Dungarvan District Court.

SELLING DRINK WITHOUT A LICENSE.

TRANSFER OF LICENSE.
ALLEGED CHARGE OF ARSON.

Before Mr. J. S. Troy, D.J.
SELLING DRINK WITHOUT A LICENSE.

In the adjourned case of the State against Miss Fitzgerald, Square, Dungarvan, for selling drink without a license, Mr. Ryan, State Solicitor, said the license duty had been paid that morning and he asked the Justice to deal with the case.

Mr. Troy imposed a penalty of £50, which he mitigated to £12 10s., which was the lowest he could make it.

PUBLICAN'S EXEMPTION ON AUGUST 5th.

Supt. O'Shea asked the Justice for an Exemption Order for Dungarvan on August 5th on the occasion of the Tipperary and Cork Football Final when he said there would be a big influx of people to the town.

The Exemption Order was granted from 12 noon to 7 p.m., and Mr. Troy stated that food and drink at reasonable prices should be supplied to the public.

CHARGE OF ARSON—INFORMATIONS REFUSED.

Supt. O'Shea charged Denis O'Meara, Garryduff, with setting fire to and burning 7 tons of hay, the property of Mrs. O'Meara (his wife) at Garryduff on the night of October 7th or morning of October 8th, 1926. He was remanded in custody in connection with the charge a fortnight ago. Mr. Spears, solicitor, defended.

Sergt. Keogh, Cappagh, deposed—On July 11th I arrested the accused at Garryduff and charged him with setting fire to and destroying 7 tons of hay, the property of Mrs. O'Meara, Garryduff, on the night of the 7th October or morning of the 8th October, 1926. I gave him the usual caution and he said: "The hay—I know nothing about the burning. I was stationed at Cappagh when the burning took place, and I investigated it at the time. I visited the scene of the burning on the morning of the 8th Oct., 1926. In the haggard of Mrs. O'Meara at Garryduff I saw the ashes of a rick of hay. I measured the rick. It was 30ft. by 11ft. There were also two casks of rushes. The rick was 11ft. from the dwelling-house and 50 yards from the public road. The ground of the haggard was overgrown with grass. I examined the public road outside the gate and found two footprints. That was on the Millstreet side of O'Meara's gate. There were no marks on the Dungarvan side. The dwelling-house has no windows at the back. There are two gates leading into the house—one gate opposite the hay leads into the haggard and the other opposite the front of the house. I questioned O'Meara and he made a statement—that was on the 30th June, 1927.

Mr. Spears asked if he were cautioned before he made that statement. That refers to cools of hay? Yes.

Mr. Spears—You were not referring to a rick of hay containing 7 tons? We were discussing the burned hay. The "cools" of hay were O'Meara's words.

Mr. Spears—Is that statement the result of several interviews? Yes. Did you take a note of what O'Meara said? I did. Have you the notes here? I did not take a note of what O'Meara said at each interview. O'Meara was brought to the barrack on the complaint of his wife that he had assaulted her.

Answering further questions by Mr. Spears, witness said when questioning O'Meara about the hay he did not caution him. He had no intention of arresting him at that time.

The statement made by accused on the 26th June, 1926, was as follows: "I remember the hay that was burned last October. It was a good feed for cattle as it was left too long in the swath. It was only fit for bedding. It would be good if properly saved. There were about 4 tons in the rick and worth about £2. At the time my wife said to me the hay was no good and only fit for burning."

Accused—I did not say it was only fit for burning, sergeant. You are telling lies. Can't you tell the truth?

Mrs. Mary O'Meara, wife of the accused, deposed—In 1926 I was living at Garryduff. In February, 1926, there was a civil action between me and my husband in Dungarvan Circuit Court, and my husband was to get £400 and quit the premises when he got his money. On the 28th September, 1926, he was paid the £400 and left. The night before the hay was burned I heard him come to the door. A knock came. He was saying to leave him in and that he would not strike me at all. I left him there until his sister came and I waited a while to know what I would do. I opened the door and he rushed in.

Mr. Troy—Is the wife in this case a competent witness against her husband?

Mr. Spears said that would be his submission.

Witness, continuing, said accused stayed in the house until 1 o'clock next day—dinner time. He left the house at 4 p.m., and had tea before he left. The hay was burned that night. That night was raining about 10 p.m. and I put in two calves. I went to bed then and got up before 7 o'clock next morning. Soon after getting up I saw the hay was burned out. There were about 7 tons of 1st crop hay in the rick and it was worth about £3 a ton. I had no enemies in the district that I know of.

Mr. Troy—Keep quiet.

Witness—The rick of hay burned was at the rear of the house and within view of the road. My husband and I were not living on the best of terms and he struck me several times.

Mr. Spears objected to the last statement.

Mr. Troy said it showed motive. Cross-examined by Mr. Spears—It was in Mr. Ryan's Office the accused was paid the £400. I did not see my husband after 4 p.m. on the 7th October, 1926, when he went off to Millstreet.

Mr. Troy—Is there any evidence against your client? Mr. Spears—None so far.

Witness cross-examined—I put out the fire that night after making tea. I made a claim for malicious injuries and it was dismissed. You were always anxious to get rid of your husband? He treated me terribly. He treated you badly? Oh, he did. Did you and your friends suggest that he should go to America? No. Did not you want him to go to the U.S.A.? I wanted him to clear away from me. I did not care where he would go so long as he cleared away from me. I suffered too much from him.

Guard Concannon deposed he was stationed at Cappagh. He remembered 8th October, 1926. He accompanied by Guard Twomey visited Mrs. O'Meara's farm at Garryduff. He examined the roadway there and on the Millstreet side of the house he found footprints. At the Dungarvan side he examined the road and found no footprints. He traced the footprints going towards Millstreet. They went almost to Millstreet. When he got to Millstreet the accused was in O'Brien's public-house. He examined his boots and they corresponded with the footprints found on the road. The footprints were going in one direction only. There were showers the previous night and the evening was soft.

By Mr. Spears—There were only two footprints on the road this evening.

Thos. Power, Langanora, Touraneena, deposed that early in July, 1927, himself and his wife and accused and a workman named James McGrath were at breakfast in witness's house. There was something said at the breakfast about the burning of Mrs. O'Meara's hay. Witness asked accused was it he burned it and he said yes. He said he burned it at 3 o'clock.

By Mr. Spears—Witness did not believe O'Meara when he said it. He said it jokingly.

The Justice said there was no evidence whatever against the accused. The only evidence were the footprints outside the farm and along the road to Millstreet, but Mrs. O'Meara admits that he went there that evening. He refused information and issued a warning to the accused to keep away from the place in future as he would find himself in prison again.

Dungarvan Urban Council

BOROUGH SURVEYOR'S ESTIMATE FOR YEAR 1928-29—£6,058 18s.

A special meeting of the above was held in the Town Hall on Tuesday evening. Mr. M. Brennan, chairman, presided. Also present were—Messrs. J. F. Moloney, D. Foley, M. Clancy, B. Dee, T. McCarthy, Mee, Griffin, T. J. Power, T. Power, J. Butler, M. J. Keane and J. Curran.

Chairman—This meeting was called for the purpose of fixing the rate to be levied for the coming year. You have an estimate prepared by the Borough Surveyor before you, which requires a grand total of £6,058 18s. It is set out in detail how it is to be spent. He would ask the Clerk what it would be in the £ roughly.

Clerk—Roughly about 16/8.

Chairman—And what would our rate be when the County Council demand is added to that? Surely it would be very foolish for us to consider this estimate?

Borough Surveyor—You have room to cut it down.

Mr. Keane—The Borough Surveyor is only carrying out an order made here at a recent meeting—to estimate for everything that is required? Chairman—Yes.

The following is the estimate of the Borough Surveyor:—

Chairman—You have a gross total of £6,058 before you together with 8/8 in the £, and outside of the present work, which we are doing with the aid of a grant, we have no money to do any work.

Mr. Keane—How many perches are let by contract at Abbesyde?

Borough Surveyor—Roughly about a mile. Mr. Keane—Taking that as an example, could we not consider letting the remainder of our roads?

Mr. Clancy said he would not agree with patch-rolling; he thought it was only money lost. What he would like to do was to roll one or two of the roads each year just as they did the footpaths.

Chairman—The bulk of the ratepayers don't require steam-rolled roads—only good repaired roads.

Mr. T. J. Power asked were they seriously considering the Borough Surveyor's estimate? What he understood was that the Borough Surveyor would have before them how much it would take to put all our roads in fair repair.

Mr. Clancy said they should decide at first if they were to do any new works this year. The Clerk, in answer to the Chairman, said he did not anticipate the estimate from the Borough Surveyor. He had prepared the following:—A poor rate of 8/8 in the £ to cover County Council demand, and a town rate under the different heads of 7/0 in the £, together with a domestic water rate of 1/1 in the £. He said the council some time ago decided to estimate for the liquidation of part of all outstanding accounts. The amount of accounts outstanding would total about £1,300.

Mr. Butler—As we are here now would it not be as well to go through it item by item? Start at the first item.

Mr. Clancy—What about our liabilities here—how are the council to pay?

Chairman—We decided here to pay 50 per cent. of all our over-due accounts.

Mr. Clancy—We pay off that much we will be starting our roads and other things.

Mr. Keane—The 50 per cent. was only a suggestion.

Mr. Butler—The demand of the County Council amounts to £1,400 13s. 3d. for poor relief. Included in that sum I notice £252 for repayments of loans for poor relief. He would ask the Clerk to take a note of that and question it.

Chairman—I suggest we make up our estimate on last year's basis and see how it would work out.

Mr. Keane—I wonder can we consider giving any relief to the ratepayers for their burden?

Mr. Butler said he was a long time a member of the Urban Council and this was the first time while he was a member that the estimates were put before them in a proper manner. Now they know exactly what they want to put the town in proper order. The council and the public put the blame for the state of the town on the Borough Surveyor, but it is the council's fault, because they cannot put up the money. He knew there would be a revolution if this demand was put up.

Mr. Curran said it was a good job any such estimate was not put before them before as the people would die with the fright (laughter). He thought the first thing they should do was to pay off all arrears from old schemes.

Mr. T. J. Power said the people were faulting the roads they have at present. They will now see for themselves what it would cost to roll them all and put them in proper order. This council only asked for an estimate from the Borough Surveyor of what it would require to maintain the roads at a fair standard. He would like to know on what particular road or roads was the £415 from last year's road rate spent? He thought there was lack of supervision. He asked a question here some time ago about the amount of stock specified for a certain road, but he never got the answer. He was told it was somewhere in the office. If the council intend to go into this estimate he would like to have another estimate from the Borough Surveyor as to how much would keep the roads in repair, and if that system would not work he would propose that the system be changed and the roads let by contract.

Mr. Clancy asked Mr. Power what way he meant to do the roads—was it his intention not to do any rolling? He saw stone put out into potholes and after a week they were scattered all over the road.

Mr. T. J. Power—The metal was put out at the wrong time.

After a lot of further discussion Mr. Butler said in order to finish the matter he would propose that No. 1 on the sheet be adopted.

Mr. Curran—I oppose that; we can't be extravagant.

Chairman—I will put it to the meeting.

Mr. T. J. Power—Before that is put I would like to say that the principal roads are taken off our hands by the County Council, and we are only left the bye-roads, and what was good enough to keep them in repair in times gone by should suffice to-day.

Mr. Butler said the road in question was a most important one and was the main approach to the Abbesyde Church and Bashing Strand. At one time the council considered making it one of the beauty spots of the district, for the encouragement of visitors, but you could not safely bring a car down there now.

The Chairman said if the potholes in the Main street were filled with good gravel or stone like the road at Strandside the people of Main street would not complain.

A vote was then taken on Mr. Butler's proposition that 131 perches of the road at Strandside South to the Chapel gate be rolled in water-bound macadam at a cost of £293 and was then put and the voting was:—

For—Messrs. McCarthy, Foley, T. Power, Griffin and Butler—5.

Against—Messrs. Moloney, Clancy, Dee, T. J. Power, Keane, Curran and Chairman—7.

The resolution was declared lost.

Mr. Butler then proposed that No. 2 be passed: That 70 perches of the road from Gerald Crotty's to Strandside South be rolled at a cost of £210. This was also defeated on the same vote—7 to 5.

No. 3 on the list was then proposed by Mr. Butler—That is, patch-rolling 570 perches of all the other roads at Abbesyde at a cost of £200. This proposition was also lost by 7 to 5.

To the Editor of the "Observer."

Sir—In last week's issue of the "Observer" a letter appeared from some cowardly critic signed "Full Back." This letter is a personal attack on me and also an attack on the Killorossanty Football Club which I represent. I wish to contradict the statements contained in this very polite and grammatical letter. "Full Back" admits having read a letter from me refusing to play Dungarvan, and he advises me to mind my business and not to meddle in a controversy that does not concern Killorossanty Football Club.

Well, as Secretary and Captain of Killorossanty Club it was my duty alone to notify our friends and the public that Killorossanty were not playing. Killorossanty being the Club who refused to play. I wonder what other Club it might concern. Perhaps it might be the Club so safely guided by the intelligence of "Full Back." He suggests I might be a person anxious to see my name in print. Well, I don't want paper admiration, but where necessary I am not afraid or ashamed of my name. He reminds me of Dungarvan beating Killorossanty. This is unnecessary information, as not me alone, but all readers of the "Observer" have that information for the past 10 months. As regards meeting the victors, that is still the motto of Killorossanty. He states one of the Ryan's ought take charge of the County Board. Well, I may tell him that that none of us court officialism. On the contrary, we did not even attend the Convention, where all officials of the County Board are appointed. He wonders who were the four Killorossanty players who played with an Eastern Club in the Sportsfield. Well, if such trifles are wondered, I think "Far Back" might be a more suitable name for my wondering friend. Yet should he wish to appease his curiosity on this matter he need only state the date and Club they played and then we will furnish the names if same occurred. He says he knows I wrote without instructions from my Club. This is a deliberate falsehood, as I wrote with full instructions from the members who are always responsible for the Killorossanty Football Club and who will verify same when asked to do so. He says Dungarvan was fully entitled to get a walk-over. Well, he is entitled to his opinions if he only had sense to keep them as he proves himself such a capable judge on Gaelic matters. He might be a more suitable man for the position he offers the Ryan's.

As regards dictating to Dungarvan, I have not attempted anything of the kind. On the contrary, I stated we were not asking Dungarvan to accept the challenge of Clashmore. I think my friend must have a wandering idea of dictation. Lastly, he the most intelligent readers of the "Observer," and after spending 14 days wasting his intellect and perhaps borrowing a grammar to vindicate the rights of Dungarvan Club he says he hopes Dungarvan boys will give me my answer, thus denying that he is either a Dungarvan boy or man. Such being the case, he might have kept his advice to himself. As regards minding your own business, having answered his letter, in my humble and ignorant manner, I demand a public apology for all the statements referred to, as also the name and address of the writer. "Full Back." If same is not forthcoming in the next issue of the "Observer" the matters will be placed in the hands of one who might change the position of "Full Back" and allow him play forward in answer to his base and cowardly charges.

LEIX V. WATERFORD.

On Sunday last at the Gaelic Field, Waterford, representatives of the above counties lined out in a football trial match. A sparse attendance witnessed the contest; the standard of play on the Waterford side was anything but convincing, and they were lucky to be within a point of their opponents at the final whistle.

At 3 p.m. Mr. Kennedy, New Ross, set the teams in motion. Leix attacked, but an over-ruled, Leix returned from the kick-out, but O'Donnell and Furlong saved the situation. The leather travelled to the other end, but the Leix backs cleared. An invasion by Leix opened the scoring with a point. The kick-out sent Waterford away, but a fine effort by Parsons ended

Tallow District Court.

(Before Mr. G. P. Farrell, B.L.)

CHARGE BY GUARDS.

Sergt. Heaslip, Killeenagh, charged Edward O'Brien, Old Strancally, with abuse and threatening language.

Complainant deposed that while making investigations into a certain outrage he had occasion to inquire at defendant's house. O'Brien became abusive and threatening, took off his coat to hit witness, and used very filthy language.

Complainant handed in a slip of paper containing the language alleged to have been used.

The Justice—Where did this happen, inside or outside? He was at the door at the time. I was outside and Guard O'Neill was with me. His wife and sister-in-law had all the could do to keep him from striking me.

Were you there in the course of your duty? I was. What hour of the day was it? About 8 p.m.

Guard O'Neill deposed that as the Sergt. was questioning defendant as to his movements on a certain previous day, he became very aggressive towards them and actually threatened to strike the Sergt.

The Justice—Was he told what you were investigating? Yes. You were in uniform? Yes.

Defendant said that was the third time they attacked him in his own house—the Sergeant's second time and Guard O'Neill's third.

The Justice—What do you mean by attacking you? Coming into my house and abusing me. Keep to this case—What abuse did you get? They accused me of robbery the first and second time. I said I was saying or doing nothing to anybody. It wasn't good enough with three sick children after coming from Cappoquin with medicine for them.

Did you think this visit was about something in connection with which they visited you before?

Guard O'Neill asked me my business in Cappoquin, and I said, "go and find out." The Sergt. ran in and asked what was wrong, I said there was nothing wrong, but I was tired of ye coming so often before the public; if I'm saying or doing anything wrong you can have the law on me. I am not made of stone. Even the case I won four months ago, Guard O'Neill was slapping that at me and saying my witnesses swore false.

Were you told what they were inquiring into? Guard O'Neill questioned me, and I told him to wait for the wife. Then he asked me about my movements. I am a fisherman and have to be out day and night. Did he tell you he was inquiring into any particular crime—What was it? The second time he asked me about some wire that was stolen, and I said I knew nothing about it. Was the Sergt. there then? No, it was another Guard. The third time they could not blackguard me more than they did. What did they say the last time they called? That I swore false in Waterford and my witnesses, after losing £14. I didn't use any filthy language.

The Justice—There is a lot of very bad language on this paper, I would not like to read it out.

Defendant—I said that when anything was done, it was to my door they came. They tore the house down to pieces.

The Justice—How? They took down pictures, upset two beds and other things. When was that? The second visit. I had to take an infant three weeks old out of the bed.

The Sergt.—I had a warrant to search the house that time.

The Justice—Did you produce the warrant to anybody? I told him I had it, and I read it to him, and he said, "carry on." Did he make any objection? No. Did he complain that you broke anything? No. We put everything into the same place as well as we could. What did you tell him? I sent two guards in connection with the £17 which had been stolen. I had suspicions that he was the culprit. He was cautioned and questioned as to his movements at the time of the larceny, but he refused to answer. I went down again and he refused again. The third time I was instructed to make a final effort, Mrs. O'Brien became abusive and they could do nothing. Was it in connection with this charge that you searched the house? Yes. When was the money stolen? On the night of the 9th May, or the morning of the 10th. Taken from some house? Yes, there was burglary and larceny. In this same district? Yes.

As he was unable to read, the Clerk brought O'Brien into his office and read the language for him. Returning to Court, defendant said he never used a word of it. He would not mind if he had a few drinks, but he had nothing but a bottle of lemonade.

The Justice—Is there any suggestion that O'Brien was drunk?

The Sergt.—I am sure that he had a few drinks. His wife remarked that he was not sober.

The Justice said his view was that there was no use in the guards going so many times. They asked for a statement which defendant declined to give. They failed to find any incriminating evidence. In a matter of that sort the Guards had no right to overdo it. Therefore he thought the fact of making three visits was a bit excessive. If defendant had conducted himself on that occasion and if the Guards did anything beyond their duty, the defendant had his remedy. While they had no right to insist on a statement, they did nothing really wrong—it was necessary rather than wrong. He was satisfied from the evidence that the defendant did use that very filthy and threatening language, probably only to have a few drinks. For that he would be bound to be of good behaviour for 12 months in the sum of £5.

Furious Driving. Guard Hanrahan, Ballynoe, charged Wm. Bryan, Killeclare, with furiously driving a pony and trap through the village.

Justice—Was there any danger caused by this conduct? There were a number of people in the street at the time. Anybody hurt? No, sir.

Defendant having given evidence to the effect that he could not drive furiously at the place as it was uphill, he was fined 10s. and costs.

Water in Butter. Guard Brophy, Inspector of Food and Drugs, charged Mrs. Julia O'Keeffe, Rathdrum, Ballynoe, with selling butter containing water in excess.

Complainant proved the purchase of the butter and handed in the certificate of analysis, showing that it contained 17.57 per cent. of water, being .57 above the legal standard.

Mrs. O'Keeffe deposed that the butter was a bit soft that day, although she had worked all the water she could out of it.

Justice—What was the cause of the softness? It was a very warm thunder evening. You did your best with the butter? Yes.

The Justice said the excess was very small and he believed the defendant did her best. He therefore accepted her explanation and dismissed the case.

School Attendance Case. Guard J. O'Leary, Tallow, charged Michael Tobin, farmer, with the absence of his child, aged 13 years, from school on five consecutive days, from June 18th to 22nd. The child was only in the 4th Standard.

Complainant handed in a certificate of the child's attendance at school since 20th March, which the Justice said was "very bad."

The mother said the child was raised to the 5th.

Justice—She will be of age to leave before she reaches the 6th. I am not surprised seeing that she attended only nine days out of 49.

The mother said the child had been ill and the distance was so far and the weather so wet she was afraid to send her.

Complainant—She is attending now since the summer was served.

The Mother—She seems to be much better since she had the scarlatina.

Justice—The Guard thinks she is better since you got the summons (laughter).

The case was adjourned till next court.

Trespass. James O'Brien, Ballymuddy, farmer, charged Thos. Murphy, West street, Tallow, with trespass.

Messrs. O'Connor and Dudley, solicitors, for complainant.

Complainant deposed that he found three sheep on his pasture land on the 20th May, 10 sheep and a lamb in the orchard on the 27th, and 18 sheep in his oats and mangolds on the 4th June. The fences were fair with furze on top.

Justice—If the fences were all right how did they get in? There are low spots and the sheep weren't tied. They would go over the wall of a house.

Justice—Mountain sheep, I suppose? Every class of sheep—Downs and all.

Complainant said on the 20th May he drove the three sheep back over the fence into defendant's own field. On the 27th he drove the 10 sheep, and lamb on the public road, which he knew was illegal. The trespass was continual every year. He had done his best to keep the fences on his side.

Witness was cross-examined at great length by Mr. Murphy, who said he was not represented, though he expected to have Mr. Hodnett. Witness denied cutting an elm tree on the fence.

Justice—Has either side an independent witness?

Defendant—I have Guard Walsh.

Justice—I would be better to decide upon some independent man to go out and see what is to be done. Otherwise you will never agree.

Defendant—The P.P. called on us and he said it is useless to talk to this man. He wanted trouble and he means to have it.

The defendant again referred to Guard Walsh.

Justice—I don't think it is the business of the Guards—I don't approve of bringing the Guards into such a question. Can you agree between yourselves on anybody to go and examine the place?

Defendant—I will leave it to the P.P.

Justice—I mean to employ somebody to go and see what is to be done to prevent trespass.

Guard Walsh said that O'Brien admitted cutting the tree.

O'Brien—About 60 years ago—

Justice—Oh, don't go so far back in history. When did you cut it? About three or four months ago, and this man claimed the whole tree and took half of it.

Justice—The only issue I am trying is a very small one—whether I can award trespass for the 48 sheep.

Defendant said O'Brien didn't give the sheep up to him. He would summon Mrs. Hefferan to prove it.

Complainant—I wish she was here.

Justice—I wish I had somebody independent to help me decide.

Defendant, sworn, said that 12 months ago he caught complainant cutting all the fences and he threatened a prosecution if it occurred again. The complainant got the best side of the trespass.

Thos. Kelly deposed he saw on the 27th June signs where the oats had been eaten on the 4th.

Defendant said the complainant should leave the witness speak for himself.

After a further very protracted hearing the Justice said complainant could not recover trespass for the 20th or 27th May, because there was no delivery of the animals. As regards what happened on the 4th June, he had heard as much contradictory evidence as he had ever heard in any case. That case could never be settled until some engineer was brought in to see what was required to be done and to give evidence of it. He was not satisfied with the evidence before him, and he would therefore make no order.

Pound Breach. Mce. O'Brien and James Griffin, Ballyhamlet, Tallow, were charged with stealing five head of cattle from the Pound at Tallow.

Supt. O'Connor, Cappoquin, prosecuted.

In his deposition Guard Walsh, Tallow, stated that in the course of his inquiries regarding the breaking into of the Tallow Pound, from which 23 head of cattle were missing, he met the two accused whom he identified. They had charge of the five head of cattle. He arrested them on the charge of larceny of five head of cattle and also with the breaking into the Pound and rescuing the cattle therefrom. They made no statement.

Supt. O'Connor applied for an adjournment to next court. He also asked to have the charge of obstructing the Guards added to the others.

The application was granted, a new summons to be issued in connection with the alleged obstruction.

Committal to Industrial School. Inspector J. Devlin, N.S.P.C.C., Waterford, applied for the committal of a child named Mary Cooney, Tallow, aged five, found wandering, to an Industrial School.

Evidence having been given, the application was granted.

Youghal District Court.

Before Mr. G. P. Farrell, B.L.

Holmes v. Fleming. This was a civil bill for £15 12s. by Henry Holmes, farmer and manager of Lord Middleton's Estate against Michael D. Fleming, Grange House, Castlemaryr, for breach of warranty in the sale of a bullock.

Mr. W. J. Barry, solr., Middleton, for plaintiff, and Mr. W. St. Clair Rice, solr., Middleton, for defendant.

Plaintiff deposed that he bought the bullock from defendant at Killeagh fair in May for £12 10s., defendant replying to more than one question that he was sound. Witness noticed that the animal was drawn up with a hump on the back, which was due, defendant alleged, to sore feet, having been walked from Dungarvan. The animal was put out to graze. After some days he received a complaint. Ultimately Dr. Healy was called in. He found that the animal was suffering from a tubercular spine of a very advanced nature. He had to be killed. Witness's loss was £12 10s., price of the animal, two guineas for the vet's fee, and £1 for the grazing. He wrote to Fleming about the matter.

Cross-examined by Mr. Rice, witness said he had good experience of cattle. The curvature was apparent and Mr. Fleming must have known the animal was ill. He never saw a case of the kind before. The animal appeared lame. Fleming suggested that witness should write to Walsh, the man from whom the animal was bought, Fleming to sign the letter. He didn't think there was anything dishonourable in that or any collusion to get money out of Walsh.

Dr. J. J. Healy, M.R.C.V.S., deposed that he saw that bullock on the 6th June. He was lying down. Witness tried to get him up and he was hardly able to stand. He suggested to Mr. Holmes that he had better acquaint the man he had bought him from. The animal was killed. Witness made post mortem and found the spine tubercular. It should be of long standing.

Witness here produced a small parcel, which he proceeded to open, saying it contained portion of the spine of the dead animal.

Justice—But I don't want to see it.

Witness—I am only showing you the lesions in the spine.

Justice—How old was the bullock? A little over two years. How long was he affected? Some length of time—six or eight months perhaps. When tuberculosis gets into the osseous tissues it takes some time to develop. Sore feet from walking is only a temporary thing. The only thing to be done was to kill it.

Cross-examined by Mr. Rice, defendant said it was quite impossible to diagnose tuberculosis without a tubercular test or a post mortem. The animal didn't look debilitated. An animal with a lump on the back was not sound. It was not always possible for a professional to diagnose tuberculosis without a test.

Mr. Fleming deposed that previous to the purchase Mr. Holmes said the bullock looked tired and he wondered was he sound. Witness said he could not tell, only that the animal had been brought from Dungarvan and might be foot-sore. Some time after Mr. Holmes called to him and said to write to the man he bought him from, that they might get some money out of him. Witness didn't ask Mr. Holmes to write. Witness had no knowledge of anything being wrong beyond the foot soreness and he made that clear to plaintiff.

Cross-examined by Mr. Barry, witness said he was dealing in cattle 15 years. The bullock was in perfect condition, but looked "empty" when he bought him from Mr. Walsh, of Dungarvan. He got no warranty from Walsh. After walking to Youghal the animal was foot-sore. He denied absolutely that he gave a warranty to Mr. Holmes or that he asked for one.

Justice—What was your opinion of that bullock at the time? All right; I saw nothing wrong with him. Would you hesitate to give a warranty with him? I never give a warranty with store cattle. If you were asked would you refuse? I never gave a warranty—anything may happen a store beast. I had cattle and two days after they were dead.

After a further lengthened hearing, the Justice said he believed there had been a warranty given, and he gave a decree for the amount claimed.

Mr. Barry said Mr. Holmes had to come from Gleen and he asked for three guineas expenses and two for the doctor.

Mr. Rice said Mr. Holmes lived at Middleton. £2 expenses was allowed.

Unlighted Vehicle. Guard Wickstead charged Mr. P. Troy, Youghal, with cycling without a light at 11.15 on the 23rd inst.

Defendant said it was bonfire night, fairly bright and the time slipped on him.

He was fined 1s.

Sergt. Shaughnessy charged Denis Aherne, Newport, fisherman, with using a donkey and cart unlighted at 11.40 on the 20th June. Fined 1s.

Drunk and Disorderly. The same complainant charged an excursionist named J. Flynn with being drunk and disorderly. Fined 2s. 6d.

Cycling on Footpath. Guard Broderick charged J. Moloney, Ardmore, with cycling on the footpath.

The Justice said the footpath was not for cyclists.

Complainant said the road was perfect.

Fined 5s. and costs.

Found on Licensed Premises. Guard Nolan charged D. Gumbleton and J. Healy with being on the licensed premises of Miss Ducey North Main street at 9.45 on Saturday night.

Evidence having been given to the effect that Gumbleton was the chief offender, he was fined 10s., Healy being fined 5s., both being in the yard unknown to the publican.

Sergt. O'Shaughnessy charged Ed. McGrath with being on the license premises, Strand Hotel, on Sunday, June 10th, having falsely represented himself as a traveller.

Supt. Muldoon said they were satisfied that the defendant had deceived the publican's assistant.

Defendant was fined 5s.

KILLEAGH ARSON CASE. The ordinary business at Youghal District Court having been disposed of, Timothy Cronin, farmer, Forty Acres, Killeagh, was brought up on charges of setting fire to the dwelling house of one Jeremiah Riordan at Glasheen East on the night of 3rd July.

Supt. Muldoon, Middleton, prosecuted, and Mr. W. St. Clair Rice, solr., Middleton, defended.

Supt. Muldoon said that he had mentioned at the previous hearing of that case at Castlemaryr that there was a certain witness, Abina Morris, whom he could not get to attend. She had sent in a doctor's certificate saying that she was unwell. She had been told as late as that morning that she should attend. The prosecution had reason to believe that she could give material evidence, and he therefore applied for a warrant for her attendance.

The Justice said he proposed taking any other evidence ready in the case and then adjourn it back to Castlemaryr, for which the witness referred to could be summoned. If she did not attend he would issue a warrant for her arrest.

Mr. Kennedy, vintner, Killeagh, deposed he was on his premises on the night of 3rd July. The accused, Timothy Cronin, came in twice that day, the last time about 8.30 p.m., through the back door. They were speaking about his evicted farm, and he said amongst other things he would not agree to have it divided up, and would not be satisfied to give a sod of his farm to anybody. He had a share of drink taken, but he wasn't drunk. He left the place about five minutes to 10. That was the last witness saw of him that night.

Witness was not cross-examined.

James Prekin, Killeagh, labourer, deposed that on the evening of the 3rd July he was standing at the cross at Killeagh immediately after 10 o'clock. That was in the middle of the street on the road leading to Mogeely. The accused came along and called witness. Witness walked along with him towards Ballyquirk Cross. He was mumbering in a way witness could not understand; he was under the influence of drink. He said: "This is a queer old world," or words to that effect. Between that and the Cross at Ballyquirk he said nothing else. They passed a number of people walking the road on the way. When they arrived at Ballyquirk Cross they met Patrick Kelly, of Ballyquirk. Cronin left witness and had conversation with Kelly. A man named Patk. Dwane next came on the scene. He was coming from the direction of the village towards the railway station. Cronin said to Dwane to hold on and he would be with him. Cronin then went off with Dwane and witness returned home and to bed. While Cronin was with witness he appeared under the influence of drink and in bad humour and very upset.

Witness was not cross-examined.

Patk. Dwane, Ballymakeaghbeg, caretaker on an evicted farm, deposed that on the 3rd inst. he saw the accused first at about 10 o'clock coming out of the village near Ballyquirk Cross. He said good night or something like that. Some time afterwards Cronin got up to him near the cross and said: "Hold up; are you going home?" Cronin accompanied him as far as The Rectory. They then parted and witness went into a cottage.

Guard Madden, Killeagh, deposed that on the morning of the 4th July he was acting as barrack orderly. The accused was brought in at 1.50 a.m. and left in charge of witness in the day-room. About 6 o'clock that morning Sergt. Caden and Jeremiah Riordan arrived at the barrack. On their arrival the sergeant, in the presence of accused asked Riordan certain questions. He asked Riordan did he know the accused and Riordan replied he did—Timothy Cronin. The sergeant asked him did he meet him the previous night and Riordan said he did. The sergeant asked where, and Riordan said: "Above near my own house when the house was burning. He passed me on the road and I turned back and put my hand on his shoulder and said 'it's all right now, Cronin.' The sergeant and Riordan then left the dayroom. Cronin and himself were talking about a local public house before and they then resumed the conversation. The accused sat down on the form and after a few minutes' silence he said:

Mr. Rice—Before the Guard states what was said, I would ask your worship's opinion on the question of inducement.

Justice—I don't see any evidence of inducement.

Mr. Rice—The sergeant brings in a witness and confronts accused and almost immediately after a statement is made by accused.

Justice—There was no inducement.

Mr. Rice—Whether the mere fact that he was confronted with Riordan was sufficient inducement?

Justice—No.

Witness, resuming: "That ends this sort of business, always. If the story don't be worse, but by J.—it will be worse." He remembered the same day later on acting as one of the escort to Cork the accused was sitting in the back of the car between witness and Guard McCormack. The car stopped outside Castlemaryr and he heard the accused say: "I was mad last night. I never remembered what I did. It was only when he was reading over the depositions that it began to come back to me about being to there at all and all that happened. It was a bad thing to do. I was mad before one time. I got those spasms. It was well I didn't do worse. I had it in my head to kill the bum and Riordan. They were laughing at me one evening when I was making the goals at Ballymakeagh." He then turned to witness and asked: "Do you remember the time I was mad before or were you in Killeagh?" Witness said he didn't remember anything about it. Later on the way to Cork at Garristown, Cronin began again about it, but witness stopped him and said he didn't want to hear anything more about it. Witness returned from Cork that night about 11 o'clock.

Cross-examined by Mr. Rice, witness said he wrote down that night what the accused said in the car at Castlemaryr. He didn't know at the time if Guard McCormack took it down, but he knew then he took it down the following morning. They didn't compare the statements. He didn't see Guard McCormack. Everything that happened was quite fresh in his memory. Witness didn't sleep in the barrack.

Mr. Rice said it seemed rather extraordinary that the statements were almost identical, word for word.

To the Court—The accused, when brought in at 1.30 may have drunk taken. He showed no signs of drink, but complained of being tired.

Superintendent—That is the case so far.

Justice—I understand you want another witness to attend. I am quite satisfied from the evidence before me that there is a case for trial.

The Superintendent said he was anxious to have that witness attend.

Accused was returned for trial in custody to Cork Circuit Court.

WATERFORD TRAGEDY.

FARMER DRAGGED BY R. NAWAY HORSE.

Following on two drowning tragedies which occurred near Waterford in the past few days, another very poignant fatality occurred on Saturday afternoon within the city bounds at Newrath.

It appears that a well-known farmer, Mr. John Walsh of Ardora, Mooncoin, aged about 50 years, was returning home after bringing some livestock to the city. He was driving a large float and sitting on the right-hand side of the vehicle. When passing the B.P. Oil Station at Newrath the horse shied and the unfortunate driver, in attempting to control the animal, fell from his seat. He was dragged along the road for about 12 yards when the wheel of the heavy vehicle passed over his chest and he died from his injuries within ten minutes.

Meantime, a boy who was behind on the road, witnessed the sad occurrence. He ran back to the Civic Guards Station at Ferrybank, and informed them of what he had seen. Dr. Coughlan was apprised, and he arrived without delay on the scene. There was passing also, about the same time, the Rev. Father Doyle, of Mooncoin, a priest home on holidays from America. Both Dr. Coughlan and Father Doyle did all that was possible for the man before his death, which occurred in a few minutes after their arrival. The body was removed to the undertaking establishment of Messrs. O'Neill, Ferrybank, and the Coroner was communicated with.

SUNDAY AT YOUGHAL.

Sunday was a big day at Youghal. Although the weather was threatening and the afternoon broken by a rainy spell, it cleared off and held good for the rest of the day. There was an unusually large crowd on the Strand, nearly 8,000 arriving by train alone. There was a record traffic by motor, motor bus and cycle from many distant parts—Carlow, New Ross, Waterford, Limerick, etc. From Moll Goggin's Corner for miles along the beach numerous parties of the visitors enjoyed themselves in the sea. The splendid No. 2 Army Band performed choice selections—on the Strand on the arrival of afternoon train, and from 7 to 9 in the Green Park. The performances were punctuated by warm and well-deserved applause. The Municipal Amusements Committee have made a good beginning and are determined to leave nothing undone for the amusement of their visitors. A special train had to be requisitioned to bring the last batch of visitors home to the city.

UNEMPLOYMENT.

PRESIDENT'S REPLY TO MR. DE VALERA'S QUESTION.

In the Dail on Tuesday, Mr. De Valera asked whether, in view of the indication given by the Minister for Finance that the Government would welcome suggestions from deputes for the solution of the unemployment problem, he would ask the Dail to appoint a committee to consider and report on the causes of the continuance of widespread unemployment in Saorstad Eireann and to recommend remedies therefor.

President Cosgrave replied that he did not consider the setting up of a Committee on the lines suggested would be calculated to add to the existing information regarding the causes of unemployment. So far as remedies for unemployment were concerned, a Committee had already reported on relief measures capable of immediate or early application. The remedy for unemployment due to general economic conditions lay in the improvement of those conditions and the extent to which Government action could usefully be directed to that end was not a question which could profitably be referred to a Committee of the Dail.

Mr. De Valera—Is the President satisfied that the causes have been sufficiently examined.

President Cosgrave—They have been reported on at considerable length and examined with a view to getting a solution along the lines suggested, but success in that respect has not yet been achieved.

Mr. Morrissey (Lab. Tipperary) asked what effect had been given to the Committee's recommendations?

President Cosgrave—Every possible effect has been given.

Mr. Morrissey—Will the President give one?

President Cosgrave—The question of the exploration of economics of housing, and the employment recommended to be given during the winter period.

Mr. Lemass (F.F., Dublin)—That Committee in its first report stated that they had not considered it to be their duty to investigate the causes of unemployment at all.

President Cosgrave—They were not actually asked to report on the causes of unemployment—practically every department of the Government had the matter under investigation.

Mr. De Valera—Why not try and get the assistance of all parties in an effort to solve the problem?

Mr. Aiken (F.F., Louth)—Is the President satisfied that his party have done all they could to solve the unemployment problem?

President Cosgrave—It is not a question of party at all; it falls upon the whole State.

Mr. De Valera—How can parties in opposition help if we don't get data.

President Cosgrave's reply was inaudible in the Press Gallery, and Mr. De Valera exclaimed, "Oh, nonsense."

DUNHILL FEIS.

Dunhill Feis held on Sunday week was attended by large numbers from the surrounding districts and from the city. The following are the results of the various competitions:-

LANGUAGE AND SINGING.

Competition No. 1.—Best knowledge of Irish.—1st, Michael Delaney, Dunhill; 2nd, Fearor O'Sullivan. Competition No. 2, Drama, "An Picnic" Tramore. Competition No. 4, Solo Singing (junior girls)—1st, Eileen Ni Donnaihl; 2nd, Mairead Ni Donnaihl. Competition No. 6—Solo Singing (Girls Senior)—1st, Mairead Ni Clathasigh. Competition No. 7—Best Story by boy or girl between 10 and 14 years.—1st, Michael O'Dubhsaigh.

DANCING.

Competition No. 8 (open to all) Hornpipe, Reel and Slip Jig.—1st, Annie Tucker; 2nd, Philip Carroll; 3rd, Lily Fennessey. Competition No. 9 (confined to country districts), Jig and Reel.—1st, John Everett, Faithlegg; 2nd, Kitty Murphy, Dunhill; 3rd, Kathleen O'Brien, Tramore. Competition No. 10.—4-Hand Reel (confined)—Annie Ni Lorecham, Maighed Ni Fhaoilain, Thos. MacAodha, Sean Paor, Ballydoon; 2nd, Maureen Brazil, Una Everett, Alice Redmond, Josie Doherty, Faithlegg; 3rd, Knockboy Team. Competition No. 11.—3-Hand Reel (confined)—1st, Biddy Kiehy, Rita Murphy, Annie Giles, Dunhill; 2nd, Maureen Brazil, John Everett, Una Everett, Faithlegg; 3rd, Tramore No. 1 team.

A football match between Fenor and Ballyduff ended in a draw. Much interest was centred in the confined competitions, especially as it is little more than six months since the classes were organised in the district. Sean Downey, who organised the scheme, was fortunate in securing teachers of outstanding ability, and this was pretty well demonstrated on Sunday, as the spectators were treated to competitions of a very high order of merit. It must be admitted that the standard of dancing is very high in Waterford.

Miss K. Walsh had charge of the classes in Faithlegg and Dunhill, Miss Toms at Knockboy, and Miss B. Dillon at Tramore. The open competition was very keenly contested, there being in that competition such exponents of Irish step-dancing as Annie Tucker and Philip Carroll, 1st and 2nd prize-winners, respectively. There was a very hard fight for 3rd place between Margaret O'Brien (Miss Tucker's pupil) and Lily Fennessey and Kitty Doran (pupils of Miss Dillon and Miss Toms), and after a new test Lily Fennessey was declared the winner of the silver medal.

CANCER RESEARCH FUND, IRELAND.

To the Editor of the "Observer."

Dear Sir—As our collector, Miss Stafford, will shortly visit Dungarvan with the object of collecting funds for the above fund, and as the public in Dungarvan are probably not fully aware of the work which we have accomplished up to the present, I would ask you to give the publicity of your columns to the following facts:—The Cancer Research Fund (Ireland) was started in 1927 under the auspices of the Committee of the City of Dublin Skin and Cancer Hospital, Hume St., and has since been working in full collaboration with the latter. It was the first organised attempt in Ireland to attack the growing scourge of cancer, and we recommend by sending lecturers and literature through the country with a view to instructing the public as to the early symptoms of the disease and advising them to resort to qualified medical advice on the appearance of such symptoms. Our next step was to send members of our staff to Germany to study the Erlangen treatment of Deep X-Ray Therapy, and when they had made themselves acquainted with the technique we installed our first Deep X-Ray Therapy plant in 1921. This was the first of its sort to be installed in Ireland. Our next step was to build and equip a special Deep X-Ray Therapy Department with the money subscribed by the public and to build and equip a Research Department. The plant which we have installed in the former is the finest of its kind in the British Isles and during the past six years we have treated over 2,000 cases. During this period we have constantly been improving our technique in Deep X-Ray Therapy as a result of experience gained in a large and varied number of cases. Our research work is, however, not confined to Deep X-Ray Therapy alone, but embraces Radium, Serum, Vaccine, Lead and other forms of treatment. We are convinced that the proper direction of Research is towards the cure of the disease, and that until this problem is solved the problem of prevention is unsolvable. We do not believe, that any form of Research conducted without the adjunct of a sufficiently large clinic will yield definite results, and that it is only by systematic and meticulous observation of reactions to treatment of a large number of actual cases over a long period, and not by purely laboratory methods that the desired result will be obtained.

WATERFORD FACTORY.

THE DRESSED MEAT INDUSTRY.

SUCCESSFUL YEAR'S TRADING.

Speaking at the first annual meeting of the Waterford Dressed Meat Factory, Sir John Keane, chairman, referring to what he called a distinct milestone in their progress, in which they had trod with credit and satisfaction, said:—The balance sheet you have in your hands shows a net profit of something like £2,000 (hear, hear). As you see, we do not propose to make any distribution out of that amount. We want all that, and more if we can get it, for reserves for depreciation, and for all the other allocations which are necessary in the interests of prudent finance. Of course, to pay a dividend, as you will see, out of the paid-up capital we would have to earn more, but we hope the day is not far distant when we will be able to pay dividends. I must not then ask shareholders for their forbearance and to rest easy that if they got a dividend now it would not be very much. As the average holding is less than £10, the dividend would only represent an average sum of 10s., and that much would be very easily spent and soon forgotten.

Rev. Canon Phelan seconded the adoption of the report, and said he believed he might forecast that next year they would be in a position to present an even more favourable report (hear, hear).

Mr. Keogh said they had every reason to congratulate themselves on their past year's bacon trading, considering that last year was one of the most abnormal they had experienced in that trade for the past twenty. At the same time he expressed the hope that by that time next year they would be able to make a pronouncement as regarded the cattle and sheep trade, which the factory was principally built to deal with. A lot of their shareholders, he said, were disappointed that they had not more to say in that direction.

Mr. Holohan, T.D., said he had already drawn attention to the fact that at certain periods of the year, when prices were rising, they were unable to get supplies of pigs, whereas when the market was inclined to fall they were in for an unusually big supply. What they wanted was a continuous supply from the farmers and the shareholders, at all times, whether the market rose or fell.

Mr. Gorey and others having spoken, The directors report and statement of accounts were then adopted unanimously.

Mr. Ullehold, general manager, in the course of an interesting address, pointed out that Ireland is nearer the world market for bacon and butter, nearer than anybody else, and has thus got an advantage that nobody can deprive it of. The Irish killings can easily, without difficulty, be trebled, and the Irish bacon, as a whole, is the best on the market. Denmark has, during the past five months, had 75 per cent. of the total import of bacon to Great Britain. There is no reason why Ireland, with ideal conditions, should not capture a big part of this import, but co-operation and centralisation in breeding and feeding and manufacturing is necessary.

Messrs. Swaine and Browne were unanimously re-elected auditors.

Ardmore Aeridheacht and Patron.

Availing of the usual "Patron" Day at Ardmore on Sunday, the annual aeridheacht was held in the grounds of Coiste Naomh Dheaglan. Although the 22nd is the real feast day, the religious event is generally celebrated on the Sunday nearest, though many hold that it should be the Sunday "within the octave." The result is that practically three "patrons" are held instead of one—on the Sunday before, on the day itself, and also on the following Sunday.

All through the day the sky was very overcast, but with the exception of one short spell of light rain, the weather held fine, being really enjoyable after the heat wave of the previous week. Hence all through the afternoon there was a consistent influx of visitors by all kinds of conveyances from shank's mare to charabanc. The various scenes of religious, historic and antiquarian interest received respectful attention—the saint's church, oratory and grave, the holy well, the round tower and the curious old boulder on the beach known as St. Declan's Stone. Readers anxious to learn something of this wonderful old place will find much interesting material in a valuable little pamphlet compiled by the Very Rev. Professor Power, M.R.I.A., of the University College, Cork.

Amusements of various kinds were in full swing during the evening, and the Erin's Own Pipers' Band, Cork, played through the village several times, thereby contributing materially to the enjoyment of the people assembled. The "patron" was rounded off by a very successful dance held in St. Declan's Hall.

A very representative audience feregathered in that portion of the College grounds devoted to the aeridheacht. Cork was represented by a number of the students attending the advanced course in University College, while among the rest were Gaels from the four provinces, including enthusiasts from Onay, Kerry, Waterford, Mayo, Llyone, Cavan and even a few from distant Donegal.

The Rev. James Walsh, C.C., Lismore, president of St. Declan's College, took the chair and addressed the audience in Irish. He said he was genuinely pleased to be amongst them again at their annual aeridheacht on that occasion, and he tendered them one and all from near and afar a hearty cead mile faite. Having referred to the good work being done for the restoration and spread of the native tongue by that College of St. Declan's, he appealed to them one and all, old and young, to do their best and utmost in that noble cause. They would now have the pleasure of hearing and seeing some capable interpreters of really Irish music, song, dance, story-telling, etc., and he therefore concluded by appealing to them to be "truly Irish of the Irish" (applause).

The Rev. Fr. Swaine, Rector of Knockbeg College, Carlow, and Michl. Ua Conchabhair having spoken, the entertainment opened with a well-rendered chorus by the College Choir, under the conductorship of Miss O'Meara. Later on they rendered in fine style an Irish "Ode of Welcome" composed by Michael O'Conchabhair, and which was warmly applauded. Amongst the dance items were 4, 6 and 8-hand reels, tripped in a manner that showed the art was carefully looked after. The Erin's Own Pipers' Band contributed several selections which were loudly encored.

Amongst the other items were—Dance, Muiris O'Millea, Eileen Delahunty, Tullamore; recitation, Seumas O'Brice, violin, Maire O'Mara, Conmel; pipes, Labhras O'Callahan; song, Deaglan Suipéal, Ardmore; song, Liam O h-Uallagh, Cork; duet, P. O'Sullivan and Ellis Buckley, Cork; story-telling, Sean O'Muirgheasa, Lismore; song, Michael Ceitinn, Kerry; song, Nicolas Tobin, An Rinn; song, Brid Ni Gadhra, Camphire; song, Deaglan O'Niingsigh, Ardmore.

Youghal Notes.

THE RACES.

As will be seen by our advertisement columns, this popular sporting fixture will come off on the old Sloblands Course on August Bank Holiday. The organisation being in the hands of a thoroughly live committee, visitors to Youghal on that day may confidently look forward to a most enjoyable evening's sport. Our attention has been drawn to a very peculiar error, to say the least of it, in the advertisement of the Villiers-stown event in last week's issue. It states that the Youghal Horse and Pony Races are to be held on August 2nd. As this may lead to some confusion amongst the readers of the "Observer," we take the liberty of calling their attention to it.

YOUGHAL REGATTA AND FIREWORKS.

The new Urban Council has given more evidence of its determination to be up and doing, during its very short life so far, than some of its predecessors in quite a long span. The Municipal Amusement Committee have already had the splendid No. 2 Army Band down to perform on the Strand and in the Green Park on Sunday. And at a recent meeting summoned by Mr. Joe Power, U.D.C., a much bigger scheme in the amusement line was launched, viz., the revival of that well-known Youghal People's Regatta and Fireworks. The project was adopted unanimously and various practical steps were taken to put it into execution. Mr. Power has also suggested that Youghal, like other towns, ought to get up a Civic Week. And why not? Some neighbouring towns have already had their Civic Week, attended with much success. We may rest assured that our new administrators will leave nothing undone to push the town ahead.

FAMOUS DANGERS.

Once again Mr. Atkin, the presiding genius of the Strand Palace, is to the fore. This time he is pleased to announce to his many patrons that he has secured the exclusive services of those world-famous ball-room dancers—Brian and Dolores—world's professional Tango champions, Paris, 1927, for the coming fortnight. They will be taking up their duties at once, which should greatly help to popularise this already popular seaside dancing resort. "Brian and Dolores" will act as host and hostess during the nightly dancing from 9.30 to 11.30 p.m., and will be giving class lessons every Tuesday and Friday nights from 7 p.m. till 9 p.m. prior to the Whist Drives. Private lessons can be booked daily from 10 a.m. onwards.

Youghal dancers have surely a dancing feast served up this season. The Strand Palace is one of the most beautiful dance halls in Ireland. Mr. Atkin is always providing some new sensation for his patrons. Jack Kelleher and his London Mayfair Band have made themselves immensely popular by their renderings of dance rhythm and music, and lastly "Brian and Dolores" to stimulate and supervise the fun, and turn budding champions into the real thing, is surely enough to pack any dance hall to capacity.

YOUGHAL REGATTA.

A large and representative meeting was held in the Town Hall on Monday night, and amongst those present were: Messrs. J. R. Smyth, P.C., Chr. U.D.C. (moved to the chair); J. Power, U.D.C.; Capt. P. Dunne, U.D.C.; T. Murphy, U.D.C.; C. P. Carroll, Harbour Master; M. D. Broderick U.D.C.; G. Dickenson; P. Power; J. Murphy; D. Linahan, U.D.C.; E. Clancy, U.D.C.; T. Harrington, U.D.C.; P. J. Meade; P. J. O'Gorman, P.C., U.D.C.; W. O'Brien; J. Ahearne; M. Buttimer; M. H. Walsh, Town Clerk; R. Hurst; J. Quain; J. Kennedy, U.D.C.; C. Terry.

Mr. J. Power addressing those present, said his object in calling the meeting was to put before them the question of reviving the old regatta and fireworks, which had not taken place for some years past. It was only right and proper that an important town like Youghal, situated as it was by river and sea should have its annual regatta and fireworks.

Mr. M. H. Walsh was appointed Hon. Sec., with Messrs. Joe Power and Jack Murphy as assistant secs.

After a short discussion it was unanimously decided to hold the event on the 29th August. Having appointed the usual Committees, and disposed of much routine business the meeting adjourned.

Cappoquin Regatta

All arrangements are now complete for the Cappoquin Blackwater Regatta to be held on Wednesday, August 1st, under the auspices of the Cappoquin Rowing Club, and from the present outlook everything points to the event being one of the finest sporting fixtures seen on the beautiful Blackwater for many years. It is a long time since so many outside crews were seen competing at any regatta in Cappoquin as will be seen on Wednesday next, as senior, maiden, junior and under-age crews have entered from Shandon and Lee Clubs (Cork), Shannon and Athlunkard (Limerick), New Ross, Clonmel, Carrick and Waterford, and with four local crews from Cappoquin, viz., senior, maiden, junior and under-age, it can be seen that there will be plenty of competition in each event, and some close and thrilling finishes may be safely looked forward to.

The races will be rowed over the old course from Dromana Rock up to the Steamer Quay, and no more enchanting scenery can be found anywhere than the rich and varied panorama of luxuriant sylvan beauty which sur-

A special feature of the company is the travelling orchestra of first-class musicians, including a golden harp. Seats can be booked at the hall, from 22 to 1.15 daily.

A PATHETIC SCENE.

On Monday evening a pathetic incident was witnessed at Garrahan when Mr. Park, Barry and his wife and young family were evicted from their home under process of law. Court messengers and guards were in attendance and everything in the house was put outside for removal. The children on arrival home from school cried piteously as they saw the familiar homestead turned against them. With kindly consideration Miss Coleman, Garrahan, placed a house at the disposal of Mr. Barry and his family, while his neighbours also gave him every assistance required.

LOCAL PRIZE-WINNERS AT CLONMEL.

At Clonmel Show, which opened on Wednesday, Mr. R. Shanahan, Kilmacnahan, was awarded 1st prize in heavy-weight hunters, 2nd in hunters up to 13st. and 2nd in 4-year-old hunters 13-7 and over. Mr. B. Crotty, Tramore, was awarded 2nd in heavy-weight hunters and 3rd in hunters' class up to 13st. 7lbs. For the best 4-year-old hunter up to 13st. 7lbs. Miss D. Musgrave, "Dunrae," was 1st in the Open Jumping Competition. Mr. W. Tobin, Glen, Kilsheelan, was 1st with Greg Pearl, and Mr. M. Costin's Flying Machine was 3rd. In the Jumping Competition for horses 4 years old and under Mr. P. Cusack's "Fair Knight" was 2nd.

"FLYING MACHINE" KILLED.—END OF A WELL-KNOWN JUMPER.

At Clonmel Show on Wednesday evening when Mr. M. Costin, Old Parish, on his well-known performer "Flying Machine" was going over the jumps with General McKee's "An Craobh Ruadh" (ridden by Cyril Hart) to a double 2nd prize-winner in the Open Jumping Competition a sad accident occurred. On reaching the double bank Mr. Costin's horse slipped when about to take off and struck himself violently against the bank, while Mr. Costin, who rode him, was pitched out of the saddle and landed at the other side receiving only slight injuries. "Flying Machine," however, was so badly injured as to be unable to rise though many willing hands rushed to his assistance. Subsequently the horse was removed to another part of the field, where a humane killer was requisitioned and the animal put out of pain. Congratulations were tendered to Mr. Costin on his escape from injury coupled with regret for the loss of this fine jumper "Flying Machine," for which he had refused £150.

She passed peacefully away fortified by the rites of Holy Church. R.I.P. Her remains were removed to the Parish Church on Thursday evening, and the funeral takes place to Lismore to-day (Friday).

WAR MEMORIAL TABLET UNVEILED AT DUNGARVAN.

A most impressive service took place at St. Mary's Church on Thursday afternoon when the Right Rev. Robert Miller, Lord Bishop of the Diocese, unveiled a Memorial Tablet to the two soldier sons of Sir John Nugent, Bart., and nephews of Charles Nugent-Humble, Esq., of Clonckrairie. The tablet, which is a very beautiful and artistic work in alabaster, contains the crest and arms of the Nugent family, so long associated with Dungarvan and district, and the following inscription:—"In Loving Memory of Gilbert Richard de la Poer Nugent, Commander R.N.; born 1884; died 1927; and of Gerald William Nugent, Captain Royal Irish Rifles and Staff Officer 29th Infantry Brigade, B.E.F.; born 1886; killed in action at Gallipoli, 1915. The only sons of Sir John Nugent, Baronet, and Lady Nugent."

The church was filled with a large congregation and the ex-servicemen of the town attended in full strength. "The Supreme Sacrifice" was beautifully sung by the choir, the solo being taken by Mr. Kidd. The church was decorated in mauve and white, and after the withdrawal of the flag a wreath of poppies was laid at the foot of the memorial by a representative of the ex-servicemen. The Last Post and Reveille were sounded by Mr. McHugh, and with the singing of the hymn, "Fight the Good Fight," the impressive ceremony came to an end. The service was read by the Rev. J. Goins, Rector of the Parish, and Ven. Archdeacon Burkhitt read the Lesson. Amongst those present were—Mrs. Nugent, Mrs. Nugent, Mrs. Odell, Mr. C. Nugent, Humble, Mrs. Furlong and Miss Furlong, Mr. and Mrs. Usher.

Youghal Urban Council.

Present—Mr. J. R. Smyth, P.C. presiding; Mrs. Hurley, Messrs. P. J. McMahon, P.C.; P. Kenneally, vice-chairman; T. Harrington, J. Power, E. Clancy, Capt. P. Dunne, D. Dennehy, T. Beausang, P. J. O'Gorman, P.C.; E. J. Limehan, M. D. Broderick, W. J. Broderick, M. J. Fleming, E. P. Lynch.

Lavatory on Strand.
Mr. O'Gorman called attention to the great want of a public lavatory on the Strand. The question had been before the council long since, but there was some difficulty regarding the site, etc. After some discussion it was unanimously decided to proceed with the project as quickly as possible, subject to the opinion of their legal adviser on the question of the site.

McCurstainstown Sewer.
The Town Surveyor reported that having inspected the Lock sewage tank at MacCurstainstown, at high and low water, he observed that at high water the upper end of the tank overflowed slightly at one corner. This could be remedied by raising the wall one foot high. During the hot weather it would be advisable to use more disinfectant, but they could find no odour emanating from the surroundings. The caretaker had been directed to clean and whitewash the place regularly.

The Chairman said that on last Friday the Town Clerk, the Town Surveyor, the Vice-Chairman and himself had visited the place. He agreed with their surveyor's report. They found no odour whatever. He was sure the steps ordered to be taken would put an end to all cause of complaint.

Mr. Dennehy, on behalf of the people on the Strand, thanked the Chairman and Council for their promptitude in the matter.

After Excursions.
Mrs. Hurley called attention to the objectionable condition of the Strand after Sundays and Wednesdays' excursions.

Mr. Dennehy supported Mrs. Hurley's complaint.

Mr. McMahon—Don't give us too many Strand grievances at one meeting or we will be getting embarrassed (laughter).

Generous Visitor.
A letter was read from Mr. James Daly, Cork, forwarding a cheque for £15, his promised contribution towards the improvements of the men's bathing place (applause).

Chairman—We are very grateful to Mr. Daly.

The Clerk said that, as instructed, he had written to Father O'Connor, informing him that the council unanimously resented his reference to an official, Mr. Troy, and that the byelaw regarding the position of motor cars on Sundays should be complied with. He (the Clerk) had received a reply stating that he (Father O'Connor) thought he was dealing with a Catholic Board and that he was not breaking any rule as he had the permission of the previous chairman for leaving his car outside the church.

Mr. Dennehy said having been once an official himself he understood Mr. Troy's difficult position, and he was in agreement with the council. He suggested that if the Town Clerk were to interview the rev. gentleman the matter might be cleared up much more satisfactorily than by correspondence. "A soft answer turneth away wrath" (laughter).

Mr. McMahon objected to the tone of the rev. gentleman's letter. For the past three years there was never any question of religious or political bias before the council, and they would continue to keep the like outside. They would deal with the matter as it affected their rules and regulations, not otherwise.

Capt. Dunne pointed out that the letter stated the late chairman gave permission.

Mr. W. Broderick—I question that, Capt. Dunne said there was evidently some misunderstanding. If the thing was taken quietly there would be no more heard about it.

Mr. Broderick said he would not deal with the spirit of the letter, but with facts. Owing to the great congestion caused by cars being left on the narrow street outside the church the council were asked to make some regulations, and it was then decided that the only cars to be allowed there were those bringing sick or delicate people, an Inspector being appointed to see the regulations carried out. If the Inspector could not carry out his instructions they might as well withdraw him. He suggested to let the matter drop for the present.

The Chairman said the council put the Inspector there in the interests of the public safety, and no one should be allowed break the rules. He agreed with Mr. Broderick's suggestion to let the matter rest for the present.

Mr. Kenneally—it is to be clearly understood that the byelaws will be carried out.

Chairman—Most decidedly.

Military Band Promenades.

The Clerk stated that Mr. O'Gorman, the Chairman, Mr. Broderick and himself waited on Col. Hayes and Lieut. Duff in connection with procuring the No. 2 Army Band for promenades at Youghal. They were received most courteously and the Colonel agreed that the band would play at Youghal on Wednesdays and Thursdays—in the afternoon on the Strand and in the evening in the Green Park, the committee to provide the fares and refreshments. The Amusement committee were also taking steps to hold a Tennis Tournament in the Park.

Mr. Broderick said they were deeply grateful to Col. Hayes and Lieut. Duff for the very great privilege they were conferring on Youghal in giving the people the services of that splendid band free. He was sure both the visitors and townspeople would adequately appreciate the privilege. He had much pleasure in proposing that their Clerk convey to Col. Hayes and Lieut. Duff an expression of their sincere thanks.

Mr. McMahon said he had great pleasure in seconding.

Other members having supported the proposition, it was passed with acclamation.

Complimentary references were made to the members of the deputation who waited on Col. Hayes.

Mr. O'Gorman said Col. Hayes deserved their best thanks for the kind way he received and treated them. As regards the eulogistic references to the deputation, he thought this was not for the Press (laughter).

Capt. Dunne—I object everything must go to the Press (laughter).

Mr. McMahon—I agree with Capt. Dunne.

Mr. O'Gorman said none of them would like to see the council turned into a Mutual Admiration Society (laughter). Their remarks might not always be suitable for publication. Chairman—To be censured by Capt. Dunne (laughter).

Committees.

In connection with the appointment of committees, Mr. Dennehy said that a committee of the whole council of 21 was summoned to attend the last meeting of the Library Committee and only two attended.

Mr. Fleming said it was ridiculous to elect members on committees without first asking their consent.

Gas and Water Committee.

The Chairman said as regards the Gas and Water Committee, the previous one made some 30 to 35 visits to the Gas Works and Head Works at Bould.

Capt. Dunne said it was stated in the Press that they had held only three meetings.

Clerk—That was said jocosely.

Fair Field and Strand.

Mr. W. Broderick said he saw that the staff cleared up the Fair Field after every fair. He thought it would be more important to clean up the Strand after the excursions on Wednesdays and Sundays.

Mr. M. Broderick—Both should be done.

Mr. Dennehy said the Strand was a valuable industry, which should be fostered.

Captain Dunne said it was all about the Strand. What about the North Ward and the Centre. They required some attention.

Mr. Harrington called attention to the condition of Green's Quay. It was in a bad state.

The Chairman said being a member for the North Ward he would naturally like to see it get a share of care. It was a matter of divided attention. He agreed with Mr. Harrington. As regards the Strand, it was a great inducement to strangers to come to Youghal.

Mr. O'Gorman said he didn't like to hear the council dividing itself up into wards. They were there in the interest of the whole town.

Chairman—For the general good. Those matters can be rectified by the staff.

Fairs.
Mr. Power said he had been informed that he cattle-dealers of Fermoy contemplated holding a second cattle fair every month—on the third Monday. That was Youghal fair day, and it would be most unfair to have Fermoy hold a fair on that day also. He thought they should take some action in the matter.

Mr. Broderick said he was surprised. He had heard nothing about it.

Mr. Kenneally—It is correct.

Mr. Broderick said the towns of Fermoy and Youghal were too near each other to hold a fair on the same day.

Chairman—Youghal fair is of long standing.

The Clerk was directed to write to the Cattle Trade Association on the matter.

Great Southern Railway Co. and Youghal.
Mr. O'Gorman called attention to the unfair treatment Youghal was getting at the hands of the Great Southern Railway Co. They advertised 16-day excursions all over the Free State—to Dingle, Dungarvan, Carrivick, and numerous other places, but the name of Youghal was conspicuous by its absence. Youghal was the best paying piece of line in almost the whole system in summer time. Why then should the premier bathing resort of the South be excluded from their 16-day excursion scheme. It was either a sign of very bad business or of something else very hard to fathom. Youghal was one of their best plums, and the treatment of it by the company was incomprehensible. He suggested that the matter be taken up again.

On the suggestion of the Chairman, the Clerk was directed to write to the Cork Traffic Department.

Great Religious Jubilee in Limerick.

DIAMOND JUBILEE OF ARCH-CONFRATERNITY.

SERMON BY MOST REV. DR. HACKETT.

The Diamond Jubilee of the Arch-Confraternity of the Holy Family Limerick, on Sunday was one of the greatest religious displays ever witnessed in this holy land. In addition to the home population thousands of excursionists came by special trains from all parts of the land to take part in the celebrations.

His Eminence Cardinal Van Rossum, Perfect of Propaganda, came over specially from Rome for the occasion accompanied by Very Rev. Dr. Murray, Superior-General of the Redemptorist Order, while in addition a number of Irish and American Bishops and distinguished priests were present.

The Freedom of the ancient City of Limerick was conferred on H. E. Cardinal Van Rossum and Very Rev. Dr. Murray by the Mayor and Corporation of the City. The procession through the streets of Limerick on Sunday afternoon was three miles long and was the most imposing and inspiring ever seen.

ADDRESS BY MOST REV. DR. HACKETT.

Most Rev. Dr. Hackett, Bishop of Waterford and Lismore, delivered the jubilee sermon from a pulpit arranged on the platform near the altar. In the course of an eloquent discourse His Lordship referred to the words in his text from the first chapter of the Gospel of St. Luke, which announced the mystery of the Incarnation to man and said a new King was born, and of His Kingdom there should be no end. In His public career the King proclaimed to the world that he came as King, and that the whole of His Kingdom was not of that world, that no power on earth or in hell could destroy it. His Lordship traced the history of the Church founded on the instructions of the King, and described the progress by leaps and bounds under the motto of the Divine Redeemer. Notwithstanding persecution and attempts to destroy the seed that had been planted by the King, the Church continued its work and thousands upon thousands of people now believed that Christ was King, and that of His Kingdom there should be no end. He need not go further than point to the scene they witnessed in Limerick that day to show that was so. They had living proof of the Kingdom of Christ exhibited in most beautiful and touching forms.

They celebrated the golden jubilee of the Confraternity which had a very humble beginning, but it had grown and developed like the seed of the King, and it was now the largest Confraternity in the world. His Eminence Cardinal Van Rossum came to them with something eminently valuable when he came to their ceremonies and brought them the blessing of the Vicar of Christ. His Eminence would convey their appreciation and gratitude to the Holy Father for such a great benefit, and tell His Holiness that they received his blessing with heartfelt affection. The people of Limerick had given wonderful proof of their affection to the Holy Father, and also to the Church and religion by their celebrations that day, especially in the decorations that had been erected, and he was certain that endless blessings would be bestowed upon them in the great and glorious work in which they were engaged. For four and a half-years he himself occupied the position of Director of their Confraternity, and he could bear testimony to the grand spirit that actuated its members, the purity of their lives, and that spirit of self-sacrifice they would call into assistance in defence of faith and every principle of morality. Its effect on the city was acknowledged by everyone. The saintly Bishops who had occupied the See of St. Munchin's had paid their tributes to their lives and services, and he was sure that the present esteemed Bishop of the diocese would also pay them their just tribute, especially in connection with their work and its influence on the work of religion. Certain individuals might cast slurs at them, but he could tell them that the fair name of the Confraternity was above all reproach. It would always be a mighty engine for good in their city. His Lordship then referred to the devotions of the Confraternity, especially devotion to the Blessed Eucharist, and added that they should continue in future the glorious work they were doing in upholding the traditions of the past, and in spreading the inner life of the Kingdom of Jesus Christ.

MESSAGE TO THE POPE.
It was afterwards announced by his Lordship, the Bishop of Waterford, that a message was being conveyed by his Eminence, Cardinal Van Rossum from that gathering to the Holy Father in the following terms:—"15,000 members of the Arch-Confraternity of the Holy Family coming from Limerick and other parts of Ireland to celebrate the Golden Jubilee of the 60th year of existence of the greatest Confraternity in the World, at Limerick, present to your Holiness the homage of their filial devotion and of their inviolable attachment to the See of Rome, and humbly demand the Apostolic Blessing."

Cardinal Van Rossum afterwards imparted his blessing to the assemblage, and with the rendering of the Dutch National Anthem the impressive ceremonies terminated.

LECTURE ON THE BETTER ORGANISATION OF THE PUBLIC SERVICES.

By Professor Johnson, M.A.

In the Town Hall, Dungarvan, on Wednesday, 24th inst., Professor Johnson, M.A., Barrington Lecturer, Trinity College, Dublin, delivered an interesting lecture on "The Better Organisation of the Public Services." The lecture was under the auspices of the County Joint Committee of Technical Education, and Mr. Lanigan, the able Secretary of the committee, had the meeting organised in his usual capable manner.

Mr. M. Brennock, Chairman U.D.C., presided, and there was a good attendance.

In the course of his lecture, Professor Johnson said that economy in the true sense means getting the best possible results with the means at our disposal. These results cannot be achieved unless all public services local (e.g., County Council, Municipal (e.g., Urban Council) and National, are organised on a systematic basis, in relation to one another and the work they have to do.

The need for reform of local Government is appreciated by the National Government, but the machinery of National Government is itself not above criticism. It is possible that the right kind of reform of local Government might simplify and cheapen the cost of all Government, both national and local, while adding to the real freedom of local communities.

Local and municipal government in this country has up till recently suffered from confusions of the functions of deliberation and administration, and from the confused and piecemeal origin of its legal powers. Now that expert administration is better provided for, there should be some relaxation of Central control, and an extension of the functions of local administration, so as to include aspects of social policy, e.g., Old Age Pensions and Health Insurance, now managed by Departmental agents of the State, throughout the country, and not co-ordinated with these portions of social policy which are administered by the local authorities.

There should be one Civic Organiser or Commissioner in each county capital in touch not only with County Council work, but with the local activities of State agents, e.g., Old Age Pension Officers, Unemployment and Labour Exchange Officials, and in touch also with the officials who have the administration of the economic policies of the Ministries of Agriculture, Commerce, etc.

At present when an economic inquiry is on foot there is no one official who knows all about this district from a general, economic and administrative point of view, who could be applied to for information. Hence information, which, in a sensible administered country, would be obtained by return of post, takes years and costs thousands of pounds to ascertain.

Central departments of the National Government also suffer from a failure to co-ordinate their own work. Each has its own economic, social or financial policy, and they gain the ear of the Executive Council, one after another. The result is that there is no effective consideration of financial policy, in its economic aspects, and even in economic matters, instead of one comprehensive and consistent economic policy, we have nearly as many as we have Departments of the Central Government. And they are frequently inconsistent with one another. To remedy this a co-ordinating National Economic Council to advise the Government, the Oireachtas, and the public, is needed.

A hearty vote of thanks to the lecturer was moved by the Chairman, seconded by Mr. T. J. Power, and supported by Mr. John Curran, to which Professor Johnson suitably replied.

OPEN WALTZ COMPETITION AT STRAND PALACE, YOUGHAL.

On Saturday night, 21st inst., there was a new departure in the varied programmes arranged by the management of the Strand Palace, Youghal. It had been announced previously that there would be an open Waltz Competition, and the large gathering testified to the great interest it had evoked. Dancing continued until 12.30 p.m., when Brian and Dolores gave an exhibition of the different dancing steps, which was received with decided enthusiasm. On the completion of the exhibition the Waltz Competition was announced and 32 couples from all over Munster participated. The competition was judged by Brian and Dolores. So as to be in a proper position to judge the dancing they ran the competition in heats. When the dancers had been reduced to four couples the judges gave their decision.

Mr. R. L. Atkins, the proprietor, at the conclusion of the competition, presented two silver cups to the winning couple amid loud applause.

Another feature of the evening was the "Miraball," which incidentally is the first of its kind in use in the Free State. This is an ingenious arrangement of revolving mirrors, which throws hundreds of small light reflections all over the hall, giving the effect of falling snow.

ARCHDEACON'S STRONG CONDEMNATION OF SUNDAY GREYHOUND RACING.

Speaking at St. Nicholas's Catholic Church, Carrick-on-Suir, Ven. Archdeacon Sheehy, P.P., D.D., V.F., said he had Episcopal authority to condemn the greyhound racing fixtures in that Catholic parish as an outrage upon the sanctity of the Lord's Day and an insult to the deep religious sense of the people of the parish. This so-called Sunday sport would not be permitted in Protestant England and would be scouted in Orange Belfast.

Waterford County Board of Public Assistance.

The annual meeting of the above was held in Dungarvan on Wednesday. Members present were—Messrs. Ald. T. Dunne, P. Brett, J. Cosgrave, P. Caulfield.

ELECTION OF CHAIRMAN. Mr. Dunne was moved to the chair. The Secretary stated that owing to the action of the County Council they were in the position that no members from that body were appointed on that board.

Chairman—I think that we should postpone the election of a permanent chairman.

Secretary—You must appoint a chairman at this annual meeting.

Mr. Cosgrave—It is not fair to take this advantage.

Mr. Brett—We have no option. I am as reluctant as any other member to elect a chairman, but it must be done.

On a proposition by Mr. Caulfield, seconded by Mr. Brett, Mr. Dunne was declared elected.

Mr. Dunne thanked the board for his election.

COMMITTEES. It was decided to allow the existing committees to continue until all members were appointed to the board.

REPORT OF ENGINEER. Mr. Jephson, engineer, reported on the vacant buildings in Waterford Hospital and gave the estimate for all work at £2,600.

Mr. Cosgrave—I don't agree with a new entrance to Passage road and also the plastering of the building, which I think would hold for a long while yet. The matter should be referred back to Mr. Jephson again.

Secretary—It is as a result of a letter from the Department that Mr. Jephson reports.

Chairman—I think a separate entrance is needed, but the expense is high.

Mr. Brett—I am not for a separate entrance unless it is compulsory.

It was decided to refer the matter back to the engineer for further report.

HOME ASSISTANCE.—INCREASE IN CITY. Mr. Jephson, Superintendent Assistance Officer, in his report stated that conditions had improved in country districts. This was balanced by an increase in the city, due to unemployment.

FINANCE. The monthly financial statement showed a credit balance of £2,569 16s. 9d.

HOLIDAYS. Applications for holidays from some of the board's employees were dealt with and the usual annual leave granted.

RESOLUTION. The resolution passed by the County Council asking for an inquiry by the L.G.B. into the working arrangement of the Board of Public Assistance was before the meeting.

Chairman—Do you approve of the resolution? Mr. Caulfield. We do not.

Mr. Cosgrave—We put it plain before.

Chairman—The city man's views are already well known.

Mr. Cosgrave—It would be better to do nothing or else we would have to disapprove of it.

The resolution was marked "read."

SCALE OF SALARIES. Consideration of the question of adopting a suitable scale of salaries for the dispensary midwives in the board's employment was before the board.

It was decided to adopt the scale of salaries suggested by the Nurses' Union.

Dungarvan Urban Council. TWO MEMBERS CO-OPTED.

A meeting of the above was held on Friday last. Mr. M. Brennock, chairman, presided. Also present—Messrs. J. Moloney, J. Curran, T. J. Power, D. Foley, M. Clancy, M. Keane, T. Power, J. Butler, W. O'Donnell, B. Dee and T. McCarthy.

On a proposition by Mr. Butler, seconded by Mr. McCarthy, it was unanimously decided to co-opt Mr. M. Griffin and Mr. J. Hackett to fill the vacancies in the South-West Ward.

Goods. A resolution to the effect that in future no goods could be obtained unless by a written order from the Town Clerk's Office was passed.

Lamp-posts. In connection with the removal of the lamp-posts, Mr. Bowen wrote stating that if the council could prove that the posts were their property and were ready to pay the cost of removal and storage, he would place the matter in his solicitor's hands and act in accordance with his advice.

Flooding of the Weighbridge. The board received a letter from their solicitor in connection with the flooding of the weighbridge.

The board agreed that the solicitor should prosecute the County Council, and an order to that effect was made.

Additions. A letter from the solicitor in connection with the addition built by Miss Broderick, Abbeyside, to her existing premises stated that steps should be taken to compel Miss Broderick to remove the addition. An agreement which would ensure that no difficulty would arise if at a future date the council required possession of the premises should be signed.

Why do eight people out of ten ride Raleighs?
Because they know that the Raleigh All-Steel Bicycle is the very best—and the best is the cheapest in the long run.

COUNT THEN ON THE ROAD.

Almost every Bicycle is a Raleigh—at least nine out of ten are Raleighs—WHY? Because a Raleigh is better value—more reliable—more comfortable, and more lasting than cheaper makes.

This season I have sold a record number of 82 Raleighs, and I am hoping to be able to double this figure before the season ends. Therefore be one of the many and buy a Raleigh.

KILL SPORTS MEETING.

Kill annual cycling and athletic sports were held (under N.A. and C.A. Rules) in the local Sportsfield on Sunday evening before a crowd of upwards of 1,000 spectators. The meeting panned out, in every sense of the word, an unqualified success. Conditions climatical were most appreciable, and venue arrangements even practically perfect. Mr. Tom McGrath in the capacity of handicapper and starter, fulfilled his functions in faultless fashion, and conducted a tall-timed card in good time. The various events programmed produced very keenly contested competitions. The Ballyduff A.C. entrants rendered a magnificent account of themselves and succeeded in "collaring" most of the "pols." Portlaw Pipers' Band were present on the grounds and rendered some beautiful Irish-Ireland airs at intervals throughout the evening. The players were picturesquely attired in Celtic costumes and their efforts to please were repeatedly applauded. The energetic body of local gentlemen who organised the fixture cannot be too highly complimented upon the immeasurable amount of success achieved by their excellent endeavours in co-operation.

The promoters were:—Messrs. P. Cummins (President); Thomas Hayes, (Treasurer); Jas Cummins (Secretary); Denis O'Sullivan; Thomas Walsh, P.C.; Nicholas Fitzgerald, M.C.C.; J. Cooney; M. Hayes; Patk. Hayes; Jas. Power; J. J. Walsh; Ed. Casey; F. Murphy; James Casey; D. McGrath; Patk. Whelan; Andrew Kirwan; Mce. Walsh and John Kiersey.

At the conclusion of the last event the prizes—all costly, attractive and servicable articles—were presented to the winners by Rev. M. Dowley, C.C., Mount Patrick, assisted by Mr. T. Walsh, P.C.

DEATH.

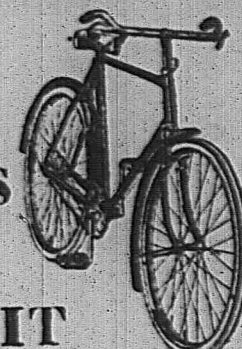

We regret to announce the death of Mr. Thomas Hallahan (senr.) Knockmahon, which sad event occurred on the 21st inst., at a comparatively early age. Deceased was a God-fearing, industrious man, whose simple, honest and consistent patriotism had won the respect of all who knew him. May he rest in peace. There was a very large attendance at the interment which took place in the family burial grounds, Kill cemetery, after requiem Mass on Monday, Rev. M. Dowley, C.C., was the officiating clergyman.

BREVITIES.

The present welcome heat-spell is being availed of by the farmers. The click of the mowing-machine makes pleasant music among the hedgerows. The peasant portion of the parliens have realised that it jolly well pays "to make hay while the sun shines." Serious loss is liable to be incurred by having any of the more valuable feeding properties of the crop rendered useless, if not positively injurious, by being allowed to grow into indigestible fibre. IRISH COLLEGE, ARDMORE.

A visit to the new widely and well-known Galassie (Naomh) Dhugham, Ardmore, showed it to be a busy hive of mental industry, devoted to the cultivation of the Irish language, music, song and dance. Just at present it is occupied by some 70 or 80 young pupils of Technical Schools, who qualified for a month's free course in Irish. They come from all parts, principally Offaly and Dublin. Class-work for the session has been most satisfactory. Even during the lunch and recreation hour your correspondent heard parties of the young people practising Irish songs in their rooms and around the grounds, both in unison and harmonised. The session will wind up next week-end. Before breaking up and returning to their widely-scattered homes they will hold a farewell concert and perform a couple of amusing Irish plays.

Amongst the professors at present teaching are—Seamus O'Sullivanbeain, Examiner, I.C.S., London; Miss O'Meara (violin and dancing); Michael O'Conchobair, Múiris, O'Foghluhdha (singing); Pádraig O'Millea, Technical Instructor, Co. Waterford; Rev. Fr. Swaine.

Preparations are already being made for next month's course, in which between 300 and 400 teachers will take part, with the object of qualifying for the Ard-Theastas, bi-lingual and leas-tas certificates. Although the accommodation afforded by the college is ample for ordinary demands, a large proportion of next month's students must put up in the village and surrounding vicinity. However, under the capable management of Mical O'Foghluhdha and his staff, every detail is carefully seen to.

are producing pretty heavy yields on all sides.

Sister M. Prosper Walsh, of the Presentation Nunnery stationed at Ceylon, has just concluded a vacation to her native land. She is sister to Mrs. Ellen Buckley, Shankill, Kilmacthomas; and to Messrs. John and David Walsh of Ballyvaden, Kill. She has been away in Ceylon over the past 42 years, and in all that time she was unable to visit Ireland, save on two occasions—the first being about 15 years ago. Sister Prosper is keeping remarkably well, and, needless to state, she was delighted at being afforded the opportunity of seeing old friends and old scenes once more.
