Cappoquin District Court.

Before Mr. T. G. O'Sullivan, Acting D.J.

Claim for Possession.

Mrs. Lena Gillan summoned Mrs. Kate Mason for possession of a house held as a weekly tenant in Mill street, Cappoquin.

Mr. O'Gorman, solr., Lismore, for complainant, and Mr. Carroll, solr., Fermoy, defended.

The facts showed that Mrs. Gillan purchased the house in which Mrs. Mason resides from the Sisters of Mercy, Cappoquin, the former owners, some years ago, complainant since continuing to live in the house next door with her father and mother and two brothers, one of whom is an ex-British soldier and a confirmed invalid. She stated that she now requires Mrs. Mason's house for her invalid brother and herself as she intends to live with him and nurse him, but defendant had refused to give up possession although served with the usual notice to quit.

Complainant having detailed the facts, in reply to Mr. O'Gorman, was cross-examined by Mr. Carroll and asked what family Mrs. Mason had, and she admitted that she had six children.

Replying to further questions, she said her invalid brother had been living in the same house with their father and mother for the past seven years, during which time she nursed him, but it was necessary to remove him into the next house now.

Mr. Carroll—Is it your case then that in order to provide one room for your invalid brother Mrs. Mason and her six young children must be thrown out on the roadside?

Complainant—There is no question of throwing them out on the roadside at all, as there was a house next door to her vacant for three months, and I told her at the time that she should take that, as I would require possession of her house later, but she made no effort to do so.

After further cross-examination, Mr. Carroll said they had no evidence so far that Mrs. Mason had ever been served with a notice to quit or that possession of the house had ever been demanded from her.

Mr. O'Gorman then examined Mr. Mooney, rent collector for the Sisters of Mercy, who stated that he served notice to quit on Mrs. Mason, and later demanded possession, which she refused to give up, but witness gave no dates of either transaction.

Mr. Carroll asked Mr. O'Gorman if that closed his case, and the latter replied in the affirmative.

Mr. Carroll said in that event, without going into the merits of the case at all, he should ask for a dismissal on the grounds that no date was given when the notice to quit was served, no date was given when possession of the house was demanded and refused, and they had no evidence whatever to show whether the notice to quit was in order or not.

Justice—I am afraid, Mr. O'Gorman, if Mr. Carroll insists on his point I will have no alternative but to dismiss the case.

Mr. O'Gorman contended that he had proved the case fully, and said that even if it were dismissed on those grounds it could be brought on again for the next court.

Mr. Carroll said he was not afraid of this threat, and repeated his application for a dismissal and claimed 20s. costs for defendant.

The Justice then dismissed the case, but refused to allow any costs.

Abusive and Threatening Language.

Mr. Kennedy, Woodstock, summoned Mrs. Mary Reynolds for having used abusive and threatening language towards him, and applied to have her bound to the peace.

Mr. Hodnett, solr., Youghal, for complainant, and Mr. O'Gorman, Lismore, for defendant.

Mr. Hodnett said that defendant's husband had been originally in Mr. Kennedy's employment, and was allowed a free house as part of his perquisites. Mr. Kennedy having found it necessary to dispense with his services towards the end of last year, obtained an ejectment decree against him for the house last January. When a special bailiff named O'Neill, who was accompanied by Sergt. Keogh, Cappagh, came to execute the ejectment decree Mr. Kennedy was present, and the defendant then used abusive and threatening language towards him for which he now asked to have her bound to the peace.

Complainant, examined by Mr. Hodnett, said the language used towards him by Mrs. Reynolds on the occasion was not fit to be repeated in court.

Justice—You must tell us what she said. Out with it, man; you won't shock anybody here (laughter).

Complainant then handed in a slip of paper to the Justice which, he said, contained some of the more "spicy" remarks used by defendant, and the paper having been handed over to the latter, she admitted that it was correct except the last part of it, which she did not say.

Continuing, complainant said that defendant threatened him further, and in consequence of this threat complainant was since afraid to let his wife pass defendant's house unprotected whenever she wanted to catch a bus.

Cross-examined, complainant admitted that amongst other things said by the defendant on the occasion was: "God grant that you'll see the day when the bailiffs will be on yourself." She also said to the sergeant—I do not want to commit a breach of the peace. Defendant was then examined by Mr. O'Gorman, and said on the day of the eviction it was raining in torrents, and when she saw her furniture and children thrown out on the road she lost her temper and admitted abusing complainant, but she denied having threatened either him or his wife in any way.

Mr. Hodnett called on Mr. O'Gorman to produce a letter which he (Mr. Hodnett) had sent him on May 15th and which he had served notice on him to produce to-day. The letter was then read by Mr. Hodnett, and was to the effect that in consequence of the defendant not having interfered with complainant since February, he was instructed to withdraw all proceedings against Mrs. Reynolds if she promised not to apply for costs. Mr. O'Gorman's reply to that was that they intended to apply for costs, so, continued Mr. Hodnett, we had no alternative but to go on with the case to-day.

Defendant was then cross-examined by Mr. Hodnett. Having given the case a very patient hearing, the Justice said he was satisfied on all the facts he had heard that defendant should be bound to the peace for 12 months, and he accordingly made an order to that effect.

An Unusual Case.

Guard Murray, Villierstown, summoned John Carney, Cornmarket st., Cork, for using a motor cycle on 28th February to which no silencer was attached.

The case had been adjourned by Mr. Farrell, D.J., from the previous court for the production of the Order under which the prosecution was brought, as it was the first case of its kind heard in Cappoquin.

Supt. Mooney, Cappoquin, now produced the Order, and Guard Murray having given evidence of the offence, the Justice asked if the machine were making much noise.

Witness—It was, sir. The din was terrific.

Defendant, who did not appear, was fined 7s. 6d.

Larceny of Wool.

Supt. Mooney, Cappoquin, charged a young man named Louis Lynch, Lismore, with the larceny of two bags of wool, and Owen Long, Camphire, was charged with receiving same knowing it to have been stolen.

Mr. O'Gorman, solr., appeared for both defendants.

It appeared from the particulars of the case that the two bags of wool had been left in Mr. Casey's yard, Lismore, where defendant, Lynch, was employed. Lynch took the wool and sold it to Owen Long, who, in turn, sold it to a neighbouring farmer for £1 2s.

Mr. O'Gorman pleaded guilty for both defendants, and asked to have them dealt with under the Probation of Offenders Act, as they were both men of good character against whom no charge had ever been made before. The wool had now been recovered and they were prepared to pay the £1 2s. to the man who had bought it, so that nobody would suffer over the transaction.

Supt. Mooney said the costs of the prosecution amounted to £3 15s., which the accused should be made pay if they were to be let off under the Probation of Offenders Act.

Mr. O'Gorman, having consulted with his clients, gave a personal guarantee that the entire sum of £4 17s. would be paid by them, and the accused were then discharged under the Probation of Offenders Act.

Forfeiture of Net.

Supt. Mooney applied for an order forfeiting an illegal net captured on the Blackwater recently, and said he understood there would be a fishing prosecution over the same case at the next court.

Sergt. O'Donoghue Killenagh, having given evidence of the seizure of the net, which was an illegal one, the necessary order for its forfeiture was made.

Sent to Industrial School. Mr. Devlin, Inspector N.S.P.C.C., Waterford, applied to have a child named Kathleen O'Donnell, residing in Twigg Lane, Cappoquin, committed to an Industrial School.

The Inspector said the child's father was dead and she was living with her mother, who was in very poor circumstances, her only income being 4s. per week, which an elder daughter was earning from a shopkeeper in Cappoquin. The child was wandering and not under proper control, and when he visited the house on June 16th the

LISMORE NOTES.

SACRED HEART EXCURSION.

The Lismore Sacred Heart Excursion will take place on Sunday, 14th July, and the rendezvous on this occasion is Cork, where the Centenary celebrations conclude in that city on that date. The organisers have done their best to please the majority of the members, and had to take into account various aspects before arriving at a decision. The daily Press announce the arrangements made regarding the Catholic celebrations and we re-ensure a good number from Cappoquin, Lismore, Tallow and Ballyduff will avail of the opportunity of attending Cork on the 14th July. Although the weather was most unfavourable last year for the Sacred Heart Excursion, still an unusually large crowd turned out from Lismore. Special Mass will be celebrated on Sunday, 14th July, at 6.45 a.m., and a special fast train starting from Cappoquin at 8.45 a.m., stopping at Lismore at 9 a.m.; Tallow road and Ballyduff Stations only, is chartered for the occasion, and the return journey from Cork will be made at 9 p.m. Needless to remark, the time mentioned in all cases is summer time. Last year's train arrangements were excellent indeed, and we have an assurance from the railway authorities that no causes of complaint will be heard either on this occasion. We sincerely trust that the weather will be favourable and that a goodly number will avail of the trip. It is expected that our friends from Cappoquin, Tallow and Ballyduff parishes will rise to the occasion this year and equal, if not excel, Lismore parish in numbers. The return fare from Lismore is 4s.

G.A.A.

Abbeyside Hurling Club defeated Ballinacorney Hurling Club on Sunday last at Lismore grounds for the junior county championship honours. Final score:—Abbeyside, 8 goals 2 points; Ballinacorney, 3 goals 1 point. Lismore ladies in a friendly camogie contest on the same venue lowered the laurels of the Ballinacorney camogie team. The latter team should do well later on, and need not be downhearted in their defeat by more experienced camogie players.

ONLY TWO.

Messrs. J. C. Heelan and C. O'Gorman were the only members of Lismore Town Commissioners to put in an appearance at the monthly meeting of that body on Monday night last, and after waiting for an hour the Clerk adjourned the meeting until Monday night next.

PIGS.

The price paid for fat pigs at Lismore live weight market on Wednesday was 70s. per cwt., an increase of 2s. on last week's price.

AT HOME.

Right Rev. Monsignor Joseph Mangan, Min. nesota, and Rev. W. Curran and Rev. A. Kavanagh, both of the Southwark (London) Diocese, are home on holidays. Dr. Peter Mangan U.S.A., is also home with the Rev. Monsignor, and both are brothers of Mr. Pat. Mangan, Carrigrohane, Lismore.

LAWN TENNIS TOURNAMENT.

The Fermoy Tennis Club has presented to the Cappoquin Club a valuable Silver Cup for a Tennis Tournament, which the local Club intends to run off on an early date. Players from Fermoy Club have been frequently invited to an "At Home" Tournament on the splendid Carrigrohane Courts, and as they have not sufficient courts in Fermoy to return the compliment to Cappoquin, they have presented a Silver Cup as a small mark of their gratitude for past hospitality. The Cappoquin Club feel deeply grateful for their kindness and generosity. The Cappoquin Club intend to add another valuable cup, so that a valuable prize will be offered for the winning lady and gentleman.

£75 COMPENSATION.

At the Waterford Circuit Court this week, Mr. Justice Seale awarded Miss O'Brien, Knocknagragh, Dungarvan £75 compensation for injuries received when knocked off her bicycle by a motorist from Waterford named Walsh.

child was out looking for food in a neighbour's house, as there was nothing for her to eat in her own house. The Inspector having described the general state of destitution which he found in the place, the Justice said it would undoubtedly be the best thing that could possibly happen the child to have her sent to an Industrial School where she would be properly fed, clothed and educated, and he then made an order committing her to the Good Shepherd Industrial School, Cork.

Order to Enter Quarry.

John McGrath, road contractor, Boherberry, Cappoquin, applied for an order empowering him to enter a quarry on the farm of Mr. Jas. Tobin, Quarter, Cappoquin, for the purpose of quarrying stones for the upkeep of a road in the district for which he had been appointed contractor.

Wm. Tobin, son of the owner, appeared and said they had no objection to Mr. McGrath using their quarry, but they objected to the amount of damage usually done to the land in such cases.

Mr. McGrath said he would do no damage except what was necessary, and he was prepared to pay for any damage done.

The necessary order was then granted.

KILMATHOMAS NEWS.

ALL ANNUAL FEIS.

Again we would remind our esteemed readers that all the elements which contribute to first-class Irish-Ireland entertainment—teanga agus ceol agus rinne—are liberally listed in the monster programme for the forthcoming big Feis at Kill on to-morrow (Sunday) week. One and all of the artistes engaged for this laudable form of open-air amusement are well-known figures on the Irish-Ireland concert platform—coming on the invitation of Rev. Fr. Dowley, they are bringing with them to Kill all those captivating qualities which have made fame for them in various Gaelic centres in the past. An t-Athair Miceal and his energetic band of organisers are leaving no stone unturned, as the saying goes, to have the forthcoming treat bigger, brighter and better in every shape and form than any Feis cards previously presented to Kill audiences. In aid of the local church and schools, this Feis appreciably appeals in all its aspects. (Vide advt. on present number). Be you not absent!

TURF DIGGING.

Of late, residents adjacent to turf bogs over this neighbourhood are busily engaged in providing their winter fuel, and in consequence the boglands, which at other periods of the year are practically deserted, now present much animated appearances, even though only in miniature as compared with that of olden days, when turf-cutting was more extensively carried out. The scarcity of labour, occasioned by the constant flow of emigration, has left its mark in this respect, with the result that coal has latterly been more widely utilised for household use even in the districts referred to, where turf of the very finest quality is still available.

PERILOUS ROAD POINTS.

During the hearing of the charge of reckless motor car driving preferred against a metropolitan commercial traveller at the local monthly court when a fine of £3 was imposed, Mr. McCabe, D.J., said he knew the Currahah level crossing very well, and it was a most dangerous right-angle turn. During his Worship's five years' connection with the court area, a number of serious accidents had occurred at that particular point, he said. He recalled that a man was killed there not long since, and suggested that special danger signals—should be erected without undue delay on all approaches to it by the proper authority, the County Council or the I.A.A. He knew there were danger signals there already, but these were similar to others set up at less dangerous parts, and, consequently, motorists inclined not to exercise proper precautionary measures nearing exceptionally dangerous crossings or bends. His Worship compared the danger signals erected to what he termed a "wink" to a wholly underlined letter. "If a writer of a letter wishes to emphasise a special statement," remarked the D.J., "he or she will underline that particular part of the letter; but if the entire contents of the letter are underlined the portion requiring to be specially stressed is liable to be missed and the effect desired likely to be lost." He added that the existing system of danger signals looked bad in the light of experience.

Undoubtedly Mr. McCabe's suggestion is an admirable one, and we have no reason to think it will not be speedily acted upon.

CONDOLENCE.

At a special meeting of the members of Kill R.C. Church Choir, held after 11 o'clock Mass on the 30th ult., the following resolution—proposed by Mr. J. A. Lonergan, seconded by Miss B. Power—was passed unanimously:—"That we, the members of the Kill Choir, tender to Rev. Michl. Dowley, C.C., and to the other members of the family of the late Mr. Philip Dowley, our most sincere sympathy in their recent sad bereavement." Miss Power and Mr. Lonergan represented the chance company at the funeral of the late Mr. Philip Dowley, who was interred at Carrickbeg Cemetery (after the celebration of Requiem Office and High Mass for the repose of his soul) on Thursday week, 27th ult.

BRIEFLETS.

Kill junior football XV. failed to keep their promise to field against Stradbally at Ballylaneen on last Sunday, thereby causing considerable disappointment to the organising group, who had gone to much trouble and expense over this fixture. The match was promoted in aid of the local minor hurling Club, and a permit to hold it was granted by the Secretary of the County Executive. The sterling Gaels of Stradbally were true to their word; they turned up ready to field out like the good sports they are. However, we are pleased to think that those who "play the game," either in or out of the Stradbally and Ballylaneen districts, can even survive the shock of so shabby a turn. And that's that!

W. & G. Hadden, Ltd.

Main Street, DUNGARVAN.

Didn't Limerick's inter-county senior hurling and minor football lots get well "walloped" on Sunday? Bravo, ye "Blues" of old Decies! Bonmahon and Stradbally were fairly inundated with sea-trippers last Sabbath evening.

Hay-making operations are in full swing throughout the whole purlieus these days. Ideal weather favours.

An excursion by bus, organised by Mr. John O'Donnell, Glenapooka, Clonea, took place to the Shannon Scheme Works a few days ago, and the outing was immensely enjoyed by all who availed of it.

Epicures and Land Leaguers, fresh from the local potato plots, are now being used on all sides, and are voted extra good this year.

At Kilmathomas on to-morrow (Sunday) the minor grade camanists of Ballylaneen and Kilmathomas will cross ashen-blades in connection with the West Waterford Divisional Board Championship (1929). Mr. Pat Burke (Dunrow H.C.) has been appointed referee. A good game is anticipated.

NATIONAL TEACHERS' PENSION FUND.

At a meeting of the county National Teachers' Association held in Dungarvan on Saturday, Mr. R. J. Collender, Cappoquin, president (in the chair), a discussion took place on the important question of the Teachers' Pension Fund, and grave dissatisfaction was expressed at the manner in which the Government had failed to fulfil their obligations in the matter.

It was pointed out that the teachers' side of the account is solvent, and it is the portion for which the Government is responsible that shows a deficit. It was also stressed that with the exception of the Civil Guards, who contribute 24 per cent., the teachers are the only public servants who have to contribute towards their pensions, while the pensions which they receive are much less than those paid to any other public servants, and that only £2 10s. out of every £100 voted in the Dail for pensions goes to the teachers.

Reference was made to the resolution passed by the various branches of the Teachers' Association last April on the matter.

Mr. Collender stated that in accordance with previous instructions he and other members of this Association had waited on Mr. Goulding, T.D., and explained the situation very fully to him. Mr. Little, T.D., had also intended being present, but was unavoidably prevented from attending, but Mr. Goulding promised that both he and Mr. Little would give the claims of the teachers their most sympathetic consideration, for which the members expressed their gratitude.

It is quite evident from the unanimous and determined attitude now being adopted by the National Teachers throughout the Free State, supported by most of the fair-minded and influential Deputies in the Dail that this question will not be allowed rest until full justice has been done to this loyal and hard-working profession.

G.A.A.

Tipperary and Cork hurlers will meet in the semi-final of the Munster Championship at Cork on July 21st.

Larceny of Bicycle at Mocollop

At Cappoquin District Court, before Mr. T. G. O'Sullivan, Acting D.J.

A young man named John Council, whose address was given as Ballyhastra, Fethard, was put forward in custody charged by Superintendent Mooney, Cappoquin, with the larceny of a bicycle, the property of Edmund Higgins, Ballyduff Upper, on the night of the 14th or morning of the 15th May, at Mocollop, Ballyduff.

Accused was not professionally represented. Edmund Higgins, Ballyduff, stated that on the night of the 14th May he cycled to a "wake" at Mocollop and left his bicycle in Mrs. E. B. right's forge but when he came for it in the morning it was gone. He had given nobody permission to take it. He now identified the bicycle (produced) as his property and said it was value for about £6.

Accused declined to ask any questions.

Mr. Robert Coffey, pawnbroker, Wexford, stated that on May 16th a man whom he now identified as the accused offered him a bicycle (the one produced) in pledge and asked an advance of £1 on it. He told witness that he had been working on a job at Fethard 42nd was now going to another job in Athlone, but as witness was a bit suspicious he refused to take it, and notified the Guards in Wexford. Accused was detained by the Guards for two days, but was released on May 18th, when the Guards told witness they thought everything was all right, as no bicycle had been reported stolen up to that time. Witness then took the bicycle and advanced accused £1 10s. on it.

Accused did not cross-examine. Sergt. Hogan, Ballyduff, gave evidence of having arrested accused in Athlone on June 20th, when he charged him with the larceny of the bicycle, and gave him the usual caution, but he made no statement.

Accused was now asked whether he wished to be tried summarily by the Justice or sent for trial before a judge and jury.

He elected to be tried by the Justice and in the course of a statement said he was an ex-soldier of the National Army and was at present on the Reserve.

The Justice said that unfortunately there were two previous convictions against him for stealing bicycles in 1918, and he did not quite know what to do with him, as there were far too many larcenies of this kind going on, and he could not let them go unpunished. He asked accused if he could make any effort to pay anything towards the costs of the prosecution, as he did not wish to send him to jail for any period which might interfere with his Army pension.

Accused said if he got time he might be able to get some money from relatives in America.

Supt. Mooney pointed out that any sentence less than 14 days' imprisonment would not interfere with his Army pension. He added that accused had already been 10 days in jail awaiting trial.

The Justice said he should put him back for a while until he considered what he should do with him, and when accused was later put forward the Justice said he had already cost the State close on £10 over this prosecution, and he could not sentence him to less than 7 days' hard labour.

The bicycle was ordered to be handed back to Mr. O'Higgins, and the Justice said he was sorry that Mr. Coffey, pawnbroker, should lose his £1 10s. over the transaction.

DUNGARVAN OBSERVER, SATURDAY, JULY 6, 1929.

DUNGARVAN URBAN COUNCIL.

The monthly finance meeting of the above was held on Friday night last. Mr. J. Butler, chairman, presided. The others present were—Messrs. M. J. Keane, vice-chairman; J. Curran, J. McEvoy, J. Hackett, T. McCarthy, M. Clancy, J. F. Moloney, Wm. O'Donnell and P. J. McGrath.

Expenditure.

The pay sheet for the week, which amounted to £17 7s. 10d., was passed.

Finance.

The Clerk stated that the sum to the credit of the council on the general account was £618 16s. 10d. Of that amount there was a sum of £480 due to the collector in respect of irrecoverable rates. With the permission of the council he proposed to pay out a sum of £180 2s. 3d. on accounts that were due, including this week's wages and quarter salaries to officials, etc. On the harbour account there was a credit balance of £150 5s., and he proposed to pay from that £107 10s. 3d.

Chairman—How does the harbour account stand with the general account now—what does it owe? Clerk—£95.

Chairman—When is it proposed to make the transfer? Can some be transferred now?

The council then decided to transfer the sum of £35 from the harbour to the general account.

Quay Wall.

Mr. Curran asked the Clerk what the harbour account owed the Board of Works in connection with the building of the quay wall? Clerk—£1,100.

Mr. Curran—What interest are you on that?

Mr. Keane—You are reducing it annually? Clerk—Yes; in half-yearly instalments of principal and interest.

Mr. Clancy—Are these instalments paid up to date?

Clerk—Yes; the half-year is now due again.

Mr. Keane—It is satisfactory to see it being reduced.

Improvements.

Mr. O'Donnell asked if it was the intention of the council to steamroll Scrammin's lane?

Borough Surveyor—Yes; we will run the roller over it.

Mr. O'Donnell—Have you any stone only the big stone there at present?

Borough Surveyor—Yes. We can have some small stone also.

Cutting Overlapping Trees, Etc.

Mr. O'Donnell drew the attention of the Borough Surveyor to Miss Kieley's road, and asked about getting the briars and shrubs cut away from the side.

The Borough Surveyor said he would get the parties responsible to cut them.

Fair Lane.

Mr. Hackett asked if it would be possible to get any thing done to Fair Lane? There was a big lot of traffic on it, particularly with people going to and from the hospital.

Chairman—What would the probable cost be?

Borough Surveyor—I will go and see it and see how many yards of stone it would require.

Cleaning Manure Depot.

Mr. Curran asked that a man be sent to the manure depot at Youghal road and clean it up. He thought a man should be sent there to collect all the old panes and burn them, remove loose stones, and tidy up the place.

Mr. Hackett—I would second Mr. Curran that a man be sent there.

Mr. Clancy—I hold that is a matter for a report from the sanitary officer, and I propose an amendment that the S.S.O. be asked to report on it. Mr. Moloney seconded.

A show of hands was taken and the amendment was declared carried by 7 votes to 3.

Order Book.

Chairman—There is one matter I would like to bring up to-night and that is the making of orders here. There is no use in making orders here if they are not carried out. We must before making an order in future see if there is money there to meet it, and if so see that the order is carried out. It is ridiculous to be making orders here to get work done if there is no money to meet it. To do this properly we should have a special book and have the Clerk write in the order when made, and if these orders are not then carried out we can have a report from the official responsible.

Mr. Keane—It is an admirable suggestion.

Mr. Clancy—I will second that.

Tarring Main Street.

Mr. Clancy asked if any arrangements were yet made regarding the tarring of the Main Street. He understood there was a resolution passed some time ago setting aside £400 for that purpose. He was of opinion that as the weather was so fine now it would be the best time to do it.

After a short discussion Mr. Clancy suggested that a small deputation with the Borough Surveyor call on the County Surveyor on Monday and discuss the best method of getting it done with him.

Water Supply to Gaelic Field.

Mr. McCarthy said there was every prospect of having a big match here in the near future. We all know it is Mr. Fraher is responsible for bringing these matches to the town, and we should see that he would get a proper water supply to the field. On Thursday last during a match a player got hurt and he could not take a drink as the water was yellow. Then you have the show coming on in a few weeks, and something ought to be done to improve the supply there.

Borough Surveyor—That was before us some weeks ago, and the remedy is to clean the pipes as they are all corroded. The council decided on asking those who would benefit to give some help. Mr. Fraher was prepared to meet the council fairly.

Chairman—When it was discussed here the remedy was to clean the pipes, but the length of pipe to be cleaned was big and the council's funds were low.

The matter was again referred to the Borough Surveyor and S.S.O. to report on.

Mr. Hackett said he was over the Shandon road last evening and there were holes 18 ins. deep filled with dust all over it, with the result that when a motor would pass it would nearly smother you. He thought something should be done to it before the show.

Mr. Clancy—We are hoping to have this road taken over from us.

Mr. McCarthy—Not before the Show surely.

The Borough Surveyor said they would sweep off all the dust before the Show.

Amusements.

Mr. Keane drew attention to the want of amusements for the purpose of attracting visitors, and suggested that the council should throw open some place where hobby-horses and such could come at a reasonable charge, and he an inducement to visitors. He suggested they be allowed on the Look-Out if the place was big enough.

Mr. Hackett—It would be a good thing for the town.

Mr. McEvoy—The Look-Out is too small and you have a fine park in Abbeyside.

Mr. McCarthy agreed with Mr. Keane, but said it would be very hard to get them to come here when they can't play on Sunday nights as they can in Tramore and Youghal.

The council unanimously agreed to Mr. Keane's suggestion, and directed the Clerk to write informing proprietors of such shows of the council's decision.

Advertising the Town.

Mr. Keane—Didn't we ear-mark £10 for the purpose of advertising the town and trying to attract visitors? Now was the proper time to advertise in the Tipperary and Limerick papers and let intending visitors know that the ladies' and gent's bathing places were in perfect order. He suggested that two or three members meet to draw up an advertisement.

Mr. Keane's suggestion was unanimously agreed to.

Condolence.

Mr. Keane proposed, and Mr. Hackett seconded a vote of sympathy with the relatives of the late Michael Walsh.

The resolution was passed in silence.

OBSEQUIES OF LATE MR. MARTIN POWER, LACKENDARRA.

The funeral obsequies of the late Mr. Martin Power, Lackendarra Lodge, whose death occurred with tragic suddenness while travelling by bus to Dungarvan recently, were attended by large numbers. The deceased, who belonged to a very respectable family, was a retired member of the D.M.P., in which force he was extremely popular. About two years ago he married Annie, daughter of the late John Power, Glenlickey, Kieley's Cross.

Requiem Office and High Mass was celebrated at Touranena Parish Church for the repose of his soul. The following clergy attended—Very Rev. R. Meskill, P.P.; Very Rev. John Gleeson, P.P.; Aglish; Rev. John Cullinan, C.G.; Rathgormack; Rev. J. Dwan, C.C.; Modeligo; Rev. M. Power, C.C., do., and Fr. Quinlan, Knockboy. Immediately afterwards the funeral took place to the family burial ground, Whitechurch. The chief mourners were—Mrs. Power (wife); Mrs. Power (mother-in-law); Nicholas and Lena Power, Thos. Gleeson, Knockboy; Jas. and Thomas Power (brothers); Mrs. T. Gleeson, Mrs. Foley, Graiguevarra; Miss Power (sister); Mr. and Mrs. Bolger, Mrs. Fennessey, Ellen Walsh, Ballintlea; M. Power, Mrs. Murray, John Murray, Thos. Crotty, Laurence and Mrs. Connery, Liskilly; Patk. Connors, John Dorney, Graigue; Wm. Morrissey, Mrs. Walsh, Glenlickey; Mr. and Mrs. Aidan Walsh, Cappoquin; Mr. and Mrs. Sargent, do.; Mr. and Mrs. O'Connor, Patk. and Mrs. Meaney, Cappoquin; Patk. and Mrs. Power, P. Power (junr.); Wm. Kirwan, Patk. Walshe, Thos. and Mary Hickey, Mrs. Lonergan, Mrs. Butler, M. Cullinan, Stasia Gleeson, Edmund and Ellie Quann, Jas. Cullinan, Lackendarra; Thomas and Miss Power, M. CLAIM FOR LOSS OF SHEEP THAT DROPPED DEAD AFTER DIPPING.

At the meeting of the above committee on Saturday, Mr. C. J. Curran and subsequently Mr. Thos. Flynn presided. Also present were—Messrs. Thos. Hart, Godfrey J. Greene, Patk. Mulcahy, Michl. Brennock, David Coghlan, John Kennedy.

The following correspondence from the Department was submitted:

(1) Sheep Dipping Forms and Posters.—Letter of 29th and 31st May advising dispatch of 2,000 sets of necessary Forms to be made available for use by sheep owners under the Sheep Dipping (Ireland) Order of 1915 and of a supply of sheep dipping posters in Irish and English.

The Clerk stated that he had transmitted a supply of these posters to the Veterinary Inspectors, the sheep dipping contractors, and the mountain ranger. Approved.

(2) Sheep Dipping Arrangements, 1929.—Letter of 1/6/29 conveying the Department's approval of the arrangements set out in the minutes of proceedings of the committee on the 27th April and 24th May for sheep dipping during the coming dipping periods; noting the acceptance of certain tenders for the work of sheep dipping; presuming that payment was intended to be made only in respect of the days on which the persons concerned were actually engaged in the dipping of sheep, and that there was no question of paying for time occupied in transferring the dipping bath from place to place; and assuming in regard to the appointment of John Morrissey as mountain ranger that the Local Authority were fully satisfied as to his suitability for the work. "Noted."

(3) Mountain Ranger.—Letter of 7/6/29 stating that Department's letter of the 1st June conveying approval generally of the sheep dipping arrangements, was intended to include approval of Mr. Morrissey's appointment as mountain ranger for the Carrick-on-Suir, Dungarvan and Kilmacomas mountain areas during the summer and autumn dipping periods of the current year, with remuneration of £12, subject to the condition as to his suitability for the work. "Noted."

Sheep Dip.

Mr. C. P. Hynes, Veterinary Inspector for Kilmacomas district, reported as follows:—This day, Saturday (5th June) was arranged for Kilmacomas dipping. The day was very wet and not many sheep dipped. I am making arrangements for an alternative day, viz.—Monday, 24th June, if this arrangement does not interfere with Mr. O'Donoghue, to whom I have written. The new dipping tank and drainer is very satisfactory. The new dip seems to be nothing more or less than a cheap form of Jeyes Fluid. It appears to contain no sulphur, soap or other good dip mixtures or ingredients. It appears to be a plain carbolic preparation like Jeyes Fluid.

Mr. Wm. Dooley, Kilnagrange, Kilmacomas, in a letter dated 24/6/29, wrote as follows:—"I brought six sheep to be dipped this day to the authorised dipping centre. After dipping them, one of the lot dropped dead. She is a five-year-old sheep, and I estimate her value at £4 10s. She reared one lamb, and I herewith claim the sum stated."

The Clerk stated that he communicated with Mr. Hynes in the matter, and that he had received from him the following report dated 26/6/29—"I beg to acknowledge yours of the 25th inst. re death of sheep, the property of Wm. Dooley, Kilnagrange. The sheep was dipped in the council's travelling tank on Monday, 24th June, and died on the road while being driven home about a quarter of a mile from the tank. I performed a post mortem examination and found all the organs healthy. I am of opinion death was caused by the dip. I have also received a further report on Tuesday, 25th June, that a sheep, the property of Thos. Dee, Kilnagrange, Kilmacomas, dipped in the council's tank on Monday, 24th June, died on the following day. The dip used was Carbolic dip, in the strength of one gallon to 80 of water as per directions.

P.S.—Dooley's sheep was, as stated, a five-year-old ewe in forward condition, value about £4. Dooley is a poor man.

It was ordered that copies of the reports of Mr. Hynes be forwarded to the Department of Agriculture, and that the opinion of Mr. A. S. McCoy, Solicitor to the County Council, be obtained as to the council's liability in regard to claim of Wm. Dooley for compensation for death of sheep after being dipped.

Inspection of Fairs.

Mr. P. W. Creagh, V.S., reported under date 1/6/29 that he inspected Cappoquin and Lismore Fairs for the months of April and May and that all sheep exposed for sale appeared to be free from contagious disease. "Noted."

The meeting then adjourned.

MUNSTER CHAMPIONSHIPS.

DOUBLE VICTORY FOR WATERFORD.

On Sunday last at the Ennis road Grounds, Limerick, Limerick and Waterford met in senior hurling and minor football in the first round of the Munster Championships in glorious weather and before a large attendance of spectators. Both in senior hurling and minor football the Waterford teams won with distinction and now enter the finals.

The teams engaged were Limerick and Waterford in senior hurling and minor football. The fixtures very naturally attracted a big measure of public patronage. Limerick were fairly hot favourites, and the fact that they were meeting their rivals in home territory rather enhanced their winning chances, from the point of view of their supporters. Waterford also had a substantial following of admirers, whose confidence, if not quite so emphatic, was yet of a nature decidedly encouraging to the players, who had apparently come prepared to meet the exacting demands that would be made upon them by a more experienced combination of ash welders, who, however, had not too much to boast of in their two points win against Waterford in the League Competition. The interest centred in the senior tussle was undoubtedly keen, and on the result depended which side would have the distinction of entering the final. Cork and Tipperary have yet to appear in the semi-final, which has been fixed for the Cork Athletic Grounds on July 21st.

The first match proceeded with was the minor football event, which was won by Waterford by 4 goal 2 points to 1 point. There was some smart footballing witnessed, but the game was rather marred by the frequency of fouls. On the run of the play Waterford was much the better team.

The hurling match, it was generally conceded, was the fastest and most strenuous seen for a long time. Waterford was represented by Erin's Own, who fielded twelve players, and the balance of the fifteen was supplied by Windgap and the O'Rourkes. The Young Irelands (eight) represented Limerick, with men from Newcastle West, Kilfinane and Cloughaun. The performances of Waterford were nothing short of revelation. For the whole hour they more than extended their rivals. Accurate and rapid strikers, their superiority was strongly in evidence in the first half, and though Limerick gave rather an improved display in the concluding half, they utterly failed to deprive Waterford of a substantial winning margin. The tussle was an exceptionally hard one all the way and maintained to the full whistle when the score stood:—

WATERFORD—4 goals 4 points.
LIMERICK—2 goals 4 points.

There were some accidents to players, but not serious. In the second half there was a mix-up between two players necessitating the intervention of the referee, and the putting of them off the field.

MINOR FOOTBALL.

The match opened with Limerick taking the offensive and pressing for a couple of overs, after which Waterford got up, and being awarded a fifty, a point was recorded. Limerick had a free soon after, but the Waterford backs gave a fine display and quickly ousted their opponents. A sideline shot to Waterford was blocked, and Limerick moved down to shoot wide. Waterford had a free off the next exchange and the posts had an escape. Waterford were now extending their rivals in the goal area, and fouls were rather numerous on both sides. Waterford having sent wide, they renewed the attack, but had to rest content with a further over. Waterford had a free arising from the next challenge, but missed the objective. After a sharp tussle from the centre the Limerick custodian was tested and responded shantly with a fine clearance. Again pressing, Waterford lost two good openings which ought to have been productive. Having been bottled up for a long spell Limerick effected an entry, but were beaten back for their opponents to narrowly miss a point. A player was knocked out at this stage, and Waterford having supplied a substitute, the game was resumed with a free close in to Waterford, who ran up their second minor. The half hour left the position:—

WATERFORD—2 points.
LIMERICK—Nil.

Soon after the resumption Waterford forced the play for a goal, which was fisted in. A free to Limerick followed, but was of no avail, and Waterford were quickly at the other end, where they sent out. Limerick replied with an over, and were well away again, but a foul spoiled the movement, and play remained for some minutes inside Limerick's lines, which were cleared after much pressure. A free to Limerick was stylishly cleared, but they again came along and the Waterford back line stood up well to the demands, play reverting to the centre, from which Limerick had the advantage, but failed to utilise it. The final score was:—

WATERFORD—1 goal 2 points.
LIMERICK—1 point.

Referee—Mr. Sean Hogan, Waterford.

SENIOR HURLING—FIRST HALF.

The teams were played to the line by the Erin's Hope Brass and Reed Band from Waterford, and the game was started under the whistle of Mr. P. O'Keeffe, Secretary, Cork County Board, Waterford having won the toss and playing with a strong wind.

Limerick were the first to attack for Fitzgibbon to send over. Limerick repeated the invasion to be beaten at the posts, and a free to Waterford enabled them to cover valuable ground, but they were stopped by O'Shea. Waterford continued to press, but McKonkey cleared and Hannon lost a scoring chance. Waterford got up, and getting the better of the backs, Wyse was through for a point. Limerick worked back without success, and Waterford, hurling smartly, were again in possession, for Wyse to send in a fine goal. Limerick again took the offensive to send over, and Waterford returned for a well-judged point, secured by Hunt. McKonkey now gave a smart display and it was finely supported. Weir returned, and Waterford broke through for an over on a small margin. Waterford, playing an exceedingly fast game, shot wide, and Limerick got down to be beaten by J. Weir just as the ball was on the goal line. The enthusiasm was now at a high pitch, both teams hurling at top speed. A free to Limerick was taken by McKonkey, who lost the chance. Limerick again pressed in full force, the brothers Weir shining in the defence. Holding their ground well, Limerick pulled off a point per Hannon, and in the next exchange McKonkey was too well marked to do justice to his shot, which looked promising.

A great and fast game was now the verdict of the spectators, who had gathered behind the Press table. A hard tussle from the centre field saw Waterford away, and before the opposing backs had time to steady themselves, Fanning had the Limerick net down. A point having supplemented the score, Waterford were given a free which was smartly placed, and J. Power netted in fine fashion. A long shot from Power let Waterford up and Brown finished the fast movement with a minor. Waterford were now not only holding their rivals firmly at almost every movement, but their striking was more accurate and the backs were working with splendid cohesion. J. Power was injured at this stage, but was able to continue, and the match proceeded with an over at the Limerick end. McKonkey and Brown sent Waterford up, but Delaney and McCarthy checked. After an exchange, Waterford shot wide, and Limerick pressed strenuously for a score, which was remarkably well cleared by J. Weir, who deserved the applause that marked the feat. A very exciting half hour wound up with Waterford playing a wonderfully fine game and leading substantially. Score:

WATERFORD—3 goals 4 points.
LIMERICK—1 point.

SECOND HALF.

Kennedy sent Waterford back, and a great battle raged along the right wing in the progress of which T. O'Brien (Limerick) was temporarily knocked out. On resuming Waterford sent out per Browne. Returning to the offensive Limerick backs were beaten, and Fanning getting the better of Delaney, had a green flag up in a flash. Waterford's followers were now full of enthusiasm, while those of Limerick were rather dumb-founded at Waterford's great performances. Waterford having shot wide Limerick moved up for a similar result. The next phase of the game veered in the Limerick direction and a free proved acceptable. It was taken by O'Shea and registered. At this stage C. Weir, captain of the Waterford side, had to go off accidentally injured, and Halpin (Ballinamully) took his place. The game had not been long in progress when one of the Limerick players got mixed up with a Waterford opponent. The referee having intervened and put off the two players, the match was continued. Shortly after the re-start Limerick ran up a goal and a point at short intervals, and before Waterford had quite cleared their territory McKonkey had captured a goal. A seventy to Limerick, taken by Martin O'Shea, was shot over. C. Weir, who had been previously injured, resumed at this stage for Waterford, and Limerick lost the services of one of their side. The game was continued with a free to Limerick, which was speedily wrested, and remarkably hard and persistent bouts were the order to all departments of the game. Limerick succeeded in putting up a point, but Waterford still held a fairly comfortable lead to the finish, when the score stood:—

WATERFORD—4 goals 4 points.
LIMERICK—2 goals 4 points.

The teams were:—

Waterford—J. Weir (goal), C. Weir, P. Kennedy, P. Power, M. Roche, M. Wyse, J. Weir, P. Browne, N. Fardy, J. Hunt, T. Fanning, J. Fardy, F. McCormack, J. Power, D. Fardy.

Limerick—M. Mulcahy, M. Delaney, E. Crehan, T. Kennedy, T. O'Brien, J. McCarthy, D. Shaughnessy, M. Fitzgibbon, R. McKonkey, J. Roche, M. O'Shea, J. O'Donnell, W. Donoghue, W. Hannon, M. Jodfrey.

For the winning side, McKonkey stood out on his own. J. Weir was a sound net-holder. Power, M. Wyse and Browne were clever and tactful. Kennedy and Fardy were a useful pair.

Hannon, Godfrey, McKonkey, O'Shaughnessy, Fitzgibbon, Delaney, O'Donnell and Donoghue were hard workers on the Limerick side.

PURCHASING TURKEYS.

WATERFORD FOWL DEALER SUE BY BALLINROAD LADY.

At the Waterford Circuit Court on Monday, before Mr. Justice Sealy, K.C., Mary Mulcahy, Ballinroad, Dungarvan, sued John J. Fitzgibbon, fowl dealer, Dairy Terrace, Waterford, for alleged breach of contract for £5 in regard to the purchase of turkeys last Xmas.

Mr. E. A. Ryan, solr., for plaintiff. Mary Mulcahy, Ballinroad, Dungarvan, said she reared turkeys, and on several occasions buyers approached her. In August last Mr. Fitzgibbon asked her to keep turkeys for him. He came several times and gave her a docket stating he had engaged 27 turkeys from the plaintiff, and gave her one shilling earnest money. She would not sell the turkeys to anyone but him on account of that. On December 12th he visited her and told her not to dispose of them on any account. On December 13th she got a letter from stating: "The Waterford market has gone to bits and we were stopped from buying. Prices went so low as 10 per cent.—1s. in the lb. I much regret I have been obliged to make other arrangements."

On the day before Mr. Dee, Dungarvan, had offered her 1/4 per lb. She afterwards sold them, but was at a loss of £5.

Cross-examined by Mr. Nolan, solr., for the defendant—You have sold turkeys in this way before? No. I was never in court before (laughter). The defendant did not tell her to bring the turkeys into Kilmacomas.

Mr. Dee, Dungarvan, said the amount paid for the turkeys was £16 10s. 2d.—i.e. 214 lbs. at 1/2 and 84 lbs. at 1s. He would have given her 1s. 4d. per lb. on the sixth or seventh of the month, but she told him they were sold, and he did not do anything about them.

In reply to Mr. Nolan, witness said Dungarvan was a better market than Waterford last year. He bought them from her on 17th December, and gave her 1s. 3d. per lb. for some of them.

John J. Fitzgibbon admitted he engaged to buy the turkeys at top market price for birds in good condition. The top price at the Kilmacomas market was 1s. 2d. per lb. He engaged them on August 8th.

His Lordship—They were your turkeys then. Of course you could not fix a market price then.

In reply to Mr. Ryan, defendant said there was no public market in Waterford, and the Kilmacomas market was attended by Waterford buyers, and it was there the Waterford price was fixed. That price was 1s. 2d.

His Lordship said he thought the plaintiff had been led to believe that she would be paid top market price for the whole county, and not the Kilmacomas price. She could have sold the turkeys at 1s. 4d. per lb., and therefore there was some damage occasioned. He gave a decree for £2 9s.

CIRCUIT COURT.

SITTING AT YOUGHAL.

Mr. Justice Kenny resumed the business of the Cork Circuit Court at Youghal on Wednesday.

Cranwell v. McInerney.

This was an appeal against the decision of the Youghal District Court dismissing an ejectment civil bill.

Mr. George J. Daly, B.L. (instructed by Messrs. McCarthy, Hanrahan and Moloney, solrs., Cork) for the appellant, and Mr. M. O'Driscoll, B.L. (instructed by Mr. J. L. Keane, solr., Youghal) for the respondent.

Mr. Daly said they relied on two grounds. Some years ago Mr. Cranwell became possessed of Nos. 1, 2 and 3 Eglington Terrace, Youghal. He lived in No. 3 with his sister-in-law and family. Having married some time ago he was desirous of getting No. 1 to live in. This was held by Mrs. McInerney, under agreement, which required her to keep the house in repair and in a satisfactory condition. Evidence in the District Court indicated a nuisance dangerous to health. Notwithstanding repeated warnings she allowed the house continue in that condition.

Mr. Thos. Cranwell said that he visited the house before the notice to quit was served. The kitchen was used only as a lumber room and filled with rubbish. There were 24 or 25 hens and chickens about the place. The yard was filthy with manure and refuse. He said she should do away with the fowl, but they were only increased. He sent men in to repair the house and they made a terrible report. He sent his servant in, but the door was slammed in her face. He was married and lived in No. 3 with his family. Her sister-in-law had the house previously. His daughter was at home now and he wanted the house badly. He was engaged doing business all over the country. He tried to get a house in Cork, but failed. He had one purchased for £800, but the architect would not pass it. He therefore wanted that house. He was leaving his sister-in-law in possession of No. 3, which was congested at present. His daughter was sleeping in a wretched room. He and his family were only lodgers. His sister-in-law often told him to get a house for himself.

Cross-examined by Mr. O'Driscoll—Witness said there was very little difference between Nos. 3 and 1. He had only one child, but she was at school up to recently. No. 2 became vacant two years ago, but he sold it because he wanted the money for business purposes. He didn't want No. 1 to sell, but to live in.

Mr. O'Driscoll pointed out that there was no reference in the correspondence which had taken place to his wanting the house for himself till last April, and Mr. Cranwell said that his solicitor probably didn't think it necessary. He had mentioned the fact to Mr. Moloney two years ago. His sister-in-law had visitors, not paying guests, from time to time, with the result that the house was seriously congested. He had kept away from Mrs. McInerney for peace sake. She didn't tell him that the closet was out of order. He didn't know that the increased rent he had been getting for No. 1 was in excess of the standard rent. He had increased the rent because everybody was increasing it at the time.

Jas. Hourigan, workman, said he entered No. 1 by the hall door, which was open. He didn't see the kitchen; he went upstairs and put up a ladder. His Lordship—Did you notice the condition of the premises? No, sir. To Mr. Daly—He made no report to Mr. Cranwell; he never spoke to him. His Lordship—You put up a ladder? Yes. And looked out the window and admired the scenery? Yes (laughter).

Michl. Hourigan, Slater, said he repaired the roof from outside. Mr. Daly—Where did you get the water for the materials? I didn't require any water; there was no mortar used on the roof (laughter). Did you go into the yard? Not while on the roof (laughter). When you came down? I went into the yard three months afterwards. The worst thing I saw was the closet. Did you pass through the kitchen to go to the yard? I suppose I did, but I had no business in the kitchen. Did you make a report to Mr. Cranwell? I told him the floor was in a very bad condition, and he told me to do as little as I could as he was going to get the ladies out of the house.

Mr. Daly—There's a sweep also, my Lord. His Lordship—Sweep him in then (laughter).

Michl. Coakley said that the kitchen and the front room upstairs were in a horrible dirty state. Mr. O'Driscoll asked his Lordship to confirm the dismissal. Mr. Daly asked to have the case allowed stand.

His Lordship—I can't do that. This is an appeal. My opinion is that you have failed in your proofs. The appeal was dismissed, his Lordship stating that the house should be kept in proper repair and condition, fit for civilised human beings to live in.

G.S.R. v. Deasy. Mr. G. J. Daly (instructed by Messrs. Gregg, solrs.) appeared for the Railway Co., and Mr. M. O'Driscoll (instructed by Mr. Ronayne) for Deasy.

Mr. Daly said that was an application to review a recent award of the court. The man was injured on the 29th September, 1927, and was paid full compensation up to 20th September, 1928. On the 23rd April last his Lordship made an order that he be paid £1 per week, the G.S.R. getting leave to review that award at the present sitting.

Dr. A. Attock said he examined the man on the 20th inst. and found him in good health. The jaw was in normal condition. He was fit for work. His sight was normal in one eye and two-thirds in the other. He was quite confident there was no danger likely to arise to the sight in consequence of the injury received. He examined the man at Kingsbridge. There was no likelihood of his sight becoming defective. He was coming to join the railway men, one-third or one-fourth of whom are passed as fit for drivers.

His Lordship—Don't tell that to the people or they will travel by motor. Witness—We don't look upon that as anything.

His Lordship said he assumed that the man was all right again and fit to work.

Smyth v. Cork County Council. This was a claim for malicious injury by Henry Smyth, Inch, Whitegate.

Mr. T. K. Keane, solr.—I have instructions to oppose the claim, my Lord.

His Lordship—Very good. Let us hear what your adversary has to say first.

There was no appearance for the applicant, and the case was marked "no appearance."

Bank of Ireland v. Murray. This was an equity motion to distribute funds in court due to the Bank of Ireland in respect of premises in Friar street, Youghal.

Mr. G. J. Daly (instructed by Mr. J. L. Keane) appeared for the Bank. An order was made that the balance available be paid to the Bank. Mr. Daly remarking that they would not get all their claim.

This concluded the business of the sitting.

ACTION OVER A HORSE.

£60 COMPENSATION AWARDED.

At Dungarvan Circuit Court, before Mr. Justice Sealy, K.C.,

John Ahearne, Knockmaun, sued Ml. McGrath, Whitechurch, Cappagh, for £75, the value of a horse destroyed by the negligence of defendant in the driving of his motor car.

Mr. A. Carroll, solr. for plaintiff, and Mr. Joyce, B.L. (instructed by Mr. E. A. Ryan, solr.) defended.

Mr. Carroll said the facts of the case were on 17th December last the defendant so recklessly drove a motor car that he collided with plaintiff's colt and broke his two hind legs. On that day the colt broke out of a field on to the road, and it would be proved that the colt did not break out previously. Defendant came along, dashed into the colt, and drove off without stopping. Plaintiff met defendant that evening and defendant said Mrs. McGrath looked back and said she thought the colt was getting up. He said it was in a great hurry as he had an appointment with Mr. Geo. Cummins. He also said he was insured and it would be all right and to send in the bill.

Mr. Joyce said their defence was that everything possible was done to avoid the horse, which rushed out of a gate-way when the accident happened.

Mrs. Ahearne deposed she was the wife of plaintiff. On December 17th last she was at her house, which was a field in from the road. The colt was in a field adjoining the road. A motor lorry passed which startled the colt and she saw him jump the fence on to the road. She went to secure her three young children before following the colt when she heard a motor car passing. She next saw the colt in the dyke and noticed that one leg was broken. She could not see the other one as it was in under the colt. She saw defendant the following morning. He came into the yard and said he was very sorry for what had happened, but he was in a hurry and had an appointment with Mr. Cummins and could not stop. They asked him £75 for the horse and he said all right. On the following day he came along again and there were several interviews about payment.

By Mr. Joyce—He was sorry for killing the horse. A lorry came up and the horse jumped on to a little by-road. She could not say if the horse eventually went into Mr. Fennell's yard. She knew the place where the accident occurred by the blood on the road. Witness knew nothing whatever about Mr. McGrath being insured until he told me himself.

Guard Cotter deposed he was stationed at Cappagh and went to the place about 5.30 p.m. He saw the horse in the dyke and the two hind legs broken. He procured a shotgun and destroyed it. He took measurements. The road was 22ft. wide from fence to fence and the blood and bones were out from the fence about 3ft. on the road. He examined the fence up further and saw imprint of horses feet in fence. The sign of the motor was about 3ft. out from the fence and there was a sign of a swerve where the accident occurred.

By Mr. Joyce—The gate is sunk in a little bit.

By Mr. Carroll—The sign on the road where the accident occurred would be 68 feet from the gate.

John Ahearne deposed he was working in Ballinacloy on that day when it was reported to him. He found the horse with his two legs broken on the road in a water cut about 40 yards away from Fennell's gate and 20 yards away from where the blood was. He saw the print of the horse's legs in the fence near where the accident occurred. Witness met McGrath that night and asked him was he the man that killed his horse. He admitted he was. He said he would have to pay for the horse and asked him how much. Witness asked £75 for the horse. He knew about the lorry frightening him, but did not know where he went. Witness had two interviews with Mr. McGrath. He said he was going so fast he could not stop, and Mrs. McGrath said the horse was getting up.

Mr. McGrath, defendant, deposed he lived at Whitechurch. On the 17th December he was driving a 1924 Singer car at about 20-25 m.p.h. when the accident happened. As he was passing Fennell's gateway the horse bolted out and just missed the car. He rushed against the fence, hit it, and fell back; then he hit him. He only saw the horse when he came out the gate at a good gallop. He did everything he could to avoid the accident. He heard the interview he was supposed to have had with plaintiff. He admitted hitting the horse.

By Mr. Carroll—He lived 2½ miles from where the accident happened. You can't see the gate. The horse came out the gate and crossed the public road in a slant and hit the fence about 20 yards up on the right-hand side. The road would be about 22 feet wide. In order to clear the horse when he came out of Fennell's gate witness had to swerve to the right-hand side. His business was not very urgent. He never made Ahearne any offer. He asked the value of the horse and Ahearne said £75 or £100. Witness made no offer, but told Mrs. Ahearne to send in a claim, which he would send to the Insurance Co. Witness was going back by Cappagh and reported the matter. The road was greasy and he could not do more than he did.

Mr. Joyce held that his client did everything possible to avoid the animal. He swerved across a greasy road to avoid the horse at the gate.

His Lordship—It was absolutely his duty to pull up and that is what I can't get over.

Mr. Joyce said he did the best he could. He had an old car which you could not pull up as quickly as a new one. He did all in his power.

His Lordship—Mr. McGrath did not impress me in his evidence as doing all in his power, but no more difficult case than a loose horse on the road can a motorist find. He held he made no serious attempt to pull up and would give a decree for £60 with 30s. expenses.

ADMINISTRATION OF LISMORE MBAN'S ESTATE.

LEGACIES FOR IRISH POLITICAL LEADERS.

In the Supreme Court on Monday, before the Chief Justice, Mr. Justice Fitzgibbon and Mr. Justice Murnaghan, arguments were opened and concluded in the case of Edward Walsh, deceased; Sophie O'Brien, plaintiff, and Thos. Phelan, of 103 Lupus street, Pimlico, London, defendant. It was an appeal from a judgment of Mr. Justice Johnston, dismissing an original summons, in which he was asked to determine certain questions and matters arising in the administration of the estate of Edward Walsh, and under the trusts created by the will and codicils of the said Edward Walsh, a native of Lismore, who resided for 30 years in Germany, and died in Munich, Bavaria. His Lordship held that under the circumstances of the administration he could not deal with the matter, the assets being in England and administration having been taken out there.

The facts were set out in an affidavit made by Mrs. Sophie O'Brien, of Bellevue, Mallow, on 21st September, 1928, in which it was stated that Edward Walsh, late of Lismore, Co. Waterford, civil engineer, made his last will on 29th August, 1896, and executed three codicils to it, dated, respectively, 28th January, 1898; 15th November, 1900, and 15th November, 1900. He appointed Denis Doolin, of 12 Thomas street, Waterford, and John Phelan, of 2 Summerland, Waterford, executors. He died at Munich, Bavaria, on 3rd September, 1914. Denis Doolin predeceased the testator, and John Phelan, the other executor, died after the testator, without having proved the will and codicils.

At the date of the death of Edward Walsh, his assets consisted of Great Northern Railway Stocks and Shares of the National Bank, amounting to a sum of £6,556 14s. 1d. On 31st Oct., 1927, letters of administration, with the will and three codicils annexed, were granted in the English High Court to Wm. O'Brien, as one of the residuary legatees named in the will. Owing to the fact, the affidavit continued, that the testator died in Munich, in the German Empire, during the European War, and to the disturbed state of affairs in Munich following the termination of the war, neither William O'Brien nor apparently any of the other legatees mentioned in the will and codicils were informed of their contents until quite recently. William O'Brien died on the 25th February, 1928, and on August 13th, 1928, letters of administration "de bonis non," with the will and codicils annexed, were granted in the English Court to Mrs. O'Brien. Owing to accumulation of dividends, the estate at the time William O'Brien obtained the grant had increased to £8,010. By his will, the testator left legacies, varying from £250 to £750, to several nieces, and he also provided as follows—To James Dreveger, of Lismore, £400; to John Dillon, £300; to William O'Brien, £300; to Michael Davitt, £300; and for free teaching of tailoring and dressmaking classes in the girls' school of the Presentation Community, £500. Three of the legatees predeceased the testator—Michl. Davitt, who died on 30th May, 1906, being one of them. Of the legatees who survived him and died subsequently, one was Anne Phelan, who died in 1916. The defendant in this action is the personal representative of Anne and John Phelan, legatees.

The deponent stated she had been unable to discover the whereabouts of the legatees, James Dreveger and John Jas. Phelan. William O'Brien, acting on legal advice, had paid £500 to the Presentation Convent at Lismore, and £300 to the personal representative of John Dillon. Deponent added that since she obtained administration she had made other payments to legatees.

Mr. H. J. Moloney, with whom was Mr. M. Binchy (instructed by Mr. D. O'Meara), for the appellant (plaintiff). Among the questions submitted in the originating summons were the following—Is the gift to the Michael Walsh Asylum, Waterford, where one of the legatees resided, a valid gift? Did Edward Walsh die intestate as to all portions of his property, which he bequeathed to Mary Ellen Phelan, Mary Garysfort and Ml. Davitt, whose legacies lapsed? Are the amounts of the lapsed legacies divisible among the surviving legatees or amongst the next-of-kin.

AWARD FOR BURNING.

Judge Seely, K.C., at Waterford Circuit Court awarded £10 compensation to John Walsh, Rathnany, for the malicious burning of a fox covert stocked by the Curraghmore Hunt, on applicant's land at Rathnany.

Mr. Budd, B.L. (instructed by Mr. H. D. Keane, solr.) said the same covert had been maliciously burned four years ago and compensation awarded. It was alleged foxes from the covert, killing fowl, caused ill-feeling in the locality.

John Walsh (applicant), giving evidence in support of the malice, said he had been told by a man named Maurice Hennessy that because foxes had killed fowl belonging to his wife another man named Harney had threatened to burn the covert.

Hennessy was now examined and said he could not remember Harney using any threat.

Mrs. Harney, who said she kept fowl, and whose land adjoined the covert, denied her husband used threats. She admitted, on cross-examination, that she had been speaking to the witness Hennessy before the case was heard, when she said she admonished him not to give wrong evidence.

Mr. Budd—Did you tell Hennessy if he gave evidence against you that you would leave him without a stick or roof over his head?

Mrs. Harney—It would be no harm if I did.

LOCAL HAPPENINGS.

THE TECHNOLOGY OF MILK PRODUCTION.

At the Dungarvan Cinema on Saturday last Mr. J. Hanley, F.R.C.S., delivered an interesting lecture, which was fully illustrated with lantern slides, on the "Technology of Milk Production and the Abolition of Milk Prosecutions." The lecture was under the auspices of the County Waterford Branch of the Irish Dairy Short-horn Breeders' Society. Mr. Daniel Dempsey presided and introduced the lecturer. Amongst those present were—Messrs. Thomas Flynn, Colliacourt; M. J. O'Brien, Gullagh; J. J. Doherty, Scullion; J. G. Duke, Lismore; N. Connors, Park; James Lynch, P. R. Sheridan, P. O'Keefe, A. J. J. Brown, J. J. Moloney, J. Ryan, T. Flynn, etc., etc. The lecture was scientifically into the composition of milk, which is composed of water and fat and the composition of the fat in milk as fat and non-fat solids. By a clever system of proved analysis he showed how the fat and non-fat solids vary in a herd of cows or in one cow from day to day, and how a cow that gives a percentage of 4.5 fat one day may be down to 3 per cent. (the standard) or lower in a few days. His analysis of milk over a long number of years had led him to advocate the abolition of milk prosecutions except in cases where adulteration could be proved. He gave very interesting details of the variations of the quality of milk, how much it varies, and why it varies, and the means farmers had at their disposal to counter these variations. At the conclusion of the lecture a hearty vote of thanks was passed to Mr. Hanley.

DUNGARVAN SHOW.

At a meeting of the Executive Committee of the Show on Tuesday evening, Mr. J. A. Lynch presided. There were also present—Messrs. M. Brecknock, D. Dempsey, M. Flynn, P. A. Walsh, J. O'Dwyer, W. Stack and J. Lynch, secretary. Final arrangements were made for the great Show on the 18th inst. The Secretary announced that the entries in all sections were up to the high standard of previous years, and everything pointed to this year's show being a record. It was unanimously agreed that the price of admission to the Show be reduced to 2s., while visitors can be parked in the grounds at 4s. each. Admission to grand stand 2/6. The Dungarvan Brass and Reed Band has been specially engaged to perform in the Show Field on the occasion. An enormous number of side shows of an attractive and educational nature will be on the grounds, and everything points to the Show being the most successful yet held. With glorious weather to boot, this year's Show will have all the ingredients of an elaborate garden party held in panoramic surroundings, and spiced with spirited horse-racing of the highest breeding. And what can beat the charms of a nice girl in summer raiment or the proud step of a high-mettled thoroughbred? All this and much more will fill the eyes of the thousands who will be present at this year's Show.

MUNSTER JUNIOR HURLING FINAL.

The junior hurling final for Munster will be played at Dungarvan on Sunday, August 11th.

DUNGARVAN MARKETS.

Meal (special), 27s. 6d.; middling, 27s.; flour, 20s.; bran, 13s. 6d.; per cwt.; pollard, 12s. 6d.; butter, 1s. 7d. to 1s. 8d. per lb.; coal 48s. per ton; eggs 11d. per dozen; fresh butter, 1s. 3d. per lb.

THE SHANDON ROAD.

The road from the town to the Show Grounds is in a very bad condition at present, and unless it is attended to at once it will be impassable for man or horse or bull on Show Day. As the time is so short we would suggest to the City Fathers to arrange to have stones put out at once and a roller procured from Mr. Bowen to roll them in. It is too bad this highway, so important to the welfare of the town, should be in so neglected a condition each year, but at the moment if all holes are filled and duly rolled without delay and amply watered on Show morning it will be presentable. In view of the shortness of the time, we appeal to the Urban Council not to lose a minute in having this most necessary work done.

A PRACTICAL STEP.

The suggestion of Mr. Keane at the Urban Council to make every move possible to attract tourists to the town was very timely, and the idea of advertising Dungarvan's claims in Tipperary and Limerick in preference to spending the available money in Bonmahon or Plymouth was perfect. Tourists to this old land have never cried halt here. We provide them with roads and they merely look at us and drive past. What we want is the visitor who is going to hang up his hat with us for a few weeks and enjoy all the natural charms of sea, glen and mountain we have to give. We want the men and women, young and old from the plains of Tipperary and Limerick, whose fathers and mothers before them were attracted hither by the charms of the old town and the dances on the Cunnigar. Why not put up a dancing stage on the Cunnigar as of old and let the young dance and the old look on and dream of the good old days when they, too, were boys and girls. Do that and Dungarvan will once more be the Mecca of the Gayricks as it used to be 25 years ago. People on holidays are out for pleasure and not for funeral displays. Let them have the innocent delights of the bubbly horse and the merry-go-rounds, the dance hall and the concert stage, and they will come and tell all at home about us. The Urban Council have started on the right track, and they should go ahead with all speed and make Dungarvan the delightful place it used to be some years ago.

WHAT ABOUT A CIVIC WEEK?

This town on the occasion of the Emancipation Celebrations on Sunday week gave the public a taste of what it could do in organised display. Why not carry it a little further and arrange for a Civic Week, say, towards the end of September, when the town could show to all and sundry what it can do in the commercial line. We have the men and the material and the spirit of progress, too. Shakespeare in his day advised every business man and community to "blow their own trumpet." If you don't no one will blow it for you. If the gentlemen who organised the Emancipation Celebrations get together again in collaboration with the Urban Council and the merchants and traders, there is no knowing what could be done. Union is strength and civic progress and success are only awaiting the opportunity of those who grasp them. Now is the time to take action, and let the tourist season in Dungarvan be wound up with a Carnival Week of business and pleasure, which, if carried out, will, we are sure, have the whole-hearted co-operation of the people of the county. Dungarvan was the first spot civilised and inhabited in this county; it has always been looked to for light and leading by the public, and in a Carnival Week it would make everybody prouder still of its success and its high place in the annals of Eire.

MARRIED.

Last Wednesday week the wedding took place at Ballinroad Parish Church of Guard Patrick Doran, Dungarvan, and Miss Kathleen Landers, Ballinroad. The ceremony was performed by Very Rev. M. C. Crotty, P.P., Abbeyside, with Nuptial Mass. Mr. James Delaney was best man and Miss Maureen Landers was bridesmaid. Both the bride and groom are very popular and were the recipients of many valuable presents.

DONKEY SHOT.

On Wednesday evening a motor car collided with a stray donkey on the Youghal road about a mile from Dungarvan. The donkey had the worst of the encounter, and as a result was badly damaged. The guards later shot the animal and so ended his suffering.

COURSING.

The adjourned general meeting of the Dungarvan Coursing Club will be held in the Town Hall on Sunday next at 12 noon. All members are requested to attend.

SUNDAY'S MATCHES AT SHANDON.

At Shandon Grounds on Sunday next KIL gobinet and Dungarvan meet in the Minor Football Championship, and Dungarvan v. Bricke Rangers in senior football. There will be two great games, which should not be missed.

FOOTBALL MATCH AT CAPPOQUIN.

On Sunday, 7th inst., a great inter-county senior football match will be played in the Cappoquin Sportsfield when Fermoy will meet Clashmore-Kinsalebeg and this contest should provide one of the finest and most thrilling senior football matches witnessed for many years. Fermoy showed rare form when they defeated Dungarvan footballers in Fermoy over a month ago, while the Clashmore-Kinsalebeg combination can always be relied on to uphold the honour of the county, so that nobody should miss this brilliant game on Sunday. An interesting minor hurling match will also be played the same day between Abbeyside and Cappoquin. The minor hurling match will start at 2.30 (summer time) and the senior football match at 3.15 (summer time).

SHIRTS.

Boys' and Gents' Cream, White and Sand Shirts for Summer and Sports Wear at Walsh's, Drapers, Square.

HADDEEN'S REMNANT SALE.

Don't miss the Special Remnant Sale on Saturday, July 6th and 7th at Hadden's, Wonderful Bargains.

DUNGARVAN GOLF CLUB.

On Thursday evening the new Golf Club just laid out at Cinea was opened in state in the presence of a large gathering who enjoyed a round of the charming 9-hole course. It is bound to be most attractive to golfers owing to its delightful situation.

REMANDED.

The jury disagreed at the Waterford Circuit Court in a case in which John Walsh, plumber, and Ed. Nolan, bookmaker's clerk, were charged with the attempted larceny of £16 from Lee, Breen, commission agent, Traamore, by means of a trick, and they were remanded on bail.

HIGH LEVELS IN WHEAT PRICES.

In consequence of pessimistic crop reports from the wheat growing countries of the world, including the United States and the Argentine, and the extremely dry weather in many sections of the prairie provinces, wheat prices have reached new high levels for the year.

DAIL'S ALL-NIGHT SITTING.

Mr. Cosgrave moved in the Dail that the House should sit continuously until eight o'clock on Thursday morning.

It was only by such extension of Parliamentary time, he said, that the annual financial business could be disposed of in time to allow the House to adjourn by July 20th as originally planned.

Mr. de Valera opposed the proposal, and said that it would not be necessary but for the much-desired practice of attempting to rush important Bills through the House at the last moment.

The Socialist group also opposed the motion on the same grounds. Mr. Lemass declared that the proposal constituted an attempt to evade a proper examination of the expenditure for the administration of certain Government Departments.

Mr. Cosgrave replied that no party had so often or so strongly protested its anxiety to die in the Irish nation's interests than the Opposition, but he was merely asking the members of it to sit up all night in the nation's interests. Mr. Cosgrave's motion was then passed.

DIRTY GALLONS.

Ed. Connolly, farmer, from Park, Co. Waterford was fined £2 and £1 costs, by Mr. McCabe, at Carrick-on-Suir District Court, for supplying milk in dirty gallons to Rathgormack Co-operative Creamery. Mr. Ryan, State Solicitor, for the State, and Mr. Cass, Inspector, proved the case.

IRISH DAIRY SHORTHORN BREEDERS' SOCIETY.

EXECUTIVE COMMITTEE.

Senator the Countess of Desart, president, presided at a representative meeting of the Executive Committee of the above Society, which was held in the Victoria Hotel, Cork.

Sympathy With Lady Kenmare.

A letter was received from Lady Kenmare acknowledging receipt of vote of condolence with her on the death of her brother, the late Lord Revelstoke. It was ordered that the letter be inserted in the minutes.

Autumn Show and Sale.

The meeting considered the report of the sub-committee appointed to inquire into the possibility of holding in the autumn a joint sale of Dairy Short-horn (pedigree and non-pedigree) Pure-bred Short-horn, Kerry and Aberdeen Angus Cattle instead of the fixture held hitherto, which was confined to Dairy Short-horns.

Mr. Halliden stated that the sub-committee interviewed the following prominent Aberdeen Angus breeders, viz.—Capt. T. A. Clarke, Messrs. R. C. Williams, E. J. Clarke, T. P. Murphy and Mr. Baker (representative of Lord Barrymore), and all were in agreement that the proposal was sound. The breeders referred to had promised to send in a number of exhibits to the Show and Sale. Mr. Young, Secretary Aberdeen Angus Society, had kindly offered, on behalf of the Society, a Silver Medal for the best animal of the Aberdeen Angus breed exhibited at the Show.

Mr. E. MacLysaght stated he had interviewed Mr. Phelps, Secretary of the Kerry Cattle Society, on the feasibility of entering Kerry cattle for the sale, and they had decided not to do so for the forthcoming Sale.

Mr. M. J. Murphy, representative of Messrs. Marsh and Sons, intimated that his firm were prepared to cancel their Autumn Sale of pure-bred cattle if the Dairy Short-horn Breeders' Society decided on holding a joint sale.

Mr. D. P. Forde, B.L., said that having heard the encouraging report, he was satisfied that the project would be a great success, and to put the matter in order he proposed that the joint sale be held on the 19th September in Cork, that was the day provisionally fixed at their previous meeting.

Mr. D. Dempsey, Dungarvan, seconded, and the proposal was unanimously agreed to.

On the motion of Mr. R. E. Ludgate, seconded by Mr. Quinlan, a representative Show and Sale Committee was appointed to meet on 2nd Saturday in July to draw up a suitable Price List.

Mr. Tom McGrath, Ballymaw, Waterfall, Cork, was appointed to act as hon. sec. of the fixture.

Alterations in Rules.

The meeting was engaged for some time in considering alterations in the existing rules of the Society, and it was decided to issue a booklet containing revised rules.

On the proposition of Mr. T. O'Sullivan, seconded by Mr. W. O'Callaghan (treasurer), Professor Boyle, Ph.D., M.A., University College, Cork; Mr. D. P. Forde, B.L., and Mr. P. J. Halliden hon. sec., were authorised to make any further alterations in the rules, which the exigencies of the present-day progress of the Society demanded.

Interim Congress.

On the motion of Mr. P. J. O'Loughlin (Sec. North Cork Branch), seconded by Mr. T. C. Joyce, it was decided unanimously to hold the Interim Congress this year in Limerick on Saturday, 7th September.

The following were appointed as sub-committee to draft the programme, viz.—The Officers of the Society, with Professor Boyle, Messrs. D. P. Forde, R. E. Ludgate, T. O'Sullivan, M. Raleigh, ex-President; P. F. English and Cors. Dowling. Cow-Testing Instructor; C. T. O'Sullivan (Chairman Co. Limerick Branch); Timothee Riordan (Sec. Co. Limerick Branch); and M. J. O'Leary and Martin Gleeson, Agricultural Instructors, Co. Limerick.

On the motion of Miss Montgomery, seconded by Miss Slattery, the best thanks of the meeting were tendered to the Countess of Desart for coming all the way from Kilkenny to preside at the meeting.

Her ladyship appropriately acknowledged the vote of thanks and the proceedings ended.

SALE OF FARM NEAR MIDDLETON.

On Tuesday last Messrs. John Condon and Son, auctioneers and Valuers, Youghal, put up for public auction, the interest in Miss Margaret Murphy's holding at Ballynametagh, which contains about 27 acres (with small dwelling and out-offices thereon), held subject to payment of £5 8s. per annum, to the Irish Land Commission. Poor Law Valuation, £10 5s.

The bidding opened at £200 and after spirited competition between Messrs. T. Harnett, R. Forrest and two other competitors, the property was knocked down to Mr. R. Forrest, in trust for Mr. John Kenefick, Ballynametagh, at the sum of £450. Mr. W. St. Clair Rice, solr., Middleton, had carriage of sale for the vendor.

WAITING STUDENTS.

One of the examiners for the Law Society of Upper Canada has come to Europe on his honeymoon.

He apparently did not intend to be short of reading matter on the ocean voyage so he brought the examination papers with him.

That is the reason why candidates will have to wait to find out how accurately they are treading in the footsteps of Blackstone.

Youghal Urban Council.

ANNUAL MEETING.

Mr. J. R. Smyth, P.C., outgoing chairman, presided, and there also attended—Messrs. E. P. Lynch, J. Power, D. J. Linehan, D. Dennehy, Captain Dunne, P. J. McMahon, P.C.; P. Kenneally (outgoing vice-chairman); M. J. Fleming, E. Clancy, Mrs. S. Hurley, J. Beausang, T. Harrington, T. Murphy, P. J. O'Gorman, P.C.; M. D. Broderick, A. J. Fowkes.

Mr. McMahon said it had been his privilege 12 months ago to propose Mr. Smyth for the chair, and they had all good reason to be proud and pleased with their selection. No chairman had, or could have, taken a greater personal and practical interest in the welfare of the old Boro'. He therefore had great pleasure in proposing his re-election. He (Mr. McMahon) might have been a bit unruly at times (laughter), but that only added a taste of spice to the proceedings.

Mr. Harrington, as seconder of the election of Mr. Smyth at the start, said he had renewed pleasure now in seconding his re-election. On the ground of sheer merit alone he deserved that compliment.

Mr. Beausang—We all agree to that (hear, hear).

The Chairman said he was in the rather peculiar position of having to declare himself chairman. He thanked his proposer and seconder for their very flattering remarks, and his colleagues, one and all, for the honour they had conferred on him in re-electing him unanimously. He only did one man's part, and anything he had done was done with the cordial co-operation of his colleagues. It was his ambition to follow the same line of policy for the coming 12 months (hear, hear). He had no keen desire for the chair, but as he was in it at their unanimous wish, it would be an affront if he didn't accept it.

Mr. Broderick proposed the re-election of Mr. Kenneally to the vice-chair, and he hoped it would be unanimous and as tending to good feeling amongst the members. If the chairman was a bit advanced in some of his ideas Mr. Kenneally's conservative tendencies would keep him in check (laughter).

Mr. Lynch seconded. Mr. Lynch proposed Mr. Clancy for the vice-chair. Mr. Harrington appealed for unanimity. It was too small a matter to divide the board on.

The Chairman personally agreed. Notwithstanding an occasional storm, the old crew brought the ship safe. Having re-appointed the skipper, he hoped they would see their way to retain the first officer.

Mr. Power seconded. Mr. Lynch's proposition.

On a poll there voted:—For Mr. Kenneally—Messrs. Harrington, McMahon, O'Gorman, Linehan, Fleming, Broderick, Dunne, Kenneally, Mrs. Hurley and the Chairman—10.

For Mr. Clancy—Messrs. Fowkes, Power, Murphy, Clancy, Beausang, Lynch, Dennehy—7.

The Chairman declared Mr. Kenneally elected.

Mr. Kenneally thanked his colleagues for that vote of confidence. As in the past, his policy would be to look after the people's interest by keeping down the rates as far as was consistent with efficiency.

Mr. Clancy thanked those who voted for him and against him (hear, hear). He had no ambition for the position, but merely yielded to the wishes of his friends to allow his name to be proposed.

Complimentary references to the Town Clerk for the invaluable assistance he had given the council during the past 12 months brought the meeting to a conclusion.

ORDINARY MEETING.

Present—Messrs. J. R. Smyth, P.C., chairman; P. Kenneally, vice-chairman; Capt. P. Dunne, D. Dennehy, E. P. Lynch, D. J. Linehan, T. Murphy, P. J. O'Gorman, P.C.; J. Power, P. J. McMahon, P.C.; A. J. Fowkes, Mrs. S. Hurley.

On the proposition of Mr. Power, seconded by Mr. O'Gorman, a cheque for £55 17s. 4d. for wages, etc., was passed.

Acknowledgment.

The following letter was read:—"Christian Schools, Youghal, 22/6/29. Dear Mr. Walsh—I am in receipt of copy of resolution of last Urban Council meeting in which the council congratulates the boys on the success of their recent drill display and athletic sports. On behalf of the staff and pupils I beg to thank your council for this unanimous vote of congratulations and for the close and consistent interest they always manifest in our various efforts for the welfare of the boys. Thanking you also for your personal congratulations—Very faithfully yours—J. D. McKenna."

Wages.

On the proposition of Mr. Power, seconded by Mr. O'Gorman, a cheque for £55 17s. 4d. for wages, etc., was passed.

Acknowledgment.

The following letter was read:—"Christian Schools, Youghal, 22/6/29. Dear Mr. Walsh—I am in receipt of copy of resolution of last Urban Council meeting in which the council congratulates the boys on the success of their recent drill display and athletic sports. On behalf of the staff and pupils I beg to thank your council for this unanimous vote of congratulations and for the close and consistent interest they always manifest in our various efforts for the welfare of the boys. Thanking you also for your personal congratulations—Very faithfully yours—J. D. McKenna."

Application for Compensation.

Mrs. Kaye, The Mail, wrote stating that her boy had sustained injuries by the falling of a rail protecting the public road, and asking what the council would do to compensate her for the loss sustained by her owing to the occurrence.

During the discussion it was stated that the boy was performing some gymnastic stunts on the bar when it gave way.

The Clerk was directed to reply that the council regretted the accident, but in view of the circumstances they could not admit any liability.

Studio for Strand.

Messrs. Horgan Bros., Friar street, applied for permission to erect a photographic studio on the U-ner Strand.

A report was read from the Town Surveyor stating that the proposed building would be only a temporary structure, and if permission was given it should be only at the pleasure of the council.

Mr. Power proposed that the application be granted.

Mr. Kenneally said they had refused other parties similar permission. If granted he suggested a time limit, say, 12 months.

Mr. McMahon pointed out that the proposition had not been seconded.

Mr. Murphy thereupon seconded it.

Mr. McMahon said notice of motion should be given.

Mr. Lynch said the building was to be on Messrs. Horgan's own ground.

The Clerk said that made no difference. Every new building was subject to the approval of the council as Sanitary Authority.

After some discussion the application was granted unanimously for 12 months.

Co-option.

In accordance with notice, Mr. Power moved that they co-opt Mr. John Whelan, South Main street, to fill the vacancy created by the death of his father, an esteemed colleague of theirs and formerly Chairman of the Council.

A letter was read inviting the council to send delegates to the annual Conference of Municipal Authorities.

Mr. Power proposed the chairman.

Chairman—Give the chairman a chance. He can't be everywhere (laughter).

Mr. Power—And Mr. McMahon.

Mr. McMahon—I don't want the honour—I am very humble (laughter).

Cork Centenary Celebrations.

It was decided to send a representative delegation to the Cork Centenary Celebrations; details to be arranged at next meeting.

New Road.

Mr. Dennehy drew attention to the neglected condition of the road at the back of the Strand and Pacific Hotels. It had formerly been only a bye-road, but now, thanks to the enterprise of a colleague of theirs, it had become an important thoroughfare and deserved attention.

The Town Clerk said the road in question was popularly called "The Back of Mag's" (laughter).

The Town Superintendent was instructed to see after the place.

Lavatory on Strand.

Mrs. Hurley asked if there had been any tender received for the erection of the ladies' lavatory on the Strand. The season was running on.

The Chairman said they had received a tender, but it could not be dealt with just then as the legal conveyance of the site had not yet been received.

Windmill Lane.

Mr. Lynch called attention to the broken condition of the surface at Windmill lane, a very populous vicinity. One man fell and narrowly escaped serious injury last week.

Improving Water Supply.

Replying to Mrs. Hurley, the Chairman said that the invoice of the 3-in. water main for the Upper Strand had been received and the work would be put in hand immediately on their arrival.

LIVE STOCK BREEDING ACT, 1925.

LICENSING OF BULLS IN THE IRISH FREE STATE AND NORTHERN IRELAND.

It has come to the notice of the Department of Agriculture, Irish Free State, and the Ministry of Agriculture, Northern Ireland, that the arrangement which has been in force for some time past, whereby bulls which were licensed or rejected in the Irish Free State were automatically licensed or rejected when imported into Northern Ireland and vice versa has been abused by some cattle dealers who have made a practice of transferring across the border bulls which, subsequent to being licensed, have not been properly cared and which, therefore, have deteriorated and become unsuitable for breeding purposes. In these circumstances it has been decided to terminate the existing arrangements except in so far as bulls which are passed for licences at the Shows and Sales specified below are concerned, and the following new arrangement will, therefore, come into operation on the 1st August, 1929:—

1. Bulls Imported from Northern Ireland to the Irish Free State.

Every bull of the prescribed age brought into the Irish Free State from Northern Ireland (except those which are passed for licences at the Shows and Sales specified below where bulls are selected for premiums) will require to be examined by Inspectors of the Department of Agriculture, Irish Free State, and will be either licensed or rejected on its merits. It may, therefore, happen that a bull licensed in Northern Ireland will be rejected for a licence in the Irish Free State.

2. Bulls Imported from the Irish Free State to Northern Ireland.

Every bull of the prescribed age brought into Northern Ireland from the Irish Free State (except those which are passed for licences at the Shows and Sales specified below where bulls are selected for premiums) will require to be examined by Inspectors of the Ministry of Agriculture, Northern Ireland, and will be either licensed or rejected on its merits. It may, therefore, happen that a bull licensed in the Irish Free

OLD PARISH WOMAN SUES THE IRISH NATIONAL COMPANY.

HIS LORDSHIP'S VIEWS ON INSURANCE.

At the Waterford Circuit Court on Monday, before Mr. Justice Sealy, K.C., Mrs. Nora Cummins, Ballintlea, Old Parish, sued the Irish National Insurance Co. for £10 4s., amount of a policy effected with the company on the life of her husband, the late Ml. Cummins.

Mr. E. A. Ryan, solr. for the plaintiff, said Mrs. Cummins was a poor woman living in a labourer's cottage. Her husband was about forty years older than her; when he died he was aged 74 years. Plaintiff was left with five children, one of whom was only six years old. The plaintiff was approached in May, 1928, by a man named Thos. Foley, who was agent for the insurance company. She had not any idea whatever of insuring her husband, who was hale and hearty, despite his age, and was actually working. She did not know much about insurance, but she thought there should be a medical examination, and she suggested this to Foley. He said he knew the deceased, and he was satisfied to take out the policy for him without any examination. In November her husband complained of illness, and she brought him to Dr. Mansfield and he felt there was nothing wrong. A week before he died he got a bad attack of stomach trouble, and Dr. Casey, the local doctor, prescribed for him. The defence would probably be that the husband was suffering from a disease at the time he was insured. The policy was taken out on May 16th last.

Mr. Ryan referred to the proviso in the policy rendering the insurance void in the event that it is found that the insured is suffering from any bodily disease or mental infirmity at the time the insurance was effected.

His Lordship—That seems an extraordinary provision in a policy.

Mr. Ryan—There are very few people alive who do not suffer from some mental infirmity.

Mr. Lennon—That is the usual form. I have seen it in this court before.

His Lordship—I would not insure my life with an insurance company on that condition. No doctor can tell whether a person has a disease or not.

Mr. Lennon—It is in the nature of a wager.

Mr. Ryan—With the odds on the insurance company.

Mr. Lennon pointed out that in the ordinary small premium insurance policy the insured had to pay the fee for medical examination.

His Lordship said he had not paid any fee for insurance.

There is such a huge profit out of it," reflected his Lordship.

Mr. Lennon—It is a gamble. The defence is, as my friend says, that the assured, at the time of the insurance, was afflicted with a bodily disease. The doctor's certificate stated that deceased was suffering from cancer of three years' standing.

His Lordship—Have you any case in which this provision affects the policy. In all those cases in which a secret malady is existent are all the policies to be wiped out and sent back to the company? It is the most astounding thing I ever heard in my life.

Mr. Lennon—It is a wagering contract. You stand to win a big sum from insurance companies, and they are entitled to as much protection as the assured.

Mr. Ryan—The onus is on the defendants to establish that this man died from cancer. If it were a policy dealing with £10,000 the company would have their proofs here.

Nora Cummins said her husband died on the 22nd November. He was 74. She had been 21 years married. He was hale and hearty up to a short time before his death. Thos. Foley visited her in the month of May last. He was agent for the Irish National Insurance Company, and she insured her husband with him. The amount would scarcely cover the funeral expenses.

Cross-examined by Mr. Lennon, plaintiff said she never heard that Dr. Casey said her husband had cancer for three years.

His Lordship—I think it is a most unsatisfactory case, and I will adjourn it to the next Circuit Court.

Waterford Meat Factory.

INTERESTING SPEECHES.

At the annual meeting of the Irish Co-operative Meat, Ltd., Waterford, Mr. Gorey, T.D., presided, and there was a big attendance of directors and shareholders.

In the course of an interesting address Mr. Gorey (chairman) said:-Co-operation—in actual fact the term has no application to our business. Not more than 5 per cent. of our supply comes in to us strictly under that term. We buy on the live weight and on the dead weight scale, and by hand, but all in open competition with our competitors. The position in the creameries is quite different; they own or control the supplies within their respective areas. We do not. Open competition is our only channel of supply, but while we have none of the advantages of co-operation, we have all the disadvantages. For instance, we have to take any pigs a shareholder wishes to give us; sometimes a lot of unsuitable pigs—pigs that have been rejected elsewhere, and even the culls out of a lot. In a slump—and we have had slumps within the past 12 months—we cannot refuse pigs offered by shareholders, even though we know he is not a regular supplier; and we have taken pigs when we knew it was bad business. There are other disadvantages I won't go into. In a word, if we have succeeded here it is not because of co-operation, but in spite of it. I make no complaint because of that. Strange as it may seem, I welcome it. The natural offspring of "get it easy" is "take it easy," and because we did not get it easy I claim our directors are to-day better business men. They have a more detailed and a better knowledge of the business, and are better fitted to direct than they otherwise would have been.

I mention this to dispel the idea, if it exists, among our own people, that we owe nothing to sentiment. In these days, when circulation seems to be the paramount object in journalism, stunts to achieve that end are constantly being indulged in, sometimes without due regard as to what the reactions may be, or without advertising to all the factors in the case. I refer to the Press campaign to reduce the price of bacon, especially within the period covered by your balance. That this campaign had its effect in upsetting trade there can be no doubt. Small slumps in prices were brought about, not at all justified by the market supply, and that dominating factor, cost of production. As a consequence production here and in England was reduced considerably. Here, at one period, I am inclined to put the figure at 50 per cent., and this at a time when great efforts were being made to encourage production in the counties within the business circle. The price of offals is the factor that controls bacon production, and any campaign to beat down prices without due regard to the contributory factors must have serious reactions. As you see, we don't recommend a dividend to the shareholders. Our profits do not justify such a course, and we take the view that the main object for which we came into being was not so much to be a dividend-paying concern, but to force up a higher price for our shareholders' produce. I think it will be admitted we have achieved this. The difference in price between us and the North of Ireland, which was wide before we came into being, has now disappeared. I will give you a more pointed illustration—I have first-hand knowledge that our price here on a given date was 7s. per cwt.; Limerick, 70s.; Cork, 73s.; Tralee, 70s. I will go further. About the same period I was supervising our agent's work in Tipperary. Our price there was 55s. live weight; our competitors at Pethard paid 56s.; at Cashel their price was 54s., where they had opposition from Limerick only; and at Gortnahoe it was 52s. with no opposition. So much for our influence on prices. I should like to bear testimony to the loyalty of most of our shareholders, and also to pay a tribute to the office and factory staffs, from the top right through to the bottom.

The principal part of the work of direction has devolved on our Executive Committee. Twelve months ago it was set up, and they have since then given considerable time and attention to your business. I don't wish to particularise, but I cannot let this opportunity pass without paying my own and the other directors' tribute to the work that Canon Phelan has not alone done, but has inspired into the rest of us. I will leave it at that. He proposed the adoption of the report and statement of accounts. Very Rev. Canon Phelan, P.P., Piltown, in seconding, said:-The organisation of a business of the character and magnitude of Irish Co-operative Meat, Ltd., is not children's play; and, to secure success, it demands from the directors considerable time and attention to details. The rules of the Society provide for a board of twenty directors resident in different parts of the seven-county area which forms the main ambit of the factory's activities. If and when the rules are being revised, I would suggest that the number of directors be considerably reduced; for it is generally admitted that a big board is not always the most efficient. As far as the present board is concerned, I beg to assure the shareholders that the directors are faithful in attending the board meetings, and enthusiastic in their desire to achieve success. Twelve months ago, realising that the business of the factory required closer attention than the directors as a body could give (many of them living long distances from Waterford), the Board appointed an Executive Committee consisting of Messrs. Gorey, O'Hanrahan, Fitzgerald, Murphy,

Kelly, and Canon Phelan, with instruction to enquire carefully into the general work of the factory, and to provide remedies for tightening up its business, if any weakness were detected. The Executive Committee, of which Canon Phelan is chairman met, often weekly—Messrs. Gorey, Flynn and Murphy, lived in Waterford for a week—visited the factory daily during working hours, and made themselves acquainted with every department and with the workers. Mr. Gorey, in addition, spent a week touring Kilkenny, Tipperary and Cork counties, examining into the methods of the pig agents; while Messrs. Fitzgerald and Flynn performed a similar duty in County Waterford. The Chairman, Mr. Gorey, also visited the Irish, English and Scotch markets, with very satisfactory results.

It is recognised that the factory raised the price of pigs. What would happen if the factory ceased working is a question I would like some of our critical shareholders to consider. When pigs are scarce, shareholders exercise their freedom by giving their pigs to other concerns although the price at their own factory is as good, if not better; but when pigs are not wanted by other concerns Irish Co-operative Meat has an excessive supply. I sometimes thought that the factory, in its own interest, should not accept pigs in a falling market, except from those who are faithful in giving pigs at all seasons.

The business of Irish Co-operative Meat is increasing. The trade last year was almost double the preceding one, and, I may say, is fast approaching the million pounds mark.

It is my fervent prayer that, with the generous support of the shareholders and the public, and the continued keen supervision of the directors, Irish Co-operative Meat may be a valuable asset in developing rural prosperity. I beg to second the adoption of the balance sheet and statement of accounts (applause). Mr. Houlihan, T.D., Knocktopher, supporting, said one point he would like to stress was that it depended to a great extent on the members whether the factory was to become a success. The factory was not a company bound to make profits for the proprietors; it was built and erected for the benefit of the farming community, and it was their own factory. It was, therefore, for the farmers of this country to keep it going, to give it their first quality as well as their second quality pigs, and if the factory got that co-operation, that help, then it was going to be a help to the Irish farmer in this generation and in the next.

Mr. Lucey, Callan, asked if he was right in interpreting the chairman's address as meaning that it was compulsory on the factory to take poor quality pigs from shareholders. If that was so, he thought for such pigs they should only pay poor prices.

Chairman—No; but we have always done the very best for our shareholders and tried to take pigs from them even when the pigs were unsuitable. We have gone out of our way to help shareholders and never sent a man's pigs away.

Mr. Lucey said he had no wish to dictate to the directors, but he was of the opinion that the shareholders should not be dealt with in any way which would involve the factory in loss. Animals should be paid for according to quality. Continuing, Mr. Lucey said he was inclined to differ from Canon Phelan with regard to the size of the membership board. He was of opinion that if they kept an extensive board much better propaganda work would be done for the factory. He also suggested the payment of a small dividend. It should be the policy of the board, he said, to do that at the earliest moment. He knew most of the co-operative factories in Ireland were not thriving, though in England they were very successful. There were some men, however, who had paid as much as £200 to the Waterford Factory from the beginning, and such men, he thought, should get some little interest on their money. With regard to the latter point, the Chairman replied that they must be satisfied to go on until the profits of the Society warranted. With regard to the payment of interest to the shareholders, anyone looking at the balance sheet would know there was very little there to pay a dividend. The report and statement of accounts as adopted showed the gross profit for the year as £26,442 1s. 9d. A sum of £200 was carried forward to reserve for depreciation and had debts, which account now stands at £1,800. The credit balance forward was £269 14s., and the balance down on profit and loss account £2,069 14s.

Mr. Cobbe proposed the re-election of Messrs. Swaine and Browne as auditors, and in doing so pointed out that the cash turnover was satisfactory, almost three-quarters of a million, and he saw no reason why in the coming year they should not reach the million mark hoped for by Canon Phelan. He appealed to farmers to ask for the Clover brand bacon. If shopkeepers, he said, saw there was a demand for their bacon they would stock it. Such propaganda would help enormously the trade of the factory. They must remember they were up against an intense campaign against the co-operative factory, because the very fact of its existence would ensure a better price to the producer for his pigs. If the factory was not there, then the pig industry would be in the hands of the proprietary interests, who could give what prices they liked for pigs.

Mr. Looby seconded the auditors' re-election, and the proposition was agreed to. Mr. Villekold, manager, said the company had now closed its second working year, up to 31st March, 1929. The result was in favour of the shareholders, and the directors considered it satisfactory, taking into consideration the short period the factory had been working and the time it had to establish itself, and the very keen competition it had to meet from the beginning. That referred not only to buying, but to selling also. Considering the intense competition, the results achieved were creditable. The company had caused a keen competition which was of undoubted benefit to the supplier, whether a supporter of the company or not. The very existence of the factory was a safeguard, and enabled the producer to get the best price for his products. The killings of bacon pigs for the year had been 45,157, or an increase of 19,178 over last year. Porkers—11,872—showed a decrease of 7,625. Cattle and sheep killed were 1,783 and 2,510, as against 300 and 3,700 last year. They had received pigs from 45 different centres, including Counties Kilkenny, Carlow, Waterford, Cork, Tipperary and Limerick, and the factory had during the year erected about 25 live weight scales for receiving pigs, which gave the added facility of being able to pay cash on the spot. Regarding the prices of pigs, they were about 80s. per cwt. at the beginning of the year, and that kept fairly even up to about September, when a downward movement set in, touching to about 65s. Supplies became shorter and the factory had barely sufficient supplies of suitable pigs at the close of the year. About March again prices had gone up to about 90s. and 98s. The improvement about this time was mostly due to the small supplies from the Continent, caused by bad weather conditions. The year did not show as lively a pork trade as the year before. Top price was to be had at the beginning of the year (March) about 80s., but that gradually fell with the approach of the warm weather, until in May it was only 70s., when demand practically stopped. There was nearly always, he said, a demand for pork on the London market, except the three hot months—June, July and August; but if there was a demand in these months they would have been able to get the pigs over in good condition. Bacon prices were completely ruled by the supply and demand, and so it fluctuated during the seasons, but generally prices had been at the top during the summer months, for heavy killings set in about October and November, when prices were inclined to drop. The production of pigs, of course, was linked with the price of meal. On the Continent, when the quotation for pigs was 95s. per cwt., and the price of maize 9s. per cwt., and barley 9s. per cwt., the production of bacon pigs was a profitable business; but the farmer who studied his business would be able not only to produce his pigs, but his cattle, to fit in profitably with the requirements of the market, for it was recognised that, particularly as regards pigs, prices moved in cycles; but of late years the producers were becoming alive to the varying changes of the market. Considering all their difficulties, he was of opinion the year just passed had been a good year.

ST. MARY'S PRESENTATION CONVENT, LISMORE.

VISIT OF RIGHT REV. MONSIGNOR MAHER, SALINA, KANSAS.

The Right Rev. Monsignor John Maher, Pastor of the Sacred Heart, Salina, Kansas, with his sister and a party of friends, visited the Presentation Convent, Lismore, on Tuesday, 25th June, as well as the Maher Memorial School, which are situated beside the Convent and the gift of Monsignor Maher a few years ago.

A musical programme was prepared and executed by the pupils of the schools for the visitors, and an address of welcome to the visitors was read by one of the senior girls.

In replying to the welcome, Monsignor Maher said he felt sure he was the happiest man in the world to-day. He recalled his early days in Lismore, and dwelt on the scenic beauties of its surroundings, and on its ecclesiastical and historical associations. He felt proud of Lismore and proud of Ireland. Never, he said, could he forget the manifestation of faith and enthusiasm he witnessed in Dublin at the Emancipation ceremonies when the stalwart sons of Erin and her modest colleens to the number of half a million took part in the ceremonies that must have been so "leading to the Heart of Our Eucharistic King."

At the conclusion of the programme the Right Rev. Monsignor visited the Convent Cemetery where Mother M. Xavier and many of his old friends have been laid to rest during his absence.

The Monsignor was educated in his early days at Christian Brothers' Schools, Lismore, and few of his school companions now there look upon those far-off days with pleasure.

Vegetable Pill Cures Chronic Trouble

"Constipation injured my health for seven years," says Mrs. W. G. Wheeler, of 6, Beechcroft Road, Leytonstone, Essex. "I got awfully low spirited and was subject to sudden attacks of dizziness and severe headache. At the end of a day I was too miserable and too done up for anything. I had treatment from doctors. Ordinary pills and salts gripped and caused such pain that soon I had to give them up. Reading about Bile Beans, I began to take a dose regularly every night. In a gentle, yet thorough manner Bile Beans ended my bowel trouble, and also rid me of all pain, dizziness and depression. My strength and energy came back, and a good colour returned to my cheeks as I continued the course. Bile Beans completely set me up again. For indigestion, flatulence, acidity, constipation, biliousness, headache, and for purifying the blood, Bile Beans are simply splendid. Of all chemists and stores in 1/3 and 2/- sealed boxes only.

YOUGHAL NOTES.

YOUGHAL URBAN COUNCIL.

The Youghal Urban Council, judging by the manner in which some of the business has been transacted of late, would seem to be on the high road to losing the good name which it once held and justly deserved. Some of the scenes and discussions at recent meetings reflect anything but credit on those who figured prominently in them, and accusations and counter-accusations are flung across the table in florid language and with a display of heat that is entirely unnecessary. Some time ago the Chairman reminded the council that it was against the spirit and letter of the Standing Orders to have members jumping up and down like "Rock Robins" on a perch. It appears the orders referred to allow a member to speak but once to each motion or subject. Not long ago the Chairman called a member to order saying: "Why, I believe you have stood up twenty times already," to which the councillor in question retorted: "But this is a different subject, Mr. Chairman." To give the majority their just due, they generally say very little, and endeavour to transact the business before the meeting in a manner to which no exception can be taken, but some seem out to kick up a row on any pretext, and make "much ado about nothing." Frequently the meeting is stretched out until "time is up," when, in a properly conducted assembly, the same business could be done, and done well, in half the time or less.

MOTOR NUISANCE.

An incident which took place on the main road to the Strand last Sunday evening would indicate that the unfortunate pedestrian is not safe even on the footpath. A two-seater from the city came quickly along the Strand road. It carried four or five persons—three inside and one on the footplate—some say two. Anyhow, when nearing the Loreto Convent it swerved aside to avoid another car, and the "outside" passenger struck a little boy named John O'Flynn, knocking him down. Fortunately the boy escaped with some bruises and shock. He is still confined to bed and under the doctor's care. Later on the same car crashed into an electric pole in Strand street, sustaining considerable damage. It is said that the Civic Guards got the names of the responsible parties in the car and that they will be prosecuted at the Youghal District Court. In the matter of scorching through our narrow streets, with so many side streets opening on to them, the motor cyclists are perhaps the worst offenders. They simply fly through—sometimes at such a terrific speed that it is almost impossible to get them to stop up. Scorching on the open country road is often dangerous, but through the narrow streets of our old country towns it is suicidal and homicidal. As regards the buses, the heavy fines imposed at a recent District Court will probably have a very wholesome effect as regards the speeding which they were indulging in previously.

THE FERRY BOAT.

At the last meeting of the council the Town Clerk, in reply to the vice-chairman, said that for the previous week the new motor ferry boat had made a profit of 13 guineas. That is, indeed, both satisfactory and encouraging. With a continuance of the fine weather and the usual influx of the "gaybricks" or "oilshers" for the ensuing two months, it is not at all unlikely that the traffic in question will prove even more profitable. This would be a justification of the council's action in procuring a suitable up-to-date boat, and might be an incentive to further enterprise on the part of the local municipal body in the near future.

SUNDAY ON THE STRAND.

Last Sunday was a big day on the Strand, several extra trains having to be put on to bring down the visitors from the city and along the line. At 4 o'clock there was a crowd on the beach from Moll Goggin's Corner away out to Redbarn, stragglers going even farther out. The weather was simply delightful, with a welcome easterly breeze that nicely tempered the summer heat. On the beach the crowds enjoyed themselves bathing or paddling, with the youngsters building castles on the beautiful sands. Off the beach variety was furnished by the Strand Palace, Barker's Fun Fair and Fields Merry-go-Rounds. Lively scenes were witnessed at the terminus as the thousands made their way into the trains that brought them home. The ferry across the harbour to Monastrea was well patronised, and the motor ferry boat was kept busily going all the evening. Notwithstanding the large crowds, not a single untoward incident occurred to mar the pleasures of the trippers.

DEATH OF MR. R. BUTLER,
STRADBALLY.

We regret to record the death of Mr. Richard Butler, which sad event occurred at Stradbally on last Sunday morning, following a protracted illness and at a comparatively early age. An exemplary Catholic, broad-minded and generous-hearted, deceased was a general favourite with all. The remains were conveyed to Newtown Parish Church on Monday evening and were followed by a big cortege. Requiem Mass was offered up for the eternal welfare of his soul on Tuesday morning, after which all that was mortal of the deceased gentleman was reverently laid to rest in the adjoining graveyard amid many manifestations of sorrow. May he rest in peace.
