Lismore District Court.

HEAVY FINE FOR DANGEROUS DRIVING.

(Before Mr. G. P. Farrell, B.L.).
Superintendent Quinlan, Lismore, summoned John Glanville, Dungarvan, driver of a motor bread van, the property of Mrs. Power, B aker, and confectioner, O'Connell St., Dungarvan, for dangerously driving a motor van on the road near Lismore Bridge on January, 6th as a result of which a young farmer named Matthew Coffey, Melleray Hill, Cappoquin, was knocked down by the van and seriously injured.

The evidence for the prosecution was heard at length at the previous Court when Matthew Coffey described how he was cycling down below Lismore Bridge on his way from Lismore to Cappoquin about 2 o'clock on the date in question, and was only about the fourth of the Justice then reviewed the evidence at great length and said that apart from the evidence given for the lustice would not treat the defendant too seriously in the circumstances.

Reexamined by Mr. O'Gorman, he said, he saw the Superintendent's car passing along a few moments previously as the van was coming in the opposite direction, but he did not see the van swerving to let the Supt. pass, as both car passed each other in the ordinary way, as far as he could see.

John Glanville, the defendant, was then examined by Mr. O'Gorman and said that he had 0 years experience as a motor driver and had never met with a similar accident before. He said that he was driving carefully at the time as there was a touring car along the road in front of him from Cappoquin. He was a married man and had a wife Mr. Williams.

The Justice then reviewed the evidence at great length and said that pace, and he had heard no horn sounded before he was struck.

WATERFORD SHOW AND SALE.

The forthcoming Show and Sale of Bulls under the auspices of the Co. Waterford Branch of the Irish Dairy Shorthorn Breeders' Society to be held at Waterford on Wednesday, March 25th, promises to eclipse all previous Shows not only in the number of entries, but in the excellence of the animals. There are 190 entries made up as follows:—20 Pure-bred Registered Dairy Bulls, 70 Non-pedigree Registered Dairy Bulls, 30 Pure-bred Short-borns 12 Abardeen Angus 7 Here-Dairy Bulls, 70 Non-pedigree Registered Dairy Bulls, 30 Pure-bred Shorthorns, 42 Aberdeen Angus, 7 Hereford and 20 Non-pedigree and Non-registered Bulls: They are drawn from the best herds of the Co. Waterford and adjoining counties, and in the Dairy Bulls Section all the leading breeders in the area are represented. Farmers on the look out for high-class Dairy Bulls of the dual-purpose type will find at this Sale the very animals they have long sought for, and with the records achieved by the bulls purchased in Waterford in previous years, competition should be very keen indeed for up-to-date and practical owners of dairy herds are all anxious to secure bulls of proved dual purpose strain. The beef Shorthorn, Aberdeen Angus and Hereford bulls are all of a very high standard and representative of well-known Southern herds. At this Show and Sale farmers will find a real chance of securing high-class bulls. Catalogues and all particulars can be had from J. Kennedy, Hon. Sec., Stonehouse, Kilmeaden, or from J. D. Palmer, M.I.A.A., Auctioneer, Waterford.

The "Daily Mail."

Mr. Keane said before proceeding with the business he intended to move a resolution concerning a most scurrious article which appeared in the "Daily Mail" from an athiest writer on the Life of Our Divine Lord. He then proposed "That we, the members of the Dungarvan Urban District Council, solemnly and emphatically protest against the action of the proprietors of the "Daily Mail" in publishing a grossly offensive and blasphemous articles concerning Our Divine Lord, and that we call upon our people to cease forthwith buying such papers, and our newsagents to discontinue the sale of papers publishing matter antagonistic to Our Holy matter antagonistic to the formatter antagonistic to the formatter antag such papers, and our newsagents to discontinue the sale of papers publish-ing matter antagonistic to Our Holy

Mr. Moloney seconded. Mr. Clancy—I agree with everything the proposer has said. Every person in Ireland would protest against that article. There was too much of this bad reading coming into the country, and the best way to stop it is through

Mr. McCarthy, in supporting the resolution, suggested that the papers should be dealt with as other papers before. They should be taken by the people and burned or thrown over the bridge.

Mr. Hackett—Such articles should not be tolerated in a Catholic country. Chairman-I wholeheartedly endorse all the remarks made by the members. As the people's representatives they would ask the newsagents to discontinue the sale of this paper.

The resolution was then put and passed unanimously, and the Clerk was directed to send copies of same to the clergy and the newsagents.

two or three times and found no leak.

Mr. Keane—You agree there is a shortage? Water Inspector-Yes. Mr. Keane-Will you look into this statement about the pipes been broken? Water Inspector—Yes.

Electricity Contract.

On the suggestion of Mr. Clancy, the Clerk was asked to notify the Electricity Supply Board that the council are anxious to enter into a contract with them for the public lighting of the town before March 27th.

Scavenging.

Mr. Clancy—With regard to the scavenging of the town, I must say it was done very unsatisfactory to-day.

S. S. O. Walsh—And yesterday.
Egan, the scavenger, is sick and the horse also hurt his leg and is suffering from a slight sprain. Costin, their foreman, refused to take orders from him in the absence of the Boro Surveyor.

The following letters were read from D. Mr. Keane—This street is an eyesore for a long time. All the surface water from the main road go down there and the shore is not big enough to take it. As regards Crotty's complaints, we should carry out the work. Mr. Crotty is a big ratepayer and should get consideration. Late Mr. Ml. Brennock.
Chairman—I am very sorry to say sincse our last meeting a very old and valued member of this Council has passed away. The late Mr. Brennock was Chairman of this Council for a very long period and although some of us disagred at times, I always found him a sincere and true friend. He had him a sincere and true friend. He had earned the respect of the people, not only in the town but throughout the whole County Waterford. As a mem-ber of the Public Boards he always looked after the interests of the ratelooked after the interests of the rate-payers and was always willing to help a deserving cause. The people of the town will miss him now. Personally I am in sympathy with his family and relatives in their great loss, and as a small mark of respect to his memory I propose thefollowing reso-lution—"That we the members of the Dungarvan Uaban Council desire to

We direct that our deep sympathy be conveyed to his bereaved widow and family and as a small tribute of respect to his memory that we adjourn this meeting.

Mr. Clancy—It is with deep fellings of regret that I rise to second this resolution. The late Mr. Brennock will be a loss to the people of Dungarvan. He always took a keen interest in the town and was a very able man. He of a very kindly disposition. It is too bad he should be taken from us. He had always found him (although differing from him sometimes) possessed had a very kind disposotion. It is too bad he should be taken from us. He was a man who reared a nice family, and was a loving father. He felt sure the people of the town regretted his loss, it is our sad duty to pass this resolution to his widow and members of his family.

SUGGESTED SCHEME BEFORE
URBAN COUNCIL.
The following letter was read at the last meeting of the Youghal Urban Myrtle Grove, Youghal, 10-3-31.

Dear Mr. Walsh,—On January 23 I put forward a suggestion concerning the possibility of starting a small tannery in or near Youghal, with a view to lessening unemployment in Youghal during the winter months, and thereby reduceing the number of men in receipt of the dole. I had already written to Sir John Keane and received his reply, a copy of which I enclose. written to Sir John Keane and received his reply, a copy of which I enclose. I received also a verbal message from Dublin t othe effect that he Government welcomed and were anxious to support a local effort of this kind, provided that it was efficiently and showed some prospect of success. My idea is that your Council might consider the wisdom of starting—on small lines at first—a Tannery. Modern methods of treatment of hides have gone far to remove the chief objection, namely, its offensive smell. As to site, perhaps the old gaol might be rented at a moredate price. A certain amount of capital would be required for machinery, but whereas most of these modern inventions are of a labour-saving design, our object No tender was received for the carrying out of the various sewerage schemes in connection with which a grant is to be given by the Department.

The council decided to ask the Department to allow them proceed with part or the whole of the schemes by direct labour.

A letter from Mrs. Carew regarding repairs required to have been given to the council to meet Mr. Crotty and talk the thing over with him.

Mr. Keane—Is that amount spent?
Chairman—No, we did not get it yet.

Mr. Keane—Then we should put the path right.

Mr. Clancy—We should stop this letter-writing. I suggest we appoint a few members of the council to meet Mr. Crotty and talk the thing over with him.

CHARGE AGAINST A LABOURER DISMISSED JUSTICE AND BOY WITNESS.

At Youghal District Court, before Mr. G. P. O'Shea, Dungarvan, prosecuted, and Mr. E. Carroll, solr., Fermoy, defended.

and Mr. E. Carroll, solr., Fermoy, defended.

Mr. Michael O'Halloran, Laurentum, farmer, said he did a big lot of tillage, and had thirty to forty cows. The accused had been in hisemployment for five years up to 1925, when he went to America. He returned after a short time, and again worked for witness for five years more. He had another workman, Michael Kiely. OnJanuary 13th last witness went to the Lodge, where both men were before him. They told him a big lot of potatoes stored in the Lodge had been taken, the window having been, apparently, opened accused, who said he knew nothing about it. Witness subsequently found the hammer in Walsh's coat pocket. The tattle were fed on crushed oats. It was one of accused's duties to feed the cattle and yook after them. On the 19th February witness missed about a half barrel, before the cattle were fed; the value was about 3s. Accused left his employment on February 28th, and witness had missed nothing since. He had two young cows milking at the time, and they used be milked by somebody beforehand. He reported the matter to the Guards, but made no mention of straw or coal or oil.

Michael Kiely, Kilmaloo, said he in the force day with the murder of Laurence Griffin, they had supplied any information to the superintendents at that time stationed at Dungarvan, or at Tramore, and what was the substance of such statements.

The Minister said that the Guards were considered unfit for retention in the force by reasons of their failure to give proper assistance in the investigations of Laurence Griffin, As these investigations for Laurence Griffin, As these investigations had not yet been completed, he was not prepared to disclose the statements.

IINISTER QUESTIONED IN DAIL

A SPECIAL TRIBUNAL SUGGESTED.

A number of questions were raisedin the Dail last week, with reference to the case of the missing
Stradbally postman, Laurence Griffin.
Mr. Little (F.F., Waterford) asked the Minister for Justce to state the reasons why the Gardai Dulea and Frawley, stationed at Stradbally on December 25th, were dismissed from the force, and whether before being charged with the murder of Laurence Griffin, they had supplied any information to the superintendents at that

The Minister said that the Guards mo mention of straw or coal or oil.

Michael Kiely, Kilmaloo, said he had worked up to last month with Walsh. Four or five weeks ago witness was going one morning to milk the cows, when he met Walsh, who ister was not aware that there had never been a trial for the murder of the late Laurence Griffin, and that informations had been refused in the

He whether in view of the unsatisfactory whether in view of the unsatisfactory results of such investigations the Min-ister would agree to the appointment of a special tribunal with powers to call for persons, papers, and documents to investigate the case?

The Minister replied that the conduct of the police investigations in this case had been marked by two regrettable incidents; (1) the failure of the Gardai who were stationed in Stradbally at the time of Griffin's disappearance, to report the matter at once and to give all possible assistance: and (2) 'the over zeal of some of the Gardai who were subse-quently called in to assist in the investigations. The Boy—That is not true at all.

WATERFORD HURLING FINAL.

A good attendance witnessed the 1930 final for the Waterford Senior Hurling Championship, at Dungarvan to-day. Erin's Own, waterford, and Dungarvan were the contestants. The match was looked upon as a certainty for Erin's Own, but for forty minutes Dungarvan held them well and only the superior training of the Waterford team decided the issue.

Dungarvan blaving with the wind

Dungarvan, playing with the wind in the first half, attacked, and a welldirected shot was saved by Jim Ware, Erin's Own visited the other end, but met with a brilliant defence and play was quickly transferred to their own quarter where a wide resulted. Play now reached a high standard and the leather was kept moving from end to end, but no score resulted. After twenty minutes Erin's Own raised the white flag per Fardy. Dungarvan attacked and had hard luck in driving over. Before the short whistle Bluett, in the Dungarvan goal, saved a stinging shot. At half time the score stood:

ERIN'S OWN—1 point.

DUNGARVAN—Nil.

On resuming, both sides attacked in turn without result. Erin's Own, from a free, drove wide. The Dungarvan backs were now called on and they responded brilliantly. After ten minutes Erin's Own added a point. Dungarvan strove hard to score and made several dangerous attacks without effect. A quarter of an hour from the end, Erin's Own showed their superior training and got two goals in quick succession. Dungarvan made a last bid for victory, and wer unlucky in not raising the green flag. They, how-ever, carried on again, and got their first and only score—a point. From now on Erin's Own did all the attacking and added further four goals and two points.. Dungarvan fought on pluckily, but their want of traing told heavily against them. Result:—

ERIN'S OWN—6 goals 4 points.

DUNGARVAN—1 point.

CORN CROPS IN SPRING.

It needs a brave man with a firm hand on his pen to write about cereal growing in these difficult times. These who have large acreages under tillage do not need to be reminded of their troubles, and grassland farmers have no inclination to permit the plough or seed drill on their holdings. Yet cereal growing still finds a place in the economy of Irish farming, and, in 2 spite of much defeatist writing and talking, many thousands of acres are Won by under the plough this year.

Whatever may be done to raise the The Perry Ladies' Challenge Cup, for horses regularly hunted by ladies with any recognised pack. 11st. or off the farm or fed to stock; there is no reason to neglect the crop during the growing period. Full crops must be the aim, and no stone should be left unturned in order to get them economically.

It is late in the day to discuss varieties, but those who still have grain to get in should remember that in these days names have tremendous significance. It is not enough to sow Blank's "Colossal Yielder" and then rest in the pious hope that its name promise will be fulfilled. What if "Colossal Yielder" is merely Mr. Blank's favour-... 3 ite synonym for a degenerate strain of an oscure type which has never been grown with success anywhere? It is surprising that more farmers do not take advantage of the services offered so willingly by the seed-testing station of the Department of Agriculture, which, for the nominal sum of 3d., will report on any sample of seed—be it grain, root or tuber—which is sent

> The manuring of cereals, too, has never received the attention which is its due. How seldom is wheat topdressed unless the crop is seen to be obviously sickly, and yet undoubtedly this practice should form a definite part of the routine. It pays.
> It is very common still to hear the > old argument that manuring spoils the quality of barley. There is noth-ing in it. How often has the barley championship at the Brewers' Exhibition been won with an unmanured crop? Oats are seldom manured, but an excellent case for doing so can be made out. For consumption on the farm there is probably no crop to be compared with oats. A stiff-strawed variety will stand up to heavy manur-ing, and a yield will be obtained which will save a sum out of the win-ter feeding bill far greater than the cost of the fertilizers. Second crop ter feeding bill far greater than the cost of the fertilizers. Second crop oats should always be given a top-dressing of nitrogen. Without fertilisers, too, much is being asked of the land; the effects of overcropping without replacement are visible for years. The old objections to fertilizers are fast disappearing with increasing knowledge. Nitrogen does not take the heart out of the land. Phosphates and potash do not force the crop beyond its true capacity. All these are plant foods, not stimulants. It was the old practice of putting on one type of plant food only, such as phosphate or nitrogen, which led to the belief that artificials "drew" the land. Of late years more aftention has been paid to their proper balancing, one with another. Now that concentrated fertilisers have made their appearance in this country, not before they were long overdue, even this difficulty will disappear. We are a long way yet from the days when the farmer will carry the fertilisers for the whole farm in one of his pockets. But the aver-

ST. PATRICKS DAY AT ARDMORE. At the College Hall, Ardmore, on St. Patrick's Day, two Irish plays were staged-Misneach and Seana Shaddg, and were highly appreciated by the large audience.

BAND CONCERT.

Concert in the Town Hall on St. Patrick's Night is their continued popularity and no wonder. Judging by this Concert, the Committee may be depend ed upon to treat their patrons in a generous and recherche manner. We have seldom heard the Band play to such good effect and Mr. McHugh, is to be congratulated on his new compositions. The farce was as promised to be screamingly funny. Miss Fleming, Miss Foley, Miss B. McCarthy, and Mrs. Healy, entertained the large audience to a continuous laugh for three quarters of an hour. These ladies surpassed themselves in the histrionic art. The old favourites E. Phelan, and J. Keohan, evoked rounds of applause as they always do. Signor O'Dierna, enthralled the audience by his Irish and Hungarian rhapsodies on the violin. The pity was we had not a little more of the Signor. Mr. John Doyle, Waterford very kindly entertained the audience with his talkie divorced from the pictures namely His Masters Voice and the Electro-radio Gramophone, on which we heard McCormick and several old favourities in suitable song and music we heard McCormick and several old favourites in suitable songs and music for the National Festival. We feel everyone came away from the Band Concert feeling they had been to another good entertainment. Mrs. O'Hara, played the accompaniments in her accustomed proficient manner The Band Committee are deeply grateful to all who helped them.

Collins, not being a Mr. Jekyll or Mr. Hyde, could not attend to his duties at Mr. O'Keeffe's from 8 a.m., to 6 p.m. and at the same time attend from 10 a.m. to 11 p.m. as caretaker in the Hall, so automically he ceased to be caretaker. automically he ceased to be caretaker. Collins swore in Lismore that our Hon. Secretary told him he could ap-Hon. Secretary told him he could appoint a substitute, and our Hon. Sec., a respectable intelligent gentleman holding a very responsible position swore that he did not tell Collins any such thing. Mr. Ryan at Lismore wanted to know why this opposition, and why make a "State trial" of the case. My reply to that, is, that when unfairly or unjustly dealt with I opposed the Commissioners, whether Land Commissioners, or that august body of business men—the National Health Insurance Commissioners. I thought in my simplicity that we had Health Insurance Commissioners. I thought in my simplicity that we had a good case and that we were, under the circumstances, unjustly compelled to stamp the cards, Collins, who in my mind was no longer caretaker since he took employment from Mr. O'Keeffe. I was encouraged in this thought by Mr. Murray, National Health Insurance Inspector who informed me officially in October 1928 that we were not liable to stamp the cards for Collins. District Justice Farrell gave a decree against the Society in Lismore, against which we appealed to the Gircuit Court in Dungarvan. I was absent through illness from the hearing of the appeal, but I am informed that our Counsel made a very strong case before Judge Seely. So convinced was he of the justice of the case that he wished up to appeal to the High Court where he expected that we would get a decision in our favour. I confidently appeal to the public to judge of the reasonableness of our opposition to the National Health Insurance Counter.

Youghal Urban Council.

Present-Mr. J. R. Smyth, P.C., chairman; Mrs. S. Hurley, P.C.; Messrs, E. Clancy, E. P. Lynch, vice-chairman; M. D. Broderick, D. J. Linehan, J. Whelan, P. J. O'Gorman, P.C.; T. Harrington, T. Beausang.

Letters were read from some milk vendors promising to take all possible steps to meet the requirements of the council to have their milk up to the proper standard.

Mrs. Hurley—Is there anybody ap-pointed to pay surprise visits to the

The Clerk said there was.

Mr. Beausang—And he calls often enough, too.

Milk in Rural Areas.

Mr. Broderick said thye had complained several times to the Board of Health regarding the absence of proper inspection over the production of milk in the rural area. It was an absolute scandal that 95 per cent. of the milk should come into the town without adequate inspection at its source. That was a question of vital importance to children and invalids, and it could not be satisfactorily dealt with in the absence of veterinary inspection. The Youghal No. 1 kural District was the only area around in trict was the only area around in which they hadn't a qualified Inspector to look after the dairies and spector to look after the dairies and cowsheds.

Mr. Whelan endorsed Mr. Broderick's remarks and said that they should again make a strong representation to the Board of Health on the matter.

The Clerk said that as Mr. Lynch had stated, they had put the matter before the Board of Health several times. They had ever communicated before the Board of Health several times. They had even communicated with the L.G. Department, who referred them back to the Board of Health, but nothing was done by that body to remedy the grievance. They had nothing against the sanitary sub-officer, who was discharging his duties carefully and well, but they maintained that it was a job for a qualified Veteri-nto the town.

Mr. Harrington said it was rather curious that the Youghal rural area should be an exception to the general rule. What was behind it??

Mr. O'Gorman said they all agreed that the sanitary sub-officer was carrying out his duties in the rural area in the most efficient manner possible, but it was essential to have a properly qualified professional man to see that everything at the source of pro-duction was up to the standard. They should again approach the Board of Health and call for a proper inspec-tion in the rural district. Youghal was an important town and they should do everything possible to safe-guard the public health, especially hat of the children. Mr. Broderick pointed out that they had several complaints regarding the presence of dirt in the samples of milk submitted to the Board. That was even of more importance than the presence of germs. These would be climinated by boiling, but the dirt would remain, and these were factors that the sanitary sub-officer could not be expected to deal with.

After further discussion it was unanimously decided, on the proposition of Mr. Broderick, seconded by Mr. O'Gorman, to communicate with the Board of Health and Dr. Condy on the necessity for a Veterinary Inspector in the rural area. The Clerk read crrespondence he had had on the subject with the Local Government Department and Dr. Conly dating back to November, 1929. It bore out all that had been said during the foregoing discussion.

The Clerk also submitted two "score

The Clerk also submitted two "score cards" filled by the sanitary sub-officer and forwarded to the Council by Dr. Condy. The latter suggested that prosecutions be instituted.

Mr. Broderick said if they prosecuted the first question that would be asked by the defence was—what qualifications has the witness for the prosecution? It was absurd.

No action was taken.

No action was taken. Dr. D. J. Murphy, M.O.H., reported that the influenza epidemic had practically gone. It was of a very mild character, and there were no deaths oc-character, and there were no deaths oc-curring from it.

The Clerk submitted three samples of milk received from the Veterinary Inspector. Two were "slightly dirty."

The Clerk was directed to write to the vendors concerned, calling on them to take the necessary steps to bring their milk up to the standard.

The "Daily Mail" Article.

Mr. Whelan called attention to the clasphemous articles which had reently appeared in the "Daily Mail." That council should in common with the other Irish public bodies enter their strongest protest against the ction of that paper in publishing such a article.

Mr. Harrington geconded. Any aper publishing such an outrageous dicte should not be allowed into any aristian home. That council as recessitatives of the townspeple should all on the local newsagents not to at that paper any more.

all they could to make their protest a practical one.

Mr. Harrington—I believe they are giving it up already.

Mr. Lynch said there were some people very anxious to make a protest, but still they read the paper. They would want no protest if the people took the matter into their own hands.

Chairman—This will finish it.

Mr. Whelan said that clergymen of other denominations had protested against the article in question.

Mr. Chincy said they were living in an age when they were supposed to know a little. That the "Daily Mail" should have published such an article showed that there was something wanting in the brains of those responsible for that article appearing.

Mr. Broderick said the "Daily Mail" incurred a terrible responsibilities in the matter. Surely the editors of papers ought have a greater appreciation of their responsibilities than ordinary people. The "Daily Mail" should have used some discretion before publishing an article which was evidently the emanation of an unbalanced mind. The "Daily Mail" deserved the greatest possible censure that any public body could give it.

Mr. Lynch said they ought call on the Censors in Dubl:n m connection with the matter. They were paid for looking after such things, and it was surprising that they should allow such a production to appear. He proposed that they demand an explanation.

Mr. Broderick seconded.

Both propositions were unanimously

Votes of Sympathy.
Mr. Broderick said that since their last meeting a prominent old local landmark had passed away in the person of Mr. Frank Ronayne, of Ardsallagh Huse. He proposed that they tender his family their sincere sym-

Mr. O'Gorman seconded. The late Mr. Ronayne, as Clerk of the Board of remedy the grievance. They had nothing against the sanitary sub-officer, who was discharging his duties carefully and well, but they maintained that it was a job for a qualified Veterinary Inspector, whose recommendations would be carried out by the sanitary sub-officer.

Mr. Broderick said that in the adjoining district of Co. Waterford they had a sanitary sub-officer working under Dr. Walsh, the Veterinary Inspector. In the interest of the public there should be a Veterinary Inspector over the Youghal Rural District from which 95 per cent. of the milk came into the town.

Guardians and Rural District Councils, had earned the reputation of being one of the foremost public officials in the country. Some of them present had sat under him in the time of the trouble and were therefore in a position to appreciate his many outstanding qualities. He was member of a family that occupied a high place in the esteem of town and country. He laboured constantly to safeguard the interests of the ratepayers and was always a good friend to everybody who wanted a turn done. Having been Chairman of the Board of Guardians for a short time, he (Mr. O'Gorman) could bear testimony to the many Guardians and Rural District Coun-Chairman of the Board of Guardians for a short time, he (Mr. O'Gorman) could bear testimony to the many good qualities, public and private,, of the late Mr. Ronayne.

The Chairman said they all wished to be associated with that proposition. From his own personal knowledge he could endorse everything that had been said—truly said—of his old friend.

Mr. Beausang proposed a vote of sympathy with the family of their es-teemed colleague, Mr. P. Kenneally, on the death of his niece.

This was seconded by Mr. Clancy. The Clerk and others asked to be associated with both propositions. Both were then passed in silence.
