Breach of Promise Action.

DAMAGES FOR PORTLAW GIRL. FARMER'S SON DECREED FOR £78.

At the Waterford Circuit Court on Monday, before Mr. Justice Sealy, K.C., Miss Bridget Cunningham, Portlaw sued a young man named James Walsh, Whitestown, Carrick-on-Suir, for £300 damages for breach of promise of marriage.

Mr. Power, solicitor (Messrs. O'Shee and Co., Solicitors, Carrick-on-Suir) appeared for plaintiff. There was no appearance for the defendant. Giving evidence, the plaintiff said a few years ago she went into the employment of the Marchioness of Waterford at Currageenore as housemaid at £26 a year and subsequently she went to Newtown Anner after the marriage of Lady Waterford to Lord Osborne Beauchamp. While she was at Newtown Anner the defendant visited her several times each week. They corresponded and he gave her presents, including a gold wrist-let watch. Several very affectionate letters passed between her and the defendant and she looked upon him as her sweetheart. In August last year intimacy occurred between them, as a result of which a baby was born. She retraced home prior to her confinement. Her people up to then knew nothing about her keeping company with the defendant. Later he called at her house and in the presence of her father promised to marry her immediately. He had tea with them that evening and left everything being arranged for the marriage. Subsequently he wrote stating there was no use going further with the matter as he would be on his way to Canada before she got the letter.

John Cunningham, Portlaw father of the applicant, said, in reply to Mr. Power, that he was quite unaware of the courtship going on between his daughter and the defendant. He knew nothing whatever about it until the girl returned from Newtown Anner in a certain condition. She then informed him of her courtship, and later the defendant called to the house. He remained for a long time and had tea. Defendant said to witness and the girl's mother that he had no intention of letting the girl down, and he arranged for the marriage to take place at once, but he would have to inform his people. When leaving the girl accompanied him to the door and he embraced her. They were on very affectionate terms.

His Lordship—What are the defendant's means? Mr. Power—I understand his people have a farm of about 200 acres. His Lordship—Do you think under the circumstances a decree would be any good to you? Mr. Power said he understood the lands were held in trust under a marriage settlement whereby defendant's mother was empowered if she saw fit to leave it to any of the children. On service of the process in the present case she disinherited the defendant.

His Lordship—In that case a decree would not be of any use to you. Mr. Power—I am satisfied in spite of the disinheriting that the defendant has some prospects and I will take the decree. His Lordship gave a decree for £75.

Before Mr. Justice Sealy, K.C. In the case of the Land Commission against a man named O'Brien, Lisimore area, in respect of an annuity due, the defendant complained he was not treated fairly as regards the annuity of a particular holding when the Land Commission took over the place from the Duke of Devonshire.

Mr. A. Carroll—if the farmers would only come together and give a push to the Land Commission and get a reduction it would do a lot of good. If the Inspector of the Land Commission could be got to come there he would settle the matter in dispute very quickly. There was no man in the Co. Waterford more fair or straight than the defendant in this case. Mr. O'Brien had purchased Glenbeg at an enormous price and he would not fight shy of his liabilities.

His Lordship—You must arrange with Mr. Beecher. Mr. O'Brien—Mr. Beecher says he cannot do anything in the case. Mr. Carroll—I am inclined to think the Land Commission must be set in motion. Cutting Turf on a Mountain. The Lisimore Estates Co., Ltd., sued five farmers for cutting turf on a mountain at Monard.

Mr. Carroll, solr., for the plaintiffs, and Mr. Ryan, solr., defended. Mr. Carroll said the defendants, notwithstanding that they knew they were not to cut "scraws" on this mountain, did so, and the result was that when the "scraws" were cut only the soft peat remained and that got washed away by the rain, leaving only the barren rock.

Mr. Kearney, who is in charge of this mountain for the Lisimore Estates Co., said he found the defendants cutting "scraws" on this mountain and told them they were doing wrong, and if they did not want to get into trouble to stop it. Defendants would not stop for him. Up to the time of the trouble-turf was never cut there. It was adjoining places where there was game. If the defendants came to him with tickets to cut turf he would show them where to cut it. The charge was 3s. 6d. Mr. Carroll—Are you claiming a right under your land purchase agreement to cut turf on this mountain? One of the Defendants—The Duke of Devonshire gave us the right to furbury on the mountain.

Mr. Carroll. This mountain is reserved to the Duke of Devonshire for game.

His Lordship—You have no right to cut this turf at all. You are in the wrong. The Duke of Devonshire owns the mountain and you have no right to go there without his permission. If you take the "scraws" away the place would be no good for 2,000 years. In imposing small fines on the defendants his Lordship said—The only way to get up an agitation against this is for the defendants to get their member in the Dail to get a Bill passed to transfer this mountain from the Duke of Devonshire to the defendants and then there will be no trouble.

WEST WATERFORD SENIOR FOOTBALL CHAMPIONSHIP.

To the Editor of the "Dungarvan Observer." Dear Sir—I wish through the columns of your widely-read journal to notify our friends and the public in general that Kilmacshomas are not taking part in their championships tie with Dungarvan on Sunday next, July 8th. As already advertised, our team were to meet Dungarvan at Dungarvan at 4 p.m. on Sunday July 8th. Owing to the recent correspondence in the "Observer" from the Clashmore Secretary, Mr. Earron, we feel that Clashmore are unjustly treated, and we refuse to field a team until we meet the winners of Dungarvan and Clashmore. We do not approve of a bloodless victory. Our Club would not accept same. Besides Mr. Barron in his first letter to the Press states that Clashmore had a team that would easily dispose of Dungarvan. Dungarvan did not attempt to contradict that statement. Therefore we could only consider ourselves playing a beaten team. We prefer to meet the victors rather than the vanquished. We consider the challenge of Clashmore as a real sporting one and one that might be accepted by any sporting Club. We are not asking Dungarvan to accept it, but from a sporting point we refuse to play until such time as Clashmore get a chance to prove their worth in the County Championship. When this is done Kilmacshomas will gladly meet the winners.

Trusting I have not trespassed too much on the space of your valuable journal—I remain yours.

TOM RYAN (Captain). Kilmacshomas F. C., 2nd July, 1928.

Morrissey, Ballycoe, Dungarvan; Thos. McCarthy, Ballyhane, Cappoquin; H. P. Maxwell, Moorehill, Tallow; W. McCarthy, Ballyduff, Dungarvan; M. O'Donnell, New Inn, Cahir; W. O'Donnell, Youghal road, Dungarvan; O'Riordan, Clogheen; J. O'Donnell, Clonea, Co. Waterford; P. J. O'Sullivan, Ballyduff; M. O'Brien, Kereen, Aglish; M. O'Brien, Bewley, Cappoquin; W. O'Donovan, Dromore, Aglish; J. V. O'Brien, Woodland, Lismore; J. O'Neill, Mitchelstown; J. O'Brien, do.; P. Power, Ballinamult; J. Prendergast, Ballyhane, Cappoquin; E. Power, Doon, Ballinamult; T. Roche, Bewley, Cappoquin; M. Smith, Knockanore; Thos. Scanlan, Coolaneen, Cappoquin; John Veale, Cluthahina, do.; Thos. F. Veale, junr., do.; T. Veaney, Araglen; P. J. Walsh, Cappoquin; P. Walsh, Tourin; J. Walsh, Corrodoo, Ballinamult, etc.

The main essentials of the new system, in brief, are the division of a given pasture area or field into six equal plots, usual dressing of phosphates and potash, heavy stocking of the various plots in rotation from four to six days, and the top-dressing of the plots three or four times with nitrogen as a reliable fertilizer. It is claimed that under this up-to-date system more than double the number of cattle per acre can be stocked on the land, because when milch cows have been grazing on No. 1 plot for about five days they are transferred to No. 2 plot and followed on No. 1 by dry cattle, and the same process repeated every five days until No. 6 plot is reached. As each plot becomes vacant in turn the droppings of the cattle are evenly spread over the plot with a chain harrow and a further dressing of phosphates and potash applied, and in this way when the first bunch of cattle are finished with plot six they are returned to No. 1 plot where there is a fine crop of fresh new pasture, so that the cattle have young and fresh grass to graze on from April to October each year. In Mount Melleray, for instance, where the experiment was tried for the first time last year, the most satisfactory results have been obtained so far. Here a field of 143 acres was divided into six equal plots last year and a basal dressing of 3½ cwt. Semsol and 3 cwt. of Kainit per acre were applied in December, 1926. The first dressing of Nitrogen was given as Sulphate of Ammonia on February 15th last year. Four paddocks had five dressings of Nitrogen during the season, one had four, and the remaining plot had three dressings. Grazing commenced on April 14th as compared with May 15th in previous years, and continued until the end of October. The number of cow days obtained per acre was 312 or 0.58 acres per cow equivalent for 184 days. The stock carried consisted of milking cows, dry cows and store stock, and during the season 417.7 gallons of milk were produced per acre. In 1926 the same field carried only eight cows from May 15th for 132 days, or 1.8 acres were required to keep one cow. The stock-carrying capacity has thus been more than trebled, while the catch crops and vetches necessary to supplement the grass were dispensed with last year. Two years ago this same field carried only eight head of stock, but after treating the land under the new system last year it carried 28 head of cattle, while this year it is carrying 14 milch cows, including the famous "Beauty," the champion milker of Ireland; 14 dry stock and three horses left out to graze every night. The herbage has now been greatly improved, and there is a noticeable increase in the amount of clover. The cost of fertilisers last year, including the dressing of minerals, amounted to £4 1s. per acre; the capital charge for fencing and laying on water was £3 10s. 8d., and the annual charge for this on a year's basis amounts to about 7s. per acre; extra labour in harrowing, spreading manures, etc., 8s. per acre, making in all a total cost of £4 16s. per acre for applying the system. The returns per acre were 417 gallons of milk at 7d. per gallon—£2 3s. 3d.; the increase in live weight (beef) of 7 cwt., or 3 cwt. per acre—£1 per acre, and the grazing of dry stock valued at £1 5s. per acre, making a total of £14 8s. 3d. Against this there is the cost of the system, 4 16s., together with the cost of concentrated food consumed during the period, £2 12s. 6d., or a total per acre of £7 8s. 6d. The difference between these two totals is £6 19s. 6d. for labour, rent and profit, as against £1 17s. 9d. per acre for the previous year. There has thus been a sufficient profit in the first year to wipe off the whole cost of the fencing and watering, and still to leave the owners in a far better position than they were at the end of the grazing season in 1926.

The experimental plots at Mount Melleray belong to the Agricultural College, which is run in connection with the famous Seminary, of which the Rev. Father Malachi Dahille, O.Cist., is Principal, but the actual Superior of the farm is Brother Carthage Heskin, son of Mr. Alec. Heskin, O'Leacairn, Lismore, who has long been regarded as one of the most practical and successful farmers in West Waterford. The excellent manner in which the whole farm is kept, especially the experimental plots is a distinct credit to Father Malachi, Brother Carthage and the agricultural students of the College, and the Lord Abbot, who is very keenly interested in the development of agriculture and the improvement in all classes of dairy stock, has every reason to feel proud of the wonderful results achieved in this respect on a farm reclaimed from the bleak mountain of Knockmellown, where the soil is of a peaty nature, cold and late, and standing at an altitude of 550 feet. The splendid condition of the milch cows and dry stock on the plots on the day of the demonstration won the admiration of all, and there were many shrewd and experienced farmers and good judges of cattle present, and it was the general opinion that the new system of grassland management had much to recommend it, apart altogether from its economic and profit-making features. Mr. O'Reilly, who is a lecturer of rare ability, took his large audience over the different plots and explained that under the new system the amount of fertilisers can be gradually reduced each year, and said that while 3½ cwt. Semsol and 3 cwt. Kainit were used as a basal dressing in December, 1926, the basal dressing for this year was 3 cwt. Slag and 2½ cwt. Kainit, with two dressings of Sulphate of Ammonia applied to each plot already. He further explained that under this system farmers could have nice fresh grass from a month to six weeks earlier each season, or from early in April until the end of October, and it was a remarkable fact that the ground became cleaner and the quality of the herbage improves every year for the first three years when it remains in its improved condition afterwards. The amount of milk obtained in Mount Melleray from April 21st this year to the date of the demonstration was 2,500 gallons, which promised to be a big increase on last year's returns. He added that there were 40 of these trials now being carried out in various parts of Ireland, including the Cistercian Monastery at Roscrea, and the most satisfactory results had been reported from every centre so far. Mr. O'Reilly then invited those present to ask him any questions on any point about which they had any doubt, and several important questions were then put and readily answered in a manner which gave much useful information in detail to all concerned.

At the conclusion of the demonstration and lecture on the plots, all present were invited up to the Lecture Hall of the Seminary where an interesting cinematograph film entitled "Gold from Grass" was shown, the film being produced by the Publicity and Research Departments of Messrs. Nitram, Ltd. The large hall was packed, and the picture proved a most instructive and educational one from an agricultural point of view and was greatly appreciated by all. The cinematograph machine was efficiently operated by Mr. Joseph Barry, B.A., a member of the staff of Professors engaged in the Seminary, and at the conclusion of the film, Mr. O'Reilly returned the best thanks of all present to the Lord Abbot and the authorities of Mount Melleray for the great facilities which they had given for the demonstration on that day, for which he and all the audience felt deeply grateful (applause). All the visitors were then hospitably entertained to tea by Father Malachi in the large refectory of the Seminary, and thus ended a day of valuable instruction and education for all.

CLAIM TO BE 240 YEARS OLD. AND SPRIGHTLY "AS A PIGEON."

Methusalem's younger brother has been discovered in China in the person of a native of Szechwan province named Li Ching-yun, living at a village near Wanshin, scene of the British naval bombardment up the Yangtze River two years ago, who claims to be 240 years old and is still going strong. Said to have been born in the 17th year of the reign of Emperor Kang Hsi, who ascended the dragon throne in 1662, the old man is vigorous and healthy. He talks in a personal fashion of the Manchu dynasty, which disappeared in the revolution of 1911, after two centuries' existence, but which he has outlived by many years.

He started life as a medical herbalist and doctor, and until he was 100 years old—native chronicles aver—he continued in this profession, walking all over China, Tibet, Annam, Siam and Manchuria seeking herbs. In his second century he found the job a bit trying and settled down to a more congenial calling. It is still reported of him that he is able to walk 30 miles a day.

He has been married 14 times and has 11 generations of descendants, who total 180, and a photograph of him published shows him to be remarkably well-preserved, with finger-nails longer than the old Empress Dowager Tzu Hsi, who had to have long golden cases made to protect them.

A cult of younger men who rank between 80 and 100 years old attests to the extreme age of the old man by saying that their grandfathers knew him. The old man's formula for longevity, as taught to his disciples, is "Keep a quiet heart. Sit like a tortoise. Walk sprightly like a pigeon. Sleep like a dog."

He is a countryside wonder in Szechwan, where governors, generals and officials have conferred decorations on him.

Youghal Urban Elections.

Up to the day of the poll very little interest was apparently taken in the local elections on the South Ward, where the advent of a lady candidate and a vigorous canvass for some weeks previous by several runners stimulated matters a bit. The heavy vote recorded, some 85 per cent. of the register in all three Wards, came as a surprise to everybody. There were booths in the Carnegie Free Library for the North Urban, in the Courthouse for the Central, and in the Town Hall for the South, and the officials were kept busy all through the day in the lot. The counting of the votes began at 10 o'clock on Wednesday and came to a conclusion at 6.30. The following are the details—

South Ward—There were 493 valid votes and the quota was 62. The first preferences were as follows—J. Power, 92; P. J. O'Gorman, outgoing; 81; D. Dennehy, 59; T. Murphy, 50; P. J. McMahon, outgoing; 41; Susan Hurley, 40; E. P. Lynch, 37; J. Ahern, 36; T. Fitzgerald, 24; J. Forrest, 22; J. O'Brien, 11.

Messrs. Power and O'Gorman having exceeded the quota were declared elected. On the transfer of Power's surplus the result was—Dennehy, 61; T. Murphy, 56; McMahon, 51; Hurley, 43; Lynch, 42; Ahern, 37; Fitzgerald, 25; Forrest, 24; O'Brien, 11.

No candidate obtaining the quota, O'Gorman's surplus was transferred with the following result—Dennehy, 63; T. Murphy, 58; McMahon, 53; Hurley, 45; Lynch, 45; Ahern, 38; Forrest, 26; Fitzgerald, 25; O'Brien, 12.

D. Dennehy was then declared elected. O'Brien was eliminated and his votes transferred and resulted as follows—Murphy, 64; McMahon, 57; Lynch, 46; Hurley, 45; Ahern, 43; Fitzgerald, 26; Forrest, 26.

No candidate obtaining the quota, Forest was eliminated, and the result of the next count was—McMahon, 63; Murphy, 61; Lynch, 55; Hurley, 51; Ahern, 46; Fitzgerald, 26.

Mr. McMahon was then declared elected and Fitzgerald's votes were next transferred with the following result—Murphy, 64; Hurley, 50; Lynch, 57; Ahern, 53.

Mr. Murphy was declared elected and Ahern being eliminated, Hurley and Lynch were declared elected. Central Ward—There were 459 valid votes and the quota was 58. The first preferences were as follows—Whelan, 57; J. Kennedy, 53; A. J. M. Broderick, 41; P. Dunne, 36; M. Fowkes, 38; D. Linahan, 35; T. Beausang, 30; J. Irwin, 19.

Messrs. Broderick and Dunne having exceeded the quota, were declared elected. On the transfer of Broderick's surplus the result was—Kennedy, 56; Whelan, 66; Fowkes, 64; Linahan, 48; Beausang, 35; Irwin, 26.

Messrs. Kennedy, Whelan and Fowkes were then declared elected, and Dunne's surplus transferred with the following result—Linahan, 61; Beausang, 41; Irwin, 35.

No candidate having reached the quota in this count, Fleming's surplus was then transferred—Clancy, 52; Hennessy, 44; Curran, 28; Donovan, 21; Troy, 20.

Troy was then eliminated, and on transferring his votes the result was—Clancy, 55; Hennessy, 51; Curran, 30; Donovan, 24.

No candidate obtained the quota in this count, Donovan was then eliminated, and on the transfer of his votes the result was—Clancy, 56; Hennessy, 55; Curran, 34.

Mr. Curran being eliminated, Messrs. Clancy and Hennessy were declared elected. A cordial vote of thanks to Mr. M. H. Walsh, Town Clerk, Returning Officer, and his staff for the prompt and capable manner in which they discharged their duties, was spoken to by the new councillors, present and duly responded to by Mr. Walsh, and the proceedings came to a conclusion.

In the evening the results were celebrated with bonfires at various points.

PUBLIC FINANCE.

At a meeting in Cork of Rotarians Mr. P. Monahan, the City Commissioner, delivered an interesting address on the principles of public finance. He said many critics of public administration came forward with noxious weeds in their huttenholes. A very definite number believed that all taxes were evils. The tax on alcohol, which limited its consumption, was helpful, but public expenditure on wars was not. The lowest taxation was not always the best. They found transport today was mainly a matter of roads, and if expenditure on roads was reduced the cost of private expenditure would rise. It was now generally recognised that the test of the productivity of expenditure was its results. For instance, on public health, was admitted to be far more valuable to the community than private expenditure on luxuries. Clearing the way of the weeds, they came to the fundamental principles of public finance. The State received the money from them and they, in turn, transmitted it to other people; some to the Civil Servants, who gave service for the money; more to the old age pensioners, and more to contractors and people like that. In the distribution of that money, if the charges were socially advantageous, the operation was justified, but if not it was not. The best system was the system that derived the greatest advantage for the expenditure. They could have no social progress unless they had peace at home and with other nations. At home they required greater production and a reduction of the expenditure inequalities between the incomes of individuals. A reduction of the inequality of income was largely a matter of degree. It would be better that ten people should have an income of £1,000 a year, rather than that one man should have £10,000. On these principles they should base the wisdom of their proceedings in public finance. If they agreed that these were the advantages of public finance the question was what the community could afford to pay on its taxable capacity. It depended on the manner in which the money was raised and spent. Favourable roads tended to cheapen transport. They tended to raise the taxable capacity of the country. He found himself that the disadvantage of cutting down expenditure on roads was counterbalanced by the advantages of increasing the amounts spent on roads. The advantages and disadvantages of taxation should just balance. These were a few of the broad principles of public finance which he had tried to put into practice (applause).

North Ward—There were 454 valid votes and the quota was 57. The first preferences were as follows—W. J. Broderick, 138; T. Harrington, 74; M. J. Fleming, 63; J. R. Smyth, 52; P. Kenneally, 38; E. Clancy, 33; J. Hennessy, 25; J. Troy, 12; T. Curran, 8; L. Donovan, 7; T. McSweeney, 14.

Messrs. Broderick, Harrington and Fleming having exceeded the quota were declared elected, and on the transfer of Broderick's surplus the result was—Smyth, 77; Kenneally, 52; Clancy, 45; Hennessy, 38; Curran, 16; Donovan, 15; Troy, 13; McSweeney, 5. Smyth was then declared elected, and on transferring his surplus the result was—Kenneally, 58; E. Clancy, 50; Hennessy, 37; Curran, 19; Donovan, 17; Troy, 17; McSweeney, 7.

None having reached the quota in this count, Harrington's surplus was then transferred—Kenneally, 58; Clancy, 52; Hennessy, 42; Curran, 23; Donovan, 20; Troy, 18; McSweeney, 7. Kenneally was then declared elected. McSweeney was then eliminated and his votes transferred with the following result—Clancy, 52; Hennessy, 43; Curran, 26; Donovan, 20; Troy, 18.

Dungarvan Larceny Case.

ACCUSED PLEADS GUILTY AND IS LET OFF.

At the County Criminal Court in Waterford on Monday, before Mr. Justice Sealy, K.C.

A young girl named Margaret Sullivan, Dungarvan, was put forward and charged with having at Dungarvan on a date prior to the 1st June, 1928, stolen two gold rings, the property of Mrs. Hurley, jeweller, Square, Dungarvan.

Mr. E. A. Ryan, State Solicitor, prosecuted, and Mr. O'Gorman, solicitor, Lismore, was for defendant, and on her behalf pleaded guilty.

Mr. O'Gorman said the girl was the daughter of respectable parents. She was a maid employed looking after children. She had access to the shop. He submitted that the temptation she was subject to was great, and in view of her respectability and the fact that it was her first offence, he asked his Lordship to deal leniently with her and give her the benefit of the Probation of Offenders Act.

Mr. O'Gorman then read for his Lordship a large number of letters on the good character of accused.

His Lordship: What ages she? Mr. O'Gorman: She is just 17 years of age, your Lordship. One of the letters I have here is from her employer, who states she was employed by him for three years as a nursery maid, and he was very sorry to have to part with her.

His Lordship: Was the property recovered? Mr. Ryan: (One of the rings only was recovered. There is one not yet recovered and it is a valuable ring.)

Mr. O'Gorman: Everything was done to get the ring, but the girl says she lost it on the strand, and it could not be recovered. Her parents, and herself, did all they could to find it. She maintains she lost it and it cannot be recovered.

His Lordship: Was it her father? Mr. O'Gorman: He is a baker. They are very decent people, but I think too poor to pay any compensation. They tried in every possible way to force the girl to tell them where the missing ring was, but she maintains it was lost.

Sergt. Lark, Mr. Dungarvan, said there was no previous conviction against accused. From inquiries he had made he thought there was no reason to doubt her statement about the missing ring.

Mr. Ryan: I do not press the case if your Lordship feels it is a proper case for the Probation of Offenders Act.

Addressing the accused, his Lordship said: I am sorry indeed to see a respectable girl like you charged with an offence like this. It is a dreadful thing that you should bring dishonour on yourself and your parents by stealing these things. Your solicitor has taken the proper course in pleading guilty, because the evidence was clear against you, and having adopted that course, I am disposed to take a lenient view of your offence. I would hesitate very much in sending a girl like you to jail for an offence like this, and I will certainly give you another chance. You have not come into the box and pleaded not guilty and then perjured yourself like a lot of prisoners do when an offence is clear against them. Considering that you are so young, I will let you out for the present, but if you repeat this conduct again you will be punished for the offence to which you have now pleaded guilty; if not, you will not be punished, and if you go on in the right way you will hear no more about it.

Blackwater Fish Conservators

The usual monthly meeting of the No. 4 or Lismore Board of Fishery Conservators was held at Tallow on Thursday week. Mr. E. A. Rice, solicitor, vice-chairman, presided, and the others present were—Capt. R. Holroyd Smyth, Messrs. R. G. Annesley, Wm. O'Brien, Thomas Stafford, Messrs. T. Drohan, Inspector and Secretary, and W. Buckley, Assistant Inspector, were also in attendance. The minutes having been read, Prosecutions.

The Chairman asked how was it that a prosecution had not been brought in a case which had been reported to Assistant Inspector Buckley, and about which he had written to the secretary. Two men had been caught poaching in the early morning, gaffing salmon. For some reason the prosecution hung on, and he (the chairman) wrote asking why. Mr. Sullivan said they were allowed run too far and that summonses could not be issued unless within six months. What was the answer to his letter? Their boats were being taken and fished by noachers.

The Secretary then read Mr. Rice's letter asking for an explanation why proceedings were not taken against person found in the unauthorised possession of boats in the Blackwater at Careysville some weeks ago. Since that time those boats had been again taken by other unauthorised persons and jammed. He intended to bring the matter before the next meeting. He was particularly interested as his boat had been taken and he was obliged to fish in a waterlogged craft, the victim of midnight marauders. He quoted the case of two men from Conna who were last year detected in an offence, but who had not been summoned.

The Secretary then read a detailed reply sent by Mr. Barry Sullivan, solicitor, to the chairman's letter. He could not institute proceedings within a week, and if cases were not reported in time. It was also requested for him to investigate the nature of the evidence available with a view to considering whether the cases could be sustained. The letter also dealt with some of the legal points involved.

The Chairman said he considered that letter a quibble, because in his letter he merely said they could be prosecuted in respect of having a boat in their possession, the property of another, and he had quoted the Section for his guidance as the Board had written to him some time ago regarding the question of having names on boats. He was much surprised that no prosecution had been brought in the case referred to. In the Walsh's case the men were found attempting to gaff salmon. One of them was up a tree with a gaff in his hand and the other on the ground throwing stones to frighten the fish. Mr. Sullivan said they could get no conviction in a case of that kind. He (the chairman) had been informed they had been caught again.

Mr. Stafford—And they will do it again.
The Chairman said that prosecutions should have been brought in the case of three boats.

Mr. Buckley said two letters were written to Mr. Sullivan.
The Chairman said he had written to Mr. Barry Sullivan, who replied asking if the owners of the boats would give evidence, and he answered that they would be delighted to do so. Notwithstanding that, Mr. Barry Sullivan wrote to each of the parties about the matter, but there was not a word about it since. It is a very lax way of doing business. Since then that man's boat had been taken numerous times, and only the bailiffs had brought it back it would have been destroyed. Those men were poor and could not afford to pay £5 or £10 for a boat. One of those very boats was the subject of a claim for compensation for malicious damage some time ago and £5 was awarded, which the ratepayers had to pay.

Mr. Stafford—It is high time to put a stop to that game.
Mr. Annesley—It is most unfair on both the bailiffs, who are trying to do their work preserving the river, not on the people whose boats are taken that prosecutions are not brought on the first possible occasion.

The Chairman said Mr. Barry Sullivan didn't wish to bring on a case unless it was iron-rock. Bringing on a case would have a deterrent effect. Everybody was coming to him asking why prosecutions were not being brought forward. Poor people in Cromoy walk down to the river and find their boats gone.

Mr. Buckley said as regards Walsh's case they went to Mallow and put the facts before Mr. Sullivan. They proved to seeing the two men—one of them gaffing and hiding the fish.
Mr. Annesley—There has been a great slackness in bringing prosecutions—what is to be done?

The Chairman said that Mr. Barry Sullivan's letter was most objectionable. It implied that he (the chairman) didn't know what he was talking about.

Mr. Annesley—The question is how many prosecutions are pending and how will the situation be met?
Chairman—Apart from that I have no objection to the minutes being signed.

Tar on Roads.
The Clerk said he had forwarded the Board's resolution regarding the danger to the fishing by the use of tar on the roads, and had received a reply from the Secretary of the Waterford County Council stating that the matter would be brought before the next meeting.

Mr. Annesley said he had heard that the Government Department had communicated with the council on the same subject.

The minutes were then signed.
The Chairman pointed out there was a discrepancy between Mr. Sullivan's letter and Mr. Buckley's statement.

Mr. Annesley asked did not the same thing arise in connection with several prosecutions which the Board were anxious to press and regarding which they were told there were legal difficulties. The Board asked that all cases should be gone on with at once, except those in which there was good grounds for doubt, and they were to be referred back to the Board.

The Chairman said there were letters every day in the Press about the river. He had a letter from Mr. Reece, who is connected with the Duke's party, inquiring were prosecutions brought for poaching at Careysville on such a jaic.

Mr. Annesley—Do you get prosecutions on more quickly for cases in the tideway?

Secretary—I lose no time in instructing the solicitor to attend to cases reported.

The Chairman said the Assistant Inspector was at his wits' end looking after the river owing to the alleged bombing, and there was some of it. He put that reason to Mr. Sullivan when writing to him. The two bailiffs had been in with him. They reported the facts through him. To bring the matter to a head he had handed in the following notice of motion, which he now proposed:—"That in the case of alleged breach of the Fishery Laws in the fresh water portion of the river, summonses must be issued within one week from the report of the Inspector of same having been committed, the proposer of this motion being of opinion that the present system of allowing proceedings to lie in abeyance for several weeks is most detrimental to the preservation of the river."

Mr. Annesley said he would be glad to second the proposition. But he thought it would be better to have it done by a representative of the tideway.

Capt. Smyth then seconded the proposition, which was carried unanimously.

Secretary's Report.

The Secretary reported that in two cases heard at the previous Youghal District Court he got two convictions, with the forfeiture of the nets in each case. On Sunday evening, 3rd inst., the bailiffs at Arisallagh caught an old fisherman fixing a net in the river at Ballynatray. The case would come on at Youghal, the penalty involved being £50. Another fixed net was got at Coolbagh. On May 9th bailiffs got a net and boat at Kilbarry. Two men with a net were caught near Carrimore. A big double net was taken on the night of the 30th.

Mr. Stafford—What do you propose to do with the boats?

Secretary—Apply for confiscation.
Mr. Stafford—There is one at my place at present.

Secretary—An application should be made before the District Justice for its forfeiture.

Mr. Kent—What does confiscation mean—that the thing is to be put up for auction and go back to the original owners.

The Secretary said that the order made generally was that the net of the boat be forfeited and sold. The nets forfeited at Youghal often go back to the owner at a fair price. In the Duke's waters such a course might lead to the license being taken away. The ultimate result was that they generally get back to the original owners.

Mr. Annesley—Confiscation seems a wrong word to use in such a case. If nets are seized and they go back again to the owner—that is not confiscation. He is only paying a small fine.

Mr. Kent—"Juggled" would be a better word.
The Secretary said he often charged twice the price for forfeited nets.

Mr. Buckley said they had several nets on hand at present.

The Secretary said the original owners didn't come for them except they are in good condition and it is not too late in the season.

MIRACULOUS CURE AT LONDON.

WOMAN'S BLINDNESS REMOVED DURING MASS.

On Sunday morning at St. Mary's Catholic Church, Clapham, the Rev. Father Hayes, Rector, announced from the pulpit that last Sunday, the Feast of Our Lady of Perpetual Succour, at the seven o'clock Mass, a woman had her sight restored during the elevation of the Host.

She saw Father Hayes after Mass and told him that her sight was restored, as she distinctly saw the Sacred Host during the elevation. A subsequent visit to a specialist, said Father Hayes, confirmed her statement that the cure of blindness was complete.

Father Hayes said that it was nothing short of a miracle, but before being reported to the Church authorities and approved by them. His own personal opinion was that it was undoubtedly a miracle.

Previously the woman had made a novena of nine days' prayer with the greatest faith to Our Lady of Perpetual Succour.

The Age of Keen Value.

Triumph of the Drapery Sale.

Delighted Shoppers At HADDEN'S.

Men prescribe laws of political economy but it is the women who make those laws practical or otherwise.

Women spend about 80 per cent. of the money earned—it is clear, therefore, that they have a deciding voice—if not the last word—in arriving at value standards.

The burden of keeping 'the home fires burning' during the past decade has been a terrific one, but women have borne it not only cheerfully, but with remarkable success.

One of the opportunities seldom missed by the average woman who has an eye for economy, is the Drapery Sale.

Ample testimony of the truth of this statement is forthcoming in the large number of women who patronised Hadden's Sale during the past week.

Every Department came in for a fair share of attention, but curiously enough, several tempting opportunities were allowed to pass unnoticed in the Millinery Department.

Except in the matter of Bobbing, self sacrifice has not yet extended to women's heads—so that during this coming week—the last week of Hadden's Sale, a vigorous attack should be made on the Millinery Department, where all present Season's Hats are reduced to HALF PRICE.

Some folk may be awaiting a sensational finish to Hadden's Sale—they will be disappointed—consequently it would be wisdom to get it while "the going is good," so to speak.

There is scarcely one Department that does not hold some attraction for every woman.

For big money the Mantle Department is, of course, easily first, and it is here that the biggest savings in outlay can be effected.

It is just as well to enumerate some of the remaining Bargains available here.

A few Ladies' White Pique Skirts that were usually 6/11 and 7/11. Clearing at 1/11 each.

Ladies' Cream Flannel Skirts, striped blue and black. The usual Price was 7/11 to 10/11. Bargain Price 3/6.

Several Winter Coats ranging in Price from 18/11 to 49/6. All Clearing at 10/ each.

Four only Ladies' Tweed Costumes are offered at 15/-. Former Value, 29/11, 39/6 and 45/-.

A small Lot of Ladies' Light Repp Coats in Beige Shades, 44ins. in length. Usual Price, 38/6. Offered at 18/11 each.

The smallest reduction on any of the foregoing items is 12 1/2 per cent.—two shillings and sixpence off every pound.

Now Two and Sixpence in the Pound is a very substantial reduction to get off any article of dependable quality.

Take, for instance, a man's suit made to measure which in the ordinary way would cost his lordship 45—the amount deducted from the bill is no less than 12/6.

So you see that 12 1/2 per cent. discount at Hadden's means something worth while.

The illustration could be amplified, but it is better to give further details from the various Departments.

That particularly popular Department known as the Dress Materials is alive with irresistible values in Tweeds, Voiles, Georgettes, Prints, etc.

Note the prices per yard of the following—Fancy Cotton Crepes in charming shades for present season's wear. Selling at 4/ per yard.

Several Ends of dark Prints suitable for Overalls, etc., fast colours. Reduced to 6d. per yard.

Fancy Check Ginghams that will wash and wear to satisfaction, very chic designs. Sale Price, 6d., 8d. and 10d. per yard.

Tamab-Rayon Art Silks in a delightful range of colours. Now selling at 1/9 per yard.

A few Pieces of All-wool Tweed in 54-inch, suitable for Coats or Costumes. Usual Price, 4/11 per yard. Sale Price, 2/3.

Too!al Fancy Voiles for Summer Frocks. Sale Price 11d. per yard.

Here again the 12 1/2 per cent. discount comes into operation for all orders for Costumes, Coats and Frocks entrusted to Miss Masterson the talented dressmaker in charge.

Don't wait until the last day or so—the stuff you want for that Holiday Frock may be in the possession of your keenest rival!

Perhaps if we step into the Shoe Department for a moment or two we shall find something worthy of note.

Yes—here ladies will find an alluring assortment of the most fashionable Footwear—no need to take an excursion to Dublin or Cork on the excuse of buying Shoes.

Have a Look at the following Lines, which are worth attention—

About 1000 Pairs of Ladies' Shoes, size 3 in dining, makes, court and other styles. All were from 19/6 upwards, now sacrificed at 6/6 per pair.

Several Pairs of fine quality laced Shoes in size 3 and 4. Some were at 25/- per pair. Now clearing at 7/6.

All Sizes in Ladies' coloured Tussel Brocade Evening Shoes. 1-Bar with Louis Heels. Usual Price, 11/11 and 15/6. Reduced to 7/11.

Several Lines in Ladies' coloured 1-Bar Shoes in present-day styles and in well-known brands, are offered at Prices ranging from 10/6 per pair.

Ladies' and young folk who wear Size 3 and 3 1/2 should not fail to take advantage of the present offer.

And there are dozens of others to suit every size of foot.

Surely the Household Linens Department should be called "Mother's Department," for it is here the foundation of home comfort is largely laid.

All the goods in this Department are bought from the same sources as the large City Stores buy from.

And in the ordinary way Hadden's Prices beat City Prices by a long way for obvious reasons.

Why waste an excursion fare, therefore, to buy in Dublin or Cork what you buy ever so much cheaper at Hadden's, of Dungarvan?

Consider for a moment the value here announced, then see the goods and you won't go away empty-handed.

Superior quality fine Household Longcloth 35inch. at 7 1/2 per yard.

Several Ends of Cretonnes, 50 inches wide, good floral designs, suitable for curtains, etc. Reduced from 2/6 to 1/6 per yard.

A few Pieces of Cream Madras Muslin, 45in. and 50in., nice design. Usual Price, 2s. and 2/3. Clearing at 1/6 per yard.

Several Dozens of good strong Pillow Cases, trilled or plain. Usual Price, 1/11 and 2/3. Sale Price, 1/6 each.

Remnants and Short Ends of Old-Jobs and Linos, 2 yards wide. Clearing at bargain prices.

A few Pieces of Heavy Tull Sheetting that will stand really hard wear. 70 inches wide. Only 1/9 per yard.

There is nothing in the Drapery world half so remarkable as the astonishing development of the Hosiery Trade.

One might almost think that the Hosiery makers were the official dictators as to the length of women's skirts.

There has naturally been a very heavy raid on the Hosiery during the past week, but there are still available the following—

Ladies Long Art Silk Hose in assorted shades. Usual Price, 1/6 and 1/9. Sale Price, 1/- per pair.

Special Line in Ladies' Art Silk Hose with strengthened heels. Clearing at 2/- per pair.

A fine Selection of Newest Shades in good quality Art Silk Hose. Reduced from 2/11 to 2/4 per pair.

Fine quality Silk Hose, seam back, spliced ankles, assorted shades. Clearing at 2/11 during Sale.

Many other Lines in Lises and Fine Cashmeres, etc., all equally reduced to save you money.

Lots more could be said about women's things here, but some space must be devoted to the mere male who, after all is said and done, provides that 80 per cent. already referred to.

Here are a few items taken at random from the Outfitting and Ready-made Departments—

Gents' Fancy Tunic Skirts with 2 Collars to match. Usual Price, 5/6 and 5/11. Reduced to 4/9 each.

Men's Fancy Striped Flannel Skirts, full sizes and well cut. Clearing at 2/11 each.

Special Line in Pyjama Suits, good black stripes. Sale Price, 6/11 per suit.

Gents' Fancy Half-hose in delightful range of colourings. Usual Price, 1/11 to 2/6. Reduced to 1/6 and 2/- per pair.

Gents' Raincoats to meet the varying needs of present weather in a variety of makes. A purchase now will save you money.

See our Range of Suits and get measured now while the Prices are subject to 2/6 in the £.

Shop early in the day is the best way of getting most out of a Sale.

Customers travelling a distance of up to 20 miles should please note that we will refund Bus or Train Fare to Passengers purchasing Parcels of £3 and upwards.

Last, but not least—next Friday will be REMNANT DAY!

PUBLIC SERVICE.

An interesting lecture on "Public Service" will be delivered by Professor J. Johnson, Barrington Lecturer, at the Town Hall, Dungarvan, on Wednesday next, July 11th, at 8 p.m. Admission free. A limited number of tickets for reserved chairs on the occasion can be had on application to the Technical School, St. Mary st. As this will be a most interesting lecture, it is expected there will be a very large attendance present.

NEW COUNTY COUNCIL.

The first meeting of the newly-elected County Council will be held in the Courthouse, Dungarvan, on Thursday next at 12 o'clock, when a chairman and vice-chairman will be elected and representatives appointed on the various committees which carry out the public work of the county. A full attendance is assured.

DUNGARVAN SHOW AND SCHOOL CHILDREN.

In connection with the letter from the Minister of Education giving permission for all the schools in the county to be closed on July 19th so as to enable the pupils to attend Dungarvan Show, Mr. Mulcahy, N.T., Secretary Dungarvan Branch Teachers' Association, writes to the Show Secretary:—"I have been directed to ask you in view of the permission granted by the Minister of Education to have all the schools in the district closed on Horse Show Day, if you would suggest to your committee to consider granting special concessions re admission to the Show Grounds to all school children attending the Show." In obedience to that request the committee have decided to admit all school children to the Show at a special rate of 1s. each. The entries for this year's Show are larger than ever. Every section is thronged, and with the fine weather promised for the 19th inst., Dungarvan should see its real big day. The Jumping Competitions promise to be the best yet witnessed and with a Band Promenade as a special attraction, no one who loves sport and pleasure should be missing.

SUNDAY NEXT AT DUNGARVAN.

Trickey Racers meet Lismore on Sunday next in the Gaelic Field in the first round of the Senior Football County Championships. Both teams are first-class exponents of Gaelic football, and having trained well, a first-class exhibition is assured. T. McCarthy, Dungarvan, has charge of the whistle and the game starts at 3 p.m. (new time). Kilrossanty not fielding a team against Dungarvan, a substitute game will be played between Dungarvan Juniors and Ballinacorney at 4.30.

DUNGARVAN MARKETS.

Meal (special), 31s. per sack; middling, 30s.; flour, 24s. 6d. per 105 lb.; bran and pollard, 13s. per cwt.; coal, 40s. per ton; fresh butter, 1s. 2d. per lb.; eggs, 11d. per dozen.

POTATO SPRAYING.

It is regrettable that the promise of a heavy potato crop should be jeopardised for want of spraying. Blight, which made its advent some weeks ago, is at present spreading rapidly, moist weather conditions favouring it. Farmers should, in spite of the pressure of other work, do their utmost to protect their crops by spraying. In the interests of the development of the trade in the shipping varieties we would point out that King Edwards and Up-to-dates are liable to serious damage if not efficiently sprayed.

KILMACTHOMAS PIC MARKET.

On Wednesday last 67 bacon pigs and some sows were marketed. The ruling prices were: 61s. per cwt. live weight, and 81s. per cwt. dead weight. Sows were purchased at 35s. per cwt. live weight. No deductions. Buyer—E. Hill (for Messrs. H. Deeny and Son).

KILMACTHOMAS BICYCLE RAFFLE.

Kilmacthomas Bicycle Raffle has been postponed from July 5th to July 20th. All blocks should be returned by that date.

OBITUARY.

DEATH OF SISTER M. ALOYSIUS O'HEA, CONVENT OF MERCY, CAPPOQUIN.

The Community of the Sisters of Mercy, Cappoquin, has been plunged into deep gloom by the death of Sister M. Aloysius O'Hea, a talented and brilliant member of the Order, who died in the Bon Secour Home, Cork, following an operation, on Thursday night, 28th ult.

The deceased Sister was daughter of the late Mr. Patrick O'Hea, merchant, Skibbereen, and sister of the Very Rev. Timothy O'Hea, P.P., Timoleague, and Mrs. P. Crowley, Skibbereen. She was a close relative of the late General Michael Collins, and was imbued with much of the patriotic fire which burned within the heart of her brave and illustrious kinsman. A lady of rare accomplishments, she was a beautiful singer, and one of the leading members of the talented convent choir, while as a prominent member of the teaching staff in the Convent Schools her great merits and wonderful success in this capacity will long be remembered by many of the ladies in Cappoquin to-day who had the good fortune to be pupils of hers in former years. She entered the Convent of Mercy, Cappoquin, in 1894, 34 years ago, and during her long religious life she had always proved herself a faithful and devoted servant of God, loyal and obedient to the rules of the Order, and a model of piety and fervour in all her words and actions. Few members of the Order were so warmly esteemed and beloved by the people of Cappoquin as the deceased, because her winning and amiable character were fully appreciated by many outside the ranks of her past and present pupils of the Convent School.

Her death at the comparatively early age of 51 years has proved a severe blow not only to her respected relatives, but in an especial manner to her loving colleagues in the Convent of Mercy, where she had worked so industriously and so successfully for so many years, as it is realised that it will not be easy to fill the void now caused by the passing away of such a saintly, energetic and accomplished Sister.

The remains were removed by motor hearse from Cork to Cappoquin on Friday evening, the funeral being met some miles outside the latter town by large numbers of all the most prominent townspeople, irrespective of class or creed, whose presence proved a fitting tribute of respect to the memory of the deceased. The sad cortege had assumed very imposing dimensions by the time the town was reached, and on arriving at the avenue gates leading to the Convent of Mercy the remains were met by the Rev. J. Crotty, C.C., Cappoquin, and the Sisters of the Community, followed by cross-bearer and acolytes and the orphan boys of the Industrial School, all wearing white sashes, who headed the procession to the beautiful chapel attached to the Convent, where the coffin was placed on a catafalque before the High Altar until Saturday morning. At 10 o'clock that morning Office and Requiem High Mass was offered up for the repose of deceased's soul, there being a crowded congregation composed of the Sisters of Mercy, relatives of the deceased, and a large number of the general public. The celebrant was the Very Rev. T. O'Hea, P.P., Timoleague (brother of deceased); deacon, Rev. P. Meskill, C.C., Clonmel; sub-deacon, Rev. John Ahearne, Cappoquin; while the Rev. J. Crotty, C.C., was M.C. In the choir were—Very Rev. W. T. Burke, P.P., V.F., Lismore; Very Rev. J. Gleeson, P.P., Aglish; Very Rev. F. C. Prendergast, P.P., Tallow; Rev. Jas. Walsh, C.C., Lismore; Rev. T. O'Gorman, C.C., do.; Rev. Fr. Sheehy, C.C., Aglish; Rev. Fr. McEniry, C.C., Ballinacorney; Rev. W. Flynn, C.C., Clonmel; Rev. Fr. Dunphy, C.C., Ballyduff; Rev. Fr. Warren, C.C., Knockanore; Rev. P. Ahearne, Chaplain, Carriglea Convent; Rev. Fr. Power, C.C., do.

At the end of the solemn obsequies the coffin was borne to the adjoining cemetery, headed by the members of the Community, all carrying lighted tapers, followed by the priests, and after the coffin marched the chief mourners, the boys of the Industrial School, neatly dressed with white sashes, and who were in charge of their teachers, Miss M. Lovett and Miss M. E. Morrissey. The members of the public followed. Here the final prayers were read at the graveside by all the above-named clergymen, after which the interment took place amid many evidences of sorrow and regret. The chief mourners were—Very Rev. T. O'Hea, P.P., Timoleague (brother); Mrs. P. Crowley, Skibbereen (sister); Mr. P. Crowley, do. (brother-in-law); Mr. P. O'Hea, Skibbereen (nephew); Miss May O'Hea, do. (niece), and the Misses B. and E. O'Hea, Cork (cousins). R.I.P.

WALSH'S DRAPERS, THE SQUARE.

CARRYING A GUN.

At Cappoquin District Court. Supt. O'Connor, Cappoquin, summoned Gerald Kenny, Cappoquin, for carrying a gun (fowling piece) on June 2nd without having a licence to do so. His brother, Michael Kenny, was also charged with having unlawfully lent the gun on the occasion.

Guard Mahony, Cappoquin, stated that on the night of June 2nd, he found Gerald Kenny proceeding up Cook St., with a gun and 13 sporting cartridges, and when asked if he had a certificate entitling him to carry a gun, he said he had not, as the gun belonged to his brother, Michael, who had a licence, and he (Gerald) had only taken it out to have a shot at a rabbit. Witness then seized the gun and the 13 cartridges, which were still in the possession of the Guards.

Defendant (Gerald) was then sworn, and stated that on the evening in question as they were at their tea, his mother asked Michael to take out the gun and get a few "graziers" (young rabbits), but as Michael was engaged in carrying out some repairs to a house of heirs up the street he said he could not go out that evening and the mother then asked him (Gerald) if he would go instead. He had already made arrangements to go fishing on that evening, and did not wish to change his programme, but in deference to his mother's request he decided to forego the fishing and later took the gun out and got only one shot at a rabbit. As he was returning home, and openly carrying the gun he met Guard O'Mahony who took the gun from him and cartridges and held them since. Defendant added that he had seen the Guards over 100 yards ahead of him as he was coming into town that evening, and could easily have avoided them if he thought he was doing anything wrong.

The other defendant, Michael, Kenny, swore the gun was value for £15, and he had a licence for it for the past four years.

Mr. Farrell (to Supt. O'Connor)—What is the character of the defendant (Gerald)? Is he a man you would have granted a certificate if he had applied for it during the last four years?

Supt.—He is, Sir. Mr. Farrell—Well, this case differs very materially from the case of a man carrying a gun who would not, in the ordinary way be trusted by the authorities to do so.

The Supt. said, that for special reasons which he could not disclose in court, he took a serious view of the matter, and asked to have the gun forfeited, or in the alternative to have a heavy penalty imposed.

The Justice said, he could not accept the Superintendent's view of the case, and he would find it very difficult to order the confiscation of a gun value for £15 under the circumstances. On the contrary he believed the case would be due more to irregularity than to any attempt to evade the law, and in view of all the circumstances, he thought the case would be met by imposing a fine of 5/- on Gerald Kenny and warning him to be more careful in future. He would dismiss the case against Ml. Kenny, and ordered that the gun and cartridges be returned to the owner.

Spreadborough v. Barry. This was a civil bill for £11 2s. 3d. by Mr. H. Spreadborough, C.E., against Mr. M. J. Barry, Ballynacarriga, farmer, for professional services.

Mr. T. K. Keane, solr., Youghal, for plaintiff, and Mr. W. J. Barry, solr., Middleton, for defendant. Mr. Keane said the defendant had engaged plaintiff to draw plans, etc., for the building of a house to be attached to an existing house to enable defendant to get a grant under the Housing Act, 1923, and a loan from the Co. Council.

Mr. H. Spreadborough, C.E., Town Surveyor, deposed that Mr. Barry engaged him to draw up plans with the object of getting a housing grant of £75, and he told witness that the Co. Council had granted him a loan of £75. Witness visited and surveyed the farm at Ballynacarriga on April 6th, took instructions and subsequently prepared plans, which were to be in accordance with the requirements of the Department.

Justice—Out of what? Witness—Out of "character." Cross-examined by Mr. Barry, witness said that defendant came to him first on the 19th March and said he contemplated applying for a loan of £75 from the County Council and a Government grant of £75.

Mr. Keane—So that there would be no question of being late. To Mr. Barry—Would you be surprised to know that the man from Bandon, in a case I was in, prepared the plans for a fee of £1?

Mr. Spreadborough—About £500. Mr. Barry said plaintiff was told that the plans should be lodged before 17th April, otherwise the grants would not be available.

Mr. M. J. Barry deposed that on the 19th March he consulted Mr. Spreadborough regarding the house he intended building. He pointed out the provisions of the Act and that the work should be started by the 17th April.

Justice—You didn't mention in your letter that the plans were useless because they were too late? They were not what I asked him. Why didn't you say that they were useless because they were too late for you to obtain the grant? I said they were no good to me.

Mr. Keane—When you returned the plans you had in the meantime given up the idea of building? No; sure I had to give it up when they were too late. Why didn't you write in and tell Mr. Spreadborough not to do any LAND ANNUITIES.

NOT MORALLY DUE TO BRITAIN. MR. DE VALERA ON POLICY OF HIS PARTY.

A resolution declaring that land annuities were neither morally nor legally due to the British Treasury was passed with acclamation at a large meeting in Ennis, which called for the revision of the financial agreement between the Free State and England.

Mr. F. Barrett, Chairman of the Co. Council Finance Committee, who presided, emphasised the non-party character of the meeting, and thought even the present Free State Executive would welcome such demonstrations, which sought simply to retain Irish money in Ireland for Irish purposes.

Mr. P. Hogan, T.D., referred to his resignation as deputy speaker, and said on March 3rd he tabled a motion that immediate steps should be taken to re-open the ultimate financial settlement between Britain and this country.

Mr. E. de Valera, who received a great reception, said the meeting was an example of the sort of unity he wished to see, the passing of the entire people in defence of their rights. The invitation to attend that could not come from a better source than from the County Council.

BURIED IN FLOWERS.

"BREMEN'S" CREW WELCOMED IN BREMEN.

Major Fitzmaurice and his two companions of the memorable first East to West Atlantic flight had a foretaste of the welcome awaiting them in Berlin at Bremen.

Hundreds of thousands of people crowded the streets of this ancient Hansa city to see and cheer the Atlantic fliers, whose motor car, by the time it reached the Town Hall, was buried in masses of flowers thrown from the windows of houses.

A continuous roar of cheering greeted the airmen all along the route, which was lined by school children and police. At the same time church bells pealed, steamers sounded their sirens, and twenty aeroplanes circled overhead.

On entering the Town Hall the airmen were welcomed by the President of the Bremen Senate, who extolled their flight and presented them with gold souvenir medals, specially struck for the occasion.

Major Fitzmaurice, replying in English, expressed deep thanks for the wonderful welcome given him on German soil which, he said, he was now treading for the first time.

The airmen were entertained to luncheon, after which they drove to the Stadium, where they watched athletics, and were again cheered by a huge crowd.

NECESSITY FOR IMMEDIATE SPRAYING OF CROPS.

The potato crop has made good progress during the past few weeks, but the present dull and moist, warm weather is favourable to the occurrence of blight.

Farmers and other potato growers are warned not to delay spraying until blight has made its appearance. The first spraying, if not already given, should be undertaken immediately, even where the crop is backward and the stalks less developed than is usual when spraying is begun.

Delay or neglect to spray in a late season such as the present one is almost certain to result in failure of the crop.

A dry day should, if possible, be chosen for the work. Light rain does not seriously interfere with the success of spraying, but heavy showers may wash off the mixture before it has dried on the foliage and may necessitate repeating the application.

Detailed information in regard to the preparation of spraying mixtures is given in Leaflet No. 14, "Potato Blight and its Prevention," which can be obtained free of charge and post free on application to the Department of Agriculture, Dublin.

Youghal Circuit Court.

LODGER'S ACTION AGAINST LANDLADY.

The business of the Circuit Court sittings for the Youghal area was commenced on Monday by Mr. Justice Kenny. It consisted of 15 civil bills, 1 ejectment, 3 equity motions, 1 appeal and 1 criminal injury application.
Possession of a Hut.
James Fitzgerald, Williamstown, sought and obtained a decree for possession against Patrick and May Dunne, of the same address, in respect of a hut let to them by plaintiff.
Plaintiff stated, in reply to Mr. Keane, who appeared for him, that he let the hut to Patrick Dunne for a short time. There was no arrangement as to payment. He refused to give up possession when demanded and said he would keep the place in spite of him.
Defendant said that plaintiff put up the hut for him and his wife and charged him nothing. It was because of another person that witness was being put out. He had been looking for a house and could not get one.
His Lordship gave a decree for possession.

Damaged Furniture.
Edwin Russell and his wife, Mrs. Teresa Russell, sued Mrs. C. O'Brien Maher, 1 Garnavilla, Youghal, for £16 damage to furniture of house at 17 Crown Park, Montenotte, let to defendant furnished, and occupied by her between 24th October, 1927, and 24th May, 1928.
Mr. George J. Daly (instructed by Mr. James McAuliffe, solr.) for plaintiffs; Mr. John L. Keane, solr., for the defendant.
Edwin Russell gave evidence of the letting of the house, furnished, to defendant at £10 10s. per month. The furniture was then in good condition, but when witness and his wife went into it after defendant had left it, it was in a dirty condition. Some of the chairs were cut with a knife, and the dining-room chairs were all burst open at the back. All the doors were scraped and written on with pencil.
Replying to Mr. Keane, witness said the tenant was never given an inventory of the furniture. Defendant did not give witness up the key, but gave it to Mrs. Kelly, her agent. It would be untrue to say that the house was dirty; the paper did not fall off the walls owing to the damp; it was torn off. The electric light went wrong, and when the man came from the power house to examine it he did not say it was wrong because the switch was damp.

Mrs. Russell corroborated.
Mr. Keane said that defendant denied having left the house in a dirty condition. She felt more than anything else the charge against her, as she had left it in a dirty and filthy condition. It was perfectly clean when she handed it over to Mrs. Kelly, plaintiff's agent.
Defendant, giving evidence as to the condition of the furniture which was in the house when she went into occupation, stated that the china cups for which she was being charged were cracked, and she had allowed plaintiff for them. Four chairs were damaged, not broken, and she put them away. The man who came to examine the electric light took off the bulbs, which she put away in a box. The hall was very damp and the paper fell off it. Witness and her maid cleaned up the house before giving up possession to plaintiff's agent, Mrs. Kelly, who said it was perfectly clean. Witness admitted that the door of one of the bedrooms had been marked with a pencil by one of her children.

His Lordship gave a decree for £8.
Unemployment Insurance.
The Minister for Industry and Commerce, plaintiff, appealed from an order of the District Justice dismissing a civil bill brought against Thos. Curran and Mary M. Curran, North Strand street, Youghal, in respect of unemployment insurance of an employee named Joseph Foley.
Mr. Casey, for the appellant, asked the Judge to refer the case to the Minister for Industry and Commerce.
Mr. Keane, solicitor for the respondents, submitted that Foley did not come within the provisions of the Unemployment Insurance Act of 1920. He was simply with the respondents without any remuneration. There must be a contract of service before the respondents would be liable.

His Lordship said it was better let the Minister settle the question, and referred it to him.

Lodger's Luggage.
Catherine T. Aherne, Paul street, Youghal, sued Wm. Conran, electrician, Knockaverry, Youghal, for £30 damages for trover and conversion of plaintiff's luggage.
There was a counter civil bill for £18 arrears of rent alleged to be due by Mrs. Aherne for a furnished room let her at 12s. per week, and also a claim for £10 hire of motor car.

Mr. J. J. Kavanagh (instructed by Messrs. Wynne and Wynne, solicitors), for Mrs. Conran. Mr. Keane, solicitor, was for Mrs. Aherne, who was not in attendance, having been informed that the case would not be taken until this morning.
Evidence of the letting of a room to Mrs. Aherne was given by Mrs. Con-ran, who stated that the defendant promised to pay her when her husband would come home from America, and when she did not pay witness ceased to speak to her. She was leaving with-out witness's knowledge, when witness detained her luggage temporarily until she had paid her bill.

Questioned about the hire of the motor car, for which defendant claimed £10, the witness stated that Miss Donovan and Mr. Aherne, defendant's husband, motored from Cork and called at her house in Youghal, from which they motored to Dungarvan Sports. Witness and her husband were forced to go in the car, but she did not want to go. Witness went as a guest, and there was nothing about payment until witness issued the process. When they returned from Dungarvan witness entertained Mrs. Aherne and her husband.

In cross-examination by Mr. Keane, witness denied that she had hired the motor car to Dungarvan or that Mrs. Aherne said that that paid the bill which was due in respect of the room. A man named McCann, who lodged with witness, was also in the car with them to Dungarvan at the invitation of Mrs. Aherne. Witness did not arrange with defendant that they were to go to Melleray first and to take Miss Donovan there.

Wm. Conran, giving evidence, denied that he ever arranged with defendant to hire the motor car to go to Melleray or anywhere else. Witness and his wife were invited by defendant to go to Dungarvan in the car and they went.

Margaret Donovan having given evidence, His Lordship adjourned the case to Fermoy for the attendance of Mrs. Aherne.

SOBRIETY AND TRUTH.

JUDGE SEALY'S OPINION.

At the Circuit Court in Waterford on Monday, during the hearing of a case in which a farmer named Lonergan, Ross, near Kilmacthomas, appealed against the decision of the District Justice convicting and sentencing him to two months for alleged sheep stealing, Rev. M. Dowley, Kill, giving evidence of the character of accused, said he was a decent, hard-working man, and sober.

His Lordship—Unfortunately my experience is that truth and sobriety hardly ever go together in this court. It is a dreadful thing for me to have to say that, but I immediately suspect a man when I hear he is sober. My experience is the truth often comes from a man known to take a drink.
His Lordship reversed the decision of the District Justice.

OPENING OF HOLIDAY SEASON AT YOUGHAL.

Ever since the season that used be known as "summer" decided to remove itself from the vicinity of this country, it has become an established practice at Youghal, to time the holiday season by the opening and closing of the Strand Palace Dance Pavilion, where holiday-makers at this popular resort are always certain of enjoying themselves to the fullest extent, without having to consider the weather possibilities.

In spite of all that has been said to the contrary, dancing has come to stay with us, and when the Strand Palace opened its doors for the first dance of the season on Saturday night, June 30th, the spacious hall rapidly filled until quite a large number occupied the floor and gallery. Newly decorated in old gold and black and with hundreds of multi-coloured balloons suspended this season by a new and more powerful engine, presented a galaxy of well-blended colour. The floor was in perfect condition and the ventilation has been improved, so that it was possible to dance quite comfortably in the large crowd without becoming overheated, although the night was heavy outside.

The music, supplied by Jack Keilhar and his London "Mayfair" Band, was so good that it was not possible to listen without desiring to get on the floor. Even the elderly visitors, who usually remain in the gallery as spectators, were forced to forget their years, and for the time being loose themselves in the perfect rhythm of the music. This very talented company of first-class musicians have been specially engaged for the season, and the management of the Strand Palace is to be congratulated upon its enterprise in obtaining the services of what can only be termed the best dance band that has so far visited the Irish Free State.

Shortly after midnight the "Treasure Hunt" that had been extensively advertised took place. The balloons, which contained a number of clues to the hiding-place of the treasure, were released from the ceiling, and the fun waxed hot until each clue had been investigated, and the treasure found, by a Cork lady, who received a free trip to the Isle of Man or its value.

After the "Treasure Hunt" the management gave a very pleasant and unexpected surprise to those present by announcing an exhibition dance by "Brian and Dolores," of London and Continental fame. "Brian," it may be remembered, won the world's professional Tango Championship at Paris last year, and has fulfilled engagements at the Restaurant des Ambassadeurs,

Paris, the Carlton, London, and the Riviera Palace, Monte Carlo. Through the courtesy of the proprietors of the Ocean View Hotel, Clonsa, Dungarvan, where they are at present fulfilling a holiday engagement, they gave a very fine exhibition of the Slow Foxtrot, the Waltz and the Charleston, each item being received with well-merited appreciation. Possessing perfect command over their movements and confidence in themselves, they immediately became absorbed in the perfect rhythm of the music and glided through each phase of their exhibition, which attained such a high standard as could be expected only from such a famous and talented combination. It is hoped to see them again at the Strand Palace during the coming season, when special amateur dance competitions will be promoted.

DANCING EVIL.

BISHOP OF WATERFORD'S CONDEMNATION.

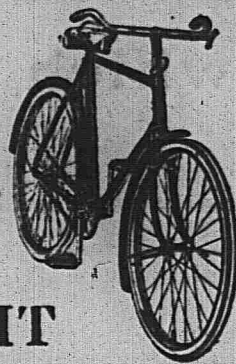

Strong comments in condemnation of dancing, particularly Saturday night dancing, were made by His Lordship the Bishop at Holy Cross Church, Tramore, when he administered the Sacrament of Confirmation to a large number of children.

It displeased him, he said, to have to refer to the subject, on which he had spoken before. When going into the church he had received two letters. One intimated that his request regarding dancing would be complied with. It was a danger to the flock to have dances carried out on Saturday nights, and it was not a proper thing if people were to properly discharge their religious duties on Sundays. He would use every means in his power to put a stop to it, as he was accountable to God for the salvation of the flock entrusted to his care, and if that failed he would employ the power placed in his hands by the Almighty God.

Referring to the debt on the church, His Lordship said it was gratifying to see that most of that had been removed by the gifts of a very generous donor, whom they all knew. He hoped to have the church consecrated in a very short time, but as there were a number of necessary alterations to be completed, he wished to have the church perfect before the consecration would take place. In conclusion, he paid a compliment to the people of the parish on the healthy state of their confraternities.

FIGHT OVER TAPPING OF

BARRELS OF PORTER.

Two barrels of porter were provided for the liquid refreshment at a small country dance held in a barn in the Derrylin district of County Fermanagh. The liquor was served in a farmhouse kitchen. There was a fight over the serving of the drink, and the sequel was heard at Fermanagh County Court by Judge Green, when Bernard Murphy sued Francis Reilly for damages for a broken leg.

The money for the porter was raised, it was stated, by Murphy and a party of mummies at Christmas, and he was annoyed that the first barrel was tapped while he and other men were out collecting the girls for the dance.

There was a fight in a crowded kitchen, the combatants rolling on the floor. Reilly was alleged to have kicked Murphy twice and broken his leg.

Judge Green said Murphy, to a certain extent, brought the trouble on himself. He would award him £5 damages and £4 witness's expenses.
