Dungarvan Man's Will.

CASE IN HIGH COURT.

SETTLEMENT ARRIVED AT.

A settlement was arrived at in the High Court, Dublin Castle in the case of Conroy v. Corcoran, which related to the will of a well-known Dungarvan merchant. The case had been in the list for trial before Mr. Justice Sullivan and a special jury and was expected to last about three days.

The plaintiffs were Johanna Conroy and James Corcoran, both of Dungarvan, the defendant being Mrs. Mary Corcoran, widow of South Terrace, Dungarvan. The plaintiffs claimed to be the executors of the last will of Patrick Corcoran, retired merchant, late of South Terrace, Dungarvan, dated the 15th September, 1925, with three Codicils thereto dated the 16th of October, 1925, the 17th of November, 1925, and the 23rd of December, 1925, and to have the will and codicils established.

The defendant, Mrs. Mary Corcoran, is the widow of the testator, and she contested the will and codicils set up by plaintiffs on the ground that they were not duly executed according to law; that the deceased at the time of their execution was not of sound mind, memory and understanding; that he did not know and approve of their contents; that the execution of the will and codicils was obtained by the undue influence of the plaintiff, Johanna Conroy and James Corcoran and of others acting with and she said further that the deceased made his true will on August 11th, 1925, by which he appointed her the sole executrix, and she asked the court to decree Probate of this will in solemn form.

Mr. Patrick Lynch, K.C.; Mr. Albert E. Wood, K.C., and Mr. M. J. Conolly (instructed by Mr. J. Speers, solicitor, Dungarvan) appeared for the plaintiffs. Mr. T. F. S. Battersley, K.C.; Mr. J. M. Fitzgerald, K.C., and Mr. C. F. Matheson (instructed by Messrs. J. F. Williams and Co.) acted for the defendant.

When the case was called this morning it was announced that a settlement had been arrived at, and the jurors were not sworn.

Mr. Lynch said that the testator was one of a family of ten children and began business in the town of Dungarvan on his own account about 35 years ago. In addition to managing a very successful business in the town, he kept shop and cattle. He prospered so much that he was able to retire from business and live without fear of want on the revenue from his investments. He was as keen and alert during the last days of his illness as at any period of his life. The assets were valued at over £5,000 in addition to a house and premises in Grattan Square, Dungarvan, and fields at Abbeyside, Dungarvan, and I declare that though the said lands were purchased by me in my own name they were purchased with the money of my said sister. I give to the Abbot of the Monastery at Mount Mellary £100 for Masses for the repose of my soul at 5s. each Mass.

Mr. Lynch added that it had been felt by the executors that the provision made for the widow under the will of September 15th, having regard to her health and her age, might be regarded by the people who were to benefit under the will as not being sufficiently generous; and as a consequence that he agreed, subject to the approval of his Lordship, to give her a life interest in all the property that the late Mr. Corcoran had then possessed of. In addition to that she was to have £3 a week. Reading through these documents his Lordship concluded that the testator had certainly given great thought to what he was doing.

Counsel was glad to say that the whole matter had now been adjusted, and he would like to say a few words about the history of his illness. He was a man who was apparently in good health, very active and very keen about all his investments and about his business until some time in April, 1925, when he began to fail. About that time he went to Cork on the advice of his local medical officer, Dr. O'Neill, who was certainly a very able man, and who accurately diagnosed the disease from which Mr. Corcoran suffered. Dr. O'Neill's diagnosis was confirmed subsequently by Dr. P. T. O'Sullivan, of Cork, and later by eminent specialists in Dublin. The deceased had suffered from cancer in a region of the body that rendered it impossible for him to survive for a long time, and he was obliged to live on liquids with the aid of stimulants and narcotics. It was when the disease had been diagnosed as cancer that he began to settle his affairs. He died on the 28th December. His will of September had been disputed, but counsel was glad to say that after a conference between the solicitors (who had certainly spared no trouble in bringing the parties together) a settlement had been arrived at that was not only fair, but was very creditable to everybody concerned. It would be a very unpleasant thing to have the affairs of this family discussed in court for a couple of days, and counsel was glad to inform his Lordship that as a result of the efforts of the solicitors and friends of the testator, and said all the parties were very well advised.

Dungarvan Urban Council.

THE QUAY ACCOUNT.

DEAR MR. O'MEARA—RE MY ACCOUNT WHICH WAS BEFORE YOUR MEETING ON LAST FRIDAY NIGHT WHEN YOU DIRECTED YOUR OFFICIAL MR. McGRATH, TO CALL ON ME IN CONNECTION WITH SAME. I NOW WISH TO HAVE THE MATTER SETTLED ONCE AND FOR ALL AND AS SOON AS POSSIBLE. OF COURSE I PUT MR. McGRATH TO NOT CALL. AS USUAL HE CAME ON THE LONG FINGER, AND CONSIDERING A STATEMENT WHICH HE (MR. McGRATH) MADE AT THE LAST MEETING THAT MY ACCOUNT WAS ALL WRONG, I AM VERY ANXIOUS TO LET YOUR COUNCIL SEE THAT THE ERROR IS NOT ON MY SIDE, AND HOPE YOU WILL ARRANGE A DEPUTATION, INCLUDING THE BOROUGH SURVEYOR, TO CALL AND INSPECT MY BOOKS SOME DAY NEXT WEEK WHEN I WILL PLACE FACTS BEFORE THEM THAT WILL PROVE MY BOOKS ARE CORRECT REGARDING THE QUANTITY OF CEMENT SUPPLIED.—Yours truly, Mr. McGRATH.

EXPENDITURE.

The pay sheet for the week amounted to £66 18s. 8d.

Mr. McGRATH asked who was responsible for the upkeep of the Square?

Borough Surveyor—That matter is not yet settled, but we agreed to clean it after the fair.

Mr. McGRATH—You should keep an account of the expenditure on that? Borough Surveyor—Yes.

Mr. Clancy—That is not our duty and it should be left there. I would ask the Chairman to raise that matter at the next County Council meeting.

Chairman—The pay sheet for this week amounts to £66, and it has come down to this that you will have to cease doing anything.

Mr. McGRATH—Can we have the money—is there any money available?

Chairman—There are no funds.

Borough Surveyor—We have shut down all except the permanent men since Wednesday.

Mr. McGRATH—It is too bad that in the town of Dungarvan we can't pay the men.

Chairman—We all know the collector did everything possible to get in the rates.

Mr. McGRATH—I am sure of that.

Mr. Clancy—The cause of the trouble is we did any amount of work which was not estimated for.

Chairman—Yes, that's what is wrong.

Mr. McGRATH—We must curtail our expenses.

To Mr. Clancy, the Clerk said there was about 60 per cent. collected.

Mr. McGRATH—I would ask the Clerk to inform the treasurer that they won't be let down by the council.

Chairman—We were never refused by our treasurer.

The pay sheet was then signed.

ST. GARVAN'S TERRACE.

Chairman—Is Mr. Stokes, contractor, finished with St. Garvan's Terrace?

Borough Surveyor—Yes.

Chairman—At the passage between the two blocks of houses, there is a broken wall and it should be built up or a gate put there.

Borough Surveyor—We asked Mr. Stokes to tender for that and I believe he sent in a tender.

Mr. Clancy—There is also considerable trespass at the upper portion where there is a passage also.

The council decided to get the matter attended to.

SARFIELD STREET.

Two tenders were received for the building of a concrete wall in lieu of railings at the rear of the above houses, viz.—E. Fitzgerald, £90, and Michael Drohan for labour, the council to supply material, £18.

Michael Drohan's tender not being in Michael Drohan's name, and after a discussion Fitzgerald's tender was accepted to carry out the contract as per specification in its entirety.

REPAIRS.

Mrs. Fitzgerald, St. Thomas's Terrace, writes asking the council to carry out some repairs to her house.

Borough Surveyor—I asked two carpenters during the week to go there, but they were too busy.

Mr. Clancy—Did you attend to Mr. Foley's door, which was referred to you, and Mr. Dee's range?

Borough Surveyor—I expected the range and reported on it.

The council decided to attend to the matter during the week.

LOCAL APPOINTMENTS COMMISSIONERS.

A letter was read from the above drawing the council's attention to the fact that the Commissioners are empowered by the Officers and Employees Act, 1926, to recommend to a local authority for appointments to certain vacancies. To comply with the provisions, however, the Local Appointments Commission must first be moved by request from the Local Authority or from the Minister in whose Department the vacancy exists to make such a recommendation.

Mr. McGRATH—Then we cannot appoint any officers? Clerk—No.

Mr. McGRATH—Even if we want to appoint a park ranger.

Clerk—He would not be an officer. No action was taken on the letter.

GARAGE.

Messrs. Thomas Power and Co. were granted permission to erect a garage and store petroleum at their premises subject to the Borough Surveyor being satisfied the road complied with the Act.

OLD HOSPITAL ROAD.

The following notice of motion standing in the name of Mr. Griffin was read:—
"I beg to give notice that I will move at the next meeting or subsequent one that the maintenance and upkeep of the Old Hospital Road be put up for contract for a period of three years."

Mr. Griffin, asked leave to land in the following before the motion was put:—
"Again I wish to draw your attention to the state of the Old Hospital Road. It is unsafe for vehicular traffic and dangerous to cyclists and pedestrians. All the users, with few exceptions, are inhabitants of the Urban District, and it is unjust to them as ratepayers to have this road in such

NOMINATIONS FOR DIRECTOR.

A meeting of the County Waterford Shareholders of the Waterford Dressed Meat Factory was held in the Courthouse, Dungarvan, on Monday last. Senator Sir John Keane, Bart., presided. Mr. Valloke, Manager of the Dressed Meat Factory, was in attendance, as also Mr. R. A. Kelly. Delegates were present from almost all the branches of the Farmers' Union in the county. Amongst those present were—Messrs. John Flavin, Clashmore; W. J. Sparr, Grange; Michael O'Brien, do.; J. J. Curran, Ballylagan; J. G. McGRATH, Ballynecunn; R. Tobin, Ballynecunn; R. B. Walsh, Moneygrove; B. G. Usher, Cappagh; A. Heskin, Glencliff; Jas. Barry, Tallon; D. Dempsey, Shandon; M. Veale, Killostrany; G. Troy, Garranbane; Mrs. Power, Adramont; T. Connell, Bohadon; P. Dunford, do.; N. Fitzgerald, Co. C., Bohadon; D. Coughlan, Kilmacdonagh; P. Power, Pews; M. O'Donnell, Kilmacdonagh; J. Beresford, J. Power, Ballynecunn; J. Kennedy, Woodstock; J. Murphy, Ballygunner; N. Power, Rosduff; Martin Walsh, Co. C.; T. Ryan, Clashgann; P. Lynch, Passage, etc.

Sir John Keane said they were called together that day to appoint 36 persons to form a County Committee to attend the general meeting of the company and also to suggest names for the vacancy on the Board of Directors caused by the retirement of Mr. John Kiersey, Chairman of the County Council. They had also got to form a committee for the organization of supplies. Continuing, the Chairman said—I will give you briefly the position as it is at present. Some of you have seen the progress we have made. So far as we can see it should be ready to begin operations about the 1st February. But of course it is very hard to give a fixed date. You will have a very up-to-date factory. I should say the most up-to-date in Ireland, and you will have accommodation for the slaughter of 1,000 pigs per week and 100 to 150 cattle as well as accommodation for 150 tons cold storage for butter or other produce. You will also have a very up-to-date by-product plant. We spent more than we originally intended on this as we found that all the up-to-date machinery in Europe and in America had this machinery for the production of bone meal that would be edible food for poultry. It is a very up-to-date plant, and as all the up-to-date places are putting it in we did the same. The cost of equipment and erection has been rather more than we thought, but they could not forecast their working requirements with exactitude, and Youghal District Court.

Before Mr. G. P. Farrell, D.J. THEATRY v. CONNORS AND DONOVAN. This was an application for overholding. Mr. J. L. Keane for plaintiff and Mr. Wm. R. Hodnett for defendants. From the statements and evidence it appeared that Connors and his family had held a house from the State family at Springmount for over 60 years. Some three years ago Connors came to live in the town and handed over possession of the cottage and bit of land attached to Donovan for £5, no rent having been paid by either Connors or Donovan since the plaintiff bought the place from Mr. Stouts in February, 1924, and his case was that there was 2 1/2 or 3 years' rent due and that he wanted the place for a workman. The defence was that Donovan, the present occupier, had a wife and four young children and that he could not get any house in the district. Mr. Keane produced the certificate of valuation, which he said put defendants out of court altogether. The valuation was 10s. on the land and 25s. on the building. Mr. Hodnett stressed the hardship on his client, Donovan. A decree for possession was granted with a stay till March.

LARCENY OF BICYCLE. Patrick O'Brien was brought up in custody on remand charged with the larceny of a bicycle, the property of a farmer named J. Donovan, of Ballyadam, Carrigrohilly. Supt. Dieren presented. Mr. J. Motherway, 41 Prospect Square, Cork, hackney car owner, deposed that on the 9th October he met accused at Glanville station and bought a bicycle from him for 35s. He identified the machine produced. Accused said he was the owner. He subsequently handed it over to a Detective Officer in Cork.

INSURANCE CASE. The Irish Insurance Commissioners charged Mrs. Margaret Bernard, Gortville, Ballymacoda, with neglecting to stamp the card of her employe, J. McCarthy. Dr. D. Casey, State Solicitor, prosecuted.

Mr. J. L. Keane said he had been representing defendant, but a letter had been handed to him in the court stating that the case was settled. Mr. Casey said McCarthy had been with defendant since January, 1923. She had been written to frequently and the Inspector had called on her a dozen times, but she had failed to stamp his cards for all that time except for a few weeks lately. He had been instructed by the authorities to press the case. In reply to a stern warning from the Commissioners the defendant wrote: "They don't need it at all. They have a priest for nothing, medicine for nothing, nourishment for nothing, a midwife for nothing, and a house for nothing, and we farmers have to pay every man for tending to them." It is now reported you are attacking farmers for three years' insurance. They are discharging them now for they are not able to pay them. I stamped the card on November 1st and will do so while he works, and I beg of you not to draw crossness between ourselves and our workmen." Mr. Casey then gave details of the charge.

Miss O'Reilly, Inspector, gave evidence corroborating his statement. After a very lengthy hearing the case was adjourned for the attendance of defendant.

FIREARMS. James O'Brien, labourer, Shankill, was charged with being in unlawful possession of firearms, and John Kenefick, farmer, was charged with giving him two cartridges. Supt. Dieren prosecuted. Detective Guard Lynch, Castlemary, deposed that O'Brien worked for Mr. Lynch, Shankill. On 20th September the Guards searched the room where defendant slept. Witness was present when they found a single barrel shotgun and two cartridges. The accused accepted responsibility and said he found the gun about three years ago in a ditch in his father's plot. Mr. Kenefick admitted giving him the cartridges. Justice—Was it an effective gun? Yes, sir. Superintendent—Our information is that this man has another gun and a revolver. Defendant said he was never in anything. He had not joined Republicans or Free Staters. He found it in a ditch and didn't know the harm. Justice—This was only used for sport? I never used it; I was afraid to fire it. Didn't you buy the cartridges and what about the other things? I never had them at all. I don't know what sort of thing it is at all. Superintendent Dieren said it was absolutely necessary that they should have a complete record of all guns in the district, and he asked the court to put on a proper penalty. Justice (to defendant)—What do you earn? 9s. a week and I have a father and mother and cottage to support. O'Brien was fined in the nominal sum of 5s., the Justice giving him a stern warning, and Mr. Kenefick was fined 10s. and costs.

A WELT OF A BUCKET ON THE HEAD. Mr. E. Kieley, storekeeper, County Home, charged Mary Griffin, an inmate of the County Home, with assault. Mr. R. J. Farrell, solicitor, for the plaintiff. Mr. Kieley said on the evening of the assault he went into the hall to give out clothes, etc. Defendant was there, but as she was not to receive any clothes he asked her to leave, but she refused. He went to put her out, but she resisted, and he had a hold of her two hands putting her out when the matron came in and said to leave her go. He did so, and the defendant only stopped down and picked up a galvanised bucket and hit him on the head with it. He was wearing a hard hat at the time which was flattened out with the blow (laughter). Mary Doyle (matron) corroborated. Bridget Weldon said on the 15th November she was in the kitchen preparing lunch for a little girl named Murray, who was going to school when the defendant came in and struck her two blows on the face. Agnes Roche corroborated. Defendant denied she struck Mr. Kieley and said Mary Daniels caught the bucket. She told Mr. Kieley she would not go out for him as it was not his place to order her. When showing her out he struck her against a large bin. She did not hit him with the bucket, but she meant to hit him. The Justice was satisfied both assaults were committed, and sentenced her to a month's imprisonment in each case to run consecutively.

Dungarvan District Court.

ASSAULT WITH A BUCKET.

Held on Wednesday, before Mr. Troy, D.J. John Finger, Ballinagool, summoned Mary Bateman and J. McGrath with trespass on his oats in September. Mr. Ryan, solicitor, for plaintiff, and Mr. Murphy (J. F. Williams and Co.) defended.

Plaintiff said in September last he found two horses, the property of McGrath, and one of the property of Mary Bateman, on his lands. He turned them out, but they came back again. He left them there until McGrath came for them. McGrath's cows were trespassing on him for years. By Mr. Murphy—He did not know if McGrath found his horses on Cuddilly's land. He was not in the habit of bringing trespass actions. John McGrath gave evidence in Irish and was examined by the plaintiff. Mr. Troy said as the horses were not given up to defendants he would dismiss the case.

GARDA CASES. John McCarthy, no light on lorry and no driver's license. Fined 5s. each case. T. Power, no tail light on car, 1s. J. Donovan, for wandering pony. Fined 2s. J. Moore and P. Healy, no light on bicycles. Fined 1s. and 2s. 6d., respectively. David Walsh, no light on his cart. He was also charged with not projecting a tail light as his load of timber projected 8 feet to the rear. Fined 5s. and costs.

LARCENY OF TIMBER. Supt. Murray charged two boys named John Roche and M. Daly with the larceny of timber. Guard Kelly said he found the defendants with a load of timber value about 6s. and the boys told him they got it from T. Broderick, Mapstown. Supt. Murray said he met those boys that night, and in addition to having the timber they had no light, and the timber was loaded in such a way as to be a danger as the branches were sticking out across the road. When questioned the boys gave evasive answers. His object in bringing the case was to show that people cannot go and get timber wherever they wished. He was sure if the boys asked for the timber they could have it. Mr. Troy said he would dismiss the case under the Probation of Offenders Act, but if another case of the kind came before him he would deal severely with it. The Superintendent was quite right to bring the case.

DIRTY CHURN. In the case of the Department of Agriculture v. McCarthy for sending milk to the creamery in a churn not properly cleaned. Mr. Murphy, Inspector, said the churn was not properly washed. It was not a bad case. Mr. Ryan, solicitor for the prosecution, said he would be satisfied with a nominal penalty. Defendant was fined 5s. and costs.

He went to put her out, but she resisted, and he had a hold of her two hands putting her out when the matron came in and said to leave her go. He did so, and the defendant only stopped down and picked up a galvanised bucket and hit him on the head with it. He was wearing a hard hat at the time which was flattened out with the blow (laughter). Mary Doyle (matron) corroborated. Bridget Weldon said on the 15th November she was in the kitchen preparing lunch for a little girl named Murray, who was going to school when the defendant came in and struck her two blows on the face. Agnes Roche corroborated. Defendant denied she struck Mr. Kieley and said Mary Daniels caught the bucket. She told Mr. Kieley she would not go out for him as it was not his place to order her. When showing her out he struck her against a large bin. She did not hit him with the bucket, but she meant to hit him. The Justice was satisfied both assaults were committed, and sentenced her to a month's imprisonment in each case to run consecutively.
