Dungarvan Urban Council

At the weekly meeting of the above held on Friday Mr. Butler, Chairman, presided. Also present—Messrs. J. Hackett, B. Dec, T. McCarthy, J. Moloney, C. Lawn, M. Griffin, M. Clancy, M. Keane. Finance. The monthly financial statement submitted by the Clerk showed as follows: Credit to general account, £242 8s. 9d. Credit to Poor Rate account, £350 6s. 11d. Credit to Harbour account £74 5s. 6d. Debit to Housing account £385 19s. 1d. Debit to relief work £310 5s. 3d. It was stated that the debit to housing and relief schemes was due to the delay in receiving the loan and grant from the Department. Petrol Pump. Mr. M. Crawley applied for permission to erect a petrol pump at the Bridge. The Council decided to give the necessary permission subject to the usual conditions. Water Shortage. Mr. J. Ormond, C.E., complained of water shortage at his residence in O'Connell Street. He stated that he had the service examined by a plumber, but no defect could be found. He suggested that the fault was in the main. The matter was referred to the Water Inspector. Hall Free. An application from the Band Committee asking that the use of the Hall for the dance held on July 16th be granted free with the exclusion of the light charge was granted. Rent Too High. The rent collector reported that Mr. Casey, refused to pay a sum of £18 1s. 0d., due as rent on the store at the town hall. Mr. Casey objected to paying the rent which he considered unfair owing to the loss of space which he sustained when the recent improvements to the hall were carried out. Mr. Moloney—This is rather late in the day to complain. Mr. Hackett—Didn't Mr. Casey agree to pay 2/6 a week. Mr. Clancy—I remember that was a compromise rent. 3/- and 2/ were the rents suggested and the Board fixed 2/6. Chairman—I remember the Board asked me to see Mr. Casey at the time and he agreed to give up portion of the store. I told Mr. Casey that I would bring the matter of giving a reduction of the rent before the Board and I did so. The place was pointed out to Mr. Casey and he knew what space he was getting. Mr. Clancy—Mr. Casey at the time thought the space would be larger. Mr. Moloney—Let it stand. This Council is always weak going back on things done six months before. Mr. Moloney proposed, and Mr. Hackett, seconded, that the rent collector be instructed to collect the rent due. On a vote there voted for the resolution—Messrs. Hackett, Moloney, Griffin, Chairman, 4. Against Messrs.—Dec, McCarthy, Lawn, Keane, 4. Mr. Clancy did not vote. On the Chairman's casting vote the resolution was passed. Play Company. Mr. Dobell's play company were granted the use of hall from August 10th to August 16th. Quay. Mr. Hackett asked the Board to carry out the work of railing in the quay as soon as the money was available. Thanks. Mr. M. Fitzgerald wrote thanking the Board for their resolution of sympathy on the death of his mother. Sympathy. A resolution of sympathy was passed with Mrs. Gough, O'Connell St., on the death of her augt. POULTRY CLASS AT BALLYMACARRY. The Poultry Class at Ballymacarry conducted by Miss M. M. Mullins, County Instructor, was remarkably well attended from start to finish, and the young ladies who attended must have had considerable benefit from the practical instruction given. At the close of the class on Friday 24th ult., the students presented Miss Mullins with a Coffee service and silver tray as a mark of appreciation for her services while amongst them. DUNGARVAN COURSING CLUB. The Annual General Meeting of the Dungarvan Coursing Club will be held at the Commercial Club, St. Mary St., on Sunday next, August 2nd, after last Mass. All members are requested to attend. Girl: The last time I saw him was the first time we met.

CAPPOQUIN NOTES.

GREAT CARNIVAL OF AMUSEMENTS. A great Carnival of sports and amusements of various kinds will be held in Cappoquin next month, and the interesting event is looked forward to by the public in this and the surrounding districts. It having been learned that the funds of the West Waterford Hunt are in a depleted state at present, a number of the sporting gentlemen of Cappoquin, assisted by prominent members of the Hunt, have generously taken the necessary steps to organise a big programme of amusements for the purpose of raising the necessary funds to save this popular Hunt from extinction. As in the past whenever any practical support was required for the Hunt, Mr. M. J. Sargent, has again kindly taken charge of the responsible work of organising the entire scheme, without any regard to the vast amount of trouble and loss of time which such work must necessarily entail. The programme decided on will include three grand concerts in the Boathouse Hall, Cappoquin, on Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday nights, Aug. 17th, 18th, and 19th, at which all the best known and most talented artists will assist, as well as several brilliant entertainers from across the channel, who will be forming "House Parties" in the district during that week. A novel feature of those Concerts will be that admission will be free to each performance, but tickets will be sold each night for a grand drawing of prizes of exceptional value and attractiveness. There will be a complete change of programme for each night's concert, and the fact that admission will be absolutely free should ensure packed houses. On Thursday night, August, 20th., one of the biggest dances seen in Cappoquin for many years will be held in the Boathouse Hall for which special orchestral music will be provided, and with a carefully-prepared dancing floor, special lighting effects and many other novelties, this event should easily prove to be "The Dance of the Season." There will be another grand drawing of prizes on this occasion, and altogether the event promises to eclipse anything of its kind held here for a long time. The best event of all is reserved for Saturday, August, 22nd., when a masked Fancy Dress Cricket Match will be played on the grounds of the Cappoquin Cricket Club between mixed teams of ladies and gentlemen, and this will certainly, prove one of the most attractive novelties ever witnessed here. A special Dress Parade will be held before the match starts and a valuable prize will be awarded both to the lady and gentleman wearing the most attractive and original fancy dress. During the progress of the game tea will be supplied at a moderate charge in the Pavilion by a committee of ladies, and will conclude one of the best gala week's entertainment conceivable, and one which we are sure will result in a very substantial sum being raised for the deserving purpose of helping the funds of the popular West Waterford Hunt. Further details will appear later. A BRILLIANT LOCAL ATHLETE. At the Tralee Garda Sports a few weeks ago the 440 yards open handicap was won in convincing style by Mr. J. McGrath, Dromroe East, Cappoquin, while at the same meeting this dashing young athlete also won the 800 metres Championship of Munster. At the Kilkenny Garda Sports last Sunday, Mr. McGrath reproduced the same brilliant form by winning the 440 yards open handicap, and we heartily congratulate him on his various successes, and trust he will be able to shed further athletic lustre on his native town of Cappoquin before the present Sports season has grown much older. Mr. McGrath is son of Mrs. McGrath, Dromroe, Rockfield, and of the late Mr. D. F. McGrath. LAWN TENNIS. Cahin Park Tennis Club travelled to Cappoquin for a friendly Tournament with the home club on Thursday, 23rd. July, when a series of Singles and mixed Doubles were played on the well-kept Courts of the Cappoquin Club. The visitors, however, were completely outclassed by the fast and stylish play of the local team, who won 12 out of the 14 games on the programme with the greatest ease. The visitors were afterwards entertained to tea in the Tennis Pavilion, and later to supper at "Morrissey's Hotel," and on that night they were the guests of the Cappoquin Club at a grand dance held in the Boathouse Hall and expressed themselves as deeply grateful to the members of the local Club for their kind hospitality and also with having provided them with such an enjoyable dance as an appropriate "wind-up" to a great afternoons sport.

Kilmacothomas News.

RUMOURS. On Friday evening of last week six armoured cars manned by Free State military appeared at Kilmacothomas, where they delayed for some time, subsequently leaving in the Carrick-on-Suir direction. As a result of this visit a crop of rumours flew over the district on Saturday. OBITUARY. We regret to record the death of a most respected Ballylonean man, in the person of Mr. David O'Callaghan, Garrurturn, which occurred at Dungarvan Hospital on Sunday night, after a rather protracted illness, and at a comparatively early age. A good useful neighbour, honest and straightforward in all his dealings, the deceased was a worthy member of a good old local stock. The funeral from Dungarvan to St. Anne's Church, Ballylonean, on Monday evening was large and representative. On arrival at the Church the remains were met by Rev. T. O'Shea, C.C., who recited the prayers for the dead. After the celebration of Masses of Requiem for his soul on Tuesday morning, the interment took place in the adjoining cemetery in the presence of numerous relatives, friends and sympathisers. The chief mourners were—Thomas and James O'Callaghan (brothers); Richard and Michael Walsh, Kilmacothomas, (nephews); Mrs. T. Power, The Hill, do.; (niece); etc. The late Mr. O'Callaghan was an uncle of Sean Walsh, Kilmacothomas, who gave his young life for Ireland during the fight for Irish freedom.—R.I.P. (American papers will please copy). NEW MASS BELL BLESSED. The new Mass bell, recently hoisted into a specially erected belfry at St. Anne's Church, Ballylonean, was solemnly blessed by Very Rev. John Lennon, P.P., Stradbally. The musical chimes of the bell (which is one of Father Lennon's many gifts to his native parish) can be heard for miles around pealing the Angelus call thrice daily. The Churches, cemeteries and schools in the keeping of this deservedly-popular venerable Soggarth Aroon are second to none in our ancient and historic Decies to-day. LAST SUNDAY. While big numbers of mid-Waterfordians battered the trail to Thurles on Sunday, quite a goodly crowd journeyed to the "Pattern" of Ardmore on the occasion. A word or two about the great St. Declan may not be voted out of place here. Son of Prince Ere of Munster, Declan was one of the great saints of St. Patrick's time. He received his early education from a priest named Dimma, under whom he became remarkable for his wide knowledge and eminent holiness. When he had learned all that Dimma could teach him he went to Rome, where he was ordained by the Pope himself. Shortly after his ordination he returned to his native Isle, and at Ardmore he founded a school to which flocked pupils from all parts of Europe. The Saint was truly famous as a scholar, but he was equally noted for his great piety, his eloquent preaching, and his unflinching zeal. It is generally credited that he had begun his conversion of the Decies even prior to the advent of our National Apostle in A.D. 432. That St. Patrick recognised and appreciated St. Declan's great ability is proved by the fact of his having appointed him Chief Bishop of the Decies. He is also said to have written on Declan and his friend, St. Ailbe, a distich in Gaelic, the translation of which "Of humble mind, but dowered with every grace, Great Ailbe, the Patrick of Mononia's race; Declan, the mighty honour of divines, The deathless Patrick of the Decies shines." THE FAIR. The monthly fair, held on Tuesday, was pretty largely stocked in all departments. All classes of store cattle with condition met a fair trade. Fat cattle sold at slightly reduced rates and many failed to clear. Springers and milch cows were in moderate request at current figures. Store sheep and lambs were readily disposed of at late prices. The usual buyers were in attendance. The town traders plied on appreciably brisk business that day. A ROUSING RE-PLAY. To Ballyduff Lower Gaelic grounds on to-morrow (Sunday) will wend thousands of football enthusiasts from all parts to witness Kilmacothomas trying conclusions with Fenor in their re-play tie for the custodianship of the valuable set of gold-centre medals (designed and manufactured in Dublin) put up by that able Irish teacher, Mr. Sean Downey. These teams come from parishes long since prominent for their distinguished footballers. The result of their previous clash a few Sundays

LISMORE NOTES.

LOCAL STUDENTS BRILLIANT SUCCESS. Mr. Morfy G. Hynes, elder son of Mr. C. P. Hynes, M.R.C.V.S., and Mrs. Hynes, South Mall, Lismore, has passed his final examination with distinction in the Royal Veterinary College, Dublin, and has received his diploma as a member of the Royal College with the M.R.C.V.S., degree. The new V.S., received his early education in the Christian Brothers College, Lismore, which has turned out so many brilliant students in the past and he passed his matriculation examination with flying colours in Dublin soon after leaving Lismore College. He then entered the Royal Veterinary College, Ballsbridge, over four years ago, where he had a most distinguished collegiate career, and his success in the final examination now confers on him the proud distinction of being the youngest Veterinary Surgeon in the Royal College, as he is only 22 years of age. His father, Mr. C. P. Hynes, is one of the best-known and most popular Veterinary Surgeons in the Co. Waterford, where he has enjoyed a wide and ever-growing practice for the past 28 years, and his countless friends throughout a wide area will now extend to him their heartiest congratulations on the notable success of his son, and at the same time wish the latter young gentleman the best of happiness and prosperity in the honourable profession of which he has now become such a worthy and valuable member. A LOCAL SHARPSHOOTER. At the Munster Clay Target Association's sixth annual competition in Cork on last Sunday week a well-known and popular Lismore sportsman, Mr. C. P. Hynes, V.S., scored a remarkable victory by winning the "Henshaw Challenge Cup" from a large field of competitors, some of whom had hitherto been regarded as the best shots in the Irish Free State. These included Mr. G. A. Scally and Commandant Hannon, both of whom proved themselves remarkably good shots in some of the earlier competitions at the same fixture. It may be mentioned that Mr. Scally had won the South of Ireland Double Rifle Championship and also the valuable "O'Duffy Cup" at the same meeting. His performance of scoring 114 kills out of a possible 120 birds in the latter competition being claimed as an Irish record. To be able to defeat such a redoubtable marksman in the final for the "Henshaw Challenge Cup" was a wonderful achievement on the part of Mr. Hynes and his colleagues in the Blackwater Valley Clay Pigeon Shooting Club (Lismore and Cappoquin) now warmly congratulate him on his meritorious victory which has enabled him to bring this magnificent trophy to Lismore for the first time. We trust that the success of Mr. Hynes will prove an incentive to the members of the Blackwater Valley Club to get busy at once and organise a few interesting Clay Pigeon Shooting competitions before it gets too late in the season. TENNIS. Members of the Lismore Tennis Club visited Cahin on Saturday 25th July and engaged the home club. The weather was showery and in the opening games, the courts were slippery, and accurate play was spoiled as a result, as the evening wore on the courts played much better and some exciting and keen contests were witnessed. In the "mixed doubles" Cahin Park had slightly the best of the exchanges, but in the Ladies and Mens doubles the visitors divided the honours. In the Ladies section Miss Josephine McGrath, Miss D. Hinchcliffe, Miss Joan Hickie, and Miss Cecilia Noonan, of Lismore were seen to great advantage. In the gentlemen section Messrs. E. Corrigan, J. W. Browne, J. Barnes, and Jack Browne, (Lismore), played faultlessly. CRICKET. Members of the Lismore Cricket Club will visit Seafeld, Bonmahon on Sunday next 2nd August and fulfil their engagement with Seafeld Cricket Club. The match is timed to start at 3.15 p.m. (S.T.). The Lismore Junior Cricket eleven will engage the Cappoquin Juniors on the Lismore Cricket grounds on Saturday next 1st August. The match starts at 3.15 p.m. (S.T.). The following will represent Lismore Juniors:—Messrs T. O'Connell, (Capt); D. Darragh, T. Hogan, Joe Healy, P. Darragh, C. Healy, M. Ryan, P. Moore, N. O'Connell, M. Fenton, M. O'Farrell, Reserves—Messrs J. O'Donnell and R. Doyle. Counsel to boy aged 11: What were your injuries in the accident?—Boy: Two teeth knocked out. Counsel: How else did you suffer?—Boy: I had to eat bread and milk for three weeks.

Mr. Dunne, Hon. Sec., of the Cappoquin Tennis Club, and Mr. T. Lincoln, N.T., Treasurer, do.; paid special attention to the comfort of the visitors and deserve much credit for the excellence of all the arrangements on the occasion.

NO COURT.

The usual monthly District Court, should have been held here on Thursday, 23rd. July, but owing to the failure of any Justice to put in an appearance, no Court was held. A number of Civic Guards, a couple of defendants, and our correspondent waited about the precincts of the Court-house until 12.45, when Mr. P. O'Keeffe, Clerk of the Court, announced that all the cases listed for hearing would stand adjourned to the August Court. We understand that the calendar for the day was an exceptionally light one, so that no great inconvenience was caused in the circumstances.

BANK HOLIDAY ATTRACTION.

The Annual Bank Holiday Dance will be held under the auspices of the Rowing Club in the Boathouse Hall, on next Monday night, August, 3rd., and as splendid orchestral music is guaranteed, and all the arrangements will be as perfect as they usually are at a Rowing Club dance, a most enjoyable night is assured for all patrons of this popular social event.

CINEMA PERFORMANCE.

An interesting Cinema entertainment was recently given in the Boathouse Hall, by Captain T. O. Jameson, Tourin, in aid of the funds of the newly-established Cricket Club and attracted an unusually large and fashionable audience from the town and the surrounding districts. The event proved a great financial success, and it was followed by a grand dance which was also largely attended and proved quite a "posh" and thoroughly enjoyable affair. The members of the Cricket Club feel deeply grateful to Captain Jameson, for his kindness and generosity on the occasion.

PRICE OF PIGS.

The price of fat pigs at Cappoquin Bacon Factory this week was 50/- per cwt., dead weight, the same as last week. We are glad to be able to state that supplies of pigs to the factory have been showing a decided improvement within the past few weeks, and we hope that a still further improvement will be experienced in the near future.

BACHELORS, GET OUT!

The following letter appeared in the "Independent" this week.—

Sir,—Waterford Co. Board of Health have set a headline for other County Boards to follow. It is about time the bachelors in labourers' cottages made room for married men with families. A lot of them make a nice little income by subletting, but not to a poor man with a family.

What about the women who have had cottages let to them—some whose husbands are in receipt of good pensions (not old age pensions); some in good jobs (not 100 p.c. agricultural jobs), some are even employers (and not good ones either).

Some tenants have left the status of agricultural labourer behind them since the letting of their cottages—good luck to them. Others run boarding houses, tea rooms, garages, shops, dairies, sand and haulage contracting business, etc.

A SENSIBLE LEAD.

Were the Co. Councils to insist on all their tenants being agricultural labourers more than half of the cottages would remain vacant, throwing more expense on the ratepayers. The wages of a 100 p.c. agricultural labourer at present is hardly sufficient to keep body and soul together, and now he is to be penalised if he gets on a bit.

Waterford Co. Board of Health are doing their bit for the housing problem in a sensible way. Will other Co. Boards have the courage to follow suit?

DUBLIN WOOL SALES.

The most notable feature at Messrs. Ganly, Sons and Co.'s Auction of home-grown wools on July 24th was the price obtained for a clip guaranteed free from pitch, far brands or any foreign matter. The various grades of this material realised from 1d. to 1d. per lb., more than lots of similar quality. A good number of buyers were present. Shropes and Downs, washed, made 7 1/2d. and 8 1/2d. per lb.; Cheviot 5 1/2d. to 6 1/2d. per lb.; Crossbred 5 1/2d. to 5 1/2d.; Scotch 5d. to 5 1/2d. per lb., and Greasy 4 1/2d. to 4 1/2d. per lb.

SPINSTER.

"What does a doctor's certificate prove except that he can write?"—Judge at County Court.

THE TIPPERARY CRIME.

His Grace Most Rev. Dr. Harty, Archbishop of Cashel, sent the following letter to Rev. E. Ryan, P.P., Cappawhite.—

"With deep sorrow I sympathise with the people of Cappawhite on the sad occasion of the cowardly murder of John Ryan, and in particular I sympathise with his bereaved parents, brothers, and sisters. Evidently the devil's agents have been active in Cappawhite. They have brutally murdered a human being who was made to the image of God; they have sent a soul before his justice without time for proper preparation for death; in the darkness of the night, beloved of Satan, they have done their accursed deed.

"The prayers of the people will ascend to the Throne of God in supplication for the eternal repose of the soul of John Ryan. Even more than their victim, the murderers need the prayers of the congregation, since they will one day be compelled to face the Judgment Seat of God, from whom they will receive a just condemnation if they have not made due reparation for their terrible crime. Prayers are also needed to drive from the locality the loathsome thing that has sent young Ryan to his early grave.

"I am pleased to learn that the people of Cappawhite detest this horror and feel keenly the stain that has been placed on their parish. They are in full accord with the inspired word of Holy Writ: 'Six things there are which the Lord hateth, and the seventh His soul detesteth: haughty eyes, a lying tongue, hands that shed innocent blood a heart that deviseth wicked plots, feet that are swift to run into mischief, a deceitful witness that uttereth lies, and him that soweth discord among brethren' (Proverbs, VI., 16-19)."

Labourer (at County Court): I did as much as I could, and sometimes not that.

Youghal District Court.

MILK AND LICENSING CASES.

(Before Mr. G. P. Farrell, B.L.)
Sergt. Lupton, charged Mrs. Mary Beausang, Kilmagner, with selling milk deficient 6 per cent. in fat.
Mr. Wm. R. Hodnett, solr., defended.
Complainant having produced certificate of analysis, was cross-examined by Mr. Hodnett—Do you know that taking the milk from the tap in a churn was hardly a fair way to take a sample?—I think that the jolting the milk got on the donkey cart would be sufficient to stir the milk up. The jolting alone would not be sufficient?
The Justice—That might depend on the road to a certain extent and from my experience of some of the roads around it might well be sufficient. (laughter).
Cross-examination continued—The last half mile of the road into Youghal is steam-rolled—did you really tell the Court that would mix the milk sufficiently?—He was supplying customers the same way as he was supplying me. The fair way would be to open the churn and dip something in?—He might bring the cream off then.
The Justice—Your suggestion is that the man sold a sample unfair to himself?
Mr. Hodnett—That point was raised in the Court in some cases.
The defendant gave evidence as to the milking of the cows. The cleaning of the vessels and the putting of the milk into the churn. She gave the milk as she got it from the cow. She could give no explanation of the deficiency, but the old police long ago used stir it up when taking a sample.
Witness was cross-examined by the Sergt. as to the number of cows milked etc.—Did you dry the vessels after washing them with cold water?—No, but I threw it out, sometimes twice. A spoonful or two might remain.
The Justice—What was the date by the way?—About a fortnight ago, it might be more. The date of the offence is June 20th.
Do you ever use the milk from the night before?—No, never.
How do you remove all the water unless you dry it out?—Very easily, I drain it out.
You don't give any explanation of the deficiency?—I don't know—in the old police days—
The Justice—That doesn't appeal to me.
Witness—The old police would not take the sample that way.
The Justice—That sounds extraordinary to me. I am not of your way of thinking. There's too much about theory and not enough about practice.
Martin Neville, having given evidence as to the milking, and Wm. Lynch as to the delivery, both asserting that there was no tampering with the milk.
The Justice asked what about the other solids and the Sergt. replied they were 8.3.
The Justice said the regulation required 8.5.
Mr. Hodnett—The milk solids are practically there.
The Justice—That is the minimum amount. According to the certificate the milk is deficient in 2 respects.
Mr. Hodnett—The whole deficiency is not a very grave one and my defence is that the milk was sold as it came from the cow.
Justice—That is the only defence open in these cases. In view of the regulations which have been drawn up by experts, there is a presumption that there was something taken from, or added to the milk. It occurs to me that those drops of water left in the vessels might account for this.
Mr. Hodnett said the deficiencies might be due to natural causes.
The Justice—How would you show that?
Mr. Hodnett said that defendant's land was near the Lourig river, and the grass was very lush at that time of the year.
The Justice said he was forced to hold that there was a technical offence—there was a small deficiency in the milk. He didn't mean that there had been any deliberate tampering, but he didn't think that that lady had made out a defence in view of the regulations. He thought she was a little bit off handed in the way the churn was prepared.
She was fined 1/- and 16/8 costs.
Agrarian Intimidation.
The adjourned case of the Attorney-General v. Timothy Cronin, Forty Acres, Killeagh, for intimidation in connection with the division of his farm, from which he had been evicted by the Land Commission, was called.
Supt. Dennehy, for the prosecution said he didn't know what they would do with the case. The defendant had been told the previous evening that the case would come on to-day and he said he wouldn't attend the Court.
The Justice—Has anything happened since?
The Supt.—Nothing has happened. The case was further adjourned till October.
Licensing Case.
Richard Power, vintner, North Main St., was charged with a breach of the Licensing Act, and Richard Doyle, labourer, was charged with being on the premises.
Supt. Dennehy, prosecuted; and Mr. Wm. R. Hodnett, solr., defended.
Guard J. Downes, stated that at 10.5 p.m., on Saturday, July, 4th, he knocked at the front door of the premises, telling Guard Mulvihill who was with him to go to the rear. After some delay and a third knock, the licensee opened the door. He said he had been at the back looking after the pigs.

Witness heard a noise at the back and when the door was opened by Mr. Power, he saw Guard Mulvihill questioning Doyle outside. The publican said the man hadn't been on the premises. The Guard said he saw him leaving the premises. Mr. Power got hostile and called him a liar.
The Justice—Whom did he call a liar?—The Guard.
Witness continuing said the publican said to Doyle "sure you weren't on my premises" and Doyle said he came into the yard on business. Witness inspected the bar, but found no signs of drinking. The public house should be closed at 9.30.
Cross-examined by Mr. Hodnett—Witness said the place for the pigs was a long distance to the back and possibly Mr. Power might not have heard the first knocks. There was a large gateway, always open, from the Fair Field into Mr. Power's yard. That was a separate take from from the licensed premises, and it was there Doyle was found. It was quite possible Doyle might have gone in for the purpose he stated.
To the Supt.—There was a door leading into the premises from the yard and it was there he had heard the noise.
The Justice—How could he get in?—At the rear from the Fair Field. And that place was open?—It is always open and how are Power's premises cut off?—They are not cut off at all.
The Supt.—It might happen that unless certain alterations are made, there will be objections to the license in future.
The Justice—That is another day's work.
Guard Mulvihill said he saw the man coming out the door of the store at the rear. Witness went to the door but it was bolted against him. He heard footsteps running from the door inside. Finally when the door was opened Guard Downes and the licensee came out.
The Justice—Where did the door that was bolted against you lead to?—Into the store in the licensed premises.
Witness continuing said Doyle said he went into the place for a private purpose. There was a public lavatory quite near. In reply to the publican Doyle said he wasn't in his premises. Witness said he saw him coming out and Power said "you're a liar."
Cross-examined by Mr. Hodnett—Witness said he first saw Power when he came out with Guard Downes. He was only six weeks in Youghal, but he had been told by the men 6 or 7 years in the town that the store was part of the licensed premises. He went into the store, but not beyond it.
The defendant stated he held the licensed premises under a lease, but the yard was a yearly tenancy. He was engaged preparing the food for the front when he heard the knock at the front and he made no undue delay in answering. When Guard Downes came in he heard a pulling at the back door of the store and on opening it saw the other Guard and Doyle outside. Doyle hadn't been on his premises. He didn't call the Guard a liar, but he said it was a lie to say that Doyle had been on his premises.
Cross-examined by the Supt.—Witness said nobody could open and close the store door as he was the only one on the premises at the time.
Why should the Guard come here and swear that he saw a man come out from the back door?—I cannot suggest any reason, except that on the Wednesday night previously, I put out a tar barrel on the Fair Field in honour of the event in Kildare. And you suggest that the Guard took notice of that?—Possibly he did—I don't know whether he did or not.
He knew Guard Downes and thought a whole lot of him and of the Guards in Youghal.
Richard Doyle, stated he was returning home from visiting his people-in-law in Tallow St., having been married a week before. He went down the Fair Field into the yard and was only just inside when the Guard came along. He wasn't in Mr. Power's premises and got no drink there.
Guard Mulvihill recalled said in reply to the Court that he had no doubt about seeing Doyle coming out of the store; he was only 2 yards away.
After a further protracted hearing.
The Justice said he held that that man was found on the premises. The issue before him was: was the Guard mistaken in stating that he had seen that man coming out of that door and that the door had been closed against him. He had not the slightest doubt that the Guard was not mistaken, for he had checked up his evidence in various ways. The offence was in itself trivial and the penalty would not be recorded.
The publican was fined 20/- and Doyle 1/-.

FORTY-COURSE MEAL FOR HALF-A-CROWN.

"All you can eat for half-a-crown." This is the advertisement displayed outside a Montreal restaurant, and it has just been taken in its most literal sense by a man weighing 18 stone, who entered the restaurant and settled down to a good square meal. Here is the official record of what he consumed:
Four fruit cocktails;
Eight veal cutlets, with potatoes;
Eight iced teas;
Five orders of French fried (chip potatoes);
Five orders of ham and potatoes;
Two orders of roast beef;
Two tomato salads;
Six ice creams.
A total of forty courses.
The proprietor is now considering the advisability of continuing his "all you can eat" offer.

G. A. A. CORK VICTORIOUS.

THRILLING HURLING AT THURLES

In glorious weather and before an assembly of over 30,000 people the semi-final of the Senior Munster Hurling came off at Thurles.
In a game that lacked to a remarkable degree the thrills and shocks of previous championships, Cork had a merited victory over Tipperary (3-5 to 2-3) in the semi-final of the Munster Hurling Championship at Thurles on Sunday.
It was a tough struggle not by any means brilliant, but Cork showed superiority almost from the start.
Tipperary were first to score a goal, but when Cork levelled up and took the lead they were not again in danger, although their backs were hotly tested in the second half hour. The Tipperary forwards were outplayed by a sturdy Cork defence and in other parts of the field, too, Cork held the advantage. Tipperary failed to introduce into their play the fire and dash that have been characteristic of their county, and in many respects disappointed their supporters. They were not, as had been widely claimed for them, an improvement on the side that won the Munster and All-Ireland titles last year.
Cork not then at their best, lived true to the promise shown when they ousted a fancied Clare selection at Thurles last month. They played with confidence all the way and are not flattered in the margin of a goal and two points in their favour at the end.
There was only one change on the team that beat Clare, M. O'Connell (St. Finbarr's, off through injury, being replaced at midfield by P. O'Donoghue (Blackrock).
The older Cork hands, those who had been through all the big games since 1928, again proved their worth, but outstanding amongst the thirty players was D. B. Murphy, who gave a grand exhibition of stylish hurling.
Others prominent in the picture throughout were the Cork captain, E. Coughlan, who helped to win the 1919 Championship, and J. O'Regan. This is not saying that the younger blood found wanting. Hurley, who has been seen to better effect, was ably supported by O'Donoghue, and Clancy, the Mallow representative, on the left wing angle, was an untiring forward.
There were five changes on the Tipperary team as compared with that which defeated Dublin in the All-Ireland final of 1930, the newcomers being Howard, Gleeson, O'Donovan, Heeneey, and Hartly.
Cork, it is safe to say, will take some beating for the Munster and All-Ireland Championships. They play Waterford in the Munster final at Clonmel on August, 16th, and the winners go into the All-Ireland final.
In the Minor Hurling which was a splendid exhibition of the code the half time score was—Tipperary 2 goals 8 points, Cork—1 goal 1 point.
On the turn over Cork put up a great fight and eventually drew level with their opponents.

THE PLAY. OPENING SCORES GOAL TO EACH SIDE.

S.H.—Cork, 3-5; Tipperary, 2-3.
The Tipperary backs were tested early and Cork crossed the line without reward. Tipperary bounded off, and a centre from Heeneey was finished by Kennedy for the opening goal after minutes' play. With Cork pressing Purcell figured well in the Tipperary defence.
From a stubborn duel at midfield, Cork forged forward, and P. Aherne ("Balty"), who received from Clancy, levelled the scoring with a goal. Murphy brought off a timely clearance for Cork, and the Tipperary backs had a busy time. Cork went in from a free by Hurley, and O'Meara (Tipperary), left his goal to save. Tipperary had a fruitless forward move, and in return did not make full use of their chances.
Cork pressed in determined style, and had goals in quick succession from Delea and E. Coughlan, and now led by three goals to one.
The Tipperary citadel was again endangered from a free by Hurley, McKenna and O'Loughlin aided in clearing for Tipperary, but Cork worked back and went over. Hurley (Cork), missed narrowly from a "70," and the Tipperary sticks had another close shave shortly after.
In the play that followed there was a good deal of missing, more noticeably by Tipperary. Cork were having most of the attack, and O'Meara (Tipperary goal) saved from M. Aherne ("Gah"). A free (Purcell) eased for Tipperary, but Cork returned and forced a "70," which was beaten off. With Tipperary attacking, Collins saved for Cork. Hurley sent well away from a free, but Tipperary worked back in vigorous fashion, and J. Coughlan saved in the Cork goal. From a free by Gleeson (Tipperary) the Cork backs saved splendidly. O'Regan and Murphy being particularly prominent.
Tipperary again forced the play, and the Cork backs cleared from a "70" by (Gleeson).
There were stoppages due to injuries nearing the interval, when Cork still led by three goals to one.

POINTS FROM MIDFIELD

E. Coughlan sent over for Cork on resuming, but later scored a point from midfield. Tipperary going forward, spoiled by fouling, and McKenna and O'Meara (goal) had saved for Tipperary before E. Coughlan put on a point for Cork. Hurley (Cork) saved from a Tipperary "70" Gleeson (Cork) pressed in spirited style, and after O'Meara (Tipperary goal) had saved from E. Coughlan Delea got a point for Cork.

The Tipperary backs had a trying time, but the defence prevailed, and when Cahill set the home side moving J. Coughlan (Cork goal) saved at the expense of a "70," from which Gleeson (Tipperary) scored a point.
Cork's lead of 3-3 to 1-1 was increased by O'Donoghue (Cork) who scored a point from midfield.
Cahill from a free gave Tipperary a point, but in a twinkling Cork were again dangerous, and the Tipperary sticks had a narrow escape from a rapping shot by E. Coughlan. A Tipperary onslaught was repulsed, Murphy (Cork) drawing cheers for brilliant saving. Tipperary forwards made no headway against a stout defence. Cronin, (Tipperary) retired injured, and was replaced by Keane.
From a long drive by Howard (Tipperary) O'Connell saved, and O'Regan cleared in sweeping fashion for Cork. Maher (Tipperary) went off injured, and was replaced by P. Harty. Tipperary had hard luck when the ball rebounded off the sticks, and the Cork backs continued to have a busy time. When Cork led away McKenna saved for Tipperary, and shortly after a promising move by the home side was weakly finished.
After E. Coughlan had sent over for Cork, Keane at long range had a point for Tipperary. Cork were now leading by 3-4 to 1-3 and O'Meara was tested in the Tipperary goal. Following up a well-placed drive by Murphy E. Coughlan had a point. O'Meara (Tipperary goal) saved from Clancy. Tipperary fought grimly on and had hard luck when from a long drive by Tracy the ball glanced off the upright. A good "free" from Gleeson (Tipperary) found the Cork defence still sound. Tipperary shooting was faulty, and a succession of Tipperary attacks met with a superb defence. Leahy had the last score, a goal for Tipperary.
Mr. W. Gleeson (Limerick) refereed.

DEATH OF MRS. BOUSHEL. KILMACKTHOMAS.

On July 21st., Mrs. Ellen Boushel, of Millbrook Terrace, Kilmackthomas, breathed her last, after an illness of some weeks duration and at a comparatively early age. She died at her old home at Ballymacaw, Waterford. Deceased, who was widow of the late Mr. John Boushel, was proprietress of an up-to-date Drapery concern in the Main St. Her husband's death a couple of years ago, and the demise of her only son early last year, were exceedingly heavy blows, which she bore with true Christian fortitude and resignation. She was a very popular figure with the people, and was always prepared to exchange a friendly word with those who had the pleasure of knowing her. The general public with whom she came into contact in the course of her business held her in the highest esteem for her unflinching courtesy and kindness at all times. She is survived by three daughters—Mary, Anne, and Alice—with whom, as well as with the other relatives, the deepest sympathy will be extended in their grief. May she rest in peace. The funeral from Ballymacaw to Newtown Parish Church on Wednesday was extremely large. After High Mass a Requiem for her soul on Thursday morning, the interment took place in the adjoining cemetery, a large concourse of mourners and sympathisers assembled at the graveside. Wreaths were laid on the grave by relatives and intimate friends.

WATERFOR CO. INFIRMARY AND SWEEPS.

It may be that the contributions from the sweepstakes can do more harm than good to the County and City Infirmary—that is if the County Council and Corporation withdraw, as they threaten to do, their present annual grants. This serious matter for the institution was discussed at a meeting, when the master, Sir Edward Carraway was in the chair.
The following resolution was adopted:—"That the Committee of Management are willing to invest a large sum of the Infirmary funds in Corporation Security Guaranteed Stock or Mortgage at 5 per cent. for 35 to 40 years, redeemable at par, provided we have power to invest, and subject to the sanction of the Minister for Local Government.
That a deputation be appointed from the Committee to attend the next meeting of the Finance Committee of the Corporation, when the question of the renewal of the 2400 contribution to the Infirmary will be under consideration; the Town Clerk to be asked if the deputation will be received.
A sub-committee was appointed to decide how best to spend £200 offered by an anonymous donor for the improvement of the Children's Ward.

SACRILEGE AND DAMAGE.
SHOCKING OUTRAGE AT KILSHEELAN.

Gambonshied Catholic Church, some five miles from Clonmel, and situated near the village of Kilsheelan, was broken into on Saturday night and sacrilege perpetrated which has shocked the people of the district.
An entrance was effected by breaking the small stained-glass window at the porch of the Church, and the valuable sanctuary lamp was smashed, altar cloth burned, and the Missal torn about the altar. A beautiful monstrance was badly broken, and the chalice, from which the altar wine had been drunk by the perpetrator or perpetrators of the outrage, damaged. Four large statues in the Sanctuary were smashed to bits.
An attempt was made to fire the sacristy with oil used in the sanctuary lamps, but as it was not very inflammable, the attempt was a failure but some damage was done.
Despite the despoliation, Mass could be celebrated in the Church on Sunday morning. The Church was visited by crowds during yesterday, and many women were in tears at what they witnessed. Locally, it is believed to be the work of some lunatic. Deep sympathy is felt and expressed with the pastor, Rev. Father Dowley.
Civic Guards have been very active in pursuing enquiries, but up to the time of wiring no arrest has been made. The outrage is supposed to be the act of a lunatic. It is known to the police that an inmate of one of the South Irish institutions has been at large for some time past. This theory is given colour to by a chance pedestrian who, on passing in the vicinity of the Church about 1 a.m., heard what he describes as an unnatural shout from the direction of the Church. Though Civic Guards were on night patrol up to mid night, and the barracks are only a short distance from the Church, nothing untoward was heard by them during the night.

Youghal Urban Council.

Present Mr. J. R. Smyth, P.C., Chairman; Mrs. S. Hurley, P.C.; Capt. P. Dunne Messrs D. Dennehy, T. Clancy, D. J. Linehan, P. J. McMahon, P.C., T. Beausang, P. J. O'Gorman, P.C., E. P. Lynch, Vice-Chairman; J. Whelan, T. Murphy, N. J. Broderick.

Sand Castles.

A letter was read from "Answers" Office, Dublin, as follows:—During this month and next I am desirous of running sand-castles competitions amongst the purchasers of our children's weekly papers on the sands at Youghal. Giving prizes for the best designs, and asking if the Council would have any objection to that. Those competitions had proved very popular at the other resorts and were a means of entertaining the visitors, interesting the children and popularizing the Strand.

The Clerk said they had a similar letter from the "Daily Mail".

Mr. McMahon suggested that the application of the "Daily Mail" be adjourned to that night week, when he would deal with it and also the "Daily Mail" Water ball. He proposed that "Answers" application be granted.

Mr. Clancy, seconded.

Capt. Dunne, said they ought wait to see where they were.

The Clerk—If an Englishman were to fly over Youghal you would have people objecting.

Mr. McMahon—They would not allow a "Daily Mail" man fly over it at all (laughter).

The application was granted.

The Ballycotton Trip.

Mr. McMahon, referred to the Council's trip to Ballycotton. Only five members joined. The Chairman not being able to attend his place was worthily filled. They had been treated in a right royal manner by Mr. and Mrs. Fawcett of the Sea View Hotel, who did everything possible to make them comfortable. He therefore proposed a vote of thanks to Mr. Fawcett for his kindness and courtesy on the occasion.

This was seconded by Mr. Linehan, and passed unanimously.

Youghal Submarine Hero.

Mr. O'Gorman, referred to the magnificent act of courage performed by their young townsman, Vincent Nagle, son of their esteemed friend Capt. Nagle, in the sinking of the submarine Poseidon, in the Chinese Sea lately. They all admired a brave deed done under any circumstances, but when performed 120 fathoms under the surface of the sea, it would be impossible to find words to do justice to it. He (Mr.

O'Gorman) would have brought the matter before the Council after the loss of the submarine, but he thought it more judicious to await the report of the full particulars. Now that all the facts were known it was their duty as representing the young hero's fellow-townpeople to give due recognition to his brave act performed under such difficult circumstances. Words of public praise were all very well in their way, but he suggested that Vincent Nagle's action in instructing the poor Chinese boy how to save himself in the sunken submarine should receive some practical recognition. Showing the really brave man that he was, in a letter to home, his only comment on the incident was that "it was blooming cold and dark." He therefore, proposed that they appoint a small Committee to consider the best means of giving practical expression to their proud appreciation of his great deed, and a suitable reception on his arrival home in some weeks time.

Mr. Clancy, seconded. It was something fine that Youghal had reason to be proud of, and it would be the most unseemly to allow the occasion pass without proper acknowledgment. It was only what was to be expected from him, for his father had played a noble part when his vessel was lost near home many years ago.

Mr. McMahon expressed thorough agreement with the proposer and second of that proposition. It was a deed of which every Youghal man could be justly proud. Nothing could compare with it. It showed that when brave acts were to be done, Youghal was never behind hand.

Mr. Whelan as a school mate of young Nagle, said they had learned of his fine conduct in such a perilous position and all his fellow-townsmen would heartily support any kind of practical acknowledgment of his deed.

Mr. Linehan, supporting the proposition said Vincent Nagle, was only following in the footsteps of other Youghal men and keeping up the traditions of the place. He understood that their young hero was to be the recipient of the Albert Medal—the Victoria Cross of the Navy. But he wasn't the first Youghal man to receive such an honour. Stoker Lynch, who, some 25 years ago, in the Thrasher disaster, when her boilers burst, dashed through the scalding steam and rescued many of his comrades, also hailed from that locality going back further, Captain Connolly of their town and a relative of their respected Harbour Master, Mr. Carroll, during a storm in mid-Atlantic went to the rescue of a foundering troopship and saved 157 lives for which he received royal recognition and was presented with a gold watch. Coming down to later days, there old friend Coxswain Hannigan, of the Youghal lifeboat received a medal for one of his many brave deeds. All this proved that the old town of theirs produced its share of brave men.

The Vice-Chairman desired to be associated with the proposition. All the world had to acknowledge that it was difficult if not impossible to beat the bravery of Irishmen. Their young townsman furnished another proof of that fact.

Mr. Dennehy said he felt very proud of his adopted home, Youghal which gave birth to such a brave young fellow.

Mrs. Hurley said she was glad to have anchored her ship in the harbour that Vincent Nagle had sailed from.

The Chairman wholeheartedly endorsed everything that had been so deservedly said of their brave young friend. No measure of praise would be too great for him, Capt. Dunne, Mr. Beausang, and others having supported the proposition.

The Town Clerk also begged to join in. After all that had been said, anything he could say would be only painting the lily white.

The proposition was then passed and the following were appointed as a Committee to carry out the wishes of the meeting:—Messrs. O'Gorman, Clancy, the Chairman and the Town Clerk.

Proposed Band Promenades.

Communications were read from the No. 2 Army Band and the Cork Butter Exchange Band in connection with the proposed band Promenades for the Strand and the Chairman and Town Clerk were asked and agreed to make further inquiries regarding details.

Votes of Sympathy.

Mr. Whelan proposed a vote of sympathy with Mr. Dickenson, a former colleague of their, on the death of his wife.

This was seconded by Mr. Broderick and duly passed.

On the proposition of Mr. Beausang, seconded by Mr. McMahon, a similar vote was passed to Mr. M. Foley, Knockinorilla, on the death of his son.

Capt. Dunne, moved a vote of condolence to the relatives of the late Mr. Eugene Callanan, Secretary of the Cork County Council.

This was seconded by Mr. Beausang, and passed.

Thanks.

Mr. Broderick said he decided to take that opportunity of thanking his colleagues personally for their recent congratulations on his reelection to the Chairmanship of the County Council. He might have done so by the usual method of all, but he deemed it more fitting to appear before them and say how pleased he was to receive their good wishes. It was all the more fit-ing that he should take that course because whatever success attended his public administration in bigger spheres was due to the training he had received at that Council, (hear, hear).

Sirand Lavatory.

The Clerk said he regretted to inform them that work on the Ladies Lavatory on the Strand had been held up by the action of the Railway Co. in refusing to allow it be drained into their sewer.

Replying to a Councillor, the Clerk said that method was indicated in the original plans.

After a short discussion the Chairman and Town Clerk were appointed to wait on the Railway Authorities on the matter.

The Town Clerk called attention to the Tourist Act 1931. According to it they could not spend a penny in advertising the place without the sanction of the Ministers of L.G. and Industries and Commerce (laughter).

Mr. McMahon—At the rate they're going the time will come when we'll have to get leave to eat our meals and go to bed. And we are in a Free State morayah (laughter).

Mr. O'Gorman said as one who had never spoken in derogatory terms of the Government, he had to admit that that was about the last straw and he should enter strong protest against such pieces of preposterous legislation. What do Ministers up in Dublin know of their needs in the way of advertising at Youghal?—It meant that if an occasion arose in a Thursday night to advertise an event in the popular "Cork Evening Echo" for the following Sunday, they couldn't do so without first obtaining the sanction of two Government Ministers, which would be impossible in the circumstances. He proposed that they ask for some kind of general sanction to enable them to act in a case of the kind.

Mr. Dennehy, seconded.

Mrs. Hurley—What would happen if we had to advertise?

The Clerk you would be surcharged.

Replying to Mr. Whelan, the Clerk said the Council could strike a rate, but the Ministers would show them how to spend it.

Mr. Lynch—Sure, if you want a sweeping brush, you must go up to Dublin for it.

The Town Clerk—Oh! It isn't so bad as that. You will get one in Cork now (laughter).

The proposition was passed unanimously.

MORE MONEY from Pigs

Here is the experience of a farmer from Dungarvan Co. Cork—*"I feed about 20 pigs and during the last 2 months I have given them a penny worth of Purina's 1 time a week. The result has been a great surprise to me. I have never had a sick pig or a pig that I suspected of having worms during the whole 2 months. That is a kind of good enough—but the best of all is that I have all my pig skins cured. A week earlier than I was able to do before, even though I used other means of pig skins. The quality of a single skin of Purina's 1 is marvellous." *See Purina's 1 for full details. Try a 10 lb. tin today from Chemists and Iron Merchants.

CATHOLIC BOY SCOUTS OF IRELAND.

4th WATERFORD ST. JOSEPH'S ABBEYSIDE.

Thirteen Scouts of the above have returned home after their first experience of Camp life. The Camp site lay in the borders of the Colligan wood on the lands of Mr. Dahill, who allowed them the use of a spacious barn, and to whose family they owe a debt of gratitude for many kindnesses. They also feel very grateful to Mr. J. Daly, Manager of Shandon Dairy who kindly provided means of transit.

The Abbeyside Scouts had the pleasure of being joined in Camp by twelve of their friends of the 2nd Waterford St. Patrick's Troop ("Father Crotty's Own.")

The Camp was visited by the Diocesan Commissioner and the Chairman of 2nd Waterford Troop Committee, both of whom expressed their approval of the general lay out of the Camp. On Thursday the Troop Committee of the 4th Waterford, and many visitors from Abbeyside were entertained by the Scouts, and were greatly pleased with the Camp.

The pleasures experienced by the boys could best be realised by listening to the numerous expressions of regret which came from all sides at the termination of the week.

Man, accused of persistent cruelty to his wife. No, it was not persistent. It was only occasional.

Munster Hurling Finals, 1931.

To ensure that the Waterford Senior Junior and Minor hurlers shall be as fit as possible for their respective engagements in this year's Provincial finals it is the intention of the County Board to bring the players together for a special course of training from 9th to 14th August.

To carry out this programme will entail the setting of a Training Fund.
Waterford though blessed with a bountiful supply of hurling talent, is not in such a healthy financial state, hence the County Board is not in a position to bear the necessary expense essential to the proposed manner of fitting our teams to do battle for the much coveted Munster Crowns.

The Waterford County Board having authorised the starting of a Training Fund would be deeply grateful to patrons of Gaeldom in the City and County if they would kindly forward their subscriptions at as early a date as possible, to any of the undersigned.

Farmers War on Bad Weather.

INVENTION THAT MAY SAVE MILLIONS.

No statistician has ever been able to compute the annual loss to agriculture caused by our variable climate.

That the figure runs into tens of millions of pounds in a cold wet season such as the present one is obvious when all the sources of damage are considered.

Now, however, there is distinct hope that future losses from this cause will be considerably reduced.

It is in harvesting operations that losses are heaviest, and not the least factor is the greatly decreased food value of hay and straw exposed for long periods to rain and sunless weather.

For many years agricultural engineers and scientists have toiled with the idea of the artificial drying of crops, but it is only recently that British brains have brought this dream within the scope of practical farming.

Artificial drying of sugar beet has been tried repeatedly, but has not proved a success in this country owing to certain technical difficulties in extracting the sugar from the dried beet "chips." In France and Russia however, progress has been made by experts working on a British invention, and the largest drying installation in existence is now dealing with 400 tons of material per day.

It is for hay and threshed corn that the artificial drying principle appears to have the most promising future in the British Isles.

It has been proved beyond all doubt that hay has a high feeding value when cut and harvested young and fresh. It can replace to a great extent the expensive concentrated foods which the dairy farmer finds it necessary to provide in order to keep up his milk supply through the winter.

I recently witnessed a most impressive hay-drying demonstration. Meadow grass carted straight from the field and containing probably upwards of 70 per cent. of moisture was dried on a simple conveyor belt over a hot air duct fed from a coke furnace at the rate of nearly a ton per hour.

The hay was as good as one could wish to see—sweet and green, yet dry enough to be clear of all risk of fermentation.

Close inquiries into the economies of artificial drying show that a stationary drying plant can be erected for £350. The power needed for driving the fans can be provided by the ordinary farm tractor. Coke, the fuel used for the furnace is a small item, and the costs, all factors included, need not exceed 4s. per hour.

The plant is foolproof, and an unskilled workman can easily control the simple valves and dampers to deal with crops of varying moisture content.

Grass may be carted to the drier directly after it is cut, though it is more economical to allow a proportion of the moisture to evaporate first by withering.

In less than three weeks, working a ten-hour day, one stationary plant can easily cope with 200 tons of hay, which is an average year's crop on a 500-acre farm. The portable plant would be able to get through about 150 tons in the same period.

The artificial drier, combined with the hay sweep, the light tractor, and the combine harvester may well revolutionise the harvest field within the next decade and may assist the British farmer to defy his traditional foe
—the erratic climate of the British Isles of which he has had such bitter and costly experience this year.

TEDDY BROWN'S 70 INCH
WAIST.

DISPUTED COST OF DRESS
SUIT.

Mr. Teddy Brown, the dance band conductor and xylophonist, was sued at Westminster County Court by Mr.
Joseph Swerk, a tailor, of Manchester,
for £28 5s. for a dress suit.

Delivery had been offered but not accepted. Mr. Brown's defence was that the charge was excessive, even considering his outside.

Mr. C. Gallop (for Mr. Brown): How much material does the average man require for a suit?

Mr. Swerk: Three and a quarter yards. He had a 70in. waist.

It is justifiable to make any addition, would not three or four guineas have been ample?—Impossible.

Mr. Brown, who could just squeeze into the witness-box, said that the only reason he did not pay for the suit was because he thought the charge too much.

A West End tailor said that he charged Mr. Brown £16 16s. for dinner jacket, while waistcoat, and trousers—£1 1s. more than the usual charge because of his size.

Judge Sir Alfred Tobin: Mr. Teddy Brown, knowing his size has been very foolish in not asking the price, and the tailor would have been wiser if he had said he would charge so much more than usual.

Judgment was given for Mr. Swerk for £21 and costs.

(Editor "Dungarvan Observer.")
Sir,—Those old enough, will remember the days when "Labby" in "Truth" was a fearless and trenchant exposé of frauds, shams, and "Jobs." Mindful of those days, I recently sent to "Truth" the whole correspondence concerning the lifeboat "Freemasonry Job" here.
(Of which a summary appeared recently in the Press.)

In more than one letter of the correspondence I charged the lifeboat authorities with failure to make any serious attempt to deal with what was an obvious and gross "job."

Yet, from the article which appeared in last week's "Truth" (see below) the reader will see the "turn" the editor gives the matter, and tries to put the blame on the Youghal Urban Council—the Freemasonry aspect, which my letters made so clear, is not hinted at.

There is not a single word or passage in the whole correspondence to suggest or support this "turn." On the contrary, the correspondence sent to the editor contained the following decision of the Council when they debated the correspondence:—"The Council, while agreeing there were good grounds for Col. Ronayne's charges, decided they could do nothing in the matter." In view of this, the boot is on the other foot, and it is for the editor to explain why he gave his paragraph this turn, and made no mention of a "Freemasonry job."

I will take this opportunity to say the Council could and should have passed a resolution. I have received many congratulations on my "pluck" in tackling the matter. "Pluck" forsooth! I hope the citizens of Youghal will have the "pluck" to call a public meeting and pass a resolution of want of confidence in the Head Quarter life-boat officials and in the local Honorary officials. Yours truly,

"Manning the Youghal Lifeboat."

It is self-evident that in choosing the crew of a lifeboat the places should go to the best men available, and any suspicion that this has not been done is to say the least, regrettable. Recently the post of mechanic to the motor-life-boat at Youghal, Ireland, was vacant and there were two candidates for the job. One was a man of 42 named Marrigan, a pensioned leading stoker of the Royal Navy, in which he served for 22 years. His official qualifications include:—"As mechanic—good." "In charge of motor-boats—superior." The other candidate, whose name is Hayes, is older than Marrigan, and was formerly a house-painter. According to my information his technical qualifications are far below Marrigan's. Yet he was given the job; presumably on the recommendation of the Youghal Urban Council. It would be interesting to have the Council's reason for this preference.

SACRILEGE AT KILSHEELAN.

ACCUSED MAN CHARGED AND REMANDED.

On Tuesday Civic Guards arrested a young labourer named John Hogan, who is a native of Deerpark, Carrickon-Suir, in connection with the Sacrilege perpetrated at Gambonsfield Parish Church, Kilsheelan, and on the same evening he was brought before Mr. Troy, D.J., at Clonmel, and charged with that at Gambonsfield, on the 26th July, defendant did unlawfully and feloniously break and enter the Catholic Church, with intent to commit a felony, and there and then unlawfully, feloniously and sacrilegiously broke and destroyed four statues, a gold monstrance and a sanctuary lamp all value £400, the property of Rev.
Father Dowley, P.P.

Supl. Fitzgerald, who prosecuted, made a deposition, in which he stated his inquiries into the case had not yet been completed, and he asked for a remand in custody to the Borough
Court on the 10th August.

The accused, who was not professionally represented, did not ask the Superintendent any question, and was remaned in custody to the Borough
Court on the 10th August.

LOCAL HAPPENINGS.

GALLANT RESCUE FROM DROWNING, HEROIC FEAT OF GUARD SWEENEY.

The greatest feat of life-saving ever witnessed in Dungarvan took place on Sunday last, when Guard Patrick Sweeney, of the local Garda Force alone and unaided rescued from drowning a man who had got into the water at the lower end of the quay near the Barracks and who at the time of the rescue was being carried away by a swift flowing ebb tide. The story of the rescue is a thrilling one. On Sunday last, about 3.30 p.m., Guard Sweeney, was playing handball in the barrack court. He had his tunic off and was wearing canvas shoes. Suddenly 3 or 4 young lads ran in the back gate from the harbour side shouting that there was a man in the water. Immediately Guard Sweeney ran to the scene with all speed, divesting himself of his clothes as he went. Arriving at where the schooner "Parton" is moored on the quay the plucky Guard heard people shouting "there he is out there." Running directly to the corner indicated and being by this time undressed Guard Sweeney jumped in. At this time the man was nearly under the water and was out in the centre where the flow of the water was fastest. Powerful swimmer and courageous man that he is Guard Sweeney swam to him and turned the man over on his back. Then after some clever work the Guard got on the outside of the drowning man and gradually shoved him towards the quay wall. Then getting his arm round the man he swam with him to the steps on the quay and so to terra firma. We may mention that one of the lifebuoys on the quay was thrown to the Guard, but the rope broke and a second one was then procured, but was not used. The unfortunate man who was in an exhausted condition was given artificial respiration by Sergt O'Shea and Guard Sweeney, while Dr. Casey and Fr. Donegan, were also summoned and immediately arrived. The brilliant rescue work of Guard Sweeney, on the occasion won the admiration of everybody. Alone and unaided he performed a feat of bravery under the most difficult and dangerous circumstances that was an epic in dramatic tenseness. The utility of such an officer in a seaside resort like this is enormous and we hope his public services on Sunday last will win him the highest honours his Authorities can bestow—honours in accord with his prowess as a swimmer of unlimited courage, and in keeping with the public appreciation of the brave act which we have above recorded.

WELL DONE DOCTOR.

Heartiest congratulations to our popular, worthy and capable Medical Practitioner, Dr. D. T. McCarthy, on his prowess as a golfer. During the past few weeks competitions for the President's Cup took place over the Clonea Links. On Wednesday evening last the final was played off before a large audience. This was one of the most thrilling games ever played, the Doctor winning the Cup by 2 to 1. To appreciate the excellence of his Golf it need only be stated that the runner up had 5 "Birdies."

CYCLING ACCIDENT.

While cycling on Sunday last, in the neighbourhood of Clonea, Mr. J. McGrath, Victualler, Dungarvan, got a fall from his cycle receiving injuries to his head for which he was treated at the District Hospital. He is fit and well again.

SEA TRIPS BY MOTOR BOAT.

A Motor Boat will leave the Quayside on Sunday morning at 11 a.m., for a trip round the harbour lasting about two hours. Return Fare 1/6. The boat will make another trip on Sunday evening at 7 p.m., visiting Helvick Head, where passengers may go ashore for half-an-hour. Return Fare 1/6.

EXPLANATION WANTED.

Mr. J. T. McCann, who for the past 3 years had acted as Potato Inspector, for the County Waterford, has had his appointment terminated by the Department of Agriculture. During his time in this County, Mr. McCann has done an enormous amount of good work in developing the Potato industry and not only in developing it, but in marketing the crop. It was through his energy and capacity that almost 500 tons of potatoes were shipped across channel this Spring at a remunerative price. Never before was there such a shipment. That his work for the farmers was appreciated to its full is shown by the unanimous demand of the Co. Committee of Agriculture, for a full investigation by the Department into all the circumstances associated with his removal from office. After all when an official has the unstinted backing of all amongst whom he lived and worked for 3 years and who must ipso facto be in a position to have first hand knowledge of his efficiency and capacity the public whom he served are entitled to know why his services are dispensed with. Perhaps the Department will give a fuller explanation to ease the public mind.

GERMAN FINANCES AND OTHERS.

The Financial experts say that Germany is not able to meet her debts and will go default at an early date. Already several banks out there have closed their doors and the public who had invested their money in them are in a bad way.

All the Markets at home and on the Continent are in a state of collapse due to shortage of money and the cry is everywhere: "We have no money." We never had any bother until somebody invented money and in the scramble to get it every country lost its balance. Now France has £400,000,000 in solid gold and the French don't know what to do with it. When we, in this little island, had no money but barter we were happy. Now we have not it but the rate collector and tax gatherer say we have. That is the awkward point to be charged with having what you have not, but what you ought to have. A few years ago we got our own currency, but somehow did not improve the situation. In Chicago a few Gangsters have gathered up all the loose money about, but if you ask them for some they will possibly "bump you off," so you need not talk again. To restore peace in the world money must be abolished and all hands start once more at a scratch mark.

MOLONEY'S GREAT SALE.

Is going strong. Further new lines in Enamel and Aluminium ware; wall paper and Bicycles have just arrived and will be offered at unheard of prices. Moloney's Stores, Dungarvan.

ROBBERY AT MONATREA. CLEVER CAPTURE.

On last Sunday morning, while Mr. Wm. Connolly, Monatrea, and his family were at Mass, his house was burglariously entered and £12 stolen therefrom. The matter was at once reported to the Guards who, made full investigations. On Monday morning Sergt. Mangan, Ardmore, Sergt. O'Shea Clashmore, Sergt. Dwyer, Cappagh, and Guard Scanlan, arrested James Flynn, aged 20, labourer, Monatrea on the charge of housebreaking and larceny, and had him brought before a P.C. Flynn admitted the offence and disclosed where the money was. He had spent some 7/6. The money was duly recovered. Flynn was remanded in custody to Waterford jail, to the next Youghal Court.

WATERFORD GARDA SPORTS.

At Waterford, on Sunday next, Aug. 2nd, the Garda Divisional Sports will be held. All the leading Athletes of the County will be present, including Dr. O'Callaghan, and his brother Con O'Callaghan, Shanahan, Birmingham, Angham Smith, of O'Callaghan's Mills; Donnelly Bros., etc. In all over 250 entries have been received so that the day should be a record one. The arrangements in the hands of the capable Committee are perfect and all patrons can rest assured of an ideal day's sport under the happiest condition. The No. 1 Army Band will be present.

MOTOR ACCIDENT IN DUNGARVAN.

On Sunday evening, Mr. Declan Mulcahy, Mitchel St., received injuries to the head and body through collision with a motor car, belonging to Mr. Fenton, Aghlish. Mr. Mulcahy, was removed to the District Hospital where his injuries were attended to. He is quite convalescent again.

PRETTY WEDDING AT LISMORE.

On July 15th, at the Cathedral, Lismore, the wedding took place of Mr. John Ormonde, son of Mrs. Ormonde, West Street, Lismore, and of the late Mr. John Ormonde, and Miss H. M. Hickey, daughter of Mrs. Hickey, Cahirbarana, Rathmore.

The Ceremony was performed by the Rev. J. Walsh, C.C. (with Nuptial Mass and Papal Blessing). Mr. P. Ormonde, Rosslare, was best man and Miss B. Hassett, Rathmore, was bridesmaid. The bridegroom is an all-round sportsman and hurler, while his bride is a most charming and popular lady.

In Gay Madrid

The Sensational All-Talking, All-Singing Musical romance of Old Spain with Ramon Novarro in the leading role, and a male chorus of fifty trained singers, Novarro as a dashing, golden-voiced caballero, gallant and gay and the despair of his proud family, who, because of his wild escapades in Madrid with a Spanish dancer, send him to the university at Santiago, where he promptly falls in love with the beautiful Carmina. They are about to announce their engagement, when the jealous dancer arrives from Madrid and complicates matters for the light-hearted Ricardo. How he is challenged to a duel with pistols, is shot, and dangerously wounded but recovers, to find happiness with Carmina, makes a fitting climax to a most appealing story. Ramon Novarro's finest picture, made doubly attractive by his glorious voice. Hear him sing "Dark Night," "Let me give you love," and "Into my heart," accompanied by a crooning guitar. Hear the rollicking drinking songs in the gay student scenes "Santiago," "Wine, Women and Song," and "Smile Comrades," sung by the chorus of fifty voices and led by Novarro. See the colourful fiesta dancing, including the traditional Spanish Tango, executed by dancers in gorgeous Spanish costume, to the music of a mandoline orchestra. Dashing Romance! Moonlight Serenades. A Duel at Daybreak! Haunting Spanish melodies by the finest male chorus ever assembled and plenty of light comedy touches, all contribute to a most appealing picture. Let Us Be Gay.

The scintillating comedy-drama from the famous stage play, and starring Norma Shearer, Marie Dressler and Rod la Rocque. Norma Shearer plays the part (made famous on the stage by Tullulah Bandhead), of the dowdy young wife who is so absorbed in her household duties that she neglects her husband, and discovers eventually, that he is leading a very gay life away from home. She leaves him, and after spending a few years in Paris returns in the company of a wealthy Society woman (played by Marie Dressler) and creates a sensation in London by her beauty, and wild envy amongst the Society women, with her beautiful Paris gowns. How her husband falls madly in love with her, but has to compete for her favour with all the eligible bachelors in Society before winning her forgiveness, makes for many diverting and piquant situations. Marie Dressler is a riot of laughter throughout the picture, as the domineering old Society leader. Norma Shearer's acting is a sheer delight while Rod la Rocque's portrayal of the exasperated husband is the finest performance of his career. Laughs! Romance! Delightful Comedy amidst the most luxurious settings and acting of the highest order by a team of all-star artists.

D. POWER & CO., GARAGE, DUNGARVAN.

Waterford County Committee of Agriculture.

DEPARTURE OF MR. McCANN POTATO INSPECTOR.

COMMITTEE DEPLORE HIS LOSS AND ASK FOR IMPARTIAL INVESTIGATION.

Mr. Thomas Flynn, Vice-Chairman, presided at the July meeting of the County Committee of Agriculture. There were also present—Messrs. Jas. Daly, P. Fitzgerald, John Greene, T. Harty, and P. Morrissey.

In connection with the resolution of the Committee passed at the last meeting re the termination of the service of Mr. McCann, as Potato Inspector for Co. Waterford, the Secretary Department of Agriculture wrote stating that Mr. McCann's appointment which was temporary had been terminated, because it was found that the work in his charge viz: the extension and development of potato growing in Co. Waterford was not making satisfactory progress. The decision to terminate his employment cannot be altered and the Department have under consideration the appointment of a Potato Inspector for the Co. Waterford.

Chairman—There would be sense in it if that had been pointed out before but when they appoint another man it is different.

Mr. Greene—The way I feel on that position is we know the man we have, Chairman—but he is gone.

Mr. Greene—Mr. McCann was very attentive to his business. We don't know the man who is coming and whether he is good or bad.

Mr. Daly—How long was Mr. McCann on the job?

Secretary—3 years. At the last meeting you passed a resolution on the matter which was sent at once to the Department.

Mr. Daly—The uneconomic holders in Ballinacourty are very numerous, and the crop they rely most upon is the early potato. The success of the crop and its successful marketing is due to Mr. McCann. He would be a great loss to these people. For energy and application I never came across any man so active. He was working late and early and always took a deeper interest in his work than any man I ever ran across. I cannot understand why there should be any grievance in his case. It is possible there may be something at the back of the termination of his employment and I think the Committee should make further inquiries to ascertain the real reason for such drastic action against a man who was so able and so efficient.

The Chairman asked what action would they take under the circumstances.

Mr. Daly—Every one in the Ballinacourty area praise him and it is a rare thing to find a public official praised. Everyone knows that the King Edward Variety of potatoes would not be grown without a compulsory scheme, but here was a man who did not press a variety on farmers that did not suit them!

Mr. Greene—He was doing his best to send the late varieties to England.

Mr. Daly—He was a 60 Horse Power man so far as energy was concerned.

Mr. Daly—Without the assistance of the Inspector, the people could not get the prices they did for their potatoes, and that is a very important matter.

Mr. Greene—And the export trade was developed in a way we could not realise.

Mr. Daly—For the past 50 years you had not as bad a period of depression in the potato market as in the last few years and Mr. McCann could not be blamed for that.

Mr. Greene—Any man they will send down to us will be working in the dark for two years.

Mr. Daly—Any successor of his will be looked upon with suspicion after a good man was turned down.

It was explained at this stage that 300 tons of main crop potatoes were exported from the quay at Dungarvan last year. They fetched a good price and Mr. McCann was responsible for that. It was Mr. McCann got the market for them. A farmer in the eastern end of the County said his potatoes would have rotted had no market for them been found.

A member said a big farmer in the West of the County approached him recently and asked him if Mr. McCann was leaving the County. Being informed that he was he said that though of long experience he never knew how to grow potatoes until this year under Mr. McCann's guidance. The only charge he could find against Mr. McCann was that he did his duty at all times.

Mr. Daly—He showed them in Ballinacourty how potatoes could be marketed with success.

The following resolution proposed by Mr. Daly, and seconded by Mr. Fitzgerald, was passed unanimously:

"That this Committee are of the opinion that a further and impartial investigation should be made into the circumstances which led to the termination of Mr. McCann's appointment as Potato Inspector and that a deputation from the Committee should be accorded the opportunity of putting forward their views. Further that this Committee have had absolute confidence in the efficiency and capacity of Mr. McCann and in that they have the unanimous support of the potato growers and farmers of the County.

Copy of this resolution to be sent to the Department of Agriculture and the Minister of Agriculture.

Application For Rams.
Application for Premium Border Leicester Rams were received from Mr. M. Ronayne, Coolcormack and Mr.

Ardmore "Pattern."

Although many of our good old customs of the past are gradually falling into undeserved desuetude, it is a pleasure to see that our people still cling with consistency to the observance of our "pattern." Our "pattern" days in various parts of the country, and the principal event of that kind in our neighbourhood is that at Ardmore which perpetuates the holy memory of St. Declan, Bishop of the ancient diocese. With the falling off in the population and other causes the proportions attained by the function is much less than those of bygone days. Nevertheless, the numbers of devout worshippers arriving at the local sacred shrines on the Sunday before the Saints Feast Day were great. The day itself, July 24th, and the Sunday after, is a sufficiently striking proof of the hold his memory still has on the people.

For several years past the Ardmore pattern was marred by bad weather, and the regular feast day this year—last Friday—was worse than wet, it was fan, fur, fiuc. The Sunday before, was a bit showery, but last Sunday, although threatening in the forenoon, turned out to be beautifully fine. The result was that as the afternoon drew on the whole sea front from the village, in past "St. Declan's Stone" and the Pier, and thence on to "Tobar Deuglan" was the scene of a cross-current of devout visitors going to and fro, doing their rounds at the Holy Well in their journey. The native tongue in various stages of development, could be heard on all sides—among the young students of the local Irish College Colaiste-Deuglan, and the older inhabitants and incomers from the surrounding Gaeltacht. A big contingent of the sleight-of-hand fraternity fore-gathered at the junction of the Main St., and the sea-front and made a lively scene in their stentorian appeals to the passers-by to take a hand in their varied assortment of games and tricks.

In the afternoon a comical "rag" procession, organised by students and teachers of the College, marched from the grounds down the principal thoroughfare. Some of the participants well-known Irish political leaders and foreign celebrities—Gandhi, Al Capone, etc. One carried the model of a lifeboat, to be duly christened and launched on the beach. This and other humorous interludes provided much fun for the numerous visitors.

Later on two Irish plays—"Cor in aghaidh an Chaim" and "Miseach" were staged and the night was rounded off by a dance in St. Declan's Hall, in the village.

Cricket Club for Cappoquin.

After a lapse of 30 years Cricket has been revived in Cappoquin, and within the past month a strong Cricket Club has been formed through the efforts of Captain Jameson, Tourin, Mr. J. Sargent, Cappoquin, Mr. J. J. Smith, do.; and a few other local enthusiasts.

Over 30 years ago Cappoquin had a very strong Cricket Club which was able to defeat several prominent Clubs of the day, including Dungarvan and Sunday's Well, Cork, but owing to emigration and other causes the membership roll became sadly depleted and the Club went the way of many similar Clubs by gradually fading out of existence altogether.

Early this season, the popular sport was considered by the above-named gentlemen and a couple of the surviving members of the old Club, but owing to the wretched weather conditions prevailing during the months of May and June nothing practical could be done in this respect.

The first real step towards starting a Club was taken on July 1st, when Captain Jameson, who is a Cricketer of international fame, invited Mr. M. J. Sargent, Mr. J. J. Smith, and a few local enthusiasts to visit Tourin on that evening, where an important cricket pitch had been prepared on the Tennis Courts.

The invitation was gladly accepted, and about 7 or 8 young men from the town went out where they were quickly initiated into the rules of the game by Capt. Jameson, and thus was laid the foundation of the new Cricket Club in Cappoquin.

The Club was formally organised soon afterwards with Captain Jameson as Captain, Mr. M. J. Sargent as Vice-Captain, and Mr. J. J. Smith as Treasurer and Hon. Secretary, while an efficient committee was also formed, and the membership roll has already assumed large proportions.

Mr. Villiers-Stuart, Dromana, a most experienced player and brilliant wicket-keeper, Mr. R. L. Keane, Fortwilliam, and many other gentlemen, have since joined the Club, and the large number of members who regularly attend practice every evening is most encouraging. Capt. Jameson brought a team to play the old-established Cahir Club on their own grounds and without any training, and practically no experience, the "recruits" on the Cappoquin team gave a very creditable account of themselves, and Cappoquin were all out in their first innings for 15 runs.

Cahir scored 122 in their first innings and Cappoquin going in for the second innings, responded with the score of 120 runs, the chief contributors to this total being C. Mansfield, 35; Ion Villiers-Stuart, 32; J. J. Smith, 24; and Capt. Jameson, 20.

The combined scores of Cappoquin being only 135, Cahir had only to add 14 runs to their 122 to win the game, and scoring the necessary runs for the loss of one wicket, they were declared winners by 9 wickets.

The visitors were suitably entertained by the Cahir team.

On July 11th, Cahir travelled to Cappoquin to play a return match on the latter ground, and going in first to bat, Cahir declared their first innings closed for 85 runs. Cappoquin then scored 69 runs for five wickets, the time limit having been then reached, so that the match was declared a draw. Capt. Jameson was "not out" for 34 in this innings.

On Saturday July, 18th Lismore team visited Cappoquin for a friendly match on the latter ground, but in this case the homesters proved far too good for their experienced opponents and won by a good margin, the final scores being—Cappoquin, 107 runs. Lismore 58. Capt. Jameson was "not out" for 83, while the wicket-keeping of Mr. Stuart, and the accurate bowling of Capt. Jameson and Messrs. Smith and Lacey, were also main factors in the defeat of the visitors. The details are as follows:—

Cappoquin, First Innings—Capt. T. O. Jameson not out, 83; P. Mullane, b. Heelan, 1; C. Mansfield, b. Whelan, 6; Ion Villiers-Stuart b. Aherne, 4; J. J. Smith c. Crowley b. Aherne, 5; J. Lacey c. Heelan b. Whelan, 0; J. McCarthy b. Whelan, 0; M. J. Sargent b. Aherne, 3; T. D. Dunne, b. Aherne 3; J. Matthews b. Heelan, 1; R. L. Keane b. Heelan, 0. Extras 1. Total 107.

Lismore, First Innings.—

J. C. Heelan c. Keane b. Jameson 5; W. Power c. Lacey b. Jameson 0; G. Whelan b. Lacey, 10; J. Collins c. Lacey b. Jameson, 2; W. Aherne b. Jameson, 13; E. C. Penrose b. Jameson 1; D. McCarthy not out 21; J. Feeney c. Lacey b. Jameson, 0; N. Crowley "hit wicket" 3; J. Barnes b. Smith, 0; J. McCarthy c. Stuart b. Lacey, 2. Extras 1. Total 58.

At the conclusion of the game the members of the Lismore team were hospitably entertained to tea in the adjoining Pavilion by the Cappoquin Club, and arrangements made for a return match in Lismore on an early date.

On Saturday, August 8th Cappoquin Club will be "At Home" to a Waterford team when "Hearne's XI" will visit Cappoquin for a friendly match the Cappoquin Club travelling to Waterford for return match on a later date.

When a monumental mason was giving evidence the County Court Judge said: "Dear me, what a lot it costs to get out of this world. More than it costs to come into it."

Tallow District Court.

(Before Mr. G. P. Farrell, B.L.) PECULIAR PETTY LARCENIES. Hannah and Margaret Nicholson, Newport, were charged with assaulting a boy named Patk. Crotty, Crossary, who had declined to prosecute. Inspector Hart, Lismore, prosecuting said the assault arose out of a larceny also before the Court. Patrick Crotty being charged with stealing and Ellen Connolly, Old Strancally, with the receiving of the articles of clothing, the property of the boys mother. The larceny occurred on June 3rd. The matter was reported to the Guards on the 10th and on the night of the 23rd, the two Nicholson's attacked Crotty, Hannah striking him with a big stick. Patrick Crotty, aged 18, stated he was returning home on the night in question with Michael Dudley, when two girls came up to them. Hannah accused him of something, used bad language and called him a robber. She then struck him three times on the head and neck with a stick about 1 1/2 inches thick stunning him. The stick got broken. Dudley came between them. She said she would meet him again and do away with him. He was afraid of her. He declined to prosecute.

Michael Dudley, corroborated. Hannah Nicholson, stated that at 10 o'clock on the night in question she was going home with her sister, when Crotty and Dudley called her across the road and attacked her tearing all her blouse. "Every bit of me was tore." She gave Crotty a "little kip" with a kippen on the shoulder. She was after coming from the house of Ellen Crotty, who was her aunt. The Justice—She is charged with receiving some things supposed to be stolen by this boy, belonging to his mother—is that so?—I think so. The Justice—A very complicated arrangement. Witness continuing, said they were out to watch her and it was not their first time attacking her. The Justice—What happened before? They were going on blackguarding and pulling me about, but I took no notice. The Justice—Who was with you?—My sister, but she ran away with the fright.

How did this thing finish up?—After giving him the tip with the 'kippen' they left me go. She went back to her Aunt and told her all about it. Cross-examined—Is not the whole case because Crotty told the Guards that he had the stuff delivered to your aunt?—No. Was not your sister caught in Connolly's house when the Guards searched it, and she ran away with the stuff because of the case?—The whole case was there was some meat stolen from another place. I told the Guards about the attack. The case of stealing and receiving against Crotty and Ellen Connolly were then taken up. The Inspector said that the son was charged with stealing two knickers, an overall and a night dress from his mother and selling them to Mrs. Connolly. They were value for about 2l. Mrs. Margaret Crotty, said she missed the things on June 3rd. She reported the matter to the Guards. Guard McGinn, Killenagh, said on receiving a complaint he got a search warrant and proceeded to Mrs. Connolly's. She said she didn't know anything about the things. Three articles were found under a mattress in her bedroom and she was actually wearing the remaining one. Patrick Crotty made a statement admitting taking the articles from his mother's and selling them to Mrs. Connolly for 4d. The Justice said there was quite a clear case against both defendants. What was Crotty's answer to the charge? Crotty—I hadn't any cigarettes one day and I took those four articles and brought them over to Connolly's and she paid me for them. Mrs. Connolly said Crotty said he got the clothes at Murphy's and she gave him 1/4 for them. The Justice—Better be sworn. Defendant sworn, said Crotty came to her place one morning with the clothes, saying he was short of money for fags. She asked him did they belong to his mother and he said no. She took compassion on him and gave him 1/4. She bought boots before for 1/6 and he came back the next morning and took them back from her. She denied having the things because she was partly ashamed.

The Justice—After doing you out of 1/6 over the boots, why did you deal with him anymore?—I took compassion on the little boy. The Justice—If you go on with that form of compassion it will be bad for you and for him—he is inclined to steal things. To put it mildly, it is very "fishy" buying things from a lad like this, particularly after the boots transactions. You are mentioned as witness in the assault case—What about it?—I don't know anything about it, but she came in all torn. I didn't go outside my door, because I don't want to interfere. Why not?—Were you afraid?—I wasn't afraid, but I didn't want to interfere. Replying to the Court, the Inspector said he believed the whole trouble was caused by this woman sending out her niece to assault Crotty. She was under a rule of bail herself and the time was up. She wanted to get her own back over the stolen stuff. Dudley and Crotty recalled, denied that they attacked Hannah Nicholson in any way. The Justice—This seems very petty, but it is very complicated and might have been very serious for somebody.

To the Court, Crotty said he got only 4d. from Mrs. Connolly for the things. He never said her boots or anything before, but she was always coaxing him to bring her things, but he didn't. The Justice warned Crotty that if he carried on petty pilfering he would ultimately find himself in jail. He would let him out that time under the P.O.A. He agreed with the suggestion made by the Guards. Probably they knew things they couldn't put in evidence, the most blameworthy person in the proceedings was Ellen Connolly. She was responsible for the youth stealing the things, and her own story gave her away. Mrs. Connolly asked to have the case adjourned. She wanted to get someone to help her out. She was put down wrongfully. The Justice—What is the good of talking rubbish?—You wanted the case adjourned because you are afraid of going to jail. You are going to get a chance this time. The Justice held that the assault was proved, but would deal with her also under the P.O.A. The only person he would hold under a rule of bail was Mrs. Connolly, who should give surety in 25.

James O'Connell, Kilbeg, Tallow, farmer, was charged with the larceny of the handle of a hay rake, value 6s., the property of Patk. Murphy, a neighbour. Inspector Hart, prosecuted. The Inspector said that the defendant came to Tallow and bought a rake handle. The morning after he went to his neighbours place took the handle off his rake and fitted it to one of his own. His story was that he meant to return it, but very strangely he tarred both his own and Murphy's. The latter was originally slate coloured. Patk. Murphy, Kilmore, gave evidence of missing his handle and identified the one produced as his, although it had been tarred. O'Connell, and he were always friends. He had nothing against him whatever happened to him to take the handle. Guard S. O'Leary, Tallow, said that when he visited O'Connell's, he at first denied having it. When witness told him he would make a search, he sent his daughter for it. It was found in a "copse" two fields away, hidden in the briars. Replying to the Court, defendant pleaded guilty. He had only one handle and he wanted another, as he had two fields of hay to cut. He meant to send it back again when he was done. The Inspector said there was nothing against the defendant. He had a farm of over 200 acres, was well-off and it was extraordinary that he should go and take a poor neighbours handle. The Justice said he hardly knew what to do with a case like that. In the ordinary course jail was the only proper punishment for stealing. This was the second case that day. In the previous case the people were poor but here was a well-off farmer as defendant. He didn't intend to face with cases of that kind Court after Court at Tallow and then let the offenders off automatically because it was their first offence. In that case he would put on a penalty, though he wouldn't send the defendant to jail. He would be bound in the sum of £5 under the P.O.A., and pay 20/- costs of the prosecution, the handle to be returned to Murphy. Albert Muller, a German, a travelling mechanic, was charged with the larceny of sewing machine requisities—a bobbin and shuttle, value 5s., the property of M. A. Rooney, Tallow. Inspector Hart, who prosecuted said that the defendant had been remanded in his own recognizances by the Peace Commissioner to the Court, but didn't appear. He was notified by the Sgt. at Villierstown on the previous day to attend. The Justice asked the Inspector to mention the case at the next Cappoquin Court. Mr. Thomas Drohan, Inspector of Fisheries, Mallow, charged Patrick O'Brien, Ballinvilla, Lismore, and Ml. Baldwin, Moorehill, Tallow, with using a snap net on the river Bride. The same complainant charged Denis and Michael Hannigan, Bridane, with a like offence. Owing to the absence of the solrs., engaged, the cases were adjourned to the September Court.

THE STORY OF A BARREL OF BARLEY. The Irish Grain Growers' Association issued the following recently—A barrel of barley makes a barrel of malt, A barrel of malt makes 72 gallons of stout, A barrel of barley makes 15 1/2, But 72 gallons of stout make £21 12s. A pint of stout will cost you nine pence A gallon of stout six shillings. The barley to make 72 gallons costs 15/- And to make 1 gallon costs 2d. 72 gallons Bog of Allen water cost nothing, A barrel of barley costs 15/-, But if both be added together, You will pay £21 12s. for the compound.

In 1920 the Growers got ... £2 40 0 The Government got (Excise) 5 0 0 Others made war-profits with 14 2 0 And the consumer paid ... £21 12 0 In 1929 the Growers got ... 20 45 0 The Government got (Excise) 5 0 0 We don't know who got the 15 17 0 But the consumer still pays £21 12 0

MEMORY TRAINING

BRITISH ART MASTER AND VALUE OF DRAWING.

Mr. J. Lucas, one of the leading art masters in Britain, is going to retire this term from St. Olave's Grammar School, Bermondsey, where in the last 33 years he has taught 5,000 boys to avoid ugliness, appreciate beauty, and be observant of details of life.

Mr. Lucas himself has an amazingly discerning eye and retentive memory. His old boys know him as the man who never forgets. The other day at the old boys' gathering he went up to a silver-haired man and said: "Hallo, Smith, I remember you as a pupil thirty years ago." Mr. Lucas was the only one who recognised Smith. He remembered little facial characteristics. Very often he will recognise a middle-aged professional man and say: "Ah, Jones, what nasty smudges you used to make in the drawing book a quarter of a century ago."

"Old boys like that say it is extraordinary the way I remember them." Mr. Lucas told the Press Association, but I always insist that one of the great values of drawing is to cultivate keen observation, and I must practice what I preach. Drawing is important for engineers, architects, designers, doctors, scientists, and others. Not many people realise that the delicacy of touch which drawing cultivates is of immense practical value to a doctor in conducting an operation.

"My pupils have had a lot of work accepted by the Royal Academy, and three years ago, the youngest exhibitor in the Academy, Mr. Pimlott, was an old boy of mine." Such an enthusiast is Mr. Lucas that for more than thirty years he has voluntarily sacrificed every Saturday—more than 1,500 altogether—and two evenings a week simply to give extra help to those pupils who were keen enough to want it. His only reward has been a remarkable list of examination successes. In the last thirteen years, he has had not a single London Matriculation failure.

"Comparing boys of 33 years ago with those of to-day," said Mr. Lucas, "I should say that the modern boy is not as courteous and polite. That is the present day trend. It is due, I think to home influence or lack of it. There is rather the spirit to-day that Jack's as good as his master, and I don't think that is good for the boy. You have to get rid of that spirit before you can get good work from them."

"I have found both with older students and young ones that girls are more giggling than boys. They are afraid to make their paper dirty. Neatness counts before proportion. A boy may not be as neat, but the general effect of his work is better. Have boys to-day a keener aesthetic sense than their fathers had? I don't think so. Such influences as the cinema do not stimulate the imagination. I think they are detrimental to art as a rule. They don't bring out the beauty of things. They are apt to teach coarseness of character when you want beauty. Drawing should be a character building, and if a boy does a thing anyhow, it is detrimental to his character. I believe in beauty and truth in drawing."

MINISTER KIDNAPPED.

TAKEN FROM HIS HOUSE AT MIDNIGHT.

SEOUEL TO ANTI-CATHOLIC SPEECH AT MEETING.

The Rev. David Binnie, of the United Original Sessional Church of Scotland, living at Corrinray, near Cootehill, Co. Cavan, was kidnapped from his home at midnight by a party of young men, who pretended that their car was out of order.

It is thought that the incident was connected with a speech which Mr. Binnie made at an Orange meeting at Bailieboro, Co. Cavan, where he made references to the Roman Catholic Church.

It is stated that the men seized and blindfolded the Minister and carried him off to the car. In the struggle one of his teeth was knocked out. One of the men is alleged to have shouted: "Shoot him against the wall," but the leader intervened and the car was driven off in the direction of Virginia.

Before being put down by the roadside ten miles from his house, Mr. Binnie was compelled to sign a document in the nature of an apology. He was then left alone and barefooted and in his night clothes, started to walk back to his home at five o'clock in the morning. Left behind at his home were his wife and a Scotch woman visitor, who suffered from fright and shock.

Mr. Binnie is a comparative stranger in the locality. He was reported to have said at the Orange meeting that the Roman Catholic Church was war excellence in money-making preaching, and had various toll-gates along the path that led to heaven, and at each end of these there were men for the express purpose of extracting money.

Girl (at Co. Court): I was bumped off, Solicitor: I thought that was confined to another country. Girl: The pillion. Defendant: I am an alterations tailor but now that you can set a suit for fifty bob there are no alterations. Man at Court: I let my wife have all her own way. Magistrate: Quite right! I have acted on that principle for more than a quarter of a century.

WE HAVE AGAIN AND AGAIN warned our customers on the absolute necessity of Potato Spraying. It has been conclusively proved during the past few years that not only has spraying prevented potato blight, but it has almost doubled the crops in every instance. It also improves the quality of the potato by extending the period of growth, thereby allowing the crops to come to maturity. The necessity for spraying this season may be more urgent than usual. The present weather is proving favourable for the spread of the disease which has already made its appearance in the South of Ireland. We stock the latest types in horse and knapsack sprayers and we also keep large stocks of sulphate of copper and washing soda. We shall be very pleased to answer any enquiries regarding quantity to be used per acre, and will quote special low prices for cash for sprayers or spraying materials. FOOT AND MOUTH DISEASE. ACTION OF CANADIAN AUTHORITIES. The Free State Department of Agriculture have been advised by the Secretary, Office of the High Commissioner for Canada, London, that owing to the existence of Foot and Mouth Disease in England, Scotland and Ireland, the Deputy Minister of Agriculture (Canadian Government) made an order, dated the 20th June, 1931, prohibiting the importation into Canada of cattle, sheep, goats, other ruminants, and swine, from any part of Great Britain Northern Ireland, and the Irish Free State. The importation of merchandise packed in products of the soil from Northern Ireland and the Irish Free State is likewise prohibited except under certain conditions.

YOUGHAL NOTES.

THE WEEK-END.

Judging by posters and pronouncements we'll have a pretty lively week-end of it here—that is if the Clerk of the weather shakes off his present bad-humour and vouchsafes us a summer-like spell. Visitors are not nearly so numerous this season as in the past, but there are several solid reasons to account for this. First and foremost, there is a very general complaint of the scarcity of the motive power that makes the mare go airgead sios; secondly many of those who in former times would come to spend 2, 3, or 4 weeks at the seaside are now proud possessors of automobiles and can come and go when and where they like getting back to their own comfortable beds after spending the better part of the day at some chosen resort.

WATERFORD V. CORK.

As will be seen by our advertising columns an interesting inter-county hurling contest will take place on Sunday in the Coppalloy Field—the contestants being Waterford (Erins own selected) v. Cork (Redmonds selected). With two such teams clashing camans this will be a game worth seeing, and as the venue is quite convenient to the border between the two counties, there is sure to be a large contingent of followers from each present to witness a splendid exhibition of this the foremost national game. Our visitors will thus be afforded a very favourable opportunity of enjoying a grand evening's sport under the best of auspices.

THE STRAND.

What with the Strand Palace, Barkers Amusements and Field's Big Show, the Promenade and Beach will be very much alive with amusements of all sorts, varied by a welcome dip in the briny, within a hop-step and jump of the Railway Terminus. There is a "Carnival Dance" listed for the Palace on Saturday night, two sessions on Sunday and two on Monday, to be followed by the Youghal Golf Club Annual Dance on Monday night. In addition to all this there will be elaborate Holiday Programmes at Hurst's Picture Palace and the Horgan Bros. Palace Theatre. If the above, with the usual trimmings doesn't provide material for a hectic week-end, well there's no meat in mutton.

HEROIC YOUGHAL MAN.

We are glad to see that the Urban Council is taking practical steps to give a hearty welcome and a proper presentation to our young fellow-townsmen, Vincent Nagle, son of Capt. P. Nagle, The Mall, on his return home in a few weeks. His brave action during the recent submarine disaster in the Chinese sea has been duly acknowledged by the British Government, but it is only fitting that his own townspeople should give expression to their feelings of just pride in his heroic deed. Judging by the manner in which the matter was received by all the members of the Council, it may be taken for granted that our young friend will be accorded the reception he so richly deserves.

Rail Facilities

IRISH PRESS, LTD., APPLICATION TO THE TRIBUNAL

The Railway Tribunal, Judge O'Brien, presiding, met at Dublin Castle, to hear an application by the Irish Press, Ltd., against the Great Southern Railways Company.

Mr. M. J. Ryan, K.C., with whom was Mr. Conor Maguire (instructed by Messrs. Little, O'H. Uadhaigh and Proud) applied on behalf of the Irish Press, Ltd., for an emergency order declaring that the refusal by the Railway Company to grant to the Irish Press the same services and facilities as were granted to the other Dublin newspapers constituted an undue or unreasonable prejudice or disadvantage to the applicants, and for an injunction restraining the Railway Company from persisting in its refusal. Counsel said that the applicants intended producing their newspaper on Sept. 3rd next. In order to do so they entered into many contracts and assumed various obligations. Correspondence had taken place between them and the Railway Company, in the course of which it appeared that a special newspaper train with certain auxiliary transport distribution left Dublin at 3.55 every morning. The applicants applied for the rates charged for this special service. The Railway Company declined to state the rate for this special service on the ground that this train was run solely in the interests of other Dublin newspapers at a special rate. The Irish Press, Ltd., then asked for a similar service for their paper, and the Railway Company replied that a similar service would be supplied to the Irish Press on payment of an annual sum of £18,000 together with a guarantee that the traffic charges would amount to not less than £6,000 a year. This proposed charge the applicants submitted was considerably more than that made to the other Dublin newspapers, and in reply to a letter from the applicants the Railway Company refused to state the amount charged to the other Dublin papers. It was of vital importance to the applicants that their paper should be delivered in the country at the same time as the other Dublin papers. Counsel further pointed out that under the rules of the Tribunal an application might be made for an interim injunction on giving two days' notice, or in the case of an emergency, as the present sitting was the last which would be held until after the long vacation, which ended in October, unless a special sitting took place next week.

The Chairman said that the Court would sit any time next week for the hearing of an application for an interim injunction and they would meet the convenience of the parties in every possible way.

IRISH BANKS STAND FIRM.

The economic storm which has wrecked banking institutions in America, Austria, and Germany, and has recently affected the dividend announcements of many of the large English banks has so far had little effect on Irish banks.

Two half-yearly banking statements has just been published, one by the National Bank, the other by the Provincial Bank of Ireland.

The National Bank shows a net profit to the end of June of £135,102, only £600 less than the net profit for the corresponding period last year. The interim dividend on the company's capital of £15,000,000 has been maintained at the rate of 4 per cent, per annum. Reserve fund, premises, and contingencies fund have again been increased to the extent of £10,000 each.

while depositor and current accounts have gone up in the half-year by £763,000.

Bills discounted amounted to £1,832,638, a decrease of £100,000 compared with 1930, while advances to customers were reduced by £13,000 to £16,364,264.

The Provincial Bank of Ireland report discloses a strong position. Profits, after making the usual allocations, are up by more than £2,000, compared with the half-year ended June 1930. The company repeats its usual half-yearly distribution at the rate of 1 1/2 per cent.

It is a good thing to know that our financial experts are so sound as to have maintained a successful trading in all the bad times we are going through, when so many great houses have fallen. Had we only a gold reserve we might yet be the centre of the world's market. But there is no danger of that at the moment.
