CAPPOQUIN DISTRICT COURT.

INTERESTING LICENSING PROSECUTIONS.

(Before Mr. G. P. Farrell, B.L.)

Supt. Quinlan, Lismore summoned Mr. Michael Russell, Aghlish for an alleged breach of the Licensing Act on Sunday, December 20th last.

Matthew Ormonde, Dromore, was summoned in connection with the same case.

Mr. A. R. Farrell, solr., Dungarvan, appeared for both defendants.

Sergt. Vaughan, Villierstown, stated on Sunday Dec., 20th about 11.30, he was in duty in Aghlish and as he was cycling in by the Ballinaparka road, he observed a man run across from the bridge towards Mr. Russell's premises.

There is a gateway opening from Mr. Russell's yard on to a road around the corner and a few minutes later he saw Ormonde, coming out through that gateway with two bottles of stout in his hands.

When he saw witness, Ormonde rushed over to a stream opposite Mr. Russell's house and was attempting to empty the contents of the bottles about half the contents of one bottle emptied into the stream. He then found that both bottles contained porter and bore the labels of Thos. Power and Co., Dungarvan.

He asked Ormonde if he had got the stuff at Russell's and he denied that he had, and witness then took him into the premises and questioned Mr. Russell who also denied any knowledge of the transaction and added that he had not seen Ormonde that morning.

Replying to Mr. Farrell, solr., witness admitted that Power's porter was also sold by the other publicans in the village.

Mr. Farrell, said the defence was that Ormonde did not get the stout at Russell's house, and that the Sergt. was mistaken in stating that he had seen Ormonde leaving Mr. Russell's yard by the gateway on the occasion.

Mr. Russell, (publican), was examined by Mr. Farrell, solr., and stated that on that Sunday he and his wife had attended Mass in Aghlish and he had carefully locked up his premises before going so that nobody could enter. He was the first to return from Mass and let himself in with a latchkey through the front door and he knew nothing whatever about Ormonde until the Sergt. brought him into the house and asked him (witness) if he had supplied him with the two bottles of stout. He said that he had not, and added that he had not seen Ormonde until the Sergt. brought him into the house.

Cross-examined, he said the yard gate was barred from the inside and nobody could go out that way without first having to pass through his house. He denied having sold or given any drink to Ormonde that morning.

Replying to the Justice, he said there were some country cars in his yard that day which the owners were at Mass. The cars were there when the Sergt. called.

Matthew Ormonde was examined by Mr. Farrell. He said the Sergt was correct when he stated that he had found him with two bottles of stout, but he was not correct when he said that he saw him running out by Mr. Russell's gateway, as he had not been on the premises at any time that morning and did not get the stout there. He had got the stout from another man, a friend of his, whom he met at the bridge after Mass, but he declined to give that man's name in Court.

The Justice said it was rather curious to find one man giving stout away to another like this, but as it was near Xmas time (Dec. 20th.) this may account for the man's generosity.

He then asked what objection he had to give this man's name in Court, and witness said he did not wish to get him into any trouble.

Mr. Farrell, solr.—I may state that Ormonde has privately given me the name of the man and if you would adjourn the case to the next Court I will produce that man here who will then be able to corroborate Ormonde's statement.

The Justice—Very well, I will certainly adjourn the case in order to have this "Daddy Xmas" here the next day (laughter).

The case was adjourned for a month.

Another Publican's Case. Supt. Quinlan, summoned Mr. M. Mason, publican, Cappoquin, for an alleged breach of the Licensing Act on Monday, Dec., 28th. Thomas Morrissey, Villierstown, was summoned for aiding and abetting in the offence.

Mr. Wm. R. Hodnett, solr., Youghal, defended.

Guard Moloney, stated that there was an all-night dance in the Boat-house on Dec., 27th and Sergt. Rochford and himself were on duty in the town during the night. At 3.40 on Monday morning Sergt. Rochford had gone down towards Foley's corner, at the lower end of Castle street, while he remained at the upper end of the street, near Mr. Mason's premises.

While there a motor van arrived in Green street and soon afterwards he saw a man going into Mason's premises and coming out about 10 minutes later. That man was the defendant, Morrissey, and witness heard a sound like the jingling of coins against a bottle in his pocket, and on accosting him he found that he had two bottles of stout which he admitted he had got at Mason's.

In reply to his question Morrissey told him that he was bringing the stout to the man in the motor van, who was not a bona-fide traveller.

Witness called up the Sergt. and they both brought Morrissey back to the licensed premises where he stated in presence of Mr. Mason that he had got the stout for the man in the motor van.

The Justice asked what was the actual nature of the offence committed?

The Supt. said that Morrissey, although a bona-fide traveller himself, had no right to bring out intoxicating drink to a non-bona-fide traveller during prohibited hours, and the publican was guilty of an offence by selling drink for such a purpose.

Mr. Hodnett said that Morrissey was charged with aiding and abetting in an offence with which the publican was not charged.

Sergt. Rochford stated that when they brought Morrissey back to Mr. Mason's premises and questioned the publican he admitted having uncorked four bottles of stout in the bar for Morrissey and a friend of his, but he did not know at the time that any of them were to be taken off his premises. Morrissey then stated that he had purchased two of the bottles to be taken out to his friend in the motor van.

Michael Mason was examined by Mr. Hodnett and explained that when Morrissey came into his house he met a friend in the bar and called for two bottles of stout which he uncorked and supplied him with. Later Morrissey called for two more stouts which were again supplied in the usual way and witness then had to attend to some customers in the bar-parlour and did not see Morrissey leaving the premises, so that he had no knowledge that he had taken the two stouts out with him.

Mr. Hodnett—If he had told you that he wanted to take them out to a non-bona-fide traveller would you have supplied him?

Defendant—I would not, as I understood that I had no right to sell drink to be consumed off the premises at the time.

Replying to further questions, he denied that Morrissey had told the Sergt. in his presence that he had asked for the drinks to be taken to a friend outside.

Cross-examined by the Supt. he said he used a patent cork-drawer in his bar so that all the corks fell inside the counter when drawn, and he could not explain how the two bottles found with Morrissey had the loose corks in them. He certainly did not put any corks back in the bottles for Morrissey.

Thos. Morrissey, examined, stated that he had been at the dance and took two bottles of stout out from Mason's, as he was going back to the dance and wanted to have a drink for himself before the dance was over. Explaining how the loose corks were in the bottles when Guard Moloney met him, he said that Mr. Mason was engaged in the room when he was leaving and he went behind the counter and picked up two loose corks which he put in the bottles. He had never mentioned to Mr. Mason that he wanted the stouts to take out to a friend. Answering further questions by Mr. Hodnett, he denied having admitted to Guard Moloney that he was bringing the two stouts out to his friend in the motor van, and said it was the Guard said to him that he was doing so.

The Justice said if this were a serious offence he would have probed it still further, but on all the evidence he thought the publican had no knowledge of Morrissey taking the stout off the premises and he dismissed both cases.

In dismissing the cases he felt bound to say that it was very regrettable that both the publican and Morrissey should have come up and asked him to believe that the evidence given by Sergt. Rochford and Guard Moloney as regards Morrissey's statement to them was not true, as he fully believed their evidence on that point, and regretted that he had been asked to believe it was untrue.

Breach Of The Peace. Guard O'Mahony, Cappoquin, summoned two young men named Peter Cahill, Tour and Thos. Walsh, Monalour, for having committed a breach of the peace by fighting on the public street in Cappoquin on December 14th day.

Mr. J. W. O'Gorman, solr., Lismore, appeared for Cahill, and having heard the evidence, the Justice bound both defendants to the peace for 12 months.

Vocational Education Committee.

TECHNICAL SCHOOLS FOR DUNGARVAN AND CAPPOQUIN. PURCHASE OF OLD MOTOR CAR.

Rev. L. Egan, C.C., Chairman, presided at the March meeting of the above. There were also present Rev. Jas. Walshe, P.P., Portlaur, Rev. Bro. Gibson, Messrs. John Butler, M. Clancy, D. Coghlan, M. F. Walsh, J. Curran, J. Halloran, C. J. Curran, and Fear Mhor.

Dungarvan Technical School. The Department wrote re the proposal of the Committee to purchase the Meat Shambles as a site for the New Technical School for £200, and requested detailed particulars of the title of same.

Secretary—Mr. Williams, solr., informed me that he would have the title ready in a day or two.

Chairman—You will have it forwarded to the authorities then?

Secretary—Yes.

As to the proposal of having the Headquarters of the Central Library in the New Library, it was stated that the matter was before the Libraries Committee, but that pending the establishment of the title, they took no action on it. As to having the District Court Clerk's Office removed and an alternative Office provided for him, An Fear Mhor said the idea was to have the New School come out in line with the Courthouse.

Mr. Clancy—The gablefront is very narrow. This is a matter for the Engineer when making the plans, and it would be a good thing to clear it out so as to make an imposing front.

Mr. C. J. Curran—It would be an expensive item as you would have to give the Clerk of the Court another office.

Mr. Butler—Mr. Bowen said in his letter there was no necessity for it. It was all in Mr. Bowen's hands, and if he sees the necessity for it he will do it, and if not he will not.

In reply to Mr. Clancy, the Secretary said Mr. Bowen was directed by the Committee to prepare the plans.

Mr. Clancy—That is a very important matter, and it is the desire of the Committee and of the Urban Council that a very nice building should go up there.

Chairman—The idea is to put up a building that will be in harmony with the other buildings there.

Mr. Clancy—I don't think we finally decided to ask Mr. Bowen to prepare the plans.

Chairman—It was ordered by the Committee at the last meeting. As to the site etc., of the class rooms, Mr. Clancy said the Secretary would be able to give the size of the rooms they required.

Chairman—All these details will come before the Committee later.

Cappoquin School. The Secretary said on the 4th Feb. he was in Cappoquin, and saw Mr. Bell, Manager of the Cappoquin Estate re question of the sale of the site in Barrack street, on which the Committee proposed to erect a Technical School. Mr. Bell said he would recommend the sale of the site in Barrack street for £25 to the Committee and on February 8th, he had a letter stating the offer of £25 net was accepted, the Committee to pay all expenses.

In reference to the same matter, a letter was read from Mr. T. C. Williams, solr., stating that he had applied to Mr. A. Carroll, solr., for the full title to the plot in question and the cost of same would be £7 7s. 6d. It was agreed to agree to pay £7 7s. 6d. for the full title. Mr. Williams also suggested that a map of the site be included in the deed of transfer and the Committee ordered that Mr. Bowen prepare said map on their behalf.

Second-hand Motor Car. The Committee advertised for a second-hand motor car with magneto ignition for demonstration purposes at the motor engineering classes and received a big number of replies.

Mr. M. Flynn, Granatoda, offered a two-seater "Star" car for £5; Mr. D. Power, O'Connell street, a Maxwell Touring car for £30 and an old Overland (the late Dr. Hackett's) for £15. Mr. Bennett, Western Terrace, Dungarvan, offered an Overland car at £5; Mr. D. Crotty, tendered to supply any of a whole list of cars at prices ranging from £10 to £20; Mr. M. F. Walsh, Tallow, offered a Maxwell Tourer at £15; Mr. T. Moloney, Helvick, a Renault at £35; Mr. Power, Waterford, a Ford Tourer at £78; Mr. J. F. O'Donnell, Lismore, an Overland at £25; Mr. Lynch, Ballyduff, also offered a car. Messrs. Kelly Ltd., Waterford, offered a whole series of cars at various low prices and Mr. Twomey, Youghal, a Dodge car for £30.

Secretary—At a period like this when there is illness in the town there is a demand for motor drivers and at present I am told there is a difficulty in getting them.

Chairman—Does that necessity arise often?

Secretary—Another business man told me there is need for good drivers. Fear Mhor—The driving is the bait at the class.

Mr. Clancy thought the pupils should be taught all about the mechanism of the car first, and after that they could be taught to drive. Half the drivers know nothing about the mechanism of the car. They are only destroying the cars.

Secretary—The Department's Inspector was here on the opening night, and he suggested you might hire a car at 10/- a day.

Mr. M. F. Walsh—That would not be long running into the price of a car. Secretary—I asked people if they would hire out their cars at 10/- a day and they said certainly not.

Mr. Clancy—He also made the suggestion to get an old car, but I think that is a wrong thing to do. If we buy a car we should buy one with a good engine.

Chairman—What was the price of the car we bought and that was turned down?

Secretary—£40.

Mr. Clancy—I pointed out to Dr. Burke that the car we bought for demonstration purposes was a bad purchase as we have to buy a new battery for it.

In reply to Mr. C. J. Curran, An Fear Mhor said the car they bought cost £5, but now they required a car in running order.

Fr. Walsh—You should have one for demonstration purposes and one for dissecting purposes.

Mr. Clancy—We don't know anything about the condition of the different cars offered here to-day, and we should defer final consideration to the next meeting until we know where we are or we will have the same trouble as he had before.

Bro. Gibson—Members of the Committee who know something about cars should inspect them with the teacher.

Mr. Clancy said when the car was purchased it would be very hard to turn it down.

Fear Mhor proposed that the Committee offer £30 to Mr. Moloney for his car subject to approval by the Department.

Mr. Walsh, seconded. This was passed.

Mr. C. J. Curran—If you bought all the £5 cars you are offered, you might get a good car made up of them.

Chairman—I don't think you could. Messrs. J. Butler and J. Curran, were appointed to inspect the car with the teacher, Mr. Wall.

New Battery. In connection with the order to purchase a new Exide Battery, for the £5 car recently bought by the Committee, Mr. Crotty, tendered at £3 17s. 6d.; Mr. P. Behr, £3 7s. 6d.; and Messrs. Keating and Caule, Waterford, at £2 18s. 3d. The last named tender was accepted.

A Microscope. In regard to the purchase of a Microscope for the Rural Science Class, Mr. C. J. Curran, asked what was the necessity for such an instrument.

Chairman—Only it is necessary it would not be ordered.

Fear Mhor—It is for locating microbes, fungi, etc., in plants.

Mr. C. J. Curran—I could understand it for seeds, but I don't see the necessity for it in this case.

It was agreed to purchase a Microscope, approved by the Department at a cost of £11 8s. 0d.

Special Classes. Mr. Halloran referred to the statement of Dr. Burke, at the last meeting with regard to having in the County a special class for the thorough education of boys and girls in all forms of farm work, dairying, Poultry Keeping etc., on the lines of a similar class in Wexford and thought such a class would be very important in this County.

Chairman—It met with the approval of the Committee.

Mr. Halloran said he thought they had it already on the books that such work be carried on in the Clashmore area. It would be a very good thing for the farmers sons and daughters.

Chairman—There was nothing definite done by the Committee. It was only a suggestion thrown out and approved of. Ardmore was mentioned and Clashmore also, as a very suitable place. He thought the Secretary should make inquiries as to how the work was getting on in the Wexford class, it would be a good thing.

Death of Mr. John C. Heelan, T.C., Lismore.

STRIKING TRIBUTES OF RESPECT.

Seldom has any event caused such genuine regret in the district as the premature death of Mr. J. C. Heelan, T.C., Lismore, which occurred in the Bon Secour Nursing Home, Cork, on Friday morning, 26th ult.

The late Mr. Heelan was a member of one of the oldest and most respectable families in Lismore, and was connected with several of the leading families in Cork City, Cappoquin and various other parts of the County Waterford. He received his early education in the Christian Brothers Schools, Lismore, and afterwards spent some years in the Queen's College, Cork, later going to the University College Dublin, for a long term.

While a student in Cork, he was a prominent member of the Lee Gaelic Football Club, and played many a brilliant game for that Club in County Championships and other fixtures for several years. While in Dublin, in later years he was a leading member of the Phoenix Cricket Club, and proved in many ways that he was an ardent and all-round sportsman of the first water.

Returning to his native town, he soon proved his thorough sportsmanship by establishing the famous "Blackwater Ramblers Gaelic Football Club," of which he was Captain, the Treasurer being Mr. John Goulding, the present T.D., while Mr. Joseph Geary, was the efficient Hon. Secretary.

For many years under Mr. Heelan's Captaincy, the "Ramblers Club" proved one of the most formidable Gaelic combinations, not only in the County Waterford, but throughout Munster, and there were very few better Gaelic players than deceased. Owing to emigration, death and other causes the "Ramblers Club" had to cease its existence after a brilliant record of successes, and the deceased then founded the Lismore Cricket Club, of which he was the popular Captain down to his death. In addition he was Hon. Sec., of the Lismore Hockey Club for a long number of years, and in conjunction with Mr. R. McMullen Bosler, he was responsible for conducting several interesting and successful Hockey Tournaments at Lismore for the "Bolster Cup" and medals. He was also a valued member of the Lismore Tennis and Golf Clubs, but, perhaps he will be better known by his association with the Lismore Race Committee of which he has been the capable Secretary for the past 10 or 12 years. The striking successes which have attended the Annual Point-to-Point Races held in Lismore within this period were a wonderful tribute to his great organising power and energy and the manner in which the picturesque race course on the Castle Farm has been laid out is an enduring monument to his great initiative and taste.

In every branch of sport, the deceased proved a dynamic force and a gentleman of unbounded energy and enterprise, but it was not in the realms of sporting matters alone that his great services were placed at the disposal of the people of Lismore.

For several years he had been a leading member of the Lismore Town Commissioners, and he never lost an opportunity of improving the general condition of his town. Many of the benefits which the pretty town of St. Carthage now enjoys are due to his fearless advocacy within recent years, and the members of the Commission are unsparing in their tributes of praise of the great ability he always displayed as a public representative.

In private life the late Mr. Heelan, was one of the most charming of men. Cultured, refined and intellectual, he possessed a most attractive personality while his upright and honourable character won for him the love and esteem of all sections of the public, without distinction of class or creed.

A devout and good-living Catholic, and a strict T.T., all his life, he was a model to all, and his premature death in the early fifties, while still in the prime of manhood has now deprived Lismore of one of its most useful and popular citizens whose place it will not be easy to fill. His health had not been good since Xmas, following a severe attack of influenza, but it was hoped that with the best of medical attention on the part of Dr. Healy, Lismore, and the tender nursing of his loving sisters he would be restored to his usual health in a short time. Unfortunately the experimental nature should be carefully inquired into.

Mr. Walsh suggested they have plans for the Cappoquin Technical School for their next meeting. It would hurry up matters.

Tenders. The tender of Mr. Thos. O'Mahony, Shandon street, being the lowest, was accepted for the making of benches and tool racks for the use of the teachers.

Mr. Clancy—That would mean the appointment of a new teacher.

Mr. C. J. Curran—Anything of an

fortunately, this hope was not realised and his condition became so serious on Saturday week that Dr. Dundon, the Cork Specialist, had to be summoned, and after consultation with Dr. Healy it was decided that the patient should be removed to the Bon Secours Home, Cork. He was removed to Cork by motor on Sunday week, but he gradually sank and the end came peacefully on the Friday morning after he had received the last Sacraments of the Church.

The news of his death created a profound shock amongst all classes of the people of Lismore, and the deepest sympathy of all was extended to his respected sisters and other relatives in their great bereavement.

On Friday evening, the remains were conveyed by motor from Cork to Lismore, and were met miles outside the town by large numbers of the townspeople, whose presence proved a striking testimony to the great respect held for the memory of deceased. On Saturday several Requiem Masses were offered up for the eternal repose of his soul.

The funeral took place to the family burial ground in the Parochial Cemetery, Lismore, after last Mass on Sunday and will long be remembered as having provided one of the most touching and impressive displays of public sympathy and regret witnessed in that town for many years.

All the sporting Clubs with which the deceased had been associated for many years decided to pay a public tribute of respect to his memory, and as the members of the Lismore Race Committee and Town Commissioners acted similarly, the funeral was one of the most remarkable tributes of respect seen anywhere for a long time.

The coffin was borne on the shoulders of his friends through the principal streets of the town, and relays of bearers were provided by the "Old Ramblers Football Club," the Town Commissioners, the Race Committee, and other local sporting bodies. The cortege was headed by the members of the Town Commissioners and Race Committee, marching two deep, these being followed by the Rev. T. O'Gorman, C.S.C., Lismore; Rev. M. Morrissey, C.S., do.; and the Rev. J. Crotty, C.C., Cappoquin, while immediately behind came the members of the "Ramblers Club," the Hurling and Football Clubs, the Cricket, Hockey, Lawn Tennis and Golf Clubs, with the members of the general public bringing up the rear. There was an immense attendance of the general public.

Arriving at the Cemetery gate, the remains were received by the Rev. Fathers O'Gorman, Morrissey, and Crotty, who afterwards read the final prayers at the graveside, after which all that was mortal of a great sportsman and one of nature's gentlemen was reverently laid to rest beneath the sheltering Palms and Cypress trees, and beside the grave of his equally popular brother, the late Mr. "Paddy" Heelan, who was also one of the best-known sportsmen in his time.

The chief mourners were—Miss E. Heelan, and Mrs. O'Sullivan, Lismore, (sisters), Joseph O'Sullivan, do., (brother-in-law); Miss A. Heelan, Cork; William and Mrs. Boyle and family, do.; Thos. and Mrs. McCarthy, and family, do.; P. Heelan, do.; W. Heelan, do.; Miss Maureen Collins, do.; Miss Nancy O'Riordan, do.; John Flynn, Ballinella, Lismore; Michael and Mrs. C. Foley, Lismore; the Misses Kitty and Cecilia Foley, do.; Herman Foley, do.; Masters Richard and Edward Foley, do.; Declan and Mrs. Foley, Cappoquin; Miss Minnie Foley; do.; Miss "Peg" Foley, do.; John and Mrs. Foley, Knocklara; E. Dunne, Cork; James and Mrs. Dunne, Coolishal; E. Dunne, do.; Miss Bridie Dunne, do.; Miss Hannah Dunne, Melleray; James Dunne, do.; Patrick Heelan, Glenshask, Lismore; John O'Sullivan, Peake House, Co. Wick; Thos. O'Sullivan, Old Castle, do.; Dermot O'Sullivan, Manager, Young's Mills, Co. Wick; Mr. E. and Mrs. Sisk, Crosshaven; Dr. D. and Mrs. Healy, Lismore, etc., (cousins and relatives).

A large number of floral tributes were laid on the grave including one of horse shoe shape from the Race Committee.

The donors were—His sisters, Race Committee, Town Commissioners, Cricket Club, Hockey and Tennis Clubs, Mr. and Mrs. McKeown, "Morris and Lizzie," John Murray. A number of Lizzie cards were also sent.

DIFFERENCE IN FOOD CONSUMPTION OF COWS.

In the course of a lecture to Lanarkshire farmers, Mr. Buchanan Smith, of Edinburgh University, stated that there was a great difference in the food consumption of different cows per gallon of milk produced, and there was every reason to believe that this is inherited. The time has come, he said, when progressive breeders of dairy cattle can take the next step in improvement of cows by taking note not merely of the amount of milk produced by each cow in their herd, but also by measuring the amount of food taken to produce that milk.

DUNGARVAN URBAN COUNCIL.

The monthly finance meeting of the above was held on Friday last. Mr. J. Butler, Chairman, presided. The other members present were—Messrs. M. Clancy, Jas. Hackett, T. McCarthy, J. F. Moloney, T. Power, M. J. Keane, and D. Foley.

Quarrying Stones. The B.S., reported that as directed he had an interview with Mr. Dempsey regarding the opening of his quarry for procuring stock for the roads. Mr. Dempsey told me he did not intend to open the quarry again, and as he had the portion in front filled. He had men employed now clearing another portion of Flynn's quarry.

Workmen's Grievance. Mr. McCarthy referred to the order made at the previous meeting to give employment to men in the clearing of the abbey side strand, and asked why the work was discontinued. He cited cases of where unfortunate men were employed for two tides at this work for which they got 8/- from the Council, and they were refused Home Assistance. He referred to the case of one man particularly who was in receipt of 14/- Home Assistance and because he was employed for two tides at this work the Home Assistance Officer would not give him anything.

Mr. Keane—I thoroughly agree with Mr. McCarthy. Several men in the town get one day's work and because of that they are deprived of Home Assistance. He thought the system of granting Home Assistance was wrong. Mr. McCarthy—I know every man on the Board agree with me; I would also like to refer to the fact that a man who is to get unemployment benefit, will only get assistance on condition that when he gets his benefit he will refund the amount of assistance again. He thought a recommendation should go from this Council to the Board of Assistance regarding the system of giving assistance.

The Chairman said he agreed with Mr. McCarthy regarding the hardships on the cases mentioned, and said unfortunately the assistance officer was not an official of this Board, so they could do nothing. Mr. McCarthy is a member of the Assistance Committee, and these people should bring their complaints before that committee. Mr. Moloney is also a member of that committee and he brought somewhat similar cases up at that committee's meeting and got them put right. With regard to the refunding of unemployment benefit, he thought according to the regulations, the recipient was bound to refund some, but not all of the assistance given.

Mr. McCarthy—If the order made at the last meeting was carried out those men would not have suffered. He was speaking for those men up to Thursday last, he cannot say if they got assistance since.

Chairman—As the Harbour Master is not present now we cannot go into that matter.

Weekly Payments. The following payments were passed. General A/c. £12 10s. 6d. Relief Grant A/c. £19 15s. 5d. Harbour A/c. £34 3s. 8d. A number of cheques were also passed to contractors under the Housing Scheme.

Mr. Moloney asked regarding the stuff removed from the strand at Abbeyside Point, who was responsible for leaving the stuff in heaps around. Chairman—The Harbour Master will be here later and will explain.

B.S.—I send over Costin to trim it up.

Mr. Clancy—If it is not removed soon it will knock down the wall. Mr. Moloney—I am referring to the heaps left in the pond. The question was left over for the attendance of the Harbour Master.

An Old Complaint. Answering Mr. Power, the B.S., said that he did nothing on the order made to attend the complaint from Mr. McCarthy, Abbeyside, re the nuisance caused by the new kerbing outside his door, as he understood Mr. McCarthy was about to make application to the Council for permission to erect a railing on the kerbing.

Mr. Power said he met Mr. McCarthy, and he blamed the Council for not having the work carried out. He threatened to assault me.

The matter was adjourned to the next meeting pending the receipt of the application from Mr. McCarthy.

No Permission. Mr. Moloney asked if permission was sought for the kerbing being put down at Strand Side North.

B.S.—I saw it being put down and I was about to report it. He then wrote out a report stating that Mrs. Griffin is constructing a footpath outside her house without any authority.

Chairman—You don't say Mr. McGrath if it is a hindrance or a benefit.

Mr. Clancy—In common courtesy an application should be made here. What would happen if every householder went and made alterations with out an application.

Mr. Keane—You saw the footpath Mr. McGrath, and you approve of it.

B.S.—Yes.

Mr. Moloney asked if Mrs. Griffin had authority to open a gate into the Park.

Chairman—According to the deed, it is a public Park and the people must go in somewhere.

Mr. McCarthy—The people are not going in there.

Chairman—But they have the right to go there.

Mr. Clancy—The question of right I have no doubt will arise later and I hope the public will assert their right. Mr. Keane—The Council should be very glad that Mrs. Griffin got the Park and converted it from what it was an unsightly dumping ground into what it is now. After some further discussion the matter ended.

A Dangerous Wall. The B.S. was directed before starting the rolling at Scrammin's Lane to serve notice on the owner of the wall at the South side as it is in a dangerous condition.

Harbour Lights. The Council accepted the tender from the E.S. Board to supply two red shades for the Harbour lights on the Lookout at 7/6 each, and for changing a light at Church Street for the sum of 10/-.

Lighting Contract. The Secretary E.S. Board also wrote stating that a representative would, as requested, attend to discuss with the Council the question of the public lighting contract.

Extra Work. Mr. E. Fitzgerald, appeared before the meeting in support of a letter from him, adjourned from the last meeting requesting payment for extra work done by him on the new Housing Scheme.

After hearing Mr. Fitzgerald, the Council decided on the advice of the B.S., to make no extra payment.

Financial Position. The Clerk submitted the following showing the position of the various accounts on February 24th as follows: General A/c. due by Treasurer £352 4s. 6d. Poor Rate A/c. due by Treasurer £422 10s. 8d. Housing A/c. due by Treasurer £449 11s. 0d. Relief Grant A/c. due by Treasurer £54 13s. 6d. Harbour A/c. due by Treasurer £226 5s. 2d. Relief Grant A/c. 1932. due by Treasurer £95 3s. 0d.

Condition Of Rate Collection. Poor Rate—Amount of Warrant, 1st moiety, £1,734 10s. 5d.; collected and lodged £1,562 1s. 0d.; outstanding £172 9s. 5d. 2nd moiety, amount of warrant £1,608 12s. 11d.; collected and lodged £802 3s. 5d.; outstanding £788 9s. 6d.

Town Rate—1st moiety £1,747 0s. 4d collected and lodged £1,545 14s. 4d.; outstanding £201 6s.; 2nd moiety £1,568 2s. 8d.; collected and lodged £843 4s. 2d.; outstanding £724 18s. 6d.

Domestic Water Rate—Amount of warrant, 1st moiety £154 6s. 8d.; collected £127 16s. 8d.; outstanding £26 10s.; 2nd moiety £122 3s. 8d., collected £61 11s. 10d., outstanding £60 11s. 10d.

Cost Of Services Up To Feb. 19th. Roads—Estimate £250, spent to date £441 18s. 3d.; overspent £91 18s. 3d. Town's Improvement—Estimate £230, spent to date £347 7s. 7d.; overspent £177 7s. 7d.

Water—Estimate £200, spent to date £159 2s. 10d.; balance to credit for remainder of year £40 17s. 2d.

Sewers—Estimate £150, spent to date £160 3s. 3d., overspent £10 3s. 3d.

Artisans Dwellings—Estimate £76, spent to date £108 12s.; overspent £32 10s. Scavenging—Estimate £153, spent to date £156 10s. 5d., overspent £3 10s. 5d.

Chairman—You heard the state of the rate collection read now, there is just about a quarter outstanding, it is very good entirely. I suppose the collector will now make a special effort to have the amount of his warrant collected at the end of the financial year. He suggested that they should adopt the estimates at the first April meeting.

Mr. Clancy—Will the Town Clerk be ready.

Clerk—I will do my best.

Chairman—When striking the estimates the increased demand from the Co. Council must be taken into account.

Mr. Keane—Any idea why the Co. Council demand is increased.

Chairman—The principal increases are under the heads of Estimates and Home Assistance.

Mr. Clancy—A bad sign of the times.

Mr. Keane—It is a deplorable state of affairs.

Mr. Clancy said the state of the rate collection was wonderful, considering the little business that was doing in the town.

Chairman—We will know exactly where we stand at the next finance meeting.

Mr. Clancy—I was delighted to see in the local Press to-day an appreciation of the work done by the Urban Council. It is well someone appreciates the work being done.

Mr. Hackett referred to the number of horses falling on the streets and asked if they had any power to get Mr. Bowen to put gravel on them.

Chairman—No. You have no control over them.

Mr. Hackett—It is no wonder that country people are not coming to town, they are afraid to come on the roads, they go to the country co-operative stores for their goods.

Acknowledgments. A letter was read thanking the Council for resolution of sympathy passed to him on the death of his mother from Wm. Murray, Abbeyside.

Sympathy. Votes of sympathy were passed to the following, Very Rev. Father Redmond, Prior O.S.A., Dungarvan, on the death of his mother. The relatives of the late Mrs. Dalton, Friary Street. The relatives of the late Wm. Morrissey, Ballymacmague, and Michael Ahearne.

Blackwater Fisheries. CRUX OVER SOLICITORSHIP QUESTION.

CONSERVATORS MEET.

At the meeting of the Fishery Conservators of the Lismore District held at Mallow, Coroner E. A. Rice, Fermoy, (Vice-Chairman), presiding. Others present—Captain Maxwell, Lord Charles Cavendish, Major Longfield, and Messrs. R. G. Anseley, and I. Villiers Stuart.

The following letter, under date 24th February, 1932, was read from Mr. J. L. Keane, Solicitor, Youghal:—Dear Sir—Mr. A. Carroll's letter of the 27th ult., addressed to your Board contains statements and implications reflecting on me which compel me to reply.

Mr. Carroll states he was "asked" in 1892—he does not say by whom or by what authority—to act as Solicitor to the Board from Kerry to Ballycotton, and he makes the sweeping claim that from that time until 1918 he was the Solicitor who transacted the legal business of the Board. This statement is made in face of the fact that I was appointed for this (Youghal) District in 1896 in succession to the late Thos. Slattery, Lismore. In proof of this I refer to the Records of the Board, and I observe at the last meeting when Mr. Carroll's letter was read, the Secretary stated there is a Minute of my appointment in the books.

I did not claim to be appointed to any but the Youghal District in 1896, though Mr. Carroll states I did. My letter, however, will show he is wrong.

Mr. Carroll was never appointed for Youghal District, and the first attempt that I know of to supersede me was made in October last, when it was sought, without notice to me, to appoint Mr. Carroll, Junior. If confirmation is needed that I was the Board's solicitor here, the Secretary who was appointed Assistant to the Board about 1900, must know that I acted Solicitor here at that time, and have been doing the legal work since. I note to the Chairman stated at the last meeting that I was the solicitor for this district both before and after he came to the Board in 1914. In view of this I make no comment on Mr. Carroll's claim that it was he who did the legal work of the Board from 1892 to 1918 from Kerry to Ballycotton.

In reply to Mr. Carroll's sneers that I expect an explanation from my clients before they leave me, it should not be necessary to point out there is a wide difference between the position of a solicitor and a Public Board, and of a solicitor and his private clients. The latter can, of course, come and go as they please, but Mr. Carroll's doctrine is adopted with regard to solicitors to Public Boards it will lead to very unpleasant results, and unquestionably will not gain the approval of the profession.

But, in my judgment, the most unbecoming and objectionable part of Mr. Carroll's letter is that in which he, a stranger to the Board, and unsolicited, tenders to them advice as to how they might have appointed his son to the solicitorship—a position I held for 35 years. Is it Mr. Carroll's view that this is acting up to the highest traditions of the Profession?—Yours faithfully,

JOHN L. KEANE.

It was decided that the Inspector should secure the services of a solicitor when he required one, and that the correspondence should close with Mr. Keane's letter, and that no further letter be read from either side.

A report was received from the Committee that they had purchased the new Motor Launch. A discussion took place as to the cost and place of delivery, and it was decided to take delivery at Youghal.

Reports of poaching were received and considered.

LEAP YEAR.

Any person born on the 29th Feb., can only have a birthday anniversary every 4 years. Whether that is an advantage or a disadvantage we know not, but in the "Pirates of Penzance" the Pirate King informs the apprentice Pirate that he is not out of his indentures because Gilbert wrote:—"For some ridiculous reason, to which however, I've no desire to be loyal."

Some person in authority, I don't know who, very likely the Astronomer Royal,

Has decided that although for such a beastly month as February twenty-eight days as a rule are plenty. One year in every four his days shall be reckoned as nine and twenty. Through some singular coincidence—I should not be surprised if it were owing to the agency of any ill-natured fairy—

You are the victim of this clumsy arrangement, having been born in Leap Year, on the twenty-ninth of February.

And so, by a simple arithmetical process, you'll easily discover. That though you've lived twenty-one years, yet if we go by birthdays, you're only five and a little bit over."

BOY HANGED BY COMPANIONS DURING GAME.

When left alone in the house, three boys at Bergkamen, in Westphalia, played at "executions." Two of them condemned their brother, aged 12, to die by hanging. They put a cord round his neck and pulled. The slipknot proved so effective that the boys, despite the most frantic efforts, could not undo it again. When the parents returned the "condemned" boy was already dead.

YOUGHAL URBAN COUNCIL.

Present Mr. J. R. Smyth, P.C., Chairman, Capt. P. Dunne, Messrs. M. D. Broderick, P. J. O'Gorman, P.C.; D. Dennehy, T. Beausang, E. P. Lynch, Vice-Chairman; Mrs. S. Hurley P.C.; J. Whelan, and D. J. Linchan.

Glasgow Excursion Cancelled. Mr. H. A. Macpherson, Hon. Sec., Glasgow School Travel Association, wrote regretting to inform the Council that they had found themselves forced to abandon the proposed excursion to Youghal. The provisional numbers which certainly warranted their preliminary investigations had dropped to such an extent that no other course was left open to them. Parents seemed unwilling, in those days of financial stringency to commit themselves to the expense of allowing their children to participate in this year's school journey.

From their preliminary investigations Youghal appeared to be a most suitable place for their purpose and the Railway and Transport Companies, as well as the Hotels had offered them most attractive terms. It was with all the greater regret, therefore, that their Association found that its plans would not now materialise owing to circumstances over which it had no control. However, the information obtained would be carefully filed and they hoped to avail themselves of it on the return of more normal conditions. He assured them that the cancellation of that trip was a matter of deep regret to all concerned.

Mr. O'Gorman said if they had come the people would have given them a hearty welcome.

Mr. Whelan said it was satisfactory to know that they found Youghal a most suitable venue.

The Clerk—The Council offered them attractive terms.

Town Tenants' Bill. A letter was read from the Town Clerk, Cobh, stating that the Council were of the opinion that the Town Tenants' Bill recently passed by the Dail wasn't sufficiently comprehensive and decided to circulate all Councils in the Free State to get their views on same. The Resolution was passed before the result of the General Election was known, it was felt that if all the Urban Councils were unanimous in the demand for additional legislation on that question, whatever Party was in power could not refuse to give the matter special attention.

The Clerk said that left them in the same position as last night.

Mr. O'Gorman said that Mallow was also looking for information. That letter didn't carry them any further.

Mr. Dennehy—The Cork Corporation have adopted it.

Mr. Lynch—If the New Bill is not up to the mark, why not adopt the resolution?

Mr. O'Gorman—Wait till the Government brings in the Bill. At the moment we can't do anything.

Mr. Broderick said they would like to know the terms intended.

The Clerk said he would make further enquiries.

N.A. Ex-Service-men. Mr. P. J. Power, writing applying for the use of the Green Room, on behalf of the National Army ex-Service Men's Association.

The application was granted.

The Late Mr. J. Daly, T.D. Mr. O'Gorman said they were all deeply sorry to read of the death of their respected T.D., the late Mr. John Daly. It was hard to realize that having been re-elected only on Saturday, he was snatched away by death a few days later. An excellent public servant, he was always at the disposal of everyone (irrespective of politics). He was a big man in every respect and he (Mr. O'Gorman) proposed that they tender his relatives their sincere sympathy.

Mr. Broderick, seconding, said the late John Daly was a very fine character—an Irishman that went down with the flag flying.

The Clerk joined in the proposition. He had met the late Mr. Daly when deputations from the Council went up in connection with schemes from them and he had done herculean work for the Council. A great public man—to know him was to love him.

The Chairman and all the other members having personally associated themselves with the proposition, it was passed in silence.

Correction Of Report. Mr. O'Gorman said he would like to comment on and correct the report in the "Echo" and "Examiner" of their previous meeting. A report had been read from the Gas Manager to the effect that Mrs. McDonnell had refused to pay the amount extracted by thieves from her gas slot meter, on the ground that the Council had allowed a similar concession to another consumer. A long discussion then ensued on the question in general and towards the close he asked how the Council would stand if a consumer fell inclined to help himself to the contents of the meter. In the report there was no reference whatever to the discussion, but his question was given immediately after the Gas Manager's report. That suggested a most unwarrantable inference which he utterly repudiated. His question arose out of the discussion on the Gas Manager's report, but was not meant to have any connection whatever with the report. He wished to make it perfectly clear that there was not the slightest intention on the part of any member of the Council, or himself to cast any aspersion on any person. He thought it absolutely necessary to make that explanation fearing any persons concerned might think they were referred to. The question was treated purely from a general point of view and solely in the interest of the Council and the ratepayers.

Arising out of a discussion on the use of the fire hose, for watering the streets, the Town Superintendent said, the hose would hardly meet the requirements in a case of fire.

Mr. O'Gorman pressed strongly on the Council the urgent necessity of having their fire appliances in good order. If anything untoward happened they would never be forgiven for their neglect.

Mrs. Hurley said she understood that there was a sum of £100 allocated for the purchase of additional hose in the last estimate.

The Clerk said that was the case, but the money had been spent otherwise by the Council.

Capt. Dunne said that something should be done to compel the Insurance Companies who derived such a big revenue from the town to help in the matter.

Mr. Broderick said they had tried to make the Companies come in and help, but failed.

The Clerk said they had circularised all the leading Insurance Companies, but the answers received were the same—they could or would do nothing.

Mr. O'Gorman said it was waste of time to be talking about the Insurance Companies.

Mr. Broderick said whatever Insurance Companies did or did not do, they couldn't risk the lives and properties of the people, many of whom couldn't afford to insure.

The Clerk was finally directed to procure quotations for additional hose.

GAELIC NOTES.

A meeting of Coisde Ceannair na nDeise, was held at the Gaelic League Hall, Waterford, on Sunday, 21st inst. Rev. Canon Kelleher, S.T.L., presided, and the following delegates were present:—

Cathair Phortlairge—Sean O'Suilleabhain; Padraig O'Conghaile. Dungarban—Sean O'Maoineachain, Pilib O'Foghluudha. An Rinn—Liam O'Mioldchain; Tomas O'Faolain. Ceapach Chuinn—Sean O'Curran; Treasa Bean n'Churrin.

The following is a resume of the business transacted:—

The Secretary, Sean O'Curran, gave an account of the work done since the annual convention in October, and also of the proceedings of An Dail Mumhan (Munster Provincial Council), at whose meetings he has represented Coisde Ceannair na nDeise. An Dail Mumhan had decided to hold a provincial (Feis na Mumhan), in future, the venue of which would be changed to each of the counties in turn and had asked each Co. Committee to contribute £10 towards a Central Fund, which would be used in acquiring Cups, Shields, Belts, etc., to be awarded in the more important competitions of the Feis. The amount (£10) was voted after some discussion.

As last year's Feis na nDeise, held in Waterford city, resulted in a loss to the Committee, it was arranged to have two Aeridheachta in its stead this year, viz.,—one at Waterford in May and one at Dungarvan in August.

Arrangements were made for holding this year's Language Week Collection, and ways and means were discussed for improving the collection which in recent years has fallen far below the average for the Munster counties. The following were last year's contributions from each of the counties to An Connradh:—Kerry £52 19s.; Clare £6 10s. 6d.; Cork £91 8s. 4d.; Limerick £71 7s. 9d.; Tipperary £30 8s. 11d.; Waterford £10 7s. 6d.

The co-operation of all teachers, lay and clerical, in the county is to be sought this year to make the language collection a success, and it is hoped that it will be unstintingly given.

YOUGHAL DISTRICT COURT.

(Before Mr. G. P. Farrell, B.L.)

Hedge Cutting Case.

Mr. J. Bowen, B.E., Co. Surveyor, Waterford, applied for an order against Michael Hunt, Rincrev, farmer, in connection with defendant's failure to comply with complainant's request to cut and trim certain hedges on the main roads to Tallow and Lismore.

Mr. Fergus J. Power, solr., (of Messrs. Dobbyn and McCoy, Waterford), for complainant and Mr. Wm. R. Hodnett, solr., Youghal, for defendant.

There were two summonses for different townlands.

Maurice Ryan, employee of the Co. Council, proved the service of copies of the request on defendant.

Cross-examined by Mr. Hodnett, witness said he had seen the place that morning. Defendant had done a lot, but there was a lot more to be done and he would have to go over some of what he had done. Notices had been served on defendant's neighbours, but no proceedings taken against them as they were cutting their hedges.

Mr. Power—I don't see how this affects the case at all.

Complainant stated that defendant had been served with notices several years. The last time in October. He did practically nothing. A letter was then sent to him threatening proceedings, and he did a little, but stopped again. During the past few weeks he had made good headway, but there was still a great deal to be done.

To the Court—He could easily finish the work in 14 days. The work was necessary.

To Mr. Hodnett—It would affect defendant's lands prejudicially.

Mr. Hodnett said that he had written Messrs. Dobbyn and McCoy, stating that the work had been hampered by two of defendant's employees falling ill. He had since got an extra hand and was doing the work. Defendant had a big lot of land with a long extent of hedges to cut.

Defendant bore out Mr. Hodnett's statement and said the work would be completed that day.

Mr. Bowen said there were several hundred yards to cut and it couldn't be done that day.

After further protracted hearing, the Justice made an order to have the work done within 14 days.

Mr. Power applied for costs.

Mr. Hodnett said it was hardly a case of costs.

The Justice granted 10/- costs in each summons. People should realize that they were bound to comply with such notices.

DUNGARVAN DISTRICT COURT.

Held on Wednesday week, before Mr. Troy, D.J.

In the adjourned case against Bridget Coleman, Barrack Lane, for the non-attendance at school of her son. The Justice fined defendant 1d. and made an order committing the boy to an Industrial School. The order not to be executed if the boy attend school regularly.

Cutting Hedges.

The Waterford County Council prosecuted John Dunphy, Killosera, for failing to cut hedges on the roadside.

Mr. F. Power, solr., (Messrs Dobbyn and McCoy), appeared for the Co. Council. Defendant was not professionally represented.

Mr. D. Stokes, Foreman, deposed to serving notice in the defendant, to have the trees cut.

Mr. Bowen, County Surveyor, deposed it was the main Dungarvan-Youghal road and was rather a narrow road. The hedges were high, and they had difficulty in maintaining the road. The defendant in this case cut portion of the hedges and then stopped.

The Justice made an order to have the hedges cut within 14 days, and allowed three guineas costs.

Waterford's Men's Association in New York.

By Frank P. Ryan.
(Former native of Tallow).
Readers of this newspaper will be interested to know that the many natives of the County Waterford living in New York City have successfully banded themselves together for the furtherance of social and benevolent purposes, and in the past two years have made remarkable strides along these lines. Prior to 1929 Waterford men in the greatest metropolitan centre in the world were practically an unknown quantity in so far as "collective bargaining" was concerned or any standing in the community as a County. True enough many men from this County had made enviable names for themselves in almost every field of endeavour, but great as their personal achievements were concerned little credit was reflected therefrom on the County in which they first saw the light of day and acquired their fundamental education. And it was because of this latter fact that a few of the "old guard" got together and decided that Waterford men and the County itself should have an official representative organisation which would have for its principles the banding together of all Waterford men (or their descendants) living in and around New York.

Accordingly, William C. Duggan, of Lismore, and prominent plumbing contractor in the Bronx; Michale J. Donovan, also of Lismore, and proprietor of Donovan's Dancing Academy, located in the middle of Manhattan, for over twenty-seven years; William O'Brien, of Cappoquin, and Licutenant of the New York Police Department; William Hogan, also of Cappoquin and prominent orchestra leader, called a meeting at the home of Mr. Duggan where they decided to take definite steps to organise the type of organisation already referred to.

In due time the necessary charter was obtained from the State of New York at Albany and shortly thereafter the County Waterford's Men's Social Protective and Benevolent Association was brought into being, with Mr. Duggan as its first President. All this happened in 1929. Then, through the co-operation and generosity of Mr. Donovan, the Association was given meeting rooms gratis, and before many months had passed its membership increased literally in leaps and bounds. Not alone were the natives of Waterford enrolled, but also the sons and grandsons of Waterford parents, and forebears.

In the short space of time which has elapsed since its inception the Association has grown from a few members to a number well over five hundred, most of whom naturally, were friends and neighbours when at home. Thus it can be seen that the Waterford men living in New York who have the misfortune to be adversely affected by the present economic conditions now exist throughout the world to turn to in their misfortunes. And, let it be said here and now, many of our fellow-Countymen have been so aided—and in no uncertain terms. Besides this great work the Association also pays its members sick and death benefits, a practice foreign to many similar organisations in New York.

As a result of a recent election Mr. Duggan was again unanimously elected President for another year. The other officers which were elected are: Patrick J. Kenneally, of Dungarvan, Vice-President; Edward White, of Upper Ballyduff, Financial Secretary; Monnie Duggan, of Cappoquin, recording Secretary; Michael Shalloe, of Ring, Sergeant-at-Arms, and Michael J. Donovan, of Lismore, Trustee. Mr. O'Brien, mentioned above, a former native of Cappoquin, is Treasurer of the Club. The new officers were installed at a meeting in January by Frank P. Ryan, of Tallow, and now prominent in the business and political life of New York.

One of the first important matters to come before the new officers for their decision was the Association's Second Annual Ball. Last year this affair was such a huge social and financial success that it was unanimously decided to hold a similar ball this year. Accordingly it was decided to stage the affair in the Yorkville Casino, 86th street near Third Avenue, New York, on Saturday evening, February 20th. According to estimates it is expected that more than 3,000 Waterfordites will attend. At this writing delegations from Yonkers, Jersey City, Long Island and Connecticut have made reservations for tickets and boxes. Hundreds of other reservations have been made by the members and their friends.

The proceeds of the ball will go to the Association's sick and death benefit fund and if last year's proceeds are to be accepted as a criterion the fund will be well bolstered this year.

The coming Ball and the many other noble projects on the Association's agenda for 1932 will no doubt reflect much credit on Waterford men and women at home and abroad.

HOPES FOR PROGRESS.

AS RESULT OF THE ELECTION CHANGE.

Mr. Jos. Milroy (President), presiding at a meeting in Dublin of the Council of the National Agricultural and Industrial Development Association, outlined the following programme as necessary in the interests of the Taoiseach:

- (1) Sacrifices on all goods that could be produced economically at home, until their financial system and control of credit rendered tariffs unnecessary.
- (2) Control and decentralisation of industry.
- (3) Abolition of the Tariff Commission.
- (4) Setting up of a National Economic Council.
- (5) No income tax on capital expenditure of native producers.
- (6) Reduced income tax on profits of native production, and reduction of public expenditure.
- (7) A National Housing Scheme.
- (8) A National Banking System.

Mr. Milroy said that the acid test of the competence of a Government was the economic conditions that existed in the country. Ten years had passed since the Treaty, ten years of legislative power of financial and economic freedom, but they had not brought prosperity. There had been no State policy that made economic progress possible, but a steady recession from the economic teachings of Griffith, and a complete acceptance of conditions that they sought political freedom to remove.

In the years immediately succeeding the Treaty, the internal strife made economic progress impossible, but with the return of peaceful conditions they looked eagerly, but in vain for a State economic policy that was based on the interest and welfare of their own people.

After ten years self-government they had lost 250,000 by emigration; 60,000 workers were stated to be permanently unemployed, while thousands of others eked out a precarious existence. Many native manufacturers had given up in despair and a large number of factories had closed. Farmers could not make their industry pay and the price obtained in the English market often only offered a poor return for their labour. Taxation was heavy, and public expenditure was out of all proportion to the profits of industry.

Banks were so many channels taking the money out of the country to finance the industries of other lands. The manufacture and trade of the country were passing into the control of foreign combines, who paid little to the national revenue, and their concentration in Dublin intensified the housing problem and prevented the growth of other towns throughout the country.

Apathy and indifference of recent years had had a paralysing effect on the Association's efforts.

Ministers of the State had not disguised their hostility to the policy that Association advocated. If the election that had taken place had again ratified the nation-killing economic policy that had operated since the Treaty, organisations such as that Association would be wasting their time in further trying to rouse the people to a sense of national duty.

But a change had come. The election had cleared the atmosphere and, though considered by many indecisive he believed it would be the turning point in national economic progress.

There was clear evidence of a return of national consciousness and growing courage. The party that had secured the majority of seats in the Dail pledged itself to the policy that would build up the nation. That policy was the Association's policy. They did not expect miracles.

The Association reiterated the resolutions passed this year urging the need of the people to hold on to their right to impose tariffs; the establishment of a National Economic Council representative of agriculture and industry, and viewing the continuance of the Tariff Commission as a menace to the existence of the State. They, therefore, called for its abolition.

Mr. Milroy added that having consulted a number of experts on the question of currency, he believed it would not be expedient at this time to embarrass the new government by pressing the resolution on currency.

The setting up of a National Economic Council was the most important of the resolutions. It should be fully representative of industry and agriculture, and not left to Civil Servants.

Mr. T. O'Donnell, said that the Chairman had dealt with all the matters that, in his mind, were fundamentally essential for a new Government to take up.

Mr. J. J. Walsh, said that they had come to the end of one of the most despairing and humiliating decades through which their people had ever passed. During that period one half of their industries had perished and the majority of the remainder had passed under alien control. His view was that where Irish industry could be developed by Irish brains and skill no aliens should be permitted.

MR. THOMAS VEALE'S IRISH TRANSLATION OF "GLENANAAR"

ARCHBISHOP SHEEHAN'S PRAISE

Most Rev. Dr. Shehan, Coadjutor Archbishop of Sydney, writing to a friend, acknowledging the receipt of the Irish translation of Canon Sheehan's "Glenanaar" done by Thomas Veale, of Ring Irish College, says:—
Abair le Tomas garabh e ar piosa Gaedheilge is cliste agus is fuinneamhla da bhfaicteas e Gaedhilg ar eilealadh iseadh i. Ata se in a liathroird lomana ag imtheacht a-gae agus maixidhe hionsa, gadnidhe na geamh oidhche is eah i.

This is very warm praise from such a competent judge of Irish as Dr. Sheehan is! Mr. Veale has finished in Irish translation Mr. O'Brien's "When We Were Boys," and is finishing the translation of Canon Sheehan's "Miriam Lucas."

DEATH OF MRS. DALTON, CARRICK-ON-SUIR.

Much sympathy is felt for Mr. P. J. Dalton, Principal of Carrick-on-Suir Technical School, on the death of his wife—a most respected lady. Deceased was the cousin of Most Rev. Dr. Curley, Archbishop of Baltimore. The interment took place at Carrickbeg after Office and High Mass.

HOME IMPRESSIONS OF TASMANIA PRELATE.

Most Rev. Dr. Hayden, Archbishop of Hobart, Tasmania, who has returned after a visit to Ireland, has been giving his impressions to the Melbourne "Catholic Advocate."

Referring to his ad limina visit to Rome, Dr. Hayden explained that he had two audiences with the Pope, the first before Easter and the second in November before he started on his return to Tasmania.

"His Holiness, who looks very vigorous and full of vitality, spoke with familiarity on several matters concerning Australia. He has a remarkable grasp of world affairs, and it was astonishing to learn how closely he is informed on Commonwealth affairs. The Holy Father referred to the fall in the prices of wheat and wool, and asked as to the possibilities of the market's recovering. He was very pleased to learn that his broadcast address at the opening of the Vatican Wireless Station had been clearly heard in Australia. The chief interest of His Holiness was the state of religion in Australia. He was pleased with what I told him of the work of the priests in Tasmania, of the schools which are in every parish of the Hobart diocese, and of the churches, which are fine, well-equipped buildings."

"The Holy Father was pleased, also at my bringing out a number of girls from Ireland to join the Sisters in Tasmania, and to take their part in educating the children of the diocese. On the second visit I was privileged to have I found the Holy Father in great spirits. He is a great Pope, a man of immense force of character and moral strength."

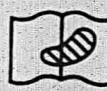

"I went from Rome to my native land. I saw more of Ireland on my visit on this occasion than I had ever seen before. We sometimes are inclined to think we are rather advanced in Australia, yet in many things we have a good deal to learn from Ireland. The Colleges and Schools, Churches, and Convents are simply wonderful, and the faith of the people is still as strong and fervent as ever. I found the Irish people exceedingly hospitable and kind in every way. They cannot do enough for the visitor. Many of those I met have friends in Australia. In some cases I was able to have information about friends which pleased them very much."

Dr. Hayden while in Ireland was able to see a number of first-class hurling matches, including three between Cork and Kilkenny.

"The management," said his Grace, "asked me to present the cup to the captain of the winning team. I handed it to Eudie Coughlan, captain of the Cork hurlers. Being a Kilkenny man, I was naturally anxious that my own countymen should win, but the loss of their captain, Lowry Meagher, was a great drawback to the Ossory me; but I must admit Cork proved itself the better team, and deserved the honour of taking the cup to the banks of the Lee."

MATCHES AT KILMACKTHOMAS.

De La Salle (3-4) defeated Stradbally (2-2) at the local venue on Sunday in their re-play game in the final of the Kilmackthomas Football Medal Tournament. The sod was in splendid trim and the arrangements perfect. There was a fairly large attendance. The cold, raw breeze made matters rather uncomfortable for both players and onlookers and certainly marred what would otherwise have been a first-class contest. However, it was not an uninteresting mix. Though the display did not reach that standard usually associated with inter-club finals, the teams were about equally matched.

The defences were good, but the work of the marksmen on either side left room for improvement. Stradbally's chances of victory would have been enhanced if in the closing stages especially, their forwards had made the fullest use of the opportunities that came their way. De La Salle led by 1-4, to 1-0, at the interval. On the turn over, the Collegians added two majors to their pile; while Stradbally notched a further goal and two points.

For the winners, Houlihan, Flynn, Fitzgerald, Walsh, Brosnan, Roche, and Driscoll were always outstanding while Power, Whelan, Connors, Keane Halpin, Colbert and the brothers W. and P. Kirwan, served best for Stradbally. The two goalies—Connery, De La Salle, and Foley, Stradbally—gave sparkling displays also. Mr. Frank Drohan, P.C., referred to the satisfaction of all concerned. Mr. Drohan had charge of a friendly caman clach between the Butlerstown and Clonea-Power juniors, which followed the football encounter. The teams played 15 minutes aside. A tip-top half-hour's exhibition of the matchless code ended in favour of the Butlerstown bunch. Final figures read—Butlerstown—6-0; Clonea-Power—4-0.

The brothers Reddy (2), Hunt (2), and Power and Nolan worked well for the victors; for the vanquished, Paddy and David Power, Joe Twomey, Jim Gahan, Paddy Walsh, John Moore, "Boy" Dempsey, and Bertie Battye, gave a topping display.

DRUGHT. "February fill-dyke" is, so far as the month just ended is concerned, a misnomer, and the excessively cold snap has given us the finest drying for Spring operations with just enough frost to ensure good tilth.

A DASTARDLY OUTHRAE. The smashing of Kilmackthomas Protestant Church windows, and breaking of shrubs and young trees in the adjoining cemetery—where Catholics and Protestants are interred—aroused much feeling in the town & district. The act of vandalism was discovered on Sunday morning, and the local Guards were immediately apprised of the matter. Guard Monaghan, on Monday, arrested a farm labourer named Martin Power, in the employ of Mr. David Flynn, Fallow, Kilmackthomas, and charged him with the offence before Mr. Timothy Dowley, P.C., at a special court held at Kilmackthomas Garda station. Formal evidence of arrest having been given by Guard Monaghan, the accused was remanded in custody to the Waterford District Court.

Not within the memory of the oldest local resident, has there been an enmity between the Catholics and Protestants of these parts. The profanation has been strongly condemned by all classes.

N.B. At Newtown National School on tomorrow (Sunday) night, the semi-final and final rubbers of the locally-promoted "45 Drive" will be played out. As the object of the drive is a most praiseworthy parochial one, it is to be hoped the event will be well patronised.

THE G.A.A. BAN

STATEMENT BY MAYOR OF WATERFORD.

An important statement regarding the G.A.A. ban on foreign games was made by the Mayor of Waterford (Ald. W. Jones) at a draw for Hospitals Sweepstakes tickets, organised by the directors of the Waterford Association Football Club.

The Mayor, who is a noted Fianna Fail supporter, and is in sympathy with the G.A.A. movement, said he could assure them that the day was not far distant when every person would be able to see Association games, and when the ban on every English game would be removed, so that people could play any game they liked.

"I hope," he said, "the time is not far distant when we can all see Soccer. I have seen more Soccer played than most of you here. I have often refereed Soccer matches in England, and if I were living there again the first place I would go to would be a Soccer match."

"It was only a difference of opinion which divided the adherents of sport in this country," he added. A man who was an Association player felt that he was just as good an Irishman as the man who hurled.

If sacrifices were to be made in the morning they would be made by the thousands who followed Association football as well as by those who followed hurling.

IN MEMORIAM.

HEAPHY—In ever loving memory of our dear parents, Patrick and Catherine Heaphy, who died at Cappoquin, on 6th and 7th March, 1925, and 1927, (respectively). Anniversary Masses at Mount Melleray, for their happy repose.

ACKNOWLEDGMENTS.

Mr. E. Power and family O'Connell Street, Dungarvan, beg to return thanks to all who sent them letters and telegrams of sympathy in their recent sad bereavement.

Mr. Patrick and Mrs. Bateman and family, Cappoquin, desire to thank the many friends who sympathised with them in their great bereavement; also those who sent letters of sympathy and Mass Cards and trust all will accept this acknowledgment.

LOCAL HAPPENINGS.

THE GOLD RUSH.

Mr. J. B. Cooke, Jeweller, Dungarvan, has purchased a large quantity of sovereigns and pieces of old gold during the week. The gold rush still continues at his shop.

MARVELOUS ESCAPE.

Mr. Villiers Stuart and Mrs. Villiers Stuart, Dromana, had a miraculous escape recently when, while motoring from Lismore to Dromana about midnight, a tyre burst and the car mounting the side of the fence tore along it for several yards and finally turned over on the road. Both Mr. and Mrs. Villiers Stuart were imprisoned in the car until some passing motorists opened the top door of the car and brought them both safely out, little the worse of their exciting experience.

CLASHMORE C.T.A.

In our report of the Annual meeting of the Clashmore Cow-Testing Association in our last issue, the average yield per cow under test should read 5,901 lbs. of milk (or 571 gallons).

WELL-KNOWN GAEL PASSES AWAY.

Last week the death occurred at his residence, Aglish, of Mr. John Cotter, a well-known Gael of the olden days. He had reached his 75th year and was strong and active up to the last. He passed peacefully away after a brief illness. The deceased was a well-known and prominent footballer on the Ballinacorney team over 40 years ago, and with his brothers who were also good men, played many a hard-fought contest up and down the county. These were strenuous days when man and ball had to be played and the deceased was always able to hold his own against all comers. His funeral was largely attended.—R.I.P.

ST VINCENT DE PAUL CONFERENCE, ABBEYSIDE.

Next Sunday, a Collection will be made in Abbeyside, in aid of St. Augustine's Conference of St. Vincent de Paul, and we hope the response will be in keeping with the great work which the Conference has done in the Parish since its initiation by the zealous Pastor Very Rev. M. C. Crotty.

St. Augustine's Conference, has been and is doing herculean work for the good of the people. In addition to visits to the needy and distressed and the relief of their wants, the Conference has been most active in having Catholic literature distributed, while what it has done in the matter of the proper care and upkeep of the local graveyard is too well known to need repetition. Further it established a local Troop of the Waterford St. Joseph's Boy Scouts, and celebrated the "Pattern Day" of St. Augustine with Annual Sports and Festivities in a very thorough manner. During the year the Scouts' Den has been opened and has filled a great want in the Parish in the matter of a Hall. Several very interesting functions were held in it, which were highly appreciated and it is the intention of the Conference to hold Concerts, Lectures, etc., at regular intervals henceforth.

That the Conference has done enormous good for the social and religious life of the Parish cannot be gainsaid, and we are sure on Sunday next, the response to the appeal for funds for its support, will be wholehearted, generous and worthy of the good people of Abbeyside.

FIANNA FAIL REJOICINGS IN CAPPOQUIN.

Mr. Sean Goulding, T.D., received an enthusiastic ovation on his visit to Cappoquin to thank the electors for the support they had given to the Fianna Fail Party in the recent election. He was accompanied by Mr. M. Mansfield and Mr. Howlett, Director of Elections (F.F.). A torchlight procession was formed and the motor car was escorted to the Square, amid cheers and the waving of the tricolour. Tar barrels blazed at various points and fireworks were let off. Mr. T. Kelleher, president, Mr. Goulding thanked the people for their support, and said he regarded that demonstration not as a tribute to himself, but to the Fianna Fail policy. He asked his supporters not to entertain any feelings of bitterness towards those who voted for the other side and hoped that all parties would unite in making the Free State a happy, prosperous and contented country. Messrs. Howlett, and Mansfield also addressed the meeting, and the proceedings ended in the singing of the "Soldiers Song."

FISHING SEASON.

Big Stocks of fishing Tackle: also fishing rods of every description and flies to suit all local rivers, now on show, at Moloney's Bridge St., Dungarvan.

28/- FOR 2s.

Until further notice, we are prepared to give 28/- worth of goods for every sovereign tendered to us. This is a chance that may never again come, so bring your sovereigns along at once. A. Mooney and Sons, Ltd., Dungarvan.

OUR NEW GOVERNMENT.

The Sligo-Leitrim Election for which the results will be announced to-day, completes the final results of the General Election which did not give a complete majority to any Party. Fianna Fail being the largest party takes over the reins of office, with the Labour members holding the balance of power. The Dail meets on Wednesday next 9th inst, and a new President of the Executive Council will be elected. In the personnel of the new Cabinet, we hope Mr. Goulding, T.D., will be included. He is an able and capable administrator, is highly qualified for a Ministerial post and is a gentleman who would adorn any office to which appointed.

DUNGARVAN'S DAY.

On Sunday June 5th, there will be a great hosting of the Gael in Dungarvan, when Cork and Waterford meet in the Senior Hurling Championship of Munster. Everybody knows that last year in Clonmel, the home County had by far the best of the game and that Waterford and Kilkenny should have met in the All-Ireland Final. However, we hope matters will right themselves this year and the meeting of the All-Ireland Champions and Waterford on June 5th in the Dungarvan Gaelic Field—undoubtedly the finest pitch in the Country—will be an event of outstanding importance. Mr. Fraher has had several improvements made in connection with the pitch and the general comfort of spectators so that no matter how large the attendance, they will have every advantage to see a great hurling display under ideal conditions.

WATERFORD BULL SHOW.

The Annual Bull Show and Sale at Waterford on March 15th under the auspices of the County Branch of the Irish Dairy Shorthorn Breeders' Society, promises to be of the same high standard of success as in previous years. The Pedigree and non-Pedigree Dairy Bulls will make an imposing display and contain many animals of outstanding merit. The same applies to the Beef Shorthorn and Aberdeen Angus Classes. In all over 160 animals are entered and the well-known Dairy herds of this and adjoining Counties, are fully represented. Farmers on the look out for high-class Bulls will find at this Sale everything to meet their requirements. Catalogues and all particulars can be had from Mr. J. Kennedy, Stonehouse, Kilmadden, Hon. Sec., or Mr. J. D. Palmer, M.I.A.A., Auctioneer, Waterford.

IMPOSSIBLE.

There is a big deficit in the estimate of revenue from beer and whiskey duties in the Free State this year due to a reduction in consumption. It is very natural that it should be so. With whiskey and porter at present prices no man could afford a long drink. But we assure the Authorities that the thirst of our people is normal and if the liquor taxes are reduced to the pre-war level the consumption will be as of old. In the good old days people died of over-consumption and to-day they are dying for want of consumption. These are questions for the Government to tackle and set right.

VALUE OF HOUSE PROPERTY.

On Wednesday last, Mr. Hayes, Auctioneer, put up for Auction for the reps. of the late John Downes, his house at Park Terrace, Dungarvan, held free of rent. After keen competition it was knocked down to Mrs. Hartnett, Lismore for £325 and fees. Messrs. J. F. Williams and Son, Solicitors, had carriage of Sale.

PRICES FOR BULLS.

At the Dublin Show and Sale of Bulls this week, the average prices obtained were:—Pure-bred Dairy Shorthorns £48; non-Pedigree Dairy Shorthorns £28; Aberdeen Angus £41. In the classes for Dairy Bulls the average prices realised were less than in 1931, but in the Aberdeen Angus classes, the average price was £2 over last year's.

DEATH OF MISS E. WALSH.

On Tuesday last the death took place of Miss Ellen Walsh, Clongegaile, Ballinamult at an advanced age and fortified by the rites of Holy Church. She was sister of the late Patrick L. Walsh, Clongegaile, the well-known patriot of olden days—and was a lady held in the highest esteem by all who knew her. She was aunt of Rev. Mother M. M. Keane, Mercy Convent, Stradbally, and of Mrs. Casey, Spring, Dungarvan, and grand-aunt of Mr. T. Casey, Co. Council Office. On Wednesday she remains were removed to the Touraneena Parish Church and on Thursday morning there was requiem High Mass for the repose of her soul at which Very Rev. Canon D. Walsh, P.P., presided. The celebrant was Rev. J. Dwan, C.C. (nephew). The other clergy present were:—Very Rev. R. Meskill, P.P., Rev. C. Casey, C.C.; Very Rev. J. Murphy, P.P., Four-Mile-Water; Rev. T. Wall, C.C., do.; Rev. J. Hally, C.C., Very Rev. M. Carroll, P.P.; Very Rev. J. Gleeson, P.P., and Rev. T. Power, C.C., Portlaw.

Subsequently the interment took place in the adjoining graveyard in the presence of a large gathering. The chief mourners were:—Rev. J. Dwan, Messrs. F. M. and L. Dwan, L. Walsh and Thos. Keane, (nephews); Miss Dwan (niece); Thos. Casey, Dungarvan, and T. Power, Abbeyside (grand-nephews); Tomas Casey (great-grand-nephew); Maura Casey, (great-grand-niece); Mrs. Casey, etc.

Planting Waste Lands.

BY SYLVESTRIS, IN "FARMERS
GAZETTE."

In 1885, a survey of Ireland from a sylvicultural standpoint, was carried out, and the conclusion was reached that there were 3,779,640 acres of waste land, of which 2,000,000 acres would be plantable. The estimate of plantable acreage will probably be found to be an exceedingly sanguine one, as the prospect of monetary profit has also to be taken into consideration. The south and west winds from the Atlantic prevailing for a great part of the year are so strong, and the absence of natural shelter is usually so entire, that great stretches of waste lands, otherwise suitable for planting
could not at present be made to produce profitable crops of timber, even allowing for a considerable increase in timber values during the next thirty or forty years. Of the waste lands of Ireland 1,000,000 acres are turf bog, 500,000 acres marsh and the remainder barren mountain land. There is, however, another class of land of which
a great deal is to be found, poor furze
grown or bracken covered land lying at comparatively low elevations which are probably classed as grazing lands.
This land in its present condition is really little better than waste land and fit for nothing else but planting.

There seems to be an impression abroad that if land has no possible use for agriculture, either through lack of shelter, unsuitable soil conditions, or total inability to carry a crop of any sort, it is admirably suited for affor-estation. Such an idea is very wide of the truth. High bog may be regarded as useless for planting. It is quite true that the Forestry Commissioners have carried out extensive experiments in peat planting and have demonstrated that certain types of peat may be successfully planted, but these results have only been accomplished by an expenditure of money which has made their plantations anything but an economic proposition. In the same way high exposed mountain land can also be disregarded as a plantable subject.
It is no uncommon sight to see plantations, which have been established on an exposed mountain side, so ruthlessly
cut back by the wind that the tops of trees have assumed a trailing appearance and the trunks have been so coarse and rough as to be absolutely valueless for commercial timber. Obviously, in the face of such results it would be foolish to persist in planting
such land and the total area of mountain land in Ireland must be considerably written down for planting purposes.

That such factors as soil conditions and exposure cannot be ignored has been demonstrated in no uncertain
fashion at Knockboy in Connemara.
In 1880 the Irish Land Commission acquired 900 acres near Carna, in Connemara, with a view to experimental planting and giving work in the locality. It was certainly a severe test of planting as a rockier or more windswept place could hardly be imagined.
The Land Commission spent nearly £2,000 in fencing, draining and planting. When the Congested Districts Board was founded, this new body
took over Knockboy and commenced forestry operations. Between the autumn of 1891 and the summer of 1894 about half a million broad leaved trees and nearly two million conifers
of different sorts had been planted,
and by 1895 the plantations were seen to be an utter failure. In 1896 it was considered not desirable to plant anymore and in 1898 it was decided not to incur any more expense. In 1901 it was stated that the expenditure by the C.D.B. up to 1900 had been £8,703
18s. 2d., while the receipts were £24
4s. Thus the total expenditure on this complete failure had been nearly £11,000 or approximately £11 per acre.

When one takes into consideration
the great difference in costs of those days and now it is easy to realise what an expensive failure it has been. Fortunately this money has not been entirely wasted, as it has proved a useful object lesson which will serve to curb the uninformed enthusiasm of those who feel that all waste land should be planted.

Bearing in mind these two limiting factors, soil conditions and exposure,
we can possibly arrive at some conclusion regarding waste lands in the Irish Free State. In addition to the various classes of poor agricultural land that would be more profitable under timber there are also extensive demesne lands from which practically all the merchantable timber has been cut and removed, leaving a lot of unprofitable rubbish growing on the ground. These lands amount in the aggregate to a very considerable area
and should be acquired without delay for planting purposes. Having once carried a crop of timber they are much better for tree growing than a good deal of otherwise good planting land that has not previously carried a crop. If these derelict woodlands were cleared and replanted the State would have a very valuable asset in twenty or thirty years. The enhanced employment in the various districts where they are to be found has already been referred to so need not be mentioned again. Usually it is the case that any old demesne has had at least 200 or 300 acres of woodland, together with an additional hundred or so acres of park.

This provides a very valuable nucleus and generally it may be found in the course of time that further additions in the near vicinity might result in the establishment of a forest centre totalling not far short of the 1,000 acres which is regarded as the ideal minimum.
Here, then, is a task to which affor-

Labour Support

FOR FIANNA FAIL.
OFFICIAL STATEMENT

Following the meeting of the Irish Labour Party, to consider its future policy in the Dail, the following statement was issued:—
1.—That the Party will maintain its position of complete independence,
and will not enter into any alliance
with any other Party.
2.—That the Labour Party will neither seek nor accept office in the new Ministry.
3.—The Labour Party will emphasize the importance of giving immediate attention to the economic social, industrial, and agricultural questions,
and will co-operate with and give general support to the new Government in dealing with economic and social questions, such as unemployment,
housing, widows and orphans' pensions, transport, and the strengthening of the industrial and agricultural position of the country—where the measures introduced are not in conflict with the policy of the Labour Party as set out in "The Nation Organised."
4.—In the matter of the Oath and the ultimate financial settlement, the Labour Party has always opposed the Oath and will continue to do so.
Its policy of the financial settlement (which includes the land annuities) is to seek to examine and re-open this question by friendly negotiation with Great Britain.
5.—That the Labour Party will support the repeal of the Constitution Amendment Act in order to restore the POLITICAL STABILITY.

MR. LEMASS OPTIMISTIC.

"We have entered on a new era. We are breaking down the old hatreds,
and if we can get all our people united
in a determination to give the policy of Fianna Fail a fair trial, the nation will move along the old road to complete the task started on Easter Sunday, 1916," said Mr. Lemass, T.D., addressing the Fianna Fail rally in Sligo.
Mr. Lemass said that since the result of the election became known there had been a remarkable change in the attitude of their opponents. After telling the country that no sensible man would accept the Fianna Fail policy for five minutes, they were now asking for the election of the Cumann na
nGaedheal candidates in order to complete the Fianna Fail Government to carry out its declared policy. Fianna Fail had not modified its policy since they had obtained a majority, and if it should happen that changing circumstances would necessitate a change of any kind in their programme that change would not be made until at another election the people had been consulted and given their approval of it.
It was his belief that the last-minute campaign conducted by Cumann na nGaedheal after the Leitrin tragedy gained for the Party at least 10 seats.

By abolishing the Oath the 26-
County Parliament, said Mr. Lemass, would be open to all sections of the people, and Fianna Fail would insist that majority rule would prevail, and that the laws passed by the elected representatives of the people would be enforced with all the resources at the command of the Government.

SALE OF IMPORTED BUTTER.

It has been reported to the Department of Agriculture that imported butter is at present sold in this country
as creamery butter without any indication being given by the vendors, in many cases, that the butter is not Irish Free State produce.

Wholesale and retail dealers in butter are warned that this practice is illegal, as the application to imported butter of the word "creamery," otherwise than in conjunction with a word or words clearly indicating that the butter was imported into or was not manufactured in Saorstad Eireann, is a false trade description within the meaning of the Merchandise Marks Acts, 1887 to 1911.

CELEBRATING ELECTION
RESULTS.

Largely attended meetings and torchlight processions marked the celebration in Carrick-on-Suir, Carrickbeg,
and Grangemockler, of the Fianna
Fail victory at the Dail Elections.
Speeches were delivered at the meetings by Senator Quirk, Dan Breen, T.D.; Sean Hayes, T.D.; and others.

estation enthusiasts can set their hands
to see that all derelict woodlands and demesne lands are brought under public ownership so that they may once more be established under full timber crops. Well-managed woodlands greatly enhance the appearance of a district and, in any case, civic pride should insist on land being used to its utmost capacity rather than be allowed to lie waste.

NIRE MAN.
 HONOURED IN U.S.A.
 GETS MEDAL FOR EFFICIENCY.

The "Standard-Star," New Rochelle,
 New York, to hand contains an interesting account of the presentation of the American Legion Medal to Capt.
 John J. McCarthy, of the Fire Department, for efficiency in his department.
 Past Commander Newman of the Legion, pinned the medal on Capt.
 McCarthy's chest before the Board of Fire Commissioners, because of the fine suggestions made by him on the education of children in fire prevention.
 The "Star-Standard" in its report says: "Start to train and educate children to be more careful and we will have not only less fires but less accidents
 of every description."
 This theme, together with the proposal for a practical application of it, won for Fire Captain John J. Mc-Carthy, assigned to Engine 6, the American Legion Medal for Efficiency for the year 1930. The award was made Tuesday night.
 Fire Captain McCarthy suggested also in addition ways in which the clergy, the press, the radios, and general public could be brought to aid
 in his proposed fire prevention programme.
POINTS OUT IMPROVEMENTS.
 In the introduction to his plan Captain McCarthy pointed out the various things done in recent years to improve the efficiency of the fire department, the purchase of new apparatus,
 and the training of the men.
 He said he believed fires "could be considerably reduced if more serious thought were given to the prevention of fires." Captain McCarthy's plan was submitted before the recent fire prevention campaign in New Rochelle.
 "About 85 per cent. of our fires," Captain McCarthy said, "occur in the home and it is an established fact that the majority of them are caused by carelessness. Then why not start at the base and endeavour to remove this cause."
DESCRIBES HIS PLAN.
 Captain McCarthy described his plan
 for education of the children as follows:
 "Our children of to-day will be our owners of a future day, start to train and educate these children to be more careful and we will have, not only less fires, but less accidents of every description, this can be done by getting the co-operation of the Board of Education and have them lay out a schedule of simple short lessons on fire and accident prevention to be given by the teachers, in all schools in this City, for about ten minutes before dismissing their classes each Friday.
 These lessons to consist of care to be taken in the home, such as the removal of rubbish and old useless articles from attics. Cellars and other storage nooks. Care in the use of matches, cleaning fluids, kerosene, gasoline and other inflammables, care of heating appliances, furnances, stoves, stove
 pipes and chimneys, protection of gas
 flame, and care in lighting gas stoves,
 danger of installing temporary electric wiring by amateurs, care to be taken with electric irons and dangers therefrom. To these can be added, the precautions that should be taken by children in crossing streets, roller skating, bicycle riding, sleigh riding and other forms of play where they are likely to become very careless and meet with serious accidents.
 "If requested, The National Board of Fire Underwriters would co-operate with the Chief of Department in this matter, by issuing pamphlets, to the teachers in each school, on the subject of Fire prevention in the home, and these could be used in giving the lessons.
CONTESTS SUGGESTED.
 "In order to create a special interest in the lessons thought, toward the end of each term a contest in essay writing on this subject should be held, the children of each grade in all schools
 would be eligible to enter this contest,
 their papers to be examined and rated
 by a Board to consist of officers of the Police and Fire Departments, to be selected by the Commissioners of the Department. A prize in the form of a medal could be given to the boy and girl in each grade, writing the best essay. These medals to be presented by his honour the Mayor, at the closing of school exercises, or at a convenient location soon after.
 "The lessons given on Friday would be brought home to the parents and other adults by the children and the subject would be freely discussed and a public interest created that would bring good results in awakening them to the realization of the loss and destruction that is unnecessarily caused by their carelessness. The children themselves, would be more careful in their play during the week-end with the lessons fresh in their young minds
 there would be a tendency towards carefulness instead of carelessness,
 and in this way serious accident
 would be avoided.
INTEREST AROUSED.
 "Then as the school term went on,
 interest in the subject would become keener and all would be preparing to take part in the essay contest. The information they would gain would be fresh in their minds and would tend to make them more careful during the vacation period. The parents would become interested in the matter and would gain a lot of valuable information in helping their children
 to get the necessary material to form a good essay on the subject. In this way the parents would become more careful and the result would be less fires and accidents."
 Other ways to promote fire prevention were outlined by Captain McSar-

 thy. He said:
 "The co-operation of the daily press should be sought, as the subject could be given wide publicity in the form of editorials on serious fires and accidents caused by carelessness
HOW CLERGY COULD AID.
 "The clergy could aid by touching on the subject in the course of their sermons in churches on Sundays, reminding the congregation of the great loss we suffer through carelessness.
 "Business people could do a great deal by insisting on their employees
 being careful in the handling and use of dangerous substances and especially in cleanliness on their premises.
 "The radio broadcasting stations could give publicity to the matter in the form of short talks when signing off at night, reminding the people to see that there is no danger from fire
 in their homes, before retiring, this would cause all home owners to be more careful.
SEES GREAT BENEFITS.
 "By the outlined system of education and co-operation in the prevention of fire and accidents, I am sure
 our City would reap great benefits,
 the number of fires would be greatly reduced and our present unnecessary loss cut down to a minimum, then a reduction in our insurance premiums
 could be demanded and no doubt would be granted on the strength of our low fire record. This record would be publicly announced and would draw the best class of home-seekers to our City and suburbs, this not only raising the value of our property but giving us a select class of citizens.
 "The entire system can be put in operation without cost, and will set a precedent that will be admired by our neighbouring cities and communities,
 who no doubt would adopt a similar system when they learn of our great reduction in losses from fire and accidents, brought about by this system
 of education.
 "Respectfully submitted,
JOHN J. MCCARTHY,
 Captain, Engine Company No. 6

IMOKILLY (EAST CORK

 SELECTED (WATERFORD)

The above combinations lined out
 at the Copperal grounds, Youghal, on Sunday. A certain raizer was provided by a camogie clash between Youghal and Clashmore, the local team running out comfortable winners on the score 2 goals 1 point to
 nil. The main event did not provide a good exhibition, owing to a high wind which rendered play somewhat difficult. The weather was fine but cold and there was a good attendance when Mr. J. Murphy, Youghal, set the teams in motion. The ball was thrown in by Mr. E. Fleming, Vice-Chairman, Cork Co. Board.
 Clashmore won the toss, and played with the wind and sun to their advantage. They attacked from the outset, but a good defence prevailed. Imokilly rarely attacked in this period being on the defensive nearly all through but faulty marksmanship on the part of Clashmore kept the scoring blank with the exception of a minor from Troy. On several occasions the ball hit the cross-bar and re-bounded into play. No further score was recorded.
 On the change over Imokilly took the offensive, and were not long in equalising. A stiff tussle ensued between the Clashmore defence and the opposing forwards, but the former were successful in repelling all attacks and the full time arrived, leaving the result a draw, on the score—

YOUGHAL ASSOCIATION OF EX-SERVICE MEN 1914-18.

A general meeting of the above was held in the Hall, Market Place on Saturday.
 At Roll Call 80 members answered.
 Mr. J. Healy, Chairman, presiding.
 Before opening the meeting, the Chairman called for two minutes silence for the bereavements which had occurred in two of their comrades
 families that day—the loss of a daughter to Mr. Tim Crowley, and the loss of a son under tragic, but brave circumstances of Capt. M. Duggan.
 Young Duggan had lost his life going to the rescue of a shipmate at New Ross, leaving a widow and child behind. He (the Chairman), hoped that the Press of the country and perhaps some influential English paper would open a subscription list to ensure that his dependents should not want.
 Several members asked could the Association do anything in the matter.
 The Chairman said the only thing that could be done at present was to put the matter before the public. If any move was made locally, the Association would help in every way possible. He didn't intend to lose sight of the matter, as there were certain avenues to be explored.
 The meeting then went into Committee.

NEW ROSS TRAGEDY

YOUGHAL SEAMAN'S SELF-SACRIFICE.

MOTHER'S ORDEAL

Youghal, Sunday.—Last night the Civic Guards brought the news to the bereaved family that the body of the brave young sailor, James Duggan, Church Street, Youghal, who sacrificed his life going to the rescue of his shipmate and fellowtownsman,
 George Simkins, junr., also of Church
 Street had been found at 5.30 p.m.
 Later on I had an interview with the grief-stricken father, Michael Duggan, mate of the vessel, who was compelled to leave her and come home
 suffering from a badly-poisoned hand.
 He told me that his wife had gone down to New Ross to see after things and arrived within view of the vessel
 in utter ignorance of the fate of her brave boy. On making inquiries she was directed to the Harbour Master, who brought her to his office, where he broke the sad news as gently as he could. The poor woman collapsed.
 She was taken in charge by Mr. Ryan,
 New Ross Quay, who did everything possible for her and brought in a priest, who succeeded in calming her somewhat. The poor woman arrived home at 3 a.m. to-day, utterly overcome by the tragedy. Duggan would be 32 to-day had he lived. Both Mr. and Mrs. Duggan spoke in the highest terms of Mr. Ryan's kindness.
 In a letter received to-day from Capt.
 Ansey, skipper and owner of the motor schooner, Elizabeth Drew, he said that he was down below when he heard Jimmy shouting. Rushing up on deck, he saw the young man spring on the sea rail and overboard. Looking over he saw the boat with no one on board drifting past and Duggan swimming strongly towards her, but shortly after he saw him throw up his hands and disappear. Meanwhile, young Simkins had succeeded in grasping the boat's gunwale. It would appear that Simkins was sculling ashore when the boat leaned to heavily and he was pitched into the water.
 The sad event has aroused deep and widespread sympathy for the bereaved

WEST WATERFORD CHAMPIONSHIPS.

DRAWNS AND FIXTURES.

A meeting of the West Waterford Divisional board was held in Dungarvan. Mr. E. Spratt, (Chairman) presided. A large number of delegates were present.

Before dealing with the business of the meeting, the Chairman said he wished to propose a vote of sympathy with the relatives of the late Mrs. Dutton, Friary street, Dungarvan. The deceased was a sister of the Hickey brothers, who were prominent members of the Brickey Rangers Football Club, and it was with regret that he felt it his duty to propose such a resolution.

Mr. McCarthy, seconded, and the resolution was passed in silence, all members standing.

An appeal by Dungarvan against the awarding of the Minor Football Championship to Clashmore was before the meeting. The grounds for appeal were that some members of the Clashmore team were over age.

A counter objection against Dungarvan by Clashmore was ruled out of order, as the wrong rule was quoted. The meeting upheld the appeal, and awarded the match to Dungarvan.

The meeting made the following draws and fixtures:—

Junior Football—Touraneena v. Stradbally, at Dungarvan March 20th; Eire Oge v. Ballyduff, at Lismore, March 27th; Cappoquin v. Ring at Whitechurch, Dungarvan v. Lismore, at Tallow, April 17th; Finisk Rovers v. Rockies, at Touraneena, March 27th; Ardmore v. Villierstown, at Kinsalebeg, March 20th; Kilgobinet v. Tallow, at Lismore, March 27th; Abbey-side v. Brickey Rangers, at Dungarvan, April 17th; Killrossanty a bye.

Junior Hurling—Cappoquin v. Glownevra, at Dungarvan, March 20th; Eire Oge v. Moorehill, at Dungarvan, April 17th; Four-Mile-Water v. Finisk Rovers, at Cappoquin, April 17th; Lismore v. Abbeyside, April 10th at Cappoquin; Dungarvan v. Mahon Rovers, at Leamybrien, May 1st; Ballyduff a bye.

Senior Football—Brickey Rangers v. Clashmore, at Lismore, May 1st; Dungarvan v. Killrossanty, at Dungarvan, April 24th.

Senior Hurling—Tallow v. Dungarvan, at Dungarvan, May 20th.

The Chairman (Mr. Spratt), was accused by a delegate of attending Rugby matches.

Mr. Spratt denied the charge. Leter Mr. Spratt referred to the incident, and said that he could not see his way to continue as Chairman, as it would mean that in future the same accusation would be thrown in his face. He would, he said, send in his resignation in writing to-morrow.

The meeting unanimously instructed the Secretary not to accept the resignation.

PRESENTATION TO CAPPOQUIN SPORTSMAN.

Mr. M. J. Sargent, P.C., Cappoquin, has been presented by the West Waterford Hunt Committee with a complete Angling outfit, including the best make of Hardy fishing rod, reel, line etc., in recognition of his great services to the Hunt for several years past. During that time he successfully organised several sports fixtures, dances, concerts, etc., in aid of the Hunt funds.

DEATH OF MRS. MARY FRAHER, CAPPOQUIN.

Much regret has been caused in Cappoquin by the death of Mrs. Mary Fraher, which occurred at her residence on the 25th ult.

Deceased was relict of the late Mr. E. J. Fraher, and was a member of a highly-respected family, the Keatings of Ballycurran. She was a splendid type of Irishwoman with a generous heart and a charm of manner which endeared her to everyone. She had been in delicate health for some time, and despite the best of medical care and the careful nursing of her daughters, she peacefully passed away after she had received the last consolations of the Church.

On Friday evening, her remains were removed to the Catholic Church, where Solemn High Mass was celebrated on Saturday before a large congregation of relatives and friends from near and far. At 2.30 on that day the funeral took place to the New Cemetery, Dromore, when there was a large and representative cortege of mourners which proved a fitting mark of respect to the memory of an upright lady.

The celebrant was the Very Rev. D. Canon Whelan, D.D., P.P., Cappoquin, the assisting clergymen being Rev. J. Crotty, C.C., do.; Rev. T. O'Gorman, C.C., Lismore; Rev. M. Morrissey, C.C., do.; and the Rev. Fr. Power, C.C., do.

Canon Whelan and Father Crotty, afterwards headed the funeral cortege to the cemetery and read the last prayers at the graveside.

The chief mourners included:—Daniel, Dick and E. J. Fraher (sons); Mrs. M. Paul, Cork; the Misses A. and M. Fraher and Mrs. Mulligan (daughters); Mrs. E. Fraher (daughter-in-law); T. Paul, P.C., and F. Mulligan, (sons-in-law); Mrs. O'Rourke and Miss Russell, Clashmore; Mrs. O'Flynn, Dungarvan; W. Fraher, Ballyguiry; John Fraher, Bleanitis; John Fraher, Modeligo; Mrs. Crotty, Shrough, Lismore; Michael and Mrs. Casey, Modeligo; T. Veale and J. Veale, Cluthahina; E. Veale, Knockalara; J. and Misses Noonan; M. J. Sargent and Mrs. Sargent, Cappoquin; A. J. and Mrs. Sargent, Mrs. K. and the Misses Morrissey, da.; P. Olden, do.; E. O'Keefe, Shanbally; the Misses L. and K. Quinn, Ballinacourty; Mrs. Power, Keren, etc. A number of pretty wreaths were laid on the grave.
