALERA, T.D., AND J. T. KELLY, T.D.

There was a big muster in Dungarvan on Sunday night at 8.30 to hear the leaders of the Fianna Fail (Republican Organisation) expound their new policy. The addresses were delivered from the balcony of the Devonshire Arms Hotel.

MR. DE VALERA.

Mr. De Valera, on coming forward, was received with a great salvo of cheering, and said that he was glad the speakers had given over the ground of their organisation so thoroughly. He was rather surprised that it would be only necessary for him to summarise what the previous speakers had said. The aims of their organisation, Fianna Fail, were four, viz., the political aim was to secure the independence of their country and to restore the Irish language among the people, for this was the national characteristic that distinguished Irishmen from other nations. He hoped there were not many in the crowd that held that opinion. Did they think that countries like Belgium, France or Germany, that the people of these countries were ready to shed their blood in order to preserve it? He was sure there was not one of them so callous as to think that independence was not worth anything when the people of these other countries were so anxious to defend it. It meant the improvement in the spirit of every individual in the nation. The free man was a better man than the slave. He knows that freedom is nearer to his life, to his ideal that God gave him when he gave him a free will. Freedom was intended in order to bring out the best qualities and the noblest qualities of our nature. And it meant improvement in a material sense, too. To be free meant that you can't take the measures that are necessary to serve our own interests and not to be dependent on another. If you were the servants of another you must serve, and as long as this country is dominated by England or by any foreign country then the policy that will be enforced in the country is a policy that will serve the interests of the foreigner, and not the interests of the people. It is therefore a thing that was worth working for. For the last fifty years that policy has not been to the driving out of half a million of our people. This country has natural resources as great as that of any country of its size in the world. They could feed and clothe four times the present number of people in the country, and why should have a million of our people fly from the country? Let them consider what the country has lost in population. It meant that as if all the people in every county of Connaught were banished from the land, or if it meant that every twenty per cent of the population were driven off, and thus the country was decimated. It has been more than decimated in fifty years, and that terrible banishment had been inflicted on the country. In 1845 the people were 8 1/2 millions, and now the population of Ireland is under four millions. That was the most serious menace they had to face. He had just come to know that there was a greater population to the square mile in England than there was in either Wales or Ireland, and now the population of the square mile in England is six times what it is in Ireland. Every country in Europe had increased its population. In Austria it had been doubled for the last 60 years. In Ireland the birth rate was closed off all Europe, and yet they were the only country in Europe whose population had decreased. If the population went on, as it should, they would be now 10 1/2 millions. There was something wrong, and it was that the policy of this country was an Empire policy and not for the benefit of the nation. It had been the English policy to turn this country into one big ranch farm by which the English would cheap food for England, and they knew, as a great industrial country, and had many manufactures, and therefore were unable to produce sufficient food, and they knew they have to depend on a country like this, and they want to keep this country as a ranch farm. She wants this to be a dumping ground for her surplus manufactures, but the policy of Fianna Fail is to build up and not to have this country any longer a dumping ground for English goods. With the increase of our population we could create a home market, and this would help the country in many ways. It would help the farmer, the trader and the whole community. And let me tell you that the policy of Fianna Fail is a policy of protection—unequivocal protection. The policy of free trade is the English policy, and as long as we cling to it they were playing England's game, and it was time for the Irish people to play their own game, and they could not do that until they had won their independence and the right to choose their policy for themselves. It would not be fair to keep them longer in the cold on this night, but they were prepared to go in for an economic policy if the people were prepared for it. The want of work was driving the people out of the country. They stood for economy; give up the Imperial standard and take up the standard of the country for ourselves. They could not afford to pay the Governor-General, who is here as the representative of a foreign power; they could not afford to pay him £10,000 a year, and £20,000 a year in order to keep up his establishment. The President of the United States, who rules over 117 millions of people, and whose country is one hundred times the size of Ireland, is only paid £15,000 a year, whilst the Governor-General, the representative of a foreign power, is paid £10,000. If England wanted to keep the Governor-General here as their representative they should pay him themselves (cheers). The whole establishment costs you £40,000. Then they had 153 members of the representative assembly. This could be brought down to 100 members and at practically one-third the expense. They should give their 100 members a fair subsistence, and that would be £200 a year, which would enable them to live in Dublin with their families. There are over 76 Free State officials in Ireland receiving over £1,000 a year, and this with pensions amount to a great deal of money and it all comes out of the people's pockets, and these people are not able to get work to keep themselves. The next item is there is an army. It is costing 2 1/2 millions a year, and it is used to prevent the onward march of the nation. It is an obstacle to the men who are marching to Ireland's independence. He was sorry for the young Irishmen, who were misled and brought into this position, and you are paying them and keeping them there, but not really for Irish national purposes. He quoted Lord Birkenhead, who spoke on the passing of the Treaty in the Parliament of England, and who quoted Queen Elizabeth, who had the promise of support from some of the Irish, she relied on them to save the lives of her English soldiers. They ought to refuse to pay the army for that purpose. For the purpose of protecting the country from a foreign power they could have a volunteer force, for the military is too small to be effective, and they are expensive at any rate. Australia, which is vastly greater than Ireland, has an army, which costs the same as Ireland, and they have the New Zealand is almost equal to Ireland and they have only half the cost. In the public services also the expenses would have to be brought down, for the salaries they pay are not on a scale for the nation, but on the Imperial scale.

THE OATH.

He should now state that he or his party would not take the oath because they could not serve two masters. They should either serve their own country or the English. They were prepared to work with the representatives of the people in the representative assembly, but they could not do that without sacrificing their principles. They could not pledge allegiance to a foreign power. If the alternative be that they be denied their service then they should not take part with their political opponents. Why was not the oath left in the Act of Parliament and left there? He asked the people were they going to play the game of England or were they for the national policy of working towards their independence? If they were for the policy of Fianna Fail, to get rid of the misery they have gone through for the last four years they should join the organisation. 250,000 of the people have gone away since the Treaty, and there was another quarter of a million ready to leave. Were they going to stand by the policy of giving employment and keeping these people at home? He was speaking to a man in Ardara and he told him they had 150 workers in the mill there some years ago and now they have only 60 working on part-time. Were they going to support Englishmen in the making of cloth when they have not employment for the men at home? Why buy foreign goods and deny employment to their own people? He would ask them to study the objects of the organisation, and if convinced, then to join. Their enthusiasm would not go for much if they were not convinced that the organisation was right. He would ask them to study and to convince themselves, and when convinced to give their whole support to the organisation. He had spoken of the policy, but if there was nothing else, should refer to partition. There were numbers of men living in the Six Counties who were wishing to be outside, and he would ask them at the next election to give your vote not for those who consented to the partition of the country. They could never be free as long as they had these Six Counties as a dumping ground for the British. It would be like a loaf tied to the head. They must ultimately recover these Six Counties, and would ask them at the next election to bear this partition question in mind. If they applied themselves to the National Organisation they would be as powerful as they were in the time of conscription (cheers). He had gone through the country and he saw the spirit the same as in 1917 and 1918, and while that was there, there was a glorious future for the country. If that spirit came back they could make up their minds that Ireland was theirs, and there was a certainty that they were going to achieve their freedom (cheers). They could build up the nation. He expected a local branch of the organisation would be formed, and he would ask a number of those present to join. This must be done by the whole of those who are desirous of obtaining their freedom. This organisation was for the benefit of the people, and if it is not so, it will be the fault of the people. He hoped the people of Dungarvan will be of the same spirit in the future as they were in the years 1917 to 1921 (loud cheers during which Mr. De Valera retired). The proceedings then terminated.

HURLING AT CARRICK-ON-SUIR.

A number of local hurling teams, made up of young men from the Carrick-on-Suir, Carrickbeg and adjoining parishes, have played some excellent matches recently at the local sportsfield, and have attracted large crowds. The last matches played between Ballinagrane v. Kilmory and Carrick-on-Suir v. Carrickbeg resulted in a draw. Both matches will be replayed next Sunday.

HARVESTING MACHINERY.

We hold the largest stock in Waterford of Mowing Machine Fittings, and our price will always be found the keenest.—Harper Bros., Implement Agents, Waterford.

Youghal District Court.

Before Mr. R. J. Nash, B.L. This was the first fortnightly court held under the new Regulations. The Justice sat at 11 o'clock to hear civil business and at 11.30 for the remainder. There having been no public announcement locally regarding the change of hours or days, several persons interested did not put in an appearance till 12 o'clock, the old hour. A number of interesting ejectment cases were listed for hearing.

Youghal Technical Committee.

The committee held their first meeting in their new school in Church street on Thursday. There were present—V. Rev. Canon O'Donoghue, P.P.; Rev. Bro. McKenna, Superior Christian Bros.; P. McMahon, P.C.; T. Beausang, and Mr. B. Ryall, Head Master. Replying to a Member, Mr. Ryall said that the County Committee intended appointing a whole-time carpenter for Youghal and other centres, but the matter had not yet been sanctioned by the Department. Although the school opened only a week ago, the class returns up to the present were—Art, afternoon, 10; evening, 25; Motor Car Engineering, afternoon, 9; evening, 14; Woodwork, evening, 15; Irish evening, 10. 84 applications had been received from intending students for the Commercial Classes, which had not yet been started. There were only three entries for Building Construction, which class had always fallen through. So far there were 83 on the registers, and 120 applications for entry had been received. 32 had been accepted for the Motor Engineering Class, but as there was accommodation for only 14 in the class, they could not take on all. The members expressed themselves highly pleased with the progress made. The Very Rev. Chairman asked what was the cause of the delay as regards the Commercial Classes, which were looked upon as important. It was a great pity that all the classes did not start at the opening of the schools. The Head Master said he understood that the teacher appointed by the County Committee had not been sanctioned by the Department, and the County Committee had therefore re-appointed the position. Mr. McMahon—Have we the power to appoint a teacher? Head Master—You have the power to make a recommendation to the County Committee. Very Rev. Chairman—Temporarily. Head Master—Yes. On the proposition of Mr. McMahon, seconded by Mr. Beausang, it was unanimously decided to recommend the County Committee to appoint a local teacher at once, so that the classes may be started. During a discussion on the Irish Class, the Very Rev. Chairman said it was extraordinary that in a town like Youghal, surrounded by Irish-speaking districts, only 10 students of the language registered. The committee expressed their approval and admiration of the manner in which the schools had been got up. The Very Rev. Chairman said to meet all the requirements they would require a couple of additional rooms. Mr. Beausang said they had ground enough to build on when in a position to do so. The Very Rev. Chairman said he was confident that under the skilled and energetic conduct of their Head Master, Mr. Ryall, the schools were bound to prove a great success (loud cheers). Having disposed of some routine business, the meeting adjourned.

Youghal Urban Council.

Present—Messrs. M. Whelan, chairman; M. D. Broderick, J. R. Smyth, P.C.; R. C. Farrell, M. J. Fleming, T. Curran, W. Coughlan, T. Harrington, J. Troy, A. W. D. Murphy, P. J. McMahon, P.C. The following letter was read and inserted in the minutes—'Máistir na mBrátair, in Co. Wick. A Chair—Please convey to your esteemed council the best thanks of the Christian Brothers for your note of congratulation on the recent success of our pupils at the Clerical Officers' Examinations. It is very encouraging to see our City Fathers' thinking with interest the welfare of the boys of Youghal. Thanking yourself also for your own personal congratulations—'Is mise le meas (Mr. McMahon)—'The fall was the day with the present Government. I hope we'll have no vacancy for a long time. Chairman—And save them the trouble of sending down a Commissioner. Mr. McMahon—To tell us what to do. Mr. McMahon proposed a vote of sympathy with their colleague, Mr. P. Kennedy, and his wife, on the death of the latter's sister. Mr. Kennedy was an esteemed and valuable member of the board. Mr. Smyth seconded. They all regretted that the occasion arose. The Chairman said they all tendered their sincere sympathy to Mr. Kennedy. Messrs. Broderick, the Town Clerk and others having associated themselves with the proposition it was passed. The Gas Manager reported that the responses to his circular appealing for an economy in the use of gas was a very poor one. To make use of the foreign coal procured he had to mix tar with it. As they had only a few weeks' supply, it would therefore become necessary to ration the gas. This was unanimously agreed to, continuing till two times and night to 11.45.

Lismore District Court.

Before Mr. R. J. Nash, B.L. THIRSTY PLAY PEOPLE. Sgt. O'Riordan, Cappoquin, summoned Mr. J. Geary, publican, Ferrybridge, Lismore, with an alleged breach of the Sunday Closing Act on Sunday, 25th September. Six persons belonging to the McKean's Play Co. who had been in town the previous week, also summoned for being illegally on premises on the occasion. Mr. J. W. O'Gorman, solicitor, Lismore, represented Mr. Geary, and Guard Brennan, Kilmacthomas, provided surety for the other six defendants, who did not appear. Guard Rice gave evidence of finding the accused on the premises. They were members of the McKean's Co., which had performed at Lismore the previous week. For the defence it was proved by Mr. Geary and a witness named Daly, who happened to be on the premises at the time, that the publican took all reasonable precautions to ascertain if they were travellers, which they had represented themselves to be. The Justice dismissed the case against the publican and imposed a fine of 20s. and costs on each of the six defendants found illegally on the premises. A STOP-THAT. Sgt. Quinlan, Ballyhale, was complainant in the cases against Leo J. Daly, Kinsale; Michael Murphy, Cork, and John McCracken, Roscrea, charged with motoring at an excessive speed near Ballyhale. Mr. J. Searson, solicitor, Cork, appeared for Mr. Daly, and the case was dismissed, and a fine of 1s. and costs was imposed in the other two cases. The speed while in a touring trap set worked out at 33 1/2 miles per hour. RETREATS AT CARRICK-ON-SUIR. Rev. Father Christy, O.F.M., Galway, has conducted a retreat for the members of the Third Order at the Franciscan Church, Carrickbeg, Carrick-on-Suir, on Sunday, 17th inst., a week's retreat for the women was opened at St. Michael's Church, Carrick-on-Suir, and on the following Sunday a week's retreat for the men will begin. The retreats will be conducted by two Redemptorist Fathers.

LOCAL HAPPENINGS.

Departure of Young Priests.—Rev. John O'Donnell, son of Mr. Wm. O'Donnell, O.C., Ballyshane, Portlaoine, who was ordained in June last, has left for his new home at Wellington, New South Wales.

Welcomed Home to Carrigrohane.—Following the marriage of Lady Katherine Benford and Mr. David Dawney in London last Thursday, a great reception was prepared for their return home.

Silver Wedding.—Last Monday on the occasion of their Silver Wedding, Mr. and Mrs. A. W. Paxman, Ballyvaughan, were the recipients of hearty congratulations and a handsome present from their various employees.

Coal Shortage.—Throughout the country there is a famine in coal, and the cargoes coming into the various ports from the Continent are not sufficient for the needs of the people.

Dungarvan Fair on Wednesday was very large. There was a big offer of forward stores and best cattle, but trade was slow and prices showed no improvement.

Death of Mr. James Wall, Keweenaw.—This highly-esteemed gentleman passed away on Sunday morning after a brief illness. Deceased, who had passed his 70th year, was very highly respected by all classes for his upright and honest.

Shooting Accident.—While out shooting on Sunday evening, last night, a young man named Jas. Hourigan from Knockmore district met with an accident. It appears that while going over a fence the gun shot in the left arm and side.

Sugar Beet.—Ransome's First Prize Beet Lifter will be demonstrated working at Mr. F. Sheridan's, Kilmuckin, on Wednesday next at 10.30 a.m.

Dungarvan Well Off.—Dungarvan district have fared far better than most places since the coal crisis came along.

Kilmacthomas News.

G.A.R.—The local senior hurling fifteen travelled to Waterford on Sunday to fulfil a friendly engagement with the Erin's Own team. A top-top game wound up with a win for the city set. The final score was—Erin's Own, 15 points; Kilmacthomas, 16 points. Mr. W. Croke proved an impartial custodian of the whistle.

East Waterford Foxhounds.—On Tuesday followers of these hounds had a most exciting and enjoyable day out hunting over the Shanakill and surrounding townlands. A series of smart gallops were obtained. The whole pack hunted splendidly, and some of the "old hands" who saw them operating on the occasion expressed the view that the dogs were never in such fine form as at present. Mr. Jas. E. Russell, of East House, Kilmacthomas, is Master.

Stradbally Pupils' Success.—Much gratification was felt here at the success achieved by Masters Michael (15) and Thomas (16) Flynn in their recent examinations for the Civil Service and teaching profession respectively. They are sons of Mr. and Mrs. Theo. Flynn, The Square, Stradbally, and were prepared for their examinations by Mr. Theo. Lincoln, N.T., and Mrs. Cooney, N.T.

Stradbally Crowing Club.—The annual crowing meeting, under the auspices of this Club will probably be held in November this year and not on St. Stephen's Day as heretofore. We are wished of reminding those who are on the look-out for this important fixture that the date is not as yet finally fixed, but when all preliminary arrangements are completed an announcement will appear in our advertising columns.

the discharge into the drainage master, was etc.
Cross-examined by some the Urban Council, conversant with drainage of the district
three houses here—Mr.
Keohan's (owned by Mr.
Moloney's), and they retainers? Yes.
Have the Urban Council whatever in the matter houses? No. The pipes connect up with
front of the houses?
To Mr. Troy—That
ing away the surface
Mr. Ryan—it is in taking the drainage
from these houses?
matter enters the chan-cesspools attached to Moloney has never paid expense of connecting the proper sewer? It half a mile away.
Mr. Ryan—Does not
ance consist of this—comes off Mr. Moloney's front of the place and
and becomes stagnant.
Is not it because of
is a nuisance? Yes.
Witness—The Urban
prove the place if the lowing the drainage in the channel. The channel and the water thereon
Did not the late Mr.
in this pipe drain for 20 years ago and con-
nel? I don't know.
pipes were actually paid
Council? No.
Since this road was the condition of the serious? Yes.
Is not there a culvert
Five's house flagpole?
Photographs of the
to Mr. Troy, and Mr.
him how the channel
kept clear. Mr. Ryan were properly con-
free the water would
as it came there.
Witness did not get off as the place was
no fall there.
Mr. Ryan—Why don't
If you do you won't
other end.
Is not this place
one has any right to Urban Council or the Witness—We say we place if the defendant
they are doing.
Mr. Ryan—You don't
take away the surface.
To Mr. Troy, witness drains were not there
be lowered and a better
Mr. Ryan—Is not sanitary district? Yes.
county surveyor, will
abate the nuisance.
Mr. Ryan—It is not
comes out to the channel but the way the pipes
Witness—We com-
out—suds, etc.
Mr. Ryan—Suds is not very dirty after all.
Mr. J. McGrath here
there was one pipe in house to the channel Keohan's, which was from Mrs. Fives' pre-
no sewerage matter
almost to sewage matter
to have it there.
Cross-examined by Mr.
there was some objection
the drainage from the
be greatly alleviated if kept clean? Of course
When was the chan-
