

Waterford County Council

ASSISTANT SURVEYORS' SALARIES.

Mr. John Kiersey, chairman, presided. Also present—Messrs. D. Coughlan, R. Delaney, P. J. Power, P. O'Gorman, J. O'Donnell, M. O'Regan, W. Stack, L. Hillman, M. McElrath, J. Goulding, W. O'Donnell, E. Fitzgerald, J. G. Dale, D. Heskin, J. Kirwan, M. Walsh, J. H. Killeen, T. Harry, T. O'Shea, J. Butler, M. Dunne, M. Brennock, D. Conway, R. Tobin.

County Analyst.

In connection with correspondence from Miss Ryan, county analyst, who charged a special fee for making analysis under the Fertilisers and Fertilizers Acts, the Secretary read the terms of her appointment, which is temporary, that he did not know they could keep down the rates. His mandate there was to keep down the rates as far as could be reasonably done, and he proposed that no increase be given.

Payment of Rates.

Mr. O'Gorman, solicitor, appeared before the council in connection of five farmers from Ballysaggart for rates alleged due by them since 1925-26, and which his clients say they had paid to the former collector. He said two of the men paid by P. O.'s, but the Post Office were unable to produce the records as they said it was too long gone. Unless these men could prove they paid their rates the Justice would give a decree with costs. They were all hard working, struggling farmers, and he would ask the council to give a direction to their collector (Mr. Barry) to withdraw the cases. There was also another case for £10 to come off for which the defendant held a cheque for payment of the amount. He said the rate collector believed that the rates were paid.

Mr. Goulding said in the case of Patk. Deegan, he was prepared to go to the court and swear that to the best of his knowledge he paid the rates for the man. He often paid rates for those people and sent them to the collector through the post. He knew of the man well and he truly believed he had paid their rates.

Mr. Brennock said the collector was prepared to pay Mr. Goulding's statement regarding the particular case mentioned, but he said there was a big amount of rates outstanding for which he was responsible ultimately to his surties. He held they should not refuse Mr. Ryan the right to see the matter over in live with those people.

Mr. Stack said they should let the Judge decide it.

Mr. O'Gorman, Solicitor—The Justice will give a decree where the parties cannot prove their case. Mr. Barry cannot swear if the rates are due or not.

Mr. O'Halloran—Has he any witnesses?

Mr. O'Gorman—No.

Mr. Heskin said it was up to everyone to get receipts for their money.

Mr. McGrath—You had several cases where people paid their rates and got no receipts.

Mr. O'Gorman, Solicitor, said the collector intended to sue Mr. O'Donnell, Shanacoole for £10 rates due, but the latter had a cheque as receipt for payment.

Mr. McCoys, Solicitor, said the proper course to take was for the council to allow the Justice to decide the cases. People who pay their rates should see that they get receipts.

Mr. Goulding instanced cases where they could not obtain receipts for their money, and he saw Mr. Ryan about the matter, and after some time receipts were sent them. It was due to carelessness that the receipts were not sent.

Mr. Brennock—I don't think we can assume the functions of the court.

Chairman—If the collector brings forward the case for £10 it may have an effect on the Justice.

Mr. Power—It should be a lesson for every person to look for a receipt.

Librarian for Licences.

Mr. O'Gorman said that Mr. Mills, librarian, Limerick, had died. He did not know who had the making of the new appointments—whether the Appointments Commissioners, County Council or Library Committee, and he would propose that application be made to the Appointments Commissioners to fill the vacant position at a salary of £40. That will tell us who it is to make the appointment.

Mr. Goulding—Being a salaried position it comes under the power of the Appointments Commissioners.

Secretary—He was also Secretary to the Library Committee of Tallow, Ballyfinn, Limerick and Cappoquin.

Mr. O'Shea proposed that Mr. Albert Mills be appointed until the permanent appointment was made, the salary to be at the rate of £40. Mr. O'Gorman seconded.

Mr. Bowen suggested that the person in charge be there all the time.

Mr. Heskin moved they make the permanent appointment that day. There was no use in playing into the hands of the Appointments Commissioners.

Mr. O'Gorman said if the Appointments Commissioners did not make the appointment the local members of the County Council should do so. This was agreed to.

Assistant Surveyors.

The Finance Committee recommended to increase the salary of the four assistant county surveyors by 25 per cent. each as from 1st April, 1927; that Mr. Doyle's headquarters be moved from Clonnel to Dungarvan, and that a phone be installed in Mr. O'Keenan's Office, Limerick.

In moving the adoption of the recommendation, the Chairman said he was one of the committee who went into the matter and spent a good deal of time on it. They went into all the facts. They were appointed to discuss the whole outlook of the case with Mr. Bowen. They dealt with the matter under the impression that their recommendation would be approved by the council.

Mr. Power said if the men did not get a living wage they should increase their salaries. Some of the ratepayers had a special fee for making analysis under the Fertilisers and Fertilizers Acts, and if they increased that taxation to grant the increase of 25 per cent. then he did not know they could keep down the rates. His mandate there was to keep down the rates as far as could be reasonably done, and he proposed that no increase be given.

Mr. O'Gorman said he was one of the committee that made the recommendation and there was no use in asking them to consider such matters if they did not agree with their findings. They spent a long time at it, and the County Surveyor gave them private information that could not be given there.

Mr. Butler—Why? Mr. O'Gorman—Because it would be reflecting more or less on some of the applicants.

Mr. Butler—Private information has been given to a Sub-Committee of the council that would not be given to the whole council. I object to that as one member of the council, and I can't see my way to make up my mind to come to a just decision unless that information is given to every member of the council.

Mr. O'Gorman—We were shown these men were entitled to the bonus, but they did not receive it, and the salary of some of them is only £120 or £130. Men in the office are getting £200, £300 and more, and the assistant surveyors have to run over the whole county. Considering their low salaries and the duties they have to perform with the large mileage, we concluded they were not getting a just wage, and we concluded 25 per cent. increase would be fair. There was no use sending members to committee to make recommendations, if they were turned down at the council.

Mr. McAliffe approved of the recommendation.

Mr. O'Gorman said in his district every ratepayer was paid his salaries, and it was his duty to oppose it. For six years past the ratepayers were working hard and saving, and they were asked to pay for the conveyance of prisoners at that time.

Mr. O'Shea—Especially when they could not prove the charges.

The Finance Committee had recommended that payment be made when the funds allowed it.

It was decided not to pay the amount.

The assistant surveyors applied for the payment of allowances approved by the Department in respect of works carried out under grants for road schemes granted at the rate of £40 for each surveyor.

No Sunday Cinema for Tramore.

Mr. Buggy, solicitor, applied on behalf of Mrs. Dyer for a Cinema license for 7 days, the performance on Sundays not to start until 8.30 p.m. or after deviations. He said it would be a very grave matter in view of the reaction licensing legislation in every other country was Saturday, they in Ireland seemed to be going in the reverse direction.

Mr. McGrath—What is the advantage of it?

Mr. McAliffe—You will get cheap week-end tickets.

Mr. Brennock—The council are not the authority over this.

For want of a second the resolution fell through.

Appointment of V.S.

In connection with a communication received from the Department of Agriculture, the appointment of veterinary surgeons for Dungarvan and Youghal areas, the Chairman said the council saw no reason to alter the existing arrangements.

Eucharistic Congress.

The Chairman proposed, Mr. Conway seconded, and it was resolved—"That we respectfully desire to place on record our unanimous wish that the Eucharistic Congress for 1927 be held in Ireland, especially as that year will be the 10th centenary of the coming of St. Patrick to our shores. Those concerned can rely on our full support."

Sheep Dipping.

In connection with the provisions of sheep dipping tanks, etc., the matter was referred to the Diseases of Animals Committee.

Mr. Brennock said unless all sheep were properly dipped the sheep trade of the county would be held up.

Dogs Act to be Enforced.

The Department of Agriculture wrote that in the quarter ending 31st March 16 sheep were returned as killed by dogs, and under the Dogs Act the council could make regulations preventing dogs straying between sunset and sunrise over the whole county or any district. In the interests of the sheep trade they recommended that be done.

Mr. Brennock moved, and Mr. Delaney seconded—"That they put the Dogs Act into force." This was passed by 8 votes to 3, the minority being Messrs. Goulding, O'Regan and the Chairman.

Mr. Conway—How will it be enforced?

STIFF FINE FOR DIRTY EGGS.

At Carrick-on-Suir District Court, Julia O'Donnell was fined £5 for exposing dirty eggs for sale at the Condensed Milk Factory, Carrick-on-Suir. Mr. O'Callaghan, Inspector under the Dairy Produce Act, gave evidence of having found the eggs exposed for sale by defendant.

they should have it, and Mr. Bowen would have no objection.

Mr. O'Shea supported the recommendation.

Mr. Conway—in view of the fact that a good many members of the council have no confidence in the members selected for the committee, I would suggest that the recommendation be referred back to the whole council. Mr. O'Halloran seconded.

Mr. O'Gorman—We have no particular interest in it.

Mr. Stack—You must have. You would imagine by Mr. Butler and Mr. O'Gorman that half Co. Tipperary was put in with Waterford.

Mr. Conway's resolution was then put to a vote as follows—

For—Messrs. Hillman, Conway, Stack, Butler, McGrath, Walsh, O'Donnell, Hillman, Coghlan, O'Donnell, O'Gorman, Dunne, O'Regan—13.

Against—Messrs. Tobin, Brennock, O'Shea, Goulding, Duke, Heskin, Fitzgerald, McAliffe, Kiersey, Kirwan, Power, Harry—12.

The resolution was carried.

Mr. Brennock—I moved that no further committee be appointed in respect of any matters.

Mr. O'Gorman—We are only making facts of ourselves.

Mr. Brennock—Committees are only a lumping here.

The Finance Committee recommended that the council approve of Collector Barry doing the work in respect of ruined buildings and devolved estates, and that he be paid postage of 7d. in the £ for 1926-27 collection subject to sanction. Approved. A similar resolution re Collector Kirwan was approved.

A recommendation re the re-organization of the office staff and the installation of a modern filing system was adopted, including a recommendation that the fixing of an appropriate salary for the secretary be left to the council.

Mr. Delaney was re-elected on the Board of Public Health and Mr. Heskin on the Board of Assistance.

Conveyance of Political Prisoners.

The Finance Minister applied for £120 13s. 2d. in respect of the expenses of the conveyance of prisoners during the period 1919-1922.

Chairman—Is there any legal liability for that?

Secretary—They say it is for the conveyance of prisoners.

Mr. Goulding—This is a demand for the conveyance of political prisoners and others. We are asked to pay for conveyance of prisoners who were working members of committees to make recommendations, if they were turned down at the council.

Mr. McAliffe approved of the recommendation.

Mr. O'Gorman said in his district every ratepayer was paid his salaries, and it was his duty to oppose it. For six years past the ratepayers were working hard and saving, and they were asked to pay for the conveyance of prisoners at that time.

Mr. O'Shea—Especially when they could not prove the charges.

The Finance Committee had recommended that payment be made when the funds allowed it.

It was decided not to pay the amount.

In the interests of the sheep trade they recommended that be done.

should be first made so that the road may later be put back to his satisfaction. Any money then left over would be refunded to the person making the deposit.

Mr. Brennock said the urban area would be more interested in that than anyone else, and they had agreed to it.

Mr. Heskin—It is unfair to the man in our country, the road goes back properly.

Mr. Bowen—It is not unfair to anyone. We must see that the road goes back properly.

Improving Road at Cappagh.

In connection with the strengthening of the road at Cappagh Railway Crossing, Mr. Bowen said the Railway Company had agreed to do the work.

Mr. Stack—The estimate seems high for so short a road. It was badly washed in the public interest. He thought they should make the company an offer.

Mr. Bowen—They suggest 27ft. gates for the 12ft. gates and they will maintain them. He would be slow to recommend the council to spend that money at present.

Mr. Brennock said the traffic at the point did not affect the Railway Co., but if you alter it you will be looking for a lot of trouble. They are the same does as in other places like Dunmore where herringers sell at 20s. to 30s. per cran. 2d.

Mr. Brennock—£50 should cover the whole thing.

The matter was left in Mr. Bowen's hands.

Clonca Corner.

The Railway Co. agreed to give the necessary land to widen the road at Clonca, the County Council to maintain the wall afterwards. This was approved.

Dogs on Fish.

Mr. Brennock asked if the charges for fish at Helvick Pier was 2d. per cran or per ton? In order to encourage the people to consume the fish 2d. per ton should be only charged.

Mr. Bowen—The dues have been approved by the Ministry, but not sealed, and if you alter it you will be looking for a lot of trouble. They are the same does as in other places like Dunmore where herringers sell at 20s. to 30s. per cran. 2d.

Mr. Brennock—The charges were not submitted to us yet?

Mr. Bowen—They were. Herringers were asked to pay 2d. per fish, per ton.

Mr. Brennock said looking at the prices they received at Hamburg the merchants were at a loss in place of making a profit. He suggested a flat rate of 2d. per ton to help the industry, which was a new venture.

Mr. Bowen suggested leaving the rates as they are, and the fish to be sold as they are, if the charges were considered too high.

Mr. Brennock agreed and paid a tribute to the excellence of the arrangements made to pay for the fishermen and all concerned in the fishing.

Mr. O'Shea—Especially when they could not prove the charges.

The Finance Committee had recommended that payment be made when the funds allowed it.

It was decided not to pay the amount.

The assistant surveyors applied for the payment of allowances approved by the Department in respect of works carried out under grants for road schemes granted at the rate of £40 for each surveyor.

Dungarvan Urban Council

Mr. M. Brennock, P.C., chairman presided. Also present—Messrs. Wm. O'Donnell, V.C.; J. Moore, J. Hackett, T. McCarthy, M. Griffin, R. Craig, P. J. McGrath, T. Power, M. J. Keane, M. Clancy and J. Curran.

EXPENDITURE.

Payments for the week, which were passed, amounted to £8 11d.

WATERING CART.

Mr. Wm. Hillier, Messrs. Hillier, represented by Mr. J. Sanford, painter, appeared before the meeting. Mr. Hillier explained to the meeting that Mr. Sanford, who had taken the contract to paint the front of his house could not go on with the work owing to the drought.

A long discussion took place re the quickest means of abating the nuisance. Mr. Clancy proposed, and the Chairman seconded, that the council instruct the S.S.O. to approach Mr. Bowen with a view to getting a loan of a water cart during the summer season.

Mr. Power suggested that a deputation together with the Borough Surveyor, examine the old water cart with a view to ascertaining if it could be repaired.

Mr. McGrath proposed that the council purchase a new water cart.

Mr. Clancy's proposition was passed and Mr. Power's suggestion was also agreed to.

Mr. McGrath then moved his resolution of a caretaker for the above. Mr. McGrath said they should appoint a good man, and also suggested that a boat be procured for the bathing place there.

Mr. Griffin—I heard it was 5d. per barrel here and 3d. or 3 1/2d. in Waterford.

CABETAKEH FOR PAIRK.

Before proceeding with the appointment of a caretaker for the above, Mr. McGrath said they should appoint a good man, and also suggested that a boat be procured for the bathing place there.

Mr. McCarthy—Twelve months ago I tried to get a buoy fixed at the end of the breakwater. There was also a corked rope from the end of the breakwater some time ago and it should be replaced.

Mr. Keane—That is very important. Mr. Clancy—There should also be a notice there.

It was decided to put the buoy and rope there.

Two tenders were received for the re-taking of the Park—Messrs. Quinn at 10s. per week and Patk. Flynn at 14s. per week.

The tender of Patk. Flynn was accepted as the other man was unable to swim.

DALL ELECTION, 1927.

MR. BUTLER TO THE ELECTORS OF WATERFORD.

VOTERS OF WATERFORD—

By the unanimous desire of the Dungarvan Urban Council and a large number of friends I am offering myself as a Candidate at this Election. I seek your suffrages, not as the representative of a particular class or party, but as one rendering allegiance to the Irish Nation and giving service to the plain people of the Constituency.

Realising the fundamental unity of the Irish community, it shall be my aim to draw closer the bonds of interest and affection between its constituent parts, to remove present discords and restore old concord.

I regard the Treaty as a charter of Freedom, which, if worthily used, will enable our historic Nation to evolve a happy social order, full of peace and plenty, to build up a truly Irish culture and civilisation, and to pave the way for greater power, dignity and freedom in the future.

By lifting up the lowly and making the working classes—Labourers, Farmers, Artizans and Shopkeepers—comfortable and contented, the Stability of the State and the Progress and Prosperity of the entire community can be best promoted.

National and class organisation, where old feuds shall be forgotten, old hate buried and the spirit of fraternal fellowship fostered, is the great energising force that can create a real Irish Commonwealth.

Before Mr. G. P. Farrell, D.J.

Guard Wickstead charged John O'Brien, Lismore, with not having a backplate on the motor car he was driving. Fined 5/-.

Guard Broderick charged Ed. Dacey with using an unlighted vehicle. Fined 5/-.

FITZGERALD v. MARTIN.
This was a civil bill for £3 1s. 6d. for overtime and a week's wages in lieu of notice. Mr. J. L. Keane, solr., defended. Plaintiff deposed he was a messenger boy at 10/- weekly. He worked after hours during December, etc., and on half-days for the usual weekly rent and a weekly instalment on account of arrears, and the cases were adjourned.

The defence was that as business was so dull locally the staffs worked after hours during a rush, but did not charge. The plaintiff made no claim till the end. A decree for 10/- in lieu of notice was granted.

EJECTMENTS.

Mrs. M. R. Bennett had objections for non-payment of rent against several weekly tenants.

Mr. Wm. R. Hodnett appeared for plaintiff.

In all cases the defendants promised to pay the usual weekly rent and a weekly instalment on account of arrears, and the cases were adjourned.

The same plaintiff applied for an ejection against Mrs. Norah Mulechey. Mr. J. L. Keane for defendant.

Mr. Hodnett said in that case there was no rent due, but the house was in bad repair, and plaintiff could not carry out the repairs while the defendant was in possession.

Justice—Did you offer her like accommodation at the same rent?
Mr. Hodnett said they did.
Mr. Keane said it was a much worse place in a back lane.

Justice—On what ground are you seeking possession?
Mr. Hodnett said on the ground that the defendant was guilty of conduct which prevented the landlord from carrying out necessary repairs.

The plaintiff having given evidence, was examined by Mr. Keane.

Did she offer you, if she gave you a written guarantee to give her back the place, to leave and suffer on in the place she offered? Her son did.

The Justice dismissed the case.

FISHERY PROSECUTIONS.

Mr. Thos. Dodan, Inspector of Fisheries, Mallov, charged Thos. Nunn and Wm. Flavin with a breach of the fishery bye-laws by using a net 264 yards long, the legal limit being 200 yards.

Mr. J. L. Keane prosecuted.

D. Ellis having given the offence, the defendants were asked had they anything to say.

Flavin—We have nothing to say.
Nunn—We were never caught before (laughter).

Justice—That is an unfortunate way of putting it.

Evidence of previous good character having been given.

The Justice said he had to fine them the fixed penalty of £5 each, the net to be forfeited and adjusted. He would recommend a reduction, if a memorial were sent on.

Mich. Roche and Mich. Carey were fined similarly for a like offence, the net, which was 265 yards long, to be forfeited and adjusted.

The Justice said he would also recommend a reduction in that case.

Denis Mahony, Park, charged John Walsh and his wife, Kate, with assault.

Mr. J. L. Keane prosecuted.

Justice—The same old thing again.

Mr. Keane—Yes. The same old dispute over the boundary fence. John Walsh threatened complaint with a pike and his wife took the pike out of his hand and struck Mr. Mahony in the face cutting it.

Complainant having given evidence, Mrs. Walsh said the defendant was always "throwing the outdoor relief at her."

Justice—How did the pike happen to touch his eye? I said I'd run it through him.

Mr. Keane said he would be satisfied if defendant was an undertaking to conduct themselves.

The case was adjourned for six weeks, the Justice saying he would bind them to the peace if they came up again.

TRESPASS.

Timothy McCarthy, farmer, charged Kate and Mary Kiersey with trespass.

Mr. J. L. Keane for complainant.

Complainant having given evidence that defendants walked through his corn field, the Clerk said that the girls asked him to summon a man named Downing, who could prove that it was a "Mass path."

The case was adjourned for a fortnight.

At the monthly meeting of Mrs. White, vice-chairman, present—Messrs. P. O'Gorman, J. McAuliffe, T. Connolly, E. Dunne, E. Dawson, T.D.; T. Treacy.

HOME ASSISTANCE.

The Chairman stated that of the Hospital Committee appointed to young unmarried women during Home Assistance. He heard from a reliable source were cases in which Home Assistance was granted upon the thought of time ago that to take away Home Assistance from young unmarried women would be a hard knock to them. He heard of a case of a young girl out of the maternity ward and out of the Home Assistance. Different women wanted her to live with them, get the benefit of the Home Assistance. The matter should be looked closely and the names of the child to the Inspector of the S.P.C.K. in Waterford there has been tragic occurrences.

Mr. McAuliffe—It is a hard knock. If you give assistance to young unmarried women, you stop it you starve the children. Mr. O'Gorman—Make the mothers earn their bread. The young people looking for assistance. Chairman—We have no right to the child away from its parents. S.P.C.K. to look into the matter. Mr. McAuliffe—Unless we give power we can do nothing. Mr. O'Gorman—There are plenty of hospitals about for unmarried women. They should not be put in the Hospital. Secretary—There would be no use in giving names to the R.P.C. Chairman—The state of the morals is so terrible we ought to be doing something. Secretary—We could prosecute cases where we get information. Chairman—We should strengthen hands of our committee. Mr. McAuliffe—There are a lot of individuals going around and taking money by procuring. Secretary—In some cases there is no mark, but it would have effect. A resolution calling on the County Board and Hospital Board to any unmarried mothers coming to institutions was passed.

HOLIDAYS.

Mr. McGrath, Assistant Officer, for City, applied for three weeks' leave. A resolution was passed granting McGrath three weeks' holidays on the day of the last work he did this year. Secretary—We could prosecute cases where we get information. Chairman—We should strengthen hands of our committee. Mr. McAuliffe—There are a lot of individuals going around and taking money by procuring. Secretary—In some cases there is no mark, but it would have effect. A resolution calling on the County Board and Hospital Board to any unmarried mothers coming to institutions was passed.

Secretary—The contract has been entered into, but there is a clause, states that the contract can be terminated by direction of the L.G.B.

FIELD LET TO TENNIS CLUB.

Mr. Deane, Secretary of St. Ann's Tennis Club, Waterford, appeared before the Board in support of a letter asking a 25 years lease of a portion of the John's Hill, Waterford, the loan to be £100.

Mr. Conroy—What if we wanted field for other purposes later? Should give a lease for 25 years. Mr. Conroy—If we let the plot to others it will lessen the value. Mr. Conroy—We do not require whole field for regulation purposes. Mr. Deane—We would have applied the whole field, but did not want to with the course's application. Mr. Conroy—I have no objection letting the field; I only put the question of the rate, and I think this could be let in plots at 25 per acre for building purposes. It is a suitable site. We could let the centre of the field. I don't think it would be justice to the ratepayers to let the field at the low price of £10.

Mr. Conroy—We do not want to build against the hospital, and we should build in order to ensure the health of the town. Mr. Deane—The very best we can do is to let the field for tennis. Mr. Conroy—The place was let to Mr. Stratton, and they have a field for other purposes later.

Chairman—To give away the most of this part seems out of the question, and not against letting the plot to the building site for recreation.

Mr. Stratton—The place was let to Mr. Stratton, and they have a field for other purposes later.

The Clerk said Messrs. Shanahan and Sons, Cork, were prepared to buy butter.

Mr. Broderick said the idea was to flow open the Market House and let people come along and buy stuff.

Chairman—You can't give a monopoly to anyone.

Mr. Broderick—No, but you could give it from week to week. Anyone can come free.

Mr. McMahon objected and suggested a weekly rent of 5s.

This was seconded by Mr. Kennedy and passed unanimously.

Present—Messrs. P. J. O'Gorman, P.C. (moved) to the chair by names of those present being put into a hat: Wm. J. Broderick, A. J. Foxles, P. Kennedy, J. Troy, T. Harrington, B. C. Farrell.

It was decided to instruct the Sanitary Sub-Officer to take all the steps necessary to safeguard the purity of the milk coming into the town.

COUNCIL AND COUNTY TECHNICAL COMMITTEE. The Town Clerk read correspondence with the County Technical Committee regarding the rate struck by the council as their contribution towards the committee.

information. I propose that the field be let for 21s per year.

Chairman—I am not against the Tennis Club, but it is a ridiculous price. I am looking at things from a ratepayer's point.

Mr. Beane—We would also have to pay rates, which would amount to about 21s altogether.

Chairman—21s or 21s has been got for much smaller places for building.

Mr. Connolly proposed, and Mr. Dawson seconded, that the Tennis Club be granted a lease of the field for 30 years at 21s per year plus rates subject to sanction.

ECHARISTIC CONGRESS 1929.

On the proposition of Mr. Broderick, seconded by Mr. Troy, the following resolution was unanimously adopted:—“That we respectfully desire to place on record our unanimous wish that the Eucharistic Congress for 1929 will be held in Ireland, especially as that year will be the 15th centenary of the coming of St. Patrick to our shores. The authorities concerned can rely on our fullest support.”

FISH CURING.

Messrs. Geo. Thor, Ltd., Fish Merchants, Billingsgate, London, wrote thanking the council for their last communication, and they had written Mr. Buttiner to secure permission for the necessary accommodation. They had completed and returned to the officer in Cork for completion of the other part of the Act. They now thought everything was straightforward providing they got Mr. Buttiner's reply in the affirmative.

Mr. Broderick—That is very satisfactory.

COAST PROTECTION WORKS.

Messrs. J. Hodnett and Sons, solicitors, wrote stating that the leasehold of the Department of Defence (as successor of the British Secretary of State for War) having come to an end by effluxion of time and the lands having been surrendered by the Department to the landlord, there was an end of the matter, so far as the Department's contribution was concerned. In any case the contribution was a voluntary one, as they would see by letter enclosed.

POOR RATE.

The Town Clerk said he had received the demand estimate from the County Council, and the result would be that their poor rate would be 2d. 3/4, an all-round reduction of 6d.

Chairman—That is a total of 12/7 in the £. Very good.

DEVELOPMENT ASSOCIATION.

Mr. O'Gorman said he suggested at their last meeting that they in Youghal should follow the example of other towns and form a local Development Association with a view to stimulating business in every possible way. They all knew that business was not as good as it might be, and therefore the time was opportune to come together and consider what could be done to improve matters.

A great deal of good had been done by such an Association in other towns in the county. He therefore proposed that they ask the Chairman to summon a public meeting of the townpeople with the object of forming such an Association.

Mr. Broderick seconded. The Chairman said he cordially endorsed Mr. O'Gorman's remarks. Such an Association would be believed, do much good if they threw their weight into it. Neighbouring towns had set a good example for Youghal.

The proposition was passed unanimously.

MARKET HOUSE.

Mr. Kennedy asked had anything been done about the Market House yet?

The Clerk said Messrs. Shanahan and Sons, Cork, were prepared to buy butter.

Mr. Broderick said the idea was to flow open the Market House and let people come along and buy stuff.

Chairman—You can't give a monopoly to anyone.

Mr. Broderick—No, but you could give it from week to week. Anyone can come free.

Mr. McMahon objected and suggested a weekly rent of 5s.

This was seconded by Mr. Kennedy and passed unanimously.

National League.

At the meeting held under the auspices of the above League in Dungarvan on Wednesday week, Mr. Thos. Power, chairman, presided.

Mr. Thos. O'Donnell, B.L., ex-M.P., said in Capt. Redmond they had a man of sound ability and statesmanship second to none in the Free State. The previous night they addressed 5,000 ardent supporters of Mr. Redmond. They came to Dungarvan as they had gone to other parts of the country to ask them to help them to save the Nation from bankruptcy.

They were told by the Government that they had restored law and order, but then who began the disaster? Mr. Blythe, who was an ardent Republican, is now an ardent Republican and ex-revolutionary. At one time he asked the youth of the country to take up guns and create dissension and chaos, and said the gun was the great arbiter of the destinies of the nation.

At that time he did not care nor now does he care for the industry of the country, into which he has been imported. He quoted Mr. O'Higgins as saying at one time he would not take 99 per cent. of a Republic, as he would take 100 per cent., and he also said he would cut off his right hand before he would take an Oath of Allegiance to a foreign King. Now he says he has restored law and order.

The National Party never created disorder as they believed in working by other means, but not by the methods preached by Blythe and O'Higgins. What was the record of the Government outside law and order? What had they done for the Nation? Take the question of taxation. The cost of governing Ireland before the war for three years was 72 millions and the cost of governing the Free State for the last three years was 140 millions.

That was 140 millions for governing a portion of the country by your own people against 72 millions by John Bull. They had 50,000 or 60,000 officials supporting Cumann Na nGaedheal and 100,000 more are looking for jobs who as much as it cost to run the whole of Ireland in 1914. They had an army of State officials and they cost 215,000,000 a year. They had 3,500 men paid by the State for every county in it. If things went much further there will be no one in the Free State but officers, officials and paupers. The Rev. Chairman of a Cumann Na nGaedheal meeting complained recently that Ministers had only 21,700 a year salaries, and said the increase should be limited to what they had not enough money to play a game of bridge. Their cattle trade had fallen from 17 millions to 11 millions a year. In the olden days there was no Canadian cattle on the English markets, and Irish farmers got valuable benefits through John Redmond in those days. Now their cattle value was gone down to half, and for every applier to other things. Unless the burden of taxation was reduced there was no hope for the country. He would tell the farmers that if the Creamery Bill was passed in its present form a new set of officials would be created who would skim the cream off the milk and leave the farmers the rest. He was glad to say they had with them in the National League today many young men who honestly admitted they were misled in the past by the Ministers who now governed them. The National Party was spreading all over the country, and men were showing a real honest, solid desire to think out the problems of National improvement and to concentrate on how to save the Nation from degradation and extinction. In 12 months he asserted the National Party under Capt. Redmond's leadership would be the biggest party they would have. In conclusion he appealed to the voters to return Capt. Redmond not merely at the head of the poll, but twice as high as any other candidate (applause).

Mr. Broderick said there was no writing, but the County Secretary claimed that he had got an undertaking from the council. Mr. Broderick said Youghal had been very decently treated by the County Committee, and he would like to honour in full any engagement given to the Committee. They would like some evidence regarding the undertaking referred to by the County Secretary.

The Chairman suggested that the Town Clerk proceed to Cork and have an interview with the Secretary of the County Committee. Judging by the report in the "Echo" it would look as if they were trying to get out of their liability. They didn't want that. They would honour their liability to the County Committee, who had treated Youghal very generously, and the council appreciated it.

Mr. Broderick said they wished to have it clearly understood that they would honour their liability in full.

The Chairman said they would regret that any friction should crop up between the council and the County Committee, and he was sure a personal interview between their Clerk and Mr. Buckley would clear matters up.

It was unanimously agreed that the Town Clerk should visit on Mr. Buckley in connection with the matter.

POOR RATE.

The Clerk said they would be pleased to know that the poor rate would be 2d. 3/4, instead of 3s. as was anticipated.

On the proposition of Mr. Broderick, seconded by Mr. Farrell, it was unanimously decided to adopt a poor rate of 6/7.

LATE MR. TOM WALSH.

Mr. Broderick said it was with a deep feeling of personal loss that he proposed a vote of sympathy with the widow of the late Mr. Tom Walsh. He had been an outstanding figure and character in the town, beloved by all. In the old days of the G.A.A. he had been a star in the field. A jovial spirit, it was always a delight to meet him. It was only since his death that they learned of his great charity to the poor.

Mr. Troy seconded. The Chairman begged to be associated with the proposition. He had known the late Tom Walsh intimately for many years past. He was a man of whom the town had reason to be proud. He was "big" in every way—in physique, generosity, mind, and his charity could not be excelled, but it was most unostentatious, and many poor houses would miss him during the dreary winter months. In his last illness one could see what a delightful figure he was. The magnificent courage which followed his remains to the cemetery evoked the esteem and regard in which he was held.

The Town Clerk joined in the proposition. He had been intimately associated with him as hon. treasurer of the Y.C.C.M.S., and it was not possible to pay an adequate tribute to his memory. Other councillors having associated themselves with the proposition, it was passed.

CAPT. REDMOND, T.D., IN CAPPOQUIN.

ENTHUSIASTIC AND SUCCESSFUL MEETING. As a finale to the series of successful meetings held by Capt. Redmond, T.D., and Mr. Thos. O'Donnell, B.L., in Dungarvan, Tallow and Lismore on Wednesday week, a successful meeting was held in Cappoquin about 10 o'clock on that night on their return from the west of the county. Capt. Redmond and his party arrived by motor from Lismore, the arrival of the party being the signal for a great outburst of cheering and cries of "Up, Redmond," etc., the scene being one of unbounded enthusiasm and fully reminiscent of some of the stirring scenes witnessed in West Waterford when the late Mr. John E. Redmond held meetings there some 16 or 20 years ago. Capt. Redmond and Mr. T. O'Donnell were accompanied by a large number of prominent supporters from Dungarvan, Tallow and other places, while many members of the old fighting body-guard from Waterford and Ballybricken were also prominent in their support of the son of their late illustrious leader and representative. A local Republican Committee, including Messrs. G. P. Haly, hon. sec., J. J. Dempsey, T. Casey and other gentlemen, formally escorted Capt. Redmond and party to the Square, where Mr. J. Dempsey, presided. The Chairman having formally introduced Capt. Redmond, the latter received a loud and prolonged ovation on coming forward to address the meeting. Speaking somewhat heartily he said—Follow countrymen and people of Cappoquin and district, it seems to be only yesterday since I last came amongst you to ask for your support at the last General Election, and I have to thank you very heartily and sincerely for the kind and generous way in which you supported me on that occasion. Address by Mr. O'Donnell, B.L.

At the meeting held under the auspices of the above League in Dungarvan on Wednesday week, Mr. Thos. Power, chairman, presided.

Mr. Thos. O'Donnell, B.L., ex-M.P., said in Capt. Redmond they had a man of sound ability and statesmanship second to none in the Free State. The previous night they addressed 5,000 ardent supporters of Mr. Redmond. They came to Dungarvan as they had gone to other parts of the country to ask them to help them to save the Nation from bankruptcy.

They were told by the Government that they had restored law and order, but then who began the disaster? Mr. Blythe, who was an ardent Republican, is now an ardent Republican and ex-revolutionary. At one time he asked the youth of the country to take up guns and create dissension and chaos, and said the gun was the great arbiter of the destinies of the nation.

At that time he did not care nor now does he care for the industry of the country, into which he has been imported. He quoted Mr. O'Higgins as saying at one time he would not take 99 per cent. of a Republic, as he would take 100 per cent., and he also said he would cut off his right hand before he would take an Oath of Allegiance to a foreign King. Now he says he has restored law and order.

The National Party never created disorder as they believed in working by other means, but not by the methods preached by Blythe and O'Higgins. What was the record of the Government outside law and order? What had they done for the Nation? Take the question of taxation. The cost of governing Ireland before the war for three years was 72 millions and the cost of governing the Free State for the last three years was 140 millions.

That was 140 millions for governing a portion of the country by your own people against 72 millions by John Bull. They had 50,000 or 60,000 officials supporting Cumann Na nGaedheal and 100,000 more are looking for jobs who as much as it cost to run the whole of Ireland in 1914. They had an army of State officials and they cost 215,000,000 a year. They had 3,500 men paid by the State for every county in it. If things went much further there will be no one in the Free State but officers, officials and paupers. The Rev. Chairman of a Cumann Na nGaedheal meeting complained recently that Ministers had only 21,700 a year salaries, and said the increase should be limited to what they had not enough money to play a game of bridge. Their cattle trade had fallen from 17 millions to 11 millions a year. In the olden days there was no Canadian cattle on the English markets, and Irish farmers got valuable benefits through John Redmond in those days. Now their cattle value was gone down to half, and for every applier to other things. Unless the burden of taxation was reduced there was no hope for the country. He would tell the farmers that if the Creamery Bill was passed in its present form a new set of officials would be created who would skim the cream off the milk and leave the farmers the rest. He was glad to say they had with them in the National League today many young men who honestly admitted they were misled in the past by the Ministers who now governed them. The National Party was spreading all over the country, and men were showing a real honest, solid desire to think out the problems of National improvement and to concentrate on how to save the Nation from degradation and extinction. In 12 months he asserted the National Party under Capt. Redmond's leadership would be the biggest party they would have. In conclusion he appealed to the voters to return Capt. Redmond not merely at the head of the poll, but twice as high as any other candidate (applause).

Mr. Broderick said there was no writing, but the County Secretary claimed that he had got an undertaking from the council. Mr. Broderick said Youghal had been very decently treated by the County Committee, and he would like to honour in full any engagement given to the Committee. They would like some evidence regarding the undertaking referred to by the County Secretary.

The Chairman suggested that the Town Clerk proceed to Cork and have an interview with the Secretary of the County Committee. Judging by the report in the "Echo" it would look as if they were trying to get out of their liability. They didn't want that. They would honour their liability to the County Committee, who had treated Youghal very generously, and the council appreciated it.

Mr. Broderick said they wished to have it clearly understood that they would honour their liability in full.

The Chairman said they would regret that any friction should crop up between the council and the County Committee, and he was sure a personal interview between their Clerk and Mr. Buckley would clear matters up.

It was unanimously agreed that the Town Clerk should visit on Mr. Buckley in connection with the matter.

POOR RATE.

The Clerk said they would be pleased to know that the poor rate would be 2d. 3/4, instead of 3s. as was anticipated.

On the proposition of Mr. Broderick, seconded by Mr. Farrell, it was unanimously decided to adopt a poor rate of 6/7.

LATE MR. TOM WALSH.

Mr. Broderick said it was with a deep feeling of personal loss that he proposed a vote of sympathy with the widow of the late Mr. Tom Walsh. He had been an outstanding figure and character in the town, beloved by all. In the old days of the G.A.A. he had been a star in the field. A jovial spirit, it was always a delight to meet him. It was only since his death that they learned of his great charity to the poor.

Mr. Troy seconded. The Chairman begged to be associated with the proposition. He had known the late Tom Walsh intimately for many years past. He was a man of whom the town had reason to be proud. He was "big" in every way—in physique, generosity, mind, and his charity could not be excelled, but it was most unostentatious, and many poor houses would miss him during the dreary winter months. In his last illness one could see what a delightful figure he was. The magnificent courage which followed his remains to the cemetery evoked the esteem and regard in which he was held.

The Town Clerk joined in the proposition. He had been intimately associated with him as hon. treasurer of the Y.C.C.M.S., and it was not possible to pay an adequate tribute to his memory. Other councillors having associated themselves with the proposition, it was passed.

CAPT. REDMOND, T.D., IN CAPPOQUIN.

ENTHUSIASTIC AND SUCCESSFUL MEETING. As a finale to the series of successful meetings held by Capt. Redmond, T.D., and Mr. Thos. O'Donnell, B.L., in Dungarvan, Tallow and Lismore on Wednesday week, a successful meeting was held in Cappoquin about 10 o'clock on that night on their return from the west of the county. Capt. Redmond and his party arrived by motor from Lismore, the arrival of the party being the signal for a great outburst of cheering and cries of "Up, Redmond," etc., the scene being one of unbounded enthusiasm and fully reminiscent of some of the stirring scenes witnessed in West Waterford when the late Mr. John E. Redmond held meetings there some 16 or 20 years ago. Capt. Redmond and Mr. T. O'Donnell were accompanied by a large number of prominent supporters from Dungarvan, Tallow and other places, while many members of the old fighting body-guard from Waterford and Ballybricken were also prominent in their support of the son of their late illustrious leader and representative. A local Republican Committee, including Messrs. G. P. Haly, hon. sec., J. J. Dempsey, T. Casey and other gentlemen, formally escorted Capt. Redmond and party to the Square, where Mr. J. Dempsey, presided. The Chairman having formally introduced Capt. Redmond, the latter received a loud and prolonged ovation on coming forward to address the meeting. Speaking somewhat heartily he said—Follow countrymen and people of Cappoquin and district, it seems to be only yesterday since I last came amongst you to ask for your support at the last General Election, and I have to thank you very heartily and sincerely for the kind and generous way in which you supported me on that occasion. Having apologized for his boresomeness...

Having apologized for his boresomeness, which was caused by having to address large open-air meetings in Dungarvan, Tallow and Lismore, he said he was greatly heartened and stimulated by the magnificent reception he had received in these places, and he wished to thank the people of Cappoquin for turning out in such large numbers to meet him that night. He asked the working people to put on their "considering caps" between now and the polling day and carefully examine the record of the Government during their term in office for the past four years. If they carefully examined that record they would find that the present Government had let this country down very badly as an agricultural country and had killed it in the markets of the world today (hear, hear). They had also killed all the others, which gave employment to thousands of Irish workers, having been over-taxed and driven out of existence by over-taxation, which meant a big loss to the barley-growers of the country, who were now deprived of the ready and profitable market which they had for their grain when these factories were functioning some years ago (hear, hear). The excessive duties on spirits and beer were alone responsible for this industrial decay, while owing to the prohibitive prices charged it was now almost impossible for the ordinary working man to get a pint of beer (hear, hear). He added that owing to Mr. Blythe's failure to reduce the spirit duties he had lost 23,000,000 in revenue for the State during the past four years, and yet he claimed that this was sound finance. Members of the Government were now trying to fool the people by holding out very rosy promises about the new industries they would start if returned to power, but why in heaven's name, asked the speaker, do they not try and do something to help the existing industries in the country which are being gradually strangled to death by over-taxation before they get talking about the starting of new ones (cheers). He mentioned that some time ago President Cosgrave pretended to have great concern about the Queen Street branch of Denny's Bacon Factory and also McDonnell's Margarine Factory in Waterford, and paid a visit to these concerns, and the only result of that visit was that both factories had since been forced to close, so that the reason alone he hoped President Cosgrave would never visit the Cappoquin Bacon Factory (laughter and cheers).

Referring to the Shannon Scheme, he said the Government was claiming that this had provided profitable work for Irish workers, but the only people who were engaged in the work were there were Irishmen, but "Jerries from the Rhine" (applause). He was not going forward in this election as an isolated Independent member, but as a member of the National League, which he had initiated, and if he and that party were returned to power—judging by the support and magnificent reception which they were receiving everywhere he had no doubt they would be returned—their first duty would be to try and find employment for the thousands who were not able to find work now, and they would show no hostility or unfair discrimination against Irishmen who, like himself, were British ex-servicemen, who had fought in France and Flanders, the same as the present Government was doing (cheers). By returning his party to the Dail the people could rely on having a strong Opposition Party there who would be able to curb much of the extravagance and over-taxation which were at present strangling the industrial life of this country (cheers).

Referring to Mr. Blythe's recent Budget and the reduction of income tax, he said "the mountain had laboured and had produced a mouse" (laughter). He condemned Mr. Blythe's action in failing to restore the 1s. which he had taken off the old age pensioners, and said that he and his party would strive hard to have this unfair cut restored at the earliest possible date (hear, hear). He stood for the Constitution, and it was under that Constitution that he and his party would try to restore the prosperity of the country, but, added the speaker with vehemence, this can only be done by bringing down the present Government (cheers). He deeply regretted that they had not amongst them in Cappoquin to-day a gentleman of the great industrial enterprise of the late lamented Mr. Harry Keane, who founded the Bacon Factory here, and a man who had fought such a clean, just and gentlemanly fight when he was a candidate for the constituency four years ago (hear, hear). He hoped, however, that those who gave him their No. 1 votes on that occasion would give them to him (the speaker) on this occasion, and if they did the people of Cappoquin would find that he would never prove unworthy of the trust which they had reposed in him (loud and prolonged cheering).

Messrs. Thos. O'Donnell, B.L., and E. Walsh, Waterford, also spoke.

Mr. J. Dempsey, chairman, in declaring the meeting ended, thanked the people for the patient, orderly and enthusiastic manner in which they had listened to the speech of Capt. Redmond on that night, and he hoped they would not forget their duty by recording their No. 1 votes for him on the polling day (applause).

Amid loud cheers and cries of "Up, Redmond," the large gathering then quietly dispersed and went home.

Warning to Motorists.—When Mr. McClellan, D.J., at Carrigrohane found a number of persons 6j. each for driving motor cars at 30 miles an hour, he said the fine was light because it had been shown that the motorists were on a straight, wide road. If persons came before him for driving furiously round corners he will fine them heavily and suspend their licenses.
