NEW ADDITION COMPLETED

Adown the centuries the history of Dungarvan is closely intertwined with the history of the Augustinian Order. In the dim past there was a Convent of Austin Friars quite adjacent to the old Castle at the corner of Church st., and in later days the Abbey at Abbeyside, built by the McGraths of Sleady and the O'Briens of Comeragh, and en-dowed with a big parcel of land in the Parish of Ballinroad, was for long the home of the Augustinians until the Penal days came and the monks had to fly with their lives from the cloister and hide in the mountains and glens from which they ministered to the spiritual needs of the people. When the bad times were over and the Penal Laws relaxed the Augustinians returned again to their people, who re-ceived them with delic' and since then they have carried on their great work in the best traditions of their founder-the illustrious St. Augus-

Youghal Council and the Language.

Sir-With reference to the appointment of a clerical assistant to the Youghal Urban Council, I read with interest, in the "Observer," Mr. Dennehy's appeal for a National language qualification. In a felicitous way he made out an unanswerable case for the qualification-so, my surprise was great, when so advanced an authority on the subject as Mr. Harrington, pronounced his speech to be "all balder-

But my cup of horrification overflowed the brim when Mr. Harrington's views were endorsed by 12 to 7. Without, of course, wishing any discourtesy to Mr. Dennehy, the claims for the National language are so obvious, that anybody can make out an "unanswerable case." I have even done so myself, in a previous "Log" in the "Observer." As this 'Log" evidently escaped the notice of these 12 good men and true, I trust you will allow me quote from it for their bene-

Here is the part:

I cannot understand the present opposition to the language movement. Active and vehement opposition I can understand, as the object of such is always "ulterior" and obvious. But I cannot understand how anybody claiming to be a genuine Irishman, could offer the least opposition - other active or passive.

No Nation worthy of the name would tolerate such a gilbertian situation as to possess a language of its cwp, and yet not speak it. Situated as Ircland is, there can be no question, but that English is, and must always be the language for outside business purposes. But this should not, and must not, interfere with Irish being the National language spoken amongst the people. If anybody thinks this idealistic, but not practical, let him only look at Belgium and Holland.

Those tiny nations, situated as they are, in the very hub of the amporium of the mighty nations of the worldyet speak only their own languages amongst themselves. This is especially well seen at Antwerp. For if anywhere ought be "tainted" with the language of the foreigner, it is Antwerp. Its vast quays and docks are alive with British and American ships -all, of course, speaking English. Also France and Germany are largely represented.

As soon as we berth in dock at Antwerp, the ship is immediately boarded by 50 to 100 dock labourers. Not 2 per cent, of these can speak a word of English; a few can speak French; but it is safe to say 90 per cent, of the labouring classes of Belgium cannot speak any language but their own.

The lesson to be learnt from this is obvious and requires no expatiationsuffice it to say: If, in a cosmopolitan centre like Antwerp, the native language, is the language of the people, how much more so ought this be the case in isolated Ireland.

Moreover, and what is especially significant in this connection, there are no countries in Europe more prosperous than Belgium and Hol-

En passant, I might mention, all the better classes (shopkeepers, etc.) in Belgium can speak French; and it seems to be the custom that when one of the better classes meets another of the same class, who is a stranger, or of only slight acquaintance, they speak to one another in French-though both are Belgians. But in the family circle, all classes speak only their own lan-Similar remarks apply to Holland

-but there the foreign language usually learnt is German or English instead of French. And so it should be in Ireland.

When Mrs. O'Snubby takes a walk and meets Mrs. O'Sidy, I see no reason why they should not have a chat in French, Arabic or even English-but when they get back home and put on their aprons, Irish should be the lan-

If after reading the above, these 12 City Fathers still dub the language movement as "balderdash"-well. I give them up.

It would, of course, be futile to expect middle-aged persons in general, to learn Irish, or, indeed, any language -but this impracticability makes it all the more necessary for those of mature years to "do their bit," and let the rising generations see they must They scarcely "did their bit" by en-now examined the defindant after he had been sworn. Defendant stated that he was carrying on only a small shop in Tallow in which he sold chocolates, cigarettes and similar small articles. His business was bad and he was not in a position to pay anything off the debt atpresent. He was paying £8 13s. 1d. rent, and had a wife and family to support.

Mr. Ryan—Do you admit having got the chocolates from the Urney Co.?

Defendant—I do. Mr. Ryan—And I suppose you sold them at a profit? Yes.

Mr. Ryan—And when do you intend to pay this debt? I can't say, as I have no means at present. Mr. Ryan then read out a list of other firms, including Players' Cigarette Co., who had already obtained arette Co., who had already obtained decrees against defendant, and asked thie is no laughing matter for my him did he intend to pay anyone for the goods which they had supplied to Defendant repeated that he was not able to pay anybody at present. Mr. Ryan next read a statement submitted by defendant last May in which he said his profits were only £1 per week, and he had to support a wife and three children out of that. Defendant-That should be four children, sir. Mr. Ryan-What! Has there been another one since May?

Defendant-Yes, sir. Mr. Ryan-It is easy for you to enjoy all those luxuries when you don't pay any of your debts (laughter). Continuing, Mr. Ryan asked him if he could pay 2s. 6d. per week of the present debt? Defendant said he would try to pay this amount.

Mr. Ryan asked the Justice to make an order for payment of instalments of 2s. 6d. per week.

Justice-The Urney Co. will be a long time collecting their debt at that

Mr. Ryan-It can't be helped, sir, as there is no use in making an order for an amount which he cannot pay An order was made accordingly with £1 costs against defendant, who is not a native of Tallow.

Alleged Trover and Conversion.

Lismore, defended. Mr. Hyan, in outlining the case, said this was a civil bill for the trover and conversion of a quantity of manure by the defendant under the iollowing circumstances-Mr. Hennessy was a large farmer, who resided some distance from the public road, his house being approached by a by-road, and for the past 18 years it was his custom to collect each year a large quantity of the scrapings of the road, containing mould and withered leaves which he deposited in an cherwise disused depot on the side of the byroad and afterwards used for manure on his land. Some months ago the defendant, who is a building contractor, had a contract from the Waterford County Board of Health to carry out some job at the Cappoquin waterworks, near the depot, and :t was alleged that he then removed Mr. Hennessy's stuff from the depot and used

John McGrath, Boherberay, examined by Mr. Ryan, said he had been contractor of the goad for 10 years, and saw Hennessy collecting the stuff for manure each year.

This closed plaintiff's case, and Mr. O'Gorman opened the defence by calling Mr. John Brackett, Cappoquin, who stated that he was County Council overseer in charge of the road in question. In May, 1920, he had ordered Hennessy to clear his stuff out of the depot, as he had no right to have it there. Last March Mr. McKenna curie to him and asked him for permission to put his building materials he gave him the necessary permission, and told him to throw out Hennessy's stuff as it was no use for any purpose. There were only about five or six loads of Hennessy's stuff in the depet at the

Mr. Ryan (to witness)-You are not a farmer and therefore do not know the value of this stuff as manure.

Board of Health to carry out certain improvements at the Cappoquin waterworks. He asked Mr. Brackett if he could use the depot for his building materials and he told him that he could, and to throw out any of Hennessy's stuff which might be there. There were only five cubic yards of stuff there representing five or six loads at the time, and he got it thrown away, with the exception of about one | lied upon good load, which was left behind. The load of gravel which Mr. Brackett had left near the depot.

Mr. O'Gorman, at this stage, produced a box of rubbish overgrown with weeds, and said this was a sample of the stuff which Mr. Hennessy claimed to be manure.

Michael Colbert, labourer in reply to Mr. O'Gorman, said that he was employed by Mr. McKenna last March, and it was he cleared out the depot on his orders. There were only four or five leads of rubbish there, and he threw most of it over the wall into a plantation. There was also about a half load of gravel there belonging to stuff used at the bridge. John Crotty, labourer, Cappoquin, having given similar evidence, the heard his further statement, said he was satisfied that Mr. Hennessy's claim had failed, and he accordingly dismissed the case.

Mr. O'Gorman applied for costs, but the application was refused.

MOGEELY v. YOUGHAL.

The above minor teams met at Bally macoda on Sunday week in wretched weather conditions, a dirty drizzle pre vailing the whole evening through. Nevertheless the pitch was in good condition and a really admirable men of bull, being a crossed Aberdeen game, well and evenly contested, ended in a fitting draw. The sporting instinct of the friends on both sides defied the clerk of the weather, there said the reason he kept the bull so long being a fairly good attendance, that was because he was delicate and sufcustom, the ball was thrown up within a few minutes of the prescribed time (3.30). Mr. J. McLoughlan, Ballymacoda, acted as referee in a manner that won the praise of both players and spectators. Both teams included a number of very promising hurlers, the following among others of the Mogeely team putting in some fine work-W J. Hennessy, Hart and Carey, while Youghal was well represented by

After the puck-out Youghal rushed, and following an interesting Mr. bit of neutral play, placed a minor to tipping, that ended the first half with the narrow margin of one point between:-

MOGEELY—3 goals. YOUGHAL—2 goals 2 points.

Resuming play, Mogeely lost but little time in increasing their small spite of Youghal's determined efforts to level up. During the intervals between scoring, there were fine displays of give and take hurling. Approaching the close Youghal put on half of Messrs. McCarthy, Wine a spurt, and gradually lessened their Vaults, Lismore, for an occasional license for a spirit bar on the Lismore before the whistle blew in wiping it out and ending the game with a draw The final score was:-

COUNTY SURVEYOR'S REPORT. LISMORE COURTHOUSE. KILBARRY BOGS

The quarterly meeting of the County The quarterly meeting of the County Council was held on Tuesday. Mr. John Kiersey, chairman, presided. There were also present—Mesurs P. O'Gorman, M. far advanced as necessary. This wili lead to withholding of payments. Very few roads of importance are now done on the surfaces, most of our attention being devoted to the work .f rolling and tarring and preparation of the machines can reach it.

In the quarter a good deal of rolling and tarring work has been done. The grouting, with tar-bitumen, of the Waterford-Dunmore road is proceeding, about two miles being completed. The whole road will be completed in the current quarter. The Ballyvoile-Carrigahilla main road has been rolled and tarred. Dungarvan-Duckspool road has been rolled and tarred, and also the main road from Fairlane, Dungarvan to Mapstown. The stone has been prepared on the main road Dungarvan-Ballyvoile, and the rolling and tarring is in progress. On this road the money allowed will not be sufficient to fully complete the work. On the Helvick main road rolling and tarring has been completed from Robert's Cross to Ring. The road from Clashmore to Geosh Bridge has been rolled and tarred. The stone has been prepared on the greater portion of the Tramore-Annestown road, and rolling will commence at an early date. On the Carrick-Ballyhest road all stone has been prepared, and rolling and tarring is nearing completion. The Kilmeaden-Pouldrew main road has been rolled and grouted. All stone has been quarried for the Blenhiem-Passage road, and likewise for four miles of the Clonmel-Carriek on-Suir road. Nearly all stone is ready for rolling of the streets of Tallow, and work will be put in hands at an early date. Generally I am satisfied that the best possible progress has been made in all cases, and the costs of the different works have been reasonable. A certain amount of tar-patching has been carried out all over the county, rendered necessary by the bad weather, coupled with the increase in weight, speed and numbers of motor vehicles now using the roads. The contractor for the supply of tar com-pound has been very unsatisfactory as regards deliveries.

The whole of your plant is in good working order and has been working hard during the quarter. Owing to the hardness of the stones now being unavoidable, while a good deal of wear is always going on.

A number of dangerous corners have been eased throughout the county. Negotiations are proceeding to secure the removal of several others. The lestruction of danger signs and direction signs still goes on, while all hope of evidence to secure the conviction of the culprits has disappeared.

The necessary alterations to plans and specifications for the reconstruction of the Courthouse at Lismore in accordance with the requirements of the Ministry have been carried out.

ACKNOWLEDGMENT.
Mr. and Miss Spratt, Abbeyview, wish to return their sincere thanks for the many kind messages of sympathy received in their recent bereavement.

At a meeting of masons in the Town Hall, Dungarvan, a resolution was proposed by Mr. P. Fitzgerald, and seconded by Mr. J. Whelan, protesting against the action of the Urban Council in accepting a tender from a handyman for the erection of four houses at Abbeyside; declaring that such was against Trade Union principles, while competent masons were locally available, and appealing to the council to uphold the claims of the masons, as if such men were allowed to take their place nothing was left but the County Home.

IRISH COLLEGE, ARDMORE.

Pilib O Laoghaire and Maire Ni Chonail, students of Colaitse Deaglan, traditional violin.

A feature of the District Court at unable to travel on last Sunday week, will visit Lismore on next Sunday afternoon to play a friendly match with the local team. The match will start at 3 o'clock (summer time) and be continued up to tea time at 6 o'clock. This should prove a most 10.30 and 12 midnight.

LISMORE FAIR.

Lismore monthly fair on Wednesday week showed a welcome improvement on previous fairs. There was a brisk Ardmore, won 1st and 2nd prizes, respectively, in traditional singing. Pilip was also awarded 1st prize in after, and many important sales were effected during the day.

Agricultural Conditions

Weather and Work.-The weather of July favoured the growth of vegeta-tion following the dry spell in the pre-vious month, and benefited old

The Hay Crop.-First and second crop and early-cut meadows were saved in good order, but their removal to the haggard has been delayed by broken weather. The saving of the ordinary crop entailed considerable labour; much of it has had to remain for a length of time on the ground after

Cereals.—All corn crops made satisfactory progress; and straw—which in June was short-developed satisfactorily. On the lighter classes of land, however, complete recovery is not possible and yields may be slightly Winter-sown wheat presents a good appearance and promises to be well up to average in yield and quality. Spring sown crops also made progress though in some places they are backward and patchy.

Oats, in all counties, has done well.

Some winter-sown in Carlow had already been harvested while crops in one or two of the Southern counties were ready for cutting at the end of July. In the absence of more sunshine, however, present indications are that harvesting of the oat and other corn crops may in some districts be rather late, and that recent heavy rains may render harvesting operations in many districts exceedingly difficult.

of being up to average in yield and quality, but some of the heavier crops have already become "lodged."

Flax.—In all the counties in which it is grown the flax crop made good progress, and the yield is likely to be up to average. In many places the heavy rainfall has resulted in "lodging" of the crop. Pulling has already commenced.

Potatoes.—Maincrop potatoes grew very well, and if not checked by disease give promise of yields above average. Comparative freedom from "Blight" in recent years had tended towards a certain amount of slackness in the adoption of preventive measures, and during the present season spraying had been deferred by many farmers to mid-July. Effective spray ing has been hampered by rain, but second and even third applications have since become more general. While some counties are comparatively free from blight, the disease has made its appearance in many districts throughout the country, but in few instances so far had serious damage been recorded.

Yields of first earlies, though generally up to an average crop were oc-casionally below those of last year. Second earlies were an average crop. Prices all round, though not on a high level, reached a fair average.
Root Grops.—Roots made good progress, but are still slightly backward owing to the absence of deat. Mangels and sugar beet both promise to be satisfactory crops.

Early sown turnips suffered severely from drought and "fly" attacks in June, but those that survived are now well forward. Second sowings were frequent, and third sowings were occasionally necessary. Though back-ward for the time of year, a warm month of August would probably bring the crop up nearly to average. "Finger and Toe" was reported in a few instances. Weeds are proving very troublesome on these crops.

Cattle.—The health and condition of stock were maintained at a satisfactory standard. Fairs held during the month were of small dimensions, and the numbers of fat cattle and forward strong stores on offer were limited. The demand for these and for the choicer qualities of other classes was steady, with values, however, easier. Cows and springers also sold freely. For other animals values showed little change, and demand was usually equal to clearance. The following quotations represent the iverage range of prices for the various descriptions of stock on offer at provincial fairs during the month: Calves (under 6 months). £3 to £4 10s.;

Sheep.—Flocks were maintained in a healthy condition. Well-meated lambs continued in steady demand at rates approximating former figures. Demand for other classes was rather easier at occasionally lower values. The outlet for dressed lamb carcases The outlet for dressed lamb carcases are steady. Average prices for fat was steady. Though recent low prices for bacon pigs have proved discouraging, the numbers where the road is rather narrow and where the road is rather narrow and of breeding stock continue to be well where there is usually a good deal of Horses.—Farm horses were in steady demand at from £20 to £35, and occasionally up to £40 each. Prices for troopers ranged from £30 to £45.

A substantial proportion of old meadow, some of at an advanced stage of growth, still remains uncut.

Weather and Work.—The weather of July favoured the growth of vegetation following the dry spell in the previous month, and benefited old meadows, corn and root crops. Few days were free from rain, and in the latter part of the month lower temperatures were experienced. The absence of any settled period rendered that after-cultivation of root crops and other necessary farm operations. The saving of hay and carting in of turiwere carried out under difficulties. The clearing of weeds which developed freely on cultivated and grass land occupied most of the available time which could not be devoted to other farm operations.

He had already ex-plained that owing to the difference in size twice the amount of timber should go on the roofs if the Killaloe slates were used. Small slates will require three times the amount of labour.

Mr. Griffin—The Irish slates are guaranteed for 100 years and the asbessacrifice anway.

The matter then ended.

Extension of Premises.
Mr. Griffin moved the following notice of motion standing in his name: "I propose that the council reconsider rievance; her tenant has no water.

Mr. McCarthy—There are children adjourned for a week. Mr. Power proposed that it be adjourned for six months, but got no seconder.

YOUGHAL PARISH CHOIR.

The Youghal Parish Choir held their annual excursion on Sunday. Leaving home at 10.30 in four cars, and accompanied by their able conductor and organist, Mr. M. J. Firmin and his good lady, the party journeyed through the striking scenery along the right bank of the beautiful Blackwater via Cappoquin to Melleray, where they made a stay. Resuming they passed Giving Employment to Greeks.

The following letter was read from the Secretary Killaloe Slate Quarry
The Millaloe Slate Quarry
The weather was about same as in all the secretary and the 12th inst. received, and we note with surprise that the Dungarvan Urban District Council have decided to use on their new houses foreign asbestos slates instead "best" of it in the circumstances. They of Irish natural slates. This decision is really extraordinary, especially when you note that in our letter of the 1st inst. we offered to supply Irish slates as cheap as asbestos. We feel sure that the workers of Belgium where these tiles are manufactured and the miners in Canada and Greece is really were warmly welcomed by their old friend and Spiritual Director Rev. Fr. Scannell, C.C., at whose behest the genial proprietor, Mrs. Aherne, and her staff did everything possible to make the weather-bound travellers comfortable. After dinner the party broke up; some metared out to Gallen. ful to the Dungarvan Urban Council for the extra work they have given them, whilst what the Irish workers, who are hungry and unemployed. Will say of them we leave to your imagination.

The order for Dungary and Ureece Castle, others paid a visit to friends in the Convent, while others hearing that their old teacher, Rev. Brother McKenna, had arrived on the previous evening to take up the position of Superior of the local Convent. together again for tea, they subse-quently held an impromptu concert, which whiled away a few enjoyable Irish labour.

Mr. Foley said that might mean changing the specification; extra timber would be required.

Mr. Hackett. We understood from the Lismore Gas when the labour is the labour.

Carrick-on-Suir. Mr. D. Drohan has been Manager of the Lismore Gas when the labour is the labour. Mr. Hackett—We understood from the Borough Surveyor that the asbestos slates were cheaper, and I understood that if Irish slates were used it would be dearer for the labouring man, that is the rent would be higher on him.

Borough Surveyor—The slates were figure in Lismore and the past 11½ years, and a more efficient or courteous prolic official it would be hard to find anywhere. It is mainly due to his great ability and experience in the management of this important concern that the price of gas has been kept at such a uniformly low figure in Lismore and the general that the price of gas has been kept at such a uniformly low figure in Lismore and the general that the price of gas has been kept at such a uniformly low figure in Lismore and the general that the price of gas has been kept at such a uniformly low figure in Lismore and the past 11½ years, and a in Ireland, England, Wales and New Zealand have been executed by P. THE TOWN COMMISSIONERS. Following the falling through of the usual monthly meeting of the Town Commissioners on Monday night week, tos only for 20years. He understood a special meeting of this body was held that on the schemes of houses at Clonin the Carnegie Free Library on Monmel and Carrick-on-Suir Killaloe slates day night. Mr. Thos. Crotty, chairwere used. We should make a little man, presided, and the others present were-Messrs. Sean Goulding, T.D.; J. C. Heelan, T. Duggan and Cronin O'Gorman. The usual monthly cheques for payment having been passed, and some other pressing matters having been dealt with, votes of sympathy were passed to the relatives of the late Mr. John Bennett, a former member of the Board, and to the relatives of the late Mr. James Hartnett, after which the meeting adjourned.

LISMORE DECLINE IN GAELIC

SPORT. The decesive defeat of the Lismore Hurling team by Dungarvan recently serves to emphasise the painful fact that Lismore has fallen very far back in all branches of Gaelic sport in recent years. Time was, not so long ago, when this town held a high place both in the hurling and football arenas, but, owing to emigration and other causes. there has been a marked decline in the enthusiasm of those days compared with the listless spirit of to-day. Who can forget the glorious days of some 25 or 30 years ago when the famous "Blackwater Ramblers" Football Club was able to field one of the finest individual teams in Munster, and when the late Mr. Con Ronayne, Tourtane, as president, and the late Mr. John Crotty as vice-president, led them with many a brilliant victory?

Some of the good old "Ramblers" of those hectic days still remain amongst us, but they are veterans now, and it behoves the younger generation to bestir themselves and show more en thusiasm in the grand Gaelic games of to-day if they hope to once again win for Lismore the proud place which it occupied in Gaelic prowess in the past.

ON RETREAT.

The nuns of the Presentation Convent are at present on a retreat, which is being conducted by the Rev. Father Collier, the well-known Redemptorist preacher, who should be remembered in Cappoquin where he conducted a most successful mission in pre-war days, some 16 or 17 years ago.

The Sisters of Mercy. Cappoquin, have just concluded a ten days' retreat, which was conducted by the Rev. Father Malone, S.J.

A POPULAR CATERER, Mr. Wm. A. Roe, South Mall, the well-known and popular caterer, has been specially engaged to carry out all the catering arrangements in connection with the important Lawn Tennis Tournament to be opened here on Monday next, 25th inst., while he will also be in charge of the catering arrange-ments at the great West Waterford Hunt Dance in Cappoquin on Wednesday night, 27th inst., so that nobody should be hungry or thirsty on either occasion.

PRICE OF PIGS IN CAPPOOUIN. The price of pigs has remained unchanged at the Cappoquin Bacon Factory at 72s. per cwt., dead weight, for the past three weeks.

JUSTICE'S ADVICE TO YOUNG WOMEN.

In a case at Carrick-on-Suir District Court in which Mary Roche summoned Alice Cronin for abusive language, the Justice said grown-up women like the plaintiff and defendant should have more sense than to come to court a distance of five miles to complain of name calling like two school children. If the plaintiff would have the good sense not to notice the name calling by defendant and her children it would soon cease. He adjourned the case for two months.

would not have been a very big one; still we believe it would have enabled three more Irish workers to be employed for at least 12 months, but, of course, that means nothing to the members of the Dungarvan Urban Council as long as they have the consolation of knowing that they have given employment to a Belgium or a Greek. The poor Irish workers, many of which daily stand idle on the Square in Dungarvan, can stay idle and hungry for all the members of the Dungarvan Urban Council care. The emigrant ship and the County Home can take their toll of Irish manhood, whilst the foreigner grows fat on our folly.—Yours faithfully—S. Hogan, for Secretary.

Mr. McCarthy—I agree with every ward of that letter.

Mr. Power—It should be adopted.

Willed an impromptu concert, which away a few enjoyable hours. The party arrived home about 11 p.m. all in the best of good spirits, in spite of the weather.
