Vocational Education Committee.

PREMISES SOUGHT IN CAPPOQUIN.

An Fear Mhor presided. There were also present—Rev. M. F. Hearne, C.C.; Rev. Bro. Gibson, Prof. J. Curran, Messrs. M. F. Walsh and M. J. Keane.

Financial.

The Secretary said after the last meeting the committee had a debit balance of £272 11s., but since then they had received from the Department of Education in respect of grants for last year's classes £432 7s. under various headings. A 10 per cent. bonus was awarded for conspicuous results obtained by the classes conducted by Miss O'Neill and Mr. Halpin. The County Council had also paid the balance due of the rate struck for Irish and Technical Education amounting to £537 5s. 8d., making total receipts £969 12s. 8d., this leaving a balance to credit of £697 1s. 8d., and after paying £277 1s. 8d. passed that day, there would be a credit balance of £420 0s. 3d.

Chairman—Is this the first time you got a ten per cent. bonus on grants? Secretary—No. Chairman—It is very satisfactory. It has been a good month with the committee from the point of view of finance.

Premises at Cappoquin.

In connection with the report of the deputation appointed at the last meeting to view the premises offered for sale at Cappoquin, the Chairman said—I have been asked by the deputation that visited Cappoquin last Friday to give you an account of things as we found them. Messrs. Butler, Clancy, Curran, Walsh, Langan and myself visited four or five premises altogether. A gentleman named Smith had two very extensive premises in the Main street with a garden at the back. The premises are very big and would require the spending of a lot of money to remodel them and make them suitable for a school. We visited Mr. Brennock's place and found the house small. There was 1 1/2 acre of land at the rear. Only as a site could the place be considered. We then went to the bank premises and we found the premises would require to be knocked down and rebuilt. Then there was Mrs. McGrath's place, and the deputation were of the opinion it was the only house that was at all suitable. It was a fine substantial building with lots of accommodation for development and a great number of outhouses for use for Motor Engineering Classes, etc. The deputation thought the best procedure would be to have an engineer appointed to go and inspect the place and report as to whether it could be made suitable for the purpose we have in view. It may be too costly for the committee to consider it. We think it is possible to make the premises suitable all right, but it may be at a prohibitive cost. It was for the committee to consider whether it was feasible to send an engineer and see if the premises were suitable and report on them.

In reply to Bro. Gibson, the Chairman said Mrs. McGrath was asking £600 for the place. Mr. Walsh—The fee-simple of the place could be purchased from Sir John Keane for about £190. Fr. Hearne—You must get your engineer and he will give you an estimate of what it would cost to put it in order. Mr. Walsh—And Mrs. McGrath may come down a bit. Fr. Hearne—You must find about £1,000 roughly. Mr. Keane—What is the yearly rent at present? Secretary—£9 18s., and there is a lease of 48 years. Mr. Keane—If you intend carrying out improvements it would be well to buy it out in fee-simple. Mr. Curran—The only thing to do is to get an engineer to inspect the premises and report on same, and I propose to request Mr. Bowen, B.E., to go and inspect them and report to this committee, with an approximate estimate of the cost to make the place suitable for a school, and also an estimate of the cost of building a school on a vacant site, so that we can compare the cost of both.

Fr. Hearne—Can we afford to do this? Secretary—You have got new powers which put you into the position to do it. Fr. Hearne—Will we have spending powers as well as power to spend? Secretary—Yes. There is £1,000 not allocated in the estimate sent to the Department. Fr. Hearne—Would you get any grant for building like for the erection of National Schools? Secretary—You should be hard up to get that. Mr. Keane—I think you should get a loan. Fr. Hearne—I think we deal directly with the Department of Education. Mr. Walsh seconded Mr. Curran's proposition and it was passed. Chairman—That seems to be the only thing we could do. Mr. Keane—What was the cheapest site you were offered? Chairman—Brennock's at £300, but you should build there. Fr. Hearne suggested that Mr. Bowen be asked to inspect all the premises offered to the committee and see which would be the best and cheapest for them.

School for Tramore.

Mr. Walsh, in the absence of Mr. Fox, moved that Commercial Classes be established in Tramore, and that suitable premises be looked for.

Fr. Hearne—What classes had you there? Secretary—Cookery, woodwork, etc. Fr. Hearne said Tramore was an important centre and he was sure the people there would like to have those classes.

Bro. Gibson—Where will you get teachers for these classes? Secretary—You may get part-time teachers in Tramore.

Chairman—Yes, you would have very many teachers living in Tramore.

Bro. Gibson—Then you go back to the old thing again and so many teachers idle and out of work.

Fr. Hearne—If you open up new schools you will have appointments for new teachers.

Secretary—The rate will be increasing every year and the classes will expand. You cannot cover the whole county in the first year.

Fr. Hearne asked if a number of teachers—De La Salle men—were fully qualified would they be entitled to get work in Tramore, Cappoquin and such places?

Chairman—Yes, in their subjects. Of course the difficulty in the early stages will be to find suitable premises.

The resolution was passed, and it was decided to write to Mr. Fox for his suggestion re a suitable premises and the probable cost.

Fr. Hearne said the proper place for a site in Tramore would be half-way up the hill where they would be away from the distractions lower down.

Religious Teaching.

Fr. Hearne asked had anything been done in regard to religious teaching at Continuation Classes. He thought something had been done in the Co. Cork? He did not know if anything had been done in Waterford, and he thought there was no use in their doing anything until they knew of the arrangements under that head in the city.

Chairman—Of course we have not really started the Vocational Scheme yet.

Bro. Gibson—Religious teaching has been given for years in Clonmel at Technical Classes.

Fr. Hearne—We should find the best time to get most of the pupils together.

Secretary—The Day Commerce Classes would be the best. I don't think it would apply to Technical Classes. Religious teaching would be for Continuation Classes—for boys and girls 14 to 16 years of age. On April 1st the scheme comes into force.

Fr. Hearne—Write to Mr. Lane of the Waterford Vocational Committee and he will tell you what is being done there.

Cappoquin Rowing Club.

ANNUAL GENERAL MEETING.

The annual general meeting of the Rowing Club was held on Monday night. Mr. R. J. Collender, vice-president, presided, and there was a very large attendance of members. The proceedings proved most interesting and were carried out with the greatest smoothness and harmony, which augurs well for the future success of this popular and old-established Club.

Mr. J. J. Barron, treasurer, submitted an admirably prepared balance sheet setting out the expenses incurred in the holding of the regatta last year and also a most successful scratch race fixture. The expenses of sending crews to four outside regattas in Leinster and Munster, and also the cost of providing a new cover and set of cushions for the billiard table, the installation of a ventilator in the billiard room, and many other necessary improvements were set out in minute detail, and after meeting all these heavy liabilities the Club was now in the satisfactory position of having £70 to credit after the year's working.

The statement of accounts was regarded as highly satisfactory and was unanimously adopted.

Secretary's Annual Report.

Mr. Thomas F. Olden, Hon. Sec., submitted the following annual report.—The Club year just ended has been a very satisfactory one, especially from the point of view of rowing. Your Club was represented during the year at four outside regatta fixtures and your crews succeeded in winning two events, and were a close second in a third. You will be glad to know that as a result of these victories the Club's position in the rowing world has been greatly improved. Your own regatta, held in August, was more successful. Never before were more outside Clubs represented, and seldom, if ever, was a more attractive programme presented in Cappoquin. Unfortunately your representatives did not succeed in winning even one event at the home fixture, but let us hope that this will not damp their ardour, but rather spur them on to greater efforts during the coming year. It may be of interest to you to learn that every outside Club represented at your fixture has assured your officials that they were delighted with their visit, which they promised would certainly not be their last to Cappoquin.

From the social point of view the Club is in a very satisfactory condition. The membership is very large and the indoor games are all well patronised. Billiards seem to have a greater fascination than ever, and the enthusiasm aroused by the tournaments now in progress is sufficient testimony to the popularity of the game. During the year close on £20 was expended on improvements to the billiard table, which is now second to none in the South of Ireland. Your premises are in a good state of repair, and a considerable sum was expended during the year in painting the windows and carrying out other necessary improvements to the buildings. The erection of a ventilator for the billiard room at a cost of £8 6s. has now been completed, thus supplying a long-felt necessity.

The revenue received during the last 12 months from dances in the Boathouse Hall has been very satisfactory, but from other branches of entertainment a serious falling off took place. The Lismore Cinema Co., which usually contributed between £20 and £30 per year, can be credited with barely a quarter of that sum during the year now ended owing to the discontinuance of their performances early in the season. You will be gratified to hear that that portion of land adjoining the Club grounds has been acquired from Mr. Thos. Daly, and only a few minor details remain to be settled in order to complete the purchase. The value of this plot to the Club can scarcely be over-estimated, for if there was one thing more than another lacking to the Club that is consequently with pleasure that you are informed of the purchase of what is to you a very valuable piece of property.

Before concluding, reference must be made with deep regret to the death during the year of one of our most esteemed vice-presidents, Mr. T. G. Mansfield. The Club is much the poorer for the loss of one who had always when called upon lent a willing and useful hand to help us along. It is the earnest hope of the outgoing officers, and committee that the coming year will be a prosperous and successful one in every way for the Cappoquin Rowing Club.

The reading of the above report was greeted with loud applause, and it was unanimously adopted.

Election of Officers. His Grace the Duke of Devonshire and Senator Sir John Keane, Bart., were unanimously re-elected as patrons of the Club. Mr. R. L. Keane, Fortwilliam, was unanimously re-elected as president, while Capt. T. O. Jameson, Tourin, and Messrs. R. J. Collender, Thos. Daly and M. J. Sargent were re-elected as vice-presidents. It having been stated that Mr. R. J. Curran, outgoing vice-captain, was not seeking re-election, he was unanimously elected as an additional vice-president as a mark of appreciation and gratitude for his great services to the Club as an oarsman and coach for many years past. Mr. Villiers Stuart was unanimously re-elected captain, and Mr. John McCarthy, B.A., vice-captain. Mr. J. J. Barron, treasurer, and Mr. Thos. P. Olden, Hon. Sec., were unanimously re-elected; while Mr. S. Hick was elected as assistant secretary.

For five positions on the committee the names of seven members were proposed and seconded, but on a poll by ballot the following were declared elected—Messrs. Jas. Donovan, Jerh. Dempsey, L. D. Dunne, John Curran and P. Morrissey.

It having been decided to appoint a special Entertainment Committee, as distinct from the above, the following were elected—Messrs. P. Mason, Thos. O'Keefe, Joe Mason and Patk. Morrissey.

Several matters of detail having been dealt with, a cordial vote of thanks to Mr. R. J. Collender for presiding concluded the proceedings.

MISSING POSTMAN MYSTERY CASE RECALLED.

HIGH COURT APPLICATION TO PRESUME DEATH.

Last Friday an application was made in the High Court, Dublin, to presume the death of Laurence Griffin, a Co. Waterford postman, with liberty to Mrs. Griffin to apply for a grant of administration, alleging the death of her husband, not positively, but to the best of her belief, was granted by Mr. Justice Hanna.

Mr. J. Mooney (instructed by Mr. C. S. Quinlan), who moved in the matter on behalf of Mrs. Griffin, Millbrook Tce., Kilmacthomas, read an affidavit by his client, in which she stated that she was married to Laurence Griffin in April, 1907, at the Catholic Church, Corbally, Drumcannon, from that until Christmas Day, 1929, they lived happily together. There were three children—Bridget, 23 years; Alice, 21; and John, 20.

Laurence Griffin served in the Great War from 1914 to the middle of 1916, when his period of service as a reservist expired. From 1913, with the exception of his period of war service, he was employed as a postman at Kilmacthomas at £3 per week. He was a man of regular and sober habits, and had no debts or troubles of any kind.

On Christmas Day, 1929, he left his home about 11 a.m. to deliver letters and informed her that he would return home as early as he could that night. He was in his usual health and had not seen her husband since nor heard from him.

She had made diligent inquiries in regard to his whereabouts and had been informed by friends and strangers that her husband was last seen alive in Stradbally, about 7 p.m. on Christmas Day, 1929. Civic Guards had been making searches for him either dead or alive, but those searches had been of no avail, except that his bicycle and leggings, which she identified as his property, were found on the road about two miles from Stradbally.

This, she said, led her to believe that her husband had met his death, whether by accident or foul play she was unable to say.

Ten persons had been charged with his murder and disposing of his body, but informations against them were refused, and they were discharged. Her husband gave her £2 10s. weekly out of his wages, and she believed that he had no money with which to leave the country or to support himself.

In addition to the inquiries by the Civic Guards she had employed a party of men at her own expense to search with the assistance of friends in localities near Stradbally which had been named to her in anonymous letters as likely places where his body would be found, but those searches also had proved abortive.

The only assets left by her husband were two policies of insurance amounting to £22 10s., but she believed that the Post Office authorities in the event of a grant of administration by her would be liable to pay her, as the administratrix of her husband, £150, being the amount of a gratuity payable under the Superannuation Acts.

The Judge said that in an application of this kind it was not customary to presume death, and he did not make such an order, but without presuming the death he could give the applicant liberty for a grant of administration alleging the death of her husband, not positively, but to the best of her belief.

Mr. De Valera in Youghal.

Mr. De Valera, T.D., addressed a Fianna Fail meeting in Youghal on Sunday, at which there was a fairly large attendance. Mr. E. P. Lynch, Vice-chairman Urban Council, presided, and the other speakers included Messrs. Martin Corry, Wm. Kent, Sean Goulding and P. J. Little, T.D.'s.

Mr. Corry put before the meeting a comparison of the two policies—the policy which Fianna Fail considered should be in force and the policy of the Cumann na nGaedheal Government. The Youghal brickworks were practically closed down owing to the fact that foreign cement was being dumped into the town. General Mulcahy had laid it down that where foreign material was found to be cheaper it should be used. The boots which the Free State Army wear were foreign, while their uniforms were made in England. Fianna Fail, through Mr. De Valera, had stated that it was the duty of the Government to provide work for every able-bodied man willing to work, and at a fair wage, not 29s. per week.

There were four mills in East Cork constituency which were one month working and two months idle during the year, whilst the population of Cork was being fed on foreign flour. Mr. Corry dealt with derating and the retention of the land annuities. He also referred to the payment of £216,000 gratuities to officers of the Free State Army, without the authority of the Dail. This, he added, was to come out of the pockets of the workers, and handed over to them as bribes for the next General Election.

Mr. Sean Goulding, T.D., believed that absolute freedom for the country could be won without the use of the gun, but he would be a coward who would say he would never use a gun under any circumstances. "We would use the gun if it were necessary," declared Mr. Goulding, voice interjecting, "to-night, if you like."

Mr. Goulding went on to say he was not a gunman and did not advocate the use of force. It would be a good thing for this country and for the whole world if the argument of force could be ended once and for all.

Mr. Wm. Kent, T.D., having spoken, the meeting was addressed by Mr. De Valera, who was cordially received. He dealt at length with the general principles underlying the Fianna Fail policy. Why they had sought their independence was because they saw they had a wonderful country, capable of producing great wealth. They had seen all that wealth being flched to make the people of another country wealthy. Within the lifetime of some of the oldest living people amongst them the country had been robbed of its population, which had fallen from 8 1/2 to 4 1/2 millions. No other country in the world had suffered such a fall. Instead of 4 1/2 millions the population of the country should be 17 millions. When they looked around for a reason for the depletion of the population they saw it was due to the fact that the natural riches and resources of the country were not available for the people, but were taken away to make another people rich and prosperous.

They had heard it stated over and over again that England was Ireland's best customer, but that was a position they should get out of as soon as possible, because as long as that position held they would be kept dependent on England to produce exactly the things she wanted them to produce. It was not a thing to be proud of; it was a thing to be sorry for. Such is the monopoly which England has got of this country that we buy more British goods than the 60 million Germans; more than the 120 millions of people in the U.S.A., and more than the 320 millions of Indians. We wanted our independence to reverse that policy which was destroying our country. The Treaty gave the Irish people through their representatives power to change that policy, so far as whether it was to be one of Free Trade or of Protection, but they did not make use of it. They had tarified certain things, but Fianna Fail had to force them, every step of the way along this line, and the Government were now going along that line against the grain.

Dealing with the question of derating and the present position of the farmer, Mr. De Valera went on to say, that during the recent Co. Dublin Election they were told that the Free State Executive had agreed to the principle that relief had to be given to the farmers and that at least a million pounds sterling was to be devoted towards that object. He (Mr. De Valera) knew that the farmers wanted relief, and he was hoping that the present Executive would do something for them, but the political correspondents of the daily papers who were very well in with Government sources of information, now told them that the Government had abandoned the idea of relieving the farmers because there was not going to be an immediate election. Mr. De Valera also dealt with the land annuities which he said was the money of the Irish people. Fianna Fail, because they advocated the reten-

SYMPATHY. The numerous friends and well-wishers throughout these parts of Mr. and Mrs. James Bowdren, Main st., Kilmacthomas, sincerely sympathise with both in their recent heavy loss, occasioned by the death of a little son of theirs. Mr. Bowdren, by the way, is hon. master of the local beagle pack.

Lieut. Michl. Murphy, of the Free State Air Force (stationed at Baldonnel), piloted an army plane over his native Bonmahon in the early afternoon of Monday week. He circled low two or three times above the "copper village," and the natives waved their hands and cheered him. He returned flying in the direction of Dublin. The visitation created a great stir in that erstwhile "calm and peaceful" centre of old Decies.

WATERFORD SHOW AND SALE.

The forthcoming Show and Sale of Bulls under the auspices of the Co. Waterford Branch of the Irish Dairy Short-horn Breeders' Society to be held at Waterford on Wednesday, March 25th, promises to eclipse all previous Shows not only in the number of entries, but in the excellence of the animals. There are 190 entries made up as follows:—20 Pure-bred Registered Dairy Bulls, 70 Non-pedigree Registered Dairy Bulls, 30 Pure-bred Short-horns, 42 Aberdeen Angus, 7 Hereford and 20 Non-pedigree and Non-registered Bulls. They are drawn from the best herds of the Co. Waterford and adjoining counties, and in the Dairy Bulls Section all the leading breeders in the area are represented. Farmers on the look out for high-class Dairy Bulls of the dual-purpose type will find at this Sale the very animals they have long sought for, and with the records achieved by the bulls purchased in Waterford in previous years, competition should be very keen indeed for up-to-date and practical owners of dairy herds are all anxious to secure bulls of proved dual purpose strain. The best Short-horn, Aberdeen Angus and Hereford bulls are all of a very high standard and representative of well-known Southern herds. At this Show and Sale farmers will find a real chance of securing high-class bulls. Catalogues and all particulars can be had from J. Kennedy, Hon. Sec., Stonehouse, Kilmacdonagh, or from J. D. Palmer, M.I.A.A., Auctioneer, Waterford.

GIVE US BOOKS!

The financial year is now drawing to a close, and though the ratepayers of the county (including Dungarvan urban area) have paid 1d. in the £ towards the establishment of a County Library, they have not yet had the satisfaction of reading a book. Why this is so we cannot say. Of course there has been a big lot of preliminary work, and it was only in October the County Librarian took up duty. The very capable Library Committee appointed by the County Council has selected books, ordered a van, etc., and we hope that no more time will be lost in giving the people some return for their money and in putting into their hands good sound literature which will improve the mind and help to raise the tone of public morals and generally to give readers an antidote to the prevailing vitiated taste in art and literature. Reading marketh a full man. Why not then give our boys and girls all that is best to enable them to make the most of the opportunities that present themselves on the march through life? We hope the book van will be on the road at an early date and deliver good sound literature on all matters with the same punctuality as the bread and beer vans deliver their quotas of eatables and drinkables to the public at large.

The annuities, were told they were advising the breaking of one of the Commandments. Five and a quarter millions of money were going out of their country to England every year for which there was no return. If to power they were going to keep that money—they were not going to pay it away.

Licensing Prosecution.

Supt. O'Shea, Dungarvan, summoned Michael Tobin, publican, Modeligo, for a breach of the Licensing Act on Sunday, November 23rd, 1930.

Mr. A. R. Farrell, solr., Dungarvan, appeared for the defendant. Three young men named Edmond Power, Maurice Hickey and Edmond Walsh were also summoned for having been unlawfully on the premises on the occasion.

Sergt. O'Dwyer, Cappagh, stated that at 9.30 p.m. on Sunday night, 23rd November, he visited Mr. Tobin's licensed premises at Modeligo, accompanied by Guard Jackson. He entered by the side or porch door which he found open and saw three men named Ed. Power, Maurice Hickey and Edmond Walsh on the premises.

Neither of them was a bona fide traveller. Power living only two miles away, Walsh 1 1/2 miles and Hickey only about a mile away. Mrs. Tobin, wife of the publican, and Miss O'Donnell, barmaid, were both inside the counter at the time, and when he asked them to account for the presence of the three men on the premises, Miss O'Donnell said she had left them in from the rain, while the men said they had come in for cigarettes. There were two empty stout glasses on the counter and witness also found a number of empty stout bottles and two whiskey glasses on the floor near the porch door.

Replying to Mr. Farrell, solr., witness said there was a 45 Drive on at Modeligo Schoolhouse that night about a half mile from the public-house. The night was rather wet, but not too bad, as witness walked about eight or nine miles on duty that night and was not too wet. The door by which he entered was wide open and he had no difficulty in going in.

Mr. Farrell, solr.—Don't you think if the three men had been on the premises for the purpose of getting drink at that hour Miss O'Donnell or Mrs. Tobin would have taken the precaution of closing the door?

Witness replied that he would rather not express any opinion on that point. Replying to further questions, he said that Mr. Tobin, the licensee, was not in the bar when he first entered, but came down from his room fully dressed shortly afterwards and said he had no knowledge of the men being on the premises until that moment.

In reply to the Justice, witness said the men were doing nothing when he entered the premises. Two of them were standing on top of the steps leading into the bar, and the third was further inside. There was a fireplace in the kitchen and the kitchen and bar were in the one compartment.

Supt. O'Shea then handed in a sketch of the interior of the premises which had been prepared by Sergt. O'Dwyer. Guard Jackson having given corroborative evidence.

Mr. Farrell, solr., said the defence was that these three respectable young men when returning from a 45 Drive in Modeligo Schoolhouse had knocked and asked to be left in from the rain and had asked for a packet of cigarettes, which had just been supplied when the sergeant and Guard Jackson arrived. No drink whatever had been ordered or supplied, and it was quite clear that if a breach of the law was being committed that either Miss O'Donnell or Mrs. Tobin would have closed the door instead of leaving it wide open as the sergeant found it. The fact was that when Miss O'Donnell had supplied them with cigarettes she told them that they could not remain on the premises, and that was why she kept the door open for the purpose of letting them out.

Miss O'Donnell, barmaid, was then examined by Mr. Farrell and stated that on the night in question she and Mrs. Tobin were sitting at the fire in the kitchen, Mr. Tobin having gone to bed about 7 o'clock as he was not well. After 9 o'clock she heard continuous knocking at the door, and Mrs. Tobin told her to go and see who was there. When she opened the door the three men pushed themselves in and asked to be left inside from the rain, as it was raining heavily at the time. They also asked for some cigarettes and she gave them a small packet of Players and told them they could not remain any longer on the premises. She had left the door open specially for the purpose of getting them out as quickly as she could. They had asked for no drink nor was any supplied, as one of them was a temperate man.

Supt. O'Shea, in cross-examination, asked witness how did she account for the discrepancy between her statement to the sergeant that she had left them in from the rain and the men's own statement that they had come in for cigarettes?

Justice—There is nothing inconsistent in that as they may have done both according to the evidence. In the course of further cross-examination witness said that the empty glasses on the counter and also the empty bottles near the porch had been there since some bona fide travellers had been on the premises before 7 o'clock that night.

Michael Tobin, publican, examined by Mr. Farrell, said he had gone to bed early that night as he was not feeling well, but hearing some commotion in the bar about 9.30 he dressed himself and came down and found the Guards and the other three men there. He knew nothing about the presence of the defendant until then.

Defendant was not cross-examined by the Superintendent. Maurice Hickey was next examined and stated that they had been at a 45 Drive in Modeligo School from 3 o'clock that afternoon until 8.30 when the game finished. They remained on for another few games of cards until 9 o'clock when they went up to Mr. Tobin's for a packet of cigarettes. Neither of them either ordered or got supplied with any drink there. It was raining heavily at the time.

Superintendent—Are you the temperate man? Witness—No. Superintendent—Isn't there a shop owned by Mr. Farrell nearer to the school than Tobin's where cigarettes are sold? Yes. Why didn't you get the cigarettes there instead of going to the public-house for them? It wasn't I wanted them at all; it was Walsh.

After an exhaustive hearing, the Justice said that the law required that these three men should have satisfied him that they were on the licensed premises for a lawful purpose on that night, but they had failed to do so. "Do I believe that they went in from the rain or for cigarettes only? No, I do not, and I must reject that explanation," continued the Justice. He said it was a case for conviction, and asked what was the previous record of the house.

Mr. Farrell, solr., asked that in the event of a conviction the Justice would certify that the offence was trivial, so as to avoid an endorsement on the license.

It having been stated that there was a previous conviction against the license in the name of Miss N. Fogarty on March 27th, 1930, when a fine of 10s. without an endorsement was imposed, the Justice said he was afraid he could not certify the present offence as trivial, and should impose a fine of 10s., which would automatically mean an endorsement on the license. As regards the three men found on the premises, he said he would fine Power and Walsh 5s. each, while in the case of Hickey, who had given evidence, the fine would be 10s.

At a later stage, and after consultation with his client, Mr. Farrell, solr., asked the Justice what sureties he would require in the event of Mr. Tobin lodging an appeal, as he intended to do, and the Justice said he would fix a personal surety for Mr. Tobin in the sum of £5 and two sureties of £2 10s. each.

Another Licensing Case. In the case of Supt. Quinlan, Lismore against Wm. O'Donnell, publican, Cappoquin, and a number of other men for an alleged breach of the Licensing Act, the Superintendent said that his principal witness, Guard Lee, Cappoquin, was at present ill and unable to attend to give evidence to-day, so he should apply for an adjournment of the case until next court day. He added that Mr. Farrell, solr., for the defence, and all the parties concerned had been notified that he was making this application, and all were agreeable to an adjournment.

The case was then adjourned to next court.

School Attendance Cases. Guard Moloney, School Attendance Officer, Cappoquin, summoned John O'Brien, Tournaraban, Mellery, Cappoquin, for failing to send his three children regularly to school.

Mr. O'Gorman, solr., Lismore, appeared for the defendant, and Rev. J. Crotty, C.C., Cappoquin, was also present in connection with the case.

Guard Moloney gave evidence of having served the usual warning notice on defendant on November 14th, 1930. On February 6th his daughter May, aged 9 years and 2 months, was absent eight days out of 46 school days; William, aged 6 years and 7 months, and Patrick, aged 10 years and 6 months, were both absent nine days out of 46 school days.

Cross-examined by Mr. O'Gorman—How far is the defendant's house from the main road? Witness said it was about a half mile.

Mr. O'Gorman asked if the passage or breen leading from the main road to the house was not always flooded with water in winter time and unfit for children to travel over?

Witness said he had never seen any water there, but there was a river running near the place.

Mr. O'Gorman said that his instructions were that the water from the main road was turned in on this breen which made it quite impassable for children, and it was a disgrace for the County Council to allow such a state of things to continue there.

Justice—Wouldn't it be better if you addressed those remarks to the proper quarter?

Mr. O'Gorman said the place was in such a scandalous state that he felt bound to call public attention to the matter, and Rev. Fr. Crotty, Cappoquin, who knew the place well, felt so strongly about the matter that he had come to court specially to-day in order to describe to the conditions which prevailed there.

Justice—Very well, let us hear Fr. Crotty's evidence. Rev. J. Crotty, C.C., Cappoquin, was then examined by Mr. O'Gorman and stated that he knew the place in question very well. The water from the main road had been turned in on the breen, and when he went there recently and walked through the passage the water was well over his ankles for a distance of several hundred yards.

Mr. O'Gorman—Did the defendant say it would be dangerous to allow the children travel over such a passage?

representative on the County Council, while Messrs. Bowen (Co. Surveyor), O'Riordan (Assistant Surveyor) and Brackett (overseer) were also aware of the state of the place, but nothing had been done by the County Council or its officials to remedy the grievance.

The defendant was then examined and bore out Fr. Crotty's statement as regards the amount of water running through the breen.

Replying to the Justice, he said that after a heavy night's rain it took two days at least for the water to drain off the place.

Justice—What classes are your children in at school? Defendant said that May and Wm. were both in first, and Patrick was in third class.

The Justice said that was not too bad, and after all eight or nine days' absence out of 46 school days under the circumstances described was not so serious an offence, and he would therefore dismiss the case.

A similar prosecution against Ml. Coleman in respect of his daughter Anne, aged 11 years, who was absent eight days out of 36 school days, was also dismissed, as defendant lived in the same breen, and the defence was the same as in the previous case.

Guard O'Mahony, Cappoquin, summoned James O'Meara, Tourin, for a similar offence in respect of his daughter, who from November 20th to February 16th was absent 38 days and present only one out of 39 school days.

Mrs. O'Meara, mother of the child, appeared and said the latter was sick and unable to go to school during that period. She then handed in a certificate from Dr. White, P.C., Cappoquin, but the Justice said this was dated February 23rd, and had no relation to the period during which the child was absent from school. He said he would adjourn the case for a month to give her an opportunity of getting a fresh certificate showing that the child was ill during the period between November 29th and February 16th, the period named in the summons.

Guard O'Mahony said that the parents were bound to notify the teacher of the school in the case of illness, but this had not been done in the present instance, and he had been put to considerable trouble in the matter. The Justice said it was well parents should understand that they should notify the teachers concerned in all such cases in future.

Charge Against Bus Driver Fails. Supt. O'Shea, Dungarvan, summoned James Howlett, Cork, bus driver, for driving a Rapid bus between Dungarvan and Cappoquin on September 16th without having effective brakes on the vehicle.

Mr. James McAuliffe, solr., Cork, appeared for defendant. Sergt. O'Dwyer, Cappagh, stated that about 9 o'clock on the night of September 16th he was on duty at Killochger Cross when he saw a Rapid bus returning from Dungarvan. As there had been an accident earlier that evening when the bus was going to Dungarvan, as a result of which a horse was injured, he signalled to the driver (defendant) to stop for the purpose of examining the brakes on the bus, but he passed on and did not pull up until about 28 paces, representing about 28 yards, further on. Witness then entered the bus and sat in the driver's seat and ordered him to drive at about nine or ten miles an hour against a slight hill, but when the brakes were then applied both the hand and foot brakes proved defective and failed to stop the bus within a reasonable space.

Mr. McAuliffe—You squeezed yourself into the driver's seat on that night I understand?

Witness—I had to sit near him in order to test the brakes. Mr. McAuliffe—I suggest that it was because of the presence of two men in the seat meant for the driver alone that he had not sufficient room to fully apply the brakes?

Witness—Oh, he had plenty of room as I only sat on the edge of the seat and did not interfere with him in any way. Witness added that he had eight years' experience as a motor driver.

Mr. McAuliffe said that his client James Howlett, was in the employment of the Rapid Bus Co., Cork, at that time, but had left that company last Christmas, so that he had no personal interest now in giving evidence on behalf of the company. He was one of the most experienced drivers in Cork, as he had spent three years in the Mechanical Transport Branch of the British Army and eight years in a similar capacity in the National Army, so that he knew more about the mechanical requirements of a motor vehicle than most drivers did. He would now be able to tell the court that the two brakes on his bus were thoroughly effective on the date in question and were subjected to a severe test when he got back to the garage in Cork that night when they were found to be so perfect that they didn't require nor receive the slightest adjustment, and continued to work most satisfactorily until defendant finished his employment with the Rapid Bus Co. at Xmas.

The defendant was then examined and bore out Mr. McAuliffe's statement as to his mechanical experience both in the British and National Armies. He said that there was a slight accident near Killochger Cross as the bus was proceeding to Dungarvan on the evening of September 16th, and he reported the matter at Cappagh barracks when he was passing. On his return journey from Dungarvan he again called at the barracks and took a Civic Guard with him in the bus for the purpose of taking measurements of the road where the accident had occurred. Passing Killochger Cross he saw the sergeant there, but did not see any signal to stop, and he could not understand why he should be signalled when he already had a Guard from Cappagh with him in the bus. He stated that when the sergeant got into the bus he sat in the driver's seat beside him, and it was in consequence of his presence there that he was not able to use the full leverage on the hand brakes to stop the bus more quickly.

Replying to the Justice, he said that after the hand brake or foot brake could easily have stopped the bus that night.

Mr. McAuliffe—As a man of wide experience will you tell the court if it would be dangerous to have tight brakes on such a bus, which weighs about five tons.

Witness—It would be positively dangerous, because if tight brakes were suddenly applied there would always be the risk of getting a dangerous skid. Defendant added that when he got back to the company's garage in Cork that night he reported the matter, and both brakes were then severely tested by mechanics and found to be all right. They had never to be changed afterwards until he left the Rapid Bus Co. at Xmas.

Justice—What form of test was applied that night?

Defendant—The bus was first taken out for a run on the road and was afterwards "jacked up" but the brakes were found perfect in both tests.

The Justice said he did not think he would be justified in convicting the defendant in face of such a conflict of evidence, and he accordingly dismissed the case.

Another Motor Case. In the adjourned case of Guard O'Mahony, Cappoquin against Ed. Hill, Kilmacthomas, for using an unlicensed motor van in December, defendant now sent on the necessary documentary evidence from the Motor Taxation Office of the County Council showing that the van had been duly licensed, and the case was dismissed.

Defacing Public Documents. Sergt. Vaughan, Cappoquin, summoned James Arrigan, Ballinwilling, for an unusual class of offence, viz. tearing down documents which were hanging on the railings outside Cappoquin barracks on January 29th, 1931.

Sergt. Vaughan stated that on the evening in question he was in the day-room of the barracks when he saw the defendant come over to the railings and tear off three sheets from the Register of Voters and Jurors Lists which were hanging up for public inspection outside the barracks premises.

In reply to Mr. O'Gorman, solr., who defended witness said the defendant first passed by the barracks, but apparently then changed his mind and came back and tore several sheets off the Register (now produced). Witness sent a Guard after him who brought him back to him, and when he asked defendant why he had torn off the leaves he said he thought they were there to be taken away.

Defendant was now examined and said he thought he was entitled to take a few sheets as he was under the impression that they were there to be taken away by the public.

Mr. O'Gorman said his client now realised that it was a foolish action on his part, and he wished to express his regret to the court for the occurrence.

The Justice asked defendant what age was he, and he said he was 29 years.

Justice—I could well understand a thoughtless and irresponsible young person doing this kind of mischief, but I find it difficult to understand in the case of a young man aged 29 years. He then emphasised the seriousness of tearing or defacing such documents as the Jurors Lists or Register of Voters, and said such conduct may be the means of disfranchising several electors and also putting the Under-Sheriff to the expense of providing new lists. Defendant was liable to a fine of £5 for such conduct, but as his solicitor had expressed regret on his behalf, he would now let him off with a fine of 10s. and allowed him a month for the payment of the fine.

Possession of Cottage. The Waterford County Board of Health summoned Michael O'Keefe, Bewley, for possession of a labourer's cottage.

Mr. O'Gorman, solr., appeared for complainants. Mrs. M. O'Donnell, rent collector, gave evidence showing that defendant owed £2 1s. 6d. arrears, £1 3s. 6d. being for rent and 18s. for rates.

The Justice asked defendant if he had anything to say?

Defendant—No, sir.

Justice—Very well, that only makes matters easier for me. Mr. O'Gorman said it was only fair to mention that the defendant had come to him the previous day and offered payment of the full amount of £2 1s. 6d., which he understood he had made up by collection amongst his friends as he was in very poor circumstances. He, however, could not take the money at such a time, and the usual course would be to take a decree for full costs to continue in whatever arrears he may owe.

Mr. O'Gorman—The £2 1s. 6d. will be paid all right, sir.

Transfer of License. Mr. O'Gorman, solr. (for Mr. E. A. Ryan, solr., Dungarvan) applied for

THE STRADBALLY MYSTERY. MINISTER FOR JUSTICE AND THE CIVIL ACTION.

In the Dail last week, Mr. Little (F.F. Waterford), asked the Minister for Justice (Mr. Fitzgerald-Kenney) whether in the case of Thomas Corbett v. James O'Driscoll, Thomas O'Rourke, Joseph Gantley and Patrick McNamara, Garda Siochana and detectives, where judgment was given for £500 damages and costs against defendants on a charge of false imprisonment, assault and threat to murder, the Department of Justice had undertaken to pay the costs in this case, or had paid them; and whether these officers were carrying out the instructions of a higher authority in the manner in which they sought to force evidence from alleged witnesses in connection with the disappearance of Lee Griffin, of Stradbally; and whether the State would pay the damages if it was proved that these officers were carrying out the orders of a higher authority.

The Minister—The answers to all parts of the question except the last, which does not arise, are in the negative. The Minister, then, does not accept responsibility? asked Mr. Little.

The Minister—That follows. Mr. Little—Will the Minister forbid the use of such methods of violence? The Minister—Of course I do; I always did.

Mr. Little asked the Minister for Justice whether in the case of Corbett v. O'Driscoll and others the Attorney-General proposed to proceed upon the statement of the Judge in this case, namely, that, whatever the verdict, the implication of perjury was involved against the persons found against, and whether proceedings for perjury would be instituted accordingly against the defendants?

The Minister said the Deputy had quoted only part of the material portion of the Judge's observation as reported in the Press. The Judge having made the observation to which the Deputy referred, went on immediately to say that "he would have the power if he thought that any party had committed perjury—an offence which was very common, unfortunately, in their courts—to refer the matter to the Attorney-General, to take what steps he liked." The Judge had not referred the papers to the Attorney-General, and he (the Minister) thought it was a fair assumption from his not doing so that, in his opinion, a charge of perjury against the Guards could not be sustained.

WATERFORD DEPUTATION TO PRESIDENT. A deputation from Waterford waited upon President Cosgrave and discussed with him the resignation of four members of the Garda in Waterford whose resignations were announced recently. President Cosgrave received the deputation sympathetically, but it is understood that the question of reinstatement cannot be entertained.

The deputation pointed out that all the men concerned were thoroughly efficient and popular, and that a serious blow had been delivered at their careers by the great hardship inflicted upon them.

an ad interim transfer of the license held by Mr. John O'Donoghue, Main street, Cappoquin, to Mrs. Norah Barron, Cappoquin, who has now purchased the premises. Mr. J. J. Barron (son of applicant) proved the signatures of his mother and Mr. O'Donoghue to the deed of assignment (produced), and there being no objection on behalf of the Guards, the transfer was granted. A few cases of wandering animals on the public road, unlighted bicycles and one solitary case of drunkenness, which possessed no features of public interest, having been disposed of with the usual fines, the court adjourned.

Youghal Urban Council.

Present—Mr. J. R. Smyth, P.C., chairman; Capt. P. Dunne, Messrs. T. Beausang, T. Murphy, P. Kenneally, T. Harrington, E. P. Lynch, vice-chairman; D. J. Linehan, J. Whelan, P. J. McMahon, P.C.; E. Clancy, D. Dennehy, W. J. Broderick, Mrs. S. Hurley, P.C.; P. J. O'Gorman, P.C.; M. J. Fleming.

Shelter for Boats. The following letter was read from the Department of Lands and Fisheries:—With further reference to your communication of 10th May last and subsequent correspondence regarding proposals for improving the berthing accommodation at Youghal, I am directed by the Minister to state that he is not prepared to recommend any grant from State sources towards the cost of such work—L. C. Moriarty.

Capt. Dunne said what they wanted was a shelter for boats. Mr. Lynch—It is all humbug. Chairman—I'm afraid I must agree with you.

Capt. Dunne said the proposal was for a shelter in the shape of a wall. That was what was laid before the Department's Inspector. Mr. Lynch—Ask for a well and you will get the same reply. The Clerk was directed to again communicate with the Department.

Relaying of Footpaths. A letter was read from the County Surveyor acknowledging the council's remarks regarding the relaying of the footpaths by the Post Office Authorities.

Mr. McMahon said there were competent men engaged at the work at present. Mr. Lynch—It is our business to see that the pathways are put back in proper order. Chairman—And we will see it done. Mr. Murphy said the footpath in South Abbey was in a shameful condition. They should insist on proper work being done.

Clerk—You don't own any paths. Mr. Lynch—We live in the town. The Chairman said they must have some patience. The agreement between the County Council and the Postal Authorities covered the whole situation.

Hockey Club Dance. The Hon. Sec. Ladies' Hockey Club applied for the use of the Town Hall on St. Patrick's Eve to hold a dance from 8.30 to midnight. The application was granted un-animously.

Dirty Milk. Seven samples of milk were submitted, three of which were pronounced to be "dirty." In one case in which the vendor had a previously bad record, it was unanimously decided to take the necessary steps to institute a prosecution.

Library Scheme. A letter was read from the County Librarian saying that as the majority of the public bodies interested had intimated that Saturday, 28th, would suit for the meeting, he hoped they would send representatives. Mrs. Hurley and Mr. Dennehy were unanimously appointed.

Relief Grant. A letter was read from the L.G. Department stating that in the allocation of grants for relief works, road work would not be entertained. It was decided to apply for a grant in connection with the erection of lavatories on the Strand and in the town.

Meat Bye-Laws. The L.G. wrote confirming the bye-laws made by the council respecting the sale of meat in the urban area. Moloney's Bread has made its way by the way it's made.

Death of Co Waterford Priest in Australia.

DEATH OF REV. B. MURPHY, P.P. FORMERLY OF KNOCKANORE, HIS GREAT WORK.

An Australian paper to hand says:—Deep and widespread regret among his fellow-priests of the Sandhurst Diocese, among his faithful and sorrowing people at Nathalia, and among the priests and people of other districts, especially of Kerang, has been caused by the death of the Very Rev. Bartholomew Murphy, P.P., which occurred on Sunday, December 21, at Nathalia, after a brief illness and following an operation for appendicitis.

A respected and public-spirited citizen, straightforward, kindly, helpful and genial in his relations with all sections of the people, Fr. Murphy's death is regretted no less by the non-Catholic residents of Nathalia and district.

The departed pastor was a remarkable man in many ways. He had great strength of character and a wide and deep charity. He made friends with all with whom he came in contact, and there was no one who was not the better for having known him. But, with all his admirable qualities, it was as the simple parish priest that he would most wish to be remembered.

A Solemn Office and Requiem Mass was celebrated on Monday, December 22nd. His Lordship the Bishop of Sandhurst, Right Rev. Dr. McCarthy, presided. He was attended by Right Rev. Mr. Hogan. The Very Rev. R. Hayes, St. Columba's Mission Society, was celebrant; Rev. J. Murphy (Sheeparton), nephew of the deceased, priest; Rev. P. Sullivan, Bendigo, was sub-deacon; Rev. Fr. Moran (Rushworth) and Moran (Dookie), were masters of ceremonies; Rev. J. Ryan (Benalla) and Rev. P. O'Connor (Bendigo) were chanters. About 40 priests were present, and the ceremonies were most impressive. Bishop McCarthy made feeling reference to the late Fr. Murphy, to his priestly qualities, and his great charity.

The remains were buried in a plot in the grounds of St. Mary's Church, Nathalia, specially selected before Fr. Murphy's death. The prayers at the grave were recited by the Bishop, assisted by the priests. The Benedictus was chanted, and the De Profundis was recited while the procession returned to the church.

The Rev. Fr. Murphy leaves two brothers and a sister in Ireland, and is survived by the following nieces and nephews:—Rev. Sister Lawrence (Reservoir), Rev. Sister Sheila (Cohuna), Rev. Sister Patrick (Koroif), Rev. Sister Columba (Essendon), Mrs. Sister De Sales (St. Vincent's), Mrs. Scott (Narandera), Miss Lily Murphy (Narandera), Messrs. W. M. Murphy (Gannain), T. Murphy (Brocklesby, N.S.W.), Rev. T. Murphy, of Shepparton, is also a nephew.

The late Fr. Murphy was born at Coolbeggan, Knockanore, on July 1st, 1854. He left Ireland on December 25th, 1876, and arrived in Victoria in the following March, reaching Wangaratta with "two greyhounds and 1/6 in his pocket." He soon found employment with the neighbouring farmers, and paid off the debt on the land he had selected. When on the way to acquiring wealth and already worth £1,000, he decided, in response to an inner call, to become a priest. He placed himself in the hands of the Jesuit Fathers at Sevenhills, South Australia, towards the end of 1882, and, eighteen months later, left for Mt. Melleray, Ireland, where he studied from 1884 to 1886. He subsequently proceeded to St. John's College, and was ordained to the priesthood on June 15th, 1889.

Fr. Murphy returned to Australia in October of the same year. He was appointed to the Chiltern parish, then, in the next year, to Numurkah. In February, 1896, he was appointed assistant priest at Yarrawonga to the late Fr. Tobin.

He became pastor of Kerang in October, 1896. There he spent 21 years of priestly labour. During his stay there he acquired nine acres of land in Kerang township, paid off the old parish debt, built a splendid church, and introduced the Sisters of the Good Samaritan in 1912. He also built a new church at Cohuna, acquired extra property there, and enlarged the church at Koondrook. Fruitful work was done for religion and education.

He took charge of the parish of Nathalia in December, 1917. Here he was the good and faithful pastor, extending the Church and extending the education of the little ones. He took special interest in the adorning of God's House, and replaced the old window of the sanctuary at St. Mary's with a beautiful stained glass window of Christ the King, and replaced the window on the west gable with one of the Agony in the Garden. Prior to his death he had ordered four more stained glass windows for St. Mary's Church, Nathalia—the Annunciation, the Adoration of the Magi, Apparition to St. Margaret Mary, Suffer Little Children to Come to Me.

In his younger days Fr. Murphy was a great horseman, and many of the older generation can relate tales of his exploits, when as the assistant priest of the Numurkah parish, which at that time embraced also the Nathalia district, he used to ride to his appointments in all kinds of weather, flooded creeks and bad roads never deterring him.

A wonderful organiser, and possessing the happy knack of interesting others in the work he had in hand, practically every parish that Fr. Murphy laboured in displays some testimony to that trait in his character, but none more so perhaps than Nathalia, where, in the last thirteen years, he had carried out a work that will ever keep him in remembrance.

Though the work of the Church ever came first with Fr. Murphy, he found time to take a deep interest in the affairs of the town and district, and his opinion regarding men and affairs was given in no uncertain manner. Like all true Irishmen, he was intensely fond of all manly sports, and that such a lover of horses should have been a keen follower of the turf was only natural, and at Numurkah, Kerang and Nathalia he was instrumental in forming Clubs that have conducted racing successfully for many years.

When Fr. Murphy left Kerang in 1917 he was given ample evidence of the love of the people for him. There were presentations and farewells at Kerang, Cohuna and Koondrook. To the poor and the needy, and to those sick in body or mind, he was the follower of Him whom he served, R.I.P.

ENGLISHMAN'S LAPSE.

At Youghal District Court on Friday (before Mr. G. P. Farrell, B.L.), Lcc. E. Rank, member of a distinguished English family, was again brought up in custody on remand charged with obtaining £14 from two local traders by false pretences.

Superintendent Dennehy, Midleton, prosecuting, said that the court had adjourned that case last day to give the defendant an opportunity of refunding the money. In the meantime he (the Superintendent) had received a cheque for the whole amount including the costs of the prosecution. Justice—Are you satisfied that all the money and the costs are forthcoming?

Superintendent—Yes, I have cashed the cheque. Justice—First of all I have taken only one deposition, and before I deal with the case I must take further depositions or take the defendant's plea.

Accused—To save your time, sir, I plead guilty and hand in this statement.

Replying to the Court, the Superintendent said that the costs of the prosecution were considerable—£15.

The Justice said in that case he proposed to take a course which he thought would meet the ends of justice. The facts were—The accused was not a native of that country, but of great Britain, where he had employment at present; the money taken—£14—had been recovered and the total costs of the prosecution—£15—had been made good, and the accused had been in prison for 14 days. Under all the circumstances he would discharge the defendant from custody on entering into his own bail for £25 to be of good behaviour for two years. He was satisfied that, in the peculiar circumstances of that case, the ends of justice would be fully satisfied by that course.

The traders concerned having been paid the amounts taken from them, and the required bond having been signed, the accused was discharged from custody.

8,000 FREEMASONS IN CONFERENCE.

More than 8,000 Freemasons, at a meeting of the craft in London, adopted unanimously, for the first time in the history of the Order, a resolution for the introduction of the principle of a direct annual charge on every member of the Order spread all over the world for the purpose of upkeep and administration.

DUNGARVAN URBAN COUNCIL

GOOD FINANCIAL POSITION.

At the monthly financial meeting of the above Mr. J. Butler, chairman, presided. Also present—Messrs. M. Clancy, J. Hackett, M. Keane, Mce. Griffin.

Pay Sheet.
General account, £12 7s. 7d.; harbour, 19s. 3d. Payment passed.

Sewerage.

Arising out of the minutes dealing with the sewer in Sarsfield street, Abbeyside, Mr. Griffin referred to the necessity for a sewer at the rear of the King street houses, and asked if it could be connected with the proposed new sewer at Sarsfield street.

Borough Surveyor—That would not be possible as the gradient is against it.
Mr. Griffin—Then it should be connected with the sewer under the railway line. He suggested having a report from the S.S.O.

Rate Collection.

The rate collector's report was before the meeting and read as follows—
Poor Rate—Warrant, £1,859; amount outstanding, £172 2s. 2d. Second Moiety—Warrant, £1,701 4s. 11d.; amount outstanding, £795 2s. Town Rate—First Moiety—Warrant—£1,974 5s. 11d.; outstanding, £221 0s. 3d. Second Moiety—Warrant—£1,773 0s. 6d.; outstanding, £80 9s. 8d. Domestic Water—First Moiety—Warrant, £145 4s. 8d.; outstanding, £23 12s. 3d. Second Moiety—Warrant—£121 2s. 3d.; outstanding, £51 18s. 5d.

Services.

The Clerk submitted the monthly statement showing the position of the different services—Roads, £37 13s. 8d. to credit; town's improvement estimate exceeded by £19 4s. 11d.; sanitary estimate exceeded by £157 19s. 11d. Artisans' dwellings to credit—£21 8s. 1d. Scavenging to credit, £34 5s.

The Chairman, in commenting on the satisfactory state of the rate collection, said that the rate collector had done his work very well. He would ask the Clerk if possible to have the estimates for the current year ready for the next finance meeting in order that the rate collector could be given his warrant as early as possible.

The Clerk said he would do his best, and if he couldn't be ready for the next meeting he would be ready soon afterwards.

Accounts Cleared Off.

In answer to Mr. Keane, the Clerk stated that all outstanding accounts were paid off with the exception of the solicitor's account, which amounted to £470.

Mr. Clancy—We should make an effort to pay off the solicitor's account; it has been running for a number of years.

Mr. Keane—What was the amount due to the solicitor at the beginning of last year?

Clerk—It was about the same as at present.

Mr. Clancy—We have made no improvement.

Mr. Keane—We have just paid our way this year.

Chairman—The council, I hope, will be considering the estimates in a month, and I hope we can make provision for the paying of part or the whole of that account.

Clerk—I would remind you that you are going to embark on several schemes, soon, and you must have money to go on with them.

Mr. Clancy—If the Department were punctual in sending us the money everything would be all right.

Chairman—That difficulty ought to be put to the Department. After tonight all the accounts are square and no account owes anything to any other account.

Mr. Keane—Is it on account of the housing scheme that the necessity for an overdraft might arise?

Clerk—Yes, and the other schemes.

Chairman—If the Board of Works paid on the spot there would be no necessity for an overdraft.

Borough Surveyor—The work must be done before you are paid anything.

Clerk—You will probably get the grant before March 31st, but I don't know if you will get the loan.

Rent of New Houses.

A letter from the Minister was read stating that the minimum rent for the four new houses at Abbeyside would be 5s. 8d. per week.

Chairman—In other words the Minister insists on £1 per cent. for depreciation instead of the 10s. per cent. asked by us.

Clerk—The rate for the houses will be 1s. 4d., making a total of 7s. per week.

The Minister gave permission for the continuation of the housing scheme under the Trades Contract System. It was decided to have a special meeting on Tuesday night when preparations for the building of the remainder of the houses will be made.

Application for Increase.

Mr. McGrath, Borough Surveyor, applied for an increase in his percentage in connection with the housing scheme from 5 per cent. to 7½ per cent.

In support of his application, the Borough Surveyor said that when the tenders for the building of the houses in Abbeyside were considered he agreed to be paid 5 per cent. or £13 per house in order to show that the houses could be built for the estimate submitted to the council by him. As they knew, the houses were built to within a few shillings of his estimate. He could not undertake to carry out the work for less than 7½ per cent. There was as they knew a lot of work and worry in connection with the matter. He would promise the council that he would give the same supervision to the remainder of the houses as he had done at Abbeyside, and would have the work done in the same satisfactory manner. He would have no fooling, and he would suggest that the time limit for building the houses be a month per house, and any contractor who would tender for all the houses should have a six months' time limit.

It was decided to put the application on the agenda for Tuesday night's meeting.

Quay.

The Borough Surveyor was instructed to get the repairs to the quay wall and the sea wall, Abbeyside, done by direct labour.

County Libraries Committee.

A meeting of the above Committee Committee was held in the Court-house, Dungarvan, on Tuesday. Rev. M. F. Hearn, C.C., chairman, presided. Also present—Very Rev. M. C. Crotty, P.P.; R. J. Colender, M. F. Walsh and J. Daly.

Finance.

Payments amounting to £211 2s. 9d. were passed.

The only other business before the meeting was consideration of two circulars dealing with (1) Changes in the Censorship Law regarding films and literature coming into the country, and (2) A scheme for the showing of art pictures in the schools of the county.

Consideration of both circulars was adjourned to the next meeting.

ANNIVERSARY. HEAPHY—In ever-loving memory of our dear parents, Patrick and Catherine Heaphy, who died at Cappoquin on 6th and 7th March, 1855 and 1927, respectively. Anniversary Masses for their happy repose.

ACKNOWLEDGMENT. Mrs. O'Keefe and family, Western Terrace, Dungarvan, desire to thank the many kind friends who sympathised with them in their recent sad bereavement.

LOCAL HAPPENINGS.

HIGH PRICES FOR BOARS. At the Royal Dublin Society's Sale of Bulls and Boars this week Mr. B. G. Usher, Cappagh, was awarded 3rd prize and reserved in Class for Boars Farrowed after January, 1930, and sold his boars Finisk Coaire for 18 guineas and Finisk Coachober for 7 guineas. Ten boars sold averaged £12 each.

DUNGARVAN SHOW. A meeting of the Committee of the above will be held in the Commercial Hotel on Tuesday evening next, March 10th, at 7.30 p.m., when very important business in connection with this year's Show will be dealt with.

LICENSING OF BULLS. In connection with the licensing of bulls in the County Waterford recently at which Mr. T. O'Sullivan, Cloughduv, was the judge, nine bulls were presented at Carrolls Cross Centre, and of these five were rejected and four were passed. Of the four approved, three were sired by that well-known dairy bull—Prumplestown Juggler—the property of Mr. John Kiersey, Ballyhussa. At Kill Centre seven bulls were shown and five passed.

THE TRIPLE CROWN. At Dublin on Saturday last in a regular snowstorm, Ireland beat Scotland in their International Rugby encounter by 8 points to 5. Ireland had previously beaten England in London. Ireland and Wales meet in Belfast on Saturday next, and if Ireland wins, as they are sure to do, they will have won that mythical trophy—the Triple Crown, which they last won thirty years ago. On that occasion our present able Circuit Judge—Mr. Justice Sealy—was one of the Irish forwards, and he was as good a footballer as he is a Judge, and that is something big.

CLASHMORE PRIEST'S DEATH IN NEW YORK. The death occurred in New York last week of Rev. F. Donovan, brother of the late Rev. D. O'Donovan, S.J., New York, and Rev. D. O'Donovan, Brooklyn, and uncle of Rev. R. O'Donovan, Liverpool. The deceased was a native of Clashmore, and was sister of Mrs. J. Broderick.

HIGH-CLASS BULLS FOR COUNTY WATERFORD. At the Cork Show and Sale of Bulls last week the following premium animals were purchased by farmers in the Co. Waterford—Mr. J. Hickey, Colligan, purchased Lismore Ace for £105; Mr. A. Walsh, Cush, Grange, secured Cloughduv Butterfly's Pride for £110; Mr. M. McNamara, Caher, Traamore, bought Kullbaker Bachelor for £70; Mr. J. Quirke, Leagh, Ring, purchased the half-bred dairy bull, Lyle Star, for £68; Mr. M. Walsh, Kilbeg, Talw, bought Sheep Walk Progress for £48.

At the Royal Dublin Society's Show and Sale this week Mount Melleray Abbey bought the Champion yearling, Broadhooks Dandy, for £250; Mr. Villiers Stuart, Dromana, bought Roscrea Grand Duke 10th for £110; Mr. T. Lynch, Ballylemon, bought Carrikerian Pride for £68; Mr. T. Phelan, Waterford, Roscrea Dairy Favourite for £85; Mr. H. B. Maxwell, Tallow, Pomeroy Master Stroke for £100; Mr. J. Flahavan, Kilmacthomas, Ballinascarron Sensation for £72; Mr. D. Drohan, Ballynevin, Carrick-on-Suir, Ballykeel Clansman, £58; Cappoquin Estate Co., Dairy Double, £50; Mr. H. P. Maxwell, Moorehill, Tallow, sold his yearling bull, Moorehill Prince 4th, for £85. The top price paid at the Dublin Sales was £340 for the Shorthorn bull Pomeroy Masterpiece, which won the Championship of the Show, and was purchased by the Northern Ireland Department of Agriculture. Mr. R. Keating, Kilmacneave, bought a Hereford bull for £60.

DUNGARVAN MARKETS. Meal (special), 15s. 6d.; middicut, 15s.; hour, 15s.; bran, 10s.; pollard, 8s. 6d.; butter, 1s. 9d. lb.; coal, £2 a ton; eggs, 9d. per dozen.

SONG O' MY HEART. Beginning on Monday next and all through the week John McCormack's famous talkie film, "Song o' My Heart," will be shown at the Cinema, Dungarvan. It is a treat no one should miss. The singing and acting are marvellous, truly Irish and most entrancing. It is the most beautiful film ever shown. John McCormack sings all his famous songs in this talkie, and to hear him is to be entranced with his charming vocal strains. To dilate on the beauty of the whole film is superfluous. Go and hear it and you will never forget the delight in store for you. Mr. Croly deserves congratulation on securing this talkie. See advt.

BAND CONCERT. The annual concert in aid of our own band will be held on St. Patrick's Night in the Town Hall. The Dungarvan Band deserves support, for it has patiently fulfilled its object of enlivening our summer leisure hours and has been indispensable on never-to-be-forgotten occasions of celebration and rejoicing when even those who do not see the why or the wherefore of the band were doubtless glad to have it. A town without a band is like a drawing-room without a piano or a back parlour without a gramophone. Our band has been a credit to the town, and the quality of its output under the capable and creative baton of Mr. Mark McHugh has been at least on a level with that of any civilian band in the Free State. So far, thanks to the citizens of the Old Boro, their band has weathered the storms of varying financial epochs, and by economy and retrenchment it has managed to keep out of debt, but as every little helps, your attendance at the concert will help on towards another summer that will leave musical memories more charming and enjoyable than ever. Next week we hope to give particulars of an attractive vocal, musical and dramatic programme for the coming concert.

BAZAAR AND AMUSEMENT. Bazaar and Amusement each night at 8 p.m. Grand National Sweepstake Tickets will be given on Saturday night for a 2d. raffle. Bags of flour and tons of coal will be also raffled.—D. V. Stokes' Yard, O'Connell Street, Dungarvan.

A DESERVING CAUSE. On Sunday, March 15th, a collection will be made at the Church Gates at all the Masses in aid of the fund for the provision of meals for necessitous children. This is a most deserving cause and deserves the whole-hearted support of the community.

BEET. The Carlow Factory Directors having refused to pay more than 38s. a ton for beet this year, the Growers' Association has got all its members to sign declarations refusing to grow any more beet until the price is increased.

BALLINROD DRAMATIC CLASS. Ballinrod Dramatic Class will produce the 2-act drama, "In the Days of the Black and Tans," followed by a comedy of one act in Ballinrod School on St. Patrick's Night in aid of Garrahan School Fund, starting at 8 p.m. Admission 1s.

BALLYGREEN, OLD PARISH, COUNTY WATERFORD. HIGHLY IMPORTANT AUCTION OF SUPERIOR EXTENSIVE FARM AND OUT-OFFICES. PATRICK RYAN has been favoured with instructions from Mr. Martin J. Curran.

TO SELL BY PUBLIC AUCTION, ON THURSDAY, MARCH 19th, At One o'clock, His Fee-simple Interest in all that and those part of the Lands of BALLYGREEN SOUTH, containing in or about 100a. and 9p., subject to the very low Annuity of £50 10s. 2d. P.L.V. £75 10s. This most valuable Farm is situated about six miles from the Town of Dungarvan, 1 1/2 miles from Old Parish Creamery, and within convenient distance of Roman Catholic Church, Ring College, Post Office, etc. The Property is divided by the public road and may be offered for sale in One Lot or at apportioned Rentals in Two Lots as follows:—Lot 1.—105 Acres 2 Roods 6 Perches. P.L.V. £26 10s. Lot 2.—84 Acres 2 Roods 3 Perches. P.L.V. £40. Lot 1 embraces large enclosed Yard on which are erected the following Buildings:—Ton-slated Cow-house for 20 cows, large ton-slated Barn, large ton-slated Stables for 8 horses. Walls of Dwelling-house, Car and Implement House, Piggeries and Calf House are all standing and in sound condition, but unroofed. The Lands bear the highest character for fattening and tillage purposes and for ages Ballygreen has been famous for dairying. The district is very satisfactory from a working view-point, and the public road dividing this Farm ensures extraordinary convenience. The fields are level and all a nice regular size. The fences are safe and comfortable, and there is a never-failing water supply running through the whole Farm. Subscriber with the utmost confidence and sincerity invites special attention to this most important Sale, and strongly appeals for the keenest inspection of this extensive, superior Farm and Buildings to those desirous of acquiring an exceptionally large amount of choice Land with such valuable Buildings and situated in a most commendable district. Held as it is at such a low Annuity, much attention ought certainly be attached to its Sale. Arrangements to have these Lands, etc., pointed out by a competent person will be made on application to the Auctioneer. Conditions at Sale. 5 per cent. Commission. J. F. or Lismore Board of Fishery Conservators held in the Devonshire Arms
Hotel, Lismore, there were present—
Mr. J. Kennedy, chairman; Major Lingfield, Messrs. Wm. Baldwin, J.
Kent, T. Stafford, R. Meagher, Messrs. T. Drohan, Inspector and Secretary, and W. Buckley, Assistant Inspector, were also in attendance.Correction.Major Lingfield said that one thing had been attributed to him which he didn't recollect saying regarding the stating of the river. He said, and he was sure the Inspector would agree with him, that within living memory there hadn't been less poaching on the river than at present.Mr. Kent said that poaching had practically disappeared except in the remote districts.Major Lingfield said there was very little except in such districts as Kis-keam, Kingwillamstown, etc.The Chairman said it was known that in certain parts the fish were picked in barrels.Mr. Kent said if poaching were carried on the lights could be seen.Major Lingfield said the poachers used up-to-date electric torches nowadays.Unclean Fish.The Department writer forwarding a copy of a communication received from the Fishmongers Co. of London relative to the consignment of unclean salmon to Billingsgate Market by a certain person in Ballycotton, and asking to have the circumstances of the case fully investigated and a detailed report of the result to be furnished.The Fishmongers' Co.'s letter to the Department stated that one of the Co.'s Inspectors had taken possession of one unclean salmon found in a consig-ment of fish received by Messrs. Reading and Co., Ltd., from a Mr. T. Frost, of Ballycotton, Co. Cork. On examination it was found that ova were exuding from the fish and that the bottom of the box was covered with ova.
The fish weighed 8lbs.The Inspector reported that Mr.
Frost admitted the salmon was caught with some dog fish in a trammel net;
he didn't pay for the fish and received no cash for it. He admitted he sent the fish on chance to London, and said
it was the only salmon sent by him.
Mr. Frost was engaged in the exportation of salt-water fish since 1914. He was not licensed to deal in salmon.
After some discussion the matter was adjourned.Monthly Report.The monthly report from Mr. J.
O'Neill, Youghal, stated that seal shooting ended on the 29th January,
the total kills to that date being 206 seals and 14 otters. On the 31st Jan.
they seized 105 yards of a fixed engine
at Pilpark and 65 yards at Monastrea.
The salmon season, which opened on the first inst., was a marked improvement on the same periods of the years 1929 and 1930. Fish were of a uniform size of from 9 to 12 lbs. Some good catches have taken place and every indication so far pointed to a successful season. On the 23rd February they seized 449 yards of fixed net near Knockadonon, 150 yards of net was seized between Ardsallagh and Coolbagh, 175 yards between Coolbagh and Old Stranally, 95 yards of fixed net at Coolbagh, Newport and Ballinaclash.Accounts for 1925-30.The Secretary said that acting on Mr. Kent's proposition he had now the balance sheets from 1925 and 1930.
Not being in office at the time, he had applied to the Department for a copy of the balance sheet for 1914, but so far he had received no reply.Mr. Kent said his reason for asking for those particulars was because they had been charged with squandering money. He asked the Chairman to give them the receipts and expenditure for the years 1925 and 1930.The Chairman, reading, said that the receipts for 1925 were £1,251 and the expenditure £1,130. For 1930 the figures were—Receipts £4,230 and the expenditure £3,045, leaving a balance to their credit in bank of £1,185.Mr. Kent said it seemed an extraordinary thing for the Minister, in face of those figures, to raise the rate estimate from 9s. to 10s.Mr. Meagher said the revenue in 1930 was four times that of 1925. He could not see any grounds for the Ministry increasing the rates.Replying to Mr. Kent, the Secretary said he had received no reply to the Board's request that the Minister should reconsider his decision to increase the rate.Mr. Kent—Major Lingfield said that the rates were too low.Major Lingfield—I said that the rate was the lowest in Ireland, but I didn't say that it was too low. As long as the Lismore weir obstruction remains I am going to keep hammering at it.Mr. Kent—Another member said that he was told by a ratepayer that the rates were too low. We are employing a lot of duds at big expense.Bailiffs Remuneration.Major Lingfield said he doubted if their present method of employing bailiffs was really effective or productive of satisfactory results, especially in connection with the protection of the small rivers in the West. The earliest fish get up there and he believed they ought pay the men a wage which would encourage them to give a loyal service to the Board. It had been pointed out to him that mencould hardly be expected to prosecute their neighbours for a low wage and there was commonsense in the statement.Mr. Kent said they ought reward a bailiff according to his service. That would have a better effect than any arrangement of wages.The chairman said where there was a Guards' Barracks the bailiffs should report regularly.Guards' Work.Mr. Kent—Only for the assistance given by the Civic Guards you could throw your hat at the river.Mr. Meagher said that in some districts the Guards were doing very good work.The Inspector said that the bailiffs had worked satisfactorily with the Civic Guards.Major Lingfield said he had been informed that in one district a capture had been made by the Guards without the help of the bailiffs.The Inspector said that was explained by the fact that there was only one bailiff operating in that district at the time.Mr. Kent said they had no poaching now except in some wild parts of the country.Chairman—You have. I am creditably informed that farmers have salmon picked in barrels—and that in your own country, too (laughter).Major Lingfield said they ought pay the bailiff, properly and remove some of them from their own districts. It was hard to expect a man to prosecute his own cousin or other relative for 30s. a week. During the close season strangers should be brought in and paid a decent wage.Chairman—That would mean a further increase in the rate.Major Lingfield said if they had more efficient men they could do with less. One good man paid £3 a week would be worth more than two of the present type.Chairman—If you gave some of them £10 a week it would be all the same.Mr. Meagher—They were paid only 2s. in Cork.Complaint of Bailiffs.The Inspector reported that he had paid a surprise visit to Villierstown and he found the bailiffs there neglecting their duty grossly. As regards the bailiffs the Department had not yet sanctioned the recent appointments.Major Lingfield said the Department was looking to the Board to preserve the river, and they had not yet sanctioned the Board's appointments.The Inspector having given details of the result of his visit to Villiers-town, it was unanimously decided to dismiss three of the men implicated and to reprimand the others.Lismore Weir.The Inspector reported that he had visited the Lismore fishing and found nothing wrong in the manner of netting. He should mention that on the occasion the water was very "strong,"
and consequently the nets were carried down very quickly.Major Lingfield said that at the '95-96 inquiry the late Mr. Conner, K.C., the eminent authority on fishing, had pointed out the fact that from the admissions of Messrs. Foley, the then lessees of the Lismore Fisheries, it was evident that above and below the bridge at Lismore the nets were played out across the whole width of the river. On behalf of the Board of Conservators Mr. Conner had urged that the netting both in the "devine" and the "Castle Hole" should be abolished.
As a result the netting was abolished
at the "devine," but allowed to remain at the "Castle Hole."Mr. Baldwin said they could not shoot nets at the South Bank owing to the presence of trees.Major Lingfield said he was talking of the place above that—it was clear of trees. A perfectly free passage should be left for the fish when nets were shot across the river.Mr. Kent said the Duke of Devonshire seemed to be enjoying a very exceptional privilege in the matter of fishing.Major Lingfield said it was a very ancient privilege that once extended to everybody, but was gradually curtailed.After further discussion the matter was adjourned to a future meeting.Reward for Killing Pike.Replying to Major Lingfield, the Inspector said that the Board paid 1s.
per head for pike killed, whereupon the Major said that a gamekeeper had killed 13 of them.The Inspector said he would be paid 13s. on supplying proof of the claim.Major Lingfield said he had a very remarkable plan to submit to the meeting. It was actually the super-imposition of two plans of the Lismore weir, both made from the originals.The first was Gray's plan of 1864,
made for the Salmon Fisheries Commission, and upon which a certificate was granted to the Duke of Devonshire in 1866. Super-imposed over that was the plan made by Mr. Barrington, M.I.C.E., for that Board for a prosecution in 1890. He (the Major) had that plan printed on top of the other, done
by Ordnance Survey Office of England. It showed the amazing fact that Gray's plan of '64 was completely erroneous. It showed the river bed almost exactly as it was with the exception of the piles below the weir, but it showed the weir 152 feet out of its true position—152 feet nearer to the south bank than it actually was.
That was a most extraordinary thing
—that an official document of that kind of such great importance should be so completely erroneous. To his mind it was quite incomprehensibleYOUGHAL NOTES.*THE NATIONAL FESTIVAL.Preparations are already being made to celebrate St. Patrick's Day, and probably by the time these Notes are in our readers' hands, it will be known whether the day is to be "wet" or "dry." As will be seen by our advertising columns, the local Association Football Club is holding a dance
on the Eve of the Festival in the Strand Palace, where the music of the sad sea waves will be varied by the lively strains of the Rhythm King's Band.
On the same occasion the Ladies
Hockey Club will hold a Cinderella Dance in the Town Hall. The G.A.A.
have been granted the use of the Hall
for Patrick's Night for an entertainment also. In addition there will be a fine "Talkie" programme at Horgan Bros' Picture Theatre, and an enjoyable series of silent pictures in Hurst's Picture Palace.G.A.A.For some time past Youghal has been a complete wash-out as regards public amusements. It is years since there was a regatta, a horse race, a sports meeting, a football or hurling contest, a coursing meeting, a hand promenade. The list could be easily enlarged, for unlike other towns there is no Amusement Committee, no
Town's Improvement Association
(there is one on the Strand), no Civic Week, etc. The people of Youghal have reason to ask the question: "Are there any public men with any public spirit left amongst us?" In the days not so very long past, there was always something doing by some three or four of our public men to push the town ahead. Now there is absolutely nothing. The local branch of the G.A.A. is making an honest endeavour to revive our local Gaelic meetings.
These in the past were not alone good for the youth who took part in them, but they were also an advantage to the town. It is therefore earnestly to be hoped that the G.A.A. will get all the support possible from all who have an interest in our national pastimes
and in the progress of the old town.
If something more is not soon done to get the place out of the slough of depend, into which it has fallen, matters will undoubtedly become even much worse than they are at present.LATE MR. FRANK RONAYNE.On Friday, 27th, this highly-esteemed member of the Ronayne family, died at the family residence, Ardsal-lagh House, Youghal. For many years
Mr. Frank Ronayne filled the important positions of Clerk to the Youghal
Board of Guardians and Youghal No. 1 (Co. Cork) Rural District Council and the No. 2 (Co. Waterford). With an experience dating back to 1894, the writer can safely assert that the late Mr. Ronayne was a thoroughly able, energetic and courteous public official,
and a true gentleman in the best sense of the term—kindly, charitable, upright and genial. With many important duties ever calling on him, he was never too busy to give valuable help and advice to those who required
it from him—and they were many.
With his professional skill as a solicitor, combined with sound commonsense, he steered the boards he was connected with clear of all pitfalls at all times. May he rest in peace.THE LATE FR. O'DONOVAN.At last week-end the sad news reached his home at Clashmore by cable of the death in the prime of his life of a promising young priest, Rev.
Robert F. O'Donovan, at Brooklyn, U.S.A. He was of a family that gave other sons to the Church, while a nephew is a member of the Sacred Ministry in the neighbourhood of Liverpool.
His sister, Mrs. John Broderick, still lives in his native village. His re-

Agricultural Conditions

IN SAORSTAT EIREANN ON 1st FEBRUARY, 1931.

Weather and Work.—The month of January opened with a spell of cold weather with occasional fogs in the daytime and ground frosts at night. Milder conditions set in about the 11th, and although there were a good many rainy days, and one or two heavy downpours accompanied by strong winds, the weather for the remainder of month was comparatively favourable, especially for outlying stock which were able to forage a fair amount of keep from pastures, thus easing the demand on the winter reserves of fodder. During the month farmers were occupied principally in threshing oats, pulling and carting turnips, carting out manure and top-dressing meadows, and in ploughing. The greater part of the stubble land was ploughed and considerable headway was made with the turning up of lea. In some of the early potato growing districts, potatoes were planted towards the end of the month, and in all but the more backward districts preliminary cultural operations had reached a fairly advanced stage of progress at the close of the month. A good deal of work in connection with the cleaning out of dykes, the making or repairing of drains and the securing of fences was also accomplished.

The position as regards fuel was reported to be satisfactory save in a few districts, notably part of County Kildare, where it was a cause of some anxiety as most of the turf supply was still in the bogs and much of it was sodden. In County Longford and in some districts in Offaly, the supply had run short at many homesteads and resort was had to the use of wood and coal.

Provision for Wintering Stock.—Owing to the comparative mildness of the weather, farmers were enabled to conserve their supply of fodder in the case of outlying stock, and consequently the position in this regard at the end of the month was better than might have been anticipated. Reports from all districts indicated that adequate supplies of hay and freshly threshed straw, and large supplies of home-grown grain were on hands on the farms. The reserves of roots were not so large as usual, but the stocks were considered sufficient to meet requirements, especially as they could be supplemented by the use of home-grown grain which had been retained in larger quantities than in any previous winter. Live stock of all classes were reported to be in good health and in normal condition. From some districts it was reported that young stock showed the benefit they had derived from the liberal supplies of home-grown grain with which they had fed during the winter. No serious outbreaks of disease—liver fluke or other—were reported from any quarter.

Potatoes.—Ample supplies of potatoes remained on hands at most farms at the end of January. The tubers were reported to be keeping well in the pits. Demand for the shipping trade was steadily active during January and at the end of the month from one-half to two-thirds of the export surplus of the potato crop had been disposed of at prices around £3 10s. to £4 per ton to the growers. The demand, both home and export, for certified seed grown in Saorstát Eireann was reported to have been much better than in any previous year and an early clearance of the stocks available was confidently anticipated. The prices per ton for seed of different varieties were around the following, viz.:—Athlone—Epicure, Arran Chief and Kerr's Pink up to £4 10s.; British Queen, £3 10s.; May Queen, £7; Early Rose, Hebrons and Duke of York £6 per ton. Tullamore and Banagher—Up-to-Dates £3 to £3 15s.; Arran Banner £4 10s. to £3 10s. per ton. Co. Wexford—Up-to-Dates £3 per ton. Co. Donegal—Up-to-Dates £3. King Edwards £3 5s.; Kerr's Pink £3 15s.; Arran Banner £3 10s.; Champion and Great Scot £3 10s. to £3 15s. per ton. Ware potatoes in County Donegal realised £3 10s. to £4 per ton; in Ballina £3 12s. 6d. to £4; in Co. Cork £3 15s. to £4; in Counties Wexford and Waterford £3 to £3 12s. 6d.; and in Offaly £3 10s. to £4 per ton. Prices around £4 per ton, and the quantity shipped at the end of January totalled over 2,700 tons as compared with 1,320 tons for the corresponding period last season.

Mangels and Turnips.—Supplies of mangels and turnips were rather lower than in previous years, but were reported to be keeping well, and supplemented by the liberal stocks of grain available, were expected to suffice until the early grass has made its appearance. Many farmers are adopting the wise precaution of applying suitable dressing of artificial manures to meadows in order to secure an early bite of grass for their live stock.

Sugar Beet.—Although final deliveries had not taken place, the great bulk of the sugar beet crop was in the factory at the end of the month, and it was possible to estimate final yields with a fair degree of accuracy. These give promise of exceeding those of last year, both in weight of roots and in sugar content.

Grain—Supplies at Markets and Prices.—Owing to the low level of the prices prevailing for all classes of grain this season farmers in every part of the country found it more advantageous to retain the bulk of their produce for feeding purposes, and consequently only very small quantities were placed on the market during January. The greater part of the barley grown for sale had been already delivered to the malsters. In some districts where barley was retained for feeding, the current low price of maize induced farmers to sell the balance of their barley and to purchase maize in place of it. Oats were virtually the only kind of grain marketed in any quantity during the month. Prices ranged around 11s. to 12s. per barrel for white, and 9s. 6d. to 11s. per barrel for black oats.

Flax.—It is to be regretted that conditions in the flax industry showed no improvement during January; on the contrary, demand, if anything, was slower, and prices continued at a very low level, namely, 3s. 6d. to 5s. per stone. Farmers, therefore, felt no inducement to market their stocks and consequently scutching mills were nearly all idle throughout the month and yields of fibre from the small lots scutched were variable and on the average were below those of last season.

Winter Wheat, Oats and Catch Crops.—The acreage under winter wheat and oats is lower than that for any previous year owing to the unfavourable conditions which prevailed during October and November. Very few additional sowings could be made during January, and farmers who had seed on hands are retaining it in the hope of being able to sow it during February. Crops sown in October and November made good progress and looked healthy and vigorous at the end of January. Similarly, owing to the lateness of the harvest, the area under catch crops is smaller than usual. Such crops as were sown, however, appeared to have withstood the winter well, and gave promise of an early cut.

Cattle.—The fairs held during the month were of the normal dimensions for the time of the year. Young well-bred stores with condition were in improved demand at many centres for shipping, but older and second class animals met a slow trade at lower rates. The demand for fat cattle for the home trade was fairly steady, but the weak condition of the cross-channel markets was reflected in a more cautious inquiry for the export trade. Choice springers and milch cows continued to meet an active demand.

Youghal District Court.

Before Mr. G. P. Farrell, B.L.

Insurance Commissioners v. Wm. Kennelly.
Mr. D. Casey, State Solicitor (for plaintiff) said there were two civil bills and two summonses against the defendant. Portion of the amount due had been paid, and he was asking for decrees for the balance outstanding.

All the cases were adjourned for the attendance of defendant.

Finn v. Murray.
This was a civil bill for £10 damage by trespass by Wm. Finn, Boola, against Mrs. Mary Murray, a neighbouring farmer.

Mr. Wm. Hodnett, solr., for plaintiff, and Mr. J. L. Keane, solr., for defendant.

There was also a summary summons and it was agreed to hear both together.

Mr. Hodnett said his client had bought that farm two years ago, and during that time there had been continual trespass by defendant's animals. The trespasses were so numerous that defendant had kept a list day by day, and matters had become worse since the issue of the civil bill.

Mr. Keane said they would agree to any order made by the court.

Mr. Hodnett—Then it is only a question of damages.

Justice—What kind of an order am I to make about the fences?

Plaintiff, examined, said the fence was an ordinary road fence—800 yards in all.

It was agreed that plaintiff and defendant should each put up 300 yards of barbed wire fencing.

The plaintiff gave evidence at length on the question of damage. He estimated £5 for damage to two acres under grass seeds, £2 to green crops, and there was his own time, almost every day.

Cross-examined by Mr. Keane—How much for your own time? I am not going to tell you that now (laughter). I will overlook my own work if I get the other damages (laughter).

He was not paid for the damage by horse work. He took the horse to keep her from trespassing. He would get a man to value the damage if he didn't get justice in the court. He would answer no more of Mr. Keane's questions (laughter).

Mr. Keane—Did you ever hear that a man is a very bad judge in his own case? You want to be judge and jury, because you are already anticipating an adverse decision.

Mr. Hodnett said the farm was on the main road to Lismore, and the Justice could see the place for himself.

Justice—What do you call the main road to Lismore?

Mr. Hodnett—The Glendine road.

Justice—It is very difficult to say what is the main road to Lismore (laughter).

Mr. Hodnett—It is very difficult at present.

Miss Murray, niece of defendant, admitted that there had been trespasses. They were doing their best to stop it. She estimated the damage done at £1.

Cross-examined by Mr. Hodnett, witness said that £1 was the damage done to crops. They had a bit of a quarrel with Mr. Finn. There were only her aunt, who was very old, and herself in the place.

After a further lengthened hearing both cases were adjourned for two weeks, to enable the fences to be repaired, the Justice saying he would give the statutory penalties for the trespass.

Mr. Hodnett (for Mr. Keane, who had to leave) applied for an ad interim transfer of a license in Tallow street, from Mrs. Joyce to her son, Thomas.

Formal evidence having been given, and there being no objection by the Civic Guards, the application was granted.

Forfeiture of Net.
Mr. T. Drohan, Inspector of Fisheries, applied for the forfeiture of a salmon net.

D. Ellis, water bailiff, said that they had found the net, 450 yards in length, fixed in Youghal bay. The legal length was 200 yards.

Justice—Then must it be destroyed? What order am I to make—for sale or destruction?

Mr. T. Drohan said the order made in the past was that the nets be adjusted to the legal length and sold and the proceeds applied as penalties.

Justice—It is a pity to destroy them. An order was made for their forfeiture and to be adjusted and sold.

1. That the Commissioner of Valuation has, on this date, transferred to me Lists of the several tenements and hereditaments contained in this County, with their respective valuations, and has shown in these lists the revisions of the valuations which have been made by him during the past year.
2. That the said Lists will remain open for inspection at my Office, and extracts therefrom may be taken between the hours of 11 and 4, Saturdays 11 a.m. to 1 p.m., for twenty-one days from the date hereof, and the owner or occupier of any tenement or hereditament, the valuation of which has been altered in the said Lists, can obtain a copy of the portion of the said Lists relating to such tenement or hereditament by applying within the aforementioned twenty-one days to the Commissioner of Valuation, 6 Ely Place, Dublin, or to the undersigned.
3. That any person aggrieved in respect of such revision may within twenty-eight days from the date hereof by post or otherwise, deliver to me a notice in writing duly signed by him, the said person aggrieved, or by his known agent, setting forth the grounds of such grievance.
Dated this 2nd day of March, 1931.

Secretary of the County Council, County Council Offices, Dungarvan.

Drawingroom wired for Electrical Service according to OUR WIRING PLAN.

THE NEW CHIVALRY

The Age of Chivalry is said to be past; but this age has rendered a very chivalrous service to Woman-in-the-Home. Modern Science has shown how the drugstore can be taken out of housework—how woman can direct while Electricity does the work. Electricity lights, heats, cooks, cleans, washes, irons, refrigerates and supplies hot water in the most modern, efficient, labour-saving and economical way.

OUR WIRING PLAN will save time, money and trouble and will make your home a place of perfect comfort. Our local Representative will be happy to attend to your requirements and to supply information and estimates without charge or obligation on your part.

★ OUR SPECIAL OFFER
To reduce pressure of work during the rush season and to enable us to keep on our full installations staff during the normally slack season, we make the following offer—From now until July we will install free of charge to the customer OUR CONVENIENCE OUTLET FOR EVERY EIGHT LIGHTING OUTLETS ORDERED.

TAKE ADVANTAGE OF THIS OFFER & ORDER NOW

Residents of the following towns should apply to—
DUNGARVAN, TALLOW, LISMORE, CAPPOQUIN.
The Representative, Installation Department, Electricity Supply Board, Main Street, Dungarvan.

Oatmeal Manufacturing.

Influenced by the ridiculously low price for Oats, we have overhauled and refitted (on most up-to-date lines) our Oatmeal Manufacturing Plant, and we are in a position to receive Oats for the manufacture of Oatmeal.

We would remind intending patrons that in order to obtain first-class samples of Oatmeal White Oats give best results, and wherever convenient, are preferred as being the most satisfactory for all concerned.

We specialise in the manufacture of Pure Whole Meal.

We also wish to remind our numerous friends and the general public that we are now in a position to carry on the usual Rolling and Kibbling Grinding, kiln-dried or fresh as may be required.
